FIRES

Firefighters responded to a call from Box 56, a mutual aid alarm in Woburn, for a small fire in an oil burner at the General Motors plant on Cross street last Thursday.

Box 21 was run in at 6:13 p. m. Thursday evening for a fire in the basement of the Lemmen's store at 34 Church street. The flames, discovered by Mr. Snow of Renton's Market, had started in some cartons in Lemmen's and spread to the partition between the two stores. Quick action by the firefighters prevented extensive damage.

The storm Saturday night caused arcing wires at 27 Dunster lane and 14 Leslie road.

Firefighters had the situation well in hand Sunday evening when they put out a fire in a car with a glove. A short circuit in the automatic choke cable of a car belonging to Pasquale R. Ferraina of 16 Carter street was responsible for the blaze.

Firefighters went to the residence of George Donahey of 52 Brookside avenue at 7:40 Sunday evening to put out a fire in the chimney.

Smoke ejectors were used to clear the home of Mr. Frederick L. Churchill of 24 Fletcher street at 4:55 Monday morning after a delayed ignition explosion in his oil burner had filled the house with smoke.

Firefighters came to the rescue of two year old Mark Sheehan Saturday when he caught his fingers in a swinging door. The portal yielded to pries from two axes, and little Mike was free.

CARS COLLIDED IN STORM

Two passengers were slightly injured at 8:45 last Sunday evening when the automobiles in which they were riding were in collision at the junction of Main street and Mystic Valley Parkway during the snowstorm raging at that time.

According to the police the cars involved were a Chrysler sedan, driven west on the Parkway by Arthur B. Driscoll of 65 Clarendon avenue, Somerville, and a Ford coupe headed south on Main street and driven by Francis G. Daniels of 50 Salem street. Both cars were extensively damaged and had to be towed to Haggerty's Garage.

Riding in the Chrysler was Mrs. Elizabeth Driscoll, who complained of injuries to her shoulder, and two small children who were unhurt. In the Ford with Daniels was his wife, Frances, who complained of injuries to her head and knee. Neither was hospitalized, both saying they would visit their own physicians.

"THE SNOW HAD BEGUN IN THE GLOAMING!"

This shot by Star Photographer Bill Ryerson was taken Sunday, following the storm that commenced in late afternoon Saturday when what had been a drizzly rain turned to big wet snowflakes. The snow increased in intensity until by mid-evening it was very heavy, making visibility poor. With the wet streets underneath the snow, the driving was hazardous, and though Winchester had no serious accidents, there were several near misses. Several tree limbs were down and in some places wires needed attention. Many cars were stranded around town because of the bad traction. After a clear day Sunday, snow commenced to fall early Monday morning and continued until early afternoon, adding to the motorists' woes and making walking hazardous. The glass fell sharply toward late afternoon and was flirting with zero during the night. New Year's Day was cold and blustery with a high sharp wind that was really cold. Zero temperatures and below were reported Monday night and early Tuesday morning with the going still tricky around town.

MRS. GERTRUDE M. LYFORD

Mrs. Gertrude M. Lyford, widow of Jay B. Lyford and mother of Mrs. Clifton W. Linnell of 78 High street, died in her sleep Sunday morning, December 30, at the Arnold House in Stoneham. Her death was unexpected as she had been in her usual health during the week previous, visiting her daughter on Christmas Day and again on last Thursday

Mrs. Lyford was the daughter of J. C., and Mary (Hunt) Jones. She was born August 12, 1873, in Newtonville and lived there until her marriage, after which she was for many years a resident of Bridgeport, Conn. She had been a frequent visitor at her daughter's home in Winchester and was known to many in this town.

Besides Mrs. Linnell, Mrs. Lyford leaves a daughter, Mrs. T. E. Shaw of Arlington, Va., six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 at the Kimball Chapel, with Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in Bridgeport, Conn.

WEST MEETS EAST IN CABARET

The arrival of the New Year in Winchester presages the arrival of the annual Winton Club Cabaret. Nineteen hundred fifty-seven brings the West to the East and Winton Club's "Wild West Show" will transform the staid Town Hall into a rollicking frolicking rodeo—lassoes, cow-girls, and yippy-ai-ay included. On January 23, 24, 25 and 26, the gay event will take place for one and all to see and believe.

The originators of this bright spectacle are none other than our local Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Ingraham. The director comes from the far west—Hollywood, no less! He is Mr. Blake of Charles H. Blake Productions, of Hollywood, Cal., and Louisville, Kentucky. It is his job to coordinate the comedy ideas with the romantic, with the patriotic, with the unusual. And with all the material at hand—personal and personable—he will create a wonderful show.

For eleven months Mrs. Ingraham, chairman of this event, with her enthusiastic committee has been working and planning toward the best show ever. They are: Mrs. Richard Clark, Mrs. Nelson Fontneau, Mrs. Harry P. Hood, Jr., Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, and Mrs. Robert Scott.

This will be the 36th year that Winton Club has presented to its town the Cabaret which provides the linen for the Winchester Hospital. The project is a huge and ambitious one—but always a successful one. The entire club, in addition to its regular monthly sewing meetings and its daily stints at the Hospital Coffee Shop, has a part in this show. It's an all-out affair for everybody, members and townpeople alike. In other words, all have fun, whether they are working on it or supporting it.

Each performance of the Cabaret is available, but reservations must be made early. Dancing will take place Friday and Saturday nights, while Thursday will be Theatre Night, and Wednesday, Dress Rehearsal.

Watch this paper for further interesting data on Winchester's Winton Club's "Wild West Show."

BINDING RECEIVES PATENTS

Kenneth W. Binding of 12 Prospect street was the recipient on December 4, of two United States patents entitled "Automobile Top Carrier For Luggage" and "Automobile Top Carrier For Elongate Articles."

The use of ropes or straps or both for attaching articles of luggage to the top of an automobile is generally recognized and is normally acceptable for camping and cross country trips. However, fastidious persons generally prefer not to use this method, and it therefore is the object of Mr. Binding's first invention to provide an arrangement of carrier bars and other parts that are mounted on the roof of an automobile and support traveling bags and other types of luggage in place without lashing them with straps, ropes or the like. As additional advantageous features, the device is inexpensive, attractive, and easy to attach to and remove from the vehicle.

Mr. Binding's other invention provides a novel and improved means for carrying elongated articles, such as fishing poles and skis, on the roof of an automobile. In particular, he provides an attachment that acts in conjunction with a pair of rigid carrier bars which are secured to the top of the vehicle by suction cups and also by straps with hooks at their ends that engage the usual gutters along opposite sides of the automobile top.

This attachment is in the form of one or more lockable keeper bars, preferably two, that are pivotally mounted on each of the carrier bars. These keeper bars do not have direct contact with the supporting surface of the carrier bar when they lie adjacent to it, and the arrangement is such that the articles to be supported are clamped between the two types of bars. It should be noted that the attachment of this invention is easy to manipulate and includes sponge rubber or other yieldable material that prevents damage to the skis, fishing poles and like. Furthermore, the assembly of keeper bars may readily be removed and folded into a compact package for storage in the trunk of the vehicle or elsewhere.

Both of these patents have been assigned to Leo M. Beckwith, Brookline, Mass.

MRS. ROSARIA SCATURRO

Mrs. Rosaria Scaturro of 51 Oak street, widow of Frank Scaturro, died early Tuesday evening, January 1, at the Winchester Hospital. She had been in the hospital for a month with a broken hip sustained in a fall at her home. She was 84 years old.

Mrs. Scaturro was the daughter of Domenic, and Joanna (Amato) Aripoli. She was born in Italy, July 13, 1872, and for the past 42 years had been a resident of Winchester. Her husband died in June of 1953.

Mrs. Scaturro leaves a son, Vito Scaturro of Winchester; three daughters, Mrs. Frank Giacalone and Mrs. Jennie Figlioli, both of Winchester; and Mrs. Ernest Nigro of Reading; 18 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held this Friday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 9:30. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

ATTEMPTED STEAL

Mrs. Mary Milley of 58 Hemingway street came to the police station Monday evening and reported that a young boy had attempted to steal her car from in front of the telephone exchange

After finishing work at the exchange, Mrs. Milley had gone to her car and found the motor running and a boy behind the wheel. She grappled with the youth, but he broke away and ran toward Elm street. He was described as wearing a stocking cap and a khaki colored jacket.

Participating in the program will be Miss Hilda Hope of Winchester as General Evaluator, Mrs. Ann Elwell as Toastmistress, Mrs. Florence Thurston, Topic Mistress, Mrs. Ina Ferguson as Evaluator, Mrs. May Buck, Timer and Mrs. Beatrice Elliott, Parliamentarian, all of Medford. The four speakers of the evening are Mrs. Winifred Young and Mrs. Beulah Thompson, both of Medford, Mrs. Mary Zeldin of Watertown and Mrs. Margaret Quirk of Woburn.

The semi-annual election of officers will be held at this meeting and plans for the forthcoming installation will be discussed.

ERVING N. FOX

WINCHESTER MAN HAD IMPORTANT PART IN OVERHEAD JOB

Most persons interested have seen the various stages of construction in the erection of the overhead railroad tracks through town, the piling, building of the supporting bankings, the erection of the bridge carrying the tracks through the center and the construction of the bridges at the underpasses on Swanton and Bacon streets.

Few, except the technically minded, have thought much about another important part of the construction job, the changeovers that have had to be made in the signal and communications end of the railroad so that the trains can function safely and on schedule at the higher level as they did when they were at grade.

A Winchester man, Erving N. Fox of 418 Highland, avenue, engineer in charge of signals and communications for the Boston & Maine, has headed this important part of the overhead job just as he headed the signals and communications end of a previous overhead job in Worcester, now completed, and as he is heading the same phaze of a similar job now commencing in Salem.

Here in Winchester Mr. Fox's department has had to construct three temporary interlocking plants for signals and communications, the first to get the trains from the old road-bed to the temporary tracks that carried traffic through town while the overhead was being built.

The second plant had to be constructed at Wedgemere to control the trains when they were on two levels, and the third and permanent plant, to control the trains on the new high level. This last permanent plant is not yet completed, there remaining to be done a section on the new level Woburn loop. Both the temporary interlocking plants have been controlled from the centralized traffic control machine in the brick building just south of Winchester Station, and the new permanent signal and communications plant for the high level is being controlled from that machine, just as the old plant was controlled there when the trains were on ground level.

The signal and communications job done by Mr. Fox and his men has involved changes on the main line of the railroad from West Medford to Montvale, and from Winchester to Cross street on the Woburn loop. New cables, both underground and aerial, have had to be installed with the necessary connections and controls, the whole job being of considerable magnitude as well as of great importance. In all, about 1,751,800 ft. of wires have been laid by B. & M. crews under Mr. Fox's direction during the overhead construction job in town.

Broken down, there have been laid 655,700 feet of underground cable conductors, holding from two to 50 or 60 wires each. There have been 984,100 feet of aerial cable conductors strung on poles, and 34,000 feet of aerial line conductors with open lines, also strung on poles. Also installed have been 44,000 feet of flexible instrument wire and 34,000 feet of telephone conductors.

Also installed under Mr. Fox's supervision on the job in Winchester have been 12 electric interlocking track switches, 24 colored light signals, 686 electric control relays, 242 cells for storage batteries and 46 steel cases for housing apparatus in the terminals, including 44 case-type housings and two steel house-type buildings.

Mr. Fox has worked for the Boston & Maine since his junior year in Somerville High School when he was a night ticket agent and telegrapher at Medford Hillside and Somerville Highlands. Later, during his entire four years at Tufts College, he served in a similar capacity while classes were in session, working as a spare operator and tower man all over the B. & M. system during his summer vacations.

After his graduation from Tufts Engineering School in 1915 with a degree in electrical engineering Mr. Fox went to work permanently for the railroad in the signal department. He became engineer in charge of signals and communications in 1946, after ten years service as assistant engineer.

Mr. Fox and his wife came to Winchester from Somerville in 1926 and have lived all their 31 years in town at 418 Highland avenue.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

The Junior High Fellowship of the First Congregational Church will meet this Sunday in Chidley Hall at 4:30 p. m. By vote of the group it was decided to have one more work Sunday on the Project and postpone the closing program 'til a later date. Worship leaders this Sunday will be Roben Lou Thompson and Leslie Sanger. Recreation will be in charge of Sally Clark and Susan Nanry.

MASONIC OPEN HOUSE

The various Masonic Bodies in Winchester, including William Parkman Lodge, A.F.&A.M., Mystic Valley Lodge, A.F.&A.M., and Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, enjoyed their annual January 1 open house in the town hall on Tuesday morning. It was attended by a large gathering of members of the various Masonic bodies and their friends.

The program, which included entertainment, got under way at 11 o'clock. Among those present were many Masons prominent in the Arlington and Somerville Sixth Masonic Districts, which include Winchester. The new District Deputy Grand Master for the Arlington Sixth Masonic District, Right Worshipful Lane E. Wheaton, a past Master of Mt. Horeb Lodge of Woburn, who was recently appointed by the Grand Master at the annual Feast of St. John, held at the Masonic Temple of Boston December 27, 1956, was introduced by Worshipful Perry E. Fisher presiding Master of William Parkman Lodge.

The annual Masonic gathering was favored by the presence of Right Worshipful Herbert N. Faulkner of Melrose, the new Deputy Grand Master of the Massachusetts Grand Lodge, who represented the Most Worshipful Grand Master of Masons in Massachusetts, Most Worshipful Andrew G. Jenkins. Mr. Faulkner ably replied to the Annual Toast of Allegiance to the Grand Master, proposed by Worshipful William M. Little, past Master of William Parkman Lodge.

The program, which was under the supervision of Joseph C. Gray, Junior Warden of William Parkman Lodge, was concluded about 1 p.m., at which time light refreshments were enjoyed.

INTER-CHURCH SPLASH PARTY

The Inter-Church Junior High Splash Party will be held Saturday night, January 5, from 7:00 to 10:00 p. m. at the Melrose "Y." All Junior Highs wishing to attend should purchase their tickets in advance from the representative in their own church. Those who may wish to play basketball during the evening are reminded that sneakers are required on the floor.

Refugees Settled in New Homes

21 Hungarians Arrived In Winchester Wednesday

Twenty-one Hungarian refugees arrived in Winchester late Wednesday afternoon to commence the new life arranged for them in this community by the Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee, of which the Rev. John W. Ellison, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, is chairman and Gerald Y. Hills is treasurer.

The refugees were flown from Camp Kilmer, N. J., to Boston in privately owned company planes, the donors of which wish to remain anonymous. Flying to Kilmer to meet the Hungarians and return to Boston with them were Mr. Ellison and three interpreters, all residents of Winchester, Mrs. Laszlo Varga, Mrs. William P. Frisco and Stephen Berecz.

At the East Boston airport the group was met by Mrs. Ross Cunningham, Robert Westwater, Don Lewis and Francis McFeeley, who drove the refugees to Winchester. In the group were five couples, two with children, a couple soon to be married and a brother and sister.

Once in town the Hungarians went directly to the residences of their Winchester hosts, the John Lymans on Lorena road, the F. L. Fosters on Lakeview road, the Ellsworth Snows on Glen rd., the Lewis Snows on Chesterford road, the Arthur Bonneys on Norwood street, the Ernest Dieterichs at 158 Highland avenue, the Misses Copland on Norwood street, the Richard Fryes on Fells road, and the Francis Parsons on Euclid avenue.

After their first night in their new Winchester homes the Hungarians went to the Epiphany Parish House Thursday morning for their first English lesson under Mrs. Anne Austill, director of Christian Education in the Parish of the Epiphany. When the Star reporter called the group was enjoying that now well established American custom, the "coffee break."

It is planned to have the Hungarians attend daily classes and go on guided tours to orient them to their new surroundings. It was planned to have them visit Harvard and M.I.T. today with visits to points of historic interest, factories and nearby institutions, including the Winchester library, to follow. In place of a tour on Thursday the time was utilized in the distribution of needed clothing.

Both Protestants and Catholics are included in the group coming to Winchester, the members of which are pretty much at the intellectual level, including an engineer, two architects, skilled mechanics and a teacher. There seem to be no peasants.

Money is the present big need of the Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee, it being planned to make a food subsidy of $10 a week to those with refugees in their homes. Though some of this money may be returned, the present plans call for such subsidy, making some $200 a week necessary to feed the Hungarians.

Next to money the great need is jobs for these brave people when they have completed their courses in English and their orientation and are ready to take them.

On the steering committee of the Settlement Committee, with Mr. Ellison and Mr. Hills, are Rev. Martin J. Dolphin of St. Mary's Church, Dr. Norman Padelford, Adm. William Buracker, Rev. Dwight L. Cart, pastor of the First Congregational Church; Mrs. Robert Lowery and W. E. Gordon.

CHILDREN LIVING IN PLAY "SNOW WHITE"

Again the stage of the new High School Aditorium will be swarming with the eager young actors of the Children's Theatre School which is producing "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" next Friday afternoon, January 11, at 3:30 p. m. There are again some 40 boys and girls from 4½ to 14 years of age acting, dancing or doing scenery for the play. There is a charming animal ballet in the Forest scene, the trees and shrubs of which are designed and painted by the children. Mrs. Jane Renz has worked generously with the children on the dancing. Mrs. Mary Witham has worked with the children on some of the familiar and much-loved songs of "Snow White" which will be used, and there will be places where the children in the audience will join in with the actors when the Dwarfs enter with their "Heigh-Ho" song, etc.

It is impossible to name all the talented children and their roles in this production, but to name a few: the coveted role of "Snow White" is played by Candy Callaham, whose original ostrich dance was a delight in last May's "Peter Pan Show." Allan MacDonald who was charming and fascinating as "Peter Pan" is bossing the other six Dwarfs as Doc Blick.

Jimm von Rosenvinge, who was most hilarious in his leaps as John from the Darlings bed, is this year the pompous comedian, Sir Dandipratt, Court Chamberlain to the wicked queen played by Carol Witham. Sue Bryant, who last year was the faithful "Nana," is a charming new playmate to Snow White and joins the other eight maids of honor. Michelle Hamel, a new-comer, brews her magic as Witch Hex.

There are many others both "old" and "new" to be seen in this Tale of Fairyland in live theatre terms and we mean live, for the energy, ideas, and excitement generated by 40 children or more engaged in mounting the six scenes from Palace to Woods, Dwarf or Witch residences, in proper costumes, and scenic effect actually painted by the children, brings a result not to be missed.

The Friday performance is stressed as especially desirable for our school children and tickets will be on sale at school, Hevey's or McCormack's Drug Stores, and the Winchester Trust and Cooperative Banks. Those members and sponsers of Community Theatre will please bring their cards and find seats reserved for them in limited number.

SKID CAUSED CRASH ON HIGHLAND AVENUE

A car skidding on a slippery down-grade is blamed for a collision that took place Sunday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock on Highland avenue in front of the home of School Superintendent Harry E. Gilson.

According to the police a Pontiac sedan, driven by Kendall Cleaves of 12 Fairmount street, while headed south on Highland avenue, skidded on the down grade after rounding the curve in the road opposite 350 Highland avenue, and crossed into the left lane.

Before Cleaves could get the car in control again the machine collided with a Ford sedan, driven by Shirley MacNeill of 88 Freemont street, Arlington, which was headed north.

The cars were disabled and had to be towed to Haggerty's Garage.

Mattie Magnis, 50, of Bryant street, Wakefield, a passenger in the Ford, complained of injuries to her knees and was taken to the Winchester Hospital in the police cruiser by Officer Robert Baird. Her injuries were not thought to be serious.

PARKING METERS TOOK MORE THAN $20,000 FOR YEAR

Figures made public this week by Treasurer E. Abbot Bradlee show the town's parking meters took in $22,609.29 from December 26, 1955, through December 31, 1956. This December's receipts were slightly better than a year ago for December, $1858 being taken this year, against $1,699.00 in 1955.

A year ago at the supposed peak of Christmas shopping the meters did a bit better than this year, a total of $424.24 being taken during the week ending December 27, and $459.20 for the week previous.

This year in the week ending the day before Christmas the meter total was $395.98. The total for the week previous was $368.45.

Several factors could have had a bearing on the slight decrease in Christmas receipts this year. Many left their cars in the new parking lot opposite the town hall instead of parking them at the curb and the authorities believe the decorations on some of the meters may have prevented motorists from inserting coins.

Perhaps as big a factor as any, so far as the weeks in question are concerned, is the fact that a great many people shopped very early this year. The total meter receipts for December were greater this year than last.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY POSTER GIRL TOURS COUNTRY

Marlene Olsen, 4 of Burlington, left Bedford Airport this week for Florida to begin a tour of the country in her capacity as 1957 Poster Girl for the March of Dimes. The super-fortress transporting her around the country is being piloted by her father Air Force Captain Arnold Olsen, and the co-pilot is a former polio victim.

Mrs. John D. Nagle of Belmont, chairman of Women's activities for Middlesex County, is spreading the news of the need for salk vaccine to every Middlesex village and town.

Mrs. Nagle is being assisted by committees in the 54 cities and towns of Middlesex County. Local leaders will meet in Belmont within two weeks to receive a final briefing for the house-to-house March on January 27.

SOI NEW YEAR'S PARTY

Winchester Lodge, Order Sons of Italy in America, enjoyed a New Year's eve party Monday evening at Waterfield Hall. Individual tables and appropriate decorations added to the festive note.

Refreshments were served and Joe Maag's Band played toe-tickling music for dancing which was enjoyed at intervals throughout the evening.

Venerable Richard Penta was honorary chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. William Fiore was chairman and was assisted by a large committee, the members of which were Frank DiMambro, Anthony Miaullari, Tony Peluso, Tony Penta, Dick Tofuri, Dom Suppa, Dom Provinzano, John Dattilo, Bob Fiore, Dom Marabella and Michael Penta.

SIX GIRL SCOUTS MAKE FIRST CLASS

In ceremonies held at the Girl Scout cabin on Thursday evening, December 20, six deserving members of Winchester Girl Scout Troop 10 were awarded their First Class pins.

Some 39 fond parents, grandparents, brothers and sisters gave rousing support to the 17 troop members present for the special pre-Holiday Court of Awards. The girls represent a consolidation of Troop 10 and Troop 60. The main purpose of combining the troops under one banner was the desire to be able to give interested girls more opportunities to progress in the lore of Scouting as well as a chance to broaden their interests and intensify their training.

The success of the consolidation's aims brought fruit in this first Court of Awards, as 13 girls were awarded proficiency badges in 17 merit categories, in addition to the six First Class achievements.

The Troop planned the entire evening's program, including the ceremonies, the singing of Christmas Carols by everyone present, and the serving of refreshments, once the other festivities had been concluded.

First Class awards and Proficiency Badges were presented by Leader Mrs. James R. Stewart, Jr., assisted by Mrs. James F. Denton, Assistant Leader, and included: 1st Class: Jeanne Chase, Penny Dalziel, Joan Denton, Ann Dyson, Carlene Hatchell, and Martha Maloney. Badges were won by Marilyn Beckley and Nola Carucci for Outdoor Cook; Nola Carucci, Ann Dyson, Martha Maloney, Betsy Root and Barbara Stewart for Sports; Nola Carucci for Rambler; Jeanne Chase for Backyard Camper; Jeanne Chase for Dancer; Joan Denton and Martha Maloney for Campcraft; Martha Maloney, Betsy Root and Barbara Stewart for Outdoor Safety; Carol Gaynor for Child Care; Carlene Hatchell for Musician; Betsy Root and Barbara Stewart for My Country; Penny Dalziel for Garden Flower; Connie Littleton for Swimmer; Martha Maloney for Interior Decorator; Betsy Root for Mammal; Marie Enright and Betsy Root for Drawing and Painting; Betsy Root for Reptile and Amphibian.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

The January meeting of the Art Association will be held in the Library Gallery on Tuesday evening, January 8. Continuing the program arranged for this year the subject of the evening is "What Do You See in a Painting?"

The speaker is Mr. William Wyman, who is a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art and also of Teacher's College at Columbia University. He is now teaching at the de Cordova Museum in Lincoln, where recently he had an excellent exhibit of pottery. Mr. Wyman is a creative and original artist of ability and is also an interesting speaker.

MARYCLIFF GUILD

An interesting and instructive evening has been planned for the first meeting of the Marycliff Guild in 1957. Mrs. John Fitzgerald of Arlington presents Miss Priscilla Fortescue in "Travelling With Tape." Hospitality Chairman is Mrs. Robert O'Brien of Arlington, assisted by a group of members from Arlington.

Plans are underway for a very unusual program for February and March and the Annual Fashion Show in April. The Communion Breakfast will be held at the Academy on April 28.

THE SENIOR FORUM

This Sunday the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will resume their services in Ripley Chapel at 9:30 a. m. Their first guest speaker for the New Year will be Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church in Winchester, who has chosen for his topic, "Three's A Crowd." The chaplain will be Joan Thompson, and assistant chaplain will be Mary Jean Newton. The deacons will be Craig Davenport and Phil Pollard.

The interest of the Senior Forum during the month of January will be centered on making plans for the annual International Week-end, which this year will be held on February 2 and 3. The Forum chairmen of this event are Stephanie Hersey and Bill Schmink, who will have as their adult adviser Mrs. Herbert E. Clark.

FRATERNITY TREASURER

Roger G. Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome B. Foster of 9 Ainsworth road, has been elected treasurer of the Beta Iota Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity at Tufts University.

A graduate of Winchester High, Mr. Foster is a senior in the College of Liberal Arts.

WINCHESTER WINS LEAGUE OPENER

LITTLE OPPOSITION FROM WAKEFIELD IN 67-25 VICTORY

Winchester High opened its defense of its Middlesex League Championship in impressive fashion last Friday evening at the high school gym, outclassing Wakefield High, 67-25. The Winchester Jay-Vees won the preliminary game, 47-40.

The Indians put the game beyond Wakefield's reach in the opening quarter by outscoring the visitors, 19-1. The score at the half was 35-9, and the Indians continued to pour it on, leading at the three-quarter mark, 63-16.

At this point Coach Jim Phillips got his second team into the game, and the Jay Vees were only able to tally four points in the final period while Wakefield racked up nine.

Winchester handled the ball well and showed their most effective passing of the year. The fact that the Indians made only 20 errors indicates the type of game they were playing, though their shooting percentage of 37 was not exceptional.

Mike Callahan again led both teams in scoring with 17, and also contributed some great passes to set up Dave Bergquist. Bergquist found the hoop for 14 points and Roger Symmes was also in double figures with 12. Smith's 10 was high for Wakefield.

Hank Schumacher, the Indians 6 ft. 4 in. center, showed a big improvement, especially in rebounding, grabbing 19 off the backboards while scoring 6 points.

Wakefield lost its starting center for most of the second half with an ankle injury.

The Winchester Jay Vees came pretty near blowing a 19 point lead at half time, but managed to withstand a determined Wakefield second half rally to win by seven points with Bartlett's 14 high for both teams.

JIMMY PIERSALL

AT FIRST NATIONAL STORES

Baseball fans hereabouts will have a chance to meet Jimmy Piersall of the Boston Red Sox in person this coming Saturday, January 5, when the flashy center fielder visits super-markets in the area.

Jim, who has won the hearts of major league baseball fans with his fabulous center field play, will be at the First National Stores in the area pitching for the John E. Cain Company, Cambridge, makers and distributors of famous Cain's mayonnaise and a whole family of fine foods.

Piersall will be on hand at the 808 Massachusetts avenue store in Arlington from 10:00 a. m. until noon. Following his appearance there, he will visit the Lexington First National Store from 2:00 p. m. until 4:00 p. m.

During Jim's stay at both stores, shoppers who visit the Cain's display will have a chance to say hello to the scrappy center fielder and obtain an autographed Jim Piersall photograph.

FRESHMAN HOCKEY TEAM WINS TWO

Melrose and Winchester High freshmen hockey teams battled hard last Saturday in the Boston Arena to move a notch closer to one of the playoff spots in the Suburban Junior League. Unbeaten Melrose was vanquished 4-1 by the Sachem puckmen in a fast and well-played game.

On the opening whistle, Billy Lamarche, Winchester's indefatigable first line center, won the face-off, stickhandled through the Melrose forwards, faked out the defense and unassisted beat the Melrose goalie in less than ten seconds of play. This triggered the Winchester team to rack up two more goals in the first period, both by Dana Kelly, a resourceful, hard-skating right winger for the Red and Black.

In the second period, the pace slackened noticeably while Winchester recouped its strength from the quick clip of the opening stanza. Melrose scored their only goal in the second period on an easy shot that never left the ice and apparently was not seen by Teddy Marks who was tending the Winchester net.

The third period was a fast one with both teams well matched. Melrose got off more shots than Winchester, but some were wide of the cage and the rest were handled spectacularly by young Marks, Winchester's versatile goalie. Midway of the period, with Winchester closing in hard, Kelly received a double assist from Lamarche and Branch and slammed the puck home for the fourth Winchester tally.

Two days later, Winchester tangled with Medford emerging as the 4-2 victor. Although the later was rated as an inexperienced club, the local boys soon found the opponents all primed for this contest and that they had plenty of hustle. Medford scored the first goal. Coach Chadwick had to work the first line hard to tie it up. In the second period, a neat shot by Roger Griffin, with an assist from Lamarche, tied the score. Shortly, afterward, Kelly, with an assist also from Lamarche, sunk another tally. Toward the end of the second period, Griffin an importation from last year's Stoneham team, scored the third Winchester goal unassisted.

Early in the their period, Medford put an easy shot past Teddy Marks who was tending the Winchester net at the time. It began to look as though the game would end 3-2 in Winchester's favor, until, in the last five seconds, Billy Lamarche fired at the Medford cage, the Medford goalie dropped to smother the puck, but instead kicked it into his own net. Lamarche got the credit for an unassisted Winchester tally.

The next freshman game is against Malden Catholic tomorrow morning at 9:30 at the Boston Arena.

SONS OF ITALY Bowling News

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

The first part of a two part act is over and with the All Stars, last week's leaders, winners for the first half. The Bee Bops held on to second place at the wire. Third place was a little different story, for Jitterbugs bounced from sixth position to third as the Blue Eyes and Lindy Hop boys folded at the very end. That's the way the cookie crumbled.

Team Standings at end of first half.

Jitterbugs	31-25

Though the first half is over it provided many interesting aspects. The most pronounced ones being the average department which seemed to be cut and dried. The spot on the horizon has turned out to be a real nor-easter as we look at the picture now. Dick Fiore has proved to be a real menace to Tony Saraco's position as king of pinfalls, and we look to a very, very close finish in the run to the wire in the second half.

They really bowled over their heads this week as seven hit the charmed 300 circle. The most interesting was Dick Fiore's who broke his own hi triple average and raised the ante to a spectacular 356. Others were Joe Berardi, 343; Tony Saraco, 335; Babe Tofuri, 327; Richard Bucci, 316; Correction Fiore, 305; and Max LaCarubba, 300.

They bounced around from first position, and all the way down to sixth position, and back and forth, but they never gave up the will to win a playoff position.

From sixth position they clawed their way to third as they took four points with a mighty upheaval of 1456 pinfalls. Their captain and guide, a cool customer in the alleys, bowled a 343 and was ably assisted by Mulligan Fiore, a likeable chap, Dom Provinzano, the eligible bachelor, and playboy, Johnny Dattilo, who really gets things clean, Fred LaTorella, who builds from the ground up and Dom Simonetta the gentleman farmer, comprise this team.

One doesn't like to harp upon absentees but unfortunately two teams had a bowler missing and these same two teams I regret to say lost four points apiece.

Its a shame that this condition should exist. There are those who go to the extreme to be present, even to the point of bringing their children along so as not to miss bowling. So what if they tear the place apart, they may grow up to be building wreckers.

Who is the fair sex keeping score for one of our teams or is it a lucky mascot they have adopted.

Education is a medium of monetary exchange in an individual's life and because of this Jeff Gaudioso and Chic Vespucci have logical excuses to be absent for they are taking a P.G. night course in psychiatry at B.C.

Another record fell this night as quiet Dan Mistretta bowled over one pin with three balls to take the department over. This title was held by Ben Gilotti with a two pin drop.

As the half ended the award went to that quiet sort of fellow mentioned above Dan Mistretta.

GLOUCESTER, 3; WINCHESTER, 1

A hard-skating, aggressive hockey team from Gloucester handed Winchester its second defeat in league competition last Thursday night, December 27, at Lynn Arena, beating the Indians, 3-1, in a game that developed into a pretty rugged affair toward the end.

Gloucester really won the game in the first period with Dick Gerring scoring twice. The winners had the puck in Winchester territory for two minutes before Gerring, with assists by Ross and Anderson, banged one into the corner of the net from five feet out at 5:29.

His second goal came at 9:50 and had horseshoes all over it as the puck, again propelled from up close, slid through a veritable maze of legs and sticks to get past Denton in the net.

Six minutes and twenty-nine seconds of the second period had elapsed when Capt. Leo Callahan put Winchester back in contention with a spectacular individual effort. Taking the puck at mid-ice, Leo soloed in to split the defense and fire home a whistler from short range on which Goaler Burns never had a chance.

In the final period, with the Indians short handed, Bob Lufkin scored an insurance goal from in close at 7:53 to ice the game.

A little luck here and there could have made a world of difference, as Winchester was never really out of contention. The luck, however, was not forthcoming, and the Indians are now in a poor position so far as championship possibilities are concerned.

The summary:

Winchester (1) goal, Denton; defense, Kelleher, McElholm; forwards, Callahan, Zirkel; center, Cussen. Spares: Sandberg, Weaver, Davenport.

Gloucester (3) goal, Burns; defense, Anderson, Woodman; forwards, Rust, D. Ross; center, Gerring. Spares: Smith, Kerr, Lufkin, S. Ross, Silva, Babson.

JANUARY "POVERTY DANCE"

Everyone is poor in January, but the Methodist Couples' Club believe in having fun from this situation and is planning a most unusual evening. "Poverty Dance" is the general theme and the evening starts with a Pot Luck Supper at 6:30 for which each person will bring their own silver and plates! Circle Friday evening, January 11 on your calendar and make these mental notes: wear your "worst outfit," an orchestra will be provided for the dancing, prizes awarded and more so—everyone and anyone—come to the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church on above date for one of the most unique affairs you'll ever attend! The general chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. W. Knox and their committee consists of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Callaham, Mr. and Mrs. Paul White and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Longworth.

CAST IN "OUR TOWN"

"Our Town," by Thornton Wilder, will be the Northeastern University Silver Masque's second production of the year Friday and Saturday evenings, January 11 and 12, in Alumni Auditorium, Student Center Building, 360 Huntington avenue, Professor Eugene J. Blackman announced today.

Among the cast members is H. Stanley Mullen of 8 Park road. Mullen is a third year student majoring in Chemical Engineering in the College of Engineering.

NDABANINGI SITHOLE

INTER-CHURCH TEACHERS' DINNER SPEAKER

The Ministers' Association of Winchester, wishing to express its appreciation to the teachers and workers in the Church Schools, is giving a dinner for them on Wednesday evening, January 9, at 6:30 p. m. in Chidley Hall of the First Congregational Church.

The group will be privileged to have with them as a speaker, Mr. Ndabaningi Sithole from Southern Rhodesia, whose special interest in Christian Education has brought him to the Andover-Newton Theological School for graduate study.

Born of pagan parents in a mud-and-pole hut, Mr. Sithole was brought up under the rites of the witch doctor. He became a Christian while attending Dadaya Mission School. He worked his way through school until he was able to take a job as a country school teacher, but still continued studying until he received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of South Africa. He is a charming person and a delightful and thought-provoking speaker, and the evening promises to be an opportunity for good fellowship and inspiration that all Church School workers will want to share.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

Winchester College Club Evening Study Groups for 1957, will hold their dinner at the Epiphany Church, Monday, January 7, at 6:30 p. m.

Make sure your reservations are in on time.

EDITORIAL

The traffic snarls taking place on Waterfield road at the post office have reminded many of the plan advanced by the Selectmen at last year's town meeting to take the remainder of the land beyond the long parking lot south of Waterfield road along the river for additional parking.

The additional parking has its appeal, of course, but the feature of the Selectmen's scheme that is looking better and better all the time is their proposal to have all cars using the parking lot continue south and get back into the Parkway by way of the old snow bridge at the foot of Mystic avenue, which of course would be rebuilt to conform to its new use.

Anyone who has had occasion to drive a car through Waterfield road, east of the underpass at peak times, especially when householders are taking the family cars to the station for commuters, knows that traffic can be so snarled on occasion as to present a dangerous aspect under emergency conditions.

Cars leaving the parking lot with no alternative but to enter the east-bound through traffic, usually heavy in the late afternoon, certainly contribute to whatever traffic jams may exist at this point.

Add to this the cars making sharp left turns from Thompson street into the west-bound traffic on Waterfield road, with a bit of double parking at the post office, and the jockeying for position around the tracks, even though they be overhead, and you have a situation that is not only unpleasant but hazardous.

If all cars that enter the present parking lot were obliged to continue south and leave by the snow bridge, the convenience of the motorists would be well served and one factor contributing to the traffic problem at the post office would be eliminated. There are plenty of other problems there, chief among them the cars turning left against through traffic from Thompson street and those wedge-shaped islands in the roadway, for which we have yet to hear a good word.

Town meeting is not so far off that we should not commence to think about the possibility of additional parking around the center. When the MDC cleans out the westerly side of the Parkway from Main street south, and the spring cars get on the road, some additional space in the lot along the river is going to look pretty good.

RUSSO — FINN

In a setting of red and white poinsettias at St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, December 29, Miss Kathleen Finn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Robert E. Finn of 4 Hillside avenue, became the bride of Bartholomew Paul Russo, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew Paul Russo of 14 Oxford street. The Rev. Frederick H. Brigham of Cardinal O'Connell Seminary in Jamaica Plain, officiated at the 10 o'clock marriage ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Mrs. John Ryan played the bridal music and the soloist was Miss Dorothea Murphy.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Finn wore a gown of white Chantilly lace with a high neck and standup collar, long sleeves and a full skirt extending to form a cathedral train. Her full fingertip veil was caught to a cap of matching lace and she carried a white prayerbook with white poinsettias and variegated holly.

Miss Margaret Finn of Winchester was her sister's maid of honor, and two more sisters, Miss Mary Lou Finn and Miss Amy Finn were respectively bridesmaid and junior bridesmaid.

The honor maid wore a waltz-length dress of Christmas green velvet with short shirred sleeves, a draped neckline and lace and streamers at the back. Her headpiece was a crown of holly with a nose veil and she carried a matching green velvet muff with white poinsettias and holly.

The bridesmaid was gowned like the maid of honor and had the same accessories. The junior bridesmaid wore a white lace waltz-length frock with a Christmas green cummerbund and a bow back with streamers. Her headband was of variegated holly and she carried a small bouquet of the same holly with white poinsettias.

David Russo of Winchester was his brother's best man, and ushering were Robert Girard of Norwood and Robert Reed of Winchester, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, with the mothers of the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the members of the bridal party.

Mrs. Finn, mother of the bride, wore a beige chiffon gown trimmed with lace appliques and beads and a white beaded hat. Her flowers were white camellias and stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Russo, wore green peau de soie with a hat studded with pink roses, and she carried pink camellias with tiny pink rosebuds.

After a wedding journey through the Poconos in Pennsylvania, Mr. and Mrs. Russo will live in Washington, D. C.

The bride is a graduate of Notre Dame Academy in Boston and of Regis College. Mr. Russo graduated from Malden Catholic High School and from Holy Cross College. He is associated with the Sinclair Oil Company.

MISS SKERRY ENGAGED

SANDERSON — MEIGS

Miss Jennifer Anna Meigs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Meigs of 11 Hancock street, and Richard Hayward Sanderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Sanderson of 69 Cochituate road, Wayland, were married Saturday afternoon, December 22, at the Second Congregational Church. White chrysanthemums and Christmas greens made an attractive setting for the early-afternoon, 2 o'clock ceremony which was performed by Dr. Donald S. Ewing of the Trinitarian Congregational Church of Wayland, assisted by the pastor of the Second Church, Rev. Norman L. Smith.

Miss Meigs was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor attendant her sister, Mrs. Wilfred H. Barbeau of Providence, R. I. Miss Helen E. Cashell of Passaic, N. J., and Mrs. Henry A. Dellicker of Arlington were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a floor-length princess style white velvet gown fashioned by her sister, Mrs. Barbeau, and having a V-neck and wrist-length sleeves. With it she wore a white velvet Chignon hat and a wrist-length veil, and she carried white roses and stephanotis with spruce.

All the bridal attendants wore white velvet dresses like that of the bride, except that they were floor length with three-quarter sleeves, and had green velvet streamers extending from the necklines to the hems of the skirts. The wore spruce coronets and carried garnet rosebuds with fir balsam and spruce cones.

Robert Van Leuven of North Quincy was Mr. Sanderson's best man, and ushering were Robert A. Sanderson of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., brother of the bridegroom; and Peter Meigs of Scotch Plains, N. Y., brother of the bride.

A reception was held after the marriage in the church vestry, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving, with the members of the bridal party.

Mrs. Meigs, mother of the bride, was gowned in dark green changeable taffeta and wore beige accessories. Mrs. Josie Meigs, grandmother of the bride, wore a lavender print with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Sanderson, wore light cocoa taffeta with matching accessories, and Mrs. Willard Frye, the bridegroom's grandmother, wore white accessories with her navy-blue gown.

After spending the Christmas holidays with their families Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson motored to Virginia on a belated wedding journey.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and is now a senior at the Rhode Island School of Design. Mr. Sanderson, who is entering service, has been a staff artist on "Highlights Magazine." He is a graduate of Wayland High School and of the Rhode Island School of Design.

Di IORIO — LANIGAN

On Saturday morning, December 29, at St. Mary's Church, Miss Paula Marie Lanigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Murray Lanigan of 8 Mystic avenue, became the bride of John Paul Di Iorio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Di Iorio of 345 Washington street. The 11:30 Nuptial Mass was celebrated by the Reverend Charles E. Anadore and a reception followed at Alumnae Hall at Jackson College.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight taffeta with a bodice made of Alencon lace. The full taffeta skirt had appliques of matching lace. Her imported silk illusion veil was made of Alencon lace, trimmed with seed pearls, and she carried a prayer book, decorated with a bouquet of white camellias and stephanotis.

Miss Sheila Lanigan of Winchester was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a princess style gown of American Beauty velvet and carried a bouquet of white carnations with sprigs of holly. Identically gowned were the bridesmaids, Miss Susan Morton and Miss Janice Lynch both of Winchester; Mrs. George Chase of Plainfield, N. J., and Miss Joan Celia of Medford. Half crowns of miniature carnations trimmed with silver pine formed their headpieces and they carried cascades of white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a gown of champagne satin, with matching accessories and carried a corsage of green cymbidium orchids. A Dior blue gown of lace and taffeta, with identical accessories was chosen by the bridegroom's mother, who wore a corsage of white orchids.

The best man was Joseph Di Iorio of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom. The ushers included Charles Manoli and Edward Serieka, both of Winchester. George Cohan of Long Island, N. Y., and Leonard Kimball of Norton.

The bride graduated magna cum laude from Jackson College with the class of 1956 and was a member of Chi Omega Sorority. Her husband is a graduate of Dartmouth College, class of 1956, and attended the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration. He was a member of Chi Phi Fraternity.

After a wedding trip to New York and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Di Iorio will make their home in Nashua, New Hampshire.

MOSES — CHAPMAN

At high noon on Saturday, December 29, Miss Ruth Irene Chapman of Taunton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Chapman, formerly of Providence, R. I., was married in the Church of the Epiphany to Elliott Powell Moses, son of Mrs. Victor C. Moses of 119 Forest street, and the late Mr. Moses. The rector, Rev. John W. Ellison, read the service in a setting of laurel and white Christmas flowers.

Miss Chapman was given in marriage by Mr. Daniel T. Chane, Jr., of Winchester, a family friend. She wore a gown of imported white antique silk shantung, trimmed with Alencon lace and adorned with scattered seed pearls and sequins. Princess style, her gown was fashioned with long pointed sleeves and a deep flounce ending in a sweep train. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a shell-type headpiece of matching Alencon lace appliqued with pearls and sequins and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Cynthia W. Moses of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and Miss Barbara J. Manly of Pascoag, R. I., was bridesmaid.

The honor maid wore an emerald-green velveteen dress with a scoop neckline and empire-style bodice, trimmed with a matching satin band and a back bow with streamers. Her headpiece was of split red carnations fanning from a green bow, and she carried a pouff of red carnations trimmed wth scattered miniature green velvet bows.

The bridesmaid wore a red velveteen dress similarly styled to that of the honor maid. Her headpiece was red and she carried a pouff of matching carnations with miniature bows of red.

Harry Bird of Wakefield was best man for Mr. Moses, and ushering were Richard A. Harlow, Jr., of Winchester and James T. Allison of Wakefield, R. I.

A reception was held after the marriage in the church parish house with the mother of the bridegroom and Mr. Chane assisting in receiving with Miss Helen and Miss Marjorie Totten, aunts of the bride. Mrs. Moses wore an emerald-green sheath with a Sabrina neckline and panel back. Her hat was of white feathers and she wore a corsage of matching camellias.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses spent their honeymoon on a trip through the Berkshires.

The bride is a graduate of Mt. Pleasant High School in Providence, R. I., and will be graduated from the University of Rhode Island in June. She is member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

Mr. Moses graduated from Bordentown Military Institute, Bordentown, N. J., and from Burdett College. He is presently in the Army and is stationed at Fort Devens.

FATHER TIME, NEW YEAR BABE LINKED TO GREEK MYTHOLOGY

In cartoonists' lore, midnight on December 31 signaled the departure of a bearded old gentleman carrying a scythe and hourglass, and the appearance of a chubby infant wearing a diaper marked 1957.

The personifications of Father Time and the New Year Babe are as familiar as those of Santa Claus or Uncle Sam. Yet these fitting symbols for the end of one cycle of living and the birth of another have roots in Greek mythology.

Father Time survives as a descendant of the Greek god Cronus, lord of the universe, the National Geographic Society says. Cronus bore the line of inestimable years on his face, and he carried a scythe.

Like many of mythology's earthy gods, Cronus was not altogether admirable. Having been warned that one of his children would depose him, Cronus got in the habit of swallowing each at birth. His wife Rhea naturally wished to discourage the practice. She hid their son Zeus after his birth, and presented Cronus with a stone wrapped in swadding clothes .

The trick worked. Cronus disgorged not only the stone but the previous children. Zeus dethroned his father, settled on Mount Olympus, and ruled as chief god of the Greek pantheon.

Later, Cronus's name was confused with the word chronos, meaning "time." But the hourglass has found a permanent place in the hand of the white-haired gentleman with the scythe.

The ancient Roman religion identified Saturn, the god of agriculture, with Cronus. Like his Greek counterpart, Saturn carried a scythe.

Pagan Rome celebrated Saturnalia, a solstice ceremony of the year's turning, from December 17 to 23. In many ways, the festival resembled present-day New Year celebrations. All work stopped; schools closed; courts handed down no sentences; revelers gamboled in masquerade; and gifts such as waxen fruits, candles, and dolls were exchanged.

Even today, exchange of presents lingers on as one of the world's oldest New Year customs. The Roman word for gool-luck gifts—strenae—survives in jour d'etrennes, France's popular expression for New Year Day.

The New Year Babe may be as old as Father Time. During ancient Greece's festival of Dionysus, a baby was paraded as a symbol of rebirth. A chief ceremonial in the Eleusinian Mysteries featured the image of a child.

In more recent times, farmers of western Prussia staged the symbolic birth of a child on harvest fields. A German folk song of the 14th century depicts the New Year Babe in its present form.

The widespread observance of January 1, as the start of a new year stems from ancient Rome. It was the time when consuls and other officials took office. Julius Caesar arbitrarily chose that date as the first day of the Roman year when he adopted the Julian calendar.

ASTRONOMERS GAIN NEW INSIGHT INTO UNIVERSE'S COMPLEXITY

The universe is vaster and more complex than astronomers had believed.

New ideas of its size and makeup are revealed in a report on the National Geographic Society-Palomar Observatory Sky Survey, recently completed, which has expanded known space 25 times.

In the December National Geographic Magazine, astronomer George O. Abell writes that tens of thousands of star galaxy clusters, the largest units of matter known, have been found in the far reaches of space. Before the survey began, scarcely three dozen such clusters had ever been seen.

100 Billion Suns

The size of such galaxies can be seen from the Milky Way, of which our own solar system is a tiny fraction. It contains more than 100 billion suns, gathered in a gigantic pinwheel spinning in space. Light, traveling 186,000 miles a second, requires 100,000 years to cross from rim to rim. In contrast, light from the moon reaches the earth in about one and a quarter seconds.

It is groups of such huge star systems that have been discovered in the survey. As many as 50,000 individual galaxies have been found in a section of the sky no larger than the bowl of the Big Dipper.

Some astronomers hope that study of the survey will bring them closer to knowing how the universe was created.

Two conflicting theories on this basic question are now in the forefront. One holds that all matter was once packed together in a "super-dense" state. A tremendous explosion started it flying outward.

The other theory declares that the universe is in continuous creation. New galaxies are being formed to take the place of others that are rushing out into space. New matter to create new stars appears all the time, so the stars can merge into galaxies and move away.

Galaxies Speeding Away

The tendency of distant galaxies to speed away from us and from each other is confirmed by the Sky Survey. By careful measurements of the color of the light given off, astronomers have been able to demonstrate that distant galaxies are moving away with tremendous speed, some as fast as 38,000 miles a second—a fifth the speed of light itself.

To make the survey, each area of the sky was photographed by both red and blue light through the Palomar Observatory's 48-inch Big Schmidt telescope. Seven years in the making, the survey maps the three quarters of the heavens visible from Palomar Mountain, California—a segment of space reaching out an incredible distance of a billion light years. A light year is about six million million miles.

In addition to its revelations about the most distant parts of the universe, the survey discovered new comets and asteroids in our own solar system and gave science more information on our home galaxy.

One of the discoveries is a baby planet, or asteroid. With the exception of the moon, it comes closer to earth than any other celestial object having a known orbit. The planet has been named Geographos, in honor of the National Geographic Society.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

A traveler can visit Santa Fe, Formosa, Florida, Georgetown, Marlborough, New Amsterdam, Alexandria, and Annapolis without leaving South America. Santa Fe and Formosa are in Argentina; Florida in Uruguay; Georgetown, Marlborough, and New Amsterdam in British Guiana; Alexandria and Annapolis in Brazil, the National Geographic Society says.

How do fireflies light? An enzyme within the insects' luminous cells enables oxygen and a substance called luciferin to unite, producing a cold light that throws off neither heat nor energy. The winking glow is a signal between the sexes.

Captain William Bligh of H.M.S. Bounty brought the first few apple trees to Tasmania, an island off Australia, in 1788, the National Geographic Society says. Today the fruit is Tasmania's second most important export crop, after wool.

The wheel-shaped Milky Way is so vast that it takes light, traveling 186,000 miles a second, a hundred thousand years to cross it from rim to rim, the National Geographic Society says.

FREE REAL ESTATE LECTURE

YOU CAN LEARN the Real Estate Business! You receive FULL instruction in Brokerage, Investment and Management "from the ground up." No previous experience or training is necessary. You will be taken on a field trip to study buildings at first hand. During the course you are actually STARTED IN BUSINESS under the guidance and assistance of the instructor, Robert Warren Katz, LL.B., Ph.D., a veteran of 28 years of SUCCESSFUL realty practice and author of "How to Succeed in Real Estate" (Prentice—Hall Pub.). After the 16-week concentrated course, you will be qualified to enter the real estate field, full or part time, and begin receiving commissions of $500 to $2000 each. You may join an established firm or be your own boss. No license of any kind is required.

Dr. Katz's Spring 1956 Class has sold over $1,000,000 worth of Realty to date and collected over $50,000 in commissions, using the methods learned in this course. Come and meet and talk with some of these graduates who, perhaps like yourself, had no previous experience but received this training and are now successful in the Real Estate Profession. Free Demonstration Lecture on Wednesday, January 16, at 8:00 p. m., at New England Mutual Hall, Copley Square, Boston. Admission by ticket only. Write or phone now for free tickets and brochure.

CHRISTMAS TREE PARTY

Ed. Note: The following poem was written in 1953 by Harold M. Jones for the first Community Christmas Tree party at the junction of Madison avenue west and Winslow road, mention of which was made in last week's Star.

T'was the night before Christmas, nineteen-fifty three
The second anniversary of our Community Tree
The big hemlock proudly gleamed with its colorful load
At Madison West and Winslow road
Beneath its branches decked with lights so bright
Good friends had gathered—twas neighborhood night
The papas and mamas, the girls and the boys
Were laughing and talking and making such noise
The caroling was led by Ruth Bond and Eva Jones
And the air was filled with heavenly tones
When all of a sudden from out of the night
Came a loud acclamation a cordial invite
"Come all to the home of John and 'Chubby' Rutherford"
Where the tables were set for a fine smorgasbord
There were sweet breads and ices and cakes galore
Candies and nuts and cookies by the score
Through the year the ladies had been so deserving
The men decided tonight they would do the serving
As in the past "Bill" and "Harold" poured
The men in aprons and everyone roared
Come, Edwin, come Henry, come Bill, come Fred,
Come Warren, Come John, come Ed,
Come Les, come Gil, come Loring, Doc Ken, and all others
Come fathers and sons and daughters and mothers.
Goodfellowship reigned for hours or more
And the big hemlock gleamed as never before
When the party was all over, the last guest out of sight
The old tree whispered "Thanks, dear God, for a grand night"

Now the text of this tale is all very clear
Why not be friendly throughout the year
And help every neighborhood tree carry its load
As at Madison West and Winslow road?

"Poems are made by fools like me
But only God can make a tree"

POTTED PLANTS IN THE HOME

by Max G. Fultz

Potted plants comprise a significant segment of the florist and plant industry of Middlesex County. They are on sale at retail florists' shops, garden stores, roadside stands and some retail stores at various times of the year.

House plants add color to the home. Homeowners can get enjoyment in having plants and understand the general rules of care. African Violets have taken the lead in recent years. Poinsettias, begonias, geraniums, and fuchsia are common among the flowering types used. Philodendron, coleus, and ivy of various species are common foliage types. There are many others in both groups that will appeal to those who wish more variety. Sansavieria, cacti, and other succulents do well at cooler temperatures, are less exacting in light requirements and require less water than is common with other plants.

Geraniums are popular and one of the most successful of house plants. They are extensively grown in commercial greenhouses and sold in retail shops or garden stores. It is important to grow them in as small pots as possible to induce flowering. They must not, however, be allowed to become pot-bound. When geraniums are large enough for a 6-inch pot, they have passed their prime but may be used for cuttings. This plant should have the vigorous shoots pinched to keep it compact.

African Violets prefer temperatures of 65-70 degrees F. with a minimum of 60 degrees. Night temperatures should be carefully checked. They need full sun from October to March. Ventilation is essential; direct drafts should be avoided by ventilating from adjoined rooms. Water requirements are exacting. Regularly, water is added from the underneath. The pot is placed in a container and warm water is added each morning and the excess drained off about mid-afternoon.

Propagation of a great many species of house plants may be done by the homeowner. If reasonable care and attention to detail is practiced it can be very successfully done. Making the cuttings correctly, using a good potting soil and proper attention to moisture and cultural requirements are essential. The Extension bulletin No. A103 entitled "House Plants" is available at the Middlesex County Extension Service, 19 Everett street, Concord, Mass.

LEGION TO GIVE REFUGEES DICTIONARIES

The American Legion has purchased all available Hungarian-English dictionaries in the United States and will present them as quickly as possible to the Hungarian refugees streaming into Camp Kilmer, New Jersey, Department Commander Robert F. Murphy has announced.

In addition, the American Legion has ordered reprints to supplement the existing supply. Additional copies will be distributed as soon as they are printed.

"This project has been undertaken by the American Legion in the belief that one of the greatest problems which these refugees will face will be the language barrier. Not until they learn our language can they begin to understand our people, customs and traditions and our proud heritage of freedom," Commander Murphy said.

"I am certain that these brave people want to become self-reliant, useful citizens in their adopted land as quickly as possible. They want to earn their own way and become part of the communities throughout America in which they will settle. To do so they must know our language.

"The dictionaries which the American Legion is supplying will be only a start toward learning the English language. But they symbolize our desire to help these Hungarian refugees find the opportunity and freedom which they seek in America."

BROWNE HEADS SYMPOSIUM

Theodore C. Browne of 37 Calumet road will be Chairman of a symposium on "Patents in the Chemical Field" at a meeting of the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society Thursday, January 10, at 4:30 p. m. in Huntington Hall at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Nearly 200 chemists from Eastern Massachusetts and New Hampshire are expected to attend the meeting.

A graduate of Harvard University, Mr. Browne is head of the Legal Department of the Dewey and Almy Chemical Co., in Cambridge.

HOME FROM BOUVE

Three local girls have been enjoying the Christmas recess from their studies at Bouve-Boston School, which is affiliated with Tufts University, Medford. They are: Elinor Johansen, a sophomore, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. William Johansen of 41 Salisbury street; Cynthia W. Moses, a senior, the daughter of Mrs. Victor C. Moses of 119 Forest street; and Carolyn D. Stone, a senior, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett P. Stone of 10 Warren street. The girls are majoring in physical education at Bouve.

Miss Stone is president of the senior class.

CORRECTION

In the obituary of Miss Louise M. Taylor, published in last week's Star, it was erroneously stated that the funeral was held at the Bennett Chapel. The services were held at the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home on Washington street. We regret the error and are glad to make the necessary correction.

Y. N. I. CLUB

The annual after Christmas party of the Y.N.I. Club was held at the home of Mrs. A. Bernard Vespucci, 31 Nathaniel road. The members all arrived with their annual grab and holiday spirit.

The members exchanged gifts nd discussed the happenings of heir Christmas day and also all the lovely gifts they received, in the gay nd appropriately decorated living room which was very Christmasy with tree, holly, and garlands of laurel.

A delicious collation was served t which Mrs. Frederick MacDonld of Woburn poured. A wonderful time was had by all and all agreed another wonderful year was now in the past.

PLAY TRY-OUTS

"Bell, Book and Candle" by John Van Druten, the fascinating story of a 20th century witch and her problems with love and the gentleman upstairs, will be the winter production of the Parish Players. Try-outs for this play will be held in Chidley Hall (upstairs) Monday evening, anuary 7, at 8 o'clock.

The cast includes two women, three men—and the Players issue a cordial invitation to all who are interested in dramatics to attend the try-outs. Directing the play will be Harlan F. Grant of the Boston Conservatory, and Weston (Vt.) Playhouse. Dates of the play—February 14, 15 and 16.

FILENE'S HELD CHRISTMAS PARTY

Miss Rachael Armstrong, new manager at Filene's, gave a morning coffee for the Winchester store personnel on Monday, December 24, at Horace Ford's.

The coffee was held prior to the opening of the store, from 8:30 until 9, with all the girls who attended receiving Christmas corsages. There was no formal program, the employees coming and going throughout the half hour as they pleased. Everyone had a good time and voted the coffee a great success.

WHICH MAN PASSED THE N.P.* TEST?

*Ninety-Percent

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch . . . like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

You buy your clothes to make a good impression. As you wear them, have them drycleaned often. A smart man takes care to keep that impression fresh.

Cadillac

Finally Believed His Eyes and Ears!

He has heard and read a great many wonderful things about this new 1957 Cadillac since it made its first appearance a few brief weeks ago—

—about its magnificent new luxury, for instance . . . its brilliant new power and responsiveness . . . its marvelous new handling ease . . . and its extraordinary new smoothness of ride.

And so, quite frankly, he began to wonder if it weren't all too good to be true. Could any motor car be as wonderful as this latest "car of cars" was reputed to be?

Well, he's decided to put his eyes and ears to the test today. And the verdict is unmistakable!

It's a joy just to lean back into those deep, soft cushions and look out over that graceful hood into the beckoning highway.

And what a revelation the car is to drive!

A curve in the road ahead? He simply follows it with the arc of his hands and the car responds with perfect obedience.

A hill in the offing? He just nudges the accelerator and the car sweeps up and over as effortlessly as if it were traveling the level road.

A stop light coming up? He presses his toe—ever so gently—on the broad braking pedal and comes to the smoothest, surest stop imaginable.

Yes, it's true what they say about this newest of Cadillacs. This is far and away the finest motor car ever to travel the world's highways.

* * * *

How about you? Have you heard the wonderful things they're saying about the 1957 Cadillac?

Well, the proof is in the driving—and the facts about Cadillac have never been more convincing.

Notice is hereby given that the Winchester Planning Board, acting as a Board of Survey, will hold a public hearing Monday evening, January 7, 1957, at 8:00 P.M. in its office, West Wing, Town Hall, upon the application of Donald J. & Jean E. Brosius for rescission of Board of Survey approval of Jackson Road, a private way from Forest Street northwesterly to Hinds Road.

Prior to the hearing the plan may be examined at the office of the Town Engineer.

By order of the Planning Board this seventeenth day of December, 1956.

Harold V. Farnsworth,
Secretary

MISSION UNION GUILD

The Mission Union Guild of the Women's Association of the First Congregational Church will meet Tuesday, January 8. Sewing starts at 10:00 a.m. and luncheon will be served in Chidley Hall by Mrs. George Gowdy, Mrs. Arthur Rogde and their committee. The worship service will be led by Mrs. Ragnar Brandt.

The speaker for the afternoon program is Mrs. Canaan Sithole of Rhodesia, South Africa. Mrs. Sithole, an African native, is a fascinating person and speaker, full of ambition to take advantage of every educational opportunity for herself and her husband so that they may have the best qualifications to minister to their own native people.

Mrs. Sithole's father was a Christian preacher of So. Rhodesia. As a young girl she attended a Kraal school, hardly more than a mud hut, but was determined to become a teacher. While working her way through the institute she met and married the brilliant young educator, Canaan Sithole of Mt. Selinda Institute. He is now spending three years studying at Andover Newton.

At a great sacrifice Mrs. Sithole has left their four children with relatives and is spending one year with her husband in the United States so that she will be better qualified to help him in his future work.

This promises to be one of the most interesting programs of the year.

LEGION AIDING MARCH OF DIMES

Commander Henry R. O'Neil of Post 97, the American Legion and Auxiliary, President Dorothy McCormack have been appointed local chairmen of Blue Crutch Days, January 4 and 5.

The tag days are being conducted by the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Massachusetts, to benefit the March of Dime. This is the second year that the Legion and its Auxiliary have sponsored the drive to provide extra funds for the care of thousands of polio victims in Massachusetts.

Blue Crutch Days will form the kick-off event of this year's March of Dimes fund-raising campaign in the state.

Commander O'Neil will direct the Blue Crutch activities of Post No. 97 in cooperation with Mrs. McCormack who will head the Auxiliary. About 15,000 Legionnaires and Auxiliary will participate throughout the state.

Members of Post No. 97 will be stationed in all sections of Winchester from 11:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. on January 4 and 5 to collect contributions to the March of Dimes and give contributors a miniature Blue Crutch lapel pin.

WINCHESTER EDGES MARBLEHEAD

Winchester High edged Marblehead, 3 to 2, in a North Shore Hockey League game at the Lynn Arena Tuesday with Joe Cussen scoring the tie-breaking goal at 4:46 of the final period.

The win boosted Winchester's title hopes since Woburn and Swampscott battled to a scoreless tie the same day. The Indians' win and the tie jumped the local boys, who have two losses, into a top tie with Danvers, unbeaten in six games but twice being held to ties.

Cussen's goal came on a Leo Callahan rebound which shot out of the goal right in front of the sticks. Cussen was Johnny-on-the-spot to whale it home between the legs of Marblehead goaler Jerry Burke, who was unable to get into position quickly enough to make the save.

After a scoreless first period big John Kelleher broke the ice for Winchester at 1:34 of the second period with a whistling shot from 25 feet out. Four minutes later Bill Pixey of Marblehead soloed in for the equalizer. The Headers went ahead at 9:56 of the same period on another unassisted effort by Mr. Pixey. A more alert defense might have prevented Pixey's first score.

Johhny Zirkel evened the count for Winchester five seconds after the two minute mark of the final period with Callahan getting the assist. The summary:

WINCHESTER—Denton, g; Kelleher, rd; McElholm, ld; Cussen, c; Zirkel, rw; Callahan, lw.

MARBLEHEAD—Ryan, g; Dinsmore, rd; Winslow, ld; Fitzgerald, c; Noyes, rw; Booma, lw.

Winchester spares: Sandberg, Weaver, Emerson, Davenport.

Marblehead spares: W. Pixey, Stamski, Larkin, Graham, Oran, McKane, Sullivan.

Periods	1	2	3
Winchester	0	1	2—3
Marblehead	0	2	0—2

Second period: Kelleher, 1.34; W. Pixey, 5.00; W. Pixey, 9.16.

Third period: Zirkel (Callahan) 2.05; Cussen (Callahan), 4.46.

REMEMBER ROTARY WHEN MOVING

Are you moving, or thinking of moving, either in, or away from Winchester? Whichever way you move, if you move you will come across a lot of stuff you want to get rid of, and if you are like a great majority, you will wonder what to do with it!

Don't junk it! Winchester Rotary Club will be glad to come around and take your supernumenaries off your hands for probable sale at their annual Spring Charity Auction. You would be surprised to learn what prices people pay at these sales for those items you wonder why you kept at all, and certainly, so long!

And the Rotary will be at your door promptly after receipt of your invitation to call. As a matter of fact, don't go down town or to the PTA right after hoping either the "Homespun Boy", Al Elliott; or "Mr. Winning Farm", Charlie Murphy. A truck is liable to be grinding to a stop in front of your house before you get the phone back on the stand. These boys work fast!

Rotary does a whole lot of good with the money from its Spring Auctions. The Scouts, Police Athletic League, Winning Farm, Home for the Aged, Scholarship Foundation, High School, Little League and Babe Ruth League are only a partial list of organizations they have assisted.

So if you move, or if you don't, and have some stuff you want to be rid of, just call WInchester 6-2171 or WInchester 6-7090. You'll lose the stuff, pronto, and you can be really glad you did!

PAY RAISES, PENSIONS AND PROGRESS MARK BEGGS & COBB'S NEW YEAR REPORT

Just a year ago the several hundred employees of the Beggs & Cobb Tanning Company of Winchester returned to work after a long and costly strike that threatened the very life of the 80-year old Winchester plant, the community's largest employer.

Up to that time Beggs & Cobb's Winchester management was faced with the same ills that have forced the closing of so many tanneries—work limitations and the resulting high costs of production that made it impossible to compete with tanneries in other sections of the East and Midwest. Management sought only a fair day's work for a fair day's pay. The return to work on January 3, 1956, marked the beginning of a hopeful new era both for the company and its employees.

The new labor agreement signed at that time continues throughout 1957. It signified a return to sound labor-management relations and provisions for restoring the competitive position of the Winchester tannery. The workers—already among the highest paid in the entire industry—received pay raises, an insured pension plan, and other benefits outstanding in the industry.

Pension Plan Unique

The Beggs & Cobb pension plan in effect at the Winchester plant is one of the very few fully insured plans in effect in Massachusetts industry. Under this plan each retiring employee is insured; guaranteed a retirment income for the rest of his life. This income is in addition to his Social Security benefits and is underwritten by the well-known Equitable Assurance Society of America. The entire cost of the program is borne by the company and is the equivalent of about 6½ cents per hour for every one of the company's several hundred Winchester employees. Commenting on the pension plan, Frank Thornton, Beggs & Cobb's Winchester manager, said: "It often is difficult for younger employees to appreciate the great significance of this pension plan, the first of its kind in the tanning industry of this area. Only as the men grow older and approach the age of retirement do they seem to realize the lasting value of the company's investment for the protection of their later years. The several men who have retired during the past year, since the plan has been in operation, are of course, high in their praise of the far-sighted, constructive program."

Second Pay Raise This Week

When the men returned to work a year ago they also received a pay raise amounting to 5 cents an hour. Last Tuesday, under the terms of the labor agreement, another increase of 5 cents per hour became effective and will be reflected in the pay checks issued to all employees at Winchester this coming week.

Reviews Past Year and Looks Ahead

Beggs & Cobb's president, G. Burton Davy, views the new year optimistically. "The past year," he said, "has been a trying one, but we have made substantial progress on the road back toward being a leading, competitive company in the tanning industry. It has taken us many months to recover from the tremendous production and market losses sustained during the long work stoppage at Winchester. Now, however, as our workers become accustomed to and understand the fairness of our standard hour incentive program our progress will be, I'm sure, at an accelerated pace in 1957. Not only will our production costs come into line but the earnings of our employees will be greater than ever before. Actually, the majority of our Winchester employees working under the incentive plan have increased their take-home pay by about 15 percent, and the trend is steadily upward."

Industry Outlook Excellent

"The tanning industry of the United States is a thriving industry," added Mr. Davy. "There is no valid reason for permitting its decline in New England. We have good tanning craftsmen, equal to or better than those of any section of the country. All that is required here is real cooperation between management and labor so that our production costs will be competitive with those of the tanners in other areas. That was the goal of our Winchester crusade. With the continued understanding and cooperation of our employees I definitely am optimistic about Winchester's future in the year ahead."

Not all Massachusetts tanneries have been as successful as Beggs & Cobb. Just three months ago the Agoos Tanning Company, largest employer of tanning labor in Lynn, was liquidated. Prohibitively high costs of production reportedly were the straws that broke the camel's back.

Earlier in the year the Lowell tannery of American Hide & Leather Company was liquidated with the loss of several hundred jobs. Here, according to that company's spokesmen, work limitations brought paralysis to the company and forced its demise.

Industry requirements, however, for the kinds and quality of side upper shoe leathers that are produced in Winchester continue to rise. In 1956 an all-time record of 590,000,000 pairs of shoes were manufactured in the United States. The bulk of this production—about 75 percent—was crafted from leathers produced from steer and cowhides such as those tanned locally by the Beggs & Cobb Tanning Company.

SACHEMS TOP LEXINGTON

Mike Callahan's 31 points set a new individual scoring mark as the Sachems mowed down Lexington 76-51 in a Middlesex League basketball game at the home gym on Wednesday afternoon.

Bergquist and Symmes with 12 and 10 points respectively followed Callahan, while Sophomore Doug Thomson netted eight in the final period.

Winchester's defense kept the Minutemen shooting from the outside a large part of the time, though Lappin and Spinelli each collected 13 points for the losers.

The J. V.'s also romped in the preliminary game 47-24. Thomson and Kiley with 11 and 6 points respectively held top scoring honors for the home team.

An interesting sidelight to the game was that four Schumachers were on the two teams, Winchester's own Hank and Dave, and their cousins, Gus and John of Lexington!

Four Seniors Reach Merit Finals

Winchester Pupils Among Top Scorers In Nationwide Aptitude Exam

Four seniors at Winchester High School have been named finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition, according to Principal W. Howard Niblock. The local students are among the 7500 highest scorers on a nationwide college aptitude examination given to 162,000 seniors in 12,500 high schools on October 24.

The Winchester High School finalists are Kirby Baker, Mary Kiley, Bradley Ross, and Whitney Smith.

Baker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Baker of 7 Grove street; Miss Kiley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Kiley of 21 Winslow road; Ross is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Campbell Ross of 11 Madison avenue; and Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Smith, of 241 Highland avenue. All are outstanding students.

The finalists now face a stiff three-hour College Board examination on January 12, plus intensive screening of their leadership and extra-curricular records by a selection board.

At stake are more than 700 four-year college scholarships, many of them sponsored by business and industrial corporations. Included are 100 Sears-Roebuck Foundation Merit Scholarships and nationwide programs sponsored by such companies and foundations as Pittsburgh Plate Glass, F. W. Woolworth, Standard Oil (Indiana), International Nickel, and many others.

The January 12 examination will be given in designated testing centers throughout the country, and at least 7,000 of the Merit Finalists are expected to survive this hurdle, according to John M. Stalnaker, President of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

"Every member of this group of 7,000 will have the highest potential to benefit from college training, and I wish only that there were Merit Scholarships for each of them. The response of business and industry in establishing Merit Scholarship Programs to help these students has been magnificent. But we will probably have 9 or 10 highly qualified students for every Merit Scholarship available."

In the final phase of the competition, the other accomplishments and the character of the competitors will be evaluated. About April 25, a fortunate 700 will become the Merit Scholars of 1957.

The runners-up will each receive a Certificate of Merit, attesting to their high ability; and all colleges and universities will be notified, enabling these students to be considered for thousands of other awards and prizes.

The 700 Merit Scholars choose the colleges they wish to attend. The value of each scholarship varies with the financial need of the student, ranging upward from $100 per year (minimum honorary) to $2,200 per year or more.

The colleges chosen by the Merit Scholars will receive supplemental unrestricted grants averaging $2,000 per scholarship (over the four years) to help defray the actual cost of educating the students.

The Merit Scholarship Program is now in its second year. It was established in 1955 through basic grants of $20,500,000 from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The National Science Foundation and the Old Dominion Foundation have given funds for research work. In the first year, 556 Merit Scholars were named. They are now freshmen at 160 different colleges.

The program is designed to search the nation for those students most able to benefit from a college education, regardless of means. Once discovered, the students are supported in college by funds provided by business and industrial corporations, professional societies, and even individuals interested in helping students of high ability. Some 23 of these groups financed Merit Scholars in 1956, and over 40 business organizations are planning to support Merit Scholars in 1957.

The competition is open to any public, private, or parochial high school in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico; and any high school senior may participate. Today's 7,500 finalists represents one half of one per cent of 1957's high school graduating classes—the best in each state.

JOHN W. McKINLEY

FIRST '57 ARMY ENLISTEE LEAVES WINCHESTER

John W. McKinley of 11 Elmwood avenue last week (January 2,) became the first Winchesterite to leave for service in the U. S. Army.

John, who is the son of Harold and Sarah McKinley enlisted under the Army's popular "Guaranteed" Schooling program which is open to high school graduates. He is a 1956 graduate of Essex Agricultural School in Danvers.

His Army job having been predetermined by his enlistment for a specific schooling program, McKinley will undergo eight (8) weeks of standard Army basic training at Fort Dix, New Jersey, and then after a short furlough at home, will proceed to school at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, just outside of Washington, D. C.

SEEK BILLBOARD PERMIT FOR WINCHESTER

The Selectmen have been notified by the Division of Outdoor Advertising of the Department of Public Works that an application has been made by the F. H. Birch Co., an advertising firm, for permission to erect two billboards in Winchester on upper Main street.

The billboards are to be erected, if the necessary permit is granted, beside Mottolo's Store opposite Salem street and slightly further north opposite Richardson street, both on the easterly side of Main street. One of the billboards is to be approximately 25 ft. x 13 ft. and the other, a v-shaped structure 50 ft. by 13ft. Both are to be 19 feet high, or at about the level of the overhead.

Winchester has always opposed the erection of billboard within the town limits and has adopted a by-law governing their erection here. Several attempts to erect billboards, notably on Cambridge street, have failed because of this by-law and the united opposition of the town.

The Selectmen plan vigorous opposition to the proposed erection of the two billboards on upper Main street, and in accordance with the provisions of the by-law governing billboard has called a public hearing for Monday evening at 9 o'clock in the Selectmen's Office at the town hall.

Notices of the hearing have been posted and already opposition to the erection of the signs is mounting, especially among residents of the North End which is the district principally affected.

WANT LOW BIDDERS SERVED

The Selectmen have been asked by a group of citizens to include in the warrant for the coming March town meeting an article seeking to amend Article II of the Town By-Laws by inserting a section making it mandatory to award contracts to low bidders on all purchases of the town amounting to $1,000 or more.

The new section also provides that a list of bidders and their bids be published in a town paper.

Under the old By-Laws bids have been asked but the award has not always gone to the low bidder, it being discretionery with the town board making the purchase to award the bid to the lowest bidder who in the Board's opinion can best serve the town, not necessarily the bidder whose figure is lowest.

The new article, if it is accepted, will still make it possible for town Boards to by-pass the low bidder if the Board believes there is any doubts of his business reputation or ability to deliver.

According to one of those interested in the insertion of the amendment to the By-Laws the purchase of motor vehicles by the town in the past year is largely responsible for seeking the addition to Article II of the present By-Laws.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Ned L. Morison of 108 Mystic street, West Medford, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house on January 9, attended by nearly 200 guests. Assisting the host and hostess were a son, Thomas L. Morison of Winchester, a daughter, Mrs. B. Edwin Jackson, Jr., of Medford, and five grandchildren.

Mrs. Morison, is the former Edna Brown Hoover, is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Carroll Hoover of Columbus, Ohio. She was educated in the Columbus schools and attended Ohio State University before coming to Medford upon her marriage in 1907.

Mr. Morison, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Morison of Pearl street, Medford, has been a resident of Medford for nearly eighty years. He was Cadet Major of the Medford High School class of 1896 and a charter member of the famous Royall Athletic Association. Now retired, he spent more than fifty years in Faneuil Hall Market, Boston, where, as president of Kingman and Harty, Commission Merchants, he was known as 'the Apple King," as was his father before him.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Morison are still very active in church and community activities.

INDIANS PLAY TWO AT HOME

Winchester High's unbeaten basketball team, defending Middlesex League champion, meets Concord tonight in a league game at the high school gym, first and second teams, commencing at 7:00 p. m.

Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Indians play Melrose here. Neither Concord nor Melrose is expected to upset Winchester, and the challenge is not expected to be made until Belmont squares off with the locals next week Friday at Belmont. That's expected to be the big one!

WINCHESTER HAD BIG STORM

Winchester had its biggest snow storm of the budding season the first of the week, with the storm commencing in the late afternoon of Sunday and continuing all night and all day Monday. Approximately a foot of snow fell during the storm with high winds causing drifts of several times this height at key spots around town.

Street Superintendent James Wakefield and his assistant, Mike Grant, got the town's snow equipment on the road at 1:30 Monday morning with 24 plows covering most of the streets of the town before commuters left their homes for trains and buses.

The drifting made the men's work doubly hard on Myopia Hill in the Ridge street and Hutchinson road area, and also along North Washington street, Woodside road, Pond street, Sheridan circle and the Symmes Park section of town.

Tough as the drifting proved, it was parked cars that hindered the men most, in some sections of the town automobiles were left on the road making it virtually impossible to get plows through. Police issued 25 parking tags during the night and early morning, and in some instances the tagged cars were still where they had been left well into the forenoon.

The men were all day Monday, clearing snow until nine o'clock in the evening, and then continuing mopping up operations until 10:45. It was still snowing and drifting badly on the West Side hill and along Washington street at Calvary Cemetery and on Pond street.

At 6:30 Tuesday morning the work on the roads was resumed and by noon Tuesday practically all roads were plowed, the men continuing through the day the work of pushing the snow at the sides of the roads and clearing corners.

Men working on snow removal got one break in the lightness of the snow. They complained of the parked cars and told of one section where a complaint about the plowing had been made. Upon investigation, it was found the plows could not get into the road because of parked cars.

A group of high school boys was added to the regular crews during Monday when school sessions were called off for all schools in town. Extra men replaced the boys Monday evening. Nine extra trucks were put on to haul away the snow.

"ONCE MORE AFTER ME, NOW!"

Mrs. Anne Austill (right), director of Christian Education at Church of the Epiphany, coaches Hungarian refugees in English at Church Parish House. Mrs. Henry K. Fitts, "Welcome Wagon" hostess for Winchester, and the rector of the Epiphany, Rev. John W. Ellison, look on.

Winchester People are Wonderful!

Hungarians Enthusiastic Over New Homes Here

"People in Winchester are wonderful," was the enthusiastic comment of one of Winchester's latest arrivals from Hungary, via Camp Kilmer. Although spoken in halting English, the intensity of her expression and the earnest look in her eyes gave clear evidence of enthusiasm for her new home here.

The eighteen Hungarian adults and two of the three children began their Basic English course at the Epiphany Parish House on Thursday, January 3, the day after their arrival, and continued on Friday. They were allowed the week end off from their "studies" and, due to the snow storm, had Monday off, too.

Classes resumed, however, on Tuesday and have continued for the rest of the week. On Wednesday night this group was fortunate to have a special class session at Harvard with Miss Gibson, one of the central figures in the development of the Basic English course. The group went to Cambridge where advantage could be taken of the many special teaching devices available there.

During the past week clothing has been generously donated by many Winchesterites and distributed to those refugees who were in need of more adequate clothing. Many of the merchants in town have also given their support in many different ways, offering to provide needed clothing and articles or services.

As of today most of the present need for clothing has been satisfied, leaving only a few special requirements as yet unfilled. Mrs. Edward S. Rendall, who is in charge of the clothing collection, suggests that calls on this matter be made to her at WInchester 6-2861, or to the Settlement Committee office. "Should a second group of Hungarians come to Winchester," Mrs. Rendall said, "we will be glad to know where we can get more clothing. For the present, however, we are unable to store any more clothes."

With the assistance and permission of the School Board a room in the Wadleigh School building has been made available to the Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee to use as an office. A phone has been installed and all calls with regard to the Hungarian group should be made to WInchester 6-0283 between the hours of 10 to 11:30 a.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

This week also saw the beginning of placement interviews with the Hungarians. A committee under the direction of Mr. William E. Gordon is endeavoring to see that each man or woman is placed in a job that is suited to his or her experience and talents.

It is anticipated that by the end of next week many of these people will have progressed far enough with their basic English to be able to start working at their new jobs. While several job openings have already been offered, Mr. Gordon says that he is still very much interested in learning more about job opportunities for the Hungarians.

Meanwhile, other committees have begun work to find permanent housing into which the Hungarians can move as they are able to support themselves. Since there are families and couples as well as single persons to be housed, there is need for houses, apartments and rooms that can be rented.

As the move into new, permanent quarters begins a new area of assistance will be created; that of furnishing the new homes. Furniture, bedding, kitchenware, etc., will be needed to help the Hungarians to set up housekeeping in their new country.

WINTON CLUB CABARET COMMITTEE

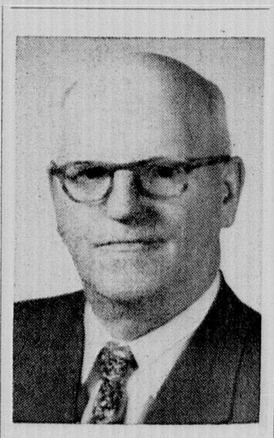
CABARET REHEARSALS START

Last Sunday night Winton Club held its first Talent Party. Fifty people arrived at Masonic Hall to reveal their special talents, to get acquainted, and enjoy the refreshments. Charles Raffi, as able master of ceremonies, presented Mr. Blake, the Director, who discussed the show and its demands. Actual rehearsals have now started at the Wyman School, and if a first result is any indication of the show's success as a whole, it is well assured. Sixteen out of eighteen ladies appeared for their drill rehearsal on Monday morning in spite of the heavy snow!

Plans for door prizes have been completed and every winner will be indeed lucky. On Wednesday's Dress Rehearsal Night there will be two gifts: a certificate from the Winchester Sport Shop, and an electric clock anonymously donated. For Thursday, which is Theatre Night with reserved seats and coffee served at eight o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Geoffrey Neiley and Mrs. Harry N. Squires, Jr., there will be four gifts: a thirty dollar certificate from The House of Fashion, a merchandise certificate from the Stop and Shop, and two complete hair stylings from Monsieur Marcel's of Newbury street, Boston. Then on Friday and Saturday Dance Nights there will be the following two prizes for each: A book of car-wash tickets from Minute Man Car Wash on Mystic avenue, in Somerville, and a complete hair styling from Monsieur Marcel's of Newbury street, Boston.

Limitless time and effort of many people are necessary to make this Cabaret a brilliant annual success. This year some who are—so diligently (working) are: Music, Mrs. Elliott K. Blaisdell, chairman; Decorations, Mrs. Samuel R. Kirkwood, chairman; Costumes, Mrs. George Blair, chairman; and Mrs. Allen O. Eaton, co-chairman; Makeup, Mrs. Joseph Butler. The Program which each year materializes into a bigger, better, and more beautiful book, is the product of innumerable people. First, the many businessmen of Greater Boston and the Winchester area who generously contribute their advertising, then the solicitors or members of Winton Club who get their ads, and the Program Committee: Mrs. Charles Butler, chairman, Mrs. William Swett, co-chairman, with Mrs. Everett Stone in charge of photography; Patron and Patroness page, Mrs. P. Stewart Newton, chairman, and Mrs. Robert Thomason, co-chairman.



CECIL G. COVERT

Recently elected Assistant Cashier of the First National Bank of Boston. He became a staff member of the Bank in 1927. Mr. and Mrs. Covert, who have a son, Theodore, reside at 376 Highland avenue.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. William E. Richardson of 339 Cambridge street observed her birthday last Sunday afternoon with a party and open house at her home.

Guests were present from Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, as well as from Winchester and surrounding communities, more than forty, gathering to congratulate Mrs. Richardson and to wish her many happy returns.

The house was attractively decorated with flowers and colored streamers, and a large gaily decorated birthday cake highlighted the refreshment table. From Mrs. Richardson's own standpoint the real feature of the party was her receipt of greetings from her son, William H. Richardson, who is on Army duty in the Far East.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Richardson with arrangements for the party were Mr. Richardson's sisters, Mrs. Ralph C. Cardinal of Winchester and Mrs. Seth B. Cole of Cape Elizabeth, Maine.

POSTAL APPOINTMENT TO GRAMZOW

Postmaster J. P. W. Finn of Boston, has this date appointed as Superintendent of the Kendall Square Branch, Cambridge 42, Mass., Thomas J. Gramzow, 108 Highland avenue, Winchester.

Mr. Gramzow is a veteran post office employee progressing through the various steps of post office duties. He is a career man in the service.

Mr. Gramzow resides at 108 Highland avenue, with his wife and five children. He is a Marine Corps veteran of World War II, participating in the invasions of Sipan, Tinan and Iwo Jima. A member of the American Legion, D.A.V., and Grand Knight of Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus; he is also Secretary of the National Association of Postal Supervisors, Boston Branch No. 43; an usher at Saint Mary's Church and active in several charitable groups.

HELP URGENTLY NEEDED

The Hungarian Settlement Committee has urgent need for persons qualified to teach basic English to the refugees now being housed in Winchester and being prepared to take jobs to support themselves or to continue their educations which were interrupted by their flight from their homeland.

Will anyone who is qualified to teach basic English please meet with Mrs. Austill at the Church of the Epiphany parish house at 1:00 p. m. Monday, January 14. The need is urgent and the reward in the satisfaction of helping these eager young people is very great!

LIBRARY ADDITION MODEL TO BE EXHIBITED

The Library Building Addition Committee has obtained a preliminary plan for additions and modifications to the Public Library. These results will be presented at the annual town meeting in March. The committee was established under Article 32 of the 1956 Warrant ". . . to make a study of the need for an addition to the Public Library . . . to procure engineering plans and architectural drawings and to make necessary plans for such addition and to prepare an estimate of the cost."

The committee of five consists of John C. Willis, appointed by the Board of Trustees of the Public Library; Bernard B. Eckberg, Vincent F. Erhard, Donald J. Fritch, and Mrs. Henry K. Spencer, appointed by the Town Moderator.

The needs of the library as outlined by the reports of the Chief Librarian and professional library consultants were studied. The most critical and urgent needs are a much larger space for the Children's Library, increased area for the Young Adults, additional shelving in all departments, and larger workroom and office areas. A tour of the present library showed up the short-comings of the present building. Trips were taken to other libraries which had faced and solved similar problems. Convinced that the need exists for an addition, the committee set about to locate an architect who could design a building which would fill these critical needs and yet be attractive and in keeping with the beauty of the present building.

A list of architects who were known to have had experience in the design of library buildings was examined and three firms were selected and interviewed by the committee. The firm of Isidor Richmond and Carney Goldberg of Boston was chosen to develop preliminary plans for the modification. Mr. Richmond particularly impressed the committee with his vision, enthusiasm, and concern for the necessity of planning an addition which would harmonize with the present structure. Both men are graduates of the M.I.T. Architectural Department and are Registered Architects. Mr. Richmond is a fellow of the American Institute of Architects, an honor which is accorded to only three per cent of all American architects. Among their many buildings are the recently built Eggleston Square branch of the Boston Public Library and the Winchester Square Branch of the Springfield Public Library. The firm was awarded a gold medal by the City of Boston for excellence in the design and construction of the Southern Brookline Community Center.

The Architects have prepared a report which shows how their plan fulfills the needs of the present library. It also contains the required estimate of the cost of the new structure and modifications to the present building. They have also prepared a fine model which shows how the additions will be in keeping with the appearance of the present building and will be attractive when viewed from any direction. The modifications to the present building will result in increased space for Young Adults of High School age and for adult reading. Two additions are proposed, one to house the larger Children's Library and increased office and work space, and the other to house an auditorium and exhibition hall.

The committee feels that it is of the utmost importance that the town be made aware of the urgent and critical needs of our present Public Library and of the important place it has in providing services to our community. For this reason publicity is planned which will include a series of newspaper articles to appear in the Star, exhibition of the architects' model in the Centre and at the Library, and publication of a brochure describing the needs of the Library, the proposed addition and its cost. It is hoped that you will follow the series of articles and that anyone who is interested will contact the Chief Librarian to arrange a tour of the present building or call on a member of the committee if there are any questions.

TULLY JOINS SALTONSTALL STAFF

Senator Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts has announced appointment of Francis W. Tully, Jr., of 209 Washington street as a member of his staff. Mr. Tully, who has been press secretary to Gov. Christian A. Herter for the past four years, will have similar duties in his new post, and additional assignments concerning legislation before the Senate Committees on Armed Services, Appropriations and Small Business, of which the Senator is a member.

He will begin his new work next Monday. Mrs. Tully and their daughter Carol, a student in the fifth grade at the Lincoln School, will remain at their home on Washington street.

Mr. Tully has had previous experience in Washington as news correspondent for The Yankee Network in 1939-42 and 1946-50, after five years as State House and City Hall reporter in Boston for the same radio chain. From 1950 to 1952, he was editor and publisher of a weekly newspaper in Yarmouth, Maine, and political commentator for Station WCSH, Portland, and the Maine Broadcasting Company.

He is a graduate of Phillips Andover, Yale College (1930) and Harvard Business School (1932). In World War II, he served as a lieutenant and lieutenant commander, U. S. Naval Reserve, with 18 months overseas in the Pacific Theatre as a Naval Air Combat intelligence officer attached to the staff of Admiral William F. Halsey in New Calidonia, the New Hebrides, Guadalcanal and Bougainville, and other assignments in Hawaii and Washington.

He is a former vice president and director of the Radio Correspondents Association of Washington.

Critical Blood Shortage

Bloodmobile Here January 28th All Types Blood Now Usable

The visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Winchester on January 28, will be one of the most important visits in recent months for two special reasons, Mr. Oscar E. Merrow, Red Cross Blood Chairman announced today. One is that the supply of blood in the state is the lowest it has been in many months, and that all Massachusetts hospitals are having a hard time locating the blood they need. The second is that there is a Federal Civil Defense need for a stockpile of blood fractions. The Bloodmobile will be at the First Congregational Church on Monday, January 28, from 12:45 to 6:45 p. m. A large group of specially trained nurses and local doctors assisted by many faithful Winchester volunteers will staff it, and Red Cross hopes that it will be greeted by a record number of donors from Winchester and environs.

The winter months are always difficult ones for the Massachusetts Regional Blood program. This year the supply is especially low, and blood is needed all over the Commonwealth.

In addition to this there is the big news of a change for the people who have had malaria and jaundice. Almost exactly a year ago today there was announced to this group of people the fact that the supply of blood products, that result from fractionation and can be made from donations by people who have had jaundice and malaria, was sufficient. They were also told that the situation might change and would be so announced. Now is the time, and Red Cross requests that these people again become blood donors as each of the Red Cross Chapters in Massachusetts has been asked to share in collecting an additional 1,000 pints of blood a month to increase Federal Civil Defense reserves of blood fractions, particularly albumin, used to combat shock. For this Civil Defense project, the Red Cross again is able to accept donors who have had malaria or jaundice, provided they have not had an attack within the past two years.

With the more than average need for transfusion blood and this new demand for blood products, Red Cross asks you to keep the January 28, Bloodmobile Day in your mind and to call the Red Cross office, WInchester 6-2300, to make an appointment to give blood.

MRS. FRANK M. TAYLOR

LECTURER AT FIRST CHURCH SUNDAY

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor of Boston, distinguished lecturer and world traveller will speak this coming Sunday evening, January 13, at the First Congregational Church. Mrs. Taylor has for many years lectured on World Affairs to clubs and civic groups throughout the United States. She is a keen student of world events. She has travelled widely in Europe, including Russia, has been in the Isthmus countries, South America, Japan, China, Africa from Capetown to Cairo, Egypt, etc. Among many interesting world experiences, Mrs. Taylor has been presented to two kings, and is acquainted with Mr. Nehru of India. Her subject this Sunday evening will be "Our World This Evening." A Coffee Hour will precede the lecture and will be held from seven-thirty to eight o'clock after which Mrs. Taylor will speak. The meeting will be in Chidley Hall and is open to the public without charge.

FIREFIGHTERS BUSY

Week-end activity for the fire department commenced at 5:05 p.m. with an alarm from Box 252, the private box at the high school.

The men found upon arrival that there was no fire at the school, the alarm resulting from a short circuit in the fire alarm wiring caused by water seeping into the system from the boys' shower room.

Saturday at 5:17 p.m. the men were called by phone to the home of Thomas H. Hoare at 101 Church street, where a strong smell of gas was reported in the cellar. A flooded oil burner, caused by delayed ignition, was found to be the cause of the trouble.

Sunday morning's alarms started at 1 o'clock with a call to the home of John Harrington, 79 Walnut street, where a hot-water tank had burst and flooded the cellar, extinguishing the heater. A sump pump was used to rid the cellar of water.

At 5:29 in the afternoon there was a chimney fire at the home of former Selectman Lewis Wadsworth, 54 Wedgemere avenue. At 6:55 a leaking hot-water tank flooded the cellar of Charles Lewis, 9 Lagrange street. Here again a sump pump was used to clear the water.

In addition to the big two-alarm fire at Bacon's Mill on Monday there was a second alarm at 4:08 from Box 271 at Symmes Corner. This alarm was pulled when neighbors saw the reflection of flames in the fireplace of the Thomas Coronis home at 3 Ridgefield road, and became alarmed, believing the family to be away.

The rescue truck, chief's car and fire-alarm truck answered the alarm from the Bacon's Mill fire and found everything all right. Chief Callahan commended those who pulled in the alarm saying he and his men are always ready to investigate any suspicion of fire.

Tuesday morning the department sent a piece of apparatus to the Cassady home at 35 Forest Circle to investigate a strong smell of gas in the house. Nothing wrong could be found despite a thorough investigation.

MORE SNOW!

The weather man hit it right this time, and his prediction for snow on Thursday was right on the button. The storm started about 7 and was going strong as the Star went to press in the early afternoon.

The snow was wet and the size of the flakes gave constant promise that it would turn to rain. As this was written however the snow was still falling and it was expected to reach a depth of some five inches during the day.

CANDIDATES FOR TOWN OFFICE

Assessor, Alfred D. Elliott
Collector of Taxes, Donald Heath

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Murphy of Norwalk, Connecticut, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter Lera, born on January 4, at the Norwalk Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Loran Thurwachter of Waukesha, Wisconsin and Mrs. E. Russell Murphy of Winchester.

Lt. and Mrs. Kevin I. Sullivan of Loring Air Force Base, Limestone, Maine, are the parents of a first child, a son, Kevin I. Jr., born January 9. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Darling of Eggersville, New York, and Mrs. Kathryn Sullivan of this town.

NO SKATING ON BLACK BALL

Police were called this week to stop skating on Black Ball Pond and Park Superintendent Herbert S. Mullen has announced that there is to be no skating there at any time.

The nature of Black Ball makes it unsafe for skating with the depth of the water and the structure of the bottom of the pond would make a rescue difficult if a hapless skater did break through the ice.

NOTICE

Fire Chief James E. Callahan has asked the Star to publish his request that every one living near a town hydrant take the responsibility for keeping the hydrant clear of snow. To paraphrase a greatly overworked expression, the house you save may be your own!

SAUGUS SET BACK WINCHESTER

Winchester played far from its best hockey in losing to Saugus, 5-3, last Saturday in a Northeast Conference League game at the Lynn Arena.

The teams matched goals in the first period with Platt scoring for Saugus on an assist by Matthews and Leo Callahan setting up Johnny Zirkel's goal. Weaver scored the only goal of the second period for Winchester on an assist by Davenport.

Callahan gave Winchester a two-goal lead on a setup by Zirkel at the start of the third period, but Comeau kept Saugus in the game by beating Denton on a pass by O'Neil, and Witteredge knotted the count on an assist by Stead.

The Indians couldn't seem to pull themselves together, and Comeau set up Secoyr for the goal that sent Saugus ahead.

In a desperate attempt to tie the score Winchester pulled its goaler in favor of a sixth skater, but the strategy backfired when Saugus belted in another tally, O'Neil scoring on a solo.

The Indians combination play against Saugus left much to be desired, and the local boys also made too many costly mistakes; Winchester can play better hockey than it showed against Saugus, and will have to in its next outing if it wants to stay in league contention. The summary:

SAUGUS—g, Gallant; rd, Whitteredge; ld, Secoyr; c, Comeau; rw, Stead; lw, O'Neil. Spares—Matthews, Platt, Poland.

WINCHESTER—g, Denton; rd, Kelleher; ld, McElholm; c, Cussen; rw, Zirkel; lw, Callahan. Spares—Sandburgh, Weaver, Davenport.

Score by periods:	1	2	3	Total
Saugus	1	0	4	5
Winchester	1	1	1	3

First Period—Goals, Platt (Matthews), Zirkel (Callahan).

Second Period—goal, Weaver, (Davenport).

Third Period— Goals, Callahan (Zirkel), Comeau (O'Neil), Witteredge (Stead), Secoyr (Comeau), O'Neil.

Representative Harrison Chadwick has been appointed to serve on the Committees on Elections and Public Health for the current session of the state legislature. These are the same committees on which Rep. Chadwick served during the last session.

SENIOR HIGH YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

Rev. and Mrs. Edwin H. Tuller will be hosts to the Senior High Fellowship of First Baptist Church, Sunday evening, January 13, at their home, 16 Salisbury street.

At seven o'clock a Fireside discussion will be carried on, seeking to discover the interest of High School age young people with respect to the program of the Church, with Mrs. Tuller acting as leader and advisor. The young people will express their opinions through a Questionnaire prepared by the Pastor, Rev. W. L. Bailey. Such subjects as youths desire to participate more fully in the activities of the Church, and their appraisal of what the Church and its Organizations are contributing to their formative lives, will be among the important issues.

At the conclusion of this discussion there will be a period of Fellowship and refreshments.

TWO PERFORMANCES OF "SNOW WHITE"

This afternoon at 3:30 and again tomorrow at 2:00 p. m. some sterling young actors and actresses are going to present "Snow White and The Seven Dwarfs," at the new High School Auditorium.

And if you want any proof that Winchester's reputation as "The Home of Champions" doesn't extend beyond the exploits of its High School, Little League and American Legion teams—you can't afford to miss it.

It's going to be a big production done in a big way. It will mark the premiere presentation of the Children's Theatre School. It will be the launching in a big way of the efforts of Winchester children to show they can be as superb in the arts as they are on the gridiron, diamond or basketball court.

Under the devoted guidance of members of the Winchester Community Theatre the children, they range from 4½ to 14, have worked hard to put their offering in the "Spectacular" class. Walt Disney himself would be pleased if he could be at the new auditorium this afternoon or tomorrow.

Candy Callaham, whose original ostrich dance stopped the show in last May's presentation of "Peter Pan," plays the lead role.

About two score children are in the cast. Almost as many more took part in the preparation, designing and painting of the sets. It would be impossible to name the entire company and those who helped.

You'll have trouble, too, in selecting the outstanding number.

Maybe, it will be the Animal Ballet set in the Forest Scene. Maybe, you'll get your top thrill when the children in the audience are invited to join the cast in song as the Dwarfs come on with their "Heigh-Ho" and other audience-pleasing musical numbers.

Mrs. Jane Renz has worked long and hard with the children in the preparation of the dance numbers and Mrs. Mary Witham has obtained all the catchy richness of the original scores in the preparation of the music.

Candy Callaham makes for a truly appealing Snow White and her support from the entire cast never lags. The effectiveness of the work of the cast is particularly heightened by the imaginative, colorful sets and costumes and you'll find not a detail missing in the six grand scenes from the Palace to the abode of the Witch.

Allan MacDonald who handled the male lead in "Peter Pan" with such eclat last May is the Doc Blick who bosses the other Dwarfs.

Jimmie von Rosenvinge puts an impish talent for the comic in his portrayal of the pompous Sir Dandipratt.

Carol Witham brings verve and understanding to her role as Court Chamberlain to the Wicked Queen.

Snow White has a charming playmate in Sue White and the other eight maids of honor could hold their own at Queen Elizabeth's most exacting Buckingham Palace receptions.

Michelle Hamel actually makes her dramatic debut in the play but you would never know it as she brews her magic as Witch Hex!

Inadvertently, many townsfolk got the impression last week that there would be only one presentation of Snow White. There will be two performances, today's and tomorrow's.

It is the hope of the Children's Theatre School that as many school children as possible attend the matinee today. Tomorrow's matinee will have its appeal for adults who are going to be amazed at what children, particularly Winchester children, can do when they try.

Whichever matinee you select you'll be sure to agree with Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff, president of the Winchester Community Theatre, Inc., that "Snow White," properly done, is a passport to charming fantasy for child and adult alike.

MISS AYER CHOSEN

Miss Catherine B. Ayer of Winchester is one of five University of Maine co-eds named as candidates for the title of honorary lt. colonel of the University's ROTC. The winner, selected by vote of all the students, will be named and receive her commission tonight at the annual Military Ball held in Memorial Gymnasium under the auspices of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society.

Miss Ayer and her twin sister, Cynthia, are freshmen at Maine and the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hazen H. Ayer of 69 Yale street. Both graduated from Winchester High School last June.

SAINT MARY'S MOTHERS' CLUB

The monthly meeting of Saint Mary's Mothers' Club will be held on January 16, at Saint Mary's Hall, at 8:00 p. m. As usual an interesting program will be presented. We hope to start the New Year right by having a full quota attend. New members, of course, are very welcome to join this congenial group.

ATTEND PERO WINTER SPORTS CAMP

The twentieth annual Winter Sports Camp of Camp Mount Pero in the White Mountains of Plymouth, New Hampshire, was held on December 26 through the 28th. Extremely fine skiing weather and a fast slope made the skiing excellent. The new Mount Pero rope tow was used extensively by all the campers.

As an added feature this year the more advanced skiers were taken on a trip to Waterville Valley, N. H. Here they had a chance to practice more advanced skiing techniques and used the Waterville Valley T-bar tow. The trip was an all-day affair and well enjoyed by all.

The annual Mount Pero ski races were held on Saturday, December 28. Team B, captained by Ribert Joyce of Winchester, finished first. Team A, captained by George Tisdale, finished second; and Team C, captained by Charles Dale, finished third. The members of the victorious team were Robert Joyce, Tim Taylor, Carolyn Switzer, Jeff Lyman, John Crafts, Ann Grant, Ellen DuToit, and Bill VandeGraft. Mount Pero ribbons were awarded to all teams.

United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association ribbons were awarded based on the results of the Mount Pero races. First-place ribbons in the slalom race were awarded to Jimmy Alt in the 9-11 age group, Bill VandeGraft in the 12-13 age group, and Julie Smith in the 14-16 age group. The best time for the slalom was 35.0 seconds. First-place ribbons for the downhill race were awarded to John Crafts in the 9-11 age group, Robert Hanley in the 12-13 age group, and George Tisdale in the 14-16 age group. The best downhill time was 21.8 seconds. Combined first-place ribbons were awarded to Jimmy Alt in the 9-11 age group, Bill VandeGraft in the 12-13 age group, and Charles Dale in the 14-16 age group. The best combined time was 28.7 seconds.

George Tisdale of Winchester was selected as the outstanding boy sport-camper and awarded a Mount Pero trophy.

Among the Winchester children in attendance at the Mount Pero Winter Sports Camp were Patricia Murphy, Diane Nault, Carolyn Switzer, Ann Grant, Ellen DuToit, George Tisdale, James Alt, Robert Joyce, Jeff Lyman, Robert Hanley, and William Grant.

Winchester members of the camp staff included George Greer, sixth-grade teacher at the Noonan School; Chris King, and Roland and Jayne Nault, former directors of the camp. The camp is owned and directed by Frank and Peggy Favorat, 6 Wellington road.

The twenty-first annual Mount Pero Winter Sports Camp will be held during the week of February 18 through the 23rd.

MOTHER MARGARET TO BE GUEST SPEAKER

The annual family communion breakfast of St. Mary's Holy Name Society will be held Sunday, January 13, at St. Mary's Hall following the 7:45 a. m. Mass. The guest speaker is Mother Margaret, mistress of novices, of the Medical Missionaries of Mary, 1 Arlington street. Her subject is "Vocations in the Modern World."

The society has been active this past month refurnishing and outfitting an apartment for a Hungarian family. A five-room apartment at 626 Main street has been made ready and the society is eagerly waiting to welcome a freedom-loving family to their new home. Herb Cleary, committee chairman, Al Thorne, Jr., president, and Father Dolphin, spiritual director, wish to thank the many people, too numerous to list here, who have contributed their services, money and goods to this undertaking.

On January 25 at 9:00 p. m. the Nocturnal Adoration Group of St. Mary's Holy Name Society will hold their monthly visitation at St. Clement's Eucharistic Shrine in Boston. Cars will leave St. Mary's at 8:15. Everyone is invited.

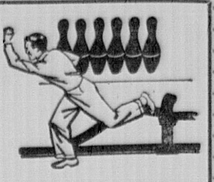
SONS OF ITALY Bowling News



S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

The second half of the S.O.I. Bowling season got under way last Thursday and off to an auspicious start. Like a shot of plasma in their arms, the weak of the first half are finding their winning strides.

The lonely Hot Shots who crowded the limelight in the closing weeks of the first half are perched on top and maintain they intend to stay there.

Team Standings:

Hot Shots	3-1
Blue Eyes	3-1
Jitterbugs	3-1
Lindy Hop	3-1
All Stars	1-3
Rock and Roll	1-3
High and Low	1-3
Bee Bops	1-3
Hi Single:
Choppers Gangi	147
Hi Triple:
Bob Fiore	356
Top Ten Bowlers:
Tony Saraco	103.7
Dick Fiore	101.5
Richard Bucci	100.7
Joe Berardi	99.1
Babe Tofuri	98.0
Bob Fiore	97.9
Frank Gangi	94.9
Tony Chefalo	94.4
Nick Molea	94.2
Mingy Frongillo	93.7

Three of our bowlers are bowling over the 100 average which is a credit to our organization as well as to the individual.

Tony Saraco has held this monumental achievement for a good many years. This year it will be even a greater achievement if he is able to maintain and uphold his title in this department. If he so much as slips he'll be pounced upon by two very capable bowlers who are keeping him under terrific pressure.

We had a hat-full of bowlers over 300 this week and also many who were hugging the high 290. Our honorable new assistant steward Richard Bucci led the pack with 353, just four short of breaking the high triple. Following were Babe Tofuri, 345; Tony Saraco, 326; John Dattilo, 310; Joe Berardi, 312; Dom Provinzano, 308; Nick Molea, Al Di Minico and Bob Fiore, 300.

The Hot Shots took the pinfall honors with 1460 this week. Their on again off again captain Nick Molea, whose ambassadorial obligations to our western hemisphere and international crisis limits his occasional presence to be satisfactorily beneficial to his teammates, was here this evening to guide his teammates to a 3-1 victory. His underwriters are as follows: Dick Fiore, Pete Fiore, Sam Corby, Arca Amico and Rocky DiTesso.

We were honored this week by the presence of Drs. Chic Vespucci and Jeff Gaudioso who received their diplomas this week at B.C. The oath they take is very dramatic and penetrating. "We will uphold and dispense our duties till we have drained our bodies of every ounce of strength for the betterment of the human race." Very touching!

Many admire Dr. Vespucci for the meticulous grooming of his cranium. His secret is his dilligent use of a professional depilatory to gain the utmost glow.

Attention wives! The unfortunate bowlers who will have to sit and watch from the sidelines this week will be Phil Adagno, Dom Simonetta, Sam Corby, Dr. Vespucci and, lo and behold, the chubby little Tony Galento of our organization, Sammy Bellino.

We close again after a fine evening of bowling the award winner being Sam Corby.

See you next week.

The artful play of clean, fast, hard hockey see-sawed back and forth for three exciting periods as the freshmen teams of Winchester and Malden Catholic battled out a thriller last Saturday morning at the Boston Arena.

After two scoreless periods, Winchester finally sank a shot early in the third period on a pass up the ice from Lamarche to Branch, followed by a quick pass in front of the opponent's cage to Doug Scott, who snapped the puck into the corner of the net with lightning speed.

Doug, weighing less than 100 pounds, is the keystone of the second line, but was playing right wing on the first string at the time.

The boys from Malden tried hard to match the tally, but couldn't cope with the Winchester net tender, Teddy Marks, who made some phenomenal saves.

For the first time in recent games, Winchester's stalwart defensemen, Capt. Robbie Eaton and John Hosmer, seemed to have trouble clearing the puck from in front of the home cage. All other aspects of their play, however, were characterized by their usual excellence.

Penalties were few. The opponents were tagged with three (two simultaneously) and Winchester with one. The super-charged Malden team outskated Winchester at the beginning and the end of the game, and got off more shots than the local boys. Certainly, no team in the league has shown greater improvement than the Malden group.

Winchester plays next against Belmont Hill on their new artificial ice skating rink at eleven o'clock tomorrow morning. Belmont Hill is in the other division of the league and this will not count as an official league game.

INDIANS DUMP STONEHAM, 80-49

The Indians' Big Three, Dave Bergquist, Roger Symmes and Mike Callahan, led Winchester to its third straight Middlesex League victory in an 80-49 romp over Stoneham last Friday night at Stoneham.

Callahan was high scorer of the three with 22 points. Bergquist and Symmes pumped in 15 and 12 points respectively and Hank Schumacher made it a double-figures foursome with his 12 points. Baril and Flahive were the high scorers for Stoneham with 14 and 11 points respectively.

Winchester jumped to a good sized lead in the first quarter, but had a scare in the second period when Stoneham pulled up to within six points of them. The Indians, however, regained their touch and left the court at half-time with a 38-24 lead. In the second half the Indians were real hot as they scored 42 points to post their highest game total this year.

Both teams had extremely high shooting averages as Winchester scored on 34 out of 74 shots for a 46% average and Stoneham hit on 20 out of 42 for a 48% average, which is very high for a losing team. The Indians didn't make many errors, only 16 in the game, and when they did, Stoneham couldn't capitalize on them.

Mike Callahan led the team in assists with eight and Hank Schumacher led the Sachems in rebounds with 12. Schumacher has improved tremendously in the last few games and should really help throughout the rest of the season.

The Winchester Jay Vees won the preliminary game from the Stoneham Seconds, 62-37, posting their highest figures of the year.

Hank Kiley and Bill Morton tied for Winchester scoring honors with 10 points each. Deacon of Stoneham led both teams with 15.

Leading, 27-12, at the half, the Winchester J. V.'s continued their steady pace with the resumption of play, finishing with an impressive 40 percent scoring.

PRESENTS FIRST AID KIT

Harry G. Taylor, 70 Yale street, member of the executive board and vice chairman of the finance committee, Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, is shown presenting a first-aid field kit to the members of Troop 9, Winchester. Others in the picture are (left to right): Eagle Scouts George Neville, Andy Sjoholm, Bucky Nichols; William J. Wickwire, the scoutmaster; Eagle Scout Allan MacDougall and Mr. Taylor.

The first-aid kit was prepared by the medical department at Esso Standard Oil Company in Everett, where Mr. Taylor is employed as head of the technical department and Mr. Wickwire is a member of the inland waterways department. The kit, which contains regulation Boy Scout materials as prescribed in the official Boy Scout Field Manual, will be used as a model for other troops to copy—thus they will be prepared for any emergency on their field trips.

READING BOWS

A hard-fighting Reading five was subdued 54-45 by the Indians Tuesday afternoon in a Middlesex League game at Reading.

In a game which featured good defensive play, the Rockets gave Winchester its toughest competition thus far this year, becoming the first team to come within ten points of Callahan and company.

Mike Callahan again paced the Red and Black with nine baskets for 18 points, while Dave Bergquist was close behind with 13. Hayes and Maxwell with 12 and 11 points respectively were top scorers for Reading.

Winchester led at the quarter by a single point 12-11, were in front, 26-22 at the half and had a 42-34 lead going into the last period.

A 16 point third period gave the Indians the needed lead as they surged ten points ahead immediately after the second half began. Reading's scoring was very consistent but not enough to win.

The J.V.'s had an easier time of it until the final period. Then they almost blew an 18 point third period lead, but finally edged out the fired-up Reading team 49-46.

Doug Thomson led the J.V.'s with 21 points for Winchester; Bill Morton had ten. Reading's Hardy was top scorer of the day with 25 points, 14 of which came in the final period.

Discounting players and cheerleaders, there could not have been more than ten Winchester fans at the game Those who, from apparent lack of interest, did not attend really missed a good one!

MAY APPOINT TO AIR FORCE ACADEMY

It was announced today by M/Sgt. Al Raftopoulos in charge of the Air Force Recruiting Office at 49 High Street, Medford, that newly elected Members of Congress may nominate ten candidates each to compete for appointments to the third class of the U. S. Air Force Academy.

These nominations will be in addition to those made by Members of Congress already in office, including those leaving office next month.

Sergeant Raftopoulos said that each Congressman has until January 31 to get his nomination into Air Force Headquarters. However, qualified young men desiring to compete should get in touch with their Senator or Representative as soon as possible, since nominating quotas are limited and time is required to process nominations. In writing to their Congressman, candidates should state their places of residence, outline their educational and other qualifications, and say briefly why they wish to attend the Academy.

Candidates must be at least 17 years of age and less than 22 by next July 1. They must be male citizens of the U. S., of good moral character, must never have been married, and must be physically qualified for flying.

Each candidate should take a preliminary medical examination to determine whether he has any disqualifying defect, so that, if he has a remedial defect, it may be corrected; and if he has a defect that cannot be corrected, he may save the time and expense of taking further examinations.

Candidates may take such preliminary examinations at any Air Force medical installation, provided they first obtain letters authorizing examinations from the Congressman sponsoring them or from the Director of Admissions, U. S. Air Force Academy, Denver 8, Colorado. Any travel expense must be paid by the applicant.

All nominees will be given the Air Force medical examination for flying training, physical and airmanship aptitude tests, and college entrance examination board tests. The 300 candidates who will enter the Academy next July 8 will be selected finally by the Air Force.

Additional information on Academy requirements or assistance in preparing the application can be had by contacting Sergeant Raftopoulos at his office from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday, and on all other days by calling WInchester 6-1764.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

EVENING STUDY GROUPS

The Winchester College Club Evening Study Groups held their annual dinner and business meeting Monday night at the Church of the Epiphany.

After a very delightful dinner, Mrs. John Harrison, President of the College Club, opened the meeting by asking for a report from Mrs. Raymond Carter, Treasurer.

Reverend John Ellison gave a short report concerning the 21 Hungarians being welcomed into our community.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Atwood, co-chairmen of the Evening Study Groups then outlined the program for the season.

The various study groups and the co-chairmen of each are: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Browne, Book Group; Mr. and Mrs. John Linsley, Current Events; Mr. Raymond Conard, Contract Bridge; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ericson, Play Reading; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dawes, Travel Group; Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood, Music Group.

Mr. Atwood then introduced Mr. Thomas Hennessey, Vice President and member of the Board of Directors of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, who, in turn, introduced the principle speaker, Mr. Paul McMenimen, also of the N.E.T.&T. Co.

Mr. McMenimen, assisted by Mr. Francis Cronin, gave a stimulating demonstration of "The Mighty Midget," the transistor, which is opening up an unlimited number of electronic miracles.

Another electronic miracle, the Bell Solar Battery, was demonstrated by Mr. McMenimen who indicated the power potential of the future lies in solar energy which, unlike other sources of power, is unlimited.

Mrs. Harrison expressed appreciation to Mrs. Clinton Farnham, Hospitality Chairman, for a most enjoyable dinner.

The Evening Study Groups were dismissed to various rooms to formulate plans for the meetings of their respective study groups.

WHICH MAN PASSED THE N.P.* TEST?

*Ninety-Percent

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch . . . like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

You buy your clothes to make a good impression. As you wear them, have them drycleaned often. A smart man takes care to keep that impression fresh.

WINCHESTER IN SECOND-PLACE TIE

Winchester is tied with Woburn for second place in the Northeast Conference Division of the North Shore Hockey League, with Danvers holding the league leadership.

Woburn has won three games and is as yet undefeated, although the Tanners have tied their last four games. Winchester has five victories, the same as Danvers, but the Indians have lost three, while Danvers has no defeats and two ties. Winchester hasn't played a tie yet.

Danvers leads the conference with 12 points, closely followed by Woburn and Winchester with 10 each.

Woburn plays Gloucester, currently in fourth place in the Essex County Division, Saturday night; while Winchester faces the potent leader of the Essex group, Lynn English. Danvers faces Peabody, Essex second place holder, Saturday. Following is the N.E. Conference standing:

	W	L	T	PTS
Danvers	5	0	2	12
Woburn	3	0	4	10
Winchester	5	3	0	10
Amesbury	3	3	1	7
Swampscott	3	3	1	7

ANTIQUES STUDY GROUP

On Tuesday evening, January 15, at 7:30 p. m. the Winchester Antiques Study Group will have Mr. Louis Neiman of Brookline, noted collector and lecturer on antiques, give a talk on Webb Cameo Glass with some rare and outstanding examples of this exquisite glass. Mr. Neiman has one of the finest collections in the United States, and has travelled widely for specimens. Dating back to the days of the Romans, cameo glass found it highest peaks in the antiques' art world in England in the mid-nineteenth century, where it deservedly became known as "Sculpture in Glass." All collectors of fine glass recognize the place Webb Cameo Glass holds in the antiques world and all connoisseurs are enchanted by its beautiful design and color.

This lecture will be held at the Art Gallery, Winchester Public Library. Members of this newly formed group are urged to bring fellow collector guests for an evening of enjoyment and study.

WINCHESTER FIRM EXHIBITING

Mr. James Cause of the National Aluminum Products, Inc., 855 Main street, will be among the more than 300 exhibitors at the 1957 New England Home Show in Mechanics Building, Boston, February 14 through 19.

Along with the other exhibitors, the local firm will display the latest in ideas and materials for the smallest to the largest homes and apartments at the show. Representatives will be present to answer questions and give suggestions on problems.

This will be the first time that a home show will be shown both to the trade and general public.

Builders, architects, dealers and distributors will view the show exclusively on Thursday, February 14, from 1 to 10 p.m. and also from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, February 15. The general public will be admitted beginning Friday, February 15, at 1 p.m. and continuing daily through 10 p.m.

The million-dollar mecca of home ideas is being sponsored by the Greater Boston Home Builders Association and the Boston Real Estate Board. Richard Sheer, Waltham, is chairman of the show committee.

FOREIGN GRADUATE STUDENTS ENTERTAINED

The World Fellowship Committee of the Women's Alliance in the Unitarian Church has arranged again to extend week-end hospitality to graduate students from foreign countries who are enrolled in the different graduate schools in this vicinity or who check in at the International Student Center in Cambridge during their holidays.

During the holiday season Mr. and Mrs. Ganson Taggart had as their guest Mr. Artenio R. Magtoto of the Philippines. He is studying Nuclear Engineering at M.I.T.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Davis entertained Mr. Manzural Zaidi from Pakistan who is a student at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy of Tufts University for Christmas, and from Southern Switzerland they also had as their guest, Mr. Ernest Thommen who holds a degree in Engineering and is currently attending the School of Forestry at Syracuse.

EDITORIALS

We had a visit this morning from a pleasant lady who wonders why people in Winchester, apparently with a high sense of civic responsibility, do not shovel the sidewalks in front of their homes as householders are required to do in many Connecticut communities. We wonder how many in these Connecticut cities and towns would clear their sidewalks if they didn't have to! That is the answer in Winchester. The average sense of civic responsibility nowadays isn't high enough to make its owner shovel snow he doesn't have to!

Winchester should unite in its opposition to having billboards erected in the town. Elsewhere in this issue announcement is made that an advertising firm is seeking permission to erect two large billboards on Upper Main street at Salem and Richardson streets. The Department of Public Works, Division of Outdoor Advertising, has notified the Selectmen of the petition, and the Board will use every means at its command to prevent the issuance of a permit.

The town has consistently opposed the erection of billboards within its borders so there is plenty of precedent for the Selectmen's stand. The Board has called a hearing for Monday night at 9 o'clock at its office in the town hall, and all who wish to keep Winchester free of billboards should be there to be counted.

The town has adopted a by-law forbidding billboards except under stringent regulation. There can be no doubt that a big majority of the people do not want them in town at all!

Our neighbors and friends in the North End are planning to express their particular objection to the erection of the billboards in question. We should all show a solid front in support of their opposition.

If the weather continues to follow the pattern set thus far, we are going to have plenty of snow and snowplowing this winter. Plowing streets in a blizzard is in itself hard enough work without having the job made doubly difficult by those who leave their cars parked on the street.

Strangely enough it isn't the extra work involved that the men complain about most. Their objection to the parked cars is that they prevent them from doing a good job of plowing.

The Superintendent of Streets has been granted the authority by the town to have cars parked so as to hinder snow removal towed away. He may decide to do so some time!

RIGHTS OF THE HELPLESS

Editor of the Star:

William James once said: "The rights of the helpless . . . must be protected by those who have superior power." Humane men and women in Winchester and elsewhere throughout the Commonwealth will protest with all the power at their command the pernicious Animal Seizure Bill now before the Legislature known as Senate Bill No. 315. Humane men and women who appreciate the truism that God created the animals just as He did us, humbly confess that this bill hasn't a single redeeming feature and if we evaluate our animal loving friends correctly "It Will Not Pass." But we cannot remain inactive on the sidelines as the proponents of the proposed legislation are strong and will argue their case without letup until the decision is arrived at by our lawmakers on Beacon Hill.

We who love dogs, we who have had or have a dog, protest this proposed seizure of "strays" that find their way into the city and town dog pounds. It is a cruel bill no matter how it is looked at. God forbid that these animals be allowed to become vivisectional subjects in the physiological laboratories of the Commonwealth and that is just what this bill provides for.

Dr. Henry J. Bigelow, late Professor of Surgery at Harvard Medical School and for many years associated with the surgical staff of the Massachusetts General Hospital, declared: "A dog has at least as perfect senses, as acute feeling, and as perfect physical machinery as a man. He has also a not inconsiderable share of the mind possessed by the human race." There is only one ground to take regarding Massachusetts Senate No. 315; and that is the ground of Conscience. The legislation proposed is cruel and abominable. We who love God and all His creation, especially "man's best friend," the dog, feel deep down in our hearts that very often a stray dog is somebody's pet dog, some child's perhaps.

"THE CLEANING WOMAN"

Editor of the Star:

Many of my friends have what they call cleaning women. This term to me is unkind. They should be called helpers or friends, as friends they are when they will come out of their homes in any weather and walk half a mile, to do a days work in 6 hours and walk down town again to get a bus to go home, when folks they work for have a car or two in their yard.

Some are considerate, but most are not. The money these helpers get goes for telephone bills, gas, light, food to help their husbands, so telephone won't be shut off and light and fuel shut off.

Many of these helpers have small children who they leave with friends.

There should be some place here in town where folks could go to borrow money for telephone, gas, light and fuel for the low paid man, so he can have his wife stay home and care for household and children.

We should also have a way of getting medicine and a doctor when needed without feeling we can't because of lack of funds.

If there is anyone in town who wishes to invest in low paid man and who can allow same to pay back at small interest during summer when living is easy, it would be a fine thing.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Louise E. Chase

SOLDIER BOY WANTS LETTERS!

Editor of the Star:

I am writing to you to ask you to do me a great favor, which I would appreciate very much. I would like to correspond with people from Winchester and neighboring towns.

I am in the Army and don't have anyone to write to or receive mail from, which makes it very lonely. I will answer all letters that I get.

Working in an Army post office and seeing all of the other fellows receive mail, while getting none myself, makes my morale very low.

I hope that you will print this letter and I also hope to be hearing from people in Winchester and neighboring towns real soon.

Yours truly,
Sgt. Michael J. T. Kubistal,

FAKE FOSSILS CAN FOOL EVEN BEST OF EXPERTS

In the field of fossil study, where serious debates have raged over which end of a backbone a skull should be fastened to, it is inevitable that even the experts can be fooled.

Dr. Harry Ladd and Dr. Roland W. Brown, of the United States Geological Survey, tell in the March issue of The National Geographic Magazine of several frauds that have been perpetrated on paleontologists. The falsity of one fossil, as a matter of fact, was proved through research in preparing the article.

Dr. Ladd, remembering a specimen he had seen 30 years ago in an Australian museum, wrote for information about it. It was a piece of selenite (a variety of gypsum in crystals) with the wing of a large insect trapped inside.

A Put-up Job

When the museum director photographed the specimen for Dr. Ladd, he noticed that, under pressure, tiny air bubbles near the wing shifted position. Closer scrutiny revealed that the crystal of selenite had been cut open, the wing slipped inside, and the crack pounded smooth over it. The wing, long believed to be a fossil of the Tertiary period, was nothing more than that of a common grasshopper.

Experts once identified a Wedgwood teacup handle as the stem of a "calamite," a fossil plant. But their shame was small compared to that of poor Johannn Beringer, the credulous professor of Wurzburg.

An avid fossil collector, Beringer used to take his students digging in his favorite hillside. He believed that the Creator had planted fossils there for him. But the students didn't. They carved weird stone images and smuggled them into the hill for the professor to discover. As fast as the students carved, the professor gathered.

Not until after he had published his unusual findings in an illustrated volume in 1726 did Beringer tumble to the trick. Then he spent all he had trying to buy back the copies of his book. He died shortly thereafter, penniless and humiliated. Ironically, the book was reissued in 1767 and sold for profit as a collector's item.

The most recent—if not the greatest—hoax of all was the Piltdown man. For 40 years after Charles Dawson, a Sussex lawyer and amateur antiquarian, discovered the skull and jaw bones near Piltdown, they were believed to have belonged to the earliest Englishman—a "beetle-browed chap with a murderous jaw" who roamed the land 500,000 years ago.

So rare were the fossils that they were locked up, like the crown jewels, for safe keeping. Because a few authorities—among them, the late Dr. Gerrit Miller of the Smithsonian Institution—doubted that the jaw belonged to a man, a team of British scientists finally decided in 1949 to re-examine the bones.

Through radiation and chemical tests, they have proved that the jaw belonged to a modern orangutan. The skull was a real fossil. But is had been doctored to make it look 10 times older than its actual 50,000 years. Like the skull and jaw, other animal remains found with them also had been artificially aged. All the "fossils," moreover, had come from somewhere else and had been planted at Pitldown.

So far, the faker of the fossils remains officially unidentified. But it is certain that, in making a man of a monkey, he made monkeys of men.

HELICOPTER TAKES THE KICK OUT OF ARMY'S FAMED MULE

Like other old soldiers, the Army mule doesn't die easily. But it's fading away.

The United States Army's plan to put its last unit of combat mules to pasture in favor of helicopters will close an almost legendary chapter. Northern armies alone used 450,000 pack mules in the Civil War. Out of 25,000 that went abroad with the American Expeditionary Force in the first World War, 5,000 were casualties.

The unsung hero of many a muddy logistics problem served well in Italy, Tunisia, Burma, New Guinea, and other combat zones in World War II. By and large, however, GIs broke in jeeps rather than the lopeared, hoof-propelled, slow-starting conveyance known as the Army mule.

The mule has cause to kick. Superannuated as a soldier, it isn't doing so well down on the farm either, the National Geographic Society says. In civilian life it competes against the tractor.

In 1940 the mule population in the United States totaled about 4,000,000; that of horses, nearly 10,500,000. Since then, their numbers have decreased so rapidly that the Agriculture Department's Estimates Division hasn't found it practicable to count them separately. The combined mule-horse population plummeted to a low of 3,962,000 in 1956.

The mule's ultimate future in the United States? Perhaps glamorous retirement as West Point mascot or as Equus asinus in zoos.

Unhappily, the Army mule hasn't much to show for its long career. Few if any have been honored with heroic odes, memorial statues, or Good Conduct Medals. Instead it has been the butt of countless jokes and quips. It supposedly stimulated, among generations of mule skinners, some of the choicest vocabularies in military history.

None denies the mule's habit of kicking—and kicking hard. Mistreat a mule, and it never forgets. The 19th-century humorist Josh Billings once said, "I've known mules to be good for six months so as to get a chance to kick." And the Southern field hand says, "Mule don't kick accordin' to no rule." At the end of the Civil War, no less than a thousand Union soldiers qualified for disability pensions as the result of having got too close to the combat end of a mule.

Mule lovers blame the mule's accepted role as a laughingstock on its odd place in nature's hierarchy. The offspring of a male donkey and a female horse, it is not a dashing creature. Reputation: Obstinate, and it is almost invariably sterile. This state gives rise to another familiar calumny: "A mule has neither pride of ancestry nor hope of posterity."

Yet the mule combines the best features of both parents—the wit, sobriety, endurance, and surefootedness of the donkey; the strength and bulk of the horse. It thrives on poor food in cold or blistering heat. Unlike the high-strung horse, the mule has an uncanny ability to look after its own health. When tired or overheated, it simply stops working.

Ancients prized mules, and bred them in prehistoric times. Solomon rode a mule, as did dynasties of royalty. Fine hybrids were considered suitable presents for the prophet Mohammed.

Over centuries mules have helped win wars and build empires. They gave strong backs, ironically, to the civilizations whose tractors and helicopters are putting them out of business.

A LOT OF CALLS

From Jim Lowther, manager of the Winchester Telephone business office, the Star learned that the Winchester Telephone Exchange handled the largest number of calls in its history during the big storm of Monday.

Miss Mary Vaugh and her staff of 99, with 30 operators on duty at a time under three supervisors, handled 50,000 calls originating in Winchester on Monday, with an additional 22,000 calls coming into Winchester, a total of 72,000 calls. Between 10 and 11 o'clock Monday forenoon the office handled 5,013 calls.

Many of the girls at the Winchester Exchange walked from their homes in Woburn and Medford to reach their jobs at the switchboards. Operators going on duty at 4 in the afternoon left their homes at 12 noon to assure their arrival on time. There were virtually no absences at the Exchange, the operators having a full realization of the importance to the public of their being at their posts.

The public in its turn was very good natured about the somewhat slower service due to the heavy storm and large number of calls. No complaints were received at the local office during the day and Manager Lowther wishes to express his appreciation to telephone patrons for being so understanding during the trying conditions obtaining on Monday.

HUNGARIANS ENTHUSIASTIC

Mrs. Rendall is also heading up this phase of the work. She has stated that calls regarding household goods will be gratefully received at the Settlement Committee's office in the Wadleigh building.

In response to an inquiry from this reporter, Mr. Gerald Y. Hills, treasurer of the committee, said that the committee has decided to make a food subsidy of $10 per person per week to those with refugees in their homes. While some of this money may be returned to the committee, plans are being made to meet a cost of $210 per week to house and feed the present group until they become settled in their new jobs and homes.

Mr. Hills suggests that many persons may wish to undertake to support one refugee for one week with a $10 donation. Checks for this purpose can be made out to the Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee and mailed to Mr. Gerald Y. Hills at 91 Lawson road, Winchester, or to the Winchester Trust Co. It was also learned that all of the Winchester banks have agreed to receive cash or check donations and forward them to the committee.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

The January meeting of the Winchester Art Association was held in the Library Gallery Tuesday evening, January 8. The coffee hour preceding the meeting was arranged by Mrs. T. E. Burleigh, Jr., assisted by Mrs. Siedhof and Mrs. Simonds. In spite of poor driving conditions a fairly large group attended to hear Mr. William Wyman speak on Form. Mr. Wyman is a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art and of Teachers' College at Columbia University and is now teaching Design and Sculpture at the de Cordova Museum in Lincoln. He has his own studio in Weymouth.

Illustrating his talk with reproductions of great paintings, Mr. Wyman traced the development of the various types of paintings from Rembrandt to the present day. This included Realism, Expressionism, The Renaissance, Surrealism, Impressionism, Cubism, Sculpture and Pottery as forms of art. The interesting talk stimulated many questions from the audience.

The evening Art Class sponsored by the Art Association and under the direction of Mr. King Coffin resumed its second term on Thursday evening, January 10, at the Library Galley. Anyone interested may call Mrs. Guy Livingstone, WInchester 6-3976, for further information.

BIG ONE NEXT FRIDAY

WINCHESTER—BELMONT GAME CAN DECIDE LEAGUE CROWN

On Friday evening, January 18, Winchester faces Belmont in what may well be the best basketball game of the season.

The game will be played at Belmont, beginning at seven o'clock. Those who wish to purchase tickets for the game should do so well in advance, as few will be sold at the door, and there is likely to be a pre-game sellout.

Though both have intervening games, on form Winchester and Belmont should enter next Friday's battle undefeated. Both have averaged over 60 points a game and have hit with approximately 40 per cent of their shots.

Against the same competition the teams have scored similarly. The coach of Everett a squad which both teams have scrimmaged stated that he would not bet on the outcome of the game.

Mike Callahan is, of course, the Sachem's biggest threat, although Symmes and Bergquist have each hit double figures several times. Hank Schumacher has usually commanded the board, while Quent and Ronnie Roberts have done good jobs at guard and forward.

Belmont's big guns are its two guards, Toser, a senior, and Hamilt, a junior. Toser is usually top scorer of the team but Hamilt often hits in the teens, also. These two paced their team to easy victories over the Class A schools, Waltham and Newton, which are supposed to have fairly good teams.

The fact that the Middlesex League championship rides on the two Winchester - Belmont games, added to Winchester's three-year undefeated streak will make Coach Mel Wenner's boys especially eager to win this one.

Coach Phillip's squad has yet to be really hard-pressed this year so their potential is not known, but it is agreed that they will be given a test next Friday night!

PAL BASKETBALL

SENIOR NOTES

The Eagles' wings were finally clipped and their first place flight stopped by the Lakers. This game was expected to be a close contest but after a 42 point first half the Lakers coasted to a 64-27 victory.

This was the first defeat for the Eagles and it dropped them into a second place tie with the Pistons. The Lakers had three men hitting double figures. Dan Serieka lead the scoring with 21 points. Ted Little and "Steady Eddie" Carter both wound up with 15 points for the night.

For the losers "Jigger" Bond tallied 13 points. The victory gives the Lakers sole possession of first place and leaves them as the only undefeated team in the league.

In the second game, the Hawks won their first game of the season by a 36-15 score over the Celtics. The Celtics still have yet to win a game. Just as in previous games, a bad first half ruined the Celts. The Hawks had an extraordinary night at the foul line, making good on 10 of 13 attempts. John Martin led the Hawks with 13 points.

The last game between the Pistons and the Royals, was a rough, hard fought affair. Jim Lindsey, the Bob Brannum of the P.A.L., played an outstanding defensive game. Lindsey and Steve Powers teamed up to hold the second place Pistons to 25 points but that was plenty as the Pistons won 25-16. Buddy DeRenne led his team with 11 points.

The Pistons shone also on defense allowing only 16 points to the Royals. The game was much closer than the score indicates. The Royals were not out of the contest until the last three minutes of the game. Then they just seemed to fall apart. They were hurt considerably at this time when Lindsey was forced to sit out the last two and a half minutes as a result of too many fouls.

Dartmouth seems to have the strongest team in the junior league right now but with three games remaining in the first half of the season, anything could happen. For the rest of the first half, it looks like a three way fight between the Lakers, Eagles and Pistons.

Dartmouth was finally dropped from the undefeated ranks as a surprising Princeton team defeated them by a close 31-29 score. Princeton has now won two in a row and moved from last place into a four way tie for second place with B. C., Harvard and Yale. Both of their wins could be considered upsets because Princeton in their first two games seemed headed for a permanent cellar residence.

They have now served notice on the league that they will no longer be pushovers. Don't be surprised if by next week, Princeton is at the top of the ladder! Bill Errico, with 17 points, provided the main spark for the victory. Mike Bellino had 10 points for the losers.

Boston College upset Harvard 28-11 in the second game and moved into the second place scramble. Joe Buttare with 11 points and Don Brown led B. C. to victory. Bill Rogers and Dale Grinnell, two of the top scorers were held to nine points between them by a stalwart B. C. defense. Holding these two boys down was the key to B. C.'s win.

Holy Cross, by virtue of a 39-30 defeat at the hands of Yale, dropped to the bottom of the league. Pete Ciruso with 14 points was high scorer for Yale. There are two encouraging notes for Holy Cross even though they lost. The first was the 14 points scored by Bert Stevens. Stevens seemed to have cooled off in his last two games after starting the season like a ball of fire. The second was Dick Puzzo's 6 for 6 at the foul line.

Like Stevens, Puzzo was off to a fast start but had cooled down in his last two games. With these two boys returning to early season form, Holy Cross could cause quite a bit of trouble from now on.

Dartmouth still leads the league with a 3-1 record but the race is so close that within two weeks they could be in last. Dartmouth must win two of their next three games to be assured of at least a tie at the end of the first half. Next week could very well see three teams tied for first place.

GRATEFUL FOR STAR SUPPORT

Expressing sincere gratitude for the excellent manner in which the Star has supported the 50th Annual Seal Sale, Mr. Sherman Russell, chairman of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee, spoke of the important role played by the newspapers throughout the country in the constant fight against tuberculosis. He reminds the Star readers that the success of the first Christmas Seal was due in great part to the interest and efforts of a newspaper.

In thanking the Star Mr. Russell said "You have kept the people of Winchester aware of the Seal Sale throughout the campaign and have given the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee and the Middlesex Health Association a new impetus to continue to do everything in their power to protect the homes in this community from tuberculosis.

"The fight against TB has been a long one, but great progress has already been made. Some of you will remember the hopeless attitude about TB that prevailed half a century ago. Today there is hope—real hope for the defeat of TB. Medical science has had great success in preventing spread of the disease from the sick to the well. In this part of the job, every citizen should play an active role."

The total county-wide Christmas Seal contributions received to December 15 is $85,832.17, reports Mr. Russell. "Eighty-six cents out of every dollar remains in the local area, while fourteen cents goes to the State and National Association. This comes back to us in services and the results of the nationwide medical research program."

WINCHESTER WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The Winchester Women's Council regrets that in the recently compiled Presidents and Secretaries list, there was an omission and an error. Those who received lists are requested to add:

Bethany Society, Mrs. Ralph Meigs, President; and Mrs. Rony Snyder, Secretary; and to change the Senior High School Associates page 2, to the Parent Faculty Association.

Before us stretches the challenge and opportunity of the New Year. Let us enter it, determined to write a rousing record of progress—as individuals, as a community—by saving at this bank.

May it prove your finest year thus far!

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hour as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

The answer to mankind's great need of purity and regeneration will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.
Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from Psalms (24:3,4): "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully."
Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (241:23-27): "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity."

WOHL — GULAKER

Miss Diane Ruth Gulaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard O. Gulaker of 46 Allen road, had her sister, Miss Karen Gulaker of Winchester as her only attendant at her marriage on Saturday afternoon, January 5, at the First Congregational Church, to Bernard Wohl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wohl of 270 Shore road, Long Beach, N. Y. Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the church, read the 4 o'clock service in a setting of white roses, and the same flowers decorated the home of the bride's parents for the reception following the marriage.

Miss Gulaker was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and taffeta with a bridal veil of lace and carried a bouquet of red rosebuds, tied with white streamers. The honor maid wore a garnet dress with a matching wreath and carried pink rosebuds tied with white streamers.

Mrs. Gulaker, mother of the bride, wore a gown having a navy blue bodice trimmed with pearls and rhinestones, and a white skirt. Her flowers were pink camellias.

Joseph Bonji of New York City was Mr. Wohl's best man, and Leo Wohl of New York, brother of the bridegroom, ushered.

After a wedding journey through Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Wohl will make their home on Long Island.

The bride, an American Airlines stewardess for the past three years, based in New York, graduated from Winchester High School and from the American Airlines Stewardess School in Chicago. Mr. Wohl is an American Airlines pilot and a major in the United States Air Force Reserve.

MISS FRENCH ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Evander French, of 24 Westland avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah Elizabeth, to Mr. James Wilford Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parker of Peterboro, New Hampshire.

Miss French, a graduate of Winchester High School, is now a member of the senior class at Wellesley College where she received academic honors in her Junior year. Mr. Parker attended the University of New Hampshire and graduated from Keene Teachers' College in 1953. He served two years with the U. S. Ar Force and is currently teaching in Stamford, Connecticut.

MRS. CATHERINE M. CRONIN

WINCHESTER WOMAN DIES AT 101

Mrs. Catherine M. Cronin, widow of Timothy J. Cronin and one of Winchester's oldest residents, died Saturday afternoon, January 5, at the home of her son, John P. Cronin, 4 Pierrepont road, at the age of 101. She had been up for Christmas and was able to enjoy the day, but became ill the following day and grew steadily weaker until the end.

Mrs. Cronin was the daughter of Patrick, and Bridget (Dolan) O'Brien. She was born December 2, 1855, in Sutton, P. Q., Canada, spending her early life and being educated there.

As a girl in her late teens Mrs. Cronin came to the United States and settled in Worcester, where she was married in 1886 and lived until the death of her husband in 1930. Mr. Cronin was for many years a store-keeper for the Worcester rug and carpet firm, M. J. Whittal Co.

Mrs. Cronin was widely known in Worcester, taking an active part in the religious and fraternal life of the city. She was for many years a member of St. Anne's Ladies Sodality and she was a past district deputy of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters.

After her husband's death Mrs. Cronin went to live with her son, John, in Medford. When Mr. Cronin and his family came to Winchester in 1941 she accompanied them and had continued to make her home here, enjoying a wide circle of friends who found her very stimulating as well as an agreeable companion.

Mrs. Cronin observed her 100th and 101st birthdays at her son's home, taking a keen interest in both festive occasions and enjoying the visits and congratulations of her many friends.

Mrs. Cronin is the last of her family, her only survivors being her son, John with whom she made her home, and three grandchildren. Gertrude M. Cronin of Winchester and Robert T., and Rosemary Cronin of Worcester. Another son, Thomas F. Cronin, died in Worcester in 1940.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the late residence with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church by the pastor, Rev. John M. Manion. Burial was in St. John's Cemetery, Worcester.

JAMES F. HUMPHREY

James F. Humphrey, a native and former resident of Winchester, died Friday, January 4, at his home, 295 Cambridge road, Woburn, following a two-months illness.

Mr. Humphrey was born in Winchester 79 years ago, the son of William and Eunice Humphrey. For many years he was associated with the Horn Pond Ice Company, but later until his retirement he operated a farm and market garden on the west side of Woburn.

Mr. Humphrey was a widower, his wife, the former Rose Ann Parsons, having died several years ago.

He leaves four daughters, Mrs. Esther Mandeville of Winchester, Mrs. Mary Beuler of Woburn, Mrs. Archie Hall of Everett and Mrs. Helen Boldue of Wilmington; a son, Arthur Humphrey of Winchester; nine grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren; also two brothers, Arthur, of Woburn, and Frank Humphrey of Winchester.

Rev. Howard Lewis of Trinity Episcopal Church, Woburn, conducted the funeral services, which were held Monday forenoon at the late residence at 11 o'clock.

MRS. ANNIE SCOTT

Mrs. Annie Scott, widow of Joseph A. Scott, and formerly for many years a well known resident of Loring avenue, died Saturday morning, January 5, following two years of failing health.

Mrs. Scott was the daughter of John, and Eliza (Brosnahan) Daly. She was born April 22, 1872, in Cambridge, but came as a girl to Winchester and made her home in town for 75 years, being educated in the Winchester schools and being married here September 12, 1912. Her husband, active politically for some years, died in 1945.

Following her long residence on Loring avenue, Mrs. Scott lived with her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Powers, at 928 Main street. She was a member of the Immaculate Conception Sodality, and a former member of Santa Maria Court, Catholic Daughters of America; and the Winchester Emblem Club. Besides her sister in Winchester, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary McCarron of Dorchester.

The funeral was held from the Lane Funeral Home Tuesday morning with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Ressler of Deep River, Conn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Arlene Marie, to Mr. Herbert Porter Clark, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Porter Clark of Winchester.

Miss Ressler attended Deep River schools, Valley Regional High School, and Bryant College in Providence, Rhode Island. She is presently employed as a secretary at the New England Center Hospital in Boston.

Mr. Clark attended Springfield, Vermont schools, Winchester High School, and Newman Preparatory School in Boston. He is presently attending Franklin Technical Institute in Boston and is employed by the Meisel Press Company in Dorchester. Mr. Clark saw duty with the U. S. Army during the Korean conflict spending eighteen months in Korea.

A March wedding is being planned.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Dr. and Mrs. Donald W. Ash of Oakland, California, announce the engagement of their daughter Rosemary to Mr. George Tchobanoglous of Patterson, California. A June wedding is planned following their graduation from College of the Pacific.

MISS MARY WINN JORDAN

MISS JORDAN ENGAGED TO MR. NICHOLS

Mrs. Hal R. Jordan of Winchester and Nashville, Tennessee, announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Winn Jordan to Mr. Stephen George Nichols, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen George Nichols of 49 Oxford street.

Miss Jordan, daughter also of the late Mr. Jordan, attended the Ward-Belmont School, the Harpeth Hall school in Nashville, Tennessee, and attends Radcliffe College.

Mr. Nichols prepared for Dartmouth at St. Mark's School in Southborough and Lower Merian High School in Ardmore, Pennsylvania. He is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

MISS CANFIELD, MR. HICKS ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Canfield, 131 South street, Chardon, Ohio, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kaye, to Mr. Edward E. Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hicks of 7 Cliff street.

Miss Canfield, after graduating from Chardon High School, received her B.S. degree in 1955 from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. At present she is teaching in Weston.

Mr. Hicks is a graduate of Harvard University and Harvard Law School where he was a member of Chancery Club. He has recently returned from Germany where he served with the Armed Forces for two years, and is presently associated with the law firm of Comins and Newbury in Boston.

A February wedding is planned.

HARLOW — ZALEWSKI

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zalewski of Passaic, N. J., of the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Jeannette Sieminski of Ho-ho-kus, N. J., to Mr. James B. Harlow of Winchester.

The marriage took place on January 7, at the Church of the Transfiguration in N. Y., with a reception following at the Plaza Hotel.

Mrs. Harlow was formerly married to the late Edmund Sieminski of Ho-ho-kus.

After a trip to Honolulu, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow will reside at Lakeview terrace.

NAMED TO BANK POST

The election of Donald M. Langell of Woburn, as an assistant manager of the Middlesex County National Bank, has been announced by Oliver T. Bergstrom, the bank's president.

An native of Malden, Mr. Langell graduated from Medford High School in 1945 and was a member of the Medford High School football team.

In 1946 he was employed by the Middlesex County National Bank as a messenger. Since then he has been a teller and head teller at the bank's Medford office. With his recent promotion to assistant manager he now becomes an officer of the bank.

Mr. Langell lives at 9 Ingalls street, Woburn, with his wife, Jean, and his three children, Donald, Jr., Pamela and Richard.

Mr. Langell is also well known in Winchester where he lived for eleven years.

As treasurer of the Massachusetts Arthritic and Rheumatism Foundation, Mr. Langell serves the Medford area. He is also active in Junior Achievement work, acting as advisor to the Crown Jewel Company.

DR. HORLEY SPEAKER

Dr. Donald W. Horley, optometrist, residing at 3 Webster street, with offices in Arlington, was a feature speaker before the Massachusetts Society of Optometrists, Sunday, January 6. This is the Annual Postgraduate Educational Session and was held at the Oceanside Hotel, Magnolia, with a large number of optometrists from Massachusetts attending.

Dr. Horley's subject was "Basic Diagnostic and Training Techniques in Heterophoria and Strabismus." Strabismus (cross eyedness) can often be improved or corrected through the use of eye exercises. He used the newest available instrumentation to demonstrate the techniques employed for this purpose.

SAINT MARY'S SQUARE DANCE

Under the direction of Mr. Alfred R. Meurling, feet are all it takes for any boy or girl to square dance. No experience necessary.

All seventh and eighth graders, king size and regular size, bashful boys and shy girls, will have a barrel of fun square dancing at Saint Mary's Hall, Friday, January 18.

Since Mrs. John J. McDonald has arranged to have Mr. Meurling present, no feet will go to sleep from 7:30 till 10:00.

High Schoolers will decorate the hall. Eighth graders promise plenty of cakes and cokes to supply the energy to swing your partners at eye level or hip level.

and there will be prizes and surprises, too!

MRS. MARKS ON COMMITTEE

Mrs. George A. Marks of 32 Foxcroft road, active in the Winchester Art Association, is a member of the Museum of Fine Arts Ladies' Committee, which in the past year has doubled the number of Museum members.

With their goal another redoubling of membership the Ladies Committee launched another intensive membership drive this week, with the 66 Greater Boston members, of whom Mrs. Marks is one, in the Special Exhibition Galleries in the Special Exhibtion Galleries of the Museum.

Nelson Aldrich, a Museum trustee and chairman of the Boston Art Festival, addressed the group who also enjoyed a showing especially for the Ladies' Committee, of "A Tribute to Monet, 1840-1926," a collection centering on the newly acquired masterpiece by Monet, "La Japonaise" and bringing together for the first time in many years all the Museum's Monets with a few examples from local collectors. The exhibition went on public view the day after the committee showing.

Perry T. Rathbone, director of the Museum, has been very pleased by the increasing interest in the Museum which has been generated by the Ladies' Committee. "The Museum now has approximately 5,000 members as compared with 2,200 of a year ago." It is acquiring the circle of supporters that is so necessary to a privately endowed institution.

The Boston Museum, although one of the greatest in the world in the richness and variety of its collections, operates entirely from private resources without support from city, state or federal government.

Members of the Museum of Fine Arts receive numerous privileges during the year, invitations to private openings and free copies of many Museum publications. Also there are frequent special events for members.

Organized a year ago, the Ladies' Committee has concentrated its efforts on bringing about an awareness in the Greater Boston community of the advantages of participating in the activities of the Museum through membership.

L. W. V. NOTES

The topic for the January units of the League of Women Voters is one in which the whole town will soon be absorbed. It is the study of our library, its present situation, needs, and plans for improvement. Town Affairs Chairman Mrs. John Linsley and her committee have gone directly to the officials involved in this subject and will be able to give us a preview of facts which will soon be presented to the public. It will be very worthwhile to all League members to attend these units. The first one will be held Wednesday, January 16, at 7:45 at the home of Mrs. Robert Joslin, 6 Crescent road, leader, Mrs. Lawrence Klebley. Unit No. 2, Thursday, January 17, 9:30 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Olcott Hooper, 225 Highland avenue, leader, Mrs. Oscar Surtees. Unit No. 3, Thursday, January 17, 7:45 p. m., at the home of Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., 55 Yale street, leader, Mrs. Ernest Dieterich. Unit No. 4, Friday, January 18, 9:30 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Underwood, 9 Ravenscroft road, leader, Mrs. Howard Aiken.

A special once-a-year event sponsored by the Winchester League of Women Voters will occur this afternoon, January 11, from 2:30 to 4:30 at the home of Mrs. Chester L. Dawes, 74 Wedgemere avenue. Under the able direction of Legislative Chairman Mrs. Lewis L. Wadsworth, Jr., a coffee will be held to meet and hear our legislators, Senator Frederick T. McDermott, Rep. Harrison Chadwick, and Councillor Joseph Crimmins. It will be a wonderful opportunity to talk to these men personally and to question them freely on their policies and positions on your pet state government problem. Don't miss it!

FRIENDS OF THE HOSPITAL

Once again the Clerical Committee of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, headed by Mrs. Harry Glenn Taylor, during the busy weeks of Christmas and New Year's; helped with addressing and mailing the Hospital's Annual Report. Reports were received in the mail during this past week.

Working with the committee chairman, Mrs. Taylor, were Mrs. James H. Coon, Jr., Mrs. Charles F. Gunther, Mrs. Alvin Hitchcock, Mrs. Robert Stewart and Mrs. Bruce W. Young. Of special assistance to the project this year was Mrs. S. D. France of New Jersey, Mrs. Taylor's mother, who was visiting her at the time. With the others she helped address and stamp the envelopes and enclose the reports in them.

Another December project of the Friends was carried out again this year. Each patient in the Winchester Hospital on the morning of Christmas eve received a garnet rose with the compliments of the Friends. Mrs. Arthur T. Hertig, president of the Friends, Mrs. Frank B. Kelley, Jr., vice-president and Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell, chairman of the Volunteer Services Board, distributed the flowers.

BATTLING FLAMES AT BACON FELT MILL IN MONDAY'S STORM

"HOLD HER STEADY, BOYS!"

Fire Chief Callahan directs men fighting fire at Bacon Felt Mill January 7.

Two-Alarm Fire Believed Set

Firefighters Battle Bacon's Mill Blaze In Monday's Storm

A two-alarm fire, believed of incendiary origin, gave the Winchester Fire Department a hard seven-hour fight in Monday's heavy snowstorm and did extensive damage to the now unused Bacon Felt Mill on Grove place below Wedgemere Station. It was the second fire at the mill within a two-months span, and in both instances Fire Chief James E. Callahan believes the fires were set. The building, used for the manufacture of felt for more than 100 years, is now owned by Harry Chefalo, trustee, and the Nelson Realty Trust.

Boys were seen around the mill prior to the first fire on November 4, and again on Monday boys were seen there. The fire started inside the mill, and conditions as he found them led Chief Callahan to ask for an investigation by the State Fire Marshal's office. Inspectors visited the mill on Tuesday afternoon.

Box 28 was pulled for the fire at 1:23, and the fire department found the roads leading to the mill in good condition despite the heavy snowstorm. An indication of the quick time made by the department in reaching the fire may be obtained from the fact that Chief Callahan ordered a second alarm radioed to the central station for more help at 1:27, after a quick appraisal of the fire.

The fire started in the middle of the back of the rear and largest building of the mill, a two-story wooden structure, empty except for some shafting and pulleys used to operate machines when the plant was in operation. The fire was quickly fanned into a mass of flames with plenty of heavy smoke and intense heat.

Fighting the blaze was difficult and particularly unpleasant, the high wind off the nearby lake not only keeping the fire burning fiercely but also making the battling firefighters doubly uncomfortable. Fortunately the snow that fell steadily throughout the fire did not freeze on the men.

All the firefighters were sufficiently chilled to welcome the hot coffee sent to the fire by the Winchester Red Cross and personally delivered by Bill Wilde, disaster chairman of the local chapter.

The two alarms brought all the local apparatus to the fire, Engines 1, 2, 3 and 4, Ladder 1, the Auxiliary pump, Engine 6, and the rescue truck. Woburn sent an engine and crew under Captain Callahan to cover in at local headquarters, and Arlington sent over its big 85-foot aerial ladder and a crew under Lt. O'Leary.

The firefighters laid three lines from a hydrant in Grove place and another from a hydrant at the intersection of Grove street and Grove place. In all, 1750 feet of 2½-in. hose and 700 feet of 1½-in. hose were laid.

In spite of the best efforts of the firefighters the building was practically destroyed. It was completely gutted inside and three of the four walls fell during the fire. Only the wall on the northeasterly side remained standing.

At one time the fire ate its way into the building where the previous fire at the mill took place November 4. The firefighters quickly extinguished this blaze.

With the high wind off the lake blowing toward Grove street, Chief Callahan detached Engines 2, 4 and 6 from the mill fire and stationed them on Grove street to protect the dwellings there.

The chief characterized the fire as one of the worst he has had in some time. The men fought the blaze continuously for seven hours, it being 8:48 before the "all out" was finally sounded.

SAINT MARY'S CYO INFORMAL

Saturday evening, January 19, is the date set for the next informal, stag 'n couple dance for high schoolers. "Easy Ed" Williams has been chosen to spin the tunes tops for dancing and listening at Saint Mary's Hall from 8:30 until 11:00.

Wonder who will be "Miss Snow Flake of 1957?" And what Miss Jane Overacker and her select committee have decided upon for technicolor decorations! Give Miss Judy Madden and her group credit for the Christmas Cabaret setting.

NEW ENGLAND THEATER CONFERENCE NEWS

The Executive Committee of the Community Theater Division of the New England Theater Conference met last week at Grey Rocks, the Winchester home of Mrs. Howard J. Chidley, Chairman of the Division, to make plans for their Winter and Spring activities.

The New England Theater Conference was founded five years ago to develop, expand, and assist theater activity on the community, educational, and professional levels in New England. The Community Theater Division is the largest and one of the most active divisions in the Conference.

Plans for this Division, which were made at the recent Executive Committee meeting at Mrs. Chidley's, include an invitation from the Arlington Friends of the Drama to attend a Workshop performance of the musical, "Paint Your Wagon" on March 24, at their Club House. An All-Day meeting in Concord, New Hampshire, on May 18, is also planned which will include a talk by Margaret Jane Fischer of New York on the current Broadway season, a luncheon with a well-known theater personage as speaker, and a matinee performance by the Concord Community Players of their spring production

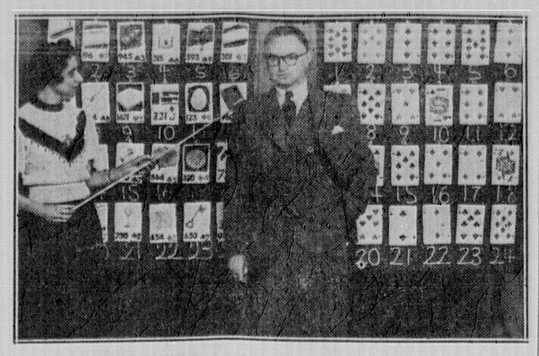
CAN BE PROSECUTED

The Honorable Rudolph F. King, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, is greatly concerned over the large number of reports which are coming to him concerning motor vehicles parked on our ways since the first of the year which still bear only Massachusetts registration plates which expired December 31, 1956.

This is in direct conflict with the laws of this Commonwealth. The Registrar has requested state and community police to take action in all of these instances.

The owners of these vehicles can be prosecuted under two sections of Chapter 90. One is for permitting an unregistered vehicle to remain upon a way—the other is for permitting a vehicle to be upon a way without properly displaying valid number plates.

In addition to the cooperation of the state and community police, all Registry enforcement personnel who observe such vehicles will take appropriate action.



MEMORY EXPERT TO DEMONSTRATE IN BOSTON

Dr. Bruno Furst will conduct a memory demonstration at New England Mutual Hall, Monday evening, January 21, at 8 p.m. This demonstration, which shows you how to remember, is open to the public. Free tickets may be secured by calling or writing the Cambridge School of Business, Boston.

The sophisticated "New Yorker" magazine once called Dr. Bruno Furst "probably the best all-around mental athlete of the century." In developing his method for making it easy to remember, Dr. Furst became one of the greatest mnemonic technicians the world has ever known. One of his first feats of memory was to memorize the entire German civil code, 2,385 long-winded German paragraphs contained in five thick volumes, and he memorized this material paragraph by paragraph in numerical order so that he could recall any paragraph at will. He has memorized many books.

On trips he frequently sits back and "mind reads" one of them. As a setting-up exercise he likes to memorize the order of a deck of cards after a single scanning, and he rarely lets a day go by without adding to the already fantastic store of information he carries in his head.

ATTENDED NEW HAMPSHIRE INAUGURAL

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Cushman of 10 York road, with their sons, Edwin and Henry, attended the inauguration of Mr. Cushman's brother-in-law, Lane Dwinell, as Governor of New Hampshire, at Concord, N. H., on January 3.

Governor Dwinell, who is commencing his second term, is married to Mr. Cushman's sister, Elizabeth. They live in Lebanon, N. H., where the Governor is associated with the sports wear manufacturing firm of Carter & Churchill.

The Cushmans arrived in Concord for the inaugural in time to attend a coffee hour which preceded it, and also stayed on for the reception which followed. Afterward they visited the Governor and his family during the afternoon.

GRADUATES FROM RANGER COURSE

Army Capt. Donald C. Van Roosen, whose wife, Nancy, lives at 49 Allen road, recently was graduated from The Infantry School's ranger course at Fort Benning, Ga.

The eight-week course, one of the most intensive in the Army, includes both jungle and mountain combat training.

Captain Van Roosen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Van Roosen of Manchester, has served in the European theatre. He holds the Silver Star, the Bronze Star Medal and the Purple Heart.

The captain was graduated from Harvard College in 1948.

TELEPHONES DOUBLE IN TEN YEARS

After the nearly year-long job of gathering and compiling, American Telephone & Telegraph Company today released its world telephone statistics as of January 1, 1956. The survey shows about 101 million telephones in service, or two for every one in service ten years previously.

With 647 telephone conversations per capita during '55, Hawaii outtalked all other spots in the world. Alaska was second with 572.

Canada for the fourth successive year out-talked the U. S., 446 conversations-per-person to 409. Iceland scored 399.

Eleven countries or areas reported 15 or more telephones for every 100 inhabitants, the U. S. heading the list with 33.7 and Sweden (as in many former years) running second with 30.4.

Both Spain and the Democratic Republic of Germany (East Germany) passed the million-telephone mark during 1955. These two additions bring to 14 the number of countries reporting a million or more telephones. The 12 others are: United States, United Kingdom, Canada, West Germany, Japan, France, Italy, Sweden, Australia, Switzerland, Argentina, the Netherlands, in that order.

The United States' 56,243,000 telephones as of January 1, 1956, (but now more than 59,000,000) were operated by 4700 private companies. Most telephones in European countries were operated by government agencies. A person in the U. S. could pick up a telephone and call any of 97 million other phones—41 million of them in more that 100 other countries or territories.

Telephones as of January 1, 1956, in New England states (reported by New England Telephone & Telegraph Company) were: Connecticut, 1,004,000; Maine, 260,000; Massachusetts, 1,917,000; New Hampshire, 176,000; Rhode Island, 281,000; Vermont, 108,000.

DON'T LAUGH AT FIDO!

Don't laugh at the other fellow's Fido if you spot him prancing down icy streets sporting dog booties!

The latest fad has good reasoning behind it, according to David D. Bonney of the Museum of Science's Education Department.

"Many dogs get frost bitten toes, blisters and swollen feet because their owners don't realize they aren't immune to winter weather," says Bonney.

He advises an improvised "overcoat" for short haired dogs—a piece of blanket will do—they don't have the same built-in natural protection against icy winds the long haired fellows have.

Bonney, who supervises the care of all animals at the Museum of Science, has other cold weather tips for pet owners.

"Winter is particularly rough on cats," he says. "Putting the cat out for the night shouldn't apply in winter. For one thing, it's harder for cats to outrun dogs over snowy ground."

Bonney also points out that many a cat has sought warmth atop the tires beneath the fender of a car, only to wake up after the unsuspecting owner has started the car and injured the animal.

PILOTING COURSE OFFERED

A course in Piloting—safe and efficient handling of small boats—offered free to the public by the United States Power Squadrons, will start on Monday, January 14, under the sponsorship of the Charles River Power Squadron.

Classes will be held each Monday night starting on January 14 and continuing for ten successive Mondays. Those successfully passing the final examination will be awarded a certificate and will become eligible for membership in the Squadron. However, Squadron membership is not a requirement for taking this course and being awarded a certificate.

Classes start at 7:30 p. m. each Monday and will be held at Rindge Technical High School, opposite 456 Broadway in Cambridge. Registration will be accepted between 7 and 7:30 p. m. on January 14. Subjects covered included Safety Afloat, Lights and Equipment, Rules of the Road, The Compass, Aids to Navigation, Charts, Seamanship and Manners and Customs.

Contrary to popular belief, you do not have to own a boat to take this course. All you need is an interest in the subject. Information regarding the course may be obtained from Cushing W. Ellis, 46 Oakwood road, Auburndale 66, Massachusetts. Applicants are requested not to contact Rindge Technical School direct.

ROTARIANS HONORED

At last week's regular weekly luncheon meeting of Rotary three new members were welcomed by Allan Wilde. They were Jay M. Finn, manager of the Winchester Theatre; Robert H. Kroepsch, director of the New England Board of Higher Education; and W. Howard Niblock, principal of Winchester High School.

Membership certificates were awarded several members of the club for continuous membership; among them Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, a charter member, with 29 years continuous membership; Thomas Quigley, Jr., 29 years; Ralph H. Bonnell, an honorary and charter member, 28 years; Nicholas H. Fitzgerald, 25 years; William N. Beggs, 24 years; Dr. J. Churchill Hindes, a charter member, 22 years; and W. Allan Wilde, 20 years.

Members having 100 percent attendance records for December are Larry A. Chase, Henry L. Clark, Jr.; Ernest B. Dade, Nicholas H. Fitzgerald, Richard A. Hakanson, Dr. John D. McLean, Manlino G. Moffett, Thomas Quigley, Jr.; Donald R. Simonds, John A. Rutherford, Dr. John A. Wallace, W. Allan Wilde and John A. Wilson.

Dr. McLean has had perfect attendance since he joined the club May 13, 1939, and Dr. Wallace hasn't missed a meeting since he became a member April 1, 1946.

Hi Neighbor!

Do you know why the TableRite meat you buy at your I. G. A. food store is so juicy, tender and reasonable in price? Well, one of the reasons is that last year more than 90 million pounds of beef were sold in the 6,000 I. G. A. food stores throughout the United States and Canada. I. G. A. buyers know beef as well as other cuts of meat. Our huge sales volume makes it possible for us to sell all meats at lower prices every day.

Here's another tip - our tremendous purchasing power makes it possible for you to save money on every item you buy in an I. G. A. food store.

THE SENIOR FORUM

Rev. Dewey A. Peterson, Jr., minister of the Union Congregational Church in Winthrop, will be the guest speaker this Sunday morning at the Forum Chapel Service, at 9:30 a. m. in Ripley Chapel. Mr. Peterson has been a member of the staff at the High School Summer Conference at Camp Beckett, and it was at the request of a Forum delegate to Beckett last summer that Mr. Peterson is coming to be with them this Sunday. Forum members are looking forward to hearing his talk on "Jesus' Temple Experience."

The chaplain for this service will be David Usher, assisted by Charles Petri. The deacons will be Doug Canning and Henry Dietz, and ushers will be John Curtis and Lin Morison.

The Forum officers are in charge of the Forum Social Event for January which will be a Splash Party on Saturday night, January 19, at the Wakefield "Y." A good time is anticipated as the young people will have the opportunity to enjoy table games and dancing as well as swimming. All are urged to sign up as soon as possible.

VOLPE HONORED JANUARY 13

Several hundred friends of Federal Road Administrator John A. Volpe of Everett avenue, former Mass. Public Works Commissioner, will attend a testimonial dinner for him at the Hotel Statler on Sunday evening, January 13, at 6 p.m.

Carl S. Ell, president of Northeastern University, will be toastmaster for the dinner which is in recognition of Volpe's professional and civic achievements.

Heading the committee in charge of the dinner is John W. McDevitt, superintendent of Waltham public schools.

Among the head table guests will be U. S. Attorney Anthony Julian, Italian consul Giralemo Vittelli, Judge Vincent Brogna, Atty.-Gen. George Fingold, Hon. Thomas Pappas, City Councilor Gabriel F. Piemonte, Hon. Madeline Miceli and C. Murray Weiss.

Also, Boston Chamber of Commerce President Ernest Henderson, Wentworth Institute President H. Russell Beatty, Mayor John B. Hynes, Public Works Chief Engineer Gordon Gray, Mayor Fred Lamson of Malden, Hon. Howard Fitzpatrick, Monsgr. Guido Pallotta, Monsgr. Francis Lally, Alexander Brin, John Guarino, grand venerable, Sons of Italy, and Judge Felix Forte.

HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Home and Garden Club as usual skipped their regular meeting in December to give more time to their "Greens Fair" and to making the annual wreaths and Christmas decorations for the Winchester Hospital, Nurses' Home, and Home for the Aged as well as several pieces for the Bedford Veterans Hospital.

However, next Wednesday on January 16 they plan to meet again and enjoy a lecture by Mrs. Robert L. Grayce, who comes from the Audubon Society to lecture and present slides on "Birds from the Bay to the Berkshires." This should prove most interesting and educational as it reveals the life of ducks, shore birds, owls and warblers from coastal beaches, along marshes of the interior, over stretches of woods to the heights of the mountains.

We have a new line of gift wrappings and ribbons. Winchester Star. Star Building.

There's Nothing Mysterious About It

We have three savings plans.

SERIAL SHARES: An account on which installment payments are made each month (from $1.00 to $40.00) until the shares with dividends are worth $200.00 each. A systematic monthly savings program.

PAID UP SHARES: When a share is completely paid for it becomes "paid up" with a guaranteed value of $200.00. Such paid up shares are always available to those who wish to make a lump sum investment.

SAVINGS SHARES: A new type of account that may be opened with as little as $1.00 and on which withdrawals and deposits may be made at any time.

Dividends are paid regularly on all three types of savings plans. All are fully insured. Choose the one to fit your purse and purpose.

JOSEPH M. M. GRAY, D.D.

Joseph M. M. Gray, D.D., who had been making his home in Winchester with his son, Joseph C. Gray, at 4 Ridgefield road, died Wednesday, January 9, in Pelham Manor, N. Y., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ralph S. Fowler.

Dr. Gray was the son of Joseph, and Mary Ann (Miller) Gray. He was born in Montgomery, Pa., August 31, 1877, received his A.B. from Dickinson Seminary in 1896, his B.D. from Drew Theological Seminary in 1901 and his Doctorate from Baker University, Baldwin, Kansas, in 1914.

He received the degree of Litt. D. from Syracuse University in 1923, the S.T.D. from Dickinson College, in Carlisle, Pa., in 1931 and the degree of Doctor of Humanities from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1949.

On October 14, 1903, Dr. Gray married Elizabeth McCurdy, who died in Winchester in 1952.

Dr. Gray was ordained to the Methodist Ministry in 1901 and during the nearly half a century of service, held pastorates in Baltimore, East Baltimore, Havre De Grace, Md.; Washington, D. C.; Kansas City, Mo.; Scranton, Pa.; Detroit, Mich.; and Columbus, Ohio; retiring from the Bexley Methodist Church in Columbus in 1950 after nine years there. He was an exchange preacher in England during the summer of 1923.

He served as chancellor of the American University at Washington, D. C. from 1934 to 1940, was five times a member of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church and was a member of the Uniting Conference of the Methodist Church in 1939. In 1918 he lectured on history and religion in Army Camps in England and France.

Dr. Gray was a 33rd Degree Mason. He was the author of many books and pamphlets, dealing for the most part with religious subjects. He and his wife came to make their home with their son in Winchester in 1951 soon after Dr. Gray's retirement.

Besides his son here, and his daughter in Pelham Manor, Dr. Gray leaves a son, Dr. Charles M. Gray of Tampa, Fla., six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Family services will be held on Saturday in Pelham Manor, and it is requested that flowers be omitted. Burial will be in Baltimore, Md.

FEED THE DUCKS

Mrs. Chester Anderson of Chestnut street called at the office yesterday to ask us to call to the public's attention the plight of the ducks at the mill pond and on the river.

The ducks are starving, and it is Mrs. Anderson's hope that those who like to see the ducks around will come to their assistance and feed them regularly. She, herself, brought from her home yesterday a bucket of corn, and the ducks were so hungry they met her on the bridge and street to get their handout.

These are wild ducks, but they have been around town so much that they are like "own folks." All summer long they are fed by visitors to the centre, but as soon as winter sets in they are for the most part left to shift for themselves.

The Star echoes Mrs. Anderson's feeling that those who have encouraged the ducks to stay at the mill pond should look out for their welfare the year round.

MOSES — CHAPMAN

Candlelight and white Christmas flowers were the setting for the marriage of Miss Jacqueline Lucille Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Chapman of Hillcrest Parkway, to Robert Dean Moses, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Moses of Winner, South Dakota, on Saturday, January 5, at Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church. Rev. Dwight L. Cart officiated at the three o'clock ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and a few intimate friends. J. Albert Wilson played the bridal music.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Chapman wore a gown of heavy white brocade, fashioned with a fitted bodice, high neckline, long, pointed sleeves, and a full ballerina skirt. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a coronet of flowers and she carried a white Bible ornamented with camellias and carnations.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Phyllis J. Chapman who wore a ballerina gown of cranberry satin, and carried pink carnations arranged in a pouff trimmed with cranberry satin bows. Her headpiece was a spray of matching flowers and ribbon.

Mr. Moses had as his best man William G. Chapman, Jr., and ushering was Lester J. Chapman, both of Winchester.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the Ladies' Parlor of the church, which was bright with carnations and snapdragons in varigated shades of pink and red.

The mother of the bride, wearing royal blue with black velvet accents, and carrying pink camellias, assisted in receiving with the members of the wedding party.

Mr. Moses and his bride, will journey to South Dakota on their honeymoon, making several stops to greet relatives. They will then make their home in Winner.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and the New England School of Art. Mr. Moses served in the Armed Forces after his graduation from the Winner Schools and is now an Engineer with the South Dakota State Department of Highways.

MIDCO—SQUARE DANCING

Thursday, December 27, was Family Night at Waterfield Hall in Winchester. MIDCO club members arrived with children, large and small, and a few fathers, mothers, brothers, and grandmothers too. Over a hundred people enjoyed the evening together.

Bill Baxter of Wakefield, plus some guest callers, kept the older children and grown-ups dancing happily, and Marge Lacey of Burlington played singing games with the little children between squares.

Home-made refreshments and the popping of balloons wound up a gala evening for MIDCO.

TREASURE ISLAND TO BE SHOWN

The Friday evening and Saturday morning film program will feature this week, January 11 and 12, a full-length feature, "Treasure Island." This film is the well-known technicolor version produced by Walt Disney. The cast includes Bobby Driscoll who plays the part of Jim Hawkins, the boy who shipped on a sailing vessel bound for treasure; and Robert Newton, in the role of Long John Silver.

This is a film the whole family will enjoy.

Because of the length of the film, Friday evening's program will start at 7:15 p. m. instead of the usual 7:30 p. m. Saturday morning's program will begin at the regular time 10:15 a. m. Tickets are necessary for Saturday morning only and may be obtained in the Boys' and Girls' Room.

This week's Flim Program for January 11 and 12 will be:
Treasure Island
Next week's Film Program for January 18 and 19 will be:
Coral Wonderland
Chinese Shadow play
History of the Helicopter

FREE REAL ESTATE LECTURE

YOU CAN LEARN the Real Estate Business! You receive FULL instruction in Brokerage, Investment and Management "from the ground up." No previous experience or training is necessary. You will be taken on a field trip to study buildings at first hand. During the course you are actually STARTED IN BUSINESS under the guidance and assistance of the instructor, Robert Warren Katz, LL.B., Ps.D., a veteran of 28 years of SUCCESSFUL realty practice and author of "How to Succeed in Real Estate" (Prentice—Hall Pub.). After the 16-week concentrated course, you will be qualified to enter the real estate field, full or part time, and begin receiving commissions of $500 to $2000 each. You may join an established firm or be your own boss. No license of any kind is required.

Dr. Katz's Spring 1956 Class has sold over $1,000,000 worth of Realty to date and collected over $50,000 in commissions, using the methods learned in this course. Come and meet and talk with some of these graduates who, perhaps like yourself, had no previous experience but received this training and are now successful in the Real Estate Profession. Free Demonstration Lecture on Wednesday, January 16, at 8:00 p. m., at New England Mutual Hall, Copley Square, Boston. Admission by ticket only. Write or phone now for free tickets and brochure.

U. N. Essay Contest Winners

Moore and Dee Topped Field

The U. N. essay contest for high school juniors and seniors sponsored by the League of Women Voters produced six such well-written essays that the judges had a difficult time in choosing a winner. However, after careful deliberation they reached a decision, and first place was awarded to David F. Moore, 68 High street, while Peter Dee, 11 Fairmount street, won second place. The title of David's essay was "Unesco, the Way of Peace," and Peter's topic was "World Health Organization."

The judges for the contest were Miss Grace Wills, 5 Agawam road, representing the League of Women Voters; Mr. Herbert Black, 7 Seneca road, an editor of the Boston Globe; and Dr. Norman J. Padelford, 6 Ravenscroft road, professor of political science at M.I.T. The League is extremely grateful to these busy people for their willingness to give their time and interest to this project.

The other participants in the contest were Judith A. Madden, 3 Central street; Warren Fowler, 58 Sargent road; Whitney Smith, Jr., 241 Highland avenue; and Helga Hammerschmidt, 5 Oneida Circle. We appreciate the efforts of these students, particularly since all the research and writing of the essays was done on their own time. We hope that the study and experience involved has proved of value to them, as well as to the winners. Dr. Harry Gilson, Mr. W. Howard Niblock, and Mr. Meredith Cooper, chairman of the high school social studies department, were very helpful, and the League thanks them for their advice and encouragement.

Mr. Moore and Mr. Dee will receive as prizes free trips to New York City to visit U. N. headquarters and Radio City Music Hall. These trips are arranged by the World Affairs Council in Boston, and a date will be chosen for the trip at the convenience of the contest winners.

CABARET HAS "WILD WEST" TOUCH

The rafters are ringing with the people who are singing and dancing their way toward January 23, 24, 25, and 26. Winton Club's gay "Wild West Show" — the affair whose proceeds, along with those from the new Gift Shop and the Coffee Shop at the Winchester Hospital, help provide all the linen used at the hospital. The show lasts only four evenings, but the other two projects continue throughout the year. Both shops are open from 10-4, Mondays through Fridays, and the Coffee Shop, which is manned by the Friends of the Winchester Hospital as well as Winton Club members, is open some evenings. At present the new Gift Shop is staffed by Winton Club service members.

On Theatre Night, Thursday the 24th, there will be an eight o'clock coffee hour with Mrs. Frank C. d'Elseaux, president of Winton Club, and Mrs. Robert G. Ingraham, chairman of this year's Cabaret, pouring. Another door prize will be a ten-dollar service or rental certificate by Rentool, Inc., Route 3A in Burlington.

For all nights music will be conducted by Tommy Gerard with Harry Marchard's orchestra. In charge of Special Effects are Mrs. Richard Kirkpatrick, chairman, Mrs. Joseph W. Butler, co-chairman; Floor, Mrs. Frederick Moore; Ushers, Mrs. Hazen Ayer; Flowers and Cigarettes, Mrs. Edward Kuypers, chairman, Mrs. Edward Peabody, co-chairman; Refreshments, Mrs. Joseph Dolbin; Cast Refreshments, Mrs. E. Craig Greiner; Properties, Mrs. John A. Maynard; Publicity, Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, chairman, Mrs. John Swift, co-chairman. Stage and Lighting will be handled by Mr. Charles Butler, and Sound by Dr. Crosby Kelley, assisted by Mr. John Blanchard.

Actually everybody gets into the act, not only the many already mentioned. The husbands of the Club members will help as always at the countless jobs backstage, ushering, and refreshments. Sons will usher Wednesday and Thursday night and in the balcony on Friday and Saturday night; and daughters, decked out in their party dresses, will sell flowers and cigarettes.

Tickets are still available for each performance, including Friday and Saturday nights. Wednesday, dress rehearsal night, children, 60c; adults, 90c. Call WInchester 6-0005.

VETS TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

National V.F.W. Week will be observed from Sunday, January 20, to Saturday, January 26.

Aberjona Post No. 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars of Winchester, invite all overseas veterans to visit their quarters at 15 White street during this week. The Post Home will be open Monday, January 21, through Friday, January 25, from 7:00 p.m. till 11:30 p.m.—on Sunday, January 20, and Saturday, January 26, the hours are from 2:00 p.m. till 11:30 p.m.

The V.F.W. is a good organization, and if you served overseas you are eligible to be a part of it, so please accept our invitation to visit our quarters. One of the Post officers will be on hand to greet you and show you around. Just drop in and make yourself known and he will take care of the rest.

The V.F.W. is a strong organization. To quote Cooper T. Holt, Commander-in-Chief, "Because Americans take their blessings for granted, we have made it our job to remind them constantly of the privileges they enjoy as citizens of a free country—precious rights which communism destroys wherever it gains a foothold."

TO SHOW WINTON MOVIES

The National Shawmut Bank of Boston is taking movies of the Winton Club Cabaret rehearsal next Tuesday evening. The movies will be shown Wednesday evening at 6:45 on the regular Shawmut newscast over WBZ-TV Channel 4.

APPLICATION FOR BILLBOARDS WITHDRAWN

F. H. Birch Advertising Company, which last week made application to the Division of Outdoor Advertising of the State Department of Public Works, for permission to erect two large billboards on upper Main street, withdrew its petition in advance of the hearing which was to be held by the Selectmen Monday evening. As a consequence the hearing was not held.

The Birch Company is quoted as stating that it was withdrawing its application because of the strong opposition to the erection of billboards in Winchester. The company felt it would be bad public relations to press for the billboards in the face of such strong opposition.

ROTONDI — CARROLL

Of Winchester interest is the marriage which took place at St. Patrick's Church in Stoneham on Saturday afternoon, December 29, when Miss Evelyn Ann Carroll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Carroll of 105 Summer street, Stoneham, became the bride of Eugene Bernard Rotondi, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bernard Rotondi of 224 Forest street. Rev. Fr. Burke officiated at the 3 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Paul Roger House in Revere.

Attending Miss Carroll was Miss Lorraine Patti of Stoneham. Roger Rotondi was best man for his brother and the ushers were brothers of the bride and bridegroom, David and Joseph Rotondi of Winchester, and Walter, and John Carroll, Jr., of Stoneham.

The bride wore a long white gown fashioned with a lace and net bodice, lace sleeves and a full nylon skirt. Her nylon veil fell from a crown of pearls and she carried a white prayer book topped with orchids.

The honor maid was gowned in blue and wore a hat of pearls with blue veiling to match her dress. Her flowers were pink roses.

Mrs. Carroll, mother of the bride, wore a dusty rose gown trimmed with lace and a white satin hat. Her flowers were American Beauty roses, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Rotondi, wore pink roses with her royal blue dress and light blue satin hat.

Mr. Rotondi and his bride went to New York for their honeymoon and are making their home in Winchester at 18 Highland avenue.

ADULT EDUCATION IN WINCHESTER

Adult education in the public schools of Winchester has become a reality according to an announcement by the School Committee. Registration for the program will be held on Monday, February 4, 1957, in the senior high school with regular classes starting February 11 and running for ten weeks each Monday through April 15. Registration in all classes is open to adults upon payment of the course fee until class limits are reached. Winchester residents will have first preference.

Courses in the beginning program include sewing, upholstery, leather craft and jewelry making, and wood working. In addition, discussion groups will be held to study insurance and investments, and international affairs. Class limits will be twenty in the workshops and thirty in the discussion groups; however, all interested persons are requested to register in order to make their wishes for additional classes known to the committee.

The program is the result of the recommendations of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Adult Education. The Committee was appointed by the School Committee to study the need for and interest in a program of adult education in Winchester. Mr. Vincent Ambrose is chairman and other members include Mr. William F. Burns, Mrs. Roger P. Burton, Mr. Nicholas Fitzgerald, Mrs. P. Robert Griffith, Mrs. Wade L. Grindle, Mr. Hoyt C. Hottel, Mrs. Benjamin T. Marshall, Mr. William Spaulding and Miss Grace Wills.

While initial course offerings do not provide a wide variety of choices, it is hoped the program will provide a means of determining further interest in an expanded program of education for adults in Winchester.

HARVEY JAMES GUSTIN

Harvey James Gustin, 68, of 56 Tyler avenue, West Medford, a former resident of Winchester, died January 10, in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. Gustin was born December 8, 1888, in Stoneham, but grew up in Winchester and was graduated from Winchester High School. Until his retirement he was proprietor of the Harvey Produce Company in Boston.

During World War I he enlisted in the heavy artillery, seeing service in both France and Germany. He was a member of Post 45, the American Legion, of Medford; Sagamore Lodge, A.F.&A.M., of Medford; Somerville Lodge, 224, B.P.O.E., and of the West Medford Congregational Church.

Mr. Gustin leaves his wife, Ethel Snow Gustin; and four sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Thorpe of Yarmouthport, Miss Jessie Gustin, Mrs. Marion Milner and Mrs. Mary Robinson, all of Winchester.

Funeral services will be held at a date to be announced.

LIBRARY MODEL AT HEVEY'S

The architect's model of the proposed addition to the public library is now being shown in the window of Hevey's Pharmacy in the square.

The Library Addition Committee hopes that the townspeople will make it a point to view this fine model during the next two weeks. The committee is grateful to Hevey's for its cooperation in making it possible to exhibit the model at a convenient local spot.

DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION BOARD PLANS ANNUAL MEETING

Planning annual meeting, open to the public, at the Washington School Auditorium January 22, at 8 p.m., are (left to right) Mrs. Rowland Patrick, Educational Committee Co-chairman; Mrs. Allen W. Bryson, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Walford G. Wiklund, Executive Director; Mrs. Clarence S. Luitwieler, Jr., President.

WDNA PUBLIC ANNUAL MEETING PLANNED

The Winchester District Nursing Assn. Board Members have been busy planning their annual meeting to be held on Tuesday, January 22, at 8:30 p.m. at the Washington School Auditorium. The Board is cordially inviting anyone who is interested to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Clarence S. Luitwieler, Jr., president, and Mrs. Walfred G. Wiklund, executive director, will review the year's work. A summary of the secretary's reports will be given by Mrs. R. Ronald Wyman, recording secretary, and the treasurer's report by Mrs Austin Broadhurst. Mrs. Herbert F. Ross, chairman of the nominating committee, will present the new year's ballot of members.

Featured on the program as speaker will be Dr. David G. Cogan, director of the Home Laboratory of the Mass. Eye and Ear Infirmary and professor of Ophthalmology, who will outline and illustrate with slides the "Highlights in Ophthalmology."

The Winchester District Nursing Association, founded in 1899, is set up to provide home nursing for the sick, and especially for those of small means; to aid in the prevention of disease and the instruction in the principles of hygiene, health and sanitation; and generally to promote the health of the people of Winchester.

Anyone who feels the need of bedside nursing and is under the care of a doctor can call on the visiting nurses. A small fee will be charged where possible. Last year, the visiting nurses undertook the school nursing program as part of their work, as well as their regular community work.

Come to the annual meeting next Tuesday and find out more about this remarkable association; coffee and dessert at 8:00 p. m.

MOTHERS MARCH JANUARY 20

Winchester mothers make their march for polio this Sunday afternoon, January 20, between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock.

Between those hours a mother and one of your neighbors will call at your home for your contribution to the March of Dimes for Polio Research.

Winchester Chairman of the March of Dimes, Ted Boecker, urges everyone to accord their public-spirited mothers a warm welcome and to contribute as generously as possible to the March of Dimes. Despite the progress made in polio research much remains to be done.

Headquarters for the Mothers March is the basement of the police station, and contributions can be left there at any time during the drive. Any unassigned solicitors are asked to report at police headquarters at 1 o'clock on Sunday.

ON DUTY IN AFRICA

Lt. Lewis G. Curtis, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis G. Curtis of 154 Highland avenue, is on temporary duty at an undisclosed Air Force Base in North Africa. Lt. Curtis is attached to the 305th Armament and Electronics Maintenance Squadron, where he is Assistant Flight Line Officer. He is in charge of Bomb-Navigation, Autopilot-Compass, and Camera Systems Maintenance for B-47 and KC-97 Aircraft.

Lt. Curtis graduated from W.H.S. Class of '51 and received his B.S. at Boston University in 1955. He was also commissioned in the Air Force at that time.

While he is doing overseas duty, his wife Wendy Wood Curtis (formerly of Herrick street) and son Gregory are living at 2 Bridges Loop, MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa, Florida, home of the 305th Bombardment Wing.

BURMA RAIDERS CITED

Winchesterites who watched the Boston Movie Time production of "Objective Burma" last Thursday and Friday nights will be interested to learn that Michael D. Saraco of 34 Farrow street, a well-known character about town, is one of the few men in New England who is a veteran of this campaign which took place in 1942-44. He served as staff sergeant and chief of the demolition section, and was discharged with the rank of lieutenant.

The film was shown in honor of General Frank Merrill's Marauders, also known as the Burma Raiders, who defeated the Japanese in Burma.

WINCHESTER AT BELMONT TONIGHT

MIDDLESEX LEAGUE LEAD, POSSIBLY CROWN IN BALANCE

Winchester and Belmont High Schools will break the tie in which they have been bracketed at the top of the Middlesex League all season when their undefeated basketball teams clash tonight at Belmont.

Both schools boast good teams and on the basis of comparative scores are evenly matched. Each beat Reading by eight points, and many good judges of basketball are reluctant to pick tonight's winner.

Winchester will probably be favored. The Indians have enjoyed phenomenal success on the court for the past three or four years, and last season didn't lose a game until they dropped the A crown to Durfee by a basket at the Boston Garden last March.

This year's team may not be as good as last year's, but it has spread-eagled its opposition thus far this year with the exception of Reading, always tough for the Indians in that Reading gymnasium.

Former Coach Ted Bartlett, when he saw Winchester at Christmas time, was surprised at the improvement in the game of Captain Mike Sinahan, rating him with the best he (Bartlett) has seen at high school.

"Mike" has been consistently high scorer for the Indians all year, and he will need to be at his best at Belmont, for Coach Wenner's charges are never easy for Winchester, especially at Belmont.

Tonight's games start at 7 with the J.V.'s tangling at that time, followed by the Varsity. Admission to the gym will be at a premium. It is sure to be SRO when these hot rivals clash tonight, especially with the Middlesex League top place riding on the game.

COLD AND MORE COLD!

Winchester, together with all New England, had it really cold this week with temperatures reported about town ranging from 4 degrees, to 22 degrees, below. The latter reading was phoned in Monday morning from Brantwood road, and the householder reporting it admitted a discrepancy in his two thermometers, one having the 22 below reading and the other standing at 17 below.

For the most part temperatures were right around 10 below Monday morning, and Tuesday was colder, readings of 14 to 16 below being about average for the town, with lower temperatures reported here and there.

Snow fell Wednesday and harassed and apprehensive householders listened to dire tidings of from 12 to 16 inches sent out by the various weathermen.

Fortunately no such precipitation was encountered, only a few inches of very light snow falling during the day and evening.

Thursday saw the sun back on the job, and the glass stood a six degrees above at your reporter's house at 7 o'clock. It was rising steadily as he left for the office but he still wore his overcoat, just in case there was a sudden shift in the weather.

WINCHESTER CHILDREN TO APPEAR AT CHILDREN'S THEATRE CONFERENCE

The regular winter meeting of the Children's Theatre Branch of the New England Theatre Conference will meet at Tufts Arena on Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The use of movement, dance and song in children's drama will be demonstrated by Adele Thane and her children of the Boston Children's Theatre; and by the dwarfs, principals, animals, and by maids of honor in scenes from "Snow White" of the Children's Theatre School under the direction of Carlene Samoiloff. Some of the children have already participated in the October conference meeting, where their ease and spontaneity intrigued the audience. One of the aims of Mrs. Samoiloff's direction is to give the children a security and dependence on characterization and playing together, rather than dependence on line-cues.

CHILDREN'S PERFORMANCE OF "SNOW WHITE"

On last Friday afternoon with 600 or more children and again on Saturday afternoon, with more than 1,000 children, the audience, filling the High School Auditorium to overflowing, was completely captivated by the children's presentation of this classic production. From the moment the curtain rose until the last little creature capered across the stage, the audience sat spellbound.

The beauty of the sets, especially the forest scenes which the children painted and designed themselves under guidance of Mrs. Samoiloff, were a continuing delight to the eye, both in color and form. The costumes, more than 43, were a joyous riot of color, imaginative, tho inexpensive, were executed by the able committee and individual mothers. The lighting effects were thrilling and gave opportunity for people to see the possibilities of the new High School lighting equipment.

The musical backgrounds of piano and voices generously trained and provided by Mary Ranton Witham, were mood-creating, whether using the black magic effect or the Dance of the Cats; the rollicking and familiar songs of the Dwarfs in "Heigh-Ho" and "Whistle While You Work," or the romantic song of "Some Day My Prince Will Come." In the mysterious green-lighted opening of the Forest scene, with the Animal Ballet, the children's bird-noises and bird-whistles were a delightful touch.

The choreography of Mrs. Edwin W. Renz, Jr., was charmingly whimsical throughout the play particularly so in the "Animal Ballet" and the "Cleaning-House Ballet" in the Dwarfs' cottage, and the opening curtain.

"Mummy, when are the 'animals' coming back, I luv them all," commented a tiny 3-year old. Who could say anything else? The Leopards (Johnny Newton, Billy Chase) opening and guarding the curtains; The Brown Bear (Edward Marcy) cartwheeling across the stage; The Deer, their tiny brown bodies and waving antlers leaping across the stage with startling joy (Debby Renz, Pam Pheeney, Norman Pheeney, Ruth Morse, Gloria Tatarian); The Little Bluebird (Sherry Nichols) who leads "Snow White" through the Forest with the other little brilliant-colored birds (John and James Farley, Barbara Paulson, Bryant MacDonald, Chuck Blanchard, Hannah Nowell); The Darling White Rabbits cuddling on the Dwarfs' bed when not hopping about (Andrea Magno, Marna and Linda Erb); The spooky brown Trees (Hannah Nowell, Betty Ann Curley, Betsey Aiken); all capered and danced adoringly, pulling at the heartstrings of every child and grownup.

The entrance March of the Dwarfs singing "Heigh-Ho" surprised and delighted the audience coming down the aisle. The spontaneous clap of enthusiasm as the little bewigged, red-tuniced boys tramped up on the stage to their little thatched-roof cottage and had their faces washed, counted their jewels and discovered "Snow White" asleep in their bed, so gay with its seven stripes of brilliant color, one for each dwarf.

Sir Dandipratt Bombas made us nearly burst with laughter so natural were his clumsiness and outlandish falls that we can hardly believe he wasn't Sir Dandi but actually James von Rosenvinge, whose talent is outstanding whether in this ridiculous role or in the much-loved role of "John" in "Peter Pan." Queen Brangomar (Carol Witham) was beautiful and dignified as the Queen at Court and brought chills as she offered the apple to "Snow White" in her beggar's cape. The little Maids of Honor were a bevy of pretty lasses and showed delightful variety and spontaneity in their games (Ann Shidler, Leslie Dalrymple, Carol Preston, Betty Ann Curley, Susan Tully, Gail Hegarty, Betsey Aiken, Caroline Root). Astolaine (Susan Bryant) was luminous as the new playmate to "Snow White," quite a contrast to her part as "Nana" last year in Peter Pan.

The opening moment when the Maids of Honor were singing and playing at ball with varicolored balloons harmonizing with their gowns was an enchanting picture. Berthold's (Alan McDougall) solid goodness and loyalty to Snow White and his children gave real stability to his role. The handsome Prince Florimond (Russell Taylor) made feminine eyes turn. Witch Hex (Michele Hamel) created a deep sense of the mysterious, her incantations and eerie motions revealing a fairy-tale witch. Her cats (Cynthia Magno) Black Short Tail and (Tommy Porter) Gray Long Tail aiding her impression with bewitching feline litheness. The humorous court Jester a role invented by himself (Edward Marcy), The Guards (Billy Chase, Johnny Newton, Greg MacDonald) added color to the palace scene.

"Snow White," herself, was played enchantingly by Candee Callaham, the length and responsibility of the role was a challenge to Candee's ability which she met with genuine feeling, poise and grace. Her transitions of mood and costume from the little black-clad and ragged waif of the First Act; and to her final awakening on her flower-strewn celophane covered bier in her shimmering white gown, captured the love of every child in the audience. Of course every little girl in the group would liked to have played "Snow White" and it is a hard choice sometimes to cast, but in general the children are given as much choice as possible, allowing them to play the roles they choose.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

John Joseph Cannava of 245 Fulton street, Medford, and Irene Joanne Mercurio of 351 Highland avenue.

JOHN A. VOLPE

VOLPE HONORED

John A. Volpe of Everett avenue, Federal Highway Administrator and former Commissioner of the State Department of Public Works, was honored Sunday evening, January 13, at a testimonial dinner at the Hotel Statler in Boston. Some 1500 friends of all walks of life, including many prominent civically and religiously, gathered for the event.

A large number of Mr. Volpe's friends and business and fraternal associates in Winchester were present, and seated at the head table were Leonard Barbo, vice chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the dinner; Ralph H. Bonnell, Dr. Angelo L. Maietta, also a committee vice chairman; Rev. John M. Manion, pastor of Mr. Volpe's parish church, St. Mary's; George B. Redding, chairman of the Board of Selectmen; Selectman Leslie J. Scott and Mr. Volpe and his family, Mrs. Volpe, Loretta Jean Volpe, John A. Volpe, Jr., Mr. Volpe's brother, Peter; and Mrs. Vito Volpe.

Mr. Redding was among those who responded to toasts, bringing the greetings of the town to Mr. Volpe and his friends, and paying tribute to the guest of honor as a man and citizen.

Mr. Volpe refused to permit any money to be spent upon a gift for him, but a group of his close friends felt the occasion was one to be marked by a suitable memento which can be kept by Mr. Volpe throughout his lifetime.

As a consequence he was presented with a beautifully hand-crafted solid gold rosary, the presentation being made by Rt. Rev. Guido Pallotta of St. Anthony's Church, Revere.

COFFEE CONCERT FEBRUARY 8

The Young People of the First Baptist Church are sponsoring a two-piano "pop" Coffee concert featuring Raymond Hanson and Leonard Seeber of Hartford at the Wyman School auditorium on Friday evening, February 8.

The concert will be light and varied n nature, in an atmosphere of informality as music lovers forming congenial table groups lilt in spirit to the strains of classical melodies, enjoy refreshments during intermission, and laugh together at the nonsensical narration of "Carnival of the Animals" by Ogden Nash.

As a two piano team Hanson and Seeber have played around 50 concerts in churches and Universities in the New England area.

Leonard Seeber has been heard widely as an ensemble performer, orchestral soloist, and in chamber music concerts. Outstanding among his many concerts have been his appearances in Town Hall, Times Hall, N. Y. He has appeared as soloist with the Hartford Symphony, Connecticut Symphony under Daniel Saidenburg and with the New Haven Summer Pop orchestra. He was under management with Annie Friedberg, the very famous impresario from New York until her recent death.

Raymond Hanson also has appeared in many chamber concerts, solo recitals and as soloist with orchestras. He has appeared many times with the Boston Pops under Arthur Fiedler. Last year he toured Europe and the Scandinavian countries in recital engagements. This year he has just concluded a tour with the Totenberg chamber group playing 45 concerts throughout the U. S., Mexico, and Canada. Again in March is another tour of 35 concerts throughout the midwest, all a part of the Community Concert Series of the Columbia Artists Management.

Mr. Hanson and Mr. Seeber are co-chairman of the Piano Department of the Hartt College of Music in Hartford, Conn.

A guest soloist from the Hartt College will appear with Mr. Hanson and Mr. Seeber.

DUCKS ARE FED

The story in last week's Star about feeding the ducks at the Mill Pond brought an immediate response from the town hall and the Park Department.

Custodian Norman Delorey feeds the ducks each morning, Park Superintendent Herbert S. Mullen stating that between 300 and 400 pounds of cracked corn are fed the fowl monthly.

The Star is pleased to know this and to make it possible for others who have been concerned about the ducks to know it too. In response to those who wish to know why the ducks are not taken to a winter home with the Mill Pond geese, it can be said that the ducks are wild ducks and can not be touched by any one not an official game warden of the State.

CHILDREN OF "SNOW WHITE" ON WBZ-TV

A charming incident in the very splendid program for Hungarian Refugees being carried on in Winchester, was their attendance (20 strong) at the Friday afternoon performance of "Snow White" in the high school auditorium. The children in the cast were told how to say "Welcome to our Country in Hungarian, and during an interval of the Forest scene, Snow White (Candee Callaham) led the little animals and many others in presenting her garland of flowers from the bier of the last act! Her gracious improvising was charming and our Hungarian friends were touched as were the hundreds of audience children who joined in the applause of welcome. WBZ-TV was also touched by the story, and the incident and the children in the first act were on the TV screen at 11 P. M. that night. Needless to say, the cast in general were up late!

BARONES WRITE "IKE" SONG

Winchester readers may be interested to learn that a new song, "Ike Is A Wonderful Man" has been written and published by Dr. and Mrs. William D. Barone of this town. The song is being considered by the Washington Inaugural Committee for use during the coming Inauguration.

A recording made by the band from "The Meadows" was played over the radio before election and used by the "Citizens for Eisenhower" committee. Several Winchester men, Frank Marinelli, pianist; Chris Adams, vocalist; Jack Wilcox and John Everett, tape recorder specialists, helped prepare a second record which presents the song in a more popular style.

WARNING!

Chief of Police Charles J. Harold warns Winchester residents that streets must be cleared so that the snow plows can operate. Anyone leaving his car on the street overnight may expect a three-way ticket, which entails a trip to the Woburn District Court.

SACHEMS BREEZE

Winchester completely outclassed Melrose Tuesday afternoon as the Indians massacred the Red Raiders 85-39 in a Middlesex League basketball game at the home gym. This, their seventh consecutive Middlesex League win, leaves the Sachems tied with Belmont for the league crown going into tonight's crucial game at Belmont.

For Indians netted double figures. Leading was Dave Bergquist with 20 points, followed by Roger Symmes with 18, Mike Callahan with 13, and Quent Roberts with ten. Whitney, with 11 tallies, was the only Raider to break ten.

The Sachems, holding an amazing 58-12 lead at the half, coasted the rest of the way to win with the greatest of ease!

Winchester's J.V.'s also had an easy-time, swamping their Melrose counterparts 55-39.

Rich Roberts with seven hoops for 14 points was top scorer for the home five while Dave Schumacher with 11 and Del Bartlett with nine were close on his heels. Topping Melrose seconds was Natch with 12 points.

THE SENIOR FORUM

Members of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will this Sunday be pleased to welcome as their speaker Mr. Dikran Y. Hadidian. Born in Turkey, Mr. Hadidian grew up in Beirut, Lebanon, where he received his education. He acquired his Bachelor's degree from the American University of Beirut, and also obtained a theological degree from the Near East School of Theology. He then came to this country where he studied at the Hartford Theological Seminary and there received his B.D., M.A. and S.T.M. degrees. Since leaving school he has taught in a girls' preparatory school in Maine, and at Sweetbriar College in Virginia, and is currently studying at Harvard to earn his Ph.D. degree.

Mr. Hadidian is popular with the young people, having been asked to serve on the staff of summer conferences, and was invited to be one of the chaperones on the Forum Quebec Trip last spring. Considering his background in the Near East, Mr. Hadidian will have much of interest to say in his talk on "The World View from Jerusalem."

The chaplain this Sunday will be Peter Schmink, and assistant chaplain will be Douglas Gowdy. Ushering will be Martin and Myron Kazanjian.

A full bus load of Forum people will depart from the church at 7:30 on Saturday night to enjoy a Splash Party at the Wakefield "Y," at which dancing and games will be on the program as well as swimming.

International Week-end plans are progressing rapidly under the chairmanship of Bill Schmink. Parents of Forumites are notifying Mrs. Herbert E. Clark, Adult Adviser, of their willingness to entertain guests.

BLACK MAGIC

Metcalf Union, the high school group of the Unitarian Church, has been fortunate in getting as their guest speaker, Mr. Nelson K. Brown. He will address the group on Sunday, January 20, at 7 o'clock.

The subject will be "Black Magic." It is an introduction to the hidden brilliance of colors in common rocks and minerals. It is a program of tricks and color magic so fascinating that it will hold you spellbound!

Everyone is welcome. Refreshments will be served.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of Contagious Diseases was reported for week ending January 16.

4 cases of Chicken Pox
2 cases of Dog Bite
1 case of Pulmonary Tuberculosis

Agent, Board of Health.

GRADUATES FROM PRE-FLIGHT

Naval Aviation Cadet Rodney W. Long, Jr., son of Mrs. Rodney W. Long of 47 Everett avenue, was graduated from the Navy Pre-Flight School at Pensacola, Fla., on December 19.

Long graduated from Winchester High School and attended Harvard University before entering the Naval Aviation Cadet Program.

He is now assigned to the Saufley Field Naval Auxiliary Air Station, also at Pensacola, for primary flight training.

While in Pre-Flight he was instructed in Aerology, Navigation, Principles of Flight and other technical subjects to prepare for actual flight training.

LEGION TV SHOW FEBRUARY 3

CBS-TV will carry a half-hour dramatization of the American Legion's "'Back to God" program on Sunday, February 3, from 2:00 to 2:30 p. m. Announcement of the telecast was made by Reverend Father Bernard W. Gerdon of Indianapolis, National Chaplain of The American Legion.

Department Commander Robert F. Murphy has urged a crash mobilization of all American Legion information services so that all Legionnaires, Auxiliary members and their friends will be informed of the telecast. "Success of the program this year and in future years demands the greatest possible viewer audience," he said.

Winchester Beats Lynn English, 3-2

Winchester High School's in-and-out hockey team showed a complete reversal of the form that lost them their last outing against Swampscott in edging league-leading Lynn English, 3-2, last Saturday night before a jam-packed throng at the Lynn Arena.

The defeat was the losers' first of the season and the first Lynn had sustained in 38 games. Strangely enough it was a Winchester team that gave Lynn its last previous loss in a regular-season game.

Winchester wanted this one badly and really went all out to get it. The Indians hustled all the way and fought like demons, playing themselves into exhaustion at the final whistle.

For the most part Winchester's performance was a team effort, but three of the Indians were outstanding, Capt. Leo Callahan, with two goals and an assist; Johnny Zirkle, who scored a goal and did a fine job of dogging the great "Tippy" Johnson; and George Denton, who had over 30 saves in the local goal, many of them being of the tough variety.

Johnson, leading scorer of the North Shore League, got Lynn away to a 1-0 lead as he scored the only goal of the first period on a great individual effort.

Johnny Zirkel knotted the count for Winchester at 3:54 of the second period when he took a pass from Callahan in front of the Lynn net and cleverly eluded a Lynn pile-up at the mouth of the goal to bang the puck into the strings.

Johnson set up Harwood at 7:35 of the same period to maintain the English lead, and the going in the final chukkah was fast and furious as both teams gave it their all.

The Winchester rooters went slightly ga-ga as Bob Weaver set up Callahan with a pass out from the corner and Leo caught Serino going the wrong way to save the goal that tied the score.

At 9:10 of the final period Callahan sent the home town rooters into a frenzy when he stole the puck at the blue line and soloed in to score the goal that put the Indians in front.

Dead tired, Winchester gamely hung on for the final 45 seconds to win as sweet a victory as any team could wish for.

As the final buzzer sounded the Winchester fans thronged onto the ice to literally mob the exhausted Winchester players and to carry Coach Frank Finigan and Captain Callahan out of the arena.

It was an understandable and well-intentioned show of enthusiasm, but under the circumstances not too smart as it would have been easy enough for someone, either player or fan, to be badly hurt in the jam on the ice.

Following is the summary:

WINCHESTER—g, Denton; rd, Kelleher; ld, Cussen; c, McElholm; rw, Zirkel; lf, Callahan.

Winchester spares: Sandburg, Weaver, Davenport.

LYNN ENGLISH—g, Serino; rd, Barnes; ld, Quinlan; c, Harwood; rw, Donovan; lw, Johnson.

Lynn spares: Gillespie, O'Brien, Sweeny.

Score by Periods	1	2	3	Total
Winchester	0	1	2	3
Lynn English	1	1	0	2

Goals (assists)—Johnson (Howard), Zirkel (Callahan), Harwood (Johnson), Callahan (Weaver), Callahan (unassisted).

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

All parents and those interested in out teen-age boys of Winchester are invited to attend the meeting of our Babe Ruth League, Wednesday, January 30, 7:30 p.m. at the George Washington School Auditorium.

Plans are to be made for the coming season along with consideration given for increasing our league to five or six teams and the directors and managers are interested in your opinions to further this splendid recreational program for both the participant and spectator.

Babe Ruth baseball provides wholesome, non-profit competition for our Winchester boys 13, 14 and 15 years old in their most important years of development and is now having a phenomenal national growth. This year the City of Worcester will have six leagues with about 30 individual teams, with many new leagues being formed in other Massachusetts towns and cities.

We hope many parents of our future high school baseball players will be present at the Washington School, 7:30 p.m., January 30.

The first month for which social security payments can be made to disabled workers age 50 or over is July 1957.

STOCK MARKET COURSE

free lecture on January 22

Here for the first time is a course on stocks and bonds designed for the small investor and the prospective investor. For years the stock market has remained pretty much a mystery to many who should be most interested in it. This course is a major step toward better understanding of it and of the Investment business in general.

Mr. Stephen T. Whitney, a partner of the investment firm of Hutchins and Parkinson and a member of the Boston Stock Exchange, will conduct the 16 week course in which you will become familiar with Investment Securities and Policies, the Securities Market, Financial Reports, Mutual Funds and other fundamentals of the Investment business. Prominent guests from the financial world will speak at the meetings.

You are invited to the FIRST MEETING, free of charge, on January 22 at 6:30 P.M. Reservations are limited, however, so write or call for your ticket without delay (admission by ticket only).

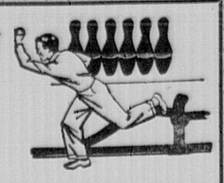
SONS OF ITALY Bowling News



S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

January 10, snow graced us all day with a real nor'easter which finally subsided late in the day to permit the second night of bowling of the second half to be played for those who were able to get down to the alleys.

The Lindy Hop boys are perched on top at this particular stage of the contest which still has twelve weeks to go.

Team Standings

Lindy Hop	7 - 1
Blue Eyes	6 - 2
All Stars	5 - 3
Rock & Roll	5 - 3
Hot Shots	4 - 4
Jitterbugs	3 - 5
High & Low	1 - 7

Babe Tofuri	97.5
Bob Fiore	97.2
Choppers Gangi	94.9
Tony Chefalo	94.7

Nick Molea	93.8

Considering the number of absentees because of the inclement weather, there were five bowlers over 300 and six runners-up, which is a good indication of the type of bowlers we have in our organization. One of our top bowlers led the field, Richard Bucci, 337; Max La Carubba, 316; Tony Saraco, 312; Corregidor Fiore, 301; and Tony Chefalo, 300.

Honorable mention went to the following, Arca Amico, 299; Joe Di Iorio, 297; Sam Corby, 295; Joe Berardi, 295; Jeff Gaudioso, 297; and Dom Suppa, 293.

The sun shone on the Lindy Hop boys for their grand effort as they, having a full team, set a pinfall of 1430.

Their captain, Dr. Jeff Gaudioso, did a nice piece of guiding as they took all four points to give them a 7-1 standing at the present time. His interns are Larry Penta, our assistant publicity man; Corregidor Fiore, graduate of B. C., now taking a P. G. course there; Phil Adagno, who really enjoys the snow; Dom Suppa, "Mr. Filene's" himself; and the honorable Sir Carmen Frongillo, head of health sanitation of Winchester T. D. A.

Because of the growing number of absentees a special meeting was called to remedy the situation by the sports committee. The chairman, Hokie, opened the meeting at 9:30. After much deliberation by the fourteen nations which attended, the decision rendered was as follows: appeasement rather than an all-out global conflict.

Their chief trouble shooter, "Snags" O'Toole, was advised to contact all the heads and to see what could be worked out short of war. We must say that considering his present state of health he did a remarkably good job of holding the meeting under control. We hope that because of his health and the decision he renders he, too, will not have to resign under pressure.

Another record fell bowling night as Pete Fiore set a three-string total of 205 P.F. They were as follows, 55-69-81 strings. Unbelievable but true. They say because of the inclement weather he hadn't as yet fully thawed out.

Boys, please let's get in on time to bowl. Seven o'clock is the time scheduled. Let us abide by it and not make it uncomfortable for those who follow us when we are through bowling.

The award went off as usual and the winner this week is a newcomer to our ranks this year, Joe Bardascino.

INDIANS SUBDUE CONCORD

Another scalp was added to the Sachems' collection as they tomahawked Concord 69-39 at the home gym on January 11.

Roger Symmes led the scoring for a change with 19 points, while Mike Callahan and Hank Schumacher followed with 14 and 12 apiece. Tops for Concord was Fraser with 17 tallies.

Winchester jumped to an 18-9 lead in the first period and consistently piled up the score for the remainder of the game

The JV's had a tougher time of it during the first half, leading by only six points, 32-26, at intermission. However, the second half was a different story; the home team outscored their opponents 37-15 to emerge victorious by a score of 69-41.

Bill Morton netted 17 points for the victors; Doug Thomson had 11. For Concord it was Diskin with 13, trailed by Anderson and Aronie with 12 and 10 respectively.

There were a number of remarkable coincidences between the varsity and JV games, among which, of course, were the scores, 69-41 and 69-39. In addition, both teams had exactly the same number of field goals and free throws, as well as nearly the same shooting average, 88 per cent for the varsity, 39 per cent for the JV's!

WINCHESTER WOMEN INVITED

A new recreational program for young "marrieds" and mothers called YW wives will start this month at the Boston YWCA, at the corner of Clarendon and Stuart streets.

All interested residents of Winchester are cordially invited to the first get-acquainted coffee hour, Tuesday, January 22, from 10:00 a.m. to noon to meet the leaders of the program, Mrs. Fred J. Church, chairman of the Club Department; Miss Elizabeth Blair, director, and Mrs. Richard Mitchell, assistant director of the Club Department. As a special guest, Miss Mae T. Mooney, director of Family Life Education, Family Service Association, will be on hand to meet the mothers who are interested in the discussion series, "Your Child and You." Miss Hannah V. Stevens, director of Health Education at the YWCA, will talk about plans for a class in slimming and trimming the figure through exercise to music and the opportunity for a swim in the pool.

Mothers of pre-school children are invited to bring their youngsters to this preliminary meeting January 22, and to look over the nursery facilities which will be set up at subsequent sessions for supervised play of children two to six years, under the direction of a qualified nursery instructor.

Regular meetings of the group will be scheduled weekly on Tuesday mornings beginning January 29 through March 19 from 9:30 to 12:30.

For further information call the Club Department, Boston YWCA, KEnmore 6-7940.

EMARC FUND DRIVE TOPS GOAL

The East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children Fund Drive has gone over the top. The goal set last November of $6,000 has been exceeded by $1,063, bringing the total donations to date to $7,063.23.

The responses by the residents of the East Middlesex area, which includes the towns of Wakefield, Reading, North Reading, Wilmington, Burlington, Woburn, Winchester, Stoneham and Melrose has been most gratifying.

General Fund Drive Chairman, Horace W. Hyland of Wakefield, said the generous giving by so many people has proven a great awareness by the public of a need that has been neglected for centuries.

It has been proven everywhere that retarded children can be helped. New hope is thus being born for the millions of parents of these exceptional children, hope for acceptance, security and happiness that have been denied them in a country that promises so many freedoms. Surely every child, normal or retarded, is entitled to be considered eligible for the best treatment that society can give him as a human being. It is not so much a problem of the lowness of a child's intellectual ability that concerns us now but rather the highness of man's ability to serve that child.

The parents of retarded children everywhere will join in a sincere expression of gratitude to everyone who helped to make this fund drive a success. To the thousands of contributors, the hundreds of solicitors and captains—our heartfelt thanks.

WINCHESTER SAILORS PASSED PILOTING TEST

Fifty-four boating enthusiasts who passed the Piloting course recently conducted by the Pequossette Power Squadron will receive certificates of graduation at a Founder's Day dinner dance to be held at the Wellesley Inn, Saturday, January 19. Twenty-three graduates will be admitted to membership in the Squadron which is a unit of the United States Power Squadrons.

The following Winchester residents were among those who passed the course: Theodore E. and Frances D. Burleigh, 25 Westland avenue; Nelson C. and Barbara M. Fontneau, 68 Church street; Clarence A. and Katherin H. Roberts, 20 Westland avenue; Thomas R. and Jean D. Gibb, 27 Sargent road; Merton E. Ober, 4 Euclid avenue; and Raymond C. Salling, 3 Euclid avenue.

The course of ten weekly lectures which covers all aspects of piloting, seamanship and small boat handling will be repeated February 4. Registration and opening class will be at 7:30 p. m. at the Phillips School, 30 Common street, Watertown. Classes will be held each Monday evening for ten weeks. Ladies as well as men are invited. The course is free to all who are interested in boating.

Information may be obtained from James P. Flynn, assistant Squadron Educational Officer, 15 Nathaniel road, Winchester, WInchester 6-3167-W.

REGISTRAR KING'S WINTER DRIVING RULES

REDUCE SPEED

Registrar Kings says, "Slow down in rain, sleet or snow. Reduce your speed on slippery roads. Winter driving is a challenge to your good judgment.

Stopping Distance

"Avoid sudden stops on wet slippery roads. Keep more distance between your car and the vehicle ahead. You need at least three times your normal stopping distance."

Clean Windows

"Check your wiper and defroster. Keep your windshield clear. Remove snow and ice from your car window. You must be able to see danger to avoid it."

Use Signals

"Hand signals or mechanical signals are required by law. Protect yourself—give other operators a timely signal before stopping, turning, or pulling out from the curb."

Lights

"Keep your headlights clean. Tilt your lights to the low beam for on-coming cars. Reduce speed after dark. You must be able to stop within the distance you can see ahead."

Snow and Ice

"Snow tires or chains help keep traffic moving and help reduce highway hazards due to snow and ice."

WDNA EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING

The regular Executive Board Meeting of the W.D.N.A. was held January 11, at the Town Hall, the President, Mrs. Clarence Luitwieler presiding. After a roll call, the Secretary's and Treasurer's reports, Mrs. Wiklund, Executive Director, told of 284 visits being made in the month of November. The School Nursing program is working very successfully, and the Vision and Hearing tests given under the supervision of the school nurses, are nearing completion. Mrs. Wiklund further reported that six children each in definite need of special medical care, have been taken to the proper sources for help, and all are receiving the much needed care and treatment.

The Annual Meeting of the W.D.N.A. is to be held on Tuesday, January 22, at 8 o'clock p. m. in the Washington School Auditorium. All members of the Association and their husbands are expected to attend, as well as interested guests. The speaker will be Dr. David G. Cogan, a most interesting gentleman, with much to offer.

Mrs. Wiklund has been made a member of the Massachusetts League for Nursing Education Committee, to serve for one year. The Medical Advisory Committee of the W.D.N.A. has approved the showing of a film on Breast Cancer, to be given in March of this year, co-inciding with the state-wide activities for Cancer Month.

Through the help of the Girl Scouts, the En Ka Society, and the Needlework Guild, the District Nursing Association was able to bring an especially happy and helpful Christmas to all its patients. The Girl Scouts collected used clothing and toys, enough so that 20 families, ranging from two to nine people in each, received individual gifts of clothing, toys, aprons, dishtowels, Christmas stockings or Christmas trees with miniature gifts beneath them. Several lovely stoles and pretty johnnies were distributed to the older patients. We would like to say a special "thank you" to Troop No. 16, led by Mrs. Lewis Snow, and Troop No. 43, led by Mrs. Clarence Roberts, both of Noonan School, who made the Christmas stockings, and also gave generously from their treasuries to help fill these well-made gifts. Another bit of much-appreciated assistance came from one of the cleansing businesses in town, who cleaned some of the used clothing collected by the Girl Scouts, and pocketed the bill for its service.

A total of 257 visits were made in December. After being told that the District Nursing Association is in a good state financially, and that Mrs. Wiklund plans to attend the Bi-ennial Convention of the National League for Nursing, to be held in Chicago the first week in May, the meeting was adjourned at 11:30 a. m.

TREFREY ATTENDS FARM CONFERENCE

In conjunction with the mid-winter meeting of the NAREB, Mr. James T. Trefrey, Wayland Realtor, with offices in Winchester and Waban, will also attend several meetings of the Farm Brokers Institute, of which he is the Regional Vice President in the New England area. These meetings to be held in Washington, D. C., beginning Saturday, January 12, will be attended by members of the Farm Brokers Institute from all parts of the country and from these meetings Mr. Trefrey expects to bring to New England many of the country's latest farm merchandising methods.

"Farm brokerage is a business entirely separate from residential selling," Mr. Trefrey said "and it is our plan to not only increase our knowledge in this phase of our business and so increase sales, but most important to bring a better selling service to the farmers of our territory through closer cooperation between brokers in the area. It is my earnest hope that we can form a multiple listing service for all New England so that prospective purchasers for farm property may be shown brochures of farms by one broker in a given area and eliminate the need for extensive traveling in search of listings."

"This plan would also bring into focus the farm properties available for residential development that have been given up as working farms. These properties are extremely valuable," Mr. Trefrey continued, "and in some cases the owners are not aware of this. If they were listed in a multiple system they would be brought to the attention of good builders who are desperately in need of land to continue their business. We have many such people on our books who would welcome this service."

Mr. Trefrey also stated that there are many of our wealthier citizens who are looking for extensive acreage in which to invest. These so called "gentlemen farmers" contribute a great deal to the development of new and better methods of farming and number greatly among our farm owners in New England.

On his return from Washington, Mr. Trefrey expects to begin regional conferences throughout New England for the purpose of bringing to the brokers the report of the National Conference and to discuss his plan for a New England Farm Multi-List Service.

Jim Fitzgerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Fitzgerald, is playing on the basketball team of the Browne and Nichols School this winter. He was a member of the school football team last fall.

WINCHESTER MAN HONORED

Monday night the officers of the Boston and Old Colony Insurance Companies and their wives gathered at the Algonquin Club in Boston at a testimonial dinner for Earl Gibbs of Lansing, Mich., vice-president, and Charles B. Watson of Winchester, assistant secretary, on the occasion of their retirement following a combined record of seventy-nine years of service. Cyril S. Hart, president, served as host.

Mr. Watson, whose home is at 8 Salisbury street, and who has been assistant secretary for the past fourteen years, completed forty-five years with the Boston Insurance Group. First serving in the Automobile Department, subsequently he was head of the Reinsurance Department, later assistant marine underwriter, and for the past eleven years, senior marine underwriter.

Mr. Watson spent eighteen months overseas in France during World War I with the Yankee Division (26th). He is a past commander of the American Legion, a director of the Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross for many years, and has always taken an active part in Winchester's civic affairs including being Town Treasurer and a member of civilian defense.

MARCH OF DIMES MAILERS DUE SOON

In a few days you, the citizens of Winchester will be receiving an envelope that was dropped in your mail box this week that deserves a few seconds of your undivided attention. Inside that envelope is a Mailer for coins and bills and a message calling on you to "Help finish the Job." The job to be finished is the conquering and cure of polio and the people it has afflicted

It takes just a few seconds to put your March of Dimes contribution into this little Mailer. By doing so in past years you helped finance development of the Salk vaccine as a protective barrier against a dangerous disease.

By doing so this year, you will help the many thousands of patients who were born too soon to be protected against polio.

It is a job well worth finishing. But the Mailer won't help if it is stuck away in a desk drawer. Let's fill these cards and put them back into the mail now. Let's finish that job.

GAS INDUSTRY SPONSORS "PLAYHOUSE 90"

WNAC-TV

The Mystic Valley Gas Company joined other gas utility companies throughout the U. S. in the gas industry's network television debut on Thursday, January 10, as sponsor of "Playhouse 90," CBS Television's distinguished 90-minute dramatic series—9:30 to 11:00 p. m. The program was carried locally by WNAC-TV, with talented Julia Meade as the gas industry's hostess.

The initial presentation under gas industry sponsorship was "Mr. and Mrs. McAdam," the story of the plight of a post-hydrogen war community whose survival or extinction rests with the last remaining pair of young persons. Co-starring were John Kerr, Piper Laurie, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Victor Jory, Mary Astor and Elizabeth Patterson. This will be followed each Thursday evening by equally interesting stories. "So Soon To Die," a suspenseful thriller, starring Richard Basehart and Anne Bancroft, will be the next feature presentation, Thursday, January 17. Diana Lynn and Eddie Bracken will co-star in a story of science-fantasy invention, "The Star Wagon," on Thursday, January 24. This story becomes hilarious as the inventor travels forward and backward in time, reliving the past and seeing glimpses of the future.

The programs will be carried on more than 125 stations across the nation.

KIDDIES SHOW BENEFITS MARCH OF DIMES

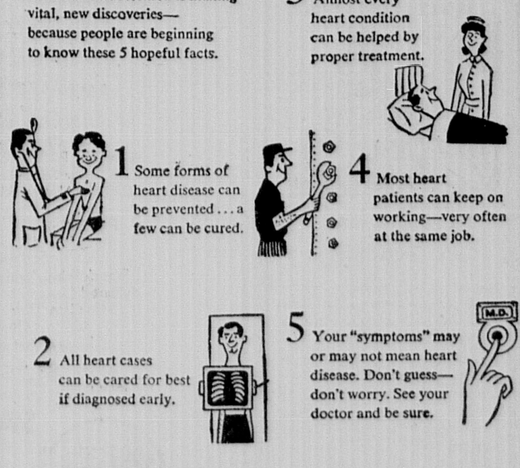
The Second annual Cartoon Carnival and Kiddies Show will be held at the Winchester Theatre this Saturday, January 19, with all the proceeds from the show going to the 1957 March of Dimes

This year as was true of last year, the Winchester Lions Clubs is the sponsoring civic group with Theodore J. Boecker as its director.

The response so far to appeals for contributions for the March of Dimes campaign has been very weak, but it is felt by Mr. Boecker that this is only a temporary situation and it will be corrected as soon as the people of Winchester realize what a tremendous help the National Polio Foundation has been to the citizens who have been afflicted by the dread disease.

5 facts you should know about heart disease . . .

Today, hearts are being saved because heart research is making vital, new discoveries—because people are beginning to know these 5 hopeful facts.



1 Some forms of heart disease can be prevented . . . a few can be cured.

2 All heart cases can be cared for best if diagnosed early.

3 Almost every heart condition can be helped by proper treatment.

4 Most heart patients can keep on working—very often at the same job.

WHICH MAN PASSED THE N.P.* TEST?

*Ninety-Percent

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch . . . like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

CHAPTER 90 MONEY

Tentative Chapter 90 Allotments to the Commonwealth's cities and towns for the fiscal year, 1957, as announced by the state aid division of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works total $6,639,150., or approximately $150,000 more than last year.

Chapter 90 projects throughout the state, as estimated by the County Commissioners and the Public Works Department, will cost $12,954,300. The cities and towns pay $3,500,400 of this amount, the counties, $2,814,400.

Specifically Winchester, among Middlesex County cities and towns, will receive from the state for the Chapter 90 construction of Johnson road in the West Side hill district, $12,000. The town will pay an additional $8,000, and the county, $8,000.

ST. MARY'S MR. & MRS. CLUB

On Wednesday evening, January 9, an exceptionally large group of the Mr. & Mrs. Club members braved the elements and fought the drifts to attend the January monthly meeting, a meeting highlighted by some fine guest speakers and a topic that proved both interesting and informative.

Presidents George and Mae Kean presided over the business meeting, following an opening prayer by Reverend Father Manion, the Club's spiritual director. The report on the December Holly Dance again indicated how highly successful was this affair.

Dr. James McDonough, program chairman, introduced the two guest speakers, the Honorable William Henchey and Fr. Paul Harrington, J.C.D., both of whom were enthusiastically received by the members by virtue of their keen knowledge and expressive delivery of the pros and cons on Capital Punishment. Furnishing fine support were members Atty. John Enright expounding on the legal aspects and Dr. Joe Lynch, who had some interesting comments on the psychiatric phases of crime and capital punishment.

During the interim before refreshments, colored movies of the November Birthday Party were shown.

Co-chairmen John Lane and Eric Johnson then whipped into action their "Pourers" for the evening, and such a motley, er, fetching staff of apron-bedecked dandies seldom has been seen this side of "Duffy's Tavern." Serving the many tables that were spread about the hall cabaret style did take a lot of work. In lieu of a tip, therefore, the club's heartiest thanks to all the following who so ably demonstrated that the cluinary arts are not exclusively possessed by the females. (Please pass the bicarb again, dear.)

John Lane and Eric Johnson, Co-chairmen; John Scanlon, Stanley Regan, Bud Belliveay, Nick Luongo, John Coakley, Walter Overacker, Gordon Brennan, Robert Scholl, George O'Brien, Fred Cause, Mike Civetti, John Keliher, John Griffin, Roland Nault, Chet Thibeault, Lewis Stowe, George Kean.

For next month, Program Chairman Pat Cosgrove has lined up a "pro" to come to the meeting to lead us in "military whist." No skill needed Prizes galore. Fun for all. No admission charge. This you can't miss.

"DOGGIE IN THE WINDOW"

New England Dog Training Club of Boston, the oldest obedience club in the United States, is holding its annual Sanction Show at Mechanics Building, Boston, on Sunday, January 20. There will be 10 classes in all degrees of obedience work.

In conjunction with this show many various breeds are on exhibition at R. H. White's Boston store all this week with demonstrations to show the public what satisfaction there is in having a well-trained dog.

"Pepsi," the wire-haired terrier of the Herbert Prebles of Edgehill road is one of the many breeds that is a "doggie in the window."

WHAT ABOUT OUR LIBRARY!

The Winchester Public Library building was formally opened on December 5, 1931. That was 25 years ago. There have been no additions to the size of the building since that time. The Board of Library Trustees has realized for several years the pressing need for increased space, we have withheld any request for a building addition—always with the diminishing hope that someday the requirements of the schools would be satisfied. Reluctantly, but of necessity, we must now advise the town that the situation in our library has reached the critical stage. The following statistics speak for themselves—

Population	12,710
Registration	4,355
Circulation	107,518
No. of Volumes	25,062
1956
Population	18,126
Registration	9,599
Circulation	177,655
No. of Volumes	61,548

With these statistics before us and with constant reminders from the library staff and from the townspeople themselves that all was not well, we called in two experts in the field of library management to diagnose our problem.

Mr. John A. Humphry, Director, the City Library, Springfield, Mass., and Mr. Philip J. McNiff, Assistant Librarian of the Harvard College Library made a careful study of the library building and of its services. We are happy to say that they prefaced their many helpful suggestions by saying that "The Winchester Public (library) is a splendid example of this "proud American achievement" i.e. the public library. "Its exceptionally fine record of service points to very heavy demands being made upon existing library facilities." Messers. Humphry and McNiff then made a six page report of the library's needs and gave constructive suggestions as to how to meet them. The most important item was under "expanded facilities." "Plan an addition to the building to provide

(1) more space for the inadequate quarters now occupied by the children's department.
2) added facilities for adult services and community activities."

With these concrete recommendations given by the outstanding library experts of the State, the Library Trustees recommended to the town the appointment of a building committee and the appropriation of $4,500 for architect's preliminary plans and estimates for a building addition to the library. A very fine committee was appointed. The trustees thank that committee for their thorough study of the library's needs and for the fine solution they are offering. We urge everyone in town to give them their fullest co-operation and support.

GIRL SCOUTS ANNUAL MEETING

The Winchester Council of Girl Scouts will hold its Annual Meeting on Monday, January 28, at 8 p m. at the Girl Scout Cabin. Each registered adult volunteer is a member of the Council, and has been mailed an invitation to attend with her husband. Guest speaker will be President J. Paul Mather, of the University of Massachusetts. Mrs. Thomas Hill, President, will conduct a short business meeting. General arrangements are under the direction of Mrs. Daniel Fortiere. Meetings Committee chairmand and her committee.

Reports Due

Board committee chairmen are reminded that annual reports from their committees for 1956 are now due. These should be brought or sent to the Girl Scout Office.

Board Training Course

A Board member training course will be held in Section 1, starting on January 31, in Malden. Board and board committee members are urged to attend. Further information and registration blanks are obtainable at the Winchester Girl Scout office and should be returned by January 18.

"CAMEO GLASS" TALK FOR ANTIQUES GROUP

"No man is alive today who can make this glass—and no glass in the world today is so valuable," stated Mr. Louis Neiman before the January guest night meeting of the Antiques Study Group in the gallery of the library on Tuesday evening, during his lecture and exhibit of rare Webb Cameo Glass.

Webb Cameo Glass, known to few antique lovers, was made between 1850 and 1910 in England by the Thomas Webb factory, and one or two others. Though actually a "Victorian era" glass, it is today so rare that most collectors and museums know of each piece in existence. In the making of the glass, time was the big essential—to make a single small piece of cameo glass, a workman would devote a whole year on the one item. He was paid, in those days, an average of one pound a week. So the finished piece of glass became a luxury that only the wealthy could afford.

"Today such a workman would be getting at least $200 a week—and his finished piece of glass would bring $20,000 to $30,000—if there were a man alive today who could do this work. And if anyone could possibly pay for it once the glass were made!" Mr. Neiman added.

He brought a number of rare pieces of Webb Cameo glass to illustrate his talk, showing how this glass was blown in three to six layers, how the artist would sketch then etch the design with special tools. For this glass does not have an applied design, it is etched into the surfaces of the glass. In the world of glass making, only five men could do this work among them the famous Woodall brothers. In America, men tried to experiment and copy this type of glass to bring the cost down, but the copies made were very poor, and the experiment soon failed. The Webb company had learned that the breakage in this glass was very high—piece after piece, after a year of work on it, would be lost in the firing. Even the greatest craftsmen crossed their fingers until the glass came through its final stage.

Mr. Neiman is an owner of a thriving East Boston box factory in private life. His hobby and great love is his fabulous collection of about 35 pieces of rare Webb Cameo Glass. He had brought vases of gold, turquoise, green, red, pink, amethyst, and ivory Cameo glass to form the exhibit portion of his lecture. Mr. John Thornton was program chairman, with Mrs. Clarence Blake chairman of the Study Group. A lively question period followed the meeting.

COAST GUARD THANKS RED CROSS

The Winchester Red Cross would like to share the following letter with the many local people and organizations who so kindly contributed to its "Christmas on the High Seas" project in December. This gratifying thank-you letter was just received in the office, addressed to the Executive Director:

January 9, 1957

Director
Winchester, Massachusetts

Dear Sir:

I would like to express the sincere thanks and appreciation of the officers and crew of the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Duane for the Christmas packages which this ship received from your Red Cross Chapter.

The gifts and Christmas decorations which we received from you made our holidays at sea a great deal more pleasant and homelike than would have been possible without them.

Sincerely yours,
P. B. Mavor
Captain, U.S.C.G.
Commanding Officer
U.S.C.G.C. Duane (WPG-33)

D. A. R.

The next meeting of the Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R., will be held on Monday, January 21, at the home of Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin, 12 Everett avenue.

Dessert will be served at 1:30 p.m. followed by a business meeting at 2. The members will exhibit family heirlooms.

LOCAL HEART OFFICERS NAMED

The further appointments of local officers in the 1957 Heart Fund campaign in Winchester were announced this week by Lindsay Caldwell, general chairman.

They include: William D. Sullivan, 93 Highland avenue, Treasurer; Roy W. Horn, 2 Eaton court, Merchants Chairman; Jack Chitel, 6 Mt. Vernon street, Clubs and Organizations Chairman; Harrison Lyman, Jr., 7 Ridgefield road, Heart Sunday chairman.

Mr. Chitel, upon accepting his position as chairman of Clubs and Organizations indicated that films depicting the role of the heart and showing cardiac case histories may be obtained, free of charge, by calling Heart headquarters, COpley 7-4400.

Area Chairmen were appointed as follows: Thomas L. Purtle, 6 Brookside avenue, Precinct 1; Harrison Lyman, Jr., 7 Ridgefield road, Precinct 3; George Billman, 110 Church street, Precinct 4; Albert S. Crockett, 10 Central street, Precinct 5; and Albert E. Thorne, Jr., 622 Main street, Precinct 6.

February 24, Heart Sunday, will highlight the month-long drive when Heart Neighbors in every community will visit their friends to accept contributions assuring continued research, education and community services in the fight against diseases of the heart and circulation.

PARKHURST PARENTS' ASSN.

The executive board of the Parkhurst Parents' Association met on Thursday, January 10, at the home of their president, Mrs. A. R. Brink.

Plans were made for the winter meeting of the Parkhurst Parents' Association, which will be held on Tuesday, January 22, in the school auditorium, commencing at 1:30 p.m. Specialized teachers in the testing, reading and speech departments will be the speakers at this program concerned with making use of Winchester's special educational facilities.

The shortened school day will pose problems for many parents, but it is hoped that arrangements can be made by them so that they can attend this interesting program. There will be a sitting service available for pre-school and kindergarten age children as provided at the fall meeting.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

A "Preview of coming attractions" is planned for the Junior High Fellowship at the First Congregational Church this Sunday afternoon, at 4:30 in Chidley Hall. Our "Highlights in Church History" will be presented and everyone will want to see the fine work that has been done.

The worship service will be led by Tommy Thompson and John Mallery. Recreation and refreshments will conclude our meeting.

PARENT-FACULTY ASSOCIATION SPONSORS PIANO RECITAL

An outstanding event of the winter season in Winchester will take place on the evening of February 4, when the Winchester High School Parent-Faculty Association presents Mr. Michael Power in a piano recital.

Mr. Power, who is a member of the English faculty at the high school, has gained wide recognition as a concert pianist. His public appearances in Greater Boston include recitals at Jordan Hall, the Gardner Museum, with the Boston Pops Orchestra, and with the Civic Symphony of Greater Boston.

Recitals at schools and colleges in New England and New York, and a tour of Eastern Canada have gained him a wide following among patrons of good music. In addition he has made several appearances, the latest during the summer of 1956.

A glance at the program that will be presented by Mr. Power on February 4 indicates that an evening of fine musical entertainment will be offered. Believing that Winchester people appreciate the finest in music, Mr. Power is presenting compositions by four of the Beethoven, Schubert, and Chopin.

In commenting on the forthcoming recital, Mrs. F. William Schumacher, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the P. F. A., expressed the warm appreciation of the Association to Mr. Power for contributing his talents. Proceeds from the annual mid-winter event of the Association have been used to improve and beautify the high school, to recognize retiring teachers, to aid the foreign student exchange program, and to contribute to the scholarship fund. Mrs. Keane is in charge of the distribution of tickets through the home room mothers; tickets may also be secured at the high school.

Preceding the concert, faculty members at the high school will be entertained at a series of dessert parties presented by members of the Association. At the conclusion of the recital, Mr. and Mrs. F. William Schumacher will entertain the members of the P. F. A. executive board at a brief coffee hour in honor of Mr. Power.

S. O. S. FOR THE BIRDS

The Massachusetts Audubon Society sends out an urgent appeal to all who are concerned with the welfare of our birds to feed them throughout the winter, and particularly during the increasingly frequent times when heavy snowfalls cover the ground and whatever natural food supply may have been available. Snow, which creates admitted hazards for the motorist and pedestrian, creates far more serious ones for the birds facing possible starvation because of it.

Hungry birds are not difficult to please and their tastes are varied. The most popular foods for finches and chickadees are mixtures of wild bird seed with plenty of sunflower seed included. Woodpeckers and nuthatches like to visit feeders where suet is offered. But in an emergency it is not necessary to buy special items. A trip to the pantry may turn up peanut butter, stale doughnuts, cake crumbs, and bread crusts. Any of these are most acceptable. Water, if it can be kept from freezing, is also craved in winter. Further suggestions may be had at Audubon House, or any Audubon Sanctuary.

The Society points out that when you feed the birds you not only help them but you also benefit from the pleasure of their company. A brightly feathered finch can enliven a dull wintry day and make looking out of the window a special joy.

"UNSOUND EMOTIONALISM"

Editor of the Star:

In last week's issue there was published a letter from Everett condemning Senate Bill No. 315. The purpose of this Bill is to permit stray, unclaimed animals, after being legally impounded, to be made available for medical research, under direction of the Commissioner of Public Health. At the present time over 100,000 dogs and cats are destroyed in Massachusetts pounds each year. At the same time research in laboratories of one of the world's leading medical centers is being seriously hampered for lack of experimental animals.

I wonder if the writer of this article, and the many others who object to so-called "vivisection," would be willing to deny to themselves, their children and their families the benefit of all medical advance which has been based on animal experimentation? To do so they would have to refuse all surgery, preventive vaccines, and the present day antibiotics as well as many other drugs. Would these same people wish to obstruct all future progress in the conquest of cancer or heart diseases? It is only through animal experimentation that such can be brought about.

The implication that animal experimentation involves cruelty and abuse is farthest from the truth and is simply a reflection of unsound emotionalism. Dr. Henry J. Bigelow is quoted in declaring what a wonderful animal the dog is. With this statement most surgeons and physicians would agree, but this fact should not give the implication that they oppose animal experimentation. I have known laboratory dogs who have been great pets and who have held the affection and greatest respect of those who have worked on them. They are treated with care and kindness. Of necessity surgical procedures on animals are carried out under anaesthesia quite as in humans. Injections and minor procedure may be done without anaesthesia as is the case with humans. When an animal must be sacrificed, this is accomplished by drugs quite as painlessly as in the animal pounds. In the one case it is an animal destroyed for no good purpose, in the other an animal has nobly served mankind.

The animal lover, and I consider myself such, should also remember that most advances in veterinary as well as human medicine depend on animal experimentation.

For Massachusetts, the coming bill is a most crucial and important one, one which will determine in considerable part whether Boston can continue as a leader in medical science and advance. If you favor the further conquest of cancer, heart disease and other medical knowledge, please put your shoulder to the wheel by writing to your Senator and Representative "now" urging the passage of Senate Bill 315. Unfortunately the opposition has a powerful lobby fund to defeat this measure as it has similar ones in the past. Help from all clear thinking citizens is needed. Every letter committed helps. Please talk it up among your friends.

MEDICAL STUDENT PROTESTS

Editor of the Star:

I should like to raise my small medical-studentish voice against the campaign to defeat State Senate Bill No. 315, which has been waged by the so-called anti-vivisectionists in the press and in the lobby.

The bill proposes to save for medical research unclaimed animals now killed in the pounds of Massachusetts, but does not "let them take your pet away," as the anti-vivisectionists' pronouncements tearfully proclaim. Medical research in this state is hampered by a lack of experimental animals.

I believe that it is morally preferable to sacrifice the lives of some animals in furtherance of the cause of medical knowledge, than to do without advances. The fact that many are denied their full span of years by cancer, heart disease, and high blood pressure argues that we yet have need of medical progress.

Animal experimentation in the past has given us such now-everyday items as penicillin, insulin, plasma, sulfa drugs, the tetracyclines, as well as operations for mitral stenosis, "blue babies," and many other afflictions.

Without animals, we would have to do without similar advances, or face the less defensible alternative of subjecting human beings to unperfected operations, and administering them untried new drugs.

The proposed bill seems morally sound to me; and, yet, it is primarily on these grounds that it is being opposed, tooth and nail.

Sincerely yours,
Sergei Sorokin

HUMANE CITIZENS OPPOSED

Editor of the Star:

The Animal Pound Seizure Bill now before the Massachusetts Legislature raises no new issues. In recent years similar bills have been crushingly defeated by our legislators after careful study and as the result of the overwhelming opposition voiced by our humane citizens.

As one who has been active in humane education for many years and who knows the joy, comfort and solace of household pets, I can understand the torturing dread of one who loses the family dog or cat if those who experiment without mercy on live animals can demand its surrender from a pound in which it has found shelter.

What anguish to think that it may be mutilated, starved, beaten, burned, frozen, gassed, electrically convulsed, subjected to merciless "fatigue tests" and inoculated with malignant diseases! If any one has any doubt that these appalling practices are going on in the vivisectors' laboratories, he can read their own accounts of their experiments in various medical publications.

In the name of Christian compassion and decency, if these lost pets cannot be found by their owners or placed in other kind homes, let us give these owners the assurance that they will receive a humane death and not be tortured by the experimenters.

I cannot believe that our legislators, most of whom no doubt have family pets of their own, will reverse their previous condemnation of such cruel bills and write the pending bill on the statute books of our Commonwealth. God forbid!

Let us hope that every animal lover will write immediately to his or her State Senator and Representative and urge them to vote No on this bill. (Senate No. 315). Boston, Massachusetts.

TRUE COMMUNITY PROJECT

Editor of the Star:

I have been closely associated with the Children's Theatre which has recently presented "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" so successfully.

It has been thrilling to watch the children developing their talents and expressing themselves in the arts of drama, music, dancing and painting. I consider it has been an extraordinarily fine experience for them.

Another source of deep pleasure has been the enthusiastic cooperation of so many people. In addition to the staff, the parents and friends of the children have worked together to help, Miss Rich and the personnel of the George Washington School, including Mr. Gibbon, were always interested, helpful and generous. The new high school auditorium proved an excellent setting for the play. Mr. Morse and his crew, including Chris Nichols, Al Dougherty and David Garanti, were invaluable in their help.

Mrs. Thistlethwaite very graciously trained her junior high mixed chorus, "the 8th Notes," to sing the Walt Disney songs during the performances. They were excellent and added a great deal to the effects.

Al Bonney's trumpet was a superb touch. Miss Loudon led the audience in singing at the intermissions of both performances. In addition to the hundreds of little children who sang and moved in unison, I noticed a grandfather and grandmother also joining in, complete with gestures.

Miss Cunningham, who is principal of the Lincoln and Parkhurst Schools, wanted to see our performance and offered to help preserve order in the balcony to make things smoother.

All this friendly cooperation has made the enterprise a truly Community Theatre project. Mrs. Carlene Samoiloff, director of the Winchester Community Theatre, Inc., has earned the highest respect and praise. Her gracious friendliness, dramatic and artistic ability, high courage and boundless energy are truly unequalled. We are all very grateful.

Sincerely yours,
Justine M. King

OPPOSES SENATE BILL 315

Editor of the Star:

Senate Bill 315 will soon come up for hearing. This bill is but a repetition of the old Pound Bill and provides that all unclaimed animals remaining at the shelters more than five days be turned over to vivisection interests for experimental purposes.

To those of us who are animal lovers such a course in unthinkable. Not only that but it is the height of inconsistency and reason to permit those who contribute nothing or at best very little, in comparison, to the cause of anti-cruelty, to dictate as to the disposition of animals which we have rescued from the streets.

Those of us who love animals urge every one to write to both his senator and representative (state) urging the defeat of this measure.

Very truly yours,
James H. Buzzell
239 Mystic Valley Parkway

SAVE THE HELPLESS

Editor of the Star:

Attention is called to the Animal Pound Seizure and Surrender bill Senate No. 315 in the Mass. Legislature.

The most cruel and unreasonable procedure of government: to take all dogs and cats and any other animals in city and town collection pounds, and also those in humane shelters, and the Animal Rescue League in Boston and elsewhere and turn them over to suffer unknown torture at the hands of those who experiment and dissect alive utterly helpless living creatures.

Humane people everywhere rise up, and express your views against Senate bill No. 315.

For many years hundreds of people have worked and given money to establish the humane societies and Rescue League in Massachusetts.

Is all that to be discounted, and wiped out by making them give up the living creatures they are helping?

The American Humane Association says there are only three ways for pound animals to be disposed of:

1. Returned to owner
2. Placed in new home
3. Humanely destroyed

Stray doys are the result of human neglect. Help them.

WATCH THAT HAT!

That women love hats, agree every sage
And this year, hats are surely the rage.
They changed the shape from short to tall, and white became the color for fall.
Gals, regardless of age or size
Found just the creation to glamorize.
Then they had to have a place to go
To show to others their latest chapeau
They wore them to Boston, a really new fad,
Even down town, a hat wasn't bad.
To theatre, of course, was really a treat
But then a problem they would frequently meet
"Lady, it's pretty, smart and all that"
"But really, I can't see through your hat!"
Which brings me to the subject now at hand
And I hope all women will understand
Easter may be legitimate for that hat so rare
But for other Sundays, please have a care!
Last Sunday I sat in a pew quite far down
So I could see my son in his choir gown.
But alas, I could see neither him, nor the altar
For the big pin-wheel hat that would never falter
On a tall lady, right in front of me
Which blocked the view for all to see.
As Church is one place where the hat stays firm
All I could do was stretch and squirm
And wish that the gal had stayed at home
Or else further up the aisle had decided to roam
So my message is this—terse, but true
Please wear a hat to Church that permits a view!

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S GUILD

The annual New Year's Party of the Business and Professional Women's Guild of the First Congregational Church was held on Wednesday evening, January 9, at the home of one of the members, Miss Alfreda Kearney, 8 Prospect street. About 35 members were present and invited guests included Mrs. Dwight L. Cart and Mrs. Charles Greene.

A brief business meeting was followed by a gay time over the traditional "Swap party." Tables were then set up for all kinds of games—bridge, canasta, samba, scrabbles, etc. Delicious refreshments were served by the social chairmen, Mrs. Carl Morse and Mrs. Robert Fay. The Guild greatly appreciates the hospitality of Miss Kearney and Mrs. Sanford Moses in opening their beautiful home for this occasion.

It was welcome news to learn that the advertising firm seeking a permit to erect billboards on upper Main street had withdrawn its application. That Winchester would have been united in its opposition is without question. The town has never wanted billboards and it does not want them now.

The firm seeking the application should be commended for the thinking that led to its withdrawal. It evidently has the ability, both to appraise a situation and to evaluate public opinion, two necessary adjuncts to success in business. It would hardly be serving a client well to place his advertising on a billboard hotly opposed by the community in which it is placed.

WELCOME NEWS!

Editor of the Star:

Last night at 7:50 I received a telephone message from George Redding, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, telling me that the F. H. Birch Co., had withdrawn its application for a permit to erect billboards on upper Main street in the heart of Precinct Six.

This welcome news imposed upon me an immediate and important duty: I must reach all thirty-two Town Meeting members and many other interested citizens to tell them there was to be no hearing at 9 o'clock. Soon ten splendid precinct workers had been pressed into service, most of them drivers who immediately called the persons they were to take to the meeting. Reports came to me after 9 o'clock that all sections of the district had been covered and I settled myself happily to enjoy a good TV program, feeling sorry, of course, for those good citizens whom we had been unable to reach.

Now—on behalf of my precinct and in bringing to a conclusion this question whch so thoroughly aroused us all, I wish to thank—first the Board of Selectmen whose clerk, Miss Mary French, so quickly advised us of the receipt of the application. Second, those members of our precinct who volunteered to "spread the word;" and the twenty-two fine citizens who offered to drive their neighbors to the hearing, regardless of weather conditions.

Third, our telephone operators whose prompt and efficient service (as always) established such quick and necessary communications.

Fourth, and, most important of all, the comprehensive news item and the splendidly written editorial in the Star of last week, January 11, both of which set forth so succinctly and emphatically the grave importance of a matter which, on its face, might seem to many to be of a trivial nature; as always, you spoke in behalf of civic pride and a better town.

Our precinct thanks you!

INTRODUCING Sfc. JOHN P. BATESON, USA

Editor of the Star:

I would like to introduce to the Town, Sfc John P. Bateson the new Station Commander at the Medford Recruiting Station. Sgt. Bonnell has finished his tour of duty in this area and I wish to publicly thank him for his service to the young men, and parents of Winchester.

I have known Sgt. Bateson for some time and highly recommend him as a fine representative of the U. S. Army. He has had 15 years of service and recently returned from a 13 month tour of duty on Eniwetok, he is married and has 3 young children. Inasmuch as his primary MOS is Armed Forces Radio, perhaps the High School radio stars might like to consult with him.

It is most important that we have only men of the highest integrity manning the Recruiting Stations. Entering the military services is a big step in any young man's life and with the present fluid situation every young man needs advice from properly informed people—not scuttlebut. You can reach Sgt. Bateson at 49 High street, Medford, MYstic 6-5777 during the day or at TWinbrook 3-8735 in the evening.

As usual, you are very welcome to consult with me at any time.

Cordially yours,
G. Toye, Chairman

"SENTIMENTALITY AND PLATITUDE"

Editor of the Star:

The letter by Mr. E. B. Willard of Everett published in Friday's January 11, Star urging Winchester residents to advocate defeat of Senate Bill No. 315 combines sentimentality and platitude in what on superficial inspection seems to be an appeal to support a worthy cause. The letter carefully sidesteps all logic and avoids pointing out that all that Senate Bill No. 315 proposes is that a small percentage of the thousands of dogs slated annually for extermination in public pounds in this state be made available for medical research and teaching. These animals are to be destroyed anyway, but the proposed law would make them available to benefit mankind instead of being slaughtered routinely in pounds.

The recently discovered Salk vaccine, insulin, antibiotics, all of which have saved and prolonged human life, could never have been discovered or perfected without animal research. This research is carried out under the strictest and most humanely possible conditions. The bill would be administered by the Commissioner of Public Health, and institutions using the unclaimed animals will be inspected and licensed.

As a pet owner for years, I would be the last to support any animal bill which was truly "cruel and abominable." The vocal minority of Antivivisectionists have hysterically opposed bills similar to Senate No. 315 for years, but the time has come for all responsible citizens to urge our legislators to take a mature and reasoned view of the whole subject and pass Senate Bill No. 315, a forward looking law which cannot help but benefit the human race.

OPERATOR SHOULD BE INSURED

Editor of the Star:

When, almost fifty years ago, I first purchased automobile liability insurance I expressed astonishment at it being "written On The Car" and not on me as the operator.

You. perhaps, have a Sports Liability policy. If so, it is not written on your golf clubs nor is the company at all concerned with the make and model of your gun if you are a skeet enthusiast.

Were policies so written in connection with cars it would abolish the "first of the year" rush to say nothing about the endless bother incident to change of car. Moreover, the entirely needless and costly work incident to the writing of the policy would be reduced to little if anything more than the name and address of the individual.

So too, the liability coverage would be "part and parcel" of the driver's license rather than the car registration. Advantages resulting are too apparent to recount.

For almost as long I have advocated something more. It is safe to say many thousands of cars "Cross State Lines" every day. In Massachusetts alone we have hundreds, if not thousands, of cars on our highways every day which are not covered as cars owned by our citizens must be. New York has, I believe, taken this situation into consideration and has, thereby, created quite a problem for New England since no car for our six states can "get out" without entering New York—or going out of the country.

It seems to me therefore—and has for many years—a driver's license should be a "Federal License" exactly as is a pilot's license. It is the consensus of many with whom I have discussed the matter that this system of licensing would go a long way in reducing the slaughter upon the highways of the country.

Respectfully,
G. Norman Albree

DEVOTED SERVICE TO TOWN

Editor of the Star:

As is so well known, Mr. William S. Packer was for a great many years a member of the Winchester Park Commission.

While he, with Mr. Davidson and Mr. Alexander is responsible for many of the scenic beauty spots in Town, Mr. Packer was particularly interested in recreation and especially in tennis.

He was known as the father of tennis in our community. The fact that there are so many able tennis players in Winchester to-day is, in a large measure, due to the tremendous interest Mr. Packer had for this sport.

He is responsible for the fine set of tennis courts on Palmer street, and in recognition of this fact, these courts were named for him at a special ceremony held for that purpose in May 1949.

We, who are in a position to appreciate the foresight and work accomplished by Mr. Packer, wish to join with many others in expressing or gratitude and appreciation for the devoted service he gave to our Town.

Very truly yours,

PARTICIPATING IN NURSING WORKSHOP

Mrs. Mildred Symmes of the Visiting Nurse Service of Winchester will participate in the New England Regional Workshop on Practical Nursing scheduled for the Hotel Statler in Boston February 4 to 6 under the joint auspices of the National Association for Practical Nurses Education, the Licensed Practical Nurse Association of Massachusetts and the Massachusetts Hospital Association.

Mrs. Symmes will conduct the discussion of "New Opportunities in Practical Nursing" in the Practical Nurse Section of the Workshop on Tuesday, February 5, commencing at 9 a.m.

REV. WILLIAM S. PACKER

Rev. William S. Packer of 11 Yale street, former Park Commissioner and an editorial writer for the Boston Globe for more than 35 years, died Friday night, January 11, at the Pond View Nursing Home in Stoneham after a long illness.

Widely known in Winchester and held in high esteem by those who knew him well, Mr. Packer served as Park Commissioner from 1922 to 1945, and was a member of the Recreation Committee in 1946. An authority on recreation, he instituted many recreational activities in Winchester that attracted attention and admiration in many other communities, several of which sent representatives to Winchester to study the system here.

Mr. Packer joined the Boston Globe during the days of World War I and wrote editorials continuously from that time until his retirement three years ago.

Mr. Packer was the son of William S., and Mary K. (Jones) Packker. He was born September 13, 1875, in Baltimore, Md., and was graduated from Yale in the class of 1898. While in college he played tennis and developed an enthusiasm for the game which lasted throughout his lifetime.

Following service in the Spanish-American War, Mr. Packer enrolled in the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge. After his graduation and ordination to the ministry he served as assistant curate of Holy Trinity Church, Brooklyn, N. Y.; St. George's Church, New York City; the Church of the Advent, Cincinnati; and as vicar of St. Mary's Free Episcopal Church in East Boston, coming to Winchester from the latter post in 1910.

He began his newspaper career as an editorial writer for the Record-and-Advertiser when it was an independent paper on newspaper row in Boston. He also did weekly reports on Boston's labor problems for several years.

At the time of World War I Mr. Packer went from the Record to the Globe. Later when the rector of the Church of the Epiphany, the late Rev. Murray W. Dewart, went overseas as chaplain with the Yankee Division, he took over the rector's duties at the church and remained as interim rector until Mr. Dewart's return, continuing then as assistant rector.

From that time, during his remaining active years, Mr. Packer was closely identified with the Epiphany Parish, often assisting the rector at services and taking services in the rector's absence. At one time he preached a series of sermons touching on world events that attracted wide attention and brought many to the local church from out of town. He also did a radio series along similar lines that had many listeners. For a time soon after his arrival in Winchester he taught a class of boys in the Epiphany Church School.

Many in Winchester had cause to be grateful to Mr. Packer for his outstanding service to the Parish of the Epiphany and the Community during the influenza epidemic of September, 1918.

With many ill and helpless at home, Mr. Packer organized nursing and food service, personally caring for many of all races and creeds. His battered Ford was a familiar sight on the streets of the town as he delivered hot soup, morning, noon and night, visited the sick, officiated at funerals and comforted the stricken and bereaved.

Though many sickened and died, Mr. Packer, while constantly exposed to the infectious disease, did not know an ill day, continuing his ministrations to the townspeople as long as there was need for them.

An ardent tennis enthusiast, Mr. Packer was rightly called the father of Winchester tennis. He played a leading part in the town's construction of the fine courts on Palmer street that were named for him in 1949, and he never tired of playing, teaching and coaching tennis whenever opportunity presented.

He personally developed several Massachusetts State Junior Tennis champions in Winchester and for several years conducted indoor classes at Winchester High School, to which all youngsters were welcome. He was regularly on the courts at Palmer street coaching and teaching at 6 o'clock in the morning, getting in several hours of strenuous exercise before leaving for his editorial duties at the Globe.

Yearly he drove Winchester youngsters around to various tournaments at Longwood and the North and South Shore and he was a familiar figure at matches everywhere, his opinions of players and strategy being held in esteem by coaches, players and fans.

Father of three daughters, Mr. Packer was especially interested in sports for girls and never lost an opportunity to aid in developing girls programs wherever possible. He felt that, far from a rich man's game, tennis was for every one, and the champions he developed in Winchester came from both sides of the tracks. He had scant use for the uncooperative and many a 'til then pampered youngster got his or her first taste of personal responsibility when he or she arrived late for a tennis outing and found that Mr. Packer and the others had gone at the appointed time.

On the floor of the town hall Mr. Packer fought successfully for enlargement of the town's tennis and recreational facilities, contending that a program that other communities were copying was worth supporting. His efforts on the Park Board were almost exclusively devoted to recreation.

Mr. Packer was a member of the Parsons Club of Cambridge and of the Monday Club of Winchester.

In 1905 Mr. Packer married Gertrude Frost of Waltham who died three years ago. He leaves a son, William S. Packer, Jr., of Winchester; three daughters, Mrs. Cedric Seager of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Ewart Seager, also of Washington, and Mrs. Burges Green of Providence, R. I.; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany. Rev. Murray Dewart, Jr., of St. Mary's Church, Brookline, and Rev. John Harper of Foxboro officiated, assisted by the rector, Rev. John W. Ellison. After cremation interment will be in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

WILLIAM JOSEPH MURRAY

William Joseph Murray of 7 Wyman Court, widely known realtor and resident for more than half a century, died Wednesday morning, January 16, in the Winchester Hospital. He had been in the hospital only about a week but had been for some time in failing health.

Mr. Murray was the son of Joseph P., and Caroline (Loftus) Murray. He was born October 12, 1891, in County Mayo, Ireland, but had made his home in Winchester for 54 years, taking an active interest in the civic, fraternal and religious life of the community.

For 20 years Mr. Murray had been in the real estate business in Winchester and neighboring cities and towns, having been proprietor of the well-known real estate firm of Murray and Gillett on Thompson street.

He was a member of Bishop Cheverus Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, of Boston, for many years, becoming a charter member on the new Pius X Assembly when it was organized in this district. He was also a member of Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus; Winchester Lodge, 1445, B.P.O.E.; a charter member of the Winchester Kiwanis and a member of the Charitable Irish Society of Boston.

A great lover of flowers, Mr. Murray always had beautiful gardens in which he grew blossoms that were the admiration of all who saw them. He was also very active in the campaign of the Kiwanis to provide milk for needy children. He had made his home on Wyman Court for the past five years, previously having lived at 397 Highland avenue.

On January 24, 1926, Mr. Murray married Mary R. Honney of Worcester, who survives, with a son, William G. Murray of Winchester; three daughters, Marilyn M. Murray, Mrs. C. William Ross, both of Winchester, and Mrs. J. Ross LeMesurier of Toronto, Ont.; also seven grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery. Visiting hours today are from 2 to 5, and from 7 to 10 p.m.

MRS. F. ESTHER HOWE

Mrs. F. Esther Howe of 18 Wildwood street, wife of Charles E. Howe, who moved to Winchester some 25 years ago, died at her home on Friday, January 11.

She was the daughter of the late Albert B. Bent and Harriet (Hamilton) Bent. She was born September 17, 1894, in Somerville, attended the public schools and graduated from Wheaton College in the class of 1914.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a son, Robert H., of Cincinnati, Ohio; a daughter, Mrs. Erland S. Wentzell of Farmington, Maine; a sister, Mrs. Alonzo D. Nicholas of Arlington, and six grandchildren.

Mrs. Howe was a member of the Professional and Business Women's Club of the First Congregational Church, the Winchester Art Association and some time ago she was a captain of a troop in the Winchester Girl Scouts. She studied ceramics for many years and was very much interested doing sculpture and making pottery. Mrs. Howe has been active with her husband in operating Winslow Press of Winchester.

Services were held in the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church last Monday, with Rev. John Snook, Jr., officiating.

JACOB SERIEKA

Jacob Serieka, a former resident of Cambridge and father of John J. Serieka of Middlesex street, died Friday, February 11, after being hospitalized for two years. He was 75 years old.

A native of Lithuania, Mr. Serieka lived as a young man in Lawrence where he engaged in farming. Later he lived for a short time in Arlington before moving to Cambridge where he made his home for many years. Until his retirement he was employed as a leather worker at the Beggs & Cobb tannery in Winchester. Besides his son he leaves three grandchildren.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with high mass of requiem celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Herbert K. A. Driscoll. Burial was in St. Michael's Cemetery, Roxbury.

MRS. MARGARET HANSON

Mrs. Margaret Hanson, wife of Leonard Hanson of Rego Park, Long Island, N. Y., died there on Tuesday, January 8. She was the mother of Mrs. William McLeod Macdonald of 42 Canterbury road and was well known to many in this town.

Mrs. Hanson was born 64 years ago on Long Island. For 10 years following the death of her first husband, William Brown, she made her home with her daughter in Winchester. Six years ago she married Mr. Hanson and they had lived on Long Island since their marriage. A devout Lutheran, Mrs. Hanson was a member of and active in the Lutheran Church of Our Saviour in Rego Park, Long Island.

Besides her husband and her daughter in Winchester, Mrs. Hanson leaves a grandson, William McLeod Macdonald, Jr., and four sisters.

Services were held Friday, January 11, at the Lutheran Church of Our Saviour in Rego Park. Burial was in Cyprus Hill Cemetery, Long Island.

MAN STRICKEN WHILE DRIVING

Louis J. Knowles of 14 Moulton road, Arlington, was rushed to the Winchester Hospital in the police ambulance Sunday evening after he suffered an attack while driving his car on Church street near Pine street.

When he had the attack Mr. Knowles was able to bring his car to a stop, and by steady pressure on the horn attracted the attention of Police Officer Erwin W. Nurnberger, Jr., who found him slumped over in the front seat.

Officer Nurnberger stopped a passing motorist, Robert H. Miley of 63 Mystic Valley Parkway, and asked him to notify the police station of the accident. The police ambulance responded, and Mr. Knowles was taken to the hospital.

He died in the hospital Tuesday, January 15.

OPEN LETTER TO MR. WILLARD

Eugene Bertram Willard
P. O. Box 224
Everett 49, Mass.

Rights of the Helpless," be they human or animal, should be and are being considered by the proponents of Bill 315.

Just what is this bill? Stray dogs, not wanted by humans, abandoned and left to starve, are kept in the Pound ten days. By the end of this time, their masters, if they have such, will have had ample opportunity to claim them. If not claimed in due time, they are experimented upon by qualified research people under the most aseptic human conditions—in order that human beings may benefit by the results. These dogs are not pets—or their masters would claim them.

Any laboratory or medical school conducting these experiments welcome people to visit, so as to abolish the old-wives tales still being told by anti-vivisectionists like you. Qualified research people love animals, usually have a pet of two of their own—they also love their families!

Where would people suffering from pernicious anemia, diabetes, diphtheria, typhoid, heart disease (one could go on endlessly) be today if experimentations on animals had not been conducted?

You say "the ground to take is one of conscience."—Where's your conscience? Would you like some of your family to suffer untold torture and die needlessly because you forbade the medicine prescribed for him due to the fact that it was discovered through animal experimentation? Would you deny someone dear to you the opportunity of a life-saving operation because its procedures and successfulness were arrived at mainly by animal experimentation? Do you go to a doctor or dentist? You might think twice before the next visit, because they learned much about anesthesia, medicine, etc., by animal experimentation!

Have you been vaccinated for small pox? Have you had any antibiotics yet? Before you die, you personally will have benefited in many ways by animal experimentation.

These animals are anesthetized whenever necessary and the surgical procedure is the same as for humans. It would have to be—for how could you get proper results from a frightened suffering animal? You've got a great deal of current reading to do.

William James is correct in saying "the rights of the helpless . . . must be protected by those who have superior power." That is what the intelligent people are trying to do for those who do not understand this Bill or its purpose.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

Undaunted by precarious footing and Artic blasts, a large representation of Washington School Mothers attended their Association's midwinter meeting on Tuesday morning, January 15. Coffee and a wide variety of good things to eat were served by Mrs. John C. Wile and her Social Committee. The purpose of the meeting following the coffee hour was to interpret and demonstrate the Social Sciences as taught in our elementary schools today. Miss Leonor Rich, Washington School Principal, gave a brief explanation of what the study of Social Sciences (Geography, History, and Civics) consists in each elementary grade, emphasizing the importance of transmitting major concepts and generalizations to the pupils. Mrs. Arthur Graham's Third Grade Thespians presented an interesting playlet made up of several scenes illustrating the study of food. During the following question and answer period Mrs. Graham and Miss Rich keynoted the program by stressing the importance of the pupils' attitudes as well as their learning of isolated facts with regard to the Social Sciences.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
LAND COURT
Case No. 23958 Misc.

(SEAL) In Equity

To HARRY E. CROCKETT and ANNA M. CROCKETT, both of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern: DAVID C. LEVIN, of Brookline in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth; claiming to be the holder of a mortgage covering real property in said Winchester, numbered 203 Highland Avenue, given by HARRY E. CROCKETT and ANNA M. CROCKETT to the plaintiff by instrument dated October 29, 1954, recorded with Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Book 8350, Page 133, has filed with said court a bill in equity for authority to foreclose said mortgage in the manner following: by entry and possession and exercise of power of sale.

If you are entitled to the benefits of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940 as amended and you object to such foreclosure you or your attorney should file a written appearance and answer in said court at Boston on or before the eighteenth day of February 1957, or you may be forever barred from claiming that such foreclosure is invalid under said act.

Witness, John E. Fenton, Esquire, Judge of said Court this fifteenth day of January 1957.

CHILDREN'S PERMORMANCE OF "SNOW WHITE"

The excellent Prologue Chorus of the "Junior High Eighth Notes" which Mrs. Thistlethwaite trained to augment the singing of the children on stage, added much. The magnetic song-leadership of Miss Jeanne Loudon at the intermission allowed the children of the audience to "let off steam" joyously made the changing of the scenery (which was quickly and skillfully done with five changes) seem very short. Though not perhaps visible from the audience the many elements of a successful production include the skillful help of stage crews, properties, lighting, prompting (devotedly done by Mrs. Donald Dalrymple) mothers helping back stage in the auditorium, and the cooperation of so many people. Our hats off to them in praise and appreciation. In conclusion the entire production was noteworthy in its field.

Winchester owes a great debt of gratitude to the Director, Mrs. Samoiloff, for once again making her dream of Children's Theatre come true in our Town. So many people said it couldn't be done. How does she do it? Taking the raw material of children and producing actors, taking bits of paint, paper, cloth and producing costumes and scenery. Her unusual theatrical and dance background, her creative genius and real love for children, her desire to see each individual child develop component parts producing a finished result yet with no loss of the charm of the natural child.

A herculean task, well done. Pictures and program will be published next week.

This Production by the Childrens' Theatre School, is presented by the Winchester Community Theatre Inc., which is having a fine first season. With two very successful plays for children; a Shaw evening for adults in December; and the coming gala event of presenting Opera to Winchester for the first time with Boris Goldovsky and his company—the future of Community Theatre seems established.

TRUST COMPANY ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Winchester Trust Company was held at the Church Street office at 4:15 p.m. on Tuesday, January 8.

In presenting the annual report to the stockholders, the president, Mr. Vincent C. Ambrose, highlighted the report by stating: "As a service institution, our results of the past year indicate that the bank fulfilled its primary responsibilities to our community and the contiguous trade area through the extension of sound bank credit to individuals and business firms."

At the year-end, total assets of the bank were $8,759, 381—an increase of 8.6% as compared with the prior year.

In anticipation of the year 1957, attention was directed to enlargement and improvement of the Mt. Vernon Street office which should materially help the bank to move forward again to higher levels of deposits and earnings.

Mr. Roland R. Carter was elected clerk of the corporation and all of the present members of the Board of Directors were re-elected.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors, held immediately after the stockholders' meeting, the following officers were elected:

William L. Parsons, Chairman of the Board
Vincent C. Ambrose, President
Curtis W. Nash, Vice-President
Don S. Greer, Vice-President
Charles W. Butler, Treasurer
Roland R. Carter, Assistant Treasurer

The Board of Directors is comprised of the following members:

Vincent C. Ambrose
Ernest B. Dade
Don S. Greer
Nicholas H. Fitzgerald
Horace H. Ford
Robert J. Holmes
Curtis W. Nash
William L. Parsons
Harris S. Richardson

ANTARCTICA EXPEDITION MET A BASEBALL-MINDED PENGUIN

Flights beyond the South Pole, fireworks on a summer New Year's Eve, and a penguin that umpired a ball game—such were among highlights of Operation Deepfreeze, 1956.

They are reported by two National Geographic Society staff members who sailed to Antarctica with Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, and who now are home again from the bottom of the world.

Staff writer Andrew H. Brown of Wood Acres, Maryland, and photographer John E. Fletcher of Arlington, Virginia, both are veteran high-latitude travelers. Admiral Byrd himself serves on the Board of Trustees of the National Geographic Society.

Scientific Bases for IGY

The two Geographic representatives accompanied the United States Antarctic expedition aboard the icebreakers U.S.S. Glacier and U.S.S. Edisto. They saw and took part in the establishment of support and scientific bases for the forthcoming International Geophysical Year of 1957-58.

For Admiral Byrd, it was the fifth visit to the 6,000,000-square-mile Antarctic continent, less than half of which has been explored or even seen. From McMurdo Sound to Kainan Bay, where Little America V was set up, the ships of Operation Deepfreeze plied back and forth along the Ross Ice Shelf and beyond, surveying new coastlines and probing for possible landing points.

On one of Deepfreeze's air surveys across the high central plateau, Mr. Fletcher reached well beyond the South Pole into the area of the "pole of inaccessibility," the unmapped heartland of Antarctica. There his party discovered higher levels than ever before found—a vast plain of snow and ice as much as 14,500 feet above the sea.

Mr. Brown was aboard the Glazier as it crashed through 12-foot sea ice to open a channel in McMurdo Sound. By snow tractor and helicopter he visited Little America I, and the airfield laid out at Hut Point, so named for the camp built there almost half a century before by South Pole explorer Robert F. Scott.

Skyrockets in Midnight Sun

On New Year's Eve, thousands of miles from home, the men of Deepfreeze celebrated with an impromptu fireworks display above the ice of Kainan Bay, even though at midnight the summer sun was still up. Naval pyrotechnics furnished smoke-trailing skyrockets.

As base-building went on, the expedition became fast friends with the penguins—the real resident-owners of Antarctica.

"One particularly friendly and inquisitive fellow," Mr. Brown relates, "decided one day to join a softball game on the smooth ice alongside the Glacier.

"He soon found the most advantageous spot possible to watch the game — immediately behind the pitcher. There he stood, waving his flippers and craning his neck, acting exactly as if he were calling balls and strikes in a big-league game.

"Finally one batter hit a skidding ground ball across the infield and dashed for first base. Whereupon our white-shirted 'umpire' waddled just as fast to see what the play would be at the bag."

FLOWER AND VEGETABLE SEEDS HERALD SPRING

As a harbinger of spring, the ground hog, robin and first corcus each has its advocates. But to many people there's no more enticing promise of spring than simple garden seed.

Since dreary January, gardeners have been thumbing through their seed catalogues where, as one helplessly addicted reader admits, "all melons are monster, all asters are giant, all petunias double-fringed." The magic of the dreambooks dissolves all memory of past failures. And hope for this year's gardens rises like sap in the trees.

For their 1956 gardens, an estimated 30,000,000 Americans will buy flower seeds and about half as many, vegetable seeds, say the National Geographic Society. Seed sales have never been better. One large mail order company alone put out as many as 1,500 varieties.

Another company, which sells through racks in stores, offers 1,100. One of its most loyal customers, an elderly lady who trades at a Philadelphia department store, arrives with her chauffeur each spring and buys one packet of every single variety.

Vegetable, Beware!

Not all buyers are so easily persuaded. Most are especially wary of new vegetables. One catalogue once devoted a whole page in praise of a newly developed vegetable called tampala. A Chinese import, it resembled spinach but withstood heat better and didn't collect sand. Now a decade later, tampala is relegated to a back-page mention and good old sandy spinach holds down its traditional place in the book.

Even yellow sweet corn had to be given away at first. People wouldn't buy anthing that looked like "horse corn." Brocoli also had a hard time catching on. Since 1940, however, its sales have tripled. Such success augurs well for purple cauliflower, an old vegetable now being revived. It turns green when cooked and tastes like broccoli.

Nationwide, the best seller continues to be the radish, followed in order by lettuce, beets and cucumbers. Gardeners' tastes vary enough according to tradition and geography, however, that one company sends its seeds to stores in special assortments. Northern states get such quick-growers as carrots, beets, lettuce and radishes. The S (South) assortment features white radishes, collards, okra, turnips and mustard greens.

Calls for the S assortment have recently been increasing in the north. In fact, the only assortment for which demand remains stolidly predictable is in the E—New England. Except in Boston, where the I.V. (Italian) special cuts across geographic lines, New Englanders can still be counted on to want their pole beans, early corn and winter squash.

PARKHURST AT NEVIS

WITH COMMISSION HONORING ALEXANDER HAMILTON

Richard Parkhurst of Oak Knoll is now on the Island of Nevis, British West Indies, as vice chairman of the Alexander Hamilton Bicentennial Commission presenting in behalf of the people of the United States a bronze plaque which the commission unveiled on the island at the birthplace of Alexander Hamilton.

The plaque, cast in Somerville, Mass., reads as follows:

"At this site on January 11, 1757, was born Alexander Hamilton who subsequently went to the North American Colonies in search of education and who became one of the Founding Fathers of the United States of America which he served as officer in the Continental Army, member of the Continental Congress, signer of the Constitution, Secretary of the Treasury, and finally as Inspector-General of the Army. In tribute to his immortal memory this plaque was unveiled by the Alexander Hamilton Bicentennial Commission on behalf of the people of the United States of America, January 11, 1957."

The heading of the most attractive tablet carries as its central motif a wreathed relief of Hamilton, flanked on both sides by the seals of Great Britain and the United States.

Mr. Parkhurst, former vice-chairman of the Boston Port Authority, and now president of the Mystic Terminal Company, Boston and Majne Railroad subsidiary, and vice-chairman of the Alexander Hamilton Bicentennial Commission's Committee on Birthplace and Boyhood Home, landed one day exactly twenty-five years ago on the Island of Nevis and found the remaining walls of the Alexander Hamilton birthplace were without marker of any kind and that the record of its being Hamilton's birth site was available mostly because of local knowledge passed down over the years.

Upon returning to the States, Mr. Parkhurst presented the situation to the then various authorities and endeavored to arouse interest in the designing and placing of a tablet, with appropriate ceremonies on the part of the British and American Governments. These efforts were continued over the years without avail until the creation by Act of Congress in 1955 of the Alexander Hamilton Bicentennial Commission incident to the 200th Anniversary of the birth of the first Secretary of the Treasury provided a renewed opportunity for this desirable development to be brought into being.

The plaque as notably worded by Laurens M. Hamilton, Chairman of the Commission's Committee on Birthplace and Boyhood Home, and himself a direct descendant of Alexander Hamilton, has been made by the T. F. McGann & Sons Foundry in Somerville, which plant has produced many fine articles of metal craftsmanship, including the statue of Commodore John Barry, known as the Father of the American Navy, presented by the people of the United States to the Irish Government and erected at Wexford, Ireland, birthplace of Barry, in the summer of 1956.

The unveiling of the Hamilton tablet took place on the Island of Nevis on the 200th Anniversary of Hamilton's birth, January 11, 1957, in the presence of British Colonial and United States officials, supported by guards of honor from the Coast Guard and Navy of the United States, and the Armed Services of the British Commonwealth. The official United States party was expected to include the Undersecretary of the Treasury, Randolph Burgess, the Commandant of the Coast Guard, Vice-Admiral Alfred C. Richmond, Congressmen Canfield (New Jersey) and Gary (Virginia), and Bicentennial Commission representatives Laurens M. Hamilton of Warrenton, Virginia, and Richard Parkhurst of Winchester.

HOPKINS HONORED

James P. Hopkins of 230 Forest street was guest of honor at a banquet given him last week at the Colonial Country Club in Lynnfield to celebrate his 25th year with the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company in Boston.

Friends from Providence, R. I., Manchester, N. H., Lawrence and Boston attended the party. Philip Hayes, New England Division Underwriting Manager, presented Mr. Hopkins with his silver anniversary pin and a letter of congratulations from the president of the company, Charles E. Hodges.

He was also given a number of gifts from his many friends in the company, the presentations being made by Morton Hamilton. Mr. Hopkins is payroll auditor in the Lawrence office of American Mutual.

ATTENDED HARPER CONFERENCE

Dorothy Miller, owner of the Harper Method Beauty Shop at 24 Church street, was among those attending the annual beauty conference this week in Rochester, New York headquarters of the Harper Method. New hair styles and new make-up were the keynote.

Many other Harper Method shop owners from all over the United States and Canada attended the conference, at which internationally famous Mr. Berthold of New York City was guest hair stylist.

BOY SCOUT JAMBOREE

Nine boys from Winchester, David Taylor, Thomas Hinton, John Looney, Thomas Joslin, Russell Anderson, Stephen Blair, Jonathan Hopkins, Alfred Bonney, Stephen Powers, are preparing for the Fourth National Boy Scout Jamboree to be held at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, July 12 - 18.

A 1,500 acre tent city will house more than 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and leaders from all parts of the nation and some from other lands. It will have its own water, electricity and telephone exchange, post offices, and other services for the largest gathering of boys in the western hemisphere.

About one hundred special trains and hundreds of buses will transport Scouts to the Jamboree. Railroads are giving jamboree participants special railroad rates and assisting in planning routes so that Scouts may visit leading cities and scenic spots before and after the jamboree.

Contingents will arrive during the three days before the jamboree's opening date, July 12. Three days will be needed to speed the Scouts home after the jamboree closes the evening of July 18.

A few openings are available until February 1, for Scouts who will be at least twelve years old, holding Second Class or higher.

National, state, and local health and protective agencies are cooperating to give the jamboree a health and safety record better than the average city of 50,000 population. Doctors from home areas will travel and live with the contingents. Each jamboree Scout and Explorer is checked by a physician at home and again upon his arrival at the jamboree.

Already completed is a stage 300 feet wide and 100 feet deep in front of a natural amphitheatre that will hold about 55,000 jamboree campers and guests. Spectacular programs are planned for the opening evening, July 12, and the farewell program on the evening of July 18. Outstanding Americans will participate in both programs.

There will be other Scout shows in sectional arenas. Campfires and daytime demonstrations will give each Scout a chance to show his stuff or be entertained and instructed by the other fellow's skills.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME

On Sunday, January 13, the annual family communion breakfast took place. Approximately 200 members and their families received holy communion at the 7:45 a.m. Mass celebrated by the pastor, Fr. John M. Manion, and then assembled in St. Mary's Hall.

Fine accordion music was furnished by "Newt" Purrington. Pres. Al Thorne, Jr., opened the meeting and Fr. Martin J. Dolphin said grace. After the catered breakfast of ham and beans a community sing was held, led by Herb Cleary on the piano. Mr. Martin McCauley, a guest from Woburn, sang three songs and recited a beautiful poem entitled "A Priest's Hands."

Herb Cleary, program chairman, who also is chairman of the Hungarian Quarters Committee, introduced the guest speaker, Mother Margaret, mistress of novices of the Medical Missionaries of Mary of Winchester. Mother Margaret gave a very enlightening and spirited talk on vocations. She said it is the duty of parents to do all in their power to encourage a vocation once a child is blessed with the desire. She also said that someone's prayers are responsible for everyone entering the religious life. After an outline of her young order (founded in 1937), Mother Margaret closed her most interesting address with a poem about the family rosary.

SINGING WITH CECILIA SOCIETY

H. Linnea Robinson (Mrs. Earl Robinson) of 4 Felsdale Close, will sing in the concert of the Cecilia Society in Jordan Hall, Boston, on Thursday, January 24, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

The Cecilia Society is the second oldest choral organization in the United States, tracing its beginning as an adjunct of the Harvard Musical Association back to 1873, eight years before the Boston Symphony Orchestra was founded.

The January 24 concert under the direction of Theodore Marier, conductor of the chorus, will include J. S. Bach's motet "Jesu Meine Freude," the "Missa Festiva" by Flor Peters, "The Rio Grande" by Constant Lambert with Leo Litwin as piano soloist, and excerpts from Act II of "Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss.

HEART SPECIALIST AND TV STAR LAUNCH HEART CAMPAIGN

Ed Sullivan, America's top TV personality, and Dr. Paul Dudley White, consultant to President Eisenhower, will be guests of honor at a kickoff dinner launching Massachusetts' 1957 Heart Fund on Wednesday, January 30, at 7:00 p.m. in the Sheraton-Plaza, Boston, it was announced today.

Sullivan, famed host of the Ed Sullivan show, viewed on Sunday evenings in New England over WNAC-TV, is coming to Boston to make a personal appearance in the Massachusetts Heart Association's opening event for Heart Month.

Dr. White, a past president of the Massachusetts and American Heart Associations, will be given a special presentation in recognition of long and dedicated service in his field.

Principal speaker will be Dr. Irvine H. Page of Cleveland, immediate past president of the American Heart Association and chairman of its Scientific Council, who will discuss "New Hope for Heart Disease."

Reservations may be made by writing the Massachusetts Heart Association, 650 Beacon street, Boston.

The dinner will mark the beginning of a month-long campaign headed by Ernest Henderson of Boston, general state chairman. The final event will be held on Heart Sunday, February 24, when homes in every community will be visited for contributions.

Last year's national contribution to the Heart Fund totalled $17-755,910. Of this, Massachusetts collected $962,710.

The need this year is greater than ever. The causes of our three chief killers—arteriosclerosis, high blood pressure and rheumatic fever—must be discovered. Many new frontiers in research must be explored so that we may ultimately conquer heart disease.

ANNUAL MEETING, FELLSLAND COUNCIL

The thirty-second annual meeting of Fellsland Council, Inc., B. S. A., will be held in the Parish Hall, First Congregational Church, on Thursday, January 24. Supper will be served at 6:30 p.m.

A short business meeting will be held, after which our regional executive, Milo G. Clark, will present the outlook of Scouting in the New England Region.

Mr. Harry Arlanson, football coach at Tufts University, will bring us a message from his experiences with youth.

This promises to be a very interesting meeting. For further information contact your district commissioner.

NAMED TO ANNAPOLIS

Two Winchester boys, Alfred C. Doherty, Jr., of 17 Sargent road, and Christopher O. Nichols of 49 Oxford street were named on January 11 by Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Lowell as two of the principals to fill three vacancies existing at the United States Naval Academy. The other principal is Robert W. Barron, Jr., of 955 Main street, Tewksbury.

Named alternates were James M. Winters of 9 Fletcher street, Andover, first; Albert J. Grimard address not given, second; Whitman L. Paradise of 19 Concord road, Billerica, third; Richard J. Murphy, Jr., of 81 Fairmont street, Arlington, fourth; Richard H. Crowley of 1 Bennington street, Lexington, fifth; John F. Zaleski of 563 Mammoth road, Dracut, sixth; William S. Birtwell of 70 Margaret street, Arlington, seventh; James F. Fournier, Jr., of Pinehurst, Billerica, eighth; Richard G. Conway of 64 Hawthorne street, Lowell, ninth; Joseph J. Kelley, Jr., of 45 Dow avenue, Arlington, 10th; Franklin E. Rumrill, Jr., of 205 Hale street, Lowell, 11th; Vincent D. Murphy, Jr., of 129 Midland street, Lowell, 12th; Vincent Howard of Richfield road, Burlington, 13th; and Berge Donabedian of 49 Powell street, Lowell, 14th.

Nominated for West Point, one vacancy was Brian V. McKinley, address not given, principal; James M. Winters, 9 Fletcher street, Andover, first alternate; Albert J. Grinard, 174 Dalton street, Lowell, second alternate; and Whitman L. Paradise, 19 Concord road, Billerica, third alternate.

All the principals and alternates were chosen as the result of a competitive examination held in Lowell last July 9. The successful candidates will enter the academies of their choice in July of this year.

HUNGARIAN EXPERT TO SPEAK HERE

Through the cooperation of the World Affairs Council of Boston, the Winchester Chapter, United World Federalists, will present Professor Gabriel T. Kerekes, who has held various European posts in the American Foreign Service and is presently teaching at the Babson Institute of Business Administration. Many years of administrative work in Austria, and personal acquaintance with some of the key figures in the present Hungarian crisis, qualify Professor Kerekes to speak with authority on current events in that country.

Miss Alice Main, hostess for the evening, cordially invites members, guests and public to her home at 14 Canterbury road for coffee at 7:45 p.m. on Tuesday, January 22, preceding the presentation of the speaker.

LOCAL FIRM TO EXHIBIT

A Winchester business firm will be among the more than 300 exhibitors at the 1957 New England Home Show in Mechanics Building, Boston, February 14 through 19.

Mr. John A. Rutherford of the Rutherford Equipment Co., 2A Mt. Vernon street, is joining other exhibitors in displaying the latest in ideas and materials for the smallest to the largest homes and apartments. Experts on all phases of home materials, appliances, planning and decoration are present to answer questions and give suggestions on problems.

Builders, architects, dealers and distributors will view the show exclusively on Thursday, February 14 from 1 to 10 p. m., and also from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Friday, February 15. The general public will be admitted beginning Friday, February 15, at 1 p. m. and continuing daily through 10 p. m.

This will be the first time that a home show will be shown to the trade and general public. Several big prizes will be given during the trade showing including vacation for two to Miami Beach at the famous Empress Hotel with round trip air transportation, other trips and valuable merchandise.

EPIPHANY CHURCH SERVICE LEAGUE

On Tuesday, January 22, at 8 o'clock the Church Service League will have its only evening meeting of the year at Epiphany Parish Hall.

The League has been fortunate in getting as a speaker Mr. John Teger, Executive Director of the Big Brother Association. Jack Teger has devoted his full time to this work since 1948. The "Big Brothers" of the Association are all volunteers—men from every walk of life. For the boy who lacks a father, his Big Brother provides guidance, affection and a pattern to follow.

Because of Mr. Teger's topic the Service League of Epiphany is for the first time opening one of its meetings to men. It is hoped that they will take full advantage of this opportunity to hear of the work of the Big Brother Association.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

One could hardly expect a full attendance at The Fortnightly on last Monday as the temperature was the lowest in years, but it was good to see so many members after the long holiday. Mrs. Paul H. Atwood, president, in the chair, extended a cordial welcome.

The recording secretary, Mrs. Wilson, read the call for the mid-winter meeting of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Boston in John Hancock Hall, Thursday, January 24. The program sounds most interesting. The morning session begins at 10:15, afternoon at 2. Luncheon may be obtained there at 12:30 if tickets for it have been procured from Mrs. John C. Ferguson of Melrose.

Miss Bancroft, chairman of the Preservation of Antiques Committee, announced the State Antique Committee's "Antique Information Morning" to be held at Federation Headquarters, 115 Newbury street, Boston, Thursday, January 31, at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Fiske, our able chairman of the Co-operation with War Veterans Committee, gave another of her admirable reports. The Christmas bags filled with useful articles (costing $2.50 each), delivered at the Mass. Soldiers Home, besides several afghans, 84 books, and many magazines were most appreciated.

Grateful letters and cards from men at the Chelsea Home were read, thanking the "angel ladies," making us all feel how worthwhile this work is. Bags for next time, for which material has been donated, are already in the making. Mrs. Fiske is soliciting games, magazines, jelly glasses, and left-over yarn.

The entertainment for the afternoon was in the capable hands of Jacqueline Langdon Hall, whom we were pleased to hear again in her delightful monologues; we remember her talents from several years ago. With finished artistry she presented incidents humorous and pathetic, with delicacy and skill. Perhaps the most effective dramatically was her impersonation of the imprisoned Mary of Scotland addressing Queen Elizabeth (from the pen of Maxwell Anderson).

Tea and coffee, cakes and wafers, were served at the prettily decorated tables, Mrs. Fiske and Mrs. McManus pouring, under the direction of Mrs. Bowes.

LAND COURT

To the Town of Winchester, a municipal corporation, located in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; MARY B. CARROLL, ANTHONY MARCHESI, GLADYS A. MARCHESI, all of said Winchester; BOSTON and MAINE RAILROAD, a duly existing corporation, having an usual place of business in Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; SEYMOUR W. STEVENS and CHARLES P. GEORGE, residences unknown, their heirs, devisees or legal representatives who have not released their interest in the land hereinafter described; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by JAMES J. FITZGERALD, JR., and NICHOLAS H. FITZGERALD, Trustees of FITZGERALD REALTY TRUST, both of said Winchester, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Winchester, bounded and described as follows:

Northeasterly by Irving Street 61.96 feet; Southeasterly by land now or formerly of ANTHONY MARCHESI et al 79.80 feet; Southwesterly by land now or formerly of MARY B. CARROLL 55.26 feet; Northwesterly by land now or formerly of the BOSTON and MAINE RAILROAD 80.05 feet.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the fourth day of February next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hour as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m.

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Life brings strength and freedom will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science services.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" will include the following from John (17:3): "And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (487:27): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

The Golden Text is from Proverbs (16:22): "Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it."

PLANNING BOARD
NOTICE OF
PUBLIC HEARING
JANUARY 28, 1957

Notice is hereby given that the Planning Board, acting as a Board of Survey, contemplates making plans which it deems necessary, of the territories or sections of land in Town as follows:

1. A way beginning at the westerly side of Ridge Street and extending westerly about fifty (50) feet
2. A way beginning at the northerly end of Dunster Lane and extending northerly about thirty (30) feet
3. A way beginning at the easterly side of Johnson Road and extending easterly about fifty (50) feet
4. A way beginning at the westerly side of Cambridge Street and extending southwesterly about fifty (50) feet
5. A way beginning at the easterly side of Cambridge Street and extending northeasterly about fifty (50) feet
6. A way beginning at the southerly side of Pond Street and extending southwesterly about fifty (50) feet showing thereon the location of such ways, not already laid out, as, in the opinion of the Planning Board, the interest of the public may or will require in such territory, together with the direction and width of each way; and that it will hold a public hearing thereon in the Planning Board Office, West Wing, Town Hall, on Monday, January 28, 1957, at 8:00 P. M.

By order of the Planning Board, this 14th day of January, 1957.

Harold V. Farnsworth,
Secretary

MRS. ISABELLE A. QUEENIN

Mrs. Isabella A. Queenin, wife of Michael P. Queenin of 17 Myrtle street, died suddenly at her home early Tuesday morning, January 15, following a heart attack. She had been in her usual health the day previous and her sudden passing coming as a severe shock to her family and many friends.

Daughter of James and Isabelle Walsh, Mrs. Queenin was born in Minneapolis, Minn., but came to Winchester at the age of three and grew up in town, being educated in the Winchester schools and at Winchester High School. She married Mr. Queenin in 1913.

Mrs. Queenin was a member of Court Isabella, Catholic Daughters of America; and of the Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's Parish.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Queenin leaves a daughter, Mrs. Catherine Dauphinais of Winchester; three grandchildren; a brother, Albert Thorne of this town; and three sisters; Mrs. Fred H. Scholl of Winchester, Mrs. Emil Beauchamp and Mrs. Margaret Queenin, both of Woburn.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

TEA HELD FOR LADIES AT HOME

Ladies at the Winchester Home for Aged People were guests of honor on Tuesday afternoon at a New Year's Tea given there by the Social Service Guild of the Women's Association. First Congregational Church. In spite of bitter cold weather and icy walking, a large number of guests joined the ladies for the afternoon program.

Mrs. Paul Stoneman presided, with Mrs. Wesley Mallery in charge of devotions. Mr. and Mrs. James S. Allen then showed colored slides of their trip last year to India, Greece, Spain and delighted their audience with the very unusual pictures of these almost legendary lands abroad. To many in the audience, scenes showing modern cars, modern dress, and very modern stores or restaurants were startling—on the other hand, the Allens had brought pictures that revealed the land of Jesus and some of his disciples still as it was in early times. These travel pictures, explained informally by Mr. and Mrs. Allen, took each lady in the audience on a delightful "trip!" After the pictures, tea was served by Mrs. Harold Alpaugh and her committee.

MISS BROWN ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Linwood F. Brown, formerly of Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter Carol Foster Brown, to Richard G. Brodrick. The prospective groom is the son of Mrs. Richard Gordon Brodrick of 22 Trinity street, Claremont, N. H., and the late Mr. Brodrick.

The wedding will take place on June 15.

Miss Brown is a senior at Skidmore College where she is president of the College Government organization. She was graduated from Mountain Lakes (N. J.) High School.

Mr. Brodrick, now in his second year at Harvard Law School, is a member of the Harvard Law Club. He was graduated from Brown University where he was a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

Mr. Brown is associated with the General Foods Corporation in White Plains where he is marketing manager for the Institutional Products Division. Mr. and Mrs. Brown have also resided in Mountain Lakes, N. J., and Battle Creek, Mich.

MISS EBERHARDT, MR. BEGGS ENGAGED

Mr. William G. Eberhardt of Manitowoc, Wisconsin, announces the engagement of his daughter, Grace Judith, to Mr. Daniel R. Beggs, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Beggs, Jr., of Lawson road.

Miss Eberhardt, who is the daughter of the late Mrs. Eberhardt, will graduate in March from the Chicago Wesley Memorial School of Nursing. Mr. Beggs is a graduate of Hebron Academy and has served with the United States Air Force.

A May wedding is planned.

WINS BRAZIL BANK POST

TABOR NINE YEARS AT SAN PAOLO

Walter Whitman Tabor, son of Mr. S. Walter Tabor of 9 Pierrepont road, was on January 8, made a sub-manager of the San Paolo Branch of the First National Bank of Boston. Sub-manager in South America is the equivalent of assistant vice president.

Mr. Tabor, who is 34, makes his home in San Paolo. He is in his ninth year with the First National Branch there, having been sent to South America immediately upon joining the bank after his graduation from Boston University in 1946.

Born in Andover, though his parents were residents of Winchester at the time, Mr Tabor grew up in town and was graduated from Winchester High School. During World War II he served in the Air Force, getting his wings and commission as 2nd lieutenant shortly before the close of the war. For a time thereafter he was assigned to a crew flying returned overseas planes from Bradley Field in Connecticut to Arizona.

Following his discharge from the Air Force, Mr. Tabor entered Boston University College of Business Administration, majoring in Foreign Trade.

The First National Bank Branch in San Paolo occupies a new building and has a staff of 260, of whom only 10 are Americans. The bank is strong in the Latin countries and its building in Argentina is said to be the largest in South America.

ENGAGED TO MR. MacDONALD

At a buffet supper Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Mulock of Auburndale announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Joan Beverly Mulock, to Mr. Paul Bradford MacDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. MacDonald of 5 Cambridge street.

Miss Mulock is a graduate of Lasell Junior College and the Academie Moderne. Mr. MacDonald prepared at Browne & Nichols School and was elected to the National Cum Laude Society. He is a member of the class of 1957 at Harvard.

A fall wedding is planned.

ELMHURST GIRL ENGAGED

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen F. Buckley of 44-05 MacNish street, Elmhurst, and Nantucket Island, of the engagement of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Mr. Austin P. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Murphy of 84-32 Eliot avenue, also of Elmhurst.

Miss Buckley, a registered nurse, is an alumna of Our Lady of Wisdom Academy and Misericordia Hospital School of Nursing. Her fiance who is stationed with the Army at Fort Dix, N. J., was graduated from St. Francis Xavier High School and Fordham University. He also attended St. John's Law School.

FORMER RESIDENT

Mrs. Scudder Klyce, formerly of Bushcliff road, died suddenly at her home in Oakland, California, December 15.

Winchester's Bob Smith, a member of last year's championship basketball team at Winchester High, is one of the top scorers on this year's Bowdoin freshman five. The freshmen have lost only one game this year to Maine Central Institute.

RED CROSS FIRST AID COURSE

A First Aid training course will begin Tuesday evening February 5, from 7 to 9 o'clock in the Red Cross rooms in the basement of the Town Hall. The course will run for approximately 9 weeks, every Tuesday night.

This year's course promises to be an enthusiastic and large group made up of people who are taking the course for the first time and others who want a brush-up. It is easy to forget some of the details of First Aid work and many men and women repeat the course as a revue as well as to learn the newer methods of artificial respiration and other new concepts of First Aid treatment.

Learning what to do when accidents occur is a prime reason for taking this course. However, learning that a greater number of accidents can be prevented and how to do this is equally important. Our homes are full of unseen hazards. Slippery floors, poor lighting, frayed electric cords, poisons in the medicine cabinet are only a few of the accident invitations to be found around the house. Greater familiarity with the facts of the kind of accidents that happen and what to do to prevent a small accident from becoming a large one is a part of what you will learn in a First Aid course.

When we think of Red Cross and disasters we call to mind the Cocoanut Grove fire, the Worcester tornado or the New England hurricanes. But from the personal point of view grimmest memories are of personal disasters—a bread-winner incapacited by a broken limb, a child disfigured by a burn or a relative killed in an automobile accident. Red Cross plays a large part in lessening and preventing such tragedies. Let the instructors show you how. Call the Red Cross office at the Town Hall, WInchester 6-2300 and sign up for the course today.

STATE HOUSE HEARING ON POWER BOAT BILL

A bill, House No. 1434, filed by Rep. Harrison Chadwick, providing for the licensing of power boats operating on the waterways of the Commonwealth, will be given a public hearing in Room 257 at the State House at 10:00, Thursday morning, January 24.

Rep. Chadwick believes that the identification of power boats through the medium of registration has become an absolute necessity in order to protect persons using our lakes, ponds and streams, and to control the nuisance factor. The bill filed by Mr. Chadwick is similar to the New Hampshire statute, which has served the people of that state successfully for many years.

Anyone desiring to do so is invited to appear at the hearing and address the members of the Committee on Public Safety on any phase of the subject they wish.

PUCKSTERS MEET SALEM

Winchester High School's hockey team, flushed with its win over mighty Lynn English last week end, take on Salem in a North Shore League hockey match at the Lynn Arena Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

LIBRARY NOTES

CEILING BOOK PROJECTOR

Through the generosity of the En Ka Society, the Winchester Public Library has available a ceiling book projector to enable bedridden patients to read books on film projected onto the ceiling.

The ceiling projector provides the therapeutic benefits of reading to those who are physically handicapped in such a manner that the use of ordinary material is difficult or impossible. Anyone, regardless of condition, can operate the machine itself with the touch of the chin, the hand or foot.

By merely telephoning the library (and in case of serious illness with permission of the attending physician) a member of the library staff will take the projector to the patient's home, or to the hospital, set it up for use and pick up and return the equipment to the library when the patient is finished.

Selection of books on film may be made by each patient from a list of the varied collection at the library. As more books are put on film, the library's collection will increase.

The ceiling projector is not only available to those seriously ill or handicapped but to any person who must stay home for several days due to illness. The value of such equipment is its use by all who need the therapeutic benefits of reading.

This week's film program, Friday and Saturday, January 18 and 19, will be:

Coral Wonderland
Chinese Shadow Play
History of the Helicopter

Next week's film program, Friday and Saturday, January 25 and 26, will be:

In and around Amsterdam
Four Seasons
Hercules

LINCOLN SCHOOL DADS' CLUB

With a complete disregard for the sub-zero weather, the Steering Committee of the Lincoln School Dads' Club, gathered at the home of Fred Fickett, to formulate and organize plans for several important events in the very near future.

All Dads, get out your calendars and red pencils and draw large red circles around these two important dates—February 4 and February 16.

On Monday, February 4, at 8 p.m., there will be a general meeting of the Dad's Club at the school auditorium. Several very important subjects will be considered and it is imperative that 100 per cent of the Dads show up. In addition we have scheduled as excellent movie program that should prove extremely entertaining and of great interest to all dads. Unfortunately the seating capacity of the auditorium restrict the attendance to Dad's Club members only, so be there on time—please!

The second item of interest will be the Valentine's Dance to be held on Saturday evening at 8:00, February 16. A committee of Al Derro, Dave Grey and Jeff Gaudioso has already set up a program that promises to outdo all other past dances. Along with the usual excellent dance music, entertainment and refreshments, there will be prizes and other surprises to add to the festivities.

So—all you Dads—earmark these dates well. You have the dates, you have the times and you have enough advance notice. We'll be looking forward to 100 per cent attendance on February 4.

CONFERENCE FOR BEGINNING TEACHERS

On Saturday, January 26, at Boston University College of Business Administration, Alpha Gamma Chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, national honor society for women in education, is sponsoring its eighth conference for beginning teachers in the elementary schools.

The conference is designed to provide practical and specific suggestions and assistance for those who are teaching in the elementary grades.

Miss Marian E. Phipps, reading consultant, and Miss Claire M. Corcoran, assistant reading consultant for the Winchester public schools, will act as sectional meeting chiefs for the fifth-grade level and the remedial reading sections respectively. Miss Margaret A. Millican, teacher at the Mystic School, will assist Miss Phipps and the conference registrants by answering questions at the fifth-grade level.

P. A. L. NOTES

SENIORS

Instead of dividing the season into halves as was first planned, it was decided at a special meeting last Wednesday, that the season would be divided into thirds, with each team playing facing each other three times.

The amazing Lakers again breezed to an easy 53-34 victory over the Hawks. The first third champs again had their big four leading them on to victory. The big four Dan "the Man" Serieka with 15 points, "Steady Eddie" Carter, Ted Little and Dick Scott, all with 10, have been consistent scorers all year.

The Lakers have the best balanced team in the league, with four regular double figure men and two more, Coakley and Bond capable of scoring 10 or more at any time. They are definitely the team to beat for the championship!

Dan Brenner led the Hawks with 10 points. The Hawks ended up in fourth place for this third but they have great potential and could be dangerous in the second third. Their top scorers are Bob Winn, Dan Brenner and three year veteran Dave Govostes. If these three have a hot night at the same time, watch out!

Second place was taken by the Pistons by a 50-38 win over the slumping Celtics. Dan O'Connell (11), Bud DeRenne (13) and Bob Thompson (10) were the high scorers for the Pistons. Doug Martell and Jim Migliaccio with 16 and 11 respectively were high for the Eagles. The Pistons and Eagles along with the Lakers were in a hot first place battle right down to the final wire. The Eagles, who started like a house afire, slumped in their last two games and dropped to third place.

Steve Powers with 18 points lead the Royals to a 36-28 victory over the winless Celtics. This win moved the Royals into a third place tie with the Eagles. The Royals had a poor start, losing their first two, but came back to win their next three to quietly sneak into a third place tie with the Eagles.

The hapless Celtics ended up in the cellar. The boys never have given up. They seem to start off slowly and get into a hole which is to deep to get out of. If they ever get by the first half, reasonably close to the other team, they will be dangerous.

For the second third, we will watch the Celtics to see if they leave their bad starts in the locker room. If they do, they will cause trouble.

JUNIORS

Dartmouth eased to the Junior championship, handing Harvard its second straight loss, 38-18. Dick Butters led the scoring with 14 points.

The Champs led the league from the first game. Harvard finished in a fourth place tie. They have gotten rid of two bad games and are now ready to face the next two thirds of the season with a good chance to finish right up there with the leaders.

Princeton continued its forward progress with a 43-32 victory over Yale. Princeton jumped from last place into a second place tie. They will be the team to watch from now on. Paul Goddu with 21 points, was top scorer for Princeton. The loss dropped Yale into a fourth place tie.

Boston College, a hot and cold team, wound up tied with Princeton after dropping Holy Cross 45-25. Holy Cross finished in the cellar. B.C. has shown signs of being a top notch team at times, but at other times they were as cold as our weather. Paul Mulloy had 17 points for B.C.

This Junior league has many fine young players in it. It will not be long before some are wearing the red and black not only in basketball but in other sports also. From this Junior League of today will come the High School stars of tomorrow.

BELMONT HILL DEFEATS WINCHESTER 2-1

The Belmont Hill freshman hockey team won its first game of the season by defeating the Winchester frosh 2-1 on the new Belmont Hill artificial ice skating rink last Saturday morning. Lacking in spirit and technique, the Winchester boys appeared to be hardly a shadow of their former selves when they won four straight games in league play against stiff competition.

Belmont Hill scored two goals in the first period. The initial Belmont tally hit the goal post, ricocheted against a player's skate and was deflected into the Winchester cage, while the local net tender, Teddy Marks, was trying to locate the puck. The Winchester score came in the second period when Peter Branch, on a solo rush, stickhandled past the opponents' defense and made a pretty lift to beat the Belmont Hill goalie.

The team from the Hill outskated, outshot and outfought Winchester all the way until the closing minutes when the local players, led by Capt. Robbie Eaton, put on a sizzling rally. During this time, the puck was out of the opponents' zone only twice, but the rally was too late and the final gong came before Winchester could capitalize on its burst of strength.

The next game for the freshmen is a league game against Lexington in the Boston Arena tomorrow morning at 9:30.

JACKSON CHIEF ENGINEER

WINCHESTER MAN WINS RUGE ASSOCIATES POST

Warren Earle Jackson of 19 Town Way, has been named Chief Engineer for Arthur C. Ruge Associates, Inc., of Cambridge. The appointment was announce by Paul W. Koch, Executive Vice President and General Manager of the Cambridge firm, which manufactures resistance - thermometer elements and specialized equipment. In his new capacity, Mr. Jackson will be in charge of all projects relative to new product development in the company.

Prior to his present appointment, Mr. Jackson worked as a product engineer in a design and development group at Arthur D. Little, Inc. Educated under the NROTC Program, the Winchester man in 1945 was graduated with honors from Tufts College, where he received the B.S. degree both in mechanical and later in electrical engineering. Continuing his studies at Yale University, he received the M.Eng. degree in electrical engineering.

During World War II, Mr. Jackson served as a reserve officer in the United States Navy. In 1950 he returned to active service to complete a 24-month tour of duty in the Submarine Force. He holds the rank of Lieutenant in the USNR.

Following World War II service, Mr. Jackson returned to Tufts College to become an instructor in mechanical and electrical engineering. While at Tufts, he was advanced to an Assistant Professorship in electrical engineering.

An associate member in such professional societies as ASME, AIEE and IRE, Mr. Jackson is also active in a number of Naval organizations. His fraternity is Theta Delta Chi. He is married to the former Jewel Currier of Newburyport. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson have made their home in Winchester for the past three and one-half years.

WILFRED H. ROBERTS

Wilfred H. Roberts of Rust Island, Gloucester, a former resident of Winchester and for 30 years associated with the school system of Somerville, died Saturday, January 19.

Mr. Roberts was 56 years old and a native of Somerville. He attended Somerville High School, Boston College High School and Boston College, before graduating from the Salem Normal School. He also held Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees form Boston University.

When ill health forced his retirement from the Somerville schools he was a principal and district supervisor. Long a resident of Somerville, he came to Winchester in 1941 and made his home at 1 North Gateway until 1953 when he moved to Gloucester.

Mr. Roberts leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Woleyko; a daughter, Mrs. Rona B. Metcalf, Jr., of Malaga, Spain; his father, Henry P. Roberts of Somerville, and a brother, Laurence Roberts of Medford.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning with a requiem high mass celebrated at St. Clement's Church, Somerville, at 10 o'clock. Burial was in Ipswich.

MICHAEL POWER

TO PRESENT RECITAL

Michael Power, widely known concert pianist and a member of the faculty at the Winchester High School, will present a piano recital in the high school auditorium on Monday evening, February 4. Mr. Power's concert is being sponsored by the Parent-Faculty Association.

Although his recital on February 4, will be his first public appearance in Winchester, Mr. Power has already established his reputation locally as an accomplished musician through his two recitals at student assemblies in the high school. So enthusiastic were the students and faculty that the Parent-Faculty Association welcomed the opportunity of presenting Mr. Power to a wider public. Proceeds from the concert will go to support the Association's projects for school improvement.

Mr. Power is best known for his solo appearances as a pianist, but he has also played on many occasions with symphony orchestras, notably the Boston Pops Orchestra and the Civic Symphony of Greater Boston. Last summer he returned to England to continue his studies under the tutelage of the incomparable Dame Myra Hess; and he expects to present a series of concerts in Britain later this year.

To open his recital in Winchester, Mr. Power has chosen the French Suite in E Major by Bach. A sonata by Beethoven and shorter compositions by Schubert complete the first half of the program. Following the intermission, Mr. Power will play a series of selections from the works of Chopin.

HONORS TO FIRST BAPTIST

Two high honors have come to First Baptist Church as a result of the Year of Baptist Achievement program.

On the basis of a special evaluation form based upon the Standard of Achievement, the judges of the American Baptist Convention have awarded our Sunday Church School a bronze plaque. Formal presentation of the plaque will be made next Sunday to Mr. Joseph M. Dunn, Church School Superintendent, by Rev. Sargis Matson, State Director of Christian Education.

In a recent survey conducted by the Massachusetts Baptist Convention in search for Sunday Church School teachers with long terms of service, Miss Persis A. Richardson, of First Baptist Church, has been honored. Miss Richardson has thirty-seven years of Church School service to her credit and will be the Honor Guest at the Morning Worship Service next Sunday at eleven o'clock.

BLOOD DONOR DAY— JANUARY 28

On Monday next, the Winchester Red Cross will have another Blood Donor Day.

Because of the continual urgent need for whole blood for transfusions and the recent request from Civil Defense for the need of a stockpile of blood for fracination, it is most important that any person who can give blood, do so on this day.

The time—12:45 - 6:45 p.m.

The place—Parish House, First Congregational Church.

If no appointment has been made, just walk in and you will be cordially welcomed. Your blood may save a life.

RED CROSS HUNGARIAN RELIEF ACTIVITY

The Winchester Chapter of the National Red Cross has two announcements to make concerning Red Cross Hungarian Relief activities.

The first is that the Chapter has been requested by national headquarters to make a collection of some types of good—new or used—men's clothing which is now needed at Camp Kilmer, New Jersey. Specifically — suits, topcoats, outer jackets, overcoats, dress shirts, and shoes are required.

The Chapter will be very appreciative if any person or organization, having contributions of clothing will see that they get to the Red Cross office on the third floor of the town hall.

The second announcement is the very gratifying one that the generous people of Winchester have filled the quota asked of the local Chapter as a part of the National Red Cross appeal for Hungarian Relief.

The quota asked of the Chapter was $850; however, the sum, to date, contributed by the always helpful and interested Winchester "Good Neighbors," has reached $1065.54.

In a letter addressed to Mr. Royce H. Randlett, chairman of the Chapter, the National Red Cross stated, "The purpose of this letter is to extend our most sincere congratulations to your Chapter and the people in the community you represent for over-subscribing your minimum quota. You can be proud of this accomplishment and have the assurance that your Red Cross is meeting fully its commitment to render humanitarian service to our Hungarian neighbors who have suffered so much!"

To those many who sent their checks and money in for this use go the heartfelt thanks of the National Red Cross, their own Chapter, and the thousands of Hungarians whose problems have been and are being greatly alleviated by these gifts.

MRS. BELLE SHAW GATES

Mrs. Belle Shaw Gates of 40 Rangeley road, widow of Josiah Emery Gates, formerly of Medford died suddenly Friday morning January 18, at her home. She had not been ill, her sudden passing being wholly unexpected.

Mrs. Gates was the daughter of Daniel J., and Nellie (Manning) Puffer. Her father was one of the Puffers long identified with the old Puffer Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of soda fountains for many years on Swanton street.

Born in Medford, June 11, 1880, Mrs. Gates grew up in that city, was married there and took an active part in civic affairs. Her mother was the first president of the Board of the Home for Aged Men and Women in Medford, and Mrs. Gates was herself for many years a member of that board, continuing to serve until her death. She was a member of the First Congregational Church of Winchester.

Mrs. Gates' husband died in March of 1939. She leaves a daughter, Miss Helen Gates, with whom she made her home.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Gaffey Memorial Funeral Home in Medford. Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the First Congregational Church, officiated. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

URGENTLY NEEDED

Mrs. Edward Rendall, chairman of furniture, supplies and clothing for the Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee, has issued an announcement that there is a great need for beds, bedding, chairs, lamps, bureaus, tables, glasses and china, silverware, pots and pans, refrigerators, blankets, sheets and towels to assist our Hungarian guests to get established in new homes here.

Mrs. Rendall made it clear that it is essentials of housekeeping that are needed, not bric-a-brac or white elephants.

She will be glad to have any articles that can be donated to help the Hungarians called for if those who have them will call WInchester 6-2861.

POUND BILL HEARING TUESDAY

"The Pound Bill," so called, or Senate 315, of which Star readers have been hearing so much recently, comes up for Legislative hearing Tuesday, January 29, before the Committee of Legal Affairs at Room 257 of the State House, commencing at 10:45. This is the bill permitting stray unclaimed animals that have been legally impounded to be made available to medical schools and research laboratories for experimental purposes.

Rep. Harrison Chadwick, Winchester's representative in the General Court, told the Star this week that he has literally been flooded with letters on this controversial question. As of now the opinions expressed are about evenly divided, for and against the bill.

Rep. Chadwick told the Star, however, that the letters obviously come from persons prompted to write by a strong personal interest. He has received, or had received at the time of his talk with the Star, no letters from the public at large, and it is in the opinions of those not strongly biased either way that he is especially interested.

MISS BARBARA ANN YOUNG

MISS YOUNG, MR. QUIGLEY ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burton Young of Bloomfield, New Jersey, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Barbara Ann Young, to Mr. Harold Edward Quigley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Quigley of 30 Westley street, Winchester.

Miss Young is a graduate of Drew University. She is presently employed in the New York Office of the Diamond Match Company.

Mr. Quigley is a graduate of Winchester High School and Drew University. At present, he is with the Civil Service Commission in Washington, D. C., under the Management Intern Program.

A spring wedding is planned.

J. HOWARD MACAULAY

J. Howard Macaulay of 270 Main street, a practicing attorney in Medford and prominently identified with the civic life of that city, died suddenly at his home Wednesday morning, January 23. Though he had been bothered with a heart ailment, his death was wholly unexpected, he having been present the night previous at a meeting of the Royal Order of Jesters, of the Boston Court, at which he was elected director.

Mr. Macaulay was the son of Donald, and Katherine (Lamond) Macaulay. He was born July 3, 1900, in Everett, prepared for college at Tilton Academy, Tilton, N. H., and was graduated from the University of New Hampshire and Boston University Law School.

For nearly 25 years he had a law practice in Medford in the Macaulay Building, a building which he owned at 11 Salem street in the center. He was a past City Solicitor of Medford, chairman of the Medford Red Cross, past director of the Salvation Army in Medford, past chairman of the Medford United Community Fund, past president of Medford Rotary and former Assistant District Attorney for Middlesex County.

Mr. Macaulay was a Mason, a member of Palestine Lodge, A.F. and A.M., of Everett; Royal Arch Chapter, past commander of Beauseant Commandery, Knights Templar of Malden; and a member of Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine. He had lived in Winchester for nine years, coming to this town from Medford.

He leaves his wife, the former Dorothy W. Frazier; and a daughter, Dona Macaulay, both of Winchester.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at the First Congregational Church with the minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiating. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery.

"SIGN UP NOW"

Now, the wonderful opportunity of learning first aid with an excellent and authorized teacher, is offered you and jointly sponsored by the Winchester Red Cross and Civil Defense.

H. GORDON RANDALL

GETS DETROIT RAILROAD POST

H. Gordon Randall of 43 Canterbury road has been promoted to a new assignment with the Association of American Railroads in Detroit, Michigan. He will take over his duties as Manager of the Detroit office next week although the family will probably remain in Winchester for a few months.

Mr. Randall entered railroad service as a clerk in the A.A.R. Car Service Division in 1937. Two years later he became a clerk at Dallas, Texas, and in 1940 was named a car service agent there. A reserve officer, Mr. Randall entered military service in 1941 as a first lieutenant with the transportation division of the Quartermaster Corps. He was promoted to captain in April 1942 and to major in October of that year, serving in the office of Chief of Transportation of the Army Transportation Corps.

He was promoted to lieutenant colonel in 1943 and as chief of the Control Branch of the Transportation Corps he had charge of the flow of export traffic for all government agencies. He served overseas in the Pacific theater in 1945 and 1946 and returning to Ft. McPherson, Georgia, as deputy transportation officer of the Third Army, he was promoted to colonel in 1947. He left active duty later that year to return to the Association of American Railroads in Washington, D.C. Here he served in several capacities before coming to Boston as New England District Manager in 1953.

MRS. BRIDGET QUEEN

Mrs. Bridget Queen of 55 Prospect street, Woburn, widow of Thomas Queen and a former resident of Winchester, died at her home Sunday, January 20, at the age of 67.

Mrs. Queen was the daughter of Patrick, and Bridget (Keady) Cady. She was born February 7, 1889, in Woburn, and spent most of her life in that city, except for a time some years ago when she was a resident of the North End of Winchester.

She leaves six sons, Thomas H., and James J. Queen of Winchester, Edward J., and Robert Queen of Woburn, William J., and Frank A. Queen of Burlington; two daughters, Mrs. Leonard Lundgren of Billerica and Mrs. Angelo Petto of Stoneham; also three sisters, Mrs. Joseph Mullen and Mrs. Ellen Kelley of Winchester, and Mrs. Homer Drayer of Meadville, Pa.; 22 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Charles Church, Woburn. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

MISS MARGARET CANNIFF

Miss Margaret Canniff of 89 Union Park street, Boston, formerly of Winchester, died Wednesday, January 23, at the Carney Hospital, after a short illness.

A native of Winchester, Miss Canniff was the daughter of John, and Rose (Cassidy) Canniff. She grew up in Winchester and was educated in the Winchester schools. She was a member of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters. A brother, John, of Lynn, is her only survivor.

The funeral will be held this Saturday morning from the Lynch-Cantillon Funeral Home, 263 Main street, Woburn, at 8 o'clock. Solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at St. Charles Church, Woburn, at 9. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

SCHOOL SAVINGS ASSEMBLIES

Sponsored by the Winchester Savings Bank, Miss Mary Dent, representative of School Thrift, Inc., of Yonkers, New York, has been in the Winchester Schools this past week.

She brings out points of School Savings through the use of hand puppets and flannel-graphs. The pupils were asked to draw posters of the puppets and send them to the Savings Bank where they are now on display. A visit to the Bank will surprise many when they view these posters, and read the captions.

DANIEL J. O'LEARY

Daniel J. O'Leary of 16 Kendall street, died Thursday afternoon in the Winchester Hospital. Mr. O'Leary was a retired letter carrier for the Winchester Post Office, and was well known around town.

The funeral will be held from the Lane Funeral Home Monday at 8 with solemn requiem high mass at St. Mary's at 9.

WHAT ABOUT OUR LIBRARY?

CHILDREN'S NEEDS ACUTE

The Children's Department of the Library is in "desperate need of additional space for readers and for books." This statement was made in a survey by the library consultants, Mr. John Humphry and Mr. Philip McNiff. It did not take them long to reach this decision when they saw how the children had to squeeze by the tables disturbing the occupants while looking for a book on the shelves. The crowded book shelves and the makeshift overflow closet were evidence enough to justify the need of more space for books.

In 1931 when the present building was erected, the six tables and twenty-four chairs in the Children's Room were adequate, but since then our town has grown. The Library has kept pace with this expansion until it has outgrown those original facilities. Now it is time to plan once more for the future.

Today 90% of our children five through fourteen years of age are registered borrowers. More floor space, chairs, and tables are needed to accommodate them. There should be sufficient room provided so that classes from the schools, scout groups or clubs could be given library instruction without disrupting the entire daily procedure.

Our book collection has grown from 3,000 to 13,000 volumes. Additional book sections have been added in every available space—a closet has been opened up, and now we are overflowing into the basement stacks. To meet the needs of present day educational requirements, these books must be brought out on open shelves which are easily accessible to the children. According to national standards for a town of this size, we should provide adequate shelving for 20,000 volumes.

The present workroom, which actually is just a reconverted closet, rates second only to Fibber McGee's. It is here that all children's cataloging must be done. Books are mended, processed, and prepared for bindery. Posters are made, and display materials gathered and stored. Six-thousand books are circulated each year to the schools, and these must all be prepared for delivery. To attain any degree of efficiency, working space, shelving, and storage room are desperately needed.

There should be toilet facilities for the boys and girls directly adjacent to the Children's Room. A cloak room is also needed where, on cold and stormy days, outside apparel may be hung to dry while the child is selecting his books.

The time has come when an office is needed in which the Children's Librarian can consult with parents, teachers, group leaders, and book agents without constant interruption. A certain degree of concentration is needed in the organization of administrative duties, in the purchasing of books, and in the preparation of articles and talks. These can be done only away from the inquiring chatter of children.

We have tried to make the library habit an attractive, stimulating, and enjoyable experience in the life of every boy and girl. In addition to the primary function of providing good books for study and recreation, other activities are offered which enlarge and enrich their growing years. Educational films are shown in the Art Gallery each week for five months of the year. Summer reading clubs and story hours serve to increase the reading interests in an enjoyable sort of way. The children have responded to these activities so enthusiastically that it has been necessary during the past few years to encroach upon the facilities of the adult department. On occasions we have had to take over completely the adult reference room, and often adults, wanting to see the art exhibit, have had to wait until the story hour was over. While our patrons have been most gracious in accepting these inconveniences, it is time now to provide facilities within the Children's Department itself to accommodate an extended program.

Twenty-six years ago the citizens of Winchester built a library to which they could point with pride. It is indeed a credit to their wisdom and foresight that the building has been functionally adequate all these years without undergoing structural changes. Now it is our turn to face a public responsibility. Will our judgment and vision measure up in the eyes of the citizens of 1983?

Ed. Note: This is the third in a series of articles submitted by the town's Library Additions Building Committee.

INJURED WHILE SKIING

Stephen Hood, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Hood, Jr., of 9 Oxford street, was painfully injured last Sunday in a fall while skiing at the Winchester Country Club.

He complained of his left leg and was taken home by members of the club who went to his assistance. Dr. Gustav Kaufmann was called and after an examination ordered Stephen removed to the Winchester Hospital. The police ambulance was not available and the trip was made in the fire department's rescue truck.

Dr. Alexander Aitken attended Stephen at the hospital, his injury being described as a double spiral break of the left leg.

The injured member was put in a cast which will have to be worn for some weeks. Aside from the break there were no injuries and Stephen is expected to return to his home sometime this week.

JEAN PAUL MATHER

MASS. U. PRESIDENT GIRL SCOUT SPEAKER

Jean Paul Mather, President of the University of Massachusetts, will be the guest speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts, to be held Monday, January 28, at 8:00 p. m. at the Girl Scout Cabin on South Border road.

He is one of the nation's youngest land grant University presidents and is a graduate of the University of Denver and holds advanced degrees from both Denver and Princeton. A specialist in the fields of business, economics and statistics, President Mather has had broad experience in the field of higher education as both teacher and administrator.

He has two girls of Scout age, Shirley Jean 15, and Barbara Lorraine 12.

All adult volunteers working with the Winchester Girl Scouts, have been invited to bring their husbands as guests to hear President Mather.

A short, but very important business meeting will be held at the conclusion of President Mather's talk, Mrs. Thomas Hill, Council president, will preside.

Miss Marion Roberts, executive director of Massachusetts Girl Scouts, will also be present to lead the group in informal singing—"Robie" and her accordion are well known to all Girl Scouts in this vicinity. Coffee hour will conclude the evening meeting.

MISS JAN ZIMMERMAN

MISS ZIMMERMAN ENGAGED TO MR. FESSENDEN

At a festive Christmas breakfast in Sacramento, Calif., the announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Jan Zimmerman to Mr. Laurence M. Fessenden, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence M. Fessenden of 39 Westland avenue.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Balt Zimmerman of Chico, Calif. She is a graduate of Chico High School, and attended the Chico State College.

Mr. Fessenden attended Winchester High School and is now a radar specialist with the United States Air Force, presently stationed at the McClellan Air Force Base in Sacramento, Calif.

The wedding is planned for February 2. Following an extended honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, the couple will reside in Winchester.

RECENT BIRTHS

Among recent births is that of a third child, second daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. John K. Colony of 6 Mystic Valley Parkway. Grandparents are Mrs. Philip W. Carter of West Newton and Mrs. John M. Colony of Newton Center and Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Reynolds, Jr., of Foxboro announce the birth of their second child, second daughter, Heidi Lynda, on Monday, January 21, at the Goddard Hospital, Brockton. Grandparents are Mrs. Harvey A. Hutchinson of Canton, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Reynolds of 16 Sargent road.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Larry Mathews (Marie Bates) of Arlington, announce the birth of their first child, a son, Douglas Howard, on January 8, at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Captain Howard L. Mathews, U.S.N., of Chevy Chase, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas F. Bates of Winchester.

JOHN M. KINGMAN

John M. Kingman of 98 Gainsborough street, Boston, executive director of the Federation of South End Settlements in Boston and a former resident of Winchester, died Monday, January 21, at the Boston City Hospital at the age of 63.

Mr. Kingman was the son of Rufus A., and Minnie (Macoun) Kingman. He was born July 8, 1894, in Brookline, was graduated from Harvard in 1915, and for two years after his graduation served as a Boston Juvenile Court probation officer. During World War I he served in the Navy from 1917 to 1918, and following his discharge was director of the Connecticut Junior Republic from 1919 to 1921. The next five years were spent in business in Ohio and New York.

Returning to Boston, Mr. Kingman became director of boys work at Lincoln House in the South End. He subsequently served as headworker at Hale House, as associate and then headworker at Lincoln House, and was appointed executive director of the South End Settlements in 1950.

In 30 years of service in the South End of Boston he had been a director of United Community Services, a member of the Legislative Commission on Child Delinquency, the State Advisory Committee on Service to Youth, president of the United Settlements of Greater Boston, president of the City Wide Boys' Workers Conference, and chairman of the South End Neighborhood Rehabilitation-Conservation Committee.

During his years of service Mr. Kingman was associated with many in the field of social work and with hundreds served by the various agencies for which he labored. By all with whom, and for whom he worked he was held in the highest esteem.

Mr. Kingman came to Winchester from Milton in April of 1932 and made his home at 7 Herrick street until 1948 when he moved to Boston.

He leaves his wife, Ruth; two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Schwanke of Winchester, and Mrs. Ruth Howard of Washington; and a sister, Mrs. Caro MacLeod of Wallingford, Vermont.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 11 o'clock at Emmanuel Church in Boston. Rev. Sydney Lovett, chaplain of Yale University and a lifelong friend, officiated with the rector, Rev. David Siegenthaler.

Honorary pall bearers were Thomas P. Beal, Dr. William B. Castle, F. Douglas Cochrane, Judge John J. Connelly, Charles Fragges, Melvin King, Peter W. Princi, Russell M. Sanders, Robert G. Stone and Frederick B. Taylor.

Burial was in Greenhill Cemetery, Wallingford, Vt., where services were conducted Thursday afternoon by Rev. George Weiss Parker.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

With the weather man giving us a break we had a good turnout this evening.

The picture is changing each week as there are only eleven weeks to go to close the season.

There were a lot of doings this evening so let us at present look at the standing as the night's bowling ended.

Team Standings:

Blue Eyes	9 - 3
All Stars	8 - 4
Lindy Hop	8 - 4
Hot Shots	7 - 5
Rock and Roll	6 - 6
High and Low	4 - 8
Jitterbugs	4 - 8
Bee Bops	2-10

Hi Singie:
Choppers Gangi 147

Hi Triple:
Dick Fiore 357

Top Ten Bowlers:

Tony Saraco	103.7
Richard Bucci	102.4
Dick Fiore	102.2
Joe Berardi	99.1
Bob Fiore	98.2
Babe Tofuri	97.9
Choppers Gangi	95.3
Tony Chefalo	94.4
Max LaCrubba	93.9
Mingy Frongilo	93.5

First let us take a quick look at the average department and see what a battle is going on there. Anyone of the top three boys could cop this department.

Tony Saraco is not slowing up as it may seem. He is a very consistent 300 bowler. What has really been happening the last few weeks is that Richard Bucci and Dick Fiori have been bowling up in the stratosphere.

Their consistent bowling of 330 and 340 is gaining ground on the leader the hard way. Good luck to the three of them for they are all real sports.

Now lets take a peek in the barrel and what do we find but a barrel full of 300 bowlers this second week.

The bowling this second half has really been phenomenal.

Richard Bucci leads the parade with a mighty 349 p.f. followed by Bob Fiore, 337; Dick Fiore, 330; Babe Tofuri, 313; Jake Jacobellis, 309; Tony Saraco, 309; Joee Riga, 304; Corregidor Fiore, 304; Choppers Gangi, Jeff Gaudioso. Area Amico and Joe Berardi all 301. Honorable mention goes for a near miss to Joe Amico with 299.

The manager of Strike Lanes added a little color to the festivities of the evening by presenting Richard Bucci a bowling pin for his accomplishment of bowling 142 in a single string.

The oscar for the night for team pinfalls went to the High and Low boys who really put on a Barnum and Bailey show as they mowed them down to the tune of 1501. This amount gave each individual bowler of this team a 100 average. Their Captain Richard Bucci paved the way with his 349 and his assistants were Frank Corby, Joe Riga, Jake Ciarcia, Chic Vespucci and Ben Gilotti.

Rock and Roll were the victims of the above story. Though they were beaten they managed to take one point in the first string with a spectacular 498. They bowled 1452 which is also good bowling. So let us give them a little glory for their gallant battle.

You all know they are without a captain who was lost early in the season (Hokie). Acting Captain Max LaCarubba led them, and his helpers were Jake Jacobellis, Paul Lentine, Al DiMinico and Joe Amico.

This once great warrior Hokie was struck down again. His doctor stated that science has not as yet come up with a cure for his ailments. The average person's tissues start to disintegrate at the age of 63 not at the age of 43 as his has. The way he looked hobbling around the club house he looked as though he were in a state of Somnambulism.

Our good friend Leroy Penta has been released from the hospital and is rapidly regaining his health and has no trouble sitting down now. He stated he will be back in the lineup next week.

Overheard in the alleys and to save embarrassment I will withhold the names of those involved in the conversation. One bowler to another: "Does your wife talk a lot?" Second bowler: Does she talk a lot, her mouth opens automatically when she opens her eyes in the morning."

So we close again and our award went to the papa with the black curly hair and prancing eyes, Sam Corby.

See you next week.

Winchester Edged, 55-53

Belmont Passes Winchester In Middlesex League Race

A single basket was the margin of victory as a hard-driving, aggressive Belmont quintet edged Winchester in a seesaw battle, 55-53, at the winner's gym last Friday night. This, the Sachems' first defeat in 52 regular season games, drops them into second place in the races for the Middlesex League crown.

Dawes Hamilt was the key to Belmont's victory. Shooting from all angles, he netted 17 points, which usually came when they counted most. Forward Bill Stoneman, who reminded many Winchester rooters of Billy Ross, proved a surprise by looping 13 while Greg Loser, Belmont's top scorer, was held to ten by the effective guarding of Quent and Ronnie Roberts. Smith, Hamilt and Devine combined to give Hank Schumacher the toughest competition he had experienced under the boards this year.

Winchester's Roger Symmes, with his fabulous jump shot, took top scoring honors for the game, collecting 18 points. Fourteen of these came in the first half as Smith of Belmont did an outstanding defensive job after the intermission. Captain Mike Callahan and Dave Bergquist with 13 and 12 points each followed Roger.

Perhaps the most outstanding player for the Indians, considering his shorter amount of time on the floor, was Ron Roberts, He hit for nine tallies, seven of which came in the second period and helped give the Sachems their halftime lead. In addition, he played an excellent defensive game.

Belmont's undersized gym, packed to overflowing, sounded like Boston Garden during the Tech Tourney as the game got under way. The home five jumped to a 5-0 lead before the Sachems could score, but from then on it was nip and tuck, bedlam ensuing in the stands each time a basket was made. The first period ended in favor of Belmont, 17-13.

The Indians, led by Symmes and Ron Roberts, really poured it on during the second quarter, scoring 15 points to Belmont's seven, to emerge after an uphill fight on the long end of a 28-24 score at intermission.

As the third period opened, many Winchester fans were encouraged by the two basket lead. It soon became apparent, however, that the home team was by no means beaten as, refreshed by the halftime break, they outscored the invaders 18-9 to hold a 42-37 advantage at the end of the quarter.

In the final period it was a come-from-behind effort and the Red and Black almost made it. When the Indians tied the score at 48-all with three minutes remaining, the Winchester fans went wild, but Belmont quickly jumped to another six-point lead, which proved enough to sustain a last-minute Sachem threat and gain the win by a slim two tallies.

Belmont actually won on the foul line. The winners sank four more foul shots than Winchester, but had one less field goal. Neither quintet had an outstanding shooting average; Winchester hit for 34 per cent, Belmont for 33.

The J. V.'s came through to make the evening half successful by downing the stubborn Belmont seconds, 49-39, in the preliminary contest.

Behind 9-8 at the close of the first period, the Indians picked up the pace, to grab a 23-15 lead at the half. They extended their margin to 15 points early in the fourth period before coasting the rest of the way. Belmont played a never-say-die type of game, but could not match Winchester's amazing 49 per cent shooting average.

Richie Roberts was top scorer for Winchester with seven baskets for 14 tallies, while Doug Thomson netted nine. Belmont's scoring was well distributed throughout the team, Giles collecting nine in the losing cause.

"Wait'll next time" will be Winchester's slogan until the night of Friday, February 15, when the Sachems play the Belmont five again. It will be on the home court, which should aid the Indians, and promises to be another thriller! In the meantime they must play six more games, including contests with tough-to-beat Reading and continually improving Lexington.

UNITARIAN CHURCH COUPLES CLUB

The Couples' Club of the Unitarian Church is planning an evening of fun and frolic on Saturday, February 2. Coffee and dessert will be served at 7:30 p. m. followed by a scavenger hunt which no one will want to miss. It has been designed to keep everyone in the church, but they will find themselves hunting for "things" past and present, tangible and intangible, and in places they never knew existed. To wind up the evening, there will be dancing with instruction of some of the more tricky steps for those who so desire. An evening not to be missed.

Those in charge are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fritch, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Morang, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Renz, and Mr. and Mrs. James Kimball.

APPOINTED AIR FORCE CADETS

Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Lowell recently announced her nominations for the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado as the result of competitive examinations taken in Lowell last November 20.

There was no Winchester nominee in the group, and of those nominated eight were from Lowell. There were two Woburn boys named, James A. Foley, Jr., of 39 Franklin street, and Paul F. Foley of 4 Blake street.

Those nominated will compete with other Massachusetts candidates and the eight highest men will enter the Academy in July of this year.

2nd ANNUAL SNOWBALL DANCE AT NOONAN SCHOOL

Plans were made last week by the Ways and Means Committee of the Noonan School Mothers' Association for the coming Snowball Dance to be held on February 2 at the Noonan School.

Harry Queen's orchestra will again add to the evening's festivities. In charge of the decorations are Mrs. Robert Roundey and Mrs. John Morgan, who will transform the hall into a winter wonderland.

Posters announcing the dance are fashioned by the 6th grade under the guidance of Mrs. Andrew Crawford. Mrs. Courtney Crandall is in charge of publicity. Mrs. Frederick Wier will handle refreshments. Attractive door prizes have been donated; Mrs. Frank Geary is in charge. Mrs. Walter Fisher is in charge of tickets.

The entertainment promises to be a surprise prepared by Mrs. Gordon Bird. The entire evening's fun is under the able co-chairmanship of Mrs. William Gordon and Mrs. Frederick Wier. Proceeds will go into the Scholarship Fund. Don't forget February 2 from 8 to 12 at the Noonan School.

WINCHESTER BLANKED SALEM

Winchester had little difficulty blanking Salem, 5-0, in a North Shore League hockey game at the Lynn Arena last Saturday.

From a competitive standpoint the game was not especially interesting. Salem never threatened seriously, and this despite the fact that Coach Frank Finigan emptied his bench to give his reserved game experience.

Salem seemed physically smaller and younger than the Winchester boys and actually gave them little trouble. The summaries:

WINCHESTER—goal, Denton; defense, Kelleher, McElholm, Sandberg, Scott; forwards, Zirkel, Cussen, Callahan, Weaver, Davenport, Sullivan.

SALEM—Goal, Downey; defense, Ahern, Berube, Boochard; forwards, Coughlin, Dione, Dolan, Sanford, Flynn, Kapantis.

Goals—Davenport 2, Callahan, Zirkel, Weaver.

William J. von Rosenvinge, son of Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge of 111 Church street, has been named to the Dean's list for the 1957 winter term at Babson Institute of Business Administration. To attain this rating he had to have a term average of 3.10 or slightly better than B out of a possible 4.00, or straight A. He is a senior at Babson.

CONGREGATIONAL MEN'S CLUB

The next meeting of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church which is to be held on Tuesday, January 29, promises to be one of the most memorable meetings of the year. A delicious dinner is being planned and will be served to the members by Chef Bob Williams and his able committee. The members have been planning such a dinner for many months and it is hoped that more such dinners can be undertaken. Dinner Reservation Chairman Joe Hall reports that the number of reservations already received makes it certain that this is to be one of the best attended meetings of the year.

The Club is fortunate on such an occasion to be able to present Irv Wermont and his program, "The Other Side of the Mind," which is purely an entertainment presentation. Mr. Wermont's "mental miracles," "thought projection," "sightless vision" feats amuse and amaze those who see his program. It is a thought-provoking, amazing demonstration of mental miracles compelling the attention of everyone. Members of his audiences participate in mental feats, telepathy tests, and incredible revelations which make a sparkling program.

Mr. Wermont is a graduate of Northeastern University School of Law and Emerson College, where he majored in speech. He was once a Boston radio announcer. When he discovered that he had "strange mental telepathic powers" he developed this lecture-demonstration.

Mr. Wermont's personality, poise and happy faculty of imparting humor to his presentation, insure an unforgettable experience for his listeners. The audience may not believe what they see, but one thing is certain—they will enjoy the "seeing." The entire program is a guarantee to a thoroughly entertaining evening.

UNITARIAN PLAYERS OFFER WINTER PROGRAM

Realizing that an active dramatic group can learn by precept and example, as well as by doing, the Unitarian Players have organized a series of three winter meetings on stagecraft. Held at the church on successive Tuesday nights, these open meetings will present an intimate view of what goes on backstage during a production, and will show how imagination, skill and teamwork can make an ordinary program into an outstanding one. Like the line on a winning football team, the backstage workers do not receive their due share of glory, and these sessions are designed to honor them and to interest others in the many facets of their important work.

The series will begin on January 29, at the Players' regular midwinter meeting. Their very own Minister and Director, Rev. Robert A. Storer, will devote his energies to the topic "Backstaging the Director." Following this, Mr. Robert H. Haseltine, best known to Winchester theatre-goers as the Director of "Ladies in Retirement," will present his point of views on "The Magic of Lighting." The second meeting, on February 5, will feature Mr. Haseltine again, this time in a discussion of "Set Designing, Set Construction and Painting." His summer work with the Falmouth Players, and his graduate studies in the field of the drama, make him particularly well qualified to present these topics. Along with his talk, a twenty minute film on "How to Build a Flat" will be shown.

The third and final meeting, on February 12, will be presented with the assistance of the Arlington Friends of the Drama. Mr. Milton C. Paige, Jr., their President, along with a picked group of their backstage workers, will lead a discussion of the problems involved in "The Organization and Management of a Backstage Group." He will illustrate this program with color slides of some of their recent Arlington successes. To conclude the evening, color slides of some of the Players' own productions will bring back fond memories to the audience.

Though designed primarily to strengthen their backstage operations, the Players feel that these meetings will be of interest to many others in the community. They hope that everyone with dramatic interests will join with them for evenings of enjoyment and instruction.

FRESHMAN HOCKEY TEAM OUTCLASSES LEXINGTON

At the Boston Arena last Saturday morning spectators saw some high grade hockey, particularly in the first period, when Winchester defeated their League rivals from Lexington four to two. The first stanza opened at a fast clip with Winchester playing superbly fine hockey. Peter Branch, Billy Lamarche and Dana Kelly, a smart trio comprising the first line, poured a barrage of shots at the Lexington goalie. Although the lad from Lexington was tending the nets for the first time in his life, the puck simply would not go in for the Winchester boys. Toward the end of the period, however, Richy Jameson, a solid right wing on the second line, worked past the defense, and on a double assist from Charlie Myers and Doug Scott, was able to sink the puck.

The second period opened a bit slower, but the same combination of a double assist by Myers and Scott to Jameson resulted in another Winchester score. At this point, Lexington put on their heaviest drive of the game and managed to get two shots past Teddy Marks, who was in the goal for Winchester. For some little time, the score remained tied, until the first line broke in with another score by Lamarche on an assist from Branch.

The third period opened at a faster clip with Winchester having things practically their own way. In spite of the fact that the local boys were playing a good brand of hockey, they couldn't seem to break the jinx of the Lexington goaltender. Finally, Captain Robby Eaton unassisted, sank a long shot for the fourth tally of the game. Mike Thorp was in the cage for Winchester in the third period and the extent to which Winchester controlled the puck is witnessed by the fact that Mike had only one "save" to make.

Winchester does not play another League game until they meet Arlington on February 9 at the Boston Arena at seven-thirty in the morning. This will be a crucial game for the local boys as it will probably determine whether or not they will gain a place in the playoffs. Arlington has not been beaten, although they have tied twice. Winchester, on the other hand, has been beaten once, but has won five League contests in a row. For the next two weeks the freshmen will be playing Friday evenings at the Harvard Rink, first against the W. H. S. sophomores, and then against the Wakefield J.V.'s. Both games begin at 7:00 p.m.

WINCHESTER AND WOBURN MEET AT LYNN

TIGHT GAME LOOMS AS OLD RIVALS DO BATTLE

Winchester High School's hockey team, trailing Danvers in the Northeast Conference Division of the North Shore Hockey League, meets fourth-place Woburn Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the Lynn Arena and a capacity crowd is expected to see these ancient rivals do battle on the ice.

Winchester has won the most games of any Northeast Conference team, having seven in its win column to six for Danvers and five for third-place Marblehead. The Indians trail Danvers by a point, 15 to 14, having lost three games while Danvers is undefeated, but has three ties. Winchester has not been tied this season.

Woburn has won only three games, lost two and tied four. On the basis of what both teams did against Lynn English, generally considered the best team on the North Shore and leader of the Essex County Division, Winchester should be favored. The Indians edged Lynn, 3-2, in its best showing of the season, while Woburn dropped a 4-2 verdict to Tippy Johnson & Co. last Saturday.

Winchester has been something of an in-and-out team this season, and if the Indians have one of their bad nights against the Tanners, they will be in for trouble. If they can approach their form of the Lynn game, they should do all right.

Winchester and Woburn met in the pre-season hockey jamboree at Lynn and the Indians won the abbreviated contest, 4-0. This was hardly a real test, of course, but on what it does show, the Indians should not be short enders tomorrow.

Woburn, with only an outside chance at the Conference title, has to win this one to stay alive. Winchester also wants the game to keep on Danvers' heels.

The two clubs are all even on goals, Winchester having made 31 to 30 for Woburn, while the Tanners have given up 19 to 20 for the Indians.

HOPKINS HONORED

James P. Hopkins of 230 Forest street, auditor of American Mutual, was honored January 9 at a luncheon at the Colonial Golf Club, Lynnfield, to celebrate his 25th anniversary with the company.

A number of Mr. Hopkins's business associates were present, including guests from New York, Providence, and Manchester. Mr. Hopkins was presented with a gold Longine wrist watch and a desk lamp.

"DOCTORS DO NOT WANT YOUR PETS"

Editor of the Star:

Passage of the Medical Research Bill, No. 315, soon to be considered by the State Legislature, is essential to the health and welfare of every citizen of Massachusetts. To dispel any confusion which may have resulted from misleading and distorted information, here are a few facts for you and your readers.

The public is aware of the almost incredible advances in modern medicine which have brought untold benefits to the health of both humans and animals. Many fail to realize, however, that animal research is responsible for nearly all of these accomplishments. Without such research we would not have the Salk vaccine for prevention of paralytic polio, penicillin and other antibiotics for treatment of infectious, insulin for diabetes, hormone therapy and treatment of cancer and endocrine diseases, liver extract for use in pernicious anemia, and many others including most of the common drugs and home remedies available at neighborhood pharmacies.

Nor would surgeons have been able to develop the dramatic heart operations which today save the lives of thousands of children and adults, and to devise other operations to correct congenital and acquired defects. These same conditions had first to be successfully corrected in animals under the same sterile techniques and the same anesthetics later used with humans in hospitals. Extensive developments in anesthesia were also made possible through animal research.

But humans are not the only ones to benefit. Veterinary medicine, devoted to the preservation of animal health, has received immeasurable aid from the same research that has helped humans. Vaccines to guard against distemper and rabies, antibiotics and sulfa drugs to combat infections, new knowledge of dietary and nutritional needs—all have combined, in recent years, to nearly double the life of your pet.

Let there be no misunderstanding. Doctors do not want your pets. Many of them have pets of their own which they regard as highly as you do yours. In fact, cat and dog pets will receive more protection than ever under the Bill's provision to place all phases of animal handling under the direction of the Massachusetts Commissioner of Health. Only a small percentage of the abandoned, unwanted strays, now uselessly put to death in the pounds, would be made available for medical investigation after having been kept the number of days prescribed by law. More than 117,000 animals are killed in the pounds each year (State Commission figures).

Animal research is carried on with the utmost regard for the safety and comfort of the animals involved. They are kept in clean, comfortable quarters and fed diets comparable to those of household pets. Such humane treatment is essential to all good research. Regular inspections will be made by the Commissioner of Health to ensure maintenance of high standards in use and care of research animals.

Medical science is today at the threshold of its most productive era in the fight against the great killing and crippling diseases—heart, cancer, arthritis, the many diseases of aging, virus infections and others. Massachusetts, a world leader in medical research and education, will be seriously handicapped, and medical progress retarded unless Senate Bill No. 315 is passed. Therefore, every citizen should express his personal views to his State Senator and Representatives.

Sincerely yours,
A. Clifford Barger, M.D.
President, Massachusetts Society for Medical Research

"LET US GIVE THANKS"

Editor of the Star:

As I am Chairman of the Board of Health in Winchester I would like to express my personal opinions in your columns on a very important subject pertaining to the public health.

In the very near future Senate Bill No. 315 popularly known as the "Pound Bill" will come up before the Massachusetts Legislature. It behooves all of us to inform our Senators and Representatives of the General Court of the Commonwealth that we believe this bill is worthy and sensible.

All of us who have undergone surgery should be particularly thankful for the experimental work which has been done on dogs and cats in the past because of the knowledge that has been gained thereby, not only in surgery and anesthesia, but also in pharmacology, physiology, bacteriology and all of the other divisions of medicine which have helped to improve our health.

The diabetics among us who require daily injections of insulin to stay alive, the patients with pernicious anemia who require regular injections of liver extracts or Vitamin B12, our children and young adults who have received inoculations in their infancy to prevent diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus (lock-jaw), and all of us who have been vaccinated to prevent smallpox, and now more recently to prevent poliomyelitis should all express thanks for these great benefits by writing to our Senators and Representatives, asking them to vote in favor of Senate Bill No. 315.

Many people are unaware of the fact that much of the poultry, beef and pork products we eat every day have come from birds and animals that have been fed such materials as Aureomycin and vitamins routinely with their regular food to stimulate their growth. This has come about as a result of studies that have been made on other animals. Even our drinking water has been chlorinated and fluoridated for our health as a result of the experimental work done on animals in the past.

Of the approximately 100,000 animals asphyxiated annually in the various pounds in Massachusetts, only about one tenth of this number are needed in medicine and would be provided by the passage of Senate Bill No. 315. Contrary to the statements of George R. Farnum and M. H. Noyes in last week's issue of the Star, animals so provided would not be abused or tortured.

As an animal lover and owner of animal pets for over forty years, may I again urge everyone who has directly or indirectly benefitted from the experience and knowledge gained from the experimental work done on animals, to express his thanks by writing to his or her State Senator and Representative and asking them to vote "Yes" on Senate Bill No. 315. Those of us living in Winchester should address our letters to Hon. Frederick T. McDermott and Harrison Chadwick.

Harry L. Benson, M.D.

FROM THE M.S.P.C.A.

Editor of the Star:

I am writing to ask if you would be so kind as to give the enclosed release your personal attention.

Assuring you of our appreciation for your interest in this matter, we are Gratefully yours,

J. Robert McLane
Director Public Relations
Mass. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals

Dr. Eric H. Hansen, President of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, in a recent statement to members of the Society warned of the dangerous authority which lies within the new animal seizure bill should it become law. Dr. Hansen explained, "That under the provisions of the bill, an animal pound is defined as any individual or establishment which confines, cares for or disposes of seized, lost or strayed animals, pursuant to contract or other arrangement with any city or town or other public authority."

Dr. Hansen further stated, "Debate over the controversial subject of vivisection will obscure the important fact that this bill will give to the Commissioner of Health, or his agent, the power to force relinquishment of any live animal impounded in any of the pounds of the Commonwealth. Experimental laboratories, too, would also have the right, under this 'pound bill' to request humane societies to give up the 'unlicensed, unclaimed and unwanted animals' that they might have in their pounds. Societies such as this would then be compelled to abandon the principles upon which they were founded and to which they are dedicated."

"It is not only the fate of the animals that causes us such grave concern," continued Dr. Hansen, but also the basic issue of the bill, which raises the question: Are private charities to be subjected to governmental interference when they organize legitimately and within the law?"

NOT A CANDIDATE

Editor of the Star:

I wish to announce that I am not a candidate for re-election to the office of constable at the town election in March. I feel it only fair to make this announcement so there will be no misunderstanding.

CHILDREN LOST A FRIEND

The children of Winchester in particular and all others in general have suffered no small loss in the recent death of the Reverend William S. Packer.

There must be many who share my memory of this distinguished figure over the years: huddled over a small group of children on the hot, dusty tennis court patiently teaching them the game of tennis. In many cases he gave generously of his time and talent to two generations of the same family.

Of all his many accomplishments, it may truly be said, "No man ever stands quite so tall as when he stoops to help a child!"

LEAVES LIBRARY BOARD

The name of Mr. Leon Sargent should not have appeared among those who are seeking election to town office in March. After 15 years of continuous service as a Library Trustee Mr. Sargent has decided not to be a candidate to succeed himself this year. Papers had been placed in circulation for him before his decision had been made public, which accounts for the appearance of his name in last week's list of candidates in the Star.

D. A. R.

The Committee of Safety Chapter, D.A.R. met at the home of Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin on Monday, January 21, with Mrs. Hiram F. Moody, regent, presiding. Dessert and coffee were served by Mrs. John B. Wills and her committee.

The Chapter enjoyed the heirlooms brought by the members. Among the family heirlooms exhibited were a silver service set dating back to 1870, a plate used by Dolly Madison in the White House, a porringer and lustre pitcher of 1800, samplers dated 1799 and 1814 and a commission as ensign in the U. S. Army, January 1, 1777 signed by John Hancock.

Delegates and Alternates to the State Conference in Boston, March 14 - 15 were elected as follows:

Delegates:
Mrs. Hiram F. Moody
Mrs. Marshall Symmes
Mrs. William Goodhue
Mrs. Paul F. Stoneman
Alternates:
Mrs. John B. Wills
Mrs. Raymond C. Terhune
Mrs. Harold Twombly

HOSPITAL BEQUEST

Winchester Hospital announces that it has received a bequest of $30,000 from the estate of Jihn B. Pearson and Helen M. Pearson. The $30,000 from the estate of John B. and Ida R. Pearson Fund, will be invested by the trustees of the hospital and the income will be used for the benefit of Stoneham and Winchester residents who are unable to defray their full hospital expense.

The total book value of the hospital's investments before this bequest was $527,422.33. During the past year the hospital has benefitted from a 4% return from these funds. Gifts augmenting these funds were received during the year from the estate of George Bradley Cumings, the estate of Frank Simpson and from Mr. Maurice T. Freeman. The income from this endowment is an important factor in maintaining high quality hospital service at comparatively low rates.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

Plans are now well underway for the course to be given at the Winchester Hospital, starting February 4, for the training of Hospital Aides. As in the past, the instructor will be Mrs. Bertie Donaghy, who many of the alumnae of the course will remember for the fine instruction that they received from her.

Inquiries received at the Hospital indicate that there is considerable interest among women in this area in becoming a Hospital Aide. The training period lasts six weeks. Students are paid while attending school. That such a position offers a satisfactory career is attested by the fact that many of the graduates of the original class are still working in the Winchester Hospital.

Miss Laura Rogers, Director of Nursing at the Winchester Hospital, states that there are still a few vacancies left for those wishing to become Hospital Aides.

MANN ELECTED

Harvard L. Mann, formerly of Winchester and now of Cape Porpoise, Maine, senior partner of Spark, Mann and Company, Boston, has been elected to Northeastern University's Corporation, as an alumni-term member, President Carl S. Ell announced recently.

Comprised of more than 100 leading business, industrial and professional leaders, the corporation provides Northeastern's general policies. As an alumni-term member, he will serve on the corporation four years.

A certified public accountant in Massachusetts, New York and New Hampshire, Mann is one of the founders of Spark, Mann and Company.

Former president of the Massachusetts Society of CPA's, he is a member of the American Institute of Accountants and a life member of the University Club.

He is a director of the Merchants Co-operative Bank, a 32nd degree Mason, a member of the Winchester Country Club, and a graduate of Northeastern University's Evening School of Business.

SAINT MARY'S MOTHERS' CLUB

Neither snow nor sleet could keep Saint Mary's mothers from attending the January meeting last Wednesday evening. Those hardy ladies who ventured forth were rewarded by a very pleasant evening.

Mrs. Cheever of the Mystic Valley Gas Company showed us how to make party sandwiches and they really did look delicious as well as colorful. She then showed a movie on Mrs. America.

Ann Dreano, last year's president, who is visiting from her new home in Florida, had a grand reunion with old friends. She's as lovely and beautiful as ever. She misses Winchester and thinks New England winters are beautiful. We think so too, if we could view them from Florida.

Plans are already being made for another Fashion Show to be held in May. All who saw the show last year will remember that it was one of the most successful events of the season.

Tea was served by Peg Crotty and May Keene, assisted by the fourth grade mothers. Another delightful and profitable evening.

ARLINGTON—WINCHESTER SIMMONS CLUB

The Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club will hold the January meeting, Wednesday evening, January 30, at 7:30 p.m. at the Robbins Library, Arlington.

Dr. Benjamin Simon, director of the Ring Sanitarium, will lecture on the topic "The Feeling of Rejection." A film will accompany his lecture and a question and answer period will follow. All Simmons graduates are invited to attend.

The future plans for the Club were discussed at an executive board meeting held at the home of the club president, Mrs. James Walsh, 23 Hutchinson road. At that time spring activities, including a trip to Barbo's and the annual banquet were planned. It was agreed that the Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club, although only two years old, is looking forward to a bright future.

INFANT SAVIOUR GUILD

The next regular meeting of the Winchester Chapter will be held on Tuesday afternoon, January 29, at two o'clock, in St. Mary's Hall. After a short business session, President Mrs. Peter A. Murphy will introduce the chairman of the day Mrs. N. W. Purrington.

For this mid-winter program, Mrs. Purrington is planning a musicale for the entertainment of members and their guests. Mr. Newell Purrington a distinguished accordionist will render favorite selections. Preparations are being made for many exceptional features during the afternoon and we are anticipating a delightful production of vocal and instrumental music.

A coffee hour will follow the concert. Mrs. Arthur Center and Mrs. Henry Center, Hospitality Co-chairmen will be in charge of the hostesses.

MORNING COFFEE BENEFITS POLIO FOUNDATION

Mrs. Anthony Perrone of 7 Alden lane and Mrs. Charles Jefferson of 10 Alden lane gave a morning coffee Tuesday at Mrs. Perrone's home to benefit the Polio Foundation. Thirty-five attended the event, each making a contribution which was placed in a coffee can on the refreshment table.

THE SENIOR FORUM

This Sunday will again be Forum Sunday in Church at 11 o'clock when the members of the congregation will enjoy Forum particiipation in the service. The Chaplain this Sunday will be Kirby Baker. The deacons will be Dennis Baker, Richard Bates, David Bentley, John Curtis, Bruce Gunther and William Lindsey. The ushers will be Donald Crede, George Denton, Terry Mulford, Tim Reynolds, David Sturtevant and Dave Usher. The Forum Choir will sing. Dr. Cart will speak on the topic: "Can You Be Hypnotized?"

In the evening, Forum Student Council members are sponsoring another Class Night, by popular demand due to the great success of the Class Night meetings held last fall. Following a refreshment period, discussion will be led by the Student Council members from each class, and tentative plans for the Spring Vacation Trip will be presented. The classes will meet as follows: Freshmen, at the home of their Advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Bentley, with Betsey Schaefer and Phil Nichols in charge; Sophomores at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Mallery, with Sue Mallery and John Curtis in charge; Juniors at the home of Class Advisors Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Emerson, with Gretchen Mueller and Hank Schumacher in charge; and the Seniors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Schmink, with Marilyn Fish and Bill Schmink in charge. All meetings are scheduled at 6 o'clock.

Concentrated attention is being given to plans for International Week-end on February 2 and 3, and Adult Advisor, Mrs. Herbert P. Clark, is busy locating homes for the fifty to sixty guests who have expressed their desire to come to Winchester for this event.

Doug Gowdy has just been appointed as chairman of tickets for the Forum night at the Parish Players production of the mystery, "Bell, Book and Candle" on Thursday night, February 14.

YOUTH WEEK AT FIRST BAPTIST

With the religious, spiritual and social development of our Children and Youth one of our major goals, Youth Week, January 27 through February 2, will be observed at First Baptist Church.

The young people of the Church will be in charge of the Morning Worship Service next Sunday, January 27. The Youth and Junior Choirs will furnish the Music, the Message will be brought by Stanley Mullen, a member of our Church and also President of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of Massachusetts, and the following young people will participate in the Service: Frances Bosselmann, Jean Dawson, Joseph Dunn, Robin Carlson, Arlys Harrington, Janet Donovan and Edwin H. Tuller, Jr.

At seven o'clock Sunday evening the Senior High Fellowship will be guests of Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Bailey at the Parsonage, when they will begin a series of discussions on the Great Religions of the World. Islam or Mohammedanism is the subject chosen for Sunday. The Pastor will introduce the religion with a brief outline, a question and answer period will follow, and the evening will close with refreshments and a fellowship hour around the fireplace.

Youth Week will come to a climax in a light and gay atmosphere when our Junior and Senior High Fellowships, together with their friends, will enjoy a Square Dance in the Social Hall, Saturday evening, February 2, at seven thirty o'clock, under the leadership of our own Director of Christian Recreation, Mr. Alfred Meurling.

PERFECT CLIMAX

The touch of TV, which the Shawmut National Bank gave to Winton Club's "Wild West Show" was the perfect climax to the weeks of work involved in this exciting event. Winton Club has now received the wide-spread publicity it deserves. Perhaps other towns and other hospitals will be inspired sufficiently to follow its fine example.

Tonight and tomorrow night the Cabaret will play to capacity audiences who have been assured of the best time on the old town hall ever. A good show will greet all who are coming to help provide the hospitals linens.

FETE UNITARIAN CHURCH

Like a regiment rallying to its colors after being swept by enemy fire, the remnant of the Winchester Unitarian Choir which had not been hit by illness or unavoidable absence converged upon the Town Lyne House in Lynnfield last Sunday to deal with a dinner tendered by those gracious and indefatigable friends of the Choir, the Arthur Kelleys.

Despite the gaps in its ranks, the assault on varied and delicious fare was pressed with enthusiasm, from the opening skirmishes among melba toast and nuts to the mopping up operations with Martha's celebrated candy. One might say the position was carried en grande, despite a momentary breakdown in communications from Col. Bobby Horne's signal post. Col. Horne, however, redeemed himself by laying waste large sectors of the table single-handed, and received a citation for gallantry in the form of one of Arthur's cigars at the conclusion of the engagement, as did various others who served with distinction.

Attesting to the high morale of the troops was the fact that they burst repeatedly into such battle songs as "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "Down by the Old Mill Stream" in the midst of the attack.

Squad leaders Dolores Baldyga, Ann Lakis, Sidney Blanchard, Jr., and John Morabito displayed great coolness under fire, delivering their orders in clear soprano, contralto, baritone and tenor voices, respectively; and Dorothy Perkins and Bob Evans were mentioned in dispatches for their soprano and bass contributions to the success of the day.

Although everyone concurred in the opinion of Commanding General Mary Ranton Witham that somebody ought to pin a medal on the Kelleys for their wonderful hospitality, it actually turned out the other way around, for the entire regiment was decorated with the scarlet and ebony colors of the Kelley racing stables. The colors were wrapped in each case, around a box of Martha's candy.

WINCHESTER AT LEXINGTON

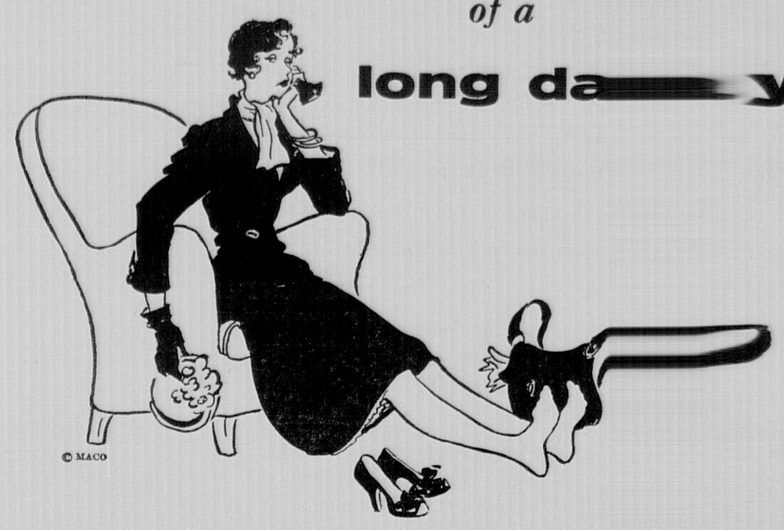
Winchester journeys to Lexington tonight to keep a Middlesex League basketball engagement with Lexington High, first and second teams commencing at 7 o'clock.

BABE RUTH MEETING JANUARY 30th

The Winchester Babe Ruth meeting at George Washington School Auditorium Wednesday, January 30, 7:30 p.m., is open not only to all parents of 13, 14 and 15-year-old boys, but to all our citizens.

Preceding a short business meeting. It is planned to have an open discussion, so our local league may benefit in making plans for the coming season.

Low spot of a long day



Full of zip and sunshine this morning, she set forth to pay bills. Running around . . . waiting to pay . . . waiting for receipts . . . waiting for change . . . Now look at her (if you're mean enough!)

She feels something is wrong, because charge accounts are a convenience. But no one has told her the BIG convenience is being able to PAY BILLS JUST BY MAILING CHECKS!

Do tell her, if you see her.

It's no trip at all to the mailbox. Bill-paying is fast and easy—and a lot safer—if you mail checks!

HEATING WITH LIQUID FUELS FROM FITZGERALD'S
Compare the following No. 2 Fuel Oil factors with any other modern heating fuel:
1. Flows to your heating equipment in the right amounts: no shoveling.
2. Slight waste that is easily handled by your chimney: no dust or soot.
3. FLASH POINT: at approximately 170 degrees F. makes fuel oil ideal for domestic storage with a minimum of fire hazard.
4. Not characterized by building shattering explosions.
By using a FITZGERALD SERVICE CONTRACT, you can be sure that your Furnace Oil is giving you real $$$ value.
If you are heating by any other fuel, CHANGE TO ALL THE ABOVE ADVANTAGES in a single type fuel by installing a heating unit

JUNIOR FLORENCE CRITTENTON

The winter meeting of the Winchester Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League was held on Tuesday evening, January 8, at the home of Mrs. Malcolm S. Burr, 15 Grove street.

Mrs. George R. Whitten, president of the Circle, presided over the business meeting.

This was followed by a most interesting and vivid talk by Miss Nancy R. Herbert, for some time the head of Reservations for Air France. Miss Herbert accompanied her description of some of her unusual experiences, the airline's famous passengers, and the beauties of France, with stunning colored movies of France.

During the course of the evening, excellent refreshments were served by Mrs. Donald L. Birchall and her committee, with Mrs. Charles Whitten and Mrs. David Conners pouring.

ST. MARY'S SODALITY

The Blessed Virgin Sodality of St. Mary's Church is sponsoring a Bridge and Whist party on February 12, at St. Mary's Hall. A coffee half hour will precede the card playing. This party is the major event of the Sodality and both committee and members are working very hard to make it a huge success, financially and socially.

A large number of excellent prizes will be available as well as a very special door prize. The proceeds of this party will go toward the St. Mary's Building Fund. Mrs. Frank P. Hurley, Prefect, is General Chairlady and she is assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Stevens, Assistant Prefect, Mrs. Bernard Hanley, Treasurer, and the Secretaries, Miss Jean Fitzgerald and Miss Joanne Donlin.

JUNIOR HIGH ASSOCIATES

PANEL DISCUSSION

Are you, as a parent, familiar with the guidance services offered by our schools? Do you have a guidance problem? In these days of expanding school enrollment, educators and citizens alike are finding it increasingly important to develop practical and efficient guidance programs. Just what is the scope and what the objectives of guidance in public education?

For the answers to these and related questions don't fail to attend the Mid-Winter Meeting of the Junior High Associates on Tuesday afternoon, January 29, at 2:30 p. m. in the Junior High Auditorium. At this time, Mr. Dickman will lead a panel discussion of "The Guidance Program in the Junior High School." In the interest of your child's future, you will not want to miss this meeting.

FIRST CHURCH ADULT COURSES

Mr. Robert Mulford, General Secretary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, will be the leader of the series on "The Church and Social Problems," the adult course at the First Congregational Church. This class will meet on Sunday mornings at 9:30 a. m. in the Palmer Room. "The Church and Family Life" will be discussed this Sunday, January 27.

The Wednesday evening adult class on "The Life of Jesus" will be led by Reverend Wesley A. Mallery, Associate Minister of the Church. "Jesus in Galilee" is the topic for the first session.

All who are interested in these two opportunities for inspiration and challenge are most welcome.

SCHOOL THEATRICALS BIG BUSINESS

STUDENT PRODUCTION IN 1955-56 TOTAL $30,000,000.

School theatricals are big business these days. A survey taken by the Tracy Music Library of Boston shows that nearly 40,000 plays, musicals, operettas, revues, minstrels and operas were produced during the 1955-56 season to the tune of $30,000,000.

Add to this another 20,000 glee club, musical and band concerts and figures show better than 2,000,000 teen-age youngsters "trod the boards" for the entertainment of parents, relatives, neighbors, teachers and fellow students.

The poll by Tracy Music shows that Gilbert and Sullivan operettas continue to hold first place in popularity in high school productions. Nearly 20,000 musical presentations, ranging from "Oklahoma to Mikado," plus a liberal sprinkling of original revues, were given by ambitious pre-college youngsters.

The 1955-56 hit parade of amateur musical productions listed "The Mikado" in the number one spot, followed by "H.M.S. Pinafore," "Oklahoma," "Amahl and the Night Visitors," "Brigadoon," "Down in the Valley," "Pirates of Penzance," "Annie Get Your Gun," and "The Fortune Teller."

Colleges majored in drama, rather than the elaborate musicals averaging three plays per college. Shakespearean dramas as a group were given more frequently than any other, but single, most popular plays were "The Crucible," "Medea," "Harvey and Antigone."

Tracy Music, one of the country's foremost sources of all materials for amateur shows, states that since the war school interest in show business, particularly musicals, has grown tremendously. Often heard is the comment that TV and radio are putting the skids under show business. Not so! For by the evidence, 75,000,000 people took time out to see their hopefuls perform in the school show.

Tracy Music Company is owned and operated by Mrs. Percival B. Metcalf of 12 Ginn road, Winchester. Both she and her late husband, who died in November, 1955, have been active in music and dramatic circles.

ST. MARY'S DELEGATES TO CYO CONFERENCE

The first Archdiocesan Youth Congress under the auspices of The Catholic Youth Organization, was held at the Bradford Hotel, Boston, on Saturday and Sunday, January 19 and 20. The Very Rev. John P. Carroll was the general chairman assisted by a large representative group of Council officers and members of the C.Y.O.

Delegates from St. Mary's parish were Daniel Doherty, Jr., 247 Highland avenue and Alfred Doherty Jr., 17 Sargent road.

Greetings were extended by the Governor of the Commonwealth, His Excellency Foster Furcolo. The Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing D.D., Archbishop of Boston addressed the delegates and The Right Reverend Joseph E. Schieder, Director, Youth Department N.C.W.C. delivered a timely message at the Appreciation Banquet, on Sunday evening, in the Grand Ballroom at the Bradford Hotel.

The two-day program consisted of Panel Sessions, Cotillion, Mass at The Cathedral of Holy Cross, Communion Breakfast, and election of Archdiocesan Officers.

CYO DANCE

Last Saturday night a CYO dance was held at St. Mary's Hall under the guidance and direction of Father Edmund Parker, and was assisted by "Easy" Ed Williams, local disc jockey. The fellows and gals attending really danced the shellac off the floors and a good time was had by all, including many mothers and fathers who were attending as chaperons.

Before intermission Mary Brenda Quinn and her dancing partner, William F. Burns, Jr.; also Mary Lou Russo and her partner, George Ducharme, won prizes in a dancing contest.

After intermission Ann Legere and her partner, Jack Ghirardini, won the big event of the evening. Ann was crowned "Miss Sno-Flake of 1957" and Jack was crowned "Mr. Sno-Ball of 1957." They were presented with a gift and suitably crowned.

Another dance will be held around Washington's Birthday in February.

JAMES A. WILLIAMS

HEADS STATE CANCER CRUSADE

James A. Williams, Boston general commercial manager of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been named general chairman of the 1957 Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society's Massachusetts Division, it was announced today by Dr. Joseph C. Aub, president of the division.

The Crusade, held annually throughout the month of April, is a combined educational and fund-raising effort on behalf of the American Cancer Society's three-way program of continued cancer research, education, and service to patients.

As head of the Bay State appeal, Mr. Williams will organize and direct an army of nearly 100,000 volunteers during the Crusade.

Mr. Williams and his wife reside at 1006 Canton avenue, Milton. They have one daughter and a grandson.

WINS POWER SHOVEL AWARD

Ronald G. Richburg of 13 Highland View avenue, a member of the firm of Richburg & Sons, was recently awarded a United States Savings Bond by the Marion Power Shovel Company of Marion, Ohio, for the best information on the location of the oldest power shovel any one might have, with pictures, and serial number. This information had to be submitted to the company by January 1, 1957.

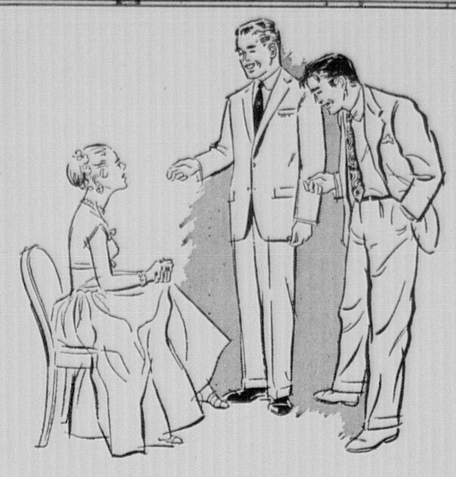
The material submitted by Mr. Richburg was deemed best by the judges, and he was notified to report at the Clyde Everett Equipment Dealers plant in Burlington to receive the award. Clyde Everett are representatives of the Marion Power Shovel Co., for this district.

With Mr. Richburg at the awarding ceremony were John Larkin and Stan Roberts of the Clyde Everett Co., Jim Purcell of the Marion Power Shovel Company and James Cunning of the New England Construction Magazine, who doubled as photographer.

Mr. Richburg has worked on all kinds of construction and has operated and maintained all kinds of construction equipment for 35 years.

He makes his home at 13 Highland View avenue, and his family consists of his wife, his daughter and three sons, who operate the Richburg Bros. Excavating and Grading business in town.

Mr. Richburg is currently employed as a diesel service engineer for Morrissey Bros. Tractor Company in Burlington, and also works with his sons in their business.



WHICH MAN PASSED THE N.P.* TEST?

*Ninety-Percent

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch . . . like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

You buy your clothes to make a good impression. As you wear them, have them drycleaned often. A smart man takes care to keep that impression fresh.

McDONOUGH RE-ENLISTS

Mr. Joseph R. McDonough traded in the Mister for Airman First Class in the United States Air Force Friday, January 18.

Airman McDonough originally enlisted in the United States Air Force August 18, 1952, and after spending a four-year tour was discharged honorably. He decided that the U. S. Air Force offered him more opportunities for promotions, travel and early retirement than his civilian job and with this in mind he contacted Master Sgt. Al Raftopoulos at the Air Force Recruiting Station, 49 High street, Medford, within the six-months period that the Air Force allows former airmen to remain discharged from the Air Force and still receive their former rank when they reenlist. Needless to say Sgt. Raftopoulos gave him the "Whole Story" and Airman McDonough reenlisted for a four-year term of enlistment.

Airman McDonough's mother, Mrs. Bridget McDonough, lives at 32 Shepard Court.

The young airman, who attended Winchester High School, is still home on a ten-day leave before he reports to his new Air Force duty station, McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey, as an Air Force Firefighter.

Stop dreaming... PRICE IT!

The Chieftain costs less than a lot of the "low-priced" cars yet delivers MORE POWER—MORE WHEELBASE—MORE ROOM!

Think this big, brawny beauty would fetch a fancy figure? Not the Chieftain. It's made to order for wishful thinkers—priced right down there with the strictly budget jobs! Surprised? You'll be even more so when you look over the long list of premium features in this brilliant newcomer. Under that glamorous garb, for example, is a big, rock-rugged X-member frame, riding solidly atop a whopping 122-inch wheelbase! Cushioning each wheel is Level-Line Ride, Pontiac's new dimension in suspension, bringing you the smoothest, safest ride you've ever known. And up front is the deep-chested new 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 engine—as sweet a performer as ever came down the pike! So, come on, stop dreaming! Come in and have a look at this big and beautiful automobile's eye-rubbing price! Size it up! We're willing to wager your next step will be into a Pontiac Chieftain!

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hour as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Availability today of the healing power of divine Truth will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christ Jesus' healing of the "woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself" (Luke 13) will be among the Scriptural passages read from the King James Version of the Bible. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Truth."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read (495:1): "God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God. Truth casts out error now as surely as it did nineteen centuries ago. All of Truth is not understood; hence its healing power is not fully demonstrated."

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

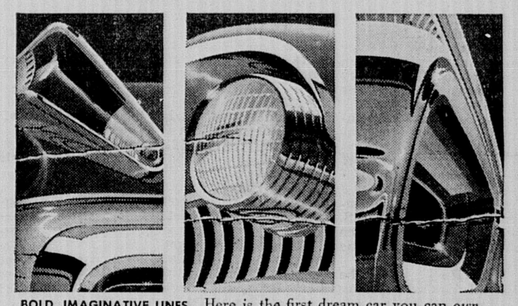
THIS IS THE BIG M FOR 1957

Styling from dream-cars



BOLD, IMAGINATIVE LINES—Here is the first dream car you can own—the first car you can buy with Dream-Car Design. Here's distinctive, distinguished styling shared by no other car.

FAR BIGGER IN EVERY IMPORTANT DIMENSION—This year Mercury has grown bigger in every important dimension. For example, there is more headroom, leg room, shoulder room, hip room.

action from sports cars

WIDEST RANGE AND CHOICE OF POWER IN MERCURY HISTORY—A 290-hp TURNPIKE CRUISER V-8 engine is optional on all models. In the Montclair series the standard engine is a 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8 with a Power-Booster Fan that saves horsepower other cars waste. A 255-hp Safety-Surge V-8 is standard in the Monterey series. A special M-335 engine (335-hp) is available at extra cost in Monterey models equipped with standard transmissions.

Never before has so much bigness and luxury cost so little. And Mercury introduces features you can't buy at any price in other cars. Mercury's new Dream-Car Design is Mercury's alone. It's sleek, daring, clean-cut—makes other cars look plump and old-fashioned. Mercury's exclusive Floating Ride is the finest combination of bump-smothering features ever put between you and the road.

Check the low price tags in our showroom. You'll find you can get a new Big M for little more down—or per month—than for the lowest price cars. And what a lot more you get!

There's Nothing Mysterious About It

We have three savings plans.

SERIAL SHARES: An account on which installment payments are made each month (from $1.00 to $40.00) until the shares with dividends are worth $200.00 each. A systematic monthly savings program.

PAID UP SHARES: When a share is completely paid for it becomes "paid up" with a guaranteed value of $200.00. Such paid up shares are always available to those who wish to make a lump sum investment.

SAVINGS SHARES: A new type of account that may be opened with as little as $1.00 and on which withdrawals and deposits may be made at any time.

Dividends are paid regularly on all three types of savings plans. All are fully insured. Choose the one to fit your purse and purpose.

LIBRARY NOTES

Toscanini Program Planned

Wednesday afternoon and evening, January 30, at 2:30 p.m. and 7:00 p.m., the Winchester Public Library will present an all-Toscanini program of recorded music.

Considered by many critics as the greatest conductor of our time, Arturo Toscanini became famous as an interpreter of the great composers Mozart, Beethoven, Haydn, Strauss and Wagner. In memory of this outstanding artist, selections from these composers' works will be played. It is through hi-fidelity recordings that the world will be able to keep alive for future generations the great genius of Toscanini and the beauty his baton could create.

Library Movies

Friday evening, February 1, at 7:30 p.m., Family Night at the library will feature the Academy Award-winning documentary film entitled "Helen Keller." This is a film beyond description; an experience one should not miss. On the same program an excellent and timely film, "The Suez Canal," will be presented.

Saturday, February 2, at 10:15 a.m., the unforgettable Walt Disney film, "Dumbo," will be shown. This is a full-length technicolor film. Tickets are available in the Boys' and Girls' Room beginning January 28.

This week's film program, Friday and Saturday, January 25 and 26, will be:

VOL. LXXVI NO. 21 THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1957 PRICE TEN CENTS

Late Surge Catches Tired Tanners

Winchester And Woburn Battle To Draw

In a game that got pretty rugged at times Winchester and Woburn battled to a two-goal tie last Saturday evening in a Northeast Conference hockey game before a big and partisan crowd at the Lynn Arena. The Tanners, needing the game badly to retain their mathematical chance for the Conference title, looked good to win in the early stages, but faded badly in the final stanza when Winchester knotted the count.

An indication of the type of play of both teams can be obtained from the fact that 14 penalties were called, seven for each team. Kelleher, Winchester's big defense man, seemed in constant trouble with the officials, and it was while he was occupying the penalty box during the first period that Woburn scored one of its goals.

McGilvary broke the scoring ice and sent Woburn ahead at 3 minutes and 6 seconds of the first period when he skated and stickhandled his way from mid-ice through several Winchester defenders to whale a scorcher into the net, a shot on which Denton never had a chance.

About a minute later Gentile scored again for the Tanners, going down the right lane and firing from 20 feet out into the corner. Denton has stopped much tougher shots, but he missed this one completely.

The teams battled on even terms through the second period and Woburn rooters faced the final stanza very confident.

The Tanners, however, had shot their bolt while Winchester, seeming much the fresher of the two teams, commenced to apply the pressure.

Woburn held Winchester scoreless for 4 minutes and 34 seconds of the final period, but at that time Leo Callahan banged home the Indians' first goal from a hot scrimmage in front of the Woburn net.

The tired Tanners held on grimly, and there was only a minute and 31 seconds remaining when Johnny Zirkel poked in the equalizer with assists going to Cussen and McElholm.

Denton prevented what appeared certain to be a Woburn goal when he saved beautifully on a breakaway attempt by Woburn's Demonico, who came in all alone from the blue line.

The Indians were scarcely in top form against Woburn, again showing that tendency to individual rather than team play that has hurt them so often this year.

Winchester's tie while Danvers and Marblehead were winning dropped the Indians into third place, while Danvers, still undefeated, leads the Conference with 17 points. Marblehead, in second place, has 16, and Winchester, 15.

Swampscott follows the Indians with 14. Woburn, in 5th place with 11, is all but out of the championship running. The summary:

WOBURN (2)— Goal, Moyer; defense, Walsh, Johnson, Dunk; forwards, McGilvary, Day, Gentile, Callahan, Rogers, DeMonico.

WINCHESTER (2)— Goal, Denton; defense, McElholm, Kelleher, Sandberg; forwards, Cussen, Callahan, Zirkel, Weaver, Emerson, Davenport.

First Period: McGilvary (Wob) 3:06, Gentile (Wob) 4:21.

Third Period: Callahan (Cussen) Win. 4:34, Zirkel (Cussen, McElholm) Win. 8:31.

Penalties: Kelleher (Win.) int., McElholm (Win.) charge., Johnson (Wob) charge., Gentile (Wob) hacking, Kelleher (Win.) charge., DeMonico (Wob) slash, Callahan (Wob) roughing, Davenport (Win.) roughing, Day (Wob) leg check, Zirkel (Win.) trip, Johnson (Wob) high stick, Kelleher (Win.) trip, McGilvary (Wob) check in center zone, Kelleher (Win.) trip.

WILLIAM J. SPEERS, JR.

HEADS STATE G. O. P. CLUB

William J. Speers, Jr., Winchester lawyer, was elected today as President of The Republican Club of Massachusetts, largest GOP organization in the state, at its annual meeting held following a noon luncheon at the Parker House, Boston.

Other officers elected include Ambassador Thomas A. Pappas of Belmont, as vice-president; Gen. Otis M. Whitney of Concord, State Commissioner of Public Safety, as treasurer; and former Senator Richard S. Bowers of Brookline, as secretary.

Elected to the board of directors were: Ralph H. Bonnell of Winchester, Republican National Committeeman; Past President Vernon B. Hitchins of Dedham, Miss Edna Bogosian of Watertown; Richard I. Furbush of Waltham, former Senate President; Augustus G. Means of Essex, Executive Councillor; Joel L. Miller of Boston, Secretary of the Boston Licensing Board; Roy C. Papalia of Watertown, a member of the Public Utilities Commission; Attorney George B. Rowell of Cambridge, former chairman of the Republican State Committee; former Senator Richard F. Treadway of Sturbridge; Mrs. Raymond W. Wheeler of Malden, Republican National Committeewoman.

President Speers, a graduate of Yale College and the Harvard Law School, has been a practicing lawyer in Boston since 1934. He is president of the Harvard Law School Association of Massachusetts.

For years he has been active in civic and charitable affairs, and is a director of the Winchester Hospital; a trustee of the Forsyth Dental Infirmary for Children; a trustee of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation; and a corporation member of the Winchester Home for the Aged.

CHARLES A. ALDEN

Charles A. Alden, 77, former assistant treasurer of the Eastern Gas and Fuel Association, died suddenly Sunday night, January 27, at his home, 14 Ardley road.

Mr. Alden was the son of Charles H., and Emma (Joyce) Alden. He was born January 31, 1879, in Duxbury and was a direct descendant of John Alden. He was connected with the Eastern Gas & Fuel Associates for more than 40 years, retiring seven years ago, at which time he came to Winchester.

He previously lived in Arlington for 35 years and was a member of Hiram Lodge, A.F. & A.M. of that town. He was treasurer of several concerns subsidiary to the fuel associates, including the New England Coke Company, New England Coal and Coke Company and Mystic Iron Works.

Mr. Alden leaves a daughter, Mrs. Esther Swearingen of Yarmouth, Me., and two grandsons.

Masonic funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Masonic Temple on Academy street in Arlington. Rev. Charles Pedersen, chaplain of Hiram Lodge and pastor of Calvary Methodist Church in Arlington, officiated. After cremation burial will be in the family lot in Mayflower Cemetery, Duxbury.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of Beechwood Drive, Huntington, New York, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorcas Marjorie Jones, to Mr. Robert B. Zarse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Zarse of 8 Felsdale Close.

Miss Jones will be graduated this June from Vermont Junior College in Montpelier.

Mr. Zarse is an alumnus of Norwich University '56, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He is now serving his tour of duty as a lieutenant in the United States Army.

No date has been set for the wedding.

READING HERE TONIGHT

Winchester plays an important Middlesex League game tonight in the high school gym with Reading, the team giving the Indians its hardest first round fight with the exception of Belmont.

Reading always gives Winchester a battle, and though the Rockets are hardly favored to beat Winchester they can be depended upon to bother the Indians.

Winchester needs this one to keep in the Middlesex League championship running and will go all out to win. Game starts at 7:00 p. m.

Next week's games are both away, February 5, at Concord and February 8, at Melrose.

DANIEL J. O'LEARY

The funeral of Daniel J. O'Leary of 16 Kendall street, retired letter carrier and widely known resident of Winchester for more than 65 years, was held Monday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Martin J. Dolphin was celebrant, Rev. Charles E. Anadore was deacon and Rev. Edmund Parker, subdeacon. Seated in the sanctuary was Rev. Joseph Mahoney of St. Joseph's Church, Medford, former curate at St. Mary's.

A group of uniformed carriers from the Winchester Post Office, under Foreman Carl Morse, acted as honorary pallbearers. Included were John Barry, Robert Swymer, Herbert Nelson, Hugh McElhinney, Paul Quigley, Raymond Ross, Albert MacDonnell, John Doherty and Edward Foley.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Father Anadore and Father Mahoney.

Mr. O'Leary died early Thursday afternoon, January 24, at the Winchester Hospital, following several weeks illness. He became critically ill shortly before Christmas, entering the hospital at that time. His condition improved and he was able to go home, but last week Wednesday he re-entered the hospital, after suffering a relapse from which he failed to rally.

Mr. O'Leary, affectionately known everywhere as "Dan," was the son of Daniel, and Margaret (Sullivan) O'Leary. He was born May 4, 1891, in Woburn, but on Memorial Day following his birth he came with his parents to Winchester, growing up in the Plains Section of the town on Swanton street.

He completed grammar school and then went to work for the late Francis J. O'Hara, acting as caretaker of his estate on Mystic avenue and as his coachman. He later drove Mr. O'Hara's one-cylinder Cadillac which was among the first automobiles in town.

On March 29, 1914, Mr. O'Leary entered the Fire Department when its Central Station fronted on Winchester place and was located on land, a part of which is now occupied by the police garage.

He drove the three-horse-hitch that drew the department's famous old steamer, "Mary Ann" and was the last of Winchester's drivers to take a piece of horse-drawn apparatus out of town, driving "Mary Ann" to Woburn to assist at a shop fire on Pleasant street, only a short time before the department became motorized.

While a member of the Fire Department Mr. O'Leary took the examination for carrier at the Winchester Post Office, resigning as a fireman December 29, 1917. While waiting for his Postoffice appointment he worked at the old Whitney Machine Shop which was torn down to make room for the Winchester Theatre.

He was appointed to the Postoffice as a carrier January 16, 1919, and he served continuously in this capacity for 36 years, being first assigned to Route 4. This route in those days started at Knight's Pharmacy (now McCormack's Apothecary) and covered both sides of Main street to the Woburn line, then down Cross street and through the so called "Sand Banks" section of the town.

With the death of the previous carrier Mr. O'Leary was assigned to Route 7, the Symmes corner route May 31, 1924, and he remained on that route until he retired December 14, 1955. A cheery smile, a friendly greeting or a quip or two seasoned with a ready wit, made Mr. O'Leary welcome all over his route. Children and dogs followed him in every neighborhood while many elderly or infirm persons had their letters read for them or other kindnesses shown them by the friendly "Dan" O'Leary.

Mr. O'Leary was a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society, past secretary of the Postal Employees Association and past president of the Catholic Order of Foresters.

On June 18, 1913, he married Catherine Madden of Winchester, who survives, with two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Travers of Youngstown, Ohio, and Mrs. George Durant of Winchester; two sons, Daniel J. Jr., of Stoneham, and John M. O'Leary of Winchester; seven grandsons and three granddaughters; two brothers, Dennis of Arlington and John S. O'Leary of Winchester; and two sisters, May O'Leary and Mrs. Margaret Keeler, both of Winchester.

SCHOLARSHIP COMMITTEE MET

The opening meeting of the Scholarship Committee of the Central Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association was held Monday evening, January 28, at the home of the chairman of the ways and means committee, Mrs. Elmer Grinnell of Forest street

Plans were formulated for launching the town-wide house-to-house campaign for funds, to be turned over to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, to assist qualified Winchester High School graduates on to higher fields of education.

This, the sole money-raising project of the central board, is to take place from April 1 through April 7 inclusive. The successful completion of this task requires the cooperation of many town-folk and the following have kindly consented to act as chairmen of their respective districts:

Washington—Mrs. Charles Crede
Lincoln—Mrs. S. Kennedy Tully
Mystic—Mrs. Harry Arlanson
Wyman—Mrs. Forest McLean
Parkhurst—Mrs. Bertram Dube, Mrs. Warren Taylor
Noonan—Mrs. Paul McGarthy
Treasurer—Mrs. Donald Campbell
Publicity—Mrs. Thomas L. Purtle

TESTIMONIAL FOR OFFICER FARRELL

Plans are being made to honor Veteran Police Officer James E. Farrell at a dinner to be held some time in the spring in recognition of his completing 38 years of service to the town.

Now assigned to desk duty at Headquarters, Officer Farrell has included all sorts of police service in his long years with the Winchester Police. While active in this capacity he was considered one of the outstanding traffic officers in the Mystic Valley.

REV. HOWARD J. CHIDLEY, D.D.

COLLEGE HONORS TO DR. CHIDLEY

Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational Church, left Sunday with Mrs. Chidley to attend the unveiling of a portrait of Dr. Chidley at North Carolina College at Durham.

The portrait, presented to the college by Mrs. Chidley, is hung in the reception lounge in Chidley Hall, a large dormitory, named for Dr. Chidley in honor of his long service to the college as a lecturer and member of the board of trustees.

DRESSER — BARNARD

Miss Joan Marie Barnard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Barnard of 52 Middlesex street, had her sister, Miss Judith Ann Barnard of Winchester, as her honor attendant at her marriage on Sunday afternoon, January 6, at the Immaculate Conception Church to Philip Emery Dresser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Dresser of 83 Cambridge street. The Rev. Stephen Burke performed the ceremony at 3:30 o'clock and a reception followed at the Town Line in Woburn.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Barnard wore a full-length gown of ivory satin with a train, a princess neckline and fitted bodice. Her bridal veil was fingertip-length and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis centered with an orchid.

The honor maid wore a pink taffeta dress with a green velvet jacket and matching hat, green shoes and a green velvet muff adorned with flowers. The bridesmaids, Miss Janet and Miss Joyce Barnard, sisters of the bride, also wore pink taffeta dresses with American Beauty accessories.

Cecil W. Pride of Winchester was Mr. Dresser's best man, and ushering were Donald McFeeley of Winchester and James LaCasse of Woburn.

After a honeymoon spent in Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Dresser will make their home in Winchester.

Both are graduates of Winchester High School and Mr. Dresser is associated with the J. H. Winn Company in Winchester.

ROCRAY — STROCK

On Sunday, January 27, at the New England Congregational Church in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Miss Winifred Strock, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lester W. Strock, became the bride of Mr. John Allen Rocray, son of Mrs. Bertil E. Lindvall of Alesworth street. Following the ceremony a luncheon was served at the Gideon Putnam Hotel.

After a wedding trip to Nassau Mr. and Mrs. Rocray will live in Ithaca, N. Y. Mrs. Rocray is transferring to Cornell from the University of Michigan, and Mr. Rocray will continue his studies at the Cornell Law School.

WOOLWORTH'S REMODELLING

The F. W. Woolworth store on Main street is remodelling for self service with new central wrapping units.

New departments for both men and women have been installed and a curtain department has been added. The new layout will be in operation February 7.

BEAVER AWARD HIGHLIGHTS FELLSLAND MEETING

The thirty second Annual Meeting of Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held in Chidley Hall of the First Congregational Church of Winchester on Thursday, January 24, with two hundred fifty members and guests present. The following officers were elected for the year 1957.

President, A. Benjamin Gowing
Vice President, William A. Swett
Vice President, William O. Jones
Vice President, Frank A. Feldman
Secretary, Joseph W. Butler
Treasurer, Charles W. Butler
Asst. Treasurer, George L. Billman
Commissioner, Charles E. Forbes

Committee Chairmen were appointed as follows: Finance, Harry Taylor; Health and Safety, Dr. Donald E. McLean; Public Relations, Robert W. Reynolds; Training, W. Howard Niblock; Camping and Activities, Norman Houghton; Organization and Extension, William A. Swett.

Mr. Kenneth S. Hall of Winchester was presented the Silver Beaver Award, the highest award within the jurisdiction of the Local Council, in recognition of his faithful and effective service to boys over a period of twenty-five years. The glory of Scouting is the glory of its volunteer leadership. Through such leadership Scouting has been brought to the high place it occupies in the respect of the American People. The presentation was made by Mr. Stafford Rogers, formerly of Winchester now a resident of North Hampton, N. H., a long time friend of Mr. Hall.

Mr. Milo G. Clark, Regional Scout Executive of Region I spoke briefly on Scouting in the Region.

Mr. George Redding, Chairman of the Winchester Board of Selectmen, brought the greetings to the town and gave a short talk on the merits of Scouting.

Mr. Harry Arlanson, Coach of football at Tufts University, spoke on his experiences with boys and young men in football. The end result of all our forces, School, Church, Home and Youth Services, should be good sports and good citizens.

Elected to the Executive Board from Winchester are:

KIWANIS CELEBRATES 42nd ANNIVERSARY

The Winchester Kiwanis Club took part in the 42nd anniversary observance of the founding of Kiwanis International at the weekly meeting held January 23. Kiwanis has grown to over 4300 clubs and a membership of over a quarter million.

The guest speaker was Mr. J. Joseph Tansey, dean of students at Wentworth Institute and former chairman of the Winchester Board of Selectmen. Mr. Tansey gave a very informative and interesting talk on youth services and how this type of service work by Kiwanis benefits the community. "Joe" will be a welcome speaker at any time.

Mrs. Mildred H. Mahoney of 8 Everett avenue was guest speaker at the regular Kiwanis meeting held on Wednesday night, January 30. Her topic was "Racial Discrimination." It was a most interesting and enlightening lecture which was well received by our members and guests.

The Woburn Club visited with Winchester this week and as usual when these two groups meet, a good time was had by all.

ATTENDED CONFERENCE AT B. U.

A number of Winchester teachers attended the Beginning Teachers Conference at Boston University College of Business Administration Saturday, January 26, under the auspices of Boston University School of Education's chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, National Honor Society for Women in Education.

Miss Claire Corcoran served as a member of the Remedial Reading Panel, Miss Ruth W. Page served as a member of the Kindergarten Panel and Miss Marion Phipps served as a consultant to the Grade V Panel, of which Miss Margaret Millican was also a member.

Attending the conference from the Winchester School Department were Miss Betty Batchelder, teacher, Grade IV; Miss Dorothy Hammond, teacher, Grade VI; Miss Janet M. Greeno and Miss Edna Smith, teachers, Grade I.

Miss Mary Graham, a resident of Winchester and a permanent substitute in the Woburn School Department, also attended the conference.

EDWARD H. CORRIGAN

The funeral of Edward H. Corrigan of 93 Pleasant street, Woburn, who died at his home Sunday evening, January 27, was held Wednesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Charles Church in Woburn. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Corrigan, who was married to a former Winchester girl, Margaret Luongo, had been for a year in poor health. He was the son of former Woburn Alderman James J., and Nellie M. (Hanlon) Corrigan, and was born in Woburn September 24, 1902.

A graduate of Woburn High School and of Suffolk Law School, he was an attorney, and until ill health forced his retirement, had been a claim adjustor for the Eastern Racing Insurance Company. A veteran of World War II, he was a member of George A. Campbell Post, A. L., of Woburn, and a former member of both the Woburn Elks and Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Corrigan married Miss Luongo in Winchester February 20, 1944. His wife survives, with the parents of the deceased, living in East Woburn. Also surviving are two brothers, James Franci, of Woburn, and P. Joseph Corrigan, a Medford school teacher.

SIMMONS ALUMNAE COUNCIL

The 79th meeting of the Simmons College Alumnae Council to be held on Saturday, February 2, will bring to the college nearly two hundred members from all over the country to attend an all-day session of meetings and workshops.

Among the club and class officers, executive board, honorary members, past presidents, resources and fund committee members attending, will be local Simmons alumnae: Mrs. William L. Glowacki of 18 North Gateway, class president; Lydia B. Osborne of 7 Stratford road, class president; Mrs. James F. Walsh of 23 Hutchinson road, president of the Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club; and Edith H. Skerry of 63 Woodside road, treasurer.

DISCUSS OPERA PLANS FOR WINCHESTER

GALA LAUNCHING OF GOLDOVSKY CONCERT

Winchester's social calendar was enhanced and enlivened by the recent visit to town of Boris Goldovsky, famous concert pianist, and his charming wife. The scene of this festive occasion was the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Knox, Jr., at 1 Curtis circle. Assisting Mrs. Knox in arrangements for the cocktail party at which the Goldovskys were guests of honor were Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel and Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell, co-chairmen of the Winchester Community Theatre Goldovsky Concert, which is to be presented in the High School auditorium on the evening of March 9. This delightful party marked the formal launching of plans for the forthcoming Concert, which will be a milestone in the town's cultural history, marking opera's first visit to Winchester!

Among those present were the Board of Directors of the Theatre group Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff, president; Mrs. Joseph Butler, executive secretary; Mr. Roland Carter, treasurer; Mrs. Olcott Hooper, Mr. George Billman, Dr. Lawrence Quigley, Miss Grace Wills, Mr. Earle Littleton, Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell, Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge, Mrs. Doris Stone, Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel, Mrs. Ronald P. King and Mr. Edward Drohan.

Others included in the guest list were members of the Concert's planning committee, Mrs. Stephen Root, Mrs. John R. Sheehan, Mrs. Henry C. Marcionette, Mrs. Edward Little, Mrs. Henry A. Magno, Mrs. James Hintlian, Mrs. A. J. Conneli, Mrs. Richard Carr, Mrs. Winthrop S. Knox, Jr., and Mrs. James C. Marchant. Husbands and wives of members of the planning groups shared in the evening's enjoyment.

Mr. Goldovsky was himself most enthusiastic about his plans for the Spring event. He explained that rather than do one full opera he and his New England Opera Company will do familiar and popular excerpts from nine different operas. These will be enacted in full costume and sung in English, and will be enlivened by Mr. Goldovsky's own inimitable commentary.

During his visit the honor guest recounted many interesting personal experiences in the opera theatre. He feels that Americans are growing in their cultural lives and seeking opera as a natural source, with its combination of music and acting. Opera in the tongue, native to the actors, makes for a more realistic portrayal and a more spontaneous enjoyment, the artist contends.

So, it will opera in town and opera as you like it, as planned by the enthusiastic Concert Committee. Many are busily planning dinner and after theater parties, to make a real theatre event of the occasion. It promises to be an outstanding community affair!

Chosen as Law Intern

Chisholm Serving In D. A.'s Office

Ronald J. Chisholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald M. Chisholm of 227 Cross street, is one of four law school students chosen to serve as student interns in the office of James L. O'Dea, Jr., district attorney for Middlesex County in a new program of legal internship which is the first of its type to be instituted in a county prosecutor's office anywhere.

Under this program senior students in Boston College, Boston University, Harvard and Suffolk Law School will be recruited by the deans of their schools to participate. Those finally selected will be assigned by the district attorney to work with his assistants on legal research, preparation of briefs, liaison with police departments and probation officers, and to observe actual trial work by the assistant district attorneys.

The program will enable the district attorney's staff to utilize trained personnel to carry out the work of the district attorney at no cost to the taxpayer, resulting in more comprehensive treatment of cases under his jurisdiction.

At the same time the program presents for the students involved a unique opportunity to gain insight and experience in the actual practice of law, particularly criminal law, a field to which it is becoming increasingly difficult to attract able young lawyers.

Equally important in the district attorney's opinion is the opportunity the program gives competent young lawyers to become acquainted with government service. "It will bring home to young men and women," said the district attorney, "the challenging and satisfying aspects of public service, and attract more able people into government, something which is sorely needed."

The program will continue until Friday, April 26, with plans for the summer and for the following year to be announced after some experience has been gained with the present program.

In being selected as one of those to pioneer the new system in the D. A.'s office Ronald Chisholm, or "Jake," as he used to be known when he was a high school athlete, won for himself a high honor.

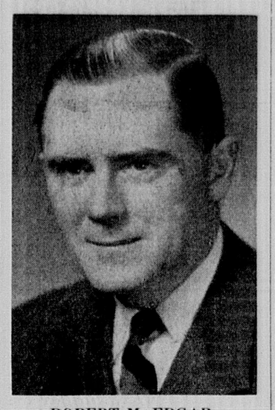
First of all he was selected by his Suffolk Law School dean to be one of several hundred senior law students at Suffolk, B. U., B. C. and Harvard, from which the final law internes were to be chosen.

Very careful screening of the large group resulted in several reductions in the number of original candidates until finally the four successful ones were selected. Only an outstanding candidate could survive such competition.

Mr. Chisholm was born in Melrose, but came to Winchester as a boy and attended junior high and high school here. At high school he played both football and baseball, and he continued his interest in baseball as a player in the independent ranks after school.

After graduating from Winchester High he entered Boston College for pre-law training before matriculating at Suffolk where he is a member of the senior class to be graduated in June. His plans, other than taking the bar examination in July, are still in the formative stage.

Ronald is one of three children, having two sisters, Miss Jane Chisholm and Mrs. Arthur Regan, both of Winchester. He has been the recipient of congratulations and warm praise from his many friends for his outstanding scholastic achievement.



ROBERT M. EDGAR

EDGAR RED CROSS CHAIRMAN

Appointment of Robert M. Edgar, of 21 Oxford street, as Chairman, 1957 Fund Campaign, of the Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross was announced this week.

At the same time it was announced that Sunday, March 10, will be "Red Cross Fund Sunday" in Winchester, when an organized house-to-house drive will be conducted to raise the town's quota for Red Cross in 1957.

Edgar, who is Vice President, and a director, of the Middlesex County National Bank, will shortly announce the local committee which will conduct the 1957 Red Cross campaign in Winchester, under his direction.

Edgar, a graduate of Dartmouth in the Class of 1928, has, in addition to his business activities, long been active in town affairs in Winchester. Among other activities he served as a member of the Town Finance Committee from 1949 to 1952. In 1950 he was named Chairman of the Service Division of the Greater Boston Red Cross.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

George Cornell Krusen, 2nd, 54 West Main street, Westborough, and Betsey Morton, 38 Arlington street.

Roy Charles Cummings, Jr., 302 West 79th street, New York City, and Leora Hall Peckham, 64 Church street.

John Joseph Fitzsimmons, Jr., 27 Victoria road, Arlington, and Florence Angelina Caterino, 187 High street.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN ATTENTION!

On the evening of February 6, the Women's Republican Club of Winchester is having their regular monthly meeting.

All members and guests are to meet at the home of Mrs. John Volpe, 10 Everett avenue at 7:30 p. m.

While coffee is being served there will be a ready made opportunity to meet with friends and fellow workers. Also a chance to talk with the Republicans you do not know very well. Do come with a husband, preferably your own, but do not allow the lack of one to prevent your attendance.

Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton, Mass., is to be the speaker. He was nominated to be President of the State Senate. However, Senator Noonan Holmes, Democrat, was the winning opponent Many bills come before the Senate about which one knows very little. This is the chance to listen to one well versed in the knowledge of these various bills. Do have questions to ask. Every Republican needs to learn the background, pro and con, of our legislative procedure. Come one, come all!

RECENT BIRTHS

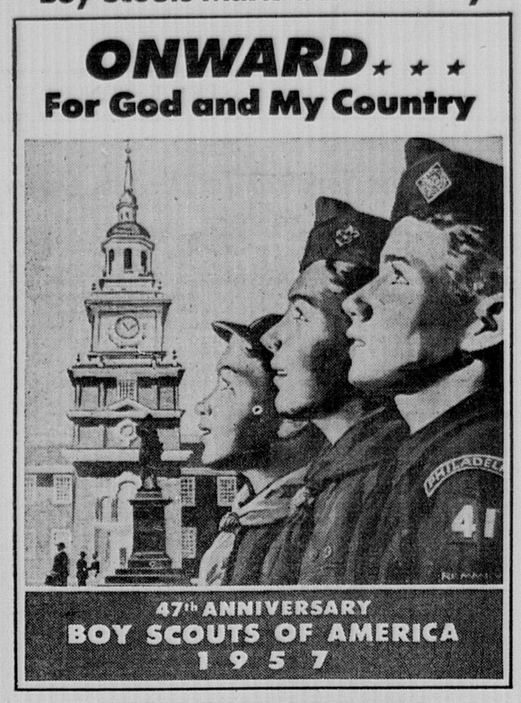
Boy Scouts Mark 47th Birthday



OFFICIAL BOY SCOUT WEEK POSTER

More than 4,500,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders throughout the nation will observe Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12, marking the 47th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Since 1910, Scouting has served over 26,000,000 boys and adult leaders.

Through its Four-Year Program, "Onward for God and My Country," the organization seeks to train more boys in patriotism and character so that they will become intelligent citizens with an appreciation of the free way of life and a dedication to high spiritual ideals.

Boy Scout Week observances will feature preparation for the Fourth National Jamboree, which will find 50,000 Scouts and leaders camping where Washington camped at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, next July 12 to 18. The nation's 111,000 Scout units will feature rededication ceremonies on February 8, the actual birthday of Scouting in America.

WINCHESTER SAVINGS BANK

GUESTS OF THE BOWES AT WOLFEBORO

Firefighter Charlie Moran, Main street and his family enjoyed a winter week-end last week visiting the Richard Bowes at King's Hill Farm in Wolfeboro, N. H.

Charlie fished through the ice on Wolfeboro Bay in one of the fish huts, set up in Fisherville, getting some nice yellow perch.

The children skated, visited the ski tow and rode the Bowes Burro.

This was Nancy's first visit to the farm and she was quite taken by the size and beauty of the pheasant raised by Dick Bowe.

In spite of the cold weather Charlie was surprised to find Dick out showing lakefront property. Dick explains this is not unusual. After all "people buy oil in the summer to use in the winter," he said.

One high point of the Moran's visit was the wonderful roast pheasant dinner served in true gourmet style.

The Morans will never ask again —what do you people do all winter because they now know.

The Bowe family moved from Winchester to Wolfeboro and Dick is in the real estate business and is known as one of the foremost pheasant breeders in New England.

LIBRARY NOTES

ADDITIONS TO BUSINESS COLLECTION

The Library has just added to its Business Collection the new "1956 Editor and Publisher Market Guide," which is the thirty-first annual survey of 1,513 daily newspaper markets in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Manila, and Canada. Information featured in the 1956 issue is as follows:

Population and housing
Retail Stores
Individual Incomes
Banking
Local Industries
Retail Outlets
Local Newspapers
National Representatives
Original State Maps
Key Markets, by size
State Market indexes

Other important and timely additions are pamphlets on taxation; namely, 1957 edition of "J. K. Lasser's Your Income Tax and Your Federal Income Tax 1956." These should help you to save much time, trouble, and money in preparing your 1956 tax returns.

Music and Films

The regularly scheduled recorded music program will be held Wednesday afternoon and evening at 2:30 and 7:00 p.m. Any requests for favorites will be played.

The Friday evening film programs will feature two important films "Helen Keller" and "The Suez Canal." The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday morning, Walt Disney's technicolor film "Dumbo" will be shown beginning at 10:15 a.m. Tickets, obtainable in the Boys' and Girls' Room of the public library, are necessary for admission.

Next week's film program, Friday and Saturday, February 8 and 9, will feature the 1956 academy award winning film, "Face of Lincoln." Also on the program will be "Saugus Iron Works" and "The Tale of the Ground Hog's Shadow."

FIRST AID CLASS TUESDAY

A first aid training course will start on Tuesday evening, February 5, in the Winchester Red Cross room adjoining civil defense headquarters in the basement of the town hall.

Classes will be of two-hour duration, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., and will be held weekly on Tuesday for nine weeks, for a total of 18 hours.

This course is offered only to persons 16 years of age or over. No charge is made for tuition, the only expense being one dollar for first aid textbooks and a triangular bandage. Certificates granted will be valid for three years.

The course is jointly sponsored by the Red Cross and Civil Defense. In addition to standard first aid practices, problems relating to Civil Defense will be considered. An authorized Red Cross instructor will conduct the classes.

In addition to a number of ordinary citizens, several members of the police and fire departments have indicated their intention to join the class. If you are interested, call the Red Cross at WInchester 6-2300, or Civil Defense at WInchester 6-3257, and register.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Bowling went off on schedule this third night of the final half.

The Blue Eyes had to go all the way to maintain their slim margin for the All Stars also took four points to hang on to the leaders, who are at present the Blue Eyes.

A complete picture, including pinfalls, shows that even if a team leads in pinfalls, they don't necessarily lead the pack. Like a national election, the popular vote doesn't necessarily mean you will be president.

Complete Team Standings

	W	L	P. F.
Blue Eyes	13	3	5512
All Stars	12	4	5586
Rock & Roll	9	7	5579
Lindy Hop	9	7	5483
Hot Shots	8	8	5504
High and Low	7	9	5599
Jitterbugs	4	12	5293
Bee Bops	2	14	5242

Hi Single—Frank Gangi 147
Hi Triple—Dick Fiore 356

Top Ten Bowlers

Tony Saraco	103.7
Richard Bucci	102.4
Dick Fiore	102.2
Joe Berardi	99.1
Bob Fiore	98.2
Babe Tofuri	97.9
Choppers Gangi	95.3
Tony Chefalo	94.4
Max La Carubba	93.9
Mingy Frongillo	93.5

There was a scarcity of 300 bowlers this week and only four were fortunate enough to hit the bell. The lucky few were Choppers Gangi, who really is hitting his stride, and had a 338; Max La Carubba, 303; Tony Saraco, 302; and one who seeks no publicity and requested that his name be withheld bowled 303.

Last week the Rock and Roll boys put on a great exhibition but lost 3-1. This past week the shoe was on the other foot. They copped high team pinfalls with 1399. Although they won 3 points they could have taken all four, but because of circumstances beyond their control they had to be satisfied with 3.

Out of retirement, a lonely figure shuffled up to take his former place as captain of the Rock & Roll team. Hokie had all eyes focused on him as he stated he would bowl this night.

Much was at stake, so after much persuasion Hokie was convinced that he should be lead-off man. The other members of his team made up their minds that they had to carry him—and that they did to cover up his meager efforts. Like the old saying, "A champion once defeated never regains his crown!"

A standing ovation was accorded Hokie as he left the alleys. This once great warrior knew that the end had come. Like those gone before him he was like a legend of years gone by.

The score read as follows in Rock & Roll's effort: Jake Jacobellis 285, Al Diminico 274, Joe Amico 280, Max La Carubba 303, and Captain Hokie Procopio 257.

There was a lot of talk about absentees but the improvement is remarkable.

There are those who, though they be crippled, make it a must to be present. A perfect example of this was "Sir Winston" Frongillo's presence despite an injured leg that caused him excruciating pain. He was forced to drag his right leg each and every time he bowled. He set an example for those who are always complaining about aches and pains there. From broken fingers, cracked cranium, swollen knees and many others too numerous to mention he continues to shine! He will not back tread one inch because the bulldozer knows that he is his master. (P.S. We would like to suggest that the town install a hydraulic lift from the ground to the cab of the bulldozer.)

We had a pleasant visit from an old timer this evening, "Creeper" Gene Rotundi, another great bowler. Like the Gene of old he had very little to say.

There was quite a commotion as the name rang out for the award this week. The name Fiore was the recipient and this name is popular, as there are Peter, Bob, Richard, William and Corregidor Fiore. The ultimate winner was Richard Fiore, assistant scout master, Troop 1, Winchester.

See you next week.

CUSHMAN RECITAL

W.D.N.A. ANNUAL MEETING

Due possibly to the fact that the annual meeting this year was held in the evening and at the Washington school auditorium rather than in a private home, an especially large number of interested townspeople attended. The meeting was held Tuesday evening, January 22 at eight o'clock. After a social hour of coffee and cookies served by Mrs. Paul Forrester and her committee the business meeting was called to order by Mrs. Clarence Luitwieler, Jr., the president.

The secretary, Mrs. Ronald Wyman gave her annual report which incorporated the reports of the various other committees of the Association. She spoke especially of the high standard of service given by the staff to the townspeople of Winchester. In this regard she mentioned particularly the regret felt by the board at Miss Petersens resignation in September but spoke of the high regard in which Mrs. Pearson is already held not only by the board and the other members of the staff, but by the townspeople whom she already serves. Mrs. Wyman in closing her report gave special mention to Mrs. Luitwieler, the outgoing president who has so ably served the Association in the past two years.

Mrs. Austin Broadhurst the Treasurer presented the report of the auditors carrying with it her annual report.

Mrs. Wiklund gave her annual report which is always eagerly awaited. Winchester is indeed lucky to have such a very popular executive director. Her report of the number of visits made astounded the audience and they were particularly interested in the increase of the trend for generalization of the services given by the District Nurses to the Community as shown by the continued work in the schools and the temporary service to the Board of Public Health. As she so aptly put it the W.D.N.A. continues to help "in the prevention of illness, the care of the sick in their home and to contribute to the general welfare of Winchester." In addition the Staff has taken many courses in specific Public Health problems at Universities in Boston. Members of the Staff have also worked with many groups here in town; among them the Girl Scouts, the Red Cross on Blood Donor Days and the En Ka Society at its Annual Street Fair. In closing Mrs. Wiklund expressed her appreciation for the cooperation given by the Advisory Medical Staff, the Board and the Trustees of the Association.

Mrs. Herbert Ross, chairman of the nominating committee presented the slate for the coming year which was accepted as read.

The business meeting then adjourned and Mrs. Rowland Patrick, co-chairman of the Education Committee introduced the speaker, Dr. David Cogan, Director of the Howe Laboratory of Research at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. Dr. Cogan is a graduate of Dartmouth College and of the Harvard Medical School. He became director of the Howe Laboratory in 1943. His subject was "Some Highlights in Ophthamology" which he presented in a most interesting way. He told of several of the eye diseases of the past showing slides to explain them more clearly. He went on to describe some of the existing eye problems and showed how valuable good public health service can be towards preventing and curing these conditions. At the end of his talk he kindly consented to answer questions from the audience which were enthusiastically presented until the adjournment of the meeting at 10:15.

The 1957 slate is as follows:

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION PRESENTS DANCE THEATER

March 1, will be a gala occasion for the young people of Winchester when John Begg's "Ballet Carnival" comes to town. The Mothers' Association is presenting this New York Company in a special program for children at the High School auditorium.

A gay dance version of "Cinderella" will open the program. No fairy godmother ever wrought more delightful magic than when she turned Cinderella into a charming ballerina—to outshine her wicked stepsisters and win Prince Charming with her dainty dancing slipper.

The second half of the program will be "The Big Top," a circus ballet, with trained poodles, a trick horse, a roller-skating bear, clowns, and others performing on the stage in dance and pantomine to enthrall the audience, both young and old.

A point of special interest to young theatergoers is that the masks for the circus animals were made by Frank Paris, who originated TV's famous Howdy Doody. He also designed the costumes for "The Big Top." And a point of special interest to Winchesterites is that the costumes for "Cinderella" were designed by Eleanor Drew Hooper, Mrs. Olcott Hooper of Highland avenue.

Mrs. Ganson P. Taggart is chairman of the Play Committee which has a representative from each school. Lincoln: Mrs. Robert J. Grenzeback; Mystic: Mrs. Richard Chase; Noonan: Mrs. Edward Rendall; Parkhurst: Mrs. T. E. Burleigh, Jr.; Washington: Mrs. Charles Bund; Wyman: Mrs. Roger Welles; Publicity: Mrs. R. G. Millican.

Be sure to save Friday afternoon, March first!

This program for children is presented by John Begg's Ballet Carnival concert company—and is produced with the same care, danced as delightfully, and costumed as beautifully as their programs for adult audiences. Among the "Ballet Carnival" dancers are young soloists from Ballet Russe, the Metropolitan Opera Ballet, the Salvenska-Franklin Ballet, and other well-known companies.

John Begg, director and choreographer of the "Ballet Carnival" company, has been guest choreographer for the Mia Slavenska Ballet and for the Lehigh University Music Festival. He has been featured dancer with the Ballet Russe, the Metropolitan Opera Ballet, and with Markova and Dolin in The Seven Lively Arts, and has worked with Agnes de Mille, Jerome Robbins, and Helen Tamiris in numerous Broadway musicals.

Wild West at Town Hall

Winton Club Show Has Old West Motif This Year

The flavor of long-ago gun-packing cowboys and Diamond Lils spiced the colorful "Wild West Show" that stampeded through the Winchester Town Hall this past Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and Saturday nights, as the Winton Club presented its 36th annual cabaret.

The town hall, usually so unadorned and staid, was transformed by cowboy hats, huge steer hides, boots and spurs, and antlers—to say nothing of two eyebrow-lifting paintings of "Nude" and "Baby Doll!" Soft lights, the decorations on the walls, and nostalgic tunes by Harry Marchard's orchestra put the audiences in the right mood for this colorful, tuneful take-off on frontier days.

The Club presents this show each year—and the men and women give their time and talent to create the performances—to raise money much needed for their work at the Winchester Hospital, mainly the linen supply. It is a splendid project, and audiences not only see a good show each year, but indirectly back the Winton Club's community work. This year Mrs. Robert G. Ingraham, Jr., was cabaret chairman, assisted by Mesdames Nelson C. Fontneau, Harry P. Hood, Jr., Robert C. Scott, J. Warren Shoemaker, and Richard J. Clark, with a large committee. Charles H. Blake, of Hollywood, staged the cabaret, with sound by Crosby Kelley, lighting by George T. McAleenan.

First—to give praise where it is richly due—the show this year featured some beautiful singing voices—June Moffette, Lynda Nanry, Joe Derby (who looks and dances like Ray Bolger), The Craftsmen, a quartet of Albert and Donald Lounsbury, Beverly Ottaway, Alfred Pywell, Roz Lynch with her comedy number, "Can't Say No" and her encore, "Ballin' the Jack," was delightful and gay. The clever hoop dance by Jimmy Davis was one of the finest things seen on stage in a long time, an exhibit of terrific skill and showmanship, with drum accompaniment by Raymond Chase.

A country folk dance by the company was well done and most tuneful, and veteran club singers Ted O'Rourke and George O'Brien had the audience roaring at "Everything's Up to Date in Kansas City." This same duo doubled as "Bertram the Bull"—an act that seems so simple but is actually backed by real talent. The "Dream Ballet" began as a straight number—girls in lovely filmy white—then made an about-face to comedy as the "dancers" John Ahern, Raymond Chase, Jimmy Davis and Sam Putnam) came on in false fronts and wigs! We may as well face it—audiences love to see the men burlesque the female ballet dancers!

In the dance end of the cabaret, top honors should go to Charlotte Thomson of Belmont, who has been with the cabaret for her second year, and who added a professional touch with her "Pony Boy" number; and to Noreen Johnson. Miss Johnson did a superb acrobatic number, then added frosting on the cake with her "Bird in a Gilded Cage," and her lovely ballet. With June Moffette as the soloist in this latter number, the chorus joining, and Miss Johnson as the bird in the cage, the Cabaret reached the true feeling of the wonderful "Gay 90's."

"Fair Haired Ladies," with Philippa Young as the plump little girl in red pinafore, was charming—a take-off on "the girls," and good fun.

Yes, there were some good voices and dancing feet in the cabaret. There was good comedy and acting, such as Dot Hickey and Joe Derby provide, and Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison. This reviewer still finds the biggest thrill of the cabaret each year in the Winton Drill—the precision drill of the Winton Club members and workers. In their trim scarlet and white costumes and white boots, these ladies make a magnificent showing. They are most attractive, yes—good to watch and applaud. They also remind the audience that these are the women who really work and make the Winton Club such a community instrument. The program was planned by Charles Tate of the Blake Productions.

It is no reflection on the Winton Club, the Cabaret, the splendid talent in the show and behind the show when this reviewer states in all honesty that this 1957 Wild West Show was not quite up to the standard of last year's Circus Cabaret. Last year the show was fast and very gay and brilliant, with sparkling costumes and a soaring quality: plus—a fine coordination of dancing and singing and comedy. This year that pace was missing. True, it had lovely music, and a more relaxed, prairie-music tempo. We feel that the director did not make full use of his theme and his cast who might have carried that theme to a more vivid finale.

The program was as follows:

LIONS HIT THE TRAILS AGAIN

Eight members of the Winchester Lions Club went to Amesbury, Mass., on Tuesday, January 22, to visit the Amesbury Lions Club, which met that evening, as a part of the Lions Traveling Contest.

The purpose of this Lions Traveling Contest is to get better acquainted with members of the Lions Clubs of other cities and towns in the district. It also gives each club an opportunity to learn how other clubs raise funds for their Sight Conservation Fund, and how they are of service to the community.

Lions Michael D. Saraco, Peter Giannotti, Robert Shohet, Peter Graziano, Salvatore Bonasera, James McLaughlin, Jacob Mangandero and Victor J. Ficociello, made the visitation to Amesbury.

After the meeting at the Ox Box Restaurant in Amesbury, the Winchester Lions were the guest of Lion Everett H. Locke, who is the owner of the Ski Tow in Amesbury. He showed the Winchester group around the Ski Tow and how it operates.

All in all the Winchester Lions had an enjoyable evening, both at Amesbury and on the road, and they are looking forward to many pleasant evenings during the Lions Traveling Contest.

WHICH MAN PASSED THE N.P.* TEST?

*Ninety-Percent

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch . . . like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

You buy your clothes to make a good impression. As you wear them, have them drycleaned often. A smart man takes care to keep that impression fresh.

ON BEHALF OF THE HOCKEY TEAM!

DOWNES, HAWKINS LEAD BELMONT HILL TO VICTORY

Two Winchester boys played a vital part in Belmont Hill School's 5-4 hockey win over Exeter Academy in the dedication game of the new Keller Rink at Belmont last Saturday. Captain Greg Downes of Emerson road and center Laurie Hawkins of Stratford road combined for the first four Hill goals in this memorable game.

More than 500 alumni and friends attended the pre-game dedication ceremonies at which the 200' x 85' artificial ice rink was named for the senior member of the Hill faculty, George W. Finch Keller. As team captain, Downes expressed the Belmont Hill students' appreciation to Mr. Keller for his years of leadership and to the school for providing the rink.

Hawkins, who pulled the hat trick, opened the scoring early in the first period. He and Downes scored in the second stanza to break a 1-1 tie. Then Exeter came alive to tally three times in the first five minutes of the last period. With the Hill behind and time running out, Hawkins tied the score at 4-4, and Bill Hogan of Cambridge saved the day with the winning goal near the final buzzer.

With Downes and Hawkins, Charlie Carlson of Hillcrest Parkway also was outstanding for Belmont Hill as wing on the second line.

SACHEMS SMOTHER WAKEFIELD

Venting their anger at their loss to Belmont, the Sachems buried a hapless Wakefield five under 89 points, their highest total this year, as they hooped their way to a 89-38 victory at the loser's gym on January 22.

Roger Symmes was the highest among four Winchester scorers in the double figures with 19 points. Then came Dave Bergquist with 16, Ron Roberts with 14, and Mike Callahan with 12. Smith, Wakefield's little forward took top honors for the game, netting 20 points, ten of which came on foul shots.

The Indians sunk 36 out of 73 shots from the floor, almost four times as many as Wakefield, for a marvelous 49 per cent, their best percentage of the year.

Easily downing the Wakefield Seconds 63-24, the J.V.'s made it their eleventh in a row. The season's first game with Wakefield ended in a close 47-40 victory, so the second result showed a great improvement.

Del Bartlett led the winners with 14 tallies; Hank Kiley had 13 and Bill Morton 10. No one could top ten for Wakefield, Ward leading the Warriors with nine points.

HEADMASTERS' NEW SPORTS RULING NOT TO AFFECT WINCHESTER

Winchester High School's director of athletics, Henry T. Knowlton, told the Star this week that the new ruling of the Headmasters' Association, limiting players to one contact sport during any one sports season, will have no affect here, since the high school has been operating under such a self-imposed rule for some time.

Many believed after the ruling was made that a boy playing football in the fall would not be allowed to play either basketball or hockey in that same year. Such is not the provision of the rule.

A boy cannot play soccer in the fall if he plays football. Similarly he cannot play both basketball and hockey during the winter. He could play either basketball or hockey and compete in either track or be on the rifle club. In the spring a boy can play baseball and compete in either track or tennis.

Practically the new rule will affect a relatively few participants in schoolboy athletics, for there are very few either physically able or scholastically proficient enough to participate in two sports during any one season. If their physical resources did permit such participation, the books would be pretty likely to catch up with the participants before they went too far.

UNESCO— "THE WAY TO PEACE"*

Prize Winning Essay by David F. Moore
of Winchester High School

Must the Biblical prophecy "swords into plowshares and spears into pruning hooks" wait until "the last days" to be fulfilled? Can the nations of the world together work the gargantuan machinery of the United Nations and actuate the lofty principles of its charter which determines "to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war?" I do not know. But never in the world's history has a better attempt been made: to abolish war by abolishing the conditions provoking it, to promote "the economic and social advancement of all peoples." Expressly created for this purpose is the Economic and Social Council with its twelve subsidiary organs called "Specialized Agencies." This essay is devoted to one of these agencies, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO). I have chosen UNESCO because, as stated in the preamble to its Constitution, it is devoted to promoting and diffusing the higher activities of man, because it is devoted to developing trust between nations, and because it is devoted to establishing international peace founded upon the intellectual and moral solidarity of mankind. I believe UNESCO's "moral solidarity plan" is the best way to make a Biblical prophecy come true.

The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, open to all members of the U. N. and such other nations as can procure a two-thirds majority vote of acceptance, at present contains 76 member nations, 4 of whom do not belong to the U. N. Nations may send as many as 5 representatives, but as a delegation cast only 1 vote; there is no veto, and most measures can be approved by a simple majority of nations present and voting. The machinery of the Organization includes a General Conference, the policy-making branch meeting every two years, an Executive Board of 22 delegates elected from the General Conference which prepares the General Conference's agenda, determines the budget and executes the General Conference's programs, and a Secretariat whose head, the Director-General, is the chief administrator of the Organization. The present Director-General is Luther H. Evans, the former chief librarian of the Congressional Library; his headquarters and staff of 850 are located at UNESCO House, 19 Avenue Kleber, Paris. We shall now investigate his work to see where and how the 1956 budget of $11,000,000.00 will be spent. We shall see how by using ingenuity in securing the help of many people and groups in similar work, the maximum work can be done with the least monetary expenditure.

In its innumerable projects (many mentioned below) UNESCO must secure the cooperation of brother U. N. agencies, such as FAO and WHO, the participating nations, and nongovernmental organizations such as World Friendship Federation and the International Alliance of Women. Sometimes nongovernmental organizations, such as the International Theatre Institute, the International Music Council and the International Political Science Association, are created by UNESCO to fill a need in fields where they do not exist, and with little expense use them as little UNESCOs. In its dealings with countries UNESCO establishes National Commissions who advise the Departments of State on UNESCO affairs and inform the citizenries of UNESCO projects.

One of UNESCO's four chief duties is to collaborate with interested nations in developing their educational activities. In May, 1951, at Patzcuaro, Mexico, UNESCO first started this program, endeavoring to train students from Latin American countries for 21 months to be teachers of "Fundamental Education." In 20 surrounding villages the student teachers help the children and adults to read practical UNESCO booklets on topics such as health, culture, agriculture, citizenship and practical science. At Sirs el-Layyan, Egypt, a similar training center has been established and 212 students graduated. The first public library open to all castes is now in operation in India. Haitian signs of "Kebe l'Inesco fo" —support UNESCO hard—pay tribute to Pilot Project, a massive and most successful mission to educate the exetremely primitive natives of Marbial Valley. Among the displaced Arabs of Gaza were founded 31 schools serving 11,000 boys and girls. All educational literature, by international agreement, is shipped completely duty-free. UNESCO's work in the field of education has been very productive and has met with enthusiasm all over the world, for the peoples trust UNESCO and the U. N.

When UNESCO uses the term "scientific" it means almost any application of knowledge. Some major achievements in Natural Sciences are these: financing a Seismological Institution in Turkey, creating an International Advisory Committee on Marine Sciences, a European Organization for Nuclear Research, meeting and working at Geneva, an Advisory Committee on Arid Zone Research, an Advisory Committee on Solar Energy, adding a science faculty to the University of Baghdad, and establishing scientific documentation centres in India, Yugoslavia and Mexico. Social Science projects include studies of the effect of industrialization on the peoples of Africa, India and Southern Asia, a project analyzing religious tensions in India and a centre to compile and investigate records of Egyptian antiquities. Especially realizing that scientific progress often determines a country's prestige, many countries clamor for such assistance; and aid is usually sent in the form of teaching handbooks for science teachers, catalogues of scientific equipment or instructions on how to build their own, monetary aid in the form of gift coupons or "Sales Coupons" which enable local soft currency to pay for hard currency educational imports (or vice versa) and on-the-spot assistance of science experts. Although, as we have said, there is much interest throughout the world in sciences, five scientific exhibits are currently touring member states to attract more attention, or perhaps even to satisfy demand.

It is UNESCO's aim to fully exploit indigenous natural talents in promoting, improving, and perpetuating cultural pursuits and heritages. Culture is defined simply as any creative work on the part of the people—created by hand or by mind. To protect authors and copyright owners of cultural works, UNESCO has inaugurated the Universal Copyright Convention, now signed by about 52 countries. Realizing the importance of museums in arousing cultural interest, UNESCO held a seminar at Brooklyn Museum, attended by officials from 26 countries and representatives from 50 American museums. In 1951 a similar seminar was held in Bristol, England, on painting and visual guides to education; the conclusions and recommendations were published under the title of "Art and Education," a volume, no doubt, many times used to introduce art classes in countries for the first time. Catalogues of reproductions of famous paintings are also published. Music, they say, is an international language. But then so are all facets of culture and the stronger UNESCO ties bonds of culture, the more our world will be a cohesive, tolerant world.

Mass communication, UNESCO's fourth and last department, was set up to aid the other fields of education, science and culture, and to help member states diffuse this knowledge as well. Eight teams of experts are offered to assist in developing national communication facilities; Libya has already asked for them to establish a radio system. An Educational Film Institute for Latin America was founded in Mexico and an international centre will be started this year to encourage production of films for children from 8 to 16.

What then is the purpose behind all of UNESCO's benevolent deeds? Turning to the first article of its Constitution, we find it is "to contribute to peace and security by promoting collaboration among the nations through education, science, and culture in order to further universal respect for justice, for the rule of law, and for the human rights and fundamental freedoms which are affirmed for the peoples of the world, without distinction of race, sex, language, or religion, by the Charter of the United Nations." Obviously, its purpose fills a great need. The ninth General Conference is being held at New Delhi, India, at the time of this writing, November 5. It is ardently hoped that there, in these critical times, UNESCO's contributions to international understanding will be greater than ever before; however, it must be remembered that UNESCO can be only as good as those who run it, the nations and the peoples of the nations, and in their hands alone lies the responsibility for UNESCO's success or failure. Perhaps if they are willing to work hard enough, the world may yet look forward to finding "The Way of Peace" and keeping it forever.

MRS. BORDEN NAMED TO HEART POST

Lindsay Caldwell, general chairman of the 1957 Heart Fund in Winchester this week announced the appointment of Mrs. Neil Borden, 150 Highland avenue as Heart Sunday Area Chairman in Precinct 2.

Heart Sunday, February 24, will highlight the drive, when homes in every community will be visited for contributions for an expanded program of research, education and community services.

Funds raised through Heart Month will enable the Massachusetts and American Heart Associations to broaden the attack upon heart and circulatory diseases, first cause of death in the state and nation.

PARKHURST PARENTS' ASSN.

The winter meeting of the Parkhurst Parents' Association took place on Tuesday, January 22, in the Parkhurst Auditorium.

Mrs. A. R. Brink, president of the Association, opened the meeting, followed by reports of the secretary, Mrs. Eugene Woods, and of the treasurer, Mrs. Thornton Stearns. The latter report showed the great success of the Children's Bazaar held in December.

Scout business followed. Mrs. Fred Schiffmacher has become the leader of the sixth grade Girl Scout Troop, and Mr. Charles Buckingham has been selected as the new Boy Scout leader. Mr. Melvin Sidebotham is his assistant. A motion was made and passed unanimously to have the Parkhurst Parents' Association become the sponsor for the Cub Scouts in this area.

Volunteers among the mothers have been requested to help relieve the teachers during the lunch half-hour while the school is on the shortened schedule. Any mother who would care to do this need not call; please just come.

Mr. Albert F. Sutula, pincipal of the Lewis Parkhurst School, introduced the guest speakers whose subject was "Making Use of Winchester's Special Educational Facilities." Miss Carol M. Thatcher spoke on Speech Therapy, followed by Mr. Norton E. Demsey whose topic was Testing and Guidance. Mr. Sutula concluded the discussion by talking from the notes of Miss Clare M. Corcoran, who could not be present due to illness, on the subject of reading, and finally on his own field of special classes for handicapped children.

The meeting was adjourned, and a pleasant social hour ensued over refreshments.

4-H CLUB LAMBS

Lynn Ingraham, 13 year old 4-H Club member from Westwood, Mass., raised this lamb. It was the 401st bought by First National Stores during eleven years of participation in midwinter sales in Worcester, Mass., of lambs raised by 4-H Club boys and girls from Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Hampshire. First National Buyer Frank Nolan, shown with Lynn and her Shropshire lamb, bought the first lamb at the first 4-H midwinter sale in 1947.

WINCHESTER TROOP 1 NEWS

On January 9, the troop had the pleasure of another visit from "Staff" Rogers, whose visits are eagerly looked forward to by the scouts. Staff, with the help of 2 Explorer scouts of his unit in Hampton, N. H., showed pictures of the White Mountains and other points of interest in New Hampshire. The boys "ate it up," and are looking ing forward to the time when they will take trips there.

On Thursday, January 24, Troop 1 committee members Peter Giannotti, Wallace Scrivens and Victor J. Ficociello attended the 32nd annual meeting of the Fellsland Council. The awarding of the Silver Beaver was a ceremony that is never forgotten by those that witness it. This year Ken Hall was the recipient of the award.

Plans are being completed for the week-end trip to Camp Fellsland on February 8, 9, 10. About 25 Scouts will make the trip. Troop 1 Committee men Peter Giannotti, Randolph Kazazian, Joseph Strazzere, Wallace Scrivens, Victor Ficociello, Asst. Scoutmaster Robert Fiore and Scoutmaster Michael D. Saraco will also make the trip. It goes without saying,—the adults are looking forward to the trip more than the scouts.

TOOK COURSES AT CORNELL

William J. Croughwell, Jr., manager of reservations at the San Francisco office of American Airlines, has returned to his home and family in Mountain View, Calif., after attending a three-weeks conference in general management at Cornell University at Ithica, New York. "Bill" spent each week end at the home of his parents in Rangeley.

ST. MARY'S MR. & MRS. CLUB

Next Wednesday evening, February 6, beginning at 8:15 sharp, St. Mary's Hall will be the scene of the season's gayest and biggest card party. Betty and Pat Cosgrove, chairmen in charge of entertainment for this February meeting, assure us no skill is required, so don't stay home that evening. Fun with cards such as you haven't had since the days of "old Maid," "Fish" and "Knucklesie." And prizes, no less. So, if you can count to 52 (there are that many, aren't there?) you're eligible. And no admission charge. Now what more could you ask? If you can't tell a deuce from a one-eyed Jack, come along anyway and kibitz.

Mary and Jim Henry have the refreshment committee in tow for this meeting to add further zest, enjoyment and pleasure to the evening. We knew you gourmets would want to be assured there would be refreshments. And what has been more wonderful than the fabulous refreshments these grand committees have been spoiling us with. So, all you Mr. and Mrs. members, if you can't play cards and you don't like to kibitz, then come along anyway and eat. See you all Wednesday evening. That's next Wednesday, February 6, at 8:15 p. m.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL BOARD MEETING

The Board of the Women's Council held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry E. Kiley of Winslow road. Mrs. Harold H. Given, president, presided.

After the routine reports were read and approved, Mrs. Kiley made a tabulation of the questionnaires that were recently sent to the participating organizations. As a result of this survey, the board passed a recommendation as to the future of the Women's Council. A very important meeting is scheduled in the Winchester Library Art Association Room for Thursday morning, March 14, at 10:15.

Mrs. George L. Connor, Mrs. Frederick Churchill, Mrs. William W. Davies, Mrs. Charles E. Greene, Mrs. Guy Livingstone, and Mrs. Richard Wyman attended the meeting.

SENIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Continuing a series of discussions and study of the great religions of the world, the Senior High Fellowship of First Baptist Church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dawson, 16 Yale street, Sunday evening, February 3, at seven o'clock. Buddhism will be the theme. The subject will be handled by a panel made up of the following young people: Richard Dawson, Frances Bosselmann, Arlys Harrington, Jean Dawson, Robin Carlson and Shirley Bingham.

A period of fellowship and refreshments will bring the evening to a close.

YOUTH SUNDAY

The High School young people of the Unitarian Church took over the entire service last Sunday in celebration of National Youth Week. Members of Metcalf Union provided the ushering staff and the hostesses for the social period after church. Young people who participated were Carley Clark, Elizabeth Bolster, Helen Bolster, Angela d'Elseaux, Dana Starkweather, Anthony Laban, Donaldson Moorhead Roger Symmes, Russell Taylor and Gregg Wood.

Sermons were given by four upperclassmen. In this day when we read so many reports of juveniles who show signs of anti-social behavior and who seem to receive all the publicity, it is a joy to report that young people do think seriously, that they have ideas and that they are willing to share them with older people.

Joel Peckham, who preached on his concept of "God," said in part: "I believe that God is spirit, love and perfection in all things. I do not like to think of God as the picture of a human being, man or woman. I try to picture God in the better things of life. God, to me, should be loved, not feared, for God is the principle of all that is good, and this should be positive and not negative."

Todd Jesdale, speaking on the subject of "Man," affirmed that, "We do not love our fellow man as we should; however we love, pray to and praise God whom we have never met. God, for me, is a power within me striving for betterment. He is my guide, my conscience, my judge. He is my faith, hope, and everything that is good. Since man is one tangible evidence of a supreme power, a brotherhood between men must and does exist.

Carol Eaton, using as her topic "Jesus," said, "The common people adored Jesus and followed him. He was one of them. He wore no costly garments, but was robed in homespun robes. He spoke in language which was clear to them. He considered himself one of them. Yes, Jesus was truly human with feelings and troubles just like yours and mine. Jesus was a teacher and a preacher, but even more he was a living example of the word of God. He lived his religion. He gave and still gives today hope to the weakest individual, eternal hope of becoming better, hope of one day reaching perfection."

Kenneth Brown, president of Metcalf Union, spoke on "Salvation." "Salvation is a feeling which occurs in a person in his daily life. If I feel free and relieved in my mind and conscience, I am experiencing a sense of salvation. It is God working in us. When I am working my hardest and doing my best not to commit any wrong act, or to hurt others in anyway, when I am honest and upright in all my dealings in life, then I am saved for better things. I am not wasting the perfection of which I am capable. One important thing about character is that it is not only what others think of us that is important. It is equally important how we personally regard ourselves. When we, in moments of self-reflection, can be sincerely and in all honesty actally proud of what we are, then and only then can we experience salvation. This is not an easy thing to do. It involves self-training and application and years of effort."

Christopher King, member of the group and an accomplished young organist, played the prelude and postlude from works of Boellmann, Mendelssohn and Bach. The offering will be used to send delegates to the Youth Conferences at Star Island in the summer.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

Individuals who expect to file for social security benefits early in 1957 can help speed payment of their benefits by supplying proof of 1956 earnings, according to an announcement made by Gerald J. Murphy, District Manager of the Cambridge Social Security Office which services the Winchester area.

The proof which persons who work for someone else should bring may be in form of the Withholding Statement (Form W-2) given to every worker by his employer early in 1957 showing earnings in 1956. Any other employer record, such as a cumulative payroll slip, which indicates the worker's total earnings in 1956 may be acceptable. Mr. Murphy stated that those individuals who were self-employed during the past year should bring a complete copy of their Federal tax return for 1956 including Form 1040, Schedule C or F, and Form 1065, if applicable, together with any additional schedules or attachments, when they visit the district office to apply for benefits. A cancelled check, Internal Revenue Service receipt, or other evidence that the 1956 tax return was filed and the social security self-employment tax was paid must also be presented to complete the claim for benefits. "It is definitely to the claimant's advantage to bring proof of his earnings in 1956 with him upon his first visit to the district office," continued Mr. Murphy, "so that his claim may be processed promptly."

Mr. Murphy suggests that any person desiring more information on this matter should not hesitate to contact the office either by telephoning UNiversity 4-3900 or calling in person at 2 Trowbridge street, Cambridge.

SPOTLIGHT ON INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

WINCHESTER ADULT EDUCATION TO OFFER "DECISIONS—1957"

An unusual and challenging approach to some of the international problems will be available to persons participating in the Winchester Adult Education Program recently announced by the School Committee. "Decisions—1957," a course designed to focus attention upon eight specific foreign policy issues, will be conducted as part of the class on International Affairs.

Mr. William Kelly, a faculty member of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University and a former member of the Commercial Policies Staff of the State Department in Washington, D. C., will chairman the Winchester discussion group. "Decisions—1957" is sponsored by the World Affairs Council of Boston in cooperation with the Boston Public Library, the Massachusetts League of Women Voters and the Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Winchester group and others in Greater Boston will entertain such questions as "How should the United States compete with Russia?", "What are the United States stakes in the Middle East?", and, "How much trade — how much aid?" Newspapers, radio, and television will sponsor special programs on which experts will discuss the same topics featured in local discussion groups.

An information kit, provided by the World Affairs Council and prepared under the auspices of the Foreign Policy Association, will provide guideposts for the group. Included in each kit are a set of nine "fact sheets" containing background information, maps, charts, policy choices on each Decision, and a booklet with articles on each issue. These materials were prepared by experts.

The material is designed to give the class members the basic facts on each Decision and permit each person to reach his own conclusions. Provocative discussions will be held in each class session.

At the close of each meeting, participants may fill out ballots and register their views on each subject. Each of the fact sheets contains one of these ballots, and a number of alternatives are presented, as well as space for the registration of any other viewpoints or additions the participant may have. These ballots will be tabulated at the World Affairs Council and then quickly dispatched to Massachusetts Senators and Representatives, as well as the Department of State.

Interested persons may register for the course in Winchester on Monday, February 4, at the senior high school between the hours of 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Safety-Tip: Winter driving is harder on your car than warm-weather driving, and it probably needs attention more often, advises the AAA. Keep your car in shape, and save money at the same time, by taking it regularly to a reputable service station or garage for a check-up. And when you do, insist on nationally-branded parts. It will pay you in the long run.

JUNIOR HIGH ASSOCIATES DISCUSS "GUIDANCE"

In spite of the storm, an interested group of mothers attended the panel discussion on "Guidance in the Junior High" presented by the Junior High Associates last Tuesday afternoon. Before introducing the panel members, Mr. Dickman explained that directive guidance has been offered in Winchester since the mid-thirties. Then, it was primarily for college and vocational help. Today it is not only academic, but social and moral in scope, and much more thorough.

Essentially guidance is an integral part of good teaching. Because pupils of junior high level are conformists and imitators, teachers can guide by good example. Mrs. Dugan and Mr. Handy, Guidance Counselors, and the two teacher-panel-members of this discussion, proved this point by their presence alone.

Beyond this, Mrs. Dugan pointed out that because student problems can be many and varied, total guidance has many phases. Sometimes directly, often indirectly and unnoticed, the wise counselor helps the particular child according to his particular need.

Mr. Handy outlined more specifically the areas in which junior high guidance works. First, its testing program determines the native abilities and potential of each student. Where problems arise, student, and sometimes, parent, interviews are arranged. Complete records are kept up to date on every student. The guidance directors also collect catalogues on guidance and on colleges and private schools about the country. They offer films and talks on guidance for teachers and pupils. When necessary, they arrange for private tutoring, and dig up information about outside organizations in which a student may be interested.

The part-time teacher-counselor has a practical instead of a purely theoretical knowledge of his subject; therefore, his understanding is apt to be greater. This set-up has been in effect for a year and a half in our Junior High School, the whole program being under the direction of Mr. Dempsey, who is Director of Pupil-Personnel of Winchester. Mr. Dempsey's definition of Guidance as "helping the child to help himself" sums up the subject most adequately.

Mrs. Robert Williams opened the business meeting with a report from Mrs. Eliassen, Treasurer, and an announcement by Mrs. J. E. Parsons of the next Associates' meeting on the evening of February 26. Due to the great interest shown in this panel discussion, it was voted to plan similar afternoon discussion meetings in the near future.

L. W. V. NOTES

The Winchester League of Women Voters has set aside the month of February to study U. S. foreign policy especially as it pertains to the situation in the Middle East. This is in accord with League policy throughout the U. S. Last December Mrs. Lee, national president, requested that as soon as possible local Leagues should set aside work that they were doing to study this vital issue. Accordingly the Winchester League has planned a general meeting for February 6 and unit meetings for the following week on long-range foreign policy for our country.

The general meeting February 6 will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry K. Spencer, 1 Central Green, at 2:30 p.m. There will be a panel discussion on "Focus on the Future," the national League's title for this project. We are very fortunate to have three well-informed state League women as our panelists. They include Mrs. Fred Alexander, president of the Belmont League; Mrs. Gregory Smith, state organization chairman; and Mrs. Vernon Stoneman, former president of the state League. Since the gravity of the present complex world situation demands thoughtful consideration by everyone, Mrs. Neil Borden, president of the Winchester League, has invited members of other clubs in Winchester to join League members at this meeting.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

"Highlights From Church History" will be presented by the Junior High Fellowship of the First Congregational Church this Sunday afternoon, at 4:30 in the Vestry. This is the climax program of several weeks of study, and the young people will have reports, a play and exhibits to reveal their learning. Brian Walsh and Al Bonney will conduct the worship service. Parents and friends are cordially invited to this program. Refreshments will be served.

On Friday, February 8, an interchurch junior high roller skating party is planned at the Wallex.

METHODIST COUPLES' CLUB

Members and friends of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church Couples' Club are indeed fortunate to have the opportunity to hear Countess Christine Panek on Tuesday, February 5, when she will tell of her experiences as a Polish member of the Underground and how she escaped to our country. It is a story none of us should miss in the light of present day world happenings.

Social hour begins at 6:30, followed by one of the now famous Smorgasbord suppers—so plan to be with us.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

The February meeting of the Winchester Art Association will be held in the Library Gallery Tuesday evening, February 5. The subject is color. The speaker will be Mr. David Berger, a graduate of the Mass. School of Art, who now teaches at the Framingham Teachers' College. Mr. Berger has held a one-man show of his oil paintings and silk-screen work at the de Cordova Museum in Lincoln. He has interesting theories about color and obtains most unusual and unique effects in his sun-flooded pictures. Mr. Berger will illustrate his talk with slides of his paintings.

OUR HUNGARIAN FRIENDS

"I have job!" Her voice was triumphant. It was one of Winchester's Hungarian group who spoke. "I like my work. I am so happy. Thank you, Mrs. Austill, thank you, Mr. Ellison, thank you, Winchester!" said one of the young men to Mrs. Austill, whose teaching of English to these fine young people has contributed so much to their ability to become self-sufficient.

The Hungarians who came to Winchester on January 2 are a changed group now, due to the kindness of the homes which took them in, the courtesies of townspeople of all kinds, the guidance received from those aiding in job placement. Rev. John W. Ellison, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, is the resourceful chairman of the Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee in charge of this worthy program.

An English class was conducted daily from 9:30 to 3:00 in the Church of the Epiphany by Mrs. Anne Austill of the church, an expert teacher of basic English. After two weeks, the class was separated for short periods into small units under other volunteers who had been observing Mrs. Austill's methods. By the third week the two school-age children were put into school classes and adult attendance was greatly reduced because of interviews for jobs and actual placement in jobs.

Now instruction has been shifted to evening classes under the volunteers mentioned above, and will continue as long as needed. Those who are moving to other towns are put in contact with English instruction in their new locality. Their progress has been rapid, considering that only two or three of them knew any English at all when they arrived. Their background of education and culture, and their various skills give promise of worthy citizenship in the United States.

More details will be found in the Star next week. In the meantime, let all of Winchester know that everything that has been given is deeply appreciated—money, clothing, furniture and furnishings (more are still needed), opportunities for learning and for work, the innumerable kindnesses involving time and voluntary services of many people, and friendship. Several of them insist they want to live in Winchester. "We like Winchester!"

"BELL, BOOK AND CANDLE"

Circle in red the calendar dates February 14, 15 and 16—and if you are superstitious, just cross your fingers while you write! On those evenings, a charming "witch" will entertain you, if you will allow it—with her fascinating cat, Piewacket, and her incredible aunt.

By now you have gathered that the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church are inviting you to their winter production of "Bell, Book and Candle" by John Van Druten, the delightful play about modern witchcraft in a New York apartment. Directed by Harlan F. Grant, this play promises an evening of sheer entertainment and chuckles. All seats are reserved, and Mrs. George H. Gowdy, WInchester 6-2728, is in charge of tickets. The Thursday performance has been turned over to the Forum, and all tickets sold by these young people for that evening will be for their Spring Conference Fund.

In the cast of the play will be Marian T. Blake, Jaqueline Hall Sibley, Henry K. Fitts, George S. Hebb, Jr., Robert P. Blake. Mrs. Lenore T. Gamage is chairman of production, and Charles Brown in charge of stage crew.

ST. MARY'S VALENTINE CARD PARTY

At St. Mary's Hall on Tuesday evening, February 12, the Blessed Virgin Sodality will hold a Valentine Bridge and Whist. An exceptionally large number of prizes, including blankets, electric clock, lamps and coffee percolator, a handmade afghan, and many other attractive prizes have been donated, as well as a very special door prize. A coffee half-hour from 8 to 8:30 will precede the card-playing which will start promptly at 8:30.

The various committees are made up as follows:

General Chairman: Mrs. Frank P. Hurley
Refreshment Committee Co-chairmen: Miss Phyllis Callahan and Mrs. Edward Gaffey; Mrs. Martha Daschbach, Mrs. John Looney, Mrs. Joseph Moran, Mrs. John J. Walsh, Miss Peggy O'Leary, Miss Jeanne Fitzgerald, Miss Marion Walsh, Miss Joanne Donlon
Ticket Committee Chairman: Mrs. Lloyd Stevens; Co-chairmen, Mrs. Margaret Murray and Mrs. Marion Manoli: Miss Gertrude Callahan, Mrs. Mildred McNamee, Mrs. A. L. McNeil, Mrs. Everett Mitchell, Mrs. Joseph Foley, Mrs. Warren McKenna, Mrs. James M. Hayes, Mrs. Thomas Bates
Prize Committee Chairman: Mrs. Bernard Hanley; Co-chairman, Miss Abbie Callahan; Miss Sadie Foley, Mrs. T. F. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Jean Burns, Mrs. Rita Dower, Mrs. Nora Notemyer, Mrs. Dorothy Rogers, Mrs. Henry Barry, Mrs. Daniel Collins, Mrs. George Keane, Mrs. William G. Laird, Miss Kay Foley, Mrs. Madelyne Moynihan, Mrs. Arthur Hall, Mrs. Joseph Kane, Mrs. Edmund Lanigan, Mrs. Richard Sullivan, Mrs. Alice Sabbow, Mrs. N. J. Grady, Mrs. Mary Porcaro
Decoration Committee Chairman: Mrs. Joseph Burgatti

PLAN COFFEE CONCERT

Frances Bosselman, Jean Dawson and Janet Donovan (left to right) discuss the problems of their respective committees (guest, decoration and refreshment) for the Hanson-Seeber concert on February 8 at the Wyman auditorium. The concert, sponsored by the Young People of the First Baptist Church, benefits the Massachusetts Baptist Camp at Groton.

DESSERT PARTIES TO PRECEDE POWER RECITAL

The piano recital by Mr. Michael Power on next Monday evening will be the occasion for a series of dessert parties at which members of the School Committee and the Parent-Faculty Association will entertain high school teachers and their wives. Following the dessert parties at 7:00 p. m. the various groups will adjourn to the high school auditorium for Mr. Power's concert which begins at 8:15.

Entertaining at the dessert parties are the following: Mr. and Mrs. Dana Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Olcott Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Littleton, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Connor, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. George Neville, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Arlanson, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mead, Dr. and Mrs. James Baker, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schaefer.

A brief coffee hour following the concert will be held in honor of Mr. Power at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. William Schumacher. Mr. and Mrs. Schumacher are co-chairmen of the Ways and Means Committee of the Parent-Faculty Association.

For the many people who are planning to attend the concert on Monday evening, the Committee offers this reminder: the ushers have been advised not to seat late arrivals until the end of Mr. Power's first number.

Safety Tip: How many times during the past year have you scored a "near miss" with your automobile? Perhaps you have learned a lesson from each of these experiences. The best drivers avoid taking unnecessary chances, says the AAA.

PLANNING BOARD
NOTICE OF
FEBRUARY 11, 1957

WHEREAS after due consideration, the Planning Board, acting as a Board of Survey of the Town of Winchester, has caused to be made plans of the sections of land in the town as follows:

1. A way beginning at the westerly side of Ridge Street and extending westerly about fifty (50) feet
2. A way beginning at the northerly end of Dunster Lane and extending northerly about thirty (30) feet
3. A way beginning at the easterly side of Johnson Road and extending easterly about fifty (50) feet
4. A way beginning at the westerly side of Cambridge Street and extending southwesterly about fifty (50) feet
5. A way beginning at the easterly side of Cambridge Street and extending northeasterly about fifty (50) feet
6. A way beginning at the southerly side of Pond Street and extending southwesterly about fifty (50) feet showing thereon the location of such ways as in the opinion of the Board the interest of the public may or will require in such territory, together with the direction and width of each way; which plans are open to public inspection in the office of the Town Engineer;

Said Board gives notice that it will hold a public hearing on said plans in the Planning Board Office, West Wing, Town Hall, on Monday, February 11, 1957, at 8:00 P. M.

By order of the Planning Board, this 28th day of January, 1957.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hour as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thomson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

How trust in God, divine Love, brings man sure guidance will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.
Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (454:18-21): "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action."
Scriptural passages in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" will include the following from Proverbs (3:5,6): "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths."
The Golden Text is from I John (4:16): "We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

FELLS HARDWARE ANNOUNCES....

Never before A WALL PAINT SO FUSS FREE!

New Kyanize Plastic COLOR-Spree

FLOWS ON EASILY—DRIES IN A FLASH—HAS NO ODOR AT ALL

Color-Spree painting is so quick and easy. Move the furniture away from a wall, paint that wall, and in just half an hour you can put the furniture back in place. And your new paint will be washable in twenty-four hours.

Kyanize Plastic Color-Spree gives a velvet-flat finish. You just slap it on, it's self-smoothing and never shows where you touch up "holidays." It's self-priming and can be used on any interior wall or ceiling surface, new or old. Spills and spatters wipe off with a damp cloth; brushes or rollers rinse clean in clear water.

Now that it's so easy, don't wait to paint.
Come in today and choose your colors . . . homey pastels or decorator deep tones.

SAVINGS BANK PROMOTES SCHOOL THRIFT

Pupils in the Winchester Schools have discovered that saving money can be fun. The secret is to save for something they really want. Many of these pupils have seen their regular deposits in the school savings program grow during the past few years until they now have quite sizable amounts. They are beginning to taste the fruits of their efforts and realize better than thousands of words could convey the pleasure of having money all their own, to do with as they please.

Sponsored by the Winchester Savings Bank, Miss Marye Dent, a representative of School Thrift, Inc., of Yonkers, N. Y., has been in the Winchester Schools all this past week. She brings out points of school savings through the use of hand puppets, each one of her puppets having learned how to save in some interesting way to bring out the helpful points for the children. For instance, Jocko the Monkey is saving his money so as to buy a new plaid suit. The Alligator saves so he can buy a tooth brush and tooth paste to keep his beautiful sharp white teeth clean. Happy, the Elf, Ready the Fox and Peter Rabbit perform many of the children stories by bringing out the importance of saving money.

This past year Miss Dent has talked before over 250,000 students throughout the United States and has found that girls usually save for clothing, travel and higher education, while boys, as a rule, are more interested in sports, automobiles and also higher education.

With the principal interest being to stimulate savings, Miss Dent has found that the use of puppets in her work helps to maintain interest. It may be of interest to know that right now there is over $150,000,000 on deposit in the school savings department of banks sponsoring such programs. When one realizes that this is money saved by school pupils in nickels, dimes and quarters, it represents a very fine savings program, on a basis of money that might well have been spent for ice cream, funny books, bubble gum, etc.

BAY STATE HISTORICAL LEAGUE

The New England Historic Genealogical Society entertained the Winter Meeting of the Bay State Historical League in their spacious quarters on Ashburton place in Boston on January 18.

From 10 until 12:30 there was a Panel Discussion on Financing Historical Societies with the following scheduled speakers: Mrs. R. E. Titcomb, Ipswich Historical; Mrs. Benjamin Mayhew, Dukes County Historical; Mrs. Caroline Siebens, Historical Society of Old Yarmouth; and Fred C. Alexander, Jackson Homestead, Newton.

At 2:00 p. m. the largely attended Regular Meeting was held in Wilder Hall with T. Temple Pond, President of both the host society and the Bay State Historical, welcomed the group, showing a keen sense of humor.

He announced plans for the Spring Meeting to be held at Old Sturbridge Village on May 3 and 4, stressed the necessity of making early reservations.

Mr. Pond then introduced William B. Osgood of the State Street Trust and Treasurer of the Bostonian Society, who spoke on a "New Era for Historical Societies." He said that a thorough study of historical landmarks should be made in order to save the best, citing the mistake in tearing down the substantial and beautiful John Hancock House adjoining the State House, which would have been ideal for a Governor's Mansion. Study and write the history of articles selected for saving and display them to the best advantage, was another suggestion.

After the meeting refreshments were served.

The Winchester Historical Society was represented by Miss Clara Russell, Mrs. T. T. Greenwood, and the Misses Violet Williamson and Louise Bancroft.

The Atkinson-Lancaster Museum contains a collection of outstanding and unusual articles and is well-worth a visit.

U.W.F. HEAR ANALYSIS OF HUNGARIAN CRISIS

A most informative talk and discussion of the critical Hungarian situation and events leading to it was given on Tuesday evening, January 22, by Gabriel T. Kerekes, formerly in the United States Foreign Service. Speaking at a meeting of 25 members and guests of the Winchester Chapter of United World Federalists, Prof. Kerekes gave a first hand picture and very helpful explanation of just what led to the present crisis.

The meeting was held at the home of Miss Alice A. Main, 14 Canterbury road. Robert B. Williams, Chapter Chairman, explained that the speaker had been secured with the assistance of the World Affairs Council in Boston, whose services are available to organizations interested in speakers or a program concerning international affairs.

Now Professor of Finance at Babson Institute in Wellesley Hills and the New York Institute of Finance in New York (formerly the New York Stock Exchange Institute), Professor Kerekes gave the viewpoint of one experienced both in financial and political fields.

From 1949 to 1952 he served as an Officer of the Economic Cooperation Administration in Austria and helped supervise the expenditure of $500,000,000 of counterpart funds to aid industrial and agricultural production. He knew personally many in the Hungarian government today. Born in Hungary, he came to this country, completed his education at Columbia University, served with the U. S. Army in World War II, receiving the purple heart.

Prof. Kerekes stated that just as we must take an interest in what is going on in Washington, we need to do the same for the United Nations. Regardless of the form of our Federal Government, if we do not elect good men and follow what they do, we cannot expect good government. Likewise we must keep in touch with developments in the United Nations.

Interpreting the Hungarian crisis, he brought out the somewhat surprising thought that the Russians are encouraging Hungarians to leave by not entirely closing the border between Hungary and Austria. Crossing is apparently made difficult so that no property will be taken out. 500 a day still cross, although this has been 4,000 a day. The Russian objective appears eventally to bring Russians to live in Hungary, noted for its fertile land and rich mineral deposits and located in a strategic position in Europe.

The recent turning of the Russian developed Hungarian army on the Russians was something the Russians had not foreseen. Such unexpected developments may be a reason for the Russians seemingly ignoring world opinion of their actions in Hungary. The hope that Suez would divert much of the world's attention may be another reason.

It is vital that we know what is really going on. A strong stand by the United Nations and by individual countries, especially our own, is absolutely essential, in the face of developments such as those in Hungary.

Had we taken such a stand earlier, Prof Kerekes feels the tragic results in Hungary would have been quite different. He is convinced the Russians don't want war, but that they will go just as far as they can if not faced squarely with the fact that they will be prevent from doing so. All of us must do what we can so that enough persons urge our government to take the needed action.

SONNET TO A BONNET

Pert and saucy atop her hair
It sits for all the world to see,
And seems to say with careless air,
"Come close and look you well at me,
For I'm the latest in chapeaux
My lady has yet to fashion.
I have no doubt that there are theaux
Who will gaze with sweet compassion,
And wonder how in Heaven's name
My mistress dares to wear it,
But on her head rests all the blame,
Who else is there to share it.
So if you wish to grace your head with such a hat upon it,
Remember, you must wear the blame, as well as wear the bonnet."

J. P. H.

P. S.: Could this be the same hat referred to by Mrs. Mock in her poem you printed recently?

S3/c ROBERT F. GOLDEN

ARMY MEDICAL GRADUATE

Army Specialist Third Class Robert F. Golden, son of Mrs. Mabelle Golden of 29 Hemingway street, recently was graduated from the 10th Infantry Division Medical Academy in Kitzingen, Germany. Specialist Golden, an aidman in Medical Company of the division's 85th Regiment, entered the Army in January 1955 and received basic training at Fort Riley, Kan.

He arrived in Europe the following November. The 20-year-old soldier attended Winchester High School and was formerly employed by Commander Cleaners.

IN OPERATION GYROSCOPE

David L. Petrie of 9 Manchester road was one of the New England boys among approximately 2,200 Army officers and men from Fort Ord, Calif., who passed through the Panama Canal January 17 en route from Monterey Bay to Bremerhaven. The unit constituted the largest movement of troops through the Canal since the end of the Korean hostilities.

Composing the unit are soldiers trained at Fort Ord by the 5th Infantry Division for service in Germany with the 10th Infantry Division. The unit, or "packet" as it is called is part of the Army's "Operation Gyroscope" designed to keep ground units overseas at a peak state of combat readiness and effieiency.

Pvt. Petrie sailed on the transport, U.S.N.S. General Nelson M. Walker, which he boarded in Monterey Bay January 10. He was scheduled to arrive in Bremerhaven about January 29.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

A regular meeting of the Fortnightly was held in the First Baptist Church Social Hall Monday, January 28. It was called to order by the President, Mrs. Paul H. Atwood.

Several chairmen reported. Mrs. Whitman, Chairman of Legislation, explained bills pending at the State House. Mrs. Moody, Chairman of Art, spoke of the Camera Contest sponsored by the Federation Art Committee, open to all club members; prints must be entered before April 18. Mrs. Fiske again reminded members of the need for yarn for afghans made from 6 inch squares.

Let us spread the word that at our next meeting, February 11, there will be a food sale for the benefit of club philanthropies.

Everyone enjoyed the soloist of the afternoon, Helen Salem, Rizk, whose delightful voice, a lyric soprano, has been heard in many parts of this country. She has been soloist in Boston University's Bach Festival and Handel's "Messiah." In an easy manner and with personal charm she presented a pleasing program of well-known songs, varied and appealing. Especially lovely were her pianissimo passages, but she has a wide and colorful range. She was most acceptably accompanied by Miss Ella F. Jones who is organist in the Church of All Nations, Boston.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Annual Meeting

A large number of Winchester men and women interested in Girl Scouting attended the Annual meeting of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts, Inc., held at the Girl Scout Cabin on Monday night.

The meeting featured a forceful talk by President J. Paul Mather of the University of Massachusetts, a short business meeting and singing led by Marion Roberts, concluding with refreshments and a social hour.

President Mather, the fourteenth president of the University of Massachusetts, and one of the youngest in the country, spoke with great feeling about the problems facing public education today.

These problems, far more tremendous than most people realize, are brought about by the increased numbers of students enrolling in all public schools, from the Ph.D. level to kindergarten. In part this increase is due to the great increase in population, with more children being born at all economic levels. The increase in college enrollment is also due to the fact that advances in technological development have made it almost impossible for any one to hold a job without a college education. All of this requires more and better teachers and better teacher's colleges.

He emphasized the fact that the tax supported Universities have not lagged behind the private colleges in research, nor in the education of statesmen and leaders.

To even begin to meet the needs of public education, he points out a need for a change in the source of state revenues. All education is now dependent upon property taxes. He enthusiastically endorsed Governor Furcolo's proposed State Sales Tax as the best solution to the State's need for increased revenue.

Everyone present thoroughly enjoyed listening to the problems of public education from President Mather's viewpoint.

First Aid

A course in Standard First Aid will be given by the Winchester Chapter Red Cross, starting on February 5, and continuing for nine weeks. Girl Scout leaders or other interested adult volunteers who think such a course would be helpful in their Girl Scout program, are invited to attend. Please contact the local Red Cross office to register or for further information.

Board Meeting

The February meeting of the Board will be held on Thursday, February 7, at the home of Mrs. Wesley Mallery, 24 Grove street at 9:30 a. m.

Camp Committee Meeting

The camp committee will meet at the Girl Scout Cabin on Friday morning, February 1, at 10:00 a. m. Mrs. James Stewart, Chairman will preside, and plans for Day Camp next summer will be discussed.

Leap From Plane Fails Lt. Shields

Winchester Flyer Dies In Crash

Lt. (j.g.) John A. Shields, a Navy jet pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Shields of 79 Oak street, was killed Saturday afternoon, February 2, when his plane exploded during maneuvers near San Diego, Calif. Member of a crack Navy exhibition team, he was flying an F7U Cutlass jet out of Miramar Naval Air Station and was participating in a squadron flight when the accident occurred.

Witnesses of the accident said that Lt. Shields seemed to be having trouble with his plane immediately after the takeoff. The plane made several barrel rolls, straightened out and then went into a steep glide before exploding.

Lt. Shields was able to eject himself from his plane but apparently was at too low an altitude for his chute to open, and he plummeted to the ground, falling in the Marine Corps Camp Matthews rifle range some 70 yards from the wreckage of his burning plane. The young aviator is believed to have died instantly upon his impact with the ground. He was pronounced dead at the Naval Air Station upon his arrival there.

Lt. Shields was taking part with his unit, Navy Attack Squadron 116, based at Naval Air Station Miramar, in training for a world cruise with a carrier. He had been at Miramar since getting his flyer's wings at Corpus Christi, Texas, in September of 1955, was considered a crack flyer and had participated during the past year in Navy exhibitions with a flying team in various parts of the country.

In a letter to Lt. Shields' parents, his commanding officer, Commander J. L. Callis, USN, wrote:

"John made a normal take off . . . on a routine test flight of an F7U-3M Cutlass assigned to this squadron (attack squadron 116). In fact this particular aircraft had been assigned as John's airplane as each pilot is responsible for one aircraft.

"Shortly after take off the airplane was observed to roll and go out of control. John ejected himself from the plane, using the specified ejection procedure. However, the accident occurred at such a low altitude that the parachute did not have time to open. John was well clear of the wreckage and fire, but he was killed instantly upon impact with the ground . .

"John was one of the key officers in this squadron. He was especially well liked by all of his squadron mates, and his loss is of much concern to all hands. John died serving his country just as many other Americans have done both at home and abroad."

Memorial services were held at the Chapel of the NAS in Miramar.

Lt. Shields was born in Winchester June 25, 1933, the son of John J., and Anna (DeLuca) Shields. He attended the Winchester schools and was graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1950.

He was graduated from the Massachusetts Maritime Academy at Buzzards Bay in 1953 and subsequently served in the Merchant Marines and Navy. He entered the Navy in November, 1953, and was ordered to Flight Training School at Pensacola, Fla., in April of 1954. After training there and at Beeville, Texas, he was graduated as a jet pilot, receiving his wings at Corpus Christi, Texas, in September, 1955.

His parents made the trip to Corpus Christi to see their son graduated and Mrs. Shields pinned on his Navy Aviator's "wings." Following his graduation he was assigned as a jet pilot to Naval Air Base Miramar. He was anticipating promotion to lieutenant senior grade later this month and was looking forward to the world cruise on which he and his squadron were soon to embark.

Lt. Shields expected to complete his Navy service in December of 1957. He had phoned and talked with his mother only a few days before news of his tragic accident was received here.

Aside from his popularity with his mates, Lt. Shields was held in esteem by many civilians near his base, particularly for his interest in boys. On January 25 he held the closest attention of 150 scouts and their parents at the Cuyamaca School in El Cajon as he spoke to them on jet aviation.

Besides his parents, Lt. Shields leaves two sisters, Ellen, 22; and Gloria, 15; two brothers, Anthony, 11; and William Shields, 9; and his grandfather, Cosmo DeLuca, all of Winchester.

HEARINGS ON FLUORIDES HELD

The Legislative Committee on Public Health held a day-long hearing at the State House Tuesday on bills to ban the fluoridation of water supplies in Massachusetts.

Tuesday's hearing was devoted to proponents of the bills, led by Miss Florence Birmingham, president of the Massachusetts Women's Political Club, and Miss Edna Lawrence Spencer of Cambridge, who have been urging anti-fluoride legislation for some time.

A Worcester dentist, charged that the fluoridation of public water supplies is causing the greatest backlog of tooth decay in the history of the United States, explaining his statement by saying "false hopes placed in the minds of parents that their children will benefit from the use of fluorides" is causing the backlog.

Other dentists opposed fluoridation, one terming it a "disgrace" and another, "mass medication." A member of the House of Representatives said "You don't need fluorine in the water any more than you need vitamins.

A hearing for those opposing the bills banning fluoridation of drinking water in Massachsetts has been set for March 7.

HUGH F. McPARTLAND

Hugh Francis McPartland, 70, of 404 Highland avenue, a retired tool maker and former automobile dealer in Woburn, died suddenly at his home Wednesday morning, February 6. He had been in poor health for about a year.

Mr. McPartland was the son of Hugh F. and Annie (McGreanery) McPartland. He was born in Woburn and grew up in that city, receiving his education in the Woburn schools. As a young man he entered the automobile business and for some years held the Chrysler-Plymouth agency in Woburn, being well known in local automobile circles.

He was a former professional bicycle rider, participating in many of the old six-day races in Madison Square Garden in New York. He also appeared in exhibition riding on the old B. F. Keith-Orpheum Circuit.

During World War II Mr. McPartland went to work at the Charlestown Navy Yard as a toolmaker, and in recent years he had been employed in a similar capacity at the Watertown Arsenal, retiring a year ago because of failing health. He had lived in Winchester since 1926 and was a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

Mr. McPartland leaves his wife, the former Theresa Carey of Orient Heights, East Boston; a daughter, Virginia McPartland; a brother, Thomas, both of Winchester; and two sisters, Annie McPartland of Woburn and Mrs. Frank Kelley of Arlington, N. J.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home at 9 o'clock. Solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 10. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. MILDRED EDNA PAIGE

Mrs. Mildred Edna (McPhee) Paige of 82 Arlington street died Monday, February 4. A native of Brookline, she had lived in Winchester for 30 years. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Daniel L. Shepard of Middleboro.

Private funeral services were conducted by the Rev. John W. Ellison, rector of the Church of the Epiphany.

CAROL ROEHM

WELLESLEY CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Appreciation is extended to Mrs. Paul Dunn for opening her home on the afternoon of January 30, for the annual meeting of the Winchester Wellesley Club. During a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Ralph Jope, Mrs. Ellis Green reported donations of $200 to the Wellesley College Development Fund, $100 to its Student Aid Society, and $100 to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation. Mrs. Arthur Rogde presented this slate of new officers, who were duly elected:

President, Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee
Vice-pres., Mrs. John McClennan
Secretary, Mrs. John R. Smith
Treasurer, Mrs. Paul Dunn
Publicity, Mrs. Austin Bunker
Social, Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, Jr.
Acquaintanceship, Mrs. Thomas Downes
Ways and Means, Mrs. Lindsay Caldwell
Nominating, Miss Molly Hodge

A special guest was Mrs. Jewell, who is Regional Chairman of the Development Fund.

The speaker was Miss Carol Roehm. Deftly and humorously she touched on some of the highlights of her jobs as Foreign Student Adviser and Director of Chapel at Wellesley. To foreign students at the college she is mentor, mother, greeter, teacher, lawyer-even taster of their native dishes. And to her the impact of Wellesley on these students as they finally take places of influence in their own lands is particularly evident and gratifying.

Mrs. Bradlee and Mrs. Robert Holmes poured at the attractive tea which closed this meeting.

DOROTHY MURIEL AT IGA

The management of the IGA Foodliner in Burlington is most pleased to announce that starting Monday, February 11, Dorothy Muriel's fine quality pastries will be available to IGA shoppers.

Dorothy Muriel's has long enjoyed a high reputation for its superb quality food, and the complete line of Dorothy Muriel's baked goods will be available at the IGA Foodliner on Route 3A in Burlington, open every evening until 9:00.

Rotary in New Hampshire

Winchester Rotary Club Stages Meeting In Wolfeboro

Members of the Winchester Rotary Club journeyed to Wolfeboro, N. H., Tuesday to put on a regular meeting for the Wolfeboro Rotary in the Congregational Church. During the summer when many visiting Rotarians are in Wolfeboro meetings there are held in the General Wolfe Hotel, but during the winter when the club dwindles to a regular twenty-five or so the meetings are held at the church.

The Winchester Rotary party, headed by President Charlie Koch, took off Tuesday morning for the New Hampshire resort town in automobiles, arriving in Wolfeboro in time for lunch.

This luncheon was one of the highlights of the visit. Held at Dick Bowe's King Pheasant Farm, it was prepared by Mrs. Bowe and Wolfeboro Rotary Annes and was both toothsome and satisfying. The menu comprised pheasant, raised on the Bowe farm; scalloped oysters, salad, garlic bread, date-nut bread and coffee.

Rotarians generally are noted for being stout trenchermen, but all agreed that there was plenty for everybody at the hospitable Bowe Farm, and it was doubly pleasant to have the Bowes as hosts. Dick and his family were formerly for many years residents of Winchester, and it goes without saying they went all out to welcome a group from the "old home town."

Sharing the luncheon with the Winchester Rotarians was the chairman of the Wolfeboro Board of Selectmen who brought the greetings of the town to the gathering.

After luncheon the Rotarians went on a tour of the town, visiting the electric power station, the fire station, the town museum, opened especially for the occasion, and a boat yard where the work being done on boats proved especially interesting.

Then followed a visit to the Huggins Memorial Hospital in Wolfeboro where a brother Rotarian, Hospital Manager Clarence Murphy, showed the Winchester party through the plant from stem to stern.

A social hour preceded the Rotary meeting from 5 to 6:30 at the home of Rotarian Howard Avery, and at 6:30 the Rotarians really got down to business, with President Koch presiding at the business session. The speaker was Dr. Harry L. Mueller, who gave a most interesting address on allergies encountered in babies, a field in which he specializes and is well known.

At 9 o'clock the meeting closed and as the clock chimed twelve the Rotarians were back in Winchester after a day agreed upon by all as particularly worth while.

Making up the local party were Bill Wilde, Eddie Cullen, Larry Dallin, Fred Doyle, Charlie Koch, Dr. Harry Mueller, Bob Miley, Aram Mouradian and Jim Chisholm.

BUSY AT MICHIGAN STATE

Bob Johnson of 42 Jefferson road is a very busy senior at Michigan State University these days.

He is chairman of the Jr. 500, which is an organization of all fraternities on the campus to raise money for an orphan home they support in Lansing.

Bob has taken trips to Detroit and Chicago and has lined up lots of free talent for their gala public day in May. Chester Gould has drawn a special cartoon to go on 5,000 book covers, 15,000 match covers and 3,000 blotters advertising the event that is always well supported by all the neighboring towns and cities.

Frankie Laine has made radio and TV commercials for him, Sports Illustrated magazine is running an article, Playboy magazine has promised their show girl, and Ford Motor Co. is lending their Indianapolis 500 Speedway Mercury Pacemaker that will be used to pace the 500 pushcart race.

This is the largest fund-raising promotion attempted by this large school.

POWER PIANO RECITAL

PARENT-FACULTY ASSOCIATION PRESENTS HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER

Michael J. Power, concert pianist and a member of the faculty at Winchester High School, appeared in his first public recital in Winchester on Monday evening, February 4. The concert, given in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Winchester High School Parent-Faculty Association, was acclaimed with enthusiasm by an appreciative audience.

Mr. Power opened his program with a graceful and sensitive interpretation of Bach's delightful French Suite in E major, a series of charming dances in the French styles of the seventeenth century. This was followed by an eloquent rendition of Beethoven's Sonata in E-flat, "Les Adieux," a demanding work in which Mr. Power demonstrated the integration of poetic interpretation and intellectual depth. The three movements, entitled "The Farewell, the Absence, and the Return," form a musical narrative of contrasting moods.

Three beautiful Schubert Impromptus, considered to be among Schubert's greatest compositions for solo piano, were performed with inspiring technique. The program was brilliantly concluded with three selections from Chopin: the Op. 49 Fantaisie, the Impromptu in F-sharp, and the Scherzo in C-sharp minor. For the encores which the audience demanded, Mr. Power chose the Waltz in G-flat by Chopin and Ecossaises by Beethoven.

Proceeds from the concert will be used by the Association for school improvement projects. Mr. and Mrs. F. William Schumacher, co-chairmen of the ways and means committee of the high school Parent-Faculty Association, were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. George Connor, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. George Neville, and Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Thomson.

Mr. Robert Mulford, in charge of the ushers, was assisted by Charles Crede, Gilman Wallace, John Ghirardini, Herbert Clark, and F. William Schumacher.

Credit for the wide distribution of the tickets goes to Mrs. Clifton Keane and to the committee of homeroom mothers. Assisting Mrs. Keane in contacting the homeroom mothers were Mrs. Bradford M. Bentley, freshman class; Mrs. George Neville, sophomore class; Mrs. Carl Morton, junior class; and Mrs. Nelson Brown, senior class. Publicity was handled by Mr. F. Meredith Cooper.

Preceding the concert, faculty members at the high school were entertained at a series of dessert parties presented by members of the Association. At the conclusion of the recital, Mr. and Mrs. F. William Schumacher entertained the members of the P. F. A. executive board at a brief coffee hour in honor of Mr. Power.

"LILIOM" ARRIVES FEBRUARY 15

"Liliom," a legend in seven scenes and a prologue, written by Ferenc Molnar, will be presented Friday afternoon, February 15, at 3:30 p. m. in the Memorial Auditorium, and Saturday evening, February 16, at 8:15 p. m.

This story of a shiftless young ne'er-do-well of Budapest, Hungary, stars Peter Dee as Liliom, Carol Leverone as Julie, and Mary Jean Newton as Marie. Julie is a servant girl who falls victim to Liliom's charm and eventually marries him; Marie is Julie's friend. When Liliom learns that he is to become a father he participates in highway robbery in order to enhance his fortunes. However, he is caught in the act, and he stabs himself rather than submit to arrest. He is sentenced to a term of 16 years in the purifying fires of the penitential plains with the promise that after his sentence has been served he can go back to earth with a chance to do one good deed there.

Other principal parts are played by Ellen Moncy as Mrs. Muscat, Blanche Cartier as Louise, John Ghirardini as Fiscur, and Bill Nichols as Wolf Beifeld.

TAX ADVICE

A deputy from the State Tax Commission will advise Winchester Residents on their tax problems at the Town Hall on March 13, from 9:30 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. and from 2:00 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

CHARLES JOSEPH HARROLD

Charles Joseph Harrold of 76 Nelson street, an employee of the Winchester Cemetery Department, died early Tuesday morning, February 5, at his home, following a short illness. He had been ill for only a week, but previously had not been in the best of health.

Mr. Harrold was the son of Andrew T. and Alice (Cogan) Harrold. He was born December 20, 1892, in Winchester and grew up in town, attending the Winchester schools. As a young man he worked for the Water and Sewer Department and later was employed as a leather and gelatin worker in local shops. Following a period of poor health he had been employed by the Cemetery Department in Wildwood Cemetery.

On July 15, 1916, Mr. Harrold married Mary Veinot of Winchester, who survives him, with a daughter, Mrs. Francis King of Woburn; two sons, Francis and Andrew Harrold, both of Billerica; 10 grandchildren, a brother, James Harrold of Linden, N. J.; and three sisters, Mrs. Leo Hannon of Dorchester, Mrs. Frank Hobley of Tampa, Fla., and Mrs. Edward Kearney of New Orleans, La.

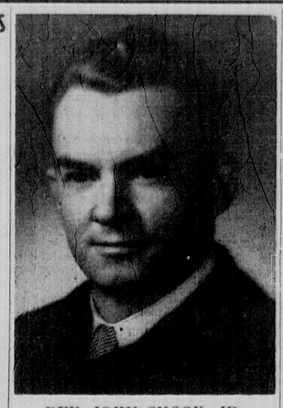
The funeral was held Thursday morning from the B. J. McLaughlin Funeral Home in Woburn, with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

NEW PARCELS POST BUILDING FOR WINCHESTER

Postmaster Tom Gilgun told the Star yesterday he has been notified by the Post Office Department that a new parcels post building is to be erected in Winchester to relieve the congestion which has been mounting yearly at the local Post Office, especially at Christmas time.

The new building will have about 2,000 sq. ft. of floor space, which is larger than the present office, and will include window service. Post Office patrons can take parcels post to either the main office or the parcels post building, but Postmaster Gilgun stated that an attempt will be made to have heavy mailers of parcels post use the new building.

A lot under consideration as a site for the new building is located in the triangle on the easterly side of Shore road where Shore road meets the new highway through the Skillings estate. Containing between 6,000 and 8,000 feet, the lot will provide plenty of parking space for patrons.



REV. JOHN SNOOK, JR.

METHODIST PASTOR COMMENCES 10th YEAR IN WINCHESTER

The Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, commences on Sunday morning, February 10, the 10th year of his pastorate in Winchester.

No elaborate observance of the occasion is being planned but it is expected that a large group of parishioners and former parishioners will be present at the regular Sunday morning service at the church at 10:45 to congratulate Mr. Snook on the success of his past service to the church and to extend best wishes for the future. Representatives of the town's service clubs are expected to attend the service.

It is unusual for a Methodist minister to remain for ten years in a church, and Mr. Snook's ten years at Crawford Memorial are a tribute to his service here. The Winchester church is the first and only church he has served since his graduation from college.

Mr. Snook is a native of Everett, a graduate of Everett High School and received his theological training at Boston University. While in college he served at the Marblehead Methodist Church, accepting a call to Winchester from that parish. During his years in Winchester he has been especially active in work with service personnel, and has conducted preaching missions, both in this country and abroad. Under his leadership the Crawford Church has currently launched a building program to add needed room and facilities to the church.

Mr. Snook is married and has four children, Jacqueline, a student at MacMurray College; Jane, a pupil in high school; Wesley; and a baby daughter, Joellen.

The Star is happy to add its congratulations and best wishes to those of the Snooks' many friends.

PUCKSTERS MEET DANVERS

Winchester High School's hockey team, currently in second place in the Northeastern Division of the North Shore Hockey League, will play an important game Saturday evening at 9 o'clock with Danvers at the Lynn Arena.

Danvers, after leading the conference most of the season, dropped two in a row and now trails the Indians in third place. Winchester completes its regularly scheduled games on February 13, meeting Governor Dummer.

WASHINGTON MOTHERS' ASS'N

On Tuesday, February 5, Mrs. Roland Hanson, president of the Mothers' Association opened the business meeting by introducing two new members of the board, Mrs. William Foley, second vice-president, and Mrs. Frank Willette, chairman of the ways and means committee.

Mrs. Hanson read a letter sent from Elizabeth L. Richards, Executive Director for the Winchester chapter of the American Red Cross, reminding the mothers of the first aid training course beginning on February 5. The secretary's report was read by Mrs. Lawrence Lunt and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Howard Nichols.

Mrs. George Marks, a member of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation Committee, gave a brief history of the foundation of the scholarship fund and explained how scholarships are awarded.

Mrs. Gretchen West was then introduced to the audience by the program chairman, Mrs. Walker Hutchinson. Mrs. West delighted the audience with her talk on floral arrangements and demonstration of the use of effective accessories. The simplicity of the arrangements Mrs. West created was most charming.

A social hour followed with the refreshments being served from an attractively decorated table by Mrs. John Wile and her efficient social committee members.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Seek Town Hall Ruling

Rotary Protest Prompts Study

The Board of Selectmen, at their meeting Monday evening, asked the Town Counsel to prepare a ruling on the legal aspects of renting the town hall to assist them in determining whether there should be a new policy adopted covering the hiring of the hall by individuals or organizations.

Precipitating the Selectmen's action was the protest by members of the Winchester Rotary Club over the renting of the hall by the Selectmen for an auction on February 9 and an antiques show on April 15, 16 and 17. Basis for the Rotarians' protest is their belief that these events will hurt the club's annual spring auction benefitting its Winchester charities.

In the case of the action February 9, the hall has been let to Richard Withington, sales manager for Arthur Magurn, licensed auctioneer, of Concord. The hall has been rented to Edwin M. C. French, Jr., of Exeter, N. H., for an "exhibition and sale of antiques" on the dates in April.

For some years now Rotary has run an auction at the town hall during April, to raise in the neighborhood of $3,000 necessary to continue charitable projects to which the club stands committed. The Boy and Girl Scouts, the Little League, the High School, the Scholarship Foundation and Winning Farm are some of the projects the Rotary has assisted with the funds raised at its auction, and members of the club are afraid the other similar events for which the hall has been booked will reduce the amount realized from the auction below what is necessary to meet its charitable obligations.

Members of the club seem to feel that in renting the hall to private individuals, or to firms, the Selectmen are permitting the hall to be used commercially. They feel that it should not be so used, and it has been pointed out that the town hall is located in a residential zone, with the business district on Mt. Vernon street ending at the river, though the land across the street from the town hall is in the business zone.

The Building Commissioner was sufficiently impressed with this reasoning to seek an opinion from the Town Counsel, and told the Star that the Counsel expressed the opinion that the Selectmen as custodians of the town hall have the right to rent it as they have done for the auction and antiques show.

Legally, the immediate feeling seems to be that because the hall was used for commercial purposes prior to the Zoning Bylaw, any such use of the hall now would be a non-conforming use and therefor not subject to zoning restrictions.

The Selectmen point out the hall has been used in the past for commercial purposes and that there has never been any policy that would apply to the present situation. They naturally want to do everything possible to assist the Rotary, and have already had the dates of the antiques show changed so as not to come immediately before the Rotarian Auction.

A Selectman told the Star that the whole matter of town hall rentals may well be considered with a view to arriving at a policy that will be both legal and in the public interest.

He stated that the Board has no wish to handicap the Rotary Auction in any way, and to substantiate this statement pointed out that the Selectmen had postponed the exhibition of antiques until after the Rotary event so there would be no chance of the auction suffering.

The Selectman said that the Rotary protest had opened up a wide range of enquiry as to the hiring of the hall by local and outside groups, as well as by business people, and that after the Town Counsel has ruled on any legal aspects that may apply to such rentals the Board will consider the matter carefully with a view to determining whether a new policy governing the rental of the hall should be made.

Meanwhile the two rentals in question, for the auction on February 9, and the antiques show April 15, 16 and 17, will stand, the Board of Selectmen feeling that they have committed themselves to the use of the hall on those dates. The Rotary Auction is scheduled for April 13.

FUNERAL OF LT. SHIELDS SATURDAY

MILITARY HONORS FOR NAVY AVIATOR KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

The funeral of Lt. (j.g.) John A. Shields of 79 Oak street, Navy Jet Pilot who died Saturday, February 2, when his plane crashed during maneuvers at Miramar Naval Air Base near San Diego, Calif., will be held Saturday morning from the Lane Funeral Home at 10 o'clock

Solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 11 o'clock and full military honors will be accorded by Winchester Post 97, the American Legion, and Aberjona Post 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars. A firing squad and bugler from the Navy unit at the Fargo Building in Boston, will also participate.

Lt. Shield's body came east by plane from San Diego after Navy Memorial Services had been held there. It left San Diego at 12:29 a. m. Thursday and was due at Logan International Airport in Boston at 11:30 last night.

Funeral Director John Lane met the plane at the airport and brought the body of the young aviator to Winchester. He will lie in state at the Lane Funeral Home before the funeral with visiting hours today from 2 to 5 and from 7 to 9 p.m.

EDWARD HALL PARKER

Edward Hall Parker, 86, died the morning of February 4, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bernice Parker Horne, 3 Stratford road, surviving his wife, Daisy Florence Davis, by eighteen years.

Born in Durham, New Hampshire, May 8, 1870, Mr. Parker migrated to Boston at the age of eighteen. He was a skilled mechanic and draftsman; also an inventor quite well known in his particular field.

During his years in business he was employed by the Boston and Maine Railroad, Gillette Safety Razor Co., Technicolor, Saco-Lowell Shops, Mico Instrument, and the Green Instrument Company, from which firm, at 80 years of age, he retired.

Mr. Parker was a charter member of the American Mechanics Association and a life member of King Solomon Masonic Lodge of Somerville. He is survived by his three daughters, Mrs. Florence H. Burtnett, Mrs. Edna I. Dean and Mrs. Bernice Parker Horne, eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Wilson Chapel on College avenue in Somerville. The minister of the First Congregational Church, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiated. Cremation followed the services.

Hungarians Aided, Street Fair Named

En Ka Holds Winter Meeting

The winter meeting of the En Ka Society was held on Tuesday, January 29, at the home of Mrs. George Blackwood on Wedgemere avenue.

After a delicious luncheon served by Mrs. Don Greer and her committee the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. George Connor. She introduced Mr. John Ellison, rector of the Parish of the Epiphany, who talked on Hungarian Relief in Winchester. En Ka felt it was a privilege to help financially and voted $500.00 for the orientation program while the Hungarians are in Winchester.

The Street Fair Chairman, Mrs. Hollis Dyer, announced the name of the 1957 Street Fair to be "En Ka Sachem Pow Wow" and Mrs. Stephen Nichols distributed the donation books to the members to be sold for the Ford to be given away at the Street Fair in May.

The Finance Chairman, Mrs. Virginia Dickey gave the following report. It was voted to give:

$410.00 to replace the Coleman Spectometer at the Winchester Hospital
$650.00 for a new electric sign at the entrance of the Winchester Hospital
$400.00 to replace the old freezer at the Home for the Aged
$200.00 to the Winchester Girl Scouts to be used for heater extentions when the Cabin is winterized
$165.00 to the Winchester Girl Scouts for ten aluminum benches
$250.00 to P.A.L. for equipment
$153.50 to the Winchester Homefronters for postage on Christmas packages for our Service boys and girls
$ 30.00 to the Winchester Library for a 50 cup coffee maker
$1000.00 to the Winchester Scholarship Fund for two $500. scholarships
$300.00 to Winchester High School Band for uniforms
$250.00 to the Babe Ruth League
$300.00 to the Winchester Boy Scouts for material for an Adirondak Shelter
$250.00 to the Winchester Public Library for books for the Hospital Book Truck

Mrs. Francis Chase, chairman of the Work Shop reported sewing meetings are being held once a month at members homes, where articles are made for the needy of Winchester. This proves that En Ka is truly a Service organization.

WINCHESTER-WOBURN CHI RHO DANCE

The Chi Rho Club of St. Charles, Woburn and St. Mary's, Winchester will sponsor a dance on Saturday evening, February 16, in St. Mary's Hall at 8:00 p. m.

The following committee has been working diligently in the interests of its success: Nicholas Fitzgerald, Gloria Mucera, Anthony Doyle, Lawrence Erhard, Alice Walsh, Mary Murray and others. A well-known orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion and refreshments will be served.

Chi Rho is an organization of Catholic Youth, distinct from the C.Y.O., founded to encourage religious, social and cultural betterment for an age group upon whose shoulders rest the responsibility of the future.

It has become a nation-wide program, promoted in this sector by Archbishop Cushing and the priests of the archdiocese.

Its name is derived from two Greek letters, X and P, standing, in English, for the first three letters of the word, Christ.

WINCHESTER, 89; CONCORD, 45

A hot Winchester quintet poured a shower of 89 points on defenseless Concord as the Indians scalped the Patriots, 89-45, in a Middlesex League basketball game at the Concord gym on Tuesday afternoon.

Five Indians broke the magic number. Mike Callahan paced the team with 20 points while Roger Symmes collected 18, Dave Bergquist, 15; and center Hank Schumacher and John Chapin got 12 each. Hank also pulled down 26 rebounds, a new record for the season. Winchester's romp was largely due to a remarkable 49% average from the floor.

Roberts was high scorer for the Patriots netting 17 points while Fraser, top point-getter of the Middlesex League was held to 11 by Mike Callahan's guarding.

Never in danger of being overtaken the Sachems jumped ahead 26-8 in the first period and then fairly ran away with it, leading 47-19 at the half and 67-29 as the third quarter ended.

The J.V.'s, minus the services of stars Doug Thomson and Rick Roberts, appeared slated for a tougher time in their game. Concord led 13-11 at the close of the first period, in which Winchester was as cold as ice. Things began to happen, however, about mid-way through the second quarter as the Winchester boys erupted to go in front 38-18 at the half. Concord's second just didn't have it in the second half as the J.V.'s extended the lead to 22 points at the three-quarter mark, then took it easy.

Dave Schumacher was far in front of the field in scoring with 20 points and also grabbed about every rebound in sight.

Aronie netted nine for the losers.

TROOP 4 NEWS

Boy Scout Troop 4, meeting in Parkhurst School, is now fully organized, and an interesting schedule of activities is planned. The Parkhurst Parents' Association is now the Troop Sponsor, and will be responsible for its continued well being. Regular meetings are Thursday night at seven o'clock.

The Scoutmaster is Charles Buckingham, of 25 Foxcroft road, who has done extensive scouting work in Arlington. Melvin H. Sidebotham, Jr., with a good scouting background, is Assistant Scoutmaster. Captain A. R. Gunnar Brink is chairman of the troop committee, while Richard W. Swanson is in charge of outdoor activities, and Benjamin F. Wild is handling Special events.

Our first special event of the year was a swimming party on Saturday night, February 2, at the Wakefield Y.M.C.A. The following scouts enjoyed a splash in the pool much more than their usual dip in the bath tub: Larry Archibald, Wayne Bartlett, Bob Doane, David Doane, Dennis Golden, Philip Stewart, Peter Swanson, John Tutty, Wesley Wheaton, and Roddy Wild.

REV. EDWIN H. TULLER

The Rev. Edwin H. Tuller of Salisbury street, will be the narrator for the Ogden Nash verse to "Carnival of the Animals," to be included in the program of the Hanson-Seeber concert on Friday, February 8, at the Wyman School Auditorium. The concert is sponsored by the Young People of the First Baptist Church for the benefit of the Massachusetts Baptist Camp at Groton.

AIR ACADEMY FILM AVAILABLE

The new Air Force Academy color film, "Wings of Tomorrow," is now available for showing to interested groups according to M/Sgt. Alexander N. Raftopoulos, Air Force Recruiter for this area.

Photographed by an Air Force Unit, the film covers virtually every phase of cadet life at the Academy's temporary site in Denver, Colorado. In addition, it portrays specialized summer training of cadets at bases throughout the United States.

The 14-minute film will be available to high school, television stations, civic groups, veterans' organizations, and similar groups requesting it.

Additional information on the Air Force Academy and scheduling of the film can be had by contacting M/Sgt. Alexander N. Raftopoulos at the Air Force Recruiting Office, 49 High street, Medford, Mass., or by calling MYstic 6-5109 weekdays 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. or evenings call WInchester 6-1764.

ST. MARY'S SODALITY

A Valentine Bridge and Whist party will be held on Tuesday, evening, February 12, at St. Mary's Hall.

In addition to a very attractive door prize there will be the following prizes: electric clock radio, sterling silver candle sticks, canned ham, Italian pottery tea set, and many other valuable articles.

Remember the coffee half hour from 8 to 8:30 p. m. The card playing will follow immediately thereafter.

Green school beans $1.50 at the Star Office. Star Building.

RED CROSS DRIVE

Local leaders who will direct efforts to raise $18,700 in Winchester for the American Red Cross were named this week by Robert M. Edgar of 21 Oxford street, Fund Chairman in charge of this year's Winchester Chapter solicitations.

At the same time Board Chairman Royce H. Randlett of 27 Ridgefield road, made known results of activities of some 795 Winchester residents who, through volunteer activity during 1956, made an enviable record for the Winchester Chapter of the national organization. Randlett also disclosed that 325 Winchester children engaged in the Summer Swimming Program of the Winchester Red Cross, and that 68 certificates were issued to local youngsters in the Winchester Chapter Red Cross Water Safety Program.

Those named by Fund Chairman Edgar to assist him in direction of the 1957 local Red Cross campaign, which will culminate in a house-to-house drive on Sunday, March 10 are:

Special Gifts Chairman: Ralph H. Bonnell, Jr., 7 Lockeland road.

Residential Chairman: Wade L. Grindle, 20 Mason street.

Publicity Chairman: Herbert L. Baldwin, 5 Ardley road.

Business Chairman: Thomas J. Gilgun, Postmaster of Winchester.

Assistant Business Chairman: William A. Wilde, Jr., 3 Thompson street.

Precinct Chairmen:

Prec. 1 Mrs. Ruth Stevens, 28 Hillcrest Parkway.

Prec. 2 Co-Chairmen: Mrs. Ronold King, 92 Hillcrest Parkway; Charles Harris, 23 Stevens street.

Prec. 4 Co-Chairmen: Mrs. Bernhart Anderson, 56 Dunster lane; Mrs. Robert Pritchard, 53 Salisbury street.

Prec. 6 John Eaton, 55 Middlesex street.

In summarizing the 1956 accomplishments of the 795 Winchester people who gave hundreds of hours of voluntary service to the Red Cross, Board Chairman Randlett said a total of 45,840 surgical dressings were provided at the Bedford Hospital, made by two Winchester groups. Four Gray Ladies and one staff aide gave weekly service at Bedford; 6 outings and picnics were given for patients; and 12 jackets, 26 sweaters, beanies and draperies were made by Winchester knitters, and the sewing group.

Among other Winchester volunteer activities for Red Cross in 1956, Randlett reported.

Winchester Hospital: 21 Gray Ladies and a nurse's aid gave 976 hours. Motor Corps made 79 trips for blood from Blood Center and nearby hospitals.

Home Service: 49 servicemen and their families were helped. Temporary loans made to 4 veterans at request of veterans' services. 2 families aided at 2 disasters. Four Thanksgiving baskets and 4 Christmas dinners delivered. Twenty-six Christmas boxes sent servicemen on high seas.

Blood Program: 330 pints collected during 4 Bloodmobile visits. Boston Bloodcenter staffed by 8 Winchester volunteers one day monthly. Blood donor days in Winchester staffed by 48 volunteers and by 49 solicitors on each donor day. Blood furnished Winchester residents at Winchester Hospital and other hospitals when needed.

Motor Corps: Twenty-four Winchester men and women drove 10,007 miles; gave 770 hours for 349 calls to take patients to Boston hospitals and clinics, and on other mercy errands. Thirty trips made to Children's Hospital.

Junior Red Cross: 123 gift boxes sent to children in foreign lands by pupils in Winchester elementary schools. 3,042 Christmas cards, 10,000 magazines, and 1,346 comic books sent by high school and junior high school. 820 favors made by elementary school children.

Disaster: For Hungarian Relief Winchester residents contributed $1,091. Coffee served at 3 fires for Winchester Fire Department personnel.

First Aid: Five Classes held, 31 certificates issued.

"This record would seem to indicate" said Board Chairman Randlett that "The American Red Cross is 'people helping people'."

PARISH PLAYERS CAST

The Parish Players of the First Congregational Church will present "Bell, Book and Candle" by John Van Druten on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, February 14, 15 and 16, in Chidley Hall, with the curtain at 8:30 promptly. Mr. Harlan F. Grant is directing, with Mrs. Lenore T. Gamage, production chairman, and Mrs. Warren Haley prompter.

Assisting Mrs. Gamage as stage crew chairman is Charles A. Brown, with George H. Gowdy, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Millican, Frances Peirce, Evelyn Gilpatrick. Fred Otto and Edwin Eccles are on lights, and Joanne Eklund, Marjorie McGaw and Margaret Hodgson are in charge of setting and properties. On the costume committee are Miss Alfreda Kearney, Miss Ruth Nelson, Miss Helen D. O'Donnell, and Mrs. Lowell Smith. Mrs. George E. Connor is chairman of program and publicity, and Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, cast party. Mrs. George H. Gowdy is in charge of tickets for the Friday and Saturday performances. Douglas Gowdy has tickets for Thursday (Forum) night.

The capable cast in "Bell, Book and Candle" includes Marian T. Blake, Jacqueline Hall Sibley, Henry K. Fitts, George S. Hebb, Jr., and Robert P. Blake—plus the addition of a charming lady cat, Miss Petroushka whose faimly consists of the H. K. Archibalds on Penn road). Miss Troushka plays the important part of Piewacket, the "familiar" of the twentieth century witch!

The February meeting of the Art Association was held in the Library Gallery on Tuesday evening, February 5. Preceding the meeting coffee was served during the social hour by Mrs. T. E. Burleigh, Jr., assisted by Miss Corinne Mead.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. David Berger, a graduate of the Mass. School of Art and Cranbrook Academy, who now is teaching at the Framingham Teachers' College. Mr. Berger's colorful pictures hanging on the walls and the slides of his pictures which were shown, well illustrated the subject of the evening which was color.

The slides covering pictures of a period of ten years showed the interesting development of Mr. Berger's great creative ability, unique experimentation and use of color and freedom of thought. Starting with virile portraits he soon wished to change flesh tones to something more dynamic, then he went into still life painting where his use of intense color brought the realization that "the brightest colors knock each other out." Later he discovered he could paint yellow on yellow and red on red. Throughout these years of experimentation Mr. Berger's pictures are full of humor, gaiety, ecstacy and abandon yet their paramount interest is the extraordinary use of color.

The pictures will be on exhibit through the month of February and are well worth a visit to the Gallery.

CUB PACK 11 LINCOLN SCHOOL

Bill Carroll and Paul Gentile were the flagbearers as the Pack meeting officially opened. Ron Erickson led the Cubs and parents in the Pledge of Allegiance, Dominic Amico in the Cub Promise and Paul Harvey in the Cub Law.

A Bobcat initiation was held with Richard Mobbs and John Buzzotta being officially inducted into the Pack.

Den 4, which had been the Honor Den for the month of January, turned the Honor Flag over to Den 5, the winner for February.

After a game period, conducted by committeeman Paul Salipante, the Pack officially ended the meeting with "Goodnight Cub Scouts."

TROOP 7 BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD 25th ANNIVERSARY REUNION

The boy Scouts of Troop 7 are planning a 25th anniversary reunion, to be held at the First Baptist Church on Monday evening, February 25.

The event will mark the 25th birthday of the Troop, which was organized in 1932 and has operated continually ever since. Over the years, more than 300 boys have been members of the Troop, and it is hoped that many of these former Troop 7 Scouts and Scouters will be present at the celebration, along with present Troop members and their parents.

The affair will start at 6:45 with a turkey dinner, followed by reminiscences by "old timers" and demonstrations by current Scouts.

Former Troop 7 Scouts and Scouters who would like to visit their "old Troop" once again, are cordially invited to contact the reunion chairman, Paul Butterworth, at RE 2-1364-M.

The whole family, including Mom, Dad and junior, may go swimming at the Boston YWCA at 12:45 p. m. on Saturdays.

EDITORIALS

Have you noticed how many are using the cross walks around the center these days? Those safety islands in the square look pretty good with continuous traffic on the loose.

Please do not send unsigned letters to the Star. We will not print letters unless we know who writes them, though if there is good reason for omitting the name we will withhold it. It is our opinion that an unsigned letter isn't worth the space it takes in the paper, but there may be extenuating circumstances under which it is desirable to omit the signature. We will not, however, publish letters that come to us unsigned, and we have had two good ones of this variety recently.

They are already talking of a $10 tax increase for Winchester if this year's town meeting goes along with just the budget requests, before any of the special articles are taken up. That is a tidy increase and would indicate some rough sledding for some of the special articles calling for sizeable appropriations. Taxpayers generally will be watching the town meetings closely this year. A 60 dollar tax rate will hit a lot of us where it really hurts!

We have had calls recently about the ducks at the Mill Pond, and one suggestion was that the town make an appropriation to feed the ducks during the winter. The Star investigated and found that the Park Department already has in its budget a sum of money with which to feed the ducks throughout the year, and representatives of the department and town hall personnel seem to feel the feathered inhabitants of the mill pond are pretty well taken care of. As we have pointed out, the ducks cannot be taken away from the Pond except by State officials since they are wild ducks and consequently under State control. . . . .

Looking over the final list of candidates in this week's paper the Star was reminded of a prophecy made a year or so ago by one close to town government in Winchester. It was his opinion that we are not too far away from the town manager form of government, and not because we particularly need it. We still have plenty of competent persons in town capable of giving outstanding service in public office; but the fact is that it is growing increasingly difficult to get such persons to seek town office because of the effort necessary to get elected and the time which must be devoted to town business after the office is won!

Town business is becoming more and more taxing, especially for the policy-making officers of the community, and apparently fewer and fewer are willing to devote the time and energy necessary to such office, especially in view of the pressures and headaches involved.

There are only three places where contests occur on the entire ballot for town office this year. For a time it looked as if only the office of constable would be contested, but more recently candidates presented themselves to make contests also in the brackets for Board of Health and Selectmen.

In the light of such apparent lack of interest the Star felt it might be pertinent to bring to the attention of the town the opinion expressed above.

Of course there are those who would welcome the town manager form and others who will tell you the town business is so well conducted that those presently in office should be permitted to remain there without challenge. For its part the Star would like to see more, instead of less people showing their interest in town government by presenting their names for town office.

GOOD THINGS TAKEN FOR GRANTED

Board of Selectmen
Town of Winchester
Gentlemen:

You frequently receive comments from townspeople, I am sure, expressing their views on the various services provided by the Town. Perhaps these are more often adverse than complimentary because we tend to take the good things for granted and comment only on the poorer experiences.

I would like to express to you and through you to Town Departments my sincere appreciation and, also Mrs. McElwee's in connection with services extended to us at a time when we had a significant personal problem.

Our only child and son became seriously ill on Christmas morning. He had been under the doctor's care since the previous evening when an apparently normal virus condition developed. At 6:40 a. m. Christmas morning he had to be rushed immediately to Children's Hospital. We called the Police Station and within ten minutes Patrolmen James Cogan and Angelo Amico were at our door and had Jack in Children's Hospital in twenty-minutes. The efficiency with which they performed their duties, both of getting there swiftly and safely, and administering oxygen to Jack enroute, was highly commendable. Although it was, unfortunately, not within the power of man or medical science to save Jack, every effort was made and I am sure you will understand what a consolation it is to us that there was no delay which would cause us now to say "it might have been otherwise."

By virtue of extensive active and reserve status military duty as Commander of a Navy Fighter Squadron, I have a rather full awareness of the problems involved effecting emergency measures. That our Police Department on a Christmas Holiday morning was able to provide such immediately good service is indeed a tribute to the organization training and spirit of the Department's personnel. Officers Cogan and Amico were efficient, considerate and helpful in every possible way. We want you to know that they and all who are responsible for what they were able to do have our lasting appreciation.

We were further impressed to find that after Jack had passed away and some one of our many wonderful neighbors had evidentally contacted the appropriate department, a crew was dispatched to effect a complete snow removal operation from the sidewalk and street area immediately in front of our house.

This is the type of friendliness that one is not surprised to find on the part of a good friend or neighbor. To see the Town organizations so willing and ready to cooperate and help in such a quiet but effective manner is an experience which makes us feel that we would never want to leave Winchester.

This is a lengthy and protracted way to say "thank you" but at the present time it is only by explaining that we can somewhat fully express our appreciation

It is our sincere hope that in the years to come Mrs. McElwee and I will be able to give more to the community through our personal activities and in some way express more tangibly our wish to respond in mind to the consideration we have received.

Sincerely,
John G. McElwee

FROM THE MODERATOR

Editor of the Star:

With the business to be conducted at the Annual Town Meeting tending to increase each succeeding year, it seems desirable that we operate as efficiently and expeditiously as possible.

To this end, I am wondering whether it would be helpful and of interest to the Town Meeting members to hold a couple of classes in parliamentary proceedure prior to the opening session of the Town Meeting on March 14.

Those who wished to do so might meet with me in one of the high school classrooms where we could discuss such subjects as the rights and limitations conferred on the Town Meeting by the enabling statute, the town-by-laws, the thirteen basic parliamentary motions and any other relevant topics the group selected.

If a sufficient number thought this worth-while, I suggest we might get together on the Tuesday evenings, March 5 and 12. Would you be good enough either to publish this letter or to lay this idea before the townspeople in some other fashion in your paper? Any response to the Star or to me would help us gauge the advisability of undertaking the program outlined above.

Yours sincerely,
Harrison Chadwick
Moderator

P. A. L. NOTES

So far, two of the postponed games have been played. The other, Royals - Lakers, will be made up on Monday, February 11, at 7:30.

Three scoring records were set in the first makeup game between the Pistons and Celtics, won by the Pistons, 85-42. They were, most points one team (85), most points both teams (127) and most points individual (O'Connell-Pistons-27). Bud DeRenne, of the Pistons, nearly tied "Oke's" record with 26 points. Frank Gaudioso led the lowly Celtics with 18.

The second game saw the Eagles dropped out of first place by the Hawks, 44-43. Mike McDonald was high for the Eagles with 14. "Slater" Martin led the Hawks with 16.

In the regularly scheduled games, The Eagles bounced back with a 60-21 crushing of the Celtics. It was the Celtics' eighth loss in a row, "Jigger" Bond's 22 points was high for the Eagles.

The Lakers won their seventh game without a loss as Dick Scott lead them to an easy 47-19 shellacking of the Pistons. The loss dropped the Pistons into second place and gave the Lakers sole possession of first place.

"The Golden Greek," Dave Govostes led his Hawks to a 41-21 victory over the Royals. Govostes had 15 points. He shone at the free-throw line with a big 7-for-7. Jim Lindsey was high for the Royals with 10 points.

Juniors

As in the Senior League, two games have been made up, with one to go. On Monday, February 11 at 7:30, Harvard meets Holy Cross.

A last second basket by Joe Butare gave B.C. a 37-36 victory over Yale in their makeup game. "Joltin Joe" led B.C. with 11 points. Ben Stevens' 12 points was high for Yale.

Harvard was temporarily stopped in the first place drive by a 42-32 defeat at the hands of Princeton. Bill Errico led the Princeton onslaught with 22 points.

In the regular scheduled games, Jim Cogan's pre-game peptalk fired his Harvard team to a 38-29 victory over Yale.

Dartmouth remained undefeated by beating B. C. 46-28. Mike Bellino, with 20 points, sparked Dartmouth.

Princeton stayed right with Dartmouth by a 47-12 shellacking of Holy Cross. Bill Errico, for the second straight game, hit for 22 big points.

CATECHETICAL TRAINING COURSE

A training course for lay people in methods of training Christian Doctrine to children who do not attend parochial schools will be given in the Woburn Deanery beginning on Thursday evening, February 14, at 7:30 p. m.

Under the sponsorship of Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, the course will be given at St. Agnes School Hall, Medford street, Arlington, under the guidance of Sister Mary Jogues of the Mission Helpers of the Sacred Heart. The course will continue for fifteen consecutive Thursdays. A CCD Religion Teacher Certificate will be awarded upon successful completion of the course.

The course is open to men and women from any part of the Archdiocese and while it is intended primarily for lay teachers, it is also of special interest and great value to mothers in the religious training and education of their children. All who are interested are welcome.

Sister Mary Jogues, who will conduct the course, has given similar courses in the Quincy, Salem, Plymouth and Framingham Deaneries and is now completing a course in the Norwood Deanery. The Mission Helpers of the Sacred Heart have specialized in the catechetical field, training lay teachers in the activities of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine.

Registration for the course should be made immediately at St. Mary's Rectory or with Mrs. Bernard C. Hanley, WInchester 6-3941 or mailed directly to Rev. Albert Low, Director of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, 468 Beacon street, Boston. A registration fee will be payable on the opening night of the course.

The committee on Religious Education of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women is co-operating in making arrangements for the course.

WINCHESTER GIRLS CHOSEN

Sandra Delay of Marycliff Academy, and Janice Deppe of Winchester High School have been named Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow in Winchester.

They received the highest scores in their schools on a recent written examination of homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating high school girls.

Their examination papers now will be entered in competition with those of 203 other school winners to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runnerup award in the state. For their achievement, they will each receive an award pin designed by Trifari of New York.

Each state winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip with her school advisor to Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City. A $500 scholarship will be awarded the runnerup girl in each state. The school of the state winner receives a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

More than 300,000 young women in 11,636 of the nation's public, private and parochial schools participated in the third annual Search sponsored by General Mills. The program is designed to assist schools in education for home and family living and to emphasize through a sound scholarship award program the personal qualities and sense of values necessary to successful homemaking. A total of $106,000 in scholarships will be awarded.

The national winner will be named May 2 at the American Table banquet in the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York City. The scholarship of the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000. This year for the first time girls who rank second, third and fourth in the national finals will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships respectively.

Science Research Associates of Chicago prepared and scored the examinations.

TWO BOYS CAUGHT IN STOLEN CAR

Two Winchester boys were apprehended by police in Canaan, New Hampshire, in a car reported stolen from Medford Monday night.

A car stolen from in front of the Calidyne Co., in Winchester earlier that evening, belonging to James Francis of Billerica who is employed there, was found abandoned a short distance from the site of the Medford theft.

Earlier in the evening James Haggerty of 12 Baldwin street found a boy attempting to steal his auto, but was unable to apprehend the youth who fled on foot. In the rear of his car Haggerty found a duffle bag bearing the name of one of the boys apprehended in New Hampshire. This boy's father had previously reported him missing.

Good advice from
GOOD HOUSEKEEPING

The cheapest way to buy a car, as everyone knows, is to pay cash. That's one of the reasons why we urge people to open a savings account and keep it going. There's nothing like money in the bank.

But here's another bit of advice, from a recent article by Charlotte Montgomery, in Good Housekeeping (Title: "When You Buy A Car, How Do You Pay For It?")

"IF YOU DECIDE NOT TO PAY CASH, USUALLY THE NEXT MOST ECONOMICAL WAY IS TO BORROW FROM A BANK."

Many people forget that the cost of a car must include the cost of financing it. You can keep that cost down by financing your car here.

COMPLETES STEWARDESS TRAINING

Miss Beatrice A. Armato of Winchester has recently completed her training as a National Airlines stewardess. Since her graduation from Stewardess School located at NAL's Training Base in Miami, Beatrice has been flying aboard National's radar equipped fleet between Boston, New York and Miami.

A native of Winchester, Beatrice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Armato at 74 Florence street. She was graduated from Winchester High School where she took a business course. Before joining National Airlines, Beatrice was a receptionist at Tufts School of Dental Medicine and she also attended Miss Allen School of Modeling in Boston.

Now based at the home station in Miami, Beatrice spends most of her spare time swimming at Miami Beach.

HEATING WITH LIQUID FUELS FROM FITZGERALD'S

Compare the following No. 2 Fuel Oil factors with any other modern heating fuel:

1. Flows to your heating equipment in the right amounts: no shoveling.
2. Slight waste that is easily handled by your chimney: no dust or soot.
3. FLASH POINT: at approximately 170 degrees F. makes fuel oil ideal for domestic storage with a minimum of fire hazard.
4. Not characterized by building shattering explosions.

By using a FITZGERALD SERVICE CONTRACT, you can be sure that your Furnace Oil is giving you real $$$ value.

If you are heating by any other fuel, CHANGE TO ALL THE ABOVE ADVANTAGES in a single type fuel by installing a heating unit

CHEETAH HOLDS THE RECORD AS NATURE'S SPEED KING

Ever since the dawn of the human race, men and animals have been running from and after each other.

The odds haven't improved. One of man's finest achievements on foot is running the mile in less than four minutes, an average speed of about 15 miles an hour. Compared to the grand champions of track and field, Homo sapiens hardly gets away from the starting line.

The cheetah, or hunting leopard, accelerates to a speed of 45 miles in two seconds—a feat that man can scarcely match in his fastest racing car. And when the cheetah really goes into high gear, it proceeds at some 70 mph—a speed that would interest all but the most lenient patrolmen on modern expressways.

It is small wonder that Indians tame the amiable cheetah as a hunting companion. The long-legged cat tires in 400 or 500 yards, however, and depends upon outpacing its quarry ni the first lightning thrust, the National Geographic Society says.

Such sprinters as the Mongolian gazelle combine extreme speed with endurance. Explorer Roy Chapman Andrews reported clocking these gazelles at 60 miles an hour in the Gobi. One was tailed by car for 20 minutes at an average pace of 40 mph.

"Then he quit because he was so darned surprised that anything on earth could keep up with him," Dr. Andrews said. "When we reached him he was squatting flat on the sand waiting, not winded a particle."

Numerous speedsters have been similarly clocked. Among the top runners are pronghorn antelope (American champion), the blackbuck, springbok, lion, wildebeest, Thomson's gazelle, race horse, American elk, red fox, kangaroo, jack rabbit, wild ass, coyote, hartebeest, zebra, greyhound, and spotted hyena. Their speeds range from 60 to 40.

Even the African elephant can charge through the bush at 15-25 mph.

The clumsy rhinoceros, an unlikely contender for a speed title, has been clocked at 28. As the rhino makes fierce, unpredictable charges, 28 is a dangerous speed. The giraffe can travel at 28 to 32 mph although its long neck is a speed handicap.

Not long ago, a pig dashed 100 yards in 7.4 seconds to win a Canadian porker derby in Ontario.

In nature's sweepstakes, ground dwellers rank between those of the air and sea.

Swimmers, as a rule, are slower than runners or flyers. But some seagoing mammals manage remarkable speeds. The dolphin, so-called "arrow of the sea," can pace vessels slicing through the waves at 30 knots.

Flyers get where they're going the quickest. The peregrine hawk has been diving at speeds of 180 or more miles an hour for countless centuries. Rival aces are the frigate bird, swift, black vulture, and golden eagle.

Among insects, the controversial deer botfly yields to none. Its top speed has been variously estimated from 50 to 800-plus miles an hour.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

The Great Barrier Reef of Australia, 1,250 miles long, is the world's largest coral structure, the National Geographic Society says. Like an iceberg, most of the reef's 80,000-square-mile area lies underwater. A loose chain of shoals, reefs, and lonely islands betrays the stupendous mountain of submerged coral.

Nature is bizarre in a coral tide pool, where animals resemble plants and plants look like stone. The coral itself, an aggregation of limy skeletons of trillions of tiny sea animals, takes a multitude of fantastic forms resembling cauliflower, asparagus, cabbage, dainty fans, lace, stag antlers, and the human brain.

Male phalaropes do the housekeeping. The father bird not only selects a nesting site and builds the home, but hatches the eggs and rears the young. Females, after laying the eggs, go off in flocks by themselves.

Some 2,000,000 people visit the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C., each year. No other national shrine or park attracts so large an audience, the National Geographic Society says.

The bulkiest of living reptiles is the salt-water crocodile of Australia's tropical streams. Fiercely aggressive, this 30-foot dragon will go out of its way to attack men.

HEARING ON BILL TO REQUIRE MUNICIPAL OPEN MEETINGS HELD WEDNESDAY

An entire day was consumed by the hearing held Wednesday at the State House before the Legislative Committee on State Administration on the controversial bill requiring all public boards to hold open meetings.

Many Massachusetts newspapers, both dailies and weeklies, favor the bill, in support of which David Brickman, editor of the Malden News and Medford Mercury said the proposal is intended to protect the people's right to know what government agencies are doing.

Opposition came chiefly from representatives and officials of Massachusetts smaller towns who indicated that requirements of the bill would hamper functions of local government.

At the conclusion of the hearing rival forces indicated that an attempt will be made to draft suitable compromise legislation. The bill would make almost all state, county and municipal agencies open meetings to the press and public, and require an agenda of business to be announced in advance. "Boards could retire into "executive" or closed sessions only on two-thirds vote, but would have to take final action on matters in public. Records would also have to be available for public inspection.

Mr. Brickman said many of the bodies "deliberated behind closed doors, make decisions behind closed doors, decide on spending behind closed doors and except when they choose to provide the public with their own version of what has transpired, carry on administrative and even judicial functions behind closed doors."

Jonathan W. French, counsel for the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association, headed the opposition and was later invited by Rep. Thomas J. Doherty (D., Medford), House chairman of the committee, to get together with Mr. Brickman on a redraft.

Another public hearing will be held, probably next month, Doherty said, on the compromise version.

Also in opposition, Roy C. Papalia, a state public utilities commissioner and former Watertown selectman, said "open" requirements for all town board deliberations would be impractical and result in "chaos."

Willis B. Downey, counsel for the Metropolitan Transit Authority, said any necessary public information is revealed at public hearings. He said most of the routine business before the MTA trustees concerns internal matters.

ADULT EDUCATION MEETS WITH OVERWHELMING RESPONSE

A Program of Adult Education appears to be a firmly established desire of Winchester residents according to the results of class registrations held last Monday, February 4, in the Senior High School. Six course offerings in three different areas were made available to townspeople by the School Committee as a means of testing further interest in an expanded program for adults next September. Over 300 persons attempted to register for the 140 class positions available.

The program was organized by the School Committee upon the recommendation of an advisory committee composed of local citizens which had been appointed to study adult educational needs in Winchester. Course offerings were: Sewing, Upholstering, Leathercraft and Jewelry Making, Woodworking, Insurance and Investments and International affairs. Those persons fortunate enough to register before class limits were reached will attend the courses each Monday evening for ten weeks beginning February 11, in the Senior High School at 7:00 p. m.

Most popular of the six classes was Sewing. In addition to the 20 persons regularly enrolled, 92 people have registered on a waiting list to take the class when facilities are available.

The Citizen's Advisory Committee will continue to study the program in operation and it is hoped it will prove to be a means by which the School Committee can determine further interest in the development of an expanded program of education for adults in Winchester.

OF TOWN-WIDE CONCERN

Since the forthcoming drive for funds for the Winchester Scholarship Foundation as of April 1 to April 7 inclusive by the Central Board of the Mothers' Association is a matter of town-wide concern it was deemed appropriate to delve into history for the benefit of the new members of our community with the hope that those to whom it is an old story will be patient.

One afternoon in June, 1944, Mrs. George Chatfield, the incoming president of the Central Board of the Mothers' Association, invited her new board in for tea. This proved to be a most fruitful and pleasant occasion, for here the original idea of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation was born.

A general dissatisfaction with the methods then used for choosing scholarship winners was aired and a strong feeling that scholarship could and should be of general interest was expressed.

At that time the scholarships, given by the Mothers' Association, were awarded by a large and unwieldy committee made up of the retiring president and secretary of each school chapter. Many of these officers were only too willing to be out-going and were unable to feel the importance and responsibility of this final job.

The greatest handicap for this committee was its size. It was too big and it made scholarship information—some of which should be most confidential—common knowledge to far too many. As a result of this discussion Mrs. Chatfield, the following fall, appointed Mrs. Lyman Smith chairman of a committee to review the scholarship picture and recommend ways of improvement.

Mrs. Smith and the other members of the committee, Dr. Otis Alley, Mr. Neil Borden, Mr. Joseph Worthen and Mrs. George Marks, met many times during that winter. The discussions were long and thorough and as a result, in the spring, a trial instrument of trust was sent to every organization in Winchester for criticism and suggestions.

The following fall the committee set to work once more and on December 31, 1945, the final instrument of trust of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation was signed and sealed by its first trustees, Mr. James Nowell, Mr. Robert Stone and Mr. Joseph Worthen, thus enabling the first scholarships to be given by the Winchester Scholarship Foundation in June of 1946.

PSYCHIATRIST TO SPEAK PUBLIC INVITED BY FRIENDS OF HOSPITAL

Parents as well as teachers will be interested in the talk to be given by Clinton H. Bagenstose, M.D., at the mid-winter meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, Wednesday, February 20, at the Parish Hall of the Church of the Epiphany. His subject will be "The Role of Psychiatry in a College Atmosphere."

Experienced in the psychiatric problems of servicemen as well as college students, Dr. Bagenstose of Melrose served in the United States Navy Medical Corps during World War II and resigned with the rank of Commander in 1953. A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and its medical school in 1940, he is presently Psychiatric Consultant at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is a practising psychiatrist sharing offices in Melrose with James H. Wingate, M.D., of 76 Church street. During his service in the U.S. Navy, he trained at the famous national mental hospital, St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington, D. C., as well as other psychiatric clinics. He received his Board Certification in Psychiatry in 1947 and is a member of numerous national and local medical and psychiatric societies and associations.

In his present position at M.I.T., Dr. Bagenstose has worked closely with students and faculty and has also been engaged in the training of resident psychiatrists in the Medical Department of the Institute. M.I.T. has been a national leader in the rapidly expanding field of mental health programs for colleges and universities.

All men and women interested in hearing Dr. Bagenstose are cordially invited to attend this open meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital. Coffee will be served at eight and the meeting will start at 8:30 p. m. A discussion period will follow the talk.

HOLIDAY HOP AT PARKHURST SCHOOL

The Lewis Parkhurst Parents' Association is sponsoring an informal dance, the "Holiday Hop," which will be held on Friday, February 15, in the Parkhurst Auditorium. Dancing will be from 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m. to Ernie McBay's Orchestra. Tickets may be obtained from the following committee:
Mrs. Russell Perham, Chairman
Mrs. Warren Wilson
Mrs. Frank Clare
Mrs. John Russell Smith
Mrs. Edwin Renz
Mrs. Robert Dunn

VALENTINE BRIDGE

The Association of Tufts Alumnae is holding a Valentine Dessert Bridge in Alumnae Hall at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday, February 9. Proceeds of the bridge are to be used for the Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Norman S. Stafford of Winchester, a co-chairman of the bridge, is being assisted by Mrs. Howard L. Leary, president of the Association, Mrs. Fred Cardin, hospitality chairman, Mrs. Clarence Roberts, Mrs. John S. Ahearn all of Winchester, and Mrs. Ralph M. Manning, vice-president, of Medford.

GOLDOVSKY OPERA EVENING MARCH 9

This gala event is precipitating tremendous interest in our community. A flurry of parties planned by hostesses for entertaining preceding the opera has turned into a veritable blizzard. Just watch the society columns! Members and sponsors are urged to get in their reservations to Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel or her committee by February 12. Those desirous of becoming members for the 1957-58 season will have the opportunity to do so on opera night.

On February 13 Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell and her committee will have tickets available for the general public at the Winchester Appliance and Record Shop on Thompson street. All seats are reserved.

Now is your chance to brush up on opera. Get out your old records. (Do you own any?) Do listen to the latest recordings at the public library and in the Appliance booths —take home your favorites. You may want to hum softly and knowingly during the preliminaries of the program.

Reservations for membership committee:

Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel, chairman, Mrs. Henry Magno, Mrs. James C. Marchant, Mrs. A. J. Connell, Mrs. Fred Martignetti.

Ticket committee reservations, see or call:

Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell, chairman, Mrs. James T. Hintlian, Mrs. Winthrop S. Knox, Jr., Mrs. Joseph W. Worthen, Mrs. Richard Carr, Mrs. Stephen Root, Mrs. John A. Sheehan, Mrs. Edward Little, Mrs. Henry C. Marcionette; Mrs. Harold Thistlethwaite, junior high school; Mr. Wendell S. Withington, high school.

After consulting with Mr. Goldovsky about the problems of staging the selections, Mrs. Samoiloff, for the board of directors of the Winchester Community Theatre, is happy to announce completion of the program plans. Passages from Carmen, La Traviata, The Marriage of Figaro, and La Boheme, as well as from four or five other operas, will bring the magic flavor of opera to Winchester. See the Star for special article on Boris Goldovsky, outstanding artist and priceless commentator on Metropolitan Opera T.V. and radio programs.

MAIL COLLECTION CHANGES

Due to the heavy volume of mail being collected from the mail collection boxes in town and the short time between collection and dispatch, it has been found necessary to change the collection time on some of the boxes in town, notably the ones in front of the post office. The last collection from these two boxes is now 6:15 p.m.

CRUCIAL GAME FOR FRESHMEN COMING UP

The Winchester freshman hockey team is girding for a crucial game with its arch league rival, the team from Arlington. Winchester and Arlington are tied for second place in the league and the winner of this contest will join Walpole, the league leader, in the play-offs. Winchester and Arlington have each lost one game, whereas Walpole has not been beaten and tied only once. Walpole was the victor over Arlington last week in a spirited contest in which the numerous Walpole fans kept the hometown boys hustling from start to finish. It was this same Walpole team that beat Winchester earlier in the season. Coach Harrison Chadwick and some of his boys watched the Arlington—Walpole contest and know they have a hard struggle ahead. They believe, however, the local pucksters can turn the tables in their favor if they play their best brand of hockey.

Last Friday, crippled by sickness, injuries and ineligibility, the freshmen were defeated by the Wakefield J.V.'s 6-2. Winchester held up well until the last period when the superior staying power of the older boys registered in favor of Wakefield. In the first period, Peter Branch scored on an assist from Hosmer; in the second period, Dana Kelly sank a neat shot with no assist. Shorthanded Wincnester was obliged to use its spectacular defenseman, John Hosmer, part time on the line, and conversely, Kelly, dependable first-line right-winger caught extra duty on defense.

The critical, tell-tale game with Arlington will be played tomorrow morning at the Boston Arena at 7:30.

HEADS OPTICAL WHOLESALERS

Roger F. McTighe of 7 Orient street was elected president of the Optical Wholesale Association of New England at the annual meeting of association on January 12 at the Kenwood Hotel.

A native of Nashua, N. H., Mr. McTighe has spent 32 years in the optical supply business. For 30 years he has been associated with Chaffin Optical Company at 294 Washington street in Boston, and is widely known to the trade throughout New England.

Mr. McTighe came to Winchester in 1929, is married to the former Gladys York of Winchester, and they have a son, Naval Cadet Roger P. McTighe who is presently completing all weather flying at Hutchinson, Kansas, in preparation for his Navy flyer's wings.

Safety Tip: Let your car warm up before you take it into traffic, says the Triple-A. A cold engine that coughs and spits can stall in traffic and cause trouble. Be sure your car's warmed up before you take it out on the street.

PLANNING BOARD
NOTICE OF
FEBRUARY 11, 1957

WHEREAS after due consideration, the Planning Board, acting as a Board of Survey of the Town of Winchester, has caused to be made plans of the sections of land in the town as follows:

1. A way beginning at the westerly side of Ridge Street and extending westerly about fifty (50) feet
2. A way beginning at the northerly end of Dunster Lane and extending northerly about thirty (30) feet
3. A way beginning at the easterly side of Johnson Road and extending easterly about fifty (50) feet
4. A way beginning at the westerly side of Cambridge Street and extending southwesterly about fifty (50) feet
5. A way beginning at the easterly side of Cambridge Street and extending northeasterly about fifty (50) feet
6. A way beginning at the southerly side of Pond Street and extending southwesterly about fifty (50) feet showing thereon the location of such ways as in the opinion of the Board the interest of the public may or will require in such territory, together with the direction and width of each way; which plans are open to public inspection in the office of the Town Engineer;

Said Board gives notice that it will hold a public hearing on said plans in the Planning Board Office, West Wing, Town Hall, on Monday, February 11, 1957, at 8:00 P. M.

By order of the Planning Board, this 28th day of January, 1957.

WINCHESTER METHODISTS ON THE MARCH

Work is steadily continuing on the educational plant for the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. This past week steel frames were put in and general construction of the frame will proceed immediately.

The pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., is pleased to announce the progress which has been only slightly hampered by some of the recent inclement weather.

Reviewing the project, the wing will include 10 new Sunday School rooms, a social hall with a potential of at least 6 to 8 additional Sunday School rooms as the future demands them, a platform and kitchen. The old social hall will be partitioned into Sunday School rooms plus a youth room and the kitchen will be replaced by a kitchenette and another classroom.

In a financial campaign last Spring, plus previous financial efforts by leaders of the church over the years the amount of pledges and cash has reached approximately $115,000 with about $45,000 still needed.

Again credit is given to the people of the church who not only realized the need but moved together in a sacrificial effort to meet the need.

NEW CHURCH STREET MEDICAL BUILDING

Patients of doctors in the new medical building at 38 Church street find that their ills are nearly dispelled when they enter the bright and cheery atmosphere of the central waiting room in the front of the offices. The modern and comfortable furnishings here, where each patient waits for his appointment, are in keeping with the theme of comfort, convenience and economy with which the building is designed.

Plans for the structure began when a group of doctors located at 31 Church street found they needed to expand and improve their facilities. These doctors now include Dr. Robert Barker, obstetrician and gynecologist; Dr. E. T. Blanch, pediatrician; Dr. Robert Griesmer, dermatologist; Dr. Donald McLean, pediatrician; Dr. John McLean, podiatrist; Dr. Harry Mueller, pediatric allergist; and Dr. Harold Wheeler, pediatrician.

After investigating several locations in Winchester, they decided that the house belonging to Harry Chefalo, former selectman, at 38 Church street could be made over into an excellent medical building. They engaged the firm of Hutchins and French, Architects, of Boston, who planned the Lewis Parkhurst School, to design the new building, and the remodeling and construction was done by Alfred Elliott.

The old house took on a modern look with a front of tapestry brick and glass panelled door. Inside, remodeling included knocking out new doors in old walls and building new walls to form seven or eight doctor's suites of three or four rooms each. Five suites are on the first floor, and the rest on the second. By June 29, 1956, the doctors were able to move into their new quarters. A new residence for the House of Fashion, which was in the old house, was constructed under the same roof.

In addition to store rooms in the rear of the building, there is a lounge where doctors and their secretaries can catch a moment's relaxation between appointments. The doctors point out that one of the advantages of this type of medical building with combined offices is that they are able to have a fully equipped laboratory at hand, where testing and analysis can be done quickly and efficiently.

Complete air-conditioning and fluorescent lighting throughout the building insure that patients will be comfortable as they glance through magazines from the literature rack. From the bright linoleum floors to the modernistic wood work in the waiting room, the Church street medical building is an example of a combination of comfort and convenience.

INDIANS COME FROM BEHIND TO WIN

Winchester High found Beverly much tougher than was expected last Saturday night at the Lynn Arena, and the Indians had to come from behind for their 3-1 victory. The win put the locals in second place in the Northeast Conference standing, just a point behind Marblehead. Danvers' loss to Lynn English dropped the Oniontowners from a second place tie with Winchester to third.

Beverly proved a stubborn foe, and went out in front at 5:20 of the first period on a freak goal by Nolette. The latter fired the puck out from behind the Winchester net to a teammate in front of the goal, but the puck never reached him. Whether it was deflected by a skate, or stick, no one can say, but it did roll neatly into the Winchester goal with the fortunate Nolette getting credit for the tally.

With the start of the second period Joe Cussen, injured in the previous game, entered the lists with his head and one eye swathed, and his presence seemed to spark the Indians.

The period was only a minute and 26 seconds along when Cussen set up Callahan and the perfectly positioned Leo slapped the puck into the all but unprotected net.

At 8:51 Cussen took a pass from Callahan to easily beat the Beverly goaler, the play being practically a replica of the first Winchester goal.

Winchester's last goal at 3:45 of the final period was on the lucky side, coming while Hammond, the Beverly goaler was prone on the ice after making a save. Hammond was just about to get control of the puck when Winchester's Bob Weaver, skating in fast for a possible rebound, couldn't stop and plowed into the Beverly goaler about five feet in front of the net.

The impact shook the puck loose and it slid into the unprotected goal for a nice insurance tally. Winchester can thank its goaler, Denton, who made a number of spectacular shots during the game and was a busy boy all evening. The summary:

WINCHESTER 3)—Goal, Denton; defense, Emerson, McElholm; forwards, Kelleher, Zirkel; center, Callahan. Spares: Davenport, Weaver, Sandberg.

BEVERLY (1)— Goal, Hammond; defense, Ross, Whalen; forwards, Cressy, Nolette; center, Tonneson. Spares: Rogers, Donn, Reeves.

First period: Scoring—Beverly, Nolette (unassisted) 5:20.

Penalties: Beverly, Ross (slashing); Beverly, Nolette (checking in center zone).

Second period: scoring—Winchester, Callahan (Cussen) 1:26; Winchester, Cussen (Callahan) 8:51.

Penalties: Beverly, Whalen (handling puck).

Third period: scoring — Winchester, Weaver (unassisted) 3:45.

Penalties: Winchester, Kelleher (holding); Winchester, Denton (roughing) served by Cussen; Winchester, Kelleher (leg check).

WINCHESTER, 86; STONEHAM, 60

In their second encounter of the season the Sachems walloped a battling Stoneham five, 86-60, at the Winchester High gym on Tuesday January 29.

Roger Symmes topped the twenty mark for the first time this season with 21 points, while Mike Callahan and Dave Bergquist both hit in the high teens, with 18 apiece. The combined Sachem effort amassed 34 field goals in 74 shots for an excellent 47% shooting average.

Stoneham didn't play a bad game, either. With 22 field goals and 16 foul shots they became the first team to score 60 points against the Sachems this year. They also had three players in the double figures, Baril with 18 points, Truesdale with 14 and Flahive with 12.

The J.V.'s had a field day romping 73-35 while posting their highest of the year. Thomson, Schumacher and Peckham led the way with 14, 11, and ten points respectively, though almost every one on the team contributed to the total. Klamans with 13 tallies was high scorer for Stoneham.

In the third period the J.V.'s really went to town scoring 14 baskets in 20 shots for an incredible 70% shooting average.

BILL ASKS MORE AUTO INSURANCE

A bill to provide greater protection for motorists and those who may be seriously injured in automobile accidents by increasing the compulsory insurance coverage is being sponsored by a statewide committee headed by J. Newton Esdaile, prominent Boston attorney, and locally by Russell P. Pearl of Winchester.

The present $5-10,000 coverage would be doubled if the bill favored by the Committee for Adequate Public Automobile Insurance Protection becomes law.

Atty. Michael J. Donohue of Holyoke, executive secretary of the committee, announced that a public hearing of the bill will be held before the Legislative Committee on Insurance at the State House Tuesday, February 12.

If the bill is enacted by the Legislature, one person could receive up to $10,000 for injuries sustained in a motor vehicle accident and payments up to $20,000 would be available if more than one person is injured.

SACHEMS WIN ANOTHER

Reading's Rockets dropped a decision to the Sachems of Winchester for the second time this year in a Middlesex League basketball game last Friday night at the high school gymnasium. This time the margin was decisive, 60-41, and the Indians showed a big improvement over their previous showing against Reading.

Captain Mike Callahan paced Winchester with 17 points. He was followed by Dave Bergquist who netted 13 and John Chapin who collected four baskets in four tries for eight tallies.

Overall, the Sachems hooped 24 out of 59 shots for a steady 40 per cent shooting average. Hayes and Maxwell with 12 points each were high scorers for the losers.

Reading kept it close during the first period, which ended 15-11 in Winchester's favor, but from then on the Indians had it mostly their own way.

They built the lead to 31-19 at the half and 50-30 at the end of the third quarter before letting up in the finale.

The J.V.'s put their game on ice in the first quarter. Led by Joel Peckham's play making and Dave Schumacher's rebounding the lone five outscored the Reading Seconds 17-2 as they went on to pile up a 60-42 score, almost identical to that of the varsity.

Schumacher was leading scorer with 16 points; Rich Roberts and Peckham followed with nine and eight respectively. No Reading player could hit double figures though Talbot came within one point of it.

He is now taking part in the advanced basic training course at Lackland, following which he will qualify for assignment in one of the Air Force's 43 major career fields.

SACHEMS TRIUMPH

JOHN CHAPIN IN LINEUP AGAINST LEXINGTON

The Minutemen, having beaten Reading by eight points, were considered a much improved club over their first encounter with the Sachems, but they could not come close to the hot hand of Mike Callahan, who hooped 20 points, combined with the effective shooting of Symmes and Bergquist with ten each. Tappley's 12 tallies and Plummer's 11 were the best Lexington could muster.

Friday's game saw two new features. First, of course, was the return of John Chapin to the Winchester lineup. John, as you know, was sidelined with a knee injury during the football season, and this was his first athletic appearance since then. With the experience of a few games under his belt, he should be a valuable addition to the Sachem five.

Second was the use of both Hank and Dave Schumacher in the game at the same time. All that height is a great advantage, and it might prove to be a look ahead at next year's plans.

The J.V.'s started the evening right by soaring 48-31 over the Minutemen Seconds. Doug Thomson netted 15 points in the winning cause, Rich Roberts 11, and Bill Morton ten. For the losers it was Ward with eight tallies and John Schumacher, Hank's cousin, with seven. Schumacher's defensive play helped keep Lexington in contention for three periods.

WINCHESTER, 6; CLASSICAL, 2

Johnny Zirkel's three goals paced Winchester to a 6-2 win over Lynn Classical in a North Shore League game at the Lynn Sports Arena last Thursday.

The win put Winchester in a two-way tie for second place in the Northeast Conference Division, the Indians being bracketed with Danvers. Danvers had been leading the conference for several weeks but was defeated Thursday by Marblehead, which took previous over second place, vaulted into the conference leadership.

The summary:

WINCHESTER (6)—g, Denton; defense, McElholm, Kelleher; forwards, Callahan, Zirkel; center, Cussen.

Spares: Sandberg, Weaver, Davenport, Emerson, Scott, Sullivan, Harkins, Mirak.

CLASSICAL (2)—g, Legere; defense, Spence, Brownlee; forwards, B. Casey, C. Casey; center, Emerson.

Spares: Frier, Lux, Smith.

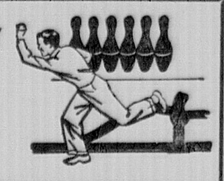
SONS OF ITALY Bowling News



S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Five down and nine weeks left to play-off time The weeks are rolling by and before you know it you'll be reading about the play-offs.

There was a changing of positions this week as the Blue Eyes faltered and the All Stars, captained by Tony Saraco, took over the top position. They also, you undoubtedly know, ended on top the first half.

Team Standings:
All Stars	15 - 5
Blue Eyes	14 - 6
Lindy Hop	12 - 8
Hot Shots	11 - 9
Rock and Roll	10-10
High and Low	8-12
Jitterbugs	7-13
Bee Bops	3-17
Hi Single:
Choppers Gangi	147
Hi Triple:
Dick Fiore	356
Top Ten Bowlers:
Tony Saraco	103.4
Richard Bucci	101.8
Dick Fiore	101.5
Joe Berardi	98.4
Bob Fiore	98.1
Babe Tofuri	97.7
Choppers Gangi	96.4
Max LaCrubba	94.7
Tony Chefalo	94.3
Nick Molea	93.3

The highlight of the night was the pitched battle between the Lindy Hop boys, captained by Jeff Gaudioso, and the Blue Eye boys captained by Choppers Gangi. The Lindy Hop boys took the first string by 27 pins. The Blue Eyes bounced back with a spectacular 515 P.F. to wipe out the deficit and lead by 36 pins.

The Lindy Hop boys were not to be denied for back they came with a tremendous 522 string and not only did they wipe away the deficit but won going away by 41 pins. They bowled 1444 P.F. to Blue Eyes' 1402 P.F.

It was one of the greatest pitched battles of this season. In the last string every one of the Lindy Hop boys bowled over 100. Let me list the winners of this contest which was captained by the boy whose gyrations would put Elvis Presley to shame, the "Kangaroo Kid," Jeff (B.C.) Gaudioso. Aiding and abetting him were Corregidor Fiore one of the Jones boys, Larry Penta the man behind the press, Phil Adagno the gasoline kid and last but not least the Master of the bull-dozer "Sir Winston" Frongillo.

The losers, and not because of their inability to bowl but because of the breaks of the game, are captained by "Choppers" Gangi, a likeable sort of a chap. Behind him are Sam Bellino, the Japanese General, Carl Bertolucci the boy with the black wavy hair, Babe Tofuri Uncle Sam himself and Joe DiIorio the man with the pipe.

The blue bloods who averaged over 300 P.F's this week were not too numerous. The leader of this pack was Dick Fiore, 318; followed by Jeff Gaudioso, 307; Joe Berardi, 303; Max LaCrubba, 302; and Tony Saraco, 302. There were two near misses, one by Carl Bertolucci, who bowled 299, and Babe Tofuri, who bowled 298.

Last week one of the 300 bowlers requested that his name be withheld and he was quite upset because I believed him and didn't reveal his identity. So in order to give him the publicity due him it is now made public that it was Jeff Gaudioso the Kangaroo Kid and he bowled 303.

Having been made a member of the Finance Committee, M. D. Saraco's time has been taxed to the limit and for this reason he has been unable to bowl. It has been quoted by the members of his team that he has not been missed for he was becoming a big problem in more ways than one.

They say that Pete Fiore is getting to be quite a problem also. Just this past week he got a spare and got nothing on the spare and followed it up with a one box thereby setting a new record in this department for this season.

The award which is a weekly ritual went to a man who was voted one of the ten best dressed men in the world, a bachelor and playboy comparable to Porfirio Rubirosa, whose meticulous grooming of his hair has been the envy of all the bowlers. Who? Dom Provinzano! See you next week.

FROSH BEAT LEXINGTON

The Winchester High School freshman basketball team brought their record to 9 wins and no losses this season by defeating an improved Lexington team, 42 to 30, January 25. Paul Del Rossi and Vandy French led Winchester's onslaught with 14 and 9 points respectively, while Bob Brinklow scored 13 points for the visitors.

WYANOKE REUNION

The Camp Wyanoke mid-winter Reunion was held last Saturday at the Hotel Statler in Boston. Among the one hundred and fifty attending this first event of Wyanoke's 49th season were several people from Winchester.

Among them were Paul Gibb and Mrs. Gibb, John Hosmer, David Bentley, Bobbie Somerby and Mrs. Somerby, Stuart Downs and Mr. and Mrs. Downs, Charlie Richmond and Mr. and Mrs. Richmond and Joey Schmader and Mr. Schmader. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper, David Van Ummersen, Mrs. W. H. Bentley and Brad and Edna Bentley.

It is interesting to note that all the New England states (except Vermont) were represented at the Reunion and also New York and Pennsylvania.

Attending the Camp Winnemont Reunion held concurrently were Janet and Judy Donovan, Gail Somerby, Priscilla Howard, Herb Gardner (staff member) and Mr. and Mrs. William Hodge of Center Conway, N. H., well known in Winchester.

Safety Tip: Double your stopping distance on wet or icy pavement, advises the Triple-A. For instance, if it takes about fifty feet to bring your car to a stop at an intersection on dry pavement, figure at least one hundred feet if the pavement is covered with snow or ice. This way you'll avoid skidding into another car or an object.

SUCCESS CROWNED BLOODMOBILE DAY

Under the direction of Mrs. James H. Coon, Chairman of Volunteers, and her two able assistants, Mrs. Henry E. Moffette and Mrs. Alfred R. Meurling, who were responsible for setting the scene for the activities of the day and direction of the personnel, the following Red Cross volunteers helped to make Bloodmobile Day, January 28, 1957, a great success. These 39 volunteers gave 155 hours of their time when 164 donors came to give their blood. The Winchester Chapter wishes to extend its deep appreciation and thanks to the following volunteers:

Motor Corps

Mrs. Frank T. Barnes and Mrs. Edward M. Feeley

Canteen

Chairmen, Mrs. Kingman Cass and Mrs. John B. Wills, who were assisted by Mrs. William E. Ramsdell, Mrs. William O. Thompson, Mrs. E. Ober Pride, Mrs. Harrison Wagner, and Mrs. George W. French.

Dr. Roger Burgoyne, Chairman, assisted by Dr. Charles E. Rooney, Dr. Dominic Runci, Dr. Phillip J. McManus.

The Winchester Red Cross Blood Program is headed by Mr. Oscar E. Merrow, Chairman, and Mr. Stewart L. Cushman, Co-Chairman.

WOBURN MASONS DONATE

Thirty-seven members of the Mount Horeb Lodge of Masons journeyed to Winchester, last Monday, to add their blood to that of ninety-nine Winchester people who gave when the Red Cross Bloodmobile came to town.

Since the next Blood Day in Woburn conflicted with an important date of the Woburn Lodge, the members asked the Winchester Red Cross Chapter if they could come to Winchester and keep their long blood donation record unbroken.

List of the 164 people who came to give blood on January 28, 136 pints collected.

ONE OF ARMY'S OLDEST REGIMENTS OPEN FOR ENLISTMENT

The opportunity is now open for young men to enlist in one of the oldest and most decorated units of the United States Army. Men taking advantage of this offer will spend the next year right on the east coast at Fort George Meade, Maryland, and then spend the remainder of their enlistment on border patrol duty in Germany, according to Sgt. John P. Bateson of the Army Recruiting Station at 49 High street, Medford.

The sergeant has announced he has received authorization to start accepting direct enlistments for the 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment at Fort Meade.

In order to qualify for enlistment in the 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment, young men must attain at least an average score on the mental test and be in excellent physical condition. At the present time, only men without prior service may elect this option.

Interested young men are urged to contact Sgt. Bateson, as soon as possible as this enlistment option is on a quota basis and will be withdrawn as soon as the ranks of the regiment have been filled.

VALENTINE BRIDGE PARTY

The women of the Winchester Country Club are invited to a dessert bridge party to be held at the Club on Valentine's Day at 1:00 p. m. Many plans have been made for a very enjoyable afternoon.

Prizes have been donated and a large number are assured of winning.

Mrs. James Beale is in charge of the prizes. Mrs. John Ghirardini and Mrs. Virginia Dickey have solicited many delicious desserts. Mrs. Laurence Sibley and Mrs. Robert Russell are handling the reservations.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Richard Fisher, chairman of the Women's Golf Committee and Mrs. Bradford Bentley, general chairman of the Dessert Bridge.

FORUM'S INTERNATIONAL WEEK-END

Forum's Ninth International Week-end, last Saturday and Sunday, was of the best ever with 69 foreign guests from 26 different countries coming to spend the week-end in our Forum homes. The many details were worked out by Forum Director Rev. Wesley Mallery, Forum Adult Advisor Mrs. Herbert P. Clark, and International Week-end General Chairman Bill Schmink.

The student guests were met at the International Student Center in Cambridge on Saturday afternoon, by Forum parents who have been procured by Dave Usher, Transportation Chairman. Among those who helped in this way are: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. James Mason, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Mayes, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Ross and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Usher.

The guests were brought to their respective week-end homes for a brief chance to meet their family before their Forum host or hostess escorted them to Chidley Hall where they met in front of the fireplace to enjoy a before-dinner snack of tomato juice and crackers prepared by Marian Clogston and Elizabeth Osborne. At 6:00 a delicious dinner was served by Mrs. Arnold Goodwin and her committee consisting of Mrs. Harry Arlanson, Mrs. Charles Fish, Mrs. Thomas Hill, Mrs. Floyd Lever, Mrs. John Monro, Mrs. Robert Mulford, Mrs. John Snyder, Mrs. Robert Swisher, Mrs. Lawrence Templeman and Mrs. Gilman Wallace. Mrs. Richard Peil had charge of the dining room where tables were set under direction of Sandy Eriksen and Sybil Smith, Chairmen; and waiters and waitresses who were obtained by Carol Bond and Dave Sturtevant were in charge of Mrs. John Monro, Adult advisor.

During the dinner hour, Chairman Bill Schmink was introduced, following which greetings were extended by Mr. Herbert P. Clark, International Week-end Advisor, and Bill Mason, Forum President. The guests were introduced by the Forum members, after which they were given a word of welcome by Dr. Cart.

Invited to serve as hosts and hostesses at the dinner tables were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crede, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Emerson, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mr. Arnold Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Gowing, Mr. and Mrs. Dikran Hadidian, Mr. Thomas Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. William Macdonald, Mr. and Mrs. James Mason, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Mayes, Mr. and Mrs. Aram Mouradian, Mr. Robert Mulford, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Niblock, Mrs. Richard Peil, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. William Schumacher, Mr. and Mrs. William Schmink, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thompson.

Following the dinner there was be a short program of entertainment in charge of Bunny Browne and Phil Dreyer, and then the floor was cleared for a lively Square Dance with Dudley Briggs, Caller.

Sunday morning the guests joined the Forum young people at their Service in Ripley Chapel at 9:30. This service, which had been planned by Worship Committee Chairmen Tim Hill and Kirby Baker, was conducted by Bill Mason, Chaplain, and Kathy Tonon, Assistant Chaplain. A special message was brought by Rev. Ralph R. Shrader of Boston, Project Secretary of the Missions Council of Congregational Christian Churches. Mr. Shrader has had wide experience both in foreign service as a missionary and in American pastorates and religious education work with young people. When in service as an American Board missionary in Foochow, China, Mr. Shrader taught in Foochow College. In 1947 he visited the churches of Hawaii where many races live and work together in harmony. In 1951 he made an intensive visit in Great Britain and on the Continent as a member of an International Seminar sponsored by the Council for Social Action of Congregational Christian Churches. He chose as his topic, for this International Sunday, "God Has Waited for You." The deacons were Tim Reynolds and Dave Schumacher, and ushers were Roger Erikson and Charles Simpson.

The week-end was brought to a close with an International Tea on Sunday afternoon, in Chidley Hall, chairmen of which was Martha Fish, assisted by Mrs. Richard Davenport and Mrs. F. M. Cooper. The entire church parish always finds it a rewarding experience to meet the outstanding group of young people that it has been Forum's privilege to entertain.

Families who entertained foreign students in their homes are: Mr. and Mrs. James S. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Arlanson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ashenden, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Bentley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blake, Mrs. Charles C. Bond, Mr. and Mrs. William Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. P. Cooke, Mrs. Daniel Dennett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crede, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Colver Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Easton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Emerson, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gowing, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gustin, Mr. and Mrs. William Herron, Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Kelley, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kitchin, Dr. and Mrs. Donald K. Lewis, Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Mallery, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Martensen, Mr. and Mrs. James Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morison, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mulford, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Niblock, Mr. and Mrs. George Niles, Dr. and Mrs. Victor Politano, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Rutter, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Schmink, Mr. and Mrs. William Schumacher, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Snow, Mr. and Mrs. George Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walsh, and Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Whitten.

WINS JOHN HANCOCK HONOR

The John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company notified Mr. John W. Dorsey, District Manager of the Wakefield District Office that the Wakefield District had been awarded a President's Citation for outstanding achievement during 1956. The Wakefield Office was the leading District Office in the Northern New England Region on the President's Citation Rating Schedule. This is the fourth successive year that the Wakefield District has received a citation for outstanding performance.

J. Edmond Boucher of 11 Manchester road, was among the company agents who qualified for the President's Club for outstanding production in 1956. Agents George DeWolf and Thomas Brennan were also members of the $500,000 Club.

In recognition of their fine record the members of the President's Club and District Manager, John W. Dorsey, will be guests of the Company at the Annual President's Club Meeting to be held at the Boca Raton Hotel, Boca Raton, Florida, in March.

HOME FROM RANGER TRAINING

Captain Donald Van Roosen of 49 Allen street, an officer in the 94th Bay State Reserve Division has just returned from 7½ weeks of intensive Ranger training at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Capt. Van Roosen, a highly decorated veteran of the World War II, took part under the new readiness program of the Armed Forces.

This training was divided into three parts. The first part entailed physical training and lectures at Ft. Benning; the second, jungle and amphibious manuevers at Elgin Air Force Base, Fla.; and the third part consisted of hazardous mountain warfare training. This all inclusive schedule has made Ranger training famous as the last word in combat readiness.

Presently under a recent amendment of the Reserve Forces Act, men under 25 years are eligible for 6 active duty, and 4½ years of reserve participation in lieu of the 2 year draft.

For more information, call the Boston Army Base.

HAS ROLE IN TUFTS PLAY

George Connor, 403 Main street, will play the role of Dr. Lyman in the Tufts Community Players' production of William Inge's "Bus Stop," which will be presented at the Tufts Arena Theater, Medford, February 9, 14, 15, 16, at 8:30 p. m.

Mr. Connor has appeared here with the Parish Players and at the Weston Playhouse, Vt. In the Tufts performance he will be reenacting a role he played last summer at the Weston Playhouse.

In charge of costumes for the show is Mrs. George Connor.

GEARTRONICS CORPORATION FORMED

The formation of Geartronics Corporation to coordinate the research and manufacturing facilities of Massachusetts Gear & Tool Company in Woburn, and Gear Systems Inc., in West Concord, has just been announced.

Through Geartronics Corporation, facilities for the production of both precision and commercial gears, complete gear systems, and gear research and development will be available for both industrial and military applications.

Newly elected officers of Geartronics Corporation are John H. Lyman, President, N. M. Deraney, Treasurer and General Manager, T. W. Khiralla, Vice-President, Engineering and Research, Harrison F. Lyman, Jr., Clerk and Counsel. Professor Earle Buckingham, formerly of the Mechanical Engineering Department, MIT, will head up the expanded research and development activities.

Massachusetts Gear & Tool Company, established in 1922, is a custom gear house specializing in the production of small and medium sized fine-pitch gears. Gear Systems Inc., formerly Technical Products Co., was founded in 1946 for the production of high-precision instrument gears and gear research and development for radar, aircraft, missile, computer, and atomic energy applications. John H. Lyman, President of Geartronics Corporation, describes the merger as a consolidation of the diversified talents of both companies to better meet the more exacting challenge of the future.

HEADQUARTERS FOR N. E. CONFERENCE

The New England Board of Higher Education at 31 Church street is serving as headquarters for a conference of educators and laymen from New England which will be held at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel in Boston on May 13 and 14, it was announced by Dr. Wilma A. Kerby-Miller, Chairman of the Conference Steering Committee and Dean of Radcliffe College. Vice-chairman of the committee is Dr. Robert Kroepsch, Executive Secretary of the New England Board of Higher Education, which is assisting the co-sponsor of the conference, the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The purpose of the two-day meeting is to consider the problems of education beyond the high school level and to make recommendations to President Eisenhower's Committee on Education beyond the High School and to present to the people of New England plans for the development of higher education throughout the area.

Approximately three hundred individuals from all the New England states will attend the conference, with educators and laymen about equal in number.

WHAT ABOUT OUR LIBRARY?

TOWN NEEDS GALLERY

Twenty-five years ago in 1932 the Library Trustees and the Art Committee of the Library, which consisted of the four artists residing in Winchester, Mr. Gerrett A. Beneker, Mr. W. H. W. Bicknell, Mr. Herman Dudley Murphy and Mr. Otis Philbrick, believed "that the Public Library should be more than a collection of books; it should be the intellectual center of the town.

"Seventy-five interested persons attended a meeting on May 17, 1932 and decided that "an Art Association in Winchester would be a great pleasure to its members and a cultural and educational force in the community."

The following week the Art Association was formally organized to hold monthly meetings and to arrange exhibitions to be hung in the Library Gallery.

The original purpose and plan has continued. In scanning the records we find that paintings by such noted artists as Herman Dudley Murphy, Stanley Woodward, Cyrus Dallin, William T. Kaula, Aldro Hibbard, Charles H. Woodbury, Eliot O'Hara and Elizabeth Lobingier have been exhibited in Winchester.

Loan exhibits have come from the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, Boston Society of Water Color Painters and from the Guild of Boston Artists as well as from other galleries. Annual exhibitions of Local Talent and the work of the High School students have been shown. All of these exhibits have been arranged and supported by the Art Association.

As early as 1935 weekly Art Classes meeting in the Library Gallery have been sponsored by the Art Association. These classes are still continuing to give pleasure and good instruction to adults and children.

Will all of these pleasurable interests and activities have to be given up when the Library, of necessity, must use the present gallery for stacks and additional reading room space? Surely there is a need for a new gallery to carry on this fine tradition.

Ed. Note: This is another in a series of articles dealing with the needs and uses of the Library contributed by a representative of the Art Association.

WINCHESTER AT MELROSE

Winchester High School's basketball team, already picked to participate in the State Tournament in the Boston Garden, will journey to Melrose tonight for what should be another victory at the expense of Melrose High.

After this game the Indians will have a full week in which to prepare for their return game with Belmont here. Winchester was edged by Belmont in a thriller at Belmont on January 18, and is out for revenge. There are many who believe the Indians have a good chance of reversing their previous defeat when they meet Belmont on their home court.

BARSTOW — LAMB

Miss Diantha Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chadwick Lamb of Englewood, New Jersey, formerly of Winchester, was married Saturday afternoon, February 2, to Bruce Robert Barstow, son of Mrs. William Barstow of Philadelphia and the late Mr. Barstow. The ceremony was performed at the First Presbyterian Church in Englewood by Reverend Bertram deHeas Atwood. Mr. Arthur Motter Lamb, uncle of the bride, played the organ. Mr. Lamb escorted his daughter, who wore a gown of off-white taffeta and a tulle veil attached to a cap upon which was appliqued a bow from her grandmother's wedding veil. She carried a bouquet of camellias and stephanotis.

Miss Betsy Lamb was maid of honor for her sister, who was attended also by Miss Charlotte Benner, Mrs. Andrew Hall, Miss Mary Lou Judd and Miss Elizabeth Sessions. William Barstow was best man for his brother and the ushers were Donald Barstow, another brother, Albert Bailey, Thomas McCabe, Jr., and William Welch, III. Mrs. Barstow was graduated from the Dwight School for Girls in Englewood and from Mount Holyoke College. Until recently she was on the staff of the American Friends of the Middle East in New York City.

Her husband graduated from the William Penn Charter School and Lehigh University. He served with the United States Air Force in Korea and is now with the sales organization of the Aluminum Company of America.

INFANT SAVIOUR GUILD

Thursday afternoon, February 7, Mrs. William H. Perkins opened her home, on Mystic Valley Parkway, for a meeting of the committee for the coming Valentine Dessert Bridge Party. Over the tea cups, arrangements were discussed and details were completed for the annual Valentine Day celebration.

The Winchester Chapter is sponsoring this next social event, which will be held Thursday afternoon, February 14, at St. Mary's Hall.

Mrs. William H .Perkins is the general chairman and she will be assisted by a large committee which includes: Mrs. R. E. Muehlig, Mrs. Joseph Burgatti, Mrs. Emelio D'Errico, Mrs. John Madden, Mrs. William Sullivan, Mrs. Patrick Mullaney, Mrs. Allen Bailey, Mrs. D. DePalma, Mrs. Leo Manoli, Mrs. Walter Crotty, Mrs. Robert Rissling, Mrs. William Burns, and Mrs. John Conlin.

Also Mrs. Vincent Murphy, Mrs. W. S. Lippman, Mrs. Harold McCarthy, Mrs. George Winterson, Mrs. Robert O'Hearn, Mrs. S. Scalesse, Mrs. Leo Barbo, Mrs. William Lally, Mrs. Ed Corcoran, Mrs. Daniel J. Doherty, Mrs. Reynolds Sylvester, Mrs. John Ivers, and Mrs. George McCarthy.

Many valuable prizes have been donated for this annual Valentine Party and a door prize will be awarded to the holder of the lucky number. A "hearts and flowers" dessert will be served promptly at one o'clock followed by cards. Plan to make a table, call a friend or come by yourself, you will receive a hearty welcome by the committee in charge.

PAUL W. ATWOOD

NAMED TO BANK POST

Paul W. Atwood of 77 Arlington street, president of the U.B.S. Chemical Corporation of Cambridge, has been elected a member of the Corporation of the Home Savings Bank of Boston.

In addition, he has been elected a Director of Trans-Sonics, Inc., manufacturers of electronic equipment, located on Route 128 in Burlington.

Mr. Atwood is a graduate of the University of Idaho. He also took graduate work in Industrial Management at the University of California and at New York University.

Mr. and Mrs. Atwood are active members of the First Congregational Church of Winchester. They moved to Winchester four years ago from Larchmont, New York, where they lived for many years and where their daughter now resides.

MONTHLY MEETING OF W.S.C.S.

All women are cordially invited to attend the "Valentine Tea" to be held at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church next Thursday, February 14 at 2 o'clock.

The tea is in charge of the Centre Circle with Mrs. Lewis Curtis as chairman and Mrs. Leonard Griffiths, Co-chairman.

Mrs. J. Wilson Armstrong will conduct the worship service.

A delightful musical program of vocal and piano selections will be presented by two of their own very talented members.

KRUSEN — MORTON

At the Unitarian Church on Saturday afternoon, February 2, Miss Betsey Goodrich Morton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Frank Morton, of 38 Arlington street, became the bride of George Cornell Krusen, II, of Westboro, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott Krusen of Delanco, N. J. The minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, performed the marriage ceremony at 3:30 o'clock and a reception followed at the Winchester Country Club.

Miss Morton was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess style gown of ivory silk-satin and peau de soie fashioned with a portrait neckline outlined with seed pearls, three-quarter length sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil of imported Italian illusion was caught to a cap embroidered with matching pearls, and she carried white roses and white lilacs combined with fuchsia.

Mrs. George William Starcher of Indianapolis, Ind., was Miss Morton's honor attendant, and two sisters of the bride, Miss Susan Goodrich Morton and Miss Prudence Goodrich Morton, both of Winchester, were bridesmaids.

All the bridal attendants wore ballerina-length dresses of Wedgewood blue taffeta with headbands of mimosa and ivy. Their flowers were mimosa and anemones. Mrs. Morton, mother of the bride, was gowned in taupe silk and wore pink accessories with matching camellias. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Krusen, wore a royal blue silk faille dress with white accessories and white camellias on her handbag.

John C. Gebhard of West Chester, Pa., was best man for Mr. Krusen, and ushering were David H. Doehlert of Newark, Del., John A. Gutai, Jr., of Bedford, James T. Jensen of Boston and Robert C. Stout of Baltimore, Md.

After a wedding journey to Bermuda Mr. and Mrs. Krusen will live in Westboro where the bridegroom is a research chemical engineer for the Bay State Abrasive Products Company.

The bride is a graduate of Radcliffe College and the Harvard-Radcliffe Program in Business Administration. Mr. Krusen prepared at the Moorestown Friends School, Moorestown, Pa. He is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and has a master's degree in chemical engineering from Cornell University. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

MISS HALM ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. George N. Halm of 34 Fells road announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Mr. Wallace F. Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Caldwell of 512 Duane avenue, Richland, Washington.

Miss Halm is a graduate of Tufts University and the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, and studied in Germany as a Fulbright Student. Mr. Caldwell is a graduate of the State College of Washington and spent four years in the U. S. Navy.

CREDIT DUE

Through an error, the name of Mr. Ross of Ross Hair Styling did not appear in the write-up of the Winton Club Cabaret Program in last week's Star. Mr. Ross generously donated both his time and materials to do the Make-up for all performances of the show.

W. ROGERS HAMEL

HOLY NAME TO HEAR HAMEL

St. Mary's Holy Name Society will hold their regular monthly meeting February 10. The Catholic Boy Scouts are invited to receive Holy Communion with the members at the 7:45 a. m. Mass and to attend the collation and meeting in St. Mary's Hall that follows.

The guest speaker is Mr. W. Rogers Hamel of 13 Everett avenue, and a parishioner of St. Mary's. Mr. Hamel is manager of Raytheon Mfg. Co.'s Lowell plant and his subject is "Electronics and New England."

The Nocturnal Adoration Society will hold their monthly meeting at St. Clement's Eucharistic Shrine, corner of Boylston and Ipswich streets, Boston on Friday evening, February 15, from 9:00 to 10:00 p. m. All wishing to attend will meet at St. Mary's at 8:15 p. m. and proceed by car to St. Clements.

The date for the sports night has been set for March 10.

LIBRARY NOTES

BEDSIDE BOOK SERVICE

The Winchester Hospital Library, under the direction of the Winchester Public Library and financed by the En Ka Society, has had the privilege of serving patients and staff at the Winchester Hospital for fifteen consecutive years.

The library has grown rapidly since its first few years in operation. At that time, the book collection consisted of about one-hundred fifty books on deposit from the Public Library, and ninety-five purchased with funds from the En Ka Society. An average of seven-hundred fifty books were circulated each year. Books were taken to each bedside by the Hospital Librarian once a week by means of the Coulson book truck, another En Ka gift.

Today, with further aid from En Ka, there is a working collection of five-hundred books. It consists of a varied selection of fiction and non-fiction including the latest best sellers. Depositing books from the Public Library has been discontinued. Books are now purchased as a permanent collection which are the property of the Winchester Hospital Library.

Bedside service has increased to two days a week. The same familiar Coulson book truck is stacked with a varied assortment of books and taken to each patient's bedside every Tuesday by the Hospital Librarian and Friday by an En Ka Hospital Library Aid.

In the past, the books were housed in two makeshift bookcases at the end of a third-floor corridor. The cases and the book truck were surrounded by oxygen tanks and wheelchairs because of lack of space. With the addition of a new wing in 1953, the library's permanent home because the Solarium on the third floor. Attractive built-in bookcases painted to match the room cover one wall. The book truck is placed beside the cases.

Due to the increase in the number of patients and the books available, circulation has also increased and 1956 set a record of two-thousand books.

The Hospital Library considers it a privilege to have contributed in a small way to the recovery and welfare of the patients of the Winchester Hospital.

Music and Films

The regularly scheduled recording music program will be held Wednesday afternoon and evening at 2:30 and 7:00 p. m. Any requests for favorites will be played.

This week's film program, Friday and Saturday, February 8 and 9, will feature the 1956 academy award winning film, "Face of Lincoln." Also on the program will be "Saugus Iron Works" and "The Tale of the Ground Hog's Shadow."

Next week's film program, Friday and Saturday, February 15 and 16, will be:

ERSKINE N. WHITE

SENIOR FORUM

Mr. Erskine N. White of Winchester will meet with the Senior Forum this Sunday as their guest speaker, at 9:30 a. m. in Ripley Chapel. Since Mr. White was one of the group who founded the Senior Forum many years ago he has always been keenly interested in its progress and enjoys participating in its program. It is at the request of the Forumites that he will speak to them again this year, and they look forward to his talk on "Everyday Christians."

The chaplain this Sunday will be Gordon Fay, assisted by Bob Haskell. The deacons will be Carl Gustin and Phil Dreyer, and ushering will be Doug Gowdy and Frank Varian.

Following the chapel service there will be a social meeting at which definite action will be taken on the Spring Trip. All Forum members are urged to be present.

Forum has been given the privilege of sponsoring the Thursday night production of "Bell, Book and Candle" by the Parish Players. Contact Doug Gowdy for tickets to this exciting comedy mystery play.

ADULT CLASSES

On Sunday morning, February 10, Mr. Robert Mulford will discuss "The Church and Delinquency and Crime" at the First Congregational Church, at 9:30 a. m.

Rev. Wesley A. Mallery will continue his study of the Gospels on Wednesday evening, February 13, at 7:45. The discussion this week will be on "Birth, Growth and Preparation."

Both of these classes will meet in the Palmer Room, and all who are interested are most welcome.

OUR HUNGARIAN FRIENDS

The Hungarian members of our community, having been introduced to English, are now getting settled in quarters of their own and are obtaining employment in Winchester, Boston, and the suburbs. We should like you to make the acquaintance of the two couples who have set up housekeeping in Winchester. Mr. Lazlo Tabanyi has left his host, Mr. John Lyman, and settled into comfortable rooms with his sister, Mrs. Matilda Szederkenyi, who previously was a guest in the home of Mr. Arthur Bonney. Mr. Tabanyi has been working for several weeks at the High Voltage Engineering Corporation in Burlington; Mrs. Szederkenyi started work last Monday, February 4, at the Sylvania plant in North Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Szepe, who have been living with Mr. Ellsworth Snow, are now settled in their own apartment at 199 Washington street and are within walking distance of the J. H. Winn Co., plant on Washington street where they have both found employment.

Typical of the friendly interest in our Hungarian friends shown by the whole community is the invitation of the Young People's Group of the Baptist Church for them to be guests at the duo-piano concert recital to be given tonight at the Wyman School.

The Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee is doing very well in obtaining necessary supplies, thanks to the generosity of all Winchester. But there is a continuing need particularly for those small household necessities which most of use use up or wear out, such as sheets, pillow cases, and drinking glasses. There also does not ever seem to be enough small tables or chests of drawers. Mrs. Edward Rendall, WInchester 6-2861, will be glad to receive such contributions.

CULLEN COMPLETES OFFICER BASIC

2d Lt. Edward C. Cullen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Cullen of 233 Mystic Valley Parkway, completed the Signal Corps Officers Basic Course, at the Signal School at Fort Monmouth, N. J., on February 8. He was sent to the Signal School, to receive basic training in the duties and responsibilities of Company Grade Signal Officers, prior to joining a Field Unit.

The 24-year-old officer graduated from Northeastern in 1956, preparing at Winchester High School. He was associated with the Travelers Ins. Co., 147 Milk street, Boston, before entering service.

L. W. V. NOTES

League units for February will follow the course of the League's study this month of U.S. foreign affairs. The discussions will center on U.S. Middle East policy in particular. A brief review of our policy in that area will be presented and we will be brought up to date on current problems. Then unit members will consider what the U.S. is doing to meet the present crisis, whether the Eisenhower doctrine is the best policy for our country to follow, and what other courses of action the U.S. could pursue.

Unit hostesses and leaders are as follows: Unit No. 1, Wednesday, February 13, 7:45 p. m., hostess, Mrs. Robert Joslin, 6 Crescent road, leader, Mrs. Lawrence Kelbley. Unit No. 2, Thursday, February 14, 9:30 a. m., hostess, Mrs. Olcott Hooper, 228 Highland avenue, leader, Mrs. Richard Alt. Unit No. 3, Thursday, February 14, 7:45 p. m., hostess, Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., 55 Yale street, leader, Mrs. Ernest Dieterich. Unit No. 4, Friday, February 15, 9:30 a. m., hostess, Mrs. Thomas Hennessey, 37 Cabot street, leader, Mrs. Howard Aiken.

WHICH MAN PASSED THE N.P.* TEST?

*Ninety-Percent

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch . . . like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

You buy your clothes to make a good impression. As you wear them, have them drycleaned often. A smart man takes care to keep that impression fresh.

HOMEFRONTERS GET THANK YOUS!

SERVICE BOYS WRITE ABOUT CHRISTMAS BOXES

Following are letters from grateful service personnel who were remembered by the Winchester Homefronters with gift boxes last Christmas:

December 27, 1956

Dear Home Fronters:

May I express my thanks and appreciation to you and all those in Winchester who made possible the tasty and useful Christmas present I received from you. All the articles in the box are appreciated and best of all is the realization that folks at home have not forgotten. I am sure that every Winchester son who receives one of these boxes will be most happy to have been remembered and will boast of his home town to his buddies.

Please extend my thanks to all who have made this project possible.

Cordially,
Roger E. Makepeace
Chaplain (Major) USAF

January 8, 1957

Dear Homefronters:

Please accept my heartfelt thanks for that wonderful Christmas package I received. It really made things a lot brighter. I wish you could have seen the expressions on the faces of my buddies when I received, opened and then explained that the package was from the people of my home town. They were a very envious group of fellows. Just seeing them made me appreciate the gift and your work all the more.

Thank you for making my Christmas in the army a happier one than I expected.

Sincerely,
Dave Eldridge

December 9, 1956

Dear Homefronters:

Thank you for the very nice Christmas package you sent to me. I really appreciate it. It arrived in fine shape and my friends and I are still enjoying it. Before I got the package I didn't realize I had so many buddies! When I opened it, they wondered who sent it. They had never heard of a homefronters organization just like this one. By their expressions I could read their thoughts. I know they all wished they had one in their home towns. I think I'm very lucky to be from a town like Winchester.

Not too much snow is expected here in Florida, but I know Winchester is looking forward to a white Christmas. Again, thank you very much for your package.

An appreciative sailor,
Bill Laverty

APPRECIATES WINCHESTER

Editor of the Star:

As you know, I spent the first thirty-five years of my life in Winchester. I have resided in several communities in Connecticut and New Hampshire for the past seventeen years.

While Winchester was my home I never appreciated what an outstanding community it was my privilege to be a member of. I find that it is necessary for one to live elsewhere, as I have done to fully realize that Winchester stands head and shoulders over any town or city in New England.

The most outstanding difference, in my, opinion is the civic pride which has been uppermost in the minds of her citizens and public servants, over the years. This embodies well kept, modern, and adequate public buildings, parks, playgrounds, highways, bridges, sidewalks, etc. The zoning plan instigated many years ago by a few dedicated, patriotic citizens with an eye to the future, is the largest contributing factor to the orderly well distributed growth of Winchester. Mr. father, the late Jonas A. Laraway, was one of the leaders of this group. Wouldn't he and the others that guided Winchester on its way be justly proud to see how she has grown and prospered?

It is with much interest and pleasure that I read the Winchester Star, on occasion. You know I have three sisters who still make their homes in Winchester. Cynthia Barone, Priscilla Morse, and Dorothy McKinley, and their families seem to have "made the headlines" in the "Star" in recent issues. Kindly add my name to your subscription list and bill me for the same.

Very truly yours,
E. S. Laraway
94 Highland street
Portsmouth, N. H.

Ed. Note: Mr. Laraway is associated with Coleman Nash Co. Inc., distributors of Nash automobiles, in Portsmouth.

PARKING DELUXE

January 20, 1957

Editor of the Star:

Every citizen should take a look at the model of the proposed additions to our Public Library. (Hevey's window). It is a fine model but a horrible mess from the standpoint of beauty and architectural design.

New additions should, at least, harmonize with existing style, line and mass. This has not been done. By clever designing, more working space can be given in such a way that future generations could not tell where the old structure stopped and the new parts began. The original plans may have notes as to how this was to be done?

The existing building has good lines of roof and mass. The texture of wall and roof surfaces were not left to chance. But what have we now? The new additions look like a new garage or flat-topped chicken house. Yes, we said garage, because the largest ground-floor area is given over to the parking of cars. What cars? What modern car needs such Deluxe Parking? Costly? All you have to do is to multiply the estimated cubic foot cost by the number of cubic feet to be used for car parking. This is no secret.

Note the huge flat roof areas. In this New England climate of snow and ice, flat roofs are no help. What beauty is there in a box-like mass topped by a flat tar-gravel, industrial type roof?

The original architect gave us a beautiful building with sloping roofs covered with special thick-butted, slates, to give pleasing shadow lines. Color, too, was carefully planned. Study the main roof of the existing building and you will see how rugged the slates are and how the width of each course changes slightly as the ridge is approached. Texture can add to the beauty of form.

The above is to give you just a hint as to the many details that should enter into a well designed building. A public building should be as pleasing to look upon as the most beautiful monument. Our Library will be there for a long, long time!

In the present job, the new roof lines should blend with the old. And it seems to the writer, that the new additions should not look like warts, put up at the least possible cost to fill a pressing need, more study space for our teen-agers? I could be wrong on that one. Call me if you do like what I say: call me if you do not!

Percival Mott

LET'S NOT CLOSE LIBRARY GALLERY

Editor of the Star:

Close the Library Gallery?!!! Where will the Winchester Home and Garden Club, as well as the other more than thirty Winchester clubs and organizations meet for their special programs?

Although the Winchester Home and Garden Club does meet for some of its meetings in homes and church halls, the facilities of the Library Gallery are incomparable for the use of film of all sorts which the club members enjoy.

To be sure, the Library Gallery seats 125, still many a time there are those meetings where members stand two and three deep to enjoy special pictures.

With the Library as the cultural center of Winchester life, and the books on gardening in such complete coverage, many Winchester residents, realizing the importance of these advantages find great pleasure in browsing through this literature previous to the scheduled meetings in the Gallery.

In fact, two-thirds of the monthly meetings of the Winchester Home and Garden Club are held in the Library Gallery and the majority of these meetings include the use of sildes and motion pictures. With the Library so centrally located and easily accessible, the use of its Gallery has been of inestimable value to the members of the Winchester Home and Garden Club. Let's not close the Library Gallery!!

FROM AN UNPREJUDICED SOURCE

Editor of the Star:

It was refreshing to see in your January 25 edition such a splendid summary of the case for vivisection as that of Dr. Barger, President of the Mass. Society for Medical Research, also the corroborating letter of our local Dr. Benson.

I yield to no person in my admiration and love for all our animal friends; it is, in fact, almost an obsession with me; hence I can well understand how officials, for instance, of such organizations as the Mass. S.P.C.A. can allow such sympathy to outweigh in their minds any due appreciation of the invaluable benefits mankind has gained through animal experimentation.

A basic weak spot of the anti-vivisectionist's argument against medical use of pound animals is, of course, the assumption, never clearly stated, that the average humane society is a rest home for aged, unwanted, or lost pets. The truth is that many so-called "animal shelters" function principally as execution chambers. In their 1952 official report (the latest of which I have record) the American S.P.C.A. of New York report having handled 233,114 cats, dogs, and other animals for the year ending April 30, 1952, of which more than 98 per cent are listed as "humanely destroyed." It is just such—and only such—unwanted animals that would be made available under Bill 315 for animal vivisection, after having been kept the number of days required by law.

I refuse to believe that doctors and scientific men in general are a bunch of sadists, intent upon subjecting helpless animals to cruel and useless torture. Moreover, any intimation that vivisection means the torture and carving up of thousands of household pets is simply untrue. In most experiments the subjects are mice, rats, and guinea pigs. The researchers move on to larger animals only when they are one step away from trying the procedure on human beings.

I would remind the "antis" of the fact that if anyone in their immediate family has recovered from asthma, influenza, pernicious anemia, ulcers, tetanus, diabetes, or goiter, they can credit an animal in some doctor's laboratory. To be thoroughly consistent they must debar themselves from the use—as Dr. Barger states—of Salk vaccine, penicillin, insulin, liver extract, hormones, etc., etc. The list is a long and growing one.

In the interests of health, progress, and human longevity, I hope and pray that the doctors may win their fight, and that the anti-vivisectionists as a real force are finished in America.

Sincerely yours,
Rupert F. Jones

CRITICAL OF TREATMENT AT BELMONT

Editor of the Star:

I would like to call attention to an incident which occurred at the Winchester - Belmont basketball game January 18. Specifically I wish to protest the reproachful action of the Belmont High School principal in not permitting the photographer of our high school newspaper, the "Red and Black," to attend the game.

It was not so much the principal's refusal to grant permission, but the way in which he did it that was objectionable. In explaining this it is necessary to relate the circumstances.

Our photographer, Dick Niles, since tickets to the game had been sold out, was originally planning to accompany the team to the game on the bus but found he could not make it and phoned me saying that he would get to Belmont on his own.

When I got to the game I told the Belmont principal and another member of the faculty of the situation, requested that Dick be admitted to the game when he arrived. I was given verbal assurance that this would be done, yet when Dick arrived at the gate he was turned away! Upon politely protesting this treatment to the principal I was rudely informed that I, too, would be ejected from the game if I didn't drop the subject! Naturally it was useless to continue discussing the matter, but I believe that it is worthy of mention in the Star.

The facts that Dick was unable to obtain a ticket, and that he would not need a seat anyway to take pictures would alone have made the granting of permission plausible. But the assurance that he would get in made the refusal completely unreasonable!

I may add that Winchester High has no intention of extending similar treatment to the Belmont photographer! Two wrongs certainly do not make a right, but perhaps some agreement can be reached in the future to remedy the problem.

Very truly yours,
Bob Boone

FLIGHT TRAINING FOR MURPHY

Lt. Charles A. Murphy, Jr., USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Murphy of 110 Chase road, Manhasset, Long Island, N. Y., formerly of Winchester, is undergoing flight training at Pensacola, Fla.

Lt. Murphy was commissioned in the Marines, December 15, his mother pinning on his lieutenant's bars at graduation exercises at Quantico. He was one of 48 selected out of the 200 members of his officer Candidate Class who applied for flight training.

Lt. Murphy formerly lived with his parents on Inverness road in Winchester. He graduated from Winchester High School, playing on the State and New England Championship basketball team in his senior year and as a junior being an outstanding pitcher on the baseball team. A sore arm badly handicapped his pitching as a senior.

Before entering the Marine Corps Lt. Murphy attended and graduated from Colgate University.

TENLEY ALBRIGHT

HEADS EASTER SEAL CAMPAIGN

Miss Tenley Albright of Newton Center, 21-year old international figure skater who has given up competitive skating for medicine, has been named Massachusetts chairman of the 1957 Easter Seal campaign of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped.

Miss Albright, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hollis L. Albright and a pre-medical student at Radcliffe College, began competitive skating at the age of 11 when she won the Eastern United States ladies' juvenile championship four months after suffering from non-paralytic polio.

MUNICIPAL FIGURES OF INTEREST

The Town of Winchester is rapidly approaching the bracket of big business, if it has not already arrived there, having spent for all purposes in the year 1956, the substantial total of $4,934,392.85.

Town Accountant James Costello gave the Star this figure, stating that the town's expenditures in the past year were roughly $300,000 more than in 1955.

During 1956 the town took in from all sources $4,668,406.95, an amount greater by about $900,000 than the previous year. Included in this figure is a temporary loan of $800,000 made in anticipation of taxes.

At the close of 1956 the town had in its treasury $710,535.57, which was less than the year previous when the amount was $976,521.47 overall.

Mr. Costello told the Star that the town's revenue for 1956 actually exceeded its expenditures by $157,321.43, made up of unexpended balances and excess receipts. The town's general surplus at the close of the year was $475,401.59, of which there is of free cash $423,074.20, an increase of $86,494.09 over 1955.

The water surplus for the past year was $23,574.97. This is $10,312.89 less than the previous year. The town cut its funded debt last year by $42,000, leaving it at $2,480,000.00.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

Some persons who are eligible for social security insurance benefits may lose payments for one or more months in 1956 if they do not apply for their benefits before the end of January 1957, Gerald J. Murphy, district manager of the Cambridge social security office, said today.

Retired workers, their dependents, or survivors whose earnings were $2080 or less in 1956 can get benefits for some months in the year. However, benefits can not be paid retroactively for more than 12 months before the month in which an application is made.

Anyone who was eligible for benefits in 1956 should make an application before the end of January 1957 if in any month of 1956 he neither earned wages of $80 or more nor rendered substantial services in self-employment. He could be paid benefits for those months regardless of his total earnings in the year.

A person may have earnings up to $1200 a year and get social security payments for every month in the year, Mr. Murphy declared. If he earns over $1200 in a year, benefits are withheld one month for every $80 or fraction of $80 in excess of $1200. However, payments are not withheld for any month in which the beneficiary neither earns wages of more than $80 nor renders substantial services in self-employment.

After you reach 72, benefits are payable to you no matter how much you earn from then on. But earnings for the entire taxable year in which you reach 72 must be counted in determining whether payments can be made for months in that year before your 72nd birthday.

For the reasons explained above, persons living in the Winchester area and who might be eligible for social security benefits in 1956, but who have not yet made an application, are urged by Mr. Murphy to get in touch with the Contact Station of the social security office, at the Winchester Post Office, open each Tuesday between the hours of 10:30 a. m. and 12:30 p. m. without delay.

RED FEATHER S. O. S.

An S.O.S. has gone out from the Red Feather Volunteer Service Bureau for volunteers to register for emergency assignments as general clerical workers in hospitals, settlement houses, and other Red Feather agencies.

Such services as filing, addressing envelopes, collating, stapling, and various duties not requiring special skills, are frequently needed to assist with special projects, etc., carried on from time to time by the agencies.

These jobs usually last for one to three days and anyone who can, occasionally, give a few days time to such worthwhile endeavors are urged to register with the Volunteer Service Bureau so that they can be contacted should the need arise.

Information about this or any other phase of the volunteer service program can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Judith Roche Thiers, director, or other members of her staff, at Red Feather headquarters, 14 Somerset street, Boston, telephone RIchmond 2-2000.

MOTOR VEHICLE LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS SCORED

A Midwest safety authority tonight blasted law enforcement officials for laxity in the death of over 40,200 persons on the nation's highways last year.

Richard O. Bennett, speaking in Boston January 23, before the annual meeting of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company's Institute for Safe Living, said "We've been concerning ourselves too long with only drivers and pedestrians in traffic safety. "It is high time that we give a little attention to those who have the authority and the opportunity to control traffic accidents but do not," Bennett said.

Accusing some public officials of "dragging their feet" on traffic law enforcement, he said, "What about the judge who handles traffic cases? Is he selfishly dishing out small fines, suspended sentences and giving outright dismissals to insure himself a long judicial life."

Bennett, Director of the Automotive Division of the National Association of Automobile Mutual Insurance Companies, said some judges try to enhance their personal reputations by being suckers for a sob story.

He questions whether some members of the bench striving to be "fair" take into consideration many things not connected with the traffic violation. "Does he discriminate between offenders on the basis of economic level, whether they have an attorney, or whether a drunk driver could make a living if his license is revoked?"

Police officers who give "passes" to traffic violators who are polite and tickets to violators who "squawk" also came in for criticism by Bennett. "Within all probability, the polite violators actually committed the offenses for which they were stopped, but having been apprehended frequently they have learned to 'worm passes' out of policemen," Bennett said.

He asked whether some officers fail to see violations because they dislike to have people punished or don't wish to go to court on their own time.

Motor vehicle license examiners also were criticized for giving unfit persons driver's licenses out of "sympathy."

Bennett told members of the Institute that all sorts of excuses have been advanced for not doing a good job of controlling traffic accidents. Too much horsepower in cars, poor highway designs, public apathy, teen-age drivers and speed demons have been blamed, Bennett said.

"Everyone of these is a lame excuse. Excuses are diversionary. They focus attention away from potential solutions like enforcement."

Bennett said the three "E's" of traffic safety—education, engineering and enforcement are all important—but that enforcement, applied everywhere vigorously would be immediately effective in reducing accidents.

ESTABLISHED 125 YEARS

J. S. Waterman & Sons one of the oldest and largest funeral service firms in the country. This year marks the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of J. S. Waterman & Sons, which has rendered funeral service for the families of Greater Boston since 1832, when the firm was founded by Joseph S. Waterman.

In 1870 and 1876 his sons George H. and Frank S. Waterman joined the firm and the present company name was established. The erection of a new building in 1890 at 2326 Washington street, Roxbury, was the first in the east especially constructed for funeral service. Thoroughly modernized several years ago, it is still in operation as one of three Waterman chapels.

Upon the death of the founder in 1893, his sons continued through their lifetime and their sons followed in their fathers' footsteps. The third generation, sons of George H. and Frank S. Waterman, were active when the firm was incorporated at the turn of the century. Joseph S. Waterman, Frank S. Waterman and George H. Waterman, the third generation carried on the policy of progress through the years. Thus, the business has remained in the Waterman family from its first inception until the present day.

At the present time the firm of J. S. Waterman & Sons, Inc., is owned and operated by the third and fourth generations, with Joseph S. Waterman president, Frank S Waterman, 3rd, treasurer and James P. Cutler, vice president. J. S. Waterman & Sons, Inc., has played an important role in the development and growth of the funeral service industry and was one of the founders of the National Selected Morticians. They have been active in both National and Massachusetts Funeral Directors Associations and are represented on the Board of Registration of Embalmers and Funeral Directors of Massachusetts.

J. S. Waterman & Sons, Inc., will continue to function in the Greater Boston area with the same high degree of consciousness that has always characterized their service to all.

In Florida's Everglades, Seminole Indians have exchanged their old dugout canoes for swift, modern air boats, says the National Geographic Society. Propeller-driven by an old automobile engine mounted above a shallow-draft scow, an air boat can float in two inches of water and skim through the swamps at 30 to 40 miles an hour.

POUND BILL MAY AFFECT LOCAL PET OWNERS

Senate Bill 315, concerning the requisition of lost and stray animals from animal pounds by medical research institutions, may have an effect on Winchester pet owners which up to this time has been ignored. The argument has been raging between the proponents of the bill, institutions such as the Massachusetts Society for Medical Research and the Massachusetts Heart Association, and opposition from the MSPCA, the Animal Rescue League, and the Massachusetts Anti-vivisectionist Society.

At a hearing Jan. 29, before the joint Committee on Legal Affairs in the State House, controversy revolved around the issues of the progress of medicine through animal experimentation, the cruelty allegedly involved, and the right of the legislature to pass a law which, according to the opposition to the bill, violates the charter of humane societies established under law in this state. The bill is now awaiting consideration in an executive session of the Committee on Legal Affairs, which will recommend either that bill be sent to the Senate or discarded.

Representative Harrison P. Chadwick of 24 Everett avenue, who was present at the hearing, said that the case presented by the proponents of the bill was the best that has been heard in comparison to debate on similar bills in the past. An outstanding speaker for the bill, he said, was Dr. Paul Dudley White, the heart specialist who attended President Eisenhower during his illness. There were also several Winchester residents present.

The issues debated at the hearing, however, may seem highly theoretical and idealistic to the average citizen, who is not directly connected with either the humane societies or the medical profession.

This was indicated by the fact that the authors of a great many letters received by Rrepresentative Chadwick, and most of the speakers at the hearing, were people who had a direct interest in the controversy. What the bill might mean to a Winchester pet owner is a different matter.

Stray dogs in Winchester are picked up by the town dog officer, Robert Heitz of 25 Water street. Because Winchester has no dog pound of its own, he takes them to a kennel in Woburn run by Michael Seminatore, where they are kept for the six days prescribed by law.

As Seminatore's is a private kennel, he is paid by the town of Winchester for boarding the dogs. Stray dogs, it should be made clear, are those without collars and tags. This does not include pets who are properly licensed. After six days stray dogs that have been unclaimed are turned over by Mr. Heitz to the Angell Memorial Hospital in Boston. Here the dogs are treated if sick, and placed in homes whenever possible. If, after a suitable period of time, no place can be found for the dogs, they are humanely put to sleep.

The point at which Senate Bill 315 would affect a dog picked up in Winchester is after it had been in the Woburn kennel for six days, the "minimum time . . . required before execution under the then existing law" as described in the bill. Although Winchester has no written contract with the Angell Memorial Hospital, and has what Dr. Eric H. Hanson, President of the MSPCA, describes as a "gentleman's agreement" with the hospital, this agreement comes under the classification of "other arrangement with any city or town . . ." in the bill, and any dog or other stray animal taken to the hospital from Winchester would be eligible to be taken by an institution for research.

However, as Dr. Hansen pointed out, this is in conflict with the purpose of the Angell Memorial Hospital and the MSPCA in general, and if the bill is passed, the hospital would no longer be able to help Winchester by handling its stray dogs.

Since the medical institutions will need only a small percentage of the stray dogs now being handled by humane societies and pounds, according to a circular distributed by the Massachusetts Society for Medical Research, the rest would have to be disposed of by some agency in Winchester or subsidized by the town.

The administrator of the bill itself would be the Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Health, who at this time is Dr. Samuel Kirkwood of 7 Swan road.

NEW NEW YORK LAW

VISITING MOTORISTS REQUIRED TO MEET STATE INSURANCE LIMITS

"Motorists driving in New York State next month should make certain they have adequate automobile insurance to meet the new law," an Amerian Automobile Association officials warned today.

Robert S. Kretschmar, Executive Secretary of AAA's Massachusetts Division, pointed out that the new compulsory auto insurance law goes into effect in New York on Friday, February 1st. The law requires all motorists driving in the Empire State to have $10/$20,000 limits of public liability plus $5,000 property damage. These limits are higher than the Massachusetts compulsory coverage, presently requiring only $5/$10,000.

"Massachusetts motorists should check with their insurance agents before driving in New York," Kretschmar said. "The New York statute applies even to those whose cars are registered in other states."

If the operator of an out-of-state car which is not properly insured is involved in an accident or in a traffic violation, including parking violations, he will lose his "right to operate" in New York for one year.

The AAA official reported: "There appear to be no plans for road blocks nor is there expected to be any wholesale checking of out-of-state drivers in New York." However, he strongly urged all Bay State motorists to make certain their insurance is adequate before driving in New York.

Here's the bomb
THAT BROKE THE
"low-price" lineup!

This big high-stepping Chieftain started a revolution with a carload of "firsts" and an eye-popping price tag!

The low-price field never looked like this before! The handsome husky you see right here has the boat still rocking . . . with more power, more wheelbase, more room—and more sheer pride of ownership—than ever before possible on a well-trained budget! Just look at what they're making room for now in the low-price lineup: a strapping 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 . . . a whopping, road-hugging 122 inches of wheelbase and an all-new suspension system for a Level-Line Ride that's next best thing to a magic carpet! And this streamlined beauty takes on the field with more than six dozen "firsts", all proved by 100,000 of the roughest, toughest test miles a group of facts-minded engineers could devise! If this sounds like a wonderful buy—it certainly is! Our advice is to stop dreaming and price it! At a cost less than a lot of the low-price jobs, this newcomer is making big-time buyers out of former "all-three" owners!

TAYLOR VICE PRESIDENT

WINCHESTER MAN GOES WEST TO TUCSON

At the annual meeting of United Investment Counsel, Inc., Boston, held January 16, Philip E. Lawrence and Prescott R. Taylor, who are senior counselors, were made vice presidents of the corporation.

On February 1, 1957, Mr. Taylor became resident manager of the United Investment Counsel Far-Western Division with offices at 68 East Congress street. In March these offices will move to the new Pima Building, 149 No. Stone avenue, Tucson, Arizona, which is rapidly nearing completion.

In moving west to Tucson Mr. Taylor will rejoin his wife and son, Peter, who preceded him there. Peter, afflicted with asthma, went to Tucson in his schoolboy days and is now a sophomore at University of Arizona at Tucson. Mrs. Taylor, following a serious bronchial infection in 1954, has been spending her winters in Tuscon. Now with Mr. Taylor's business located there the three will be united again.

Born in New York City in 1903, Mr. Taylor lived in Winchester boy and man for 53 years. He attended Winchester schools, Noble and Greenough School and was graduated from Yale in 1926, doing graduate work in architecture and landscape architecture at Harvard from 1926 to 1928.

Mr. Taylor entered the investment field with the First Boston Corporation in 1928, became associated with Kidder, Peabody & Company as head of the statistical department in 1934, becoming head of the tax department in 1945.

In May of 1952 he returned to his original work of investment analyst, and the following year joined his present firm, United Investment Counsel, as director of accounts.

Mr. Taylor joined the First Motor Squadron, First Corps Cadets, M.S.G. in 1940 and remained with it until it was disbanded in 1946, being honorably discharged with the rank of sergeant. He is a member of the Yale Club of Boston and New York, Veterans Association First Corps of Cadets and Zeta Psi Fraternity.

PUBLIC INVITED TO VIEW NEW BUDGET

The results of the work of the Fiscal Survey Committee are now beginning to appear. With two years work already devoted to the problem of modernizing the methods and procedures by which the town conducts its financial affairs, the current report of this committee makes interesting reading. Town meeting members and other residents of the town are invited by the Fiscal Survey Committee to become familiar with their report and the new budget procedure.

On display at the library and the Selectmen's office at the town hall, and available for reading or study, are copies of the report of the Fiscal Survey Committee and the new Accounting and Budget Manual. Introduced this fall for the first time, the manual has already proved its worth in speeding and improving the handling of the mass of information that must be studied and approved by various town boards prior to the meeting.

With more than 200 families in Winchester having at least one Tufts or Jackson graduate as a member, this town has been selected with several others for a personal solicitation drive in connection with the 1957 Tufts University Alumni Fund.

Dwight E. Bellows, 2 Lantern Lane, and Herbert Black, 7 Seneca road, have been appointed co-chairmen for the drive, and are being assisted by Joseph W. Morton of Ainsworth road, former alumni secretary of Tufts.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS CLOSED FOR WINTER VACATION MONDAY, FEBRUARY 18 THROUGH FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 22

CANDIDATE FOR BOARD OF HEALTH

Evelyn R. Russell of 16 Norwood street is uniquely qualified for this office by training at the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing from which she was graduated in 1935, by her experience as a Registered Nurse and as a mother of three children who have attended public schools.

Member of the Winchester Hospital Board of Directors 1943-45, President of the Winchester District Nursing Association 1943-45 and Chairman of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee 1953-56, Mrs. Russell is the wife of Harlow Russell and has been a resident of the town for more than 20 years. She is actively interested in the projects and problems of public health.

EDWARD A. TUCKER

Edward A. Tucker, who lived at 220 Highland avenue for 56 years, died suddenly on Thursday evening, February 7.

Mr. Tucker was born at Westboro November 19, 1872. He was graduated from M.I.T. in 1894. In 1900 he married Mabelle Merrill of Melrose and in 1901 he built his home in Winchester.

By profession he was a structural engineer and did special work in structural reinforcing. He was a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and for many years he maintained the Edward A. Tucker Company, structural engineers at 88 Broad street, Boston. In later years he and Mr. Walter Fox were associated. He was active in business until his death.

Mr. Tucker was active in town affairs until his retirement from town meeting in 1948. He served on the Finance Committee and was an original member of the limited town meeting. A member of the School Committee from 1924 to 1933, he was twice its chairman, and he was also a member of the first junior high school building committee. The Winchester Hospital called upon him for one of its building committees.

In his youth he participated in many sports and continued his tennis for many years. He was a member of the Calumet Club.

The Congregational Church was very close to him and he gave it long service as a deacon and a member of its committees. It was he who laid the cornerstone of its parish house and spent many hours watching over its construction. Only a year ago a grateful church named a room for him.

Mrs. Tucker died in 1948 and a son, Donald Pitkin Tucker, died in 1952. He is survived by his daughter, Elsbeth A. Tucker, a son, William Merrill Tucker, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiating. Burial will be in Pine Grove Cemetery, Westboro.

CHADWICK BILL KILLED

A bill limiting political campaigning sponsored by Winchester's Rep. Harrison Chadwick, was killed last week in the General Court without debate.

The bill forbade newspaper, radio and billboard advertising, or any other promotions associated with political campaigns until the final three weeks before the election.

PLANNING BOARD HELD HEARING

At a meeting of the Planning Board Monday night, consideration was given to a proposal for the laying out of exterior lines on several sections of land which may be used as entrances for new roads in the future. These ways are:

1. A way beginning at the westerly side of Ridge street and extending westerly for about fifty feet.
2. A way beginning at the northerly end of Dunster lane and extending northerly about thirty feet.
3. A way beginning at the easterly side of Johnson road and extending easterly about fifty feet.
4. A way beginning at the westerly side of Cambridge street and extending southwesterly about fifty feet.
5. A way beginning at the easterly side of Cambridge street and extending northeasterly about fifty feet.
6. A way beginning at the southerly side of Pond street and extending southwesterly about fifty feet.

The first two ways would form the ends of a road running from the end of Dunster lane in a northeasterly direction to Ridge street. The other four ways would form entrances to a road running from Johnson road, shortly north of where Johnson road and Wildwood street meet, along the north side of the park area in a northeasterly direction to Cambridge street, crossing Cambridge street and joining the south side of Pond street.

A group of about twenty Winchester residents, mainly from Cambridge and Pond streets, was present at the hearing, who voiced their fears that such a road would make a heavy increase in traffic on their streets.

Howard Ambrose of the Town Engineers office pointed out, however, that this hearing was concerned only with establishing the ways described so that no building might be done which would block them.

The laying out of the roads themselves will not be considered until a definite need for them arises.

The proposed ways will be the subject of a public hearing before the Board of Selectmen on February 25 at 8:00 p.m.

ALLAN WEBB BREED

Funeral services for Allan Webb Breed were conducted by Rev. John W. Ellison of the Church of the Epiphany on Monday, February 11, in the Bigelow Chapel at Mt. Auburn Cemetery in Cambridge. Mr. Breed died suddenly on Friday, February 8, but he had been in good health previous to his death.

Before his retirement in 1955 to Fitzwilliam, New Hampshire, Mr. Breed had been a Winchester resident for 32 years. During his residence here he was a confectionery manufacturer with his own business.

Born March 13, 1889, in Lynn, the son of Warren M. and Florence S. Breed, he attended Phillips Academy in Andover and was graduated from Yale in 1912. Before his death he was engaged in research for the U. S. Air Force.

He leaves his wife, Alice L. (Todd) Breed, of Fitzwilliam, N.H.; one son, Allan P., and a grandson, Allan T. Breed, both of Reading.

JOHN J. O'BRIEN

John J. O'Brien of 6 Clearwater road, a retired employee of the M.T.A., died Sunday, February 10, after an illness of eight weeks. He was 75 years old.

Mr. O'Brien was the son of John J., and Bridget (Keough) O'Brien. He was born in Ireland and before coming to Winchester five years ago made his home in Somerville for 40 years. He had been until his retirement a long-time employee of the M.T.A.

Mr. O'Brien's wife, the former Margaret J. Coughlin, is deceased. He leaves two daughters, Mary M. Davidson and Helen P. Toland, and a son, John J. O'Brien, Jr.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the John J. Donovan Funeral Home in Cambridge. Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Catherine's Church in Somerville. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

ANIMAL POUND BILL SENT TO SENATE

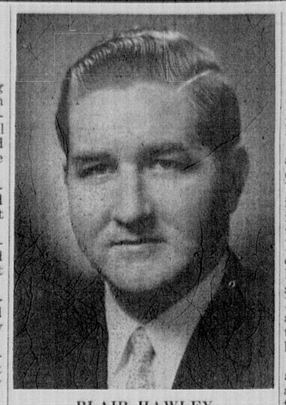
Despite strong opposition, Senate Bill 315 was approved by the House Tuesday, and referred to the Senate Ways and Means Committee. This is the "animal pound bill" allowing unclaimed stray animals at animal pounds to be claimed for medical research.

Rep. Barclay H. Warburton (R-Ipswich) spoke in opposition to the bill, pointing out that humane societies felt they would be unable to carry on their work if this bill is passed. This is in keeping with the opinion expressed to the Star by Dr. Eric H. Hansen, president of the MSPCA. He said that if this bill were passed, Winchester would no longer be able to turn over its stray animals to the Angell Memorial Hospital. This means that Winchester may have to find a new way of disposing of its stray dogs in the near future.

D. A. R.

The next meeting of the Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R., will be held on Monday, February 18, at the home of Mrs. George Gowdy, 4 Lantern Lane. Dessert will be served at 1:30 p.m. followed by a business meeting at 2.

Films will be shown by Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin.



BLAIR HAWLEY

HEADS YOUNG G.O.P.

Blair Hawley of 25 Ledgewood road was elected president of the Greater Boston Young Republican Club at their annual meeting on February 11. Mr. Hawley had served as vice president the preceding year, and previously had been chairman of the membership committee.

Mr. Hawley was named one of Greater Boston's ten outstanding young men by the Junior Chamber of Commerce last year. At that time he was serving as field organizer for Middlesex County for the Republican State Committee. He is now a director of the Federal Civil Defense Administration in Massachusetts.

REGIONAL ELECTRONICS MEETING AT WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL

Are you interested in electronics? Do you realize that electronics has become a major industry in the State of Massachusetts? Are you aware of the fact that many schools have courses and units in electronics as part of their programs and that many more are interested in adding such courses? Since this is a very important and timely subject pertinent to the economy of our state, Mr. William F. Branley, Winchester's director of Industrial arts, planned the Regional Conference of the Massachusetts Industrial Education Society at Winchester High School on February 14. Coffee and light refreshments were served before the meeting convened. Mr. J. Howard Niblock, principal, welcomed the unusually large group of conference registrants to Winchester High School. Dr. Harry V. Gilson, superintendent of schools, was most happy to extend the hospitality of the town to the M.I.E.S., and the participants who attended from all over the state.

Mr. Howard Nichols of 7 Appalachian road, one of the directors of engineering research at Lincoln Laboratory, was of great assistance to Mr. Branley in securing two outstanding speakers for the afternoon's program. Mr. L. L. Grant and Mr. M. J. Hudson, staff members at Lincoln Laboratory, presented a most interesting and informative talk on "Basic Needs for a Career in the Electronics Industry."

The second half of the program was conducted by Dr. Arthur Jubenville of Science Electronics, Inc., who demonstrated the use of electronics teaching aids. He is a former industrial arts teacher in the electronics area and has designed electronic kits that are being used in public schools, colleges, and industrial research. Dr. Jubenville discussed several questions often asked of teachers: Should kits be used in electronics courses? If so, how should they be used? Are there adequate kits for beginners and advanced students? These and many more problems confronting teachers of electronics were discussed. The conference speakers pointed out the importance of this new industry to our section of the country and the great need for more technically trained persons to enter this ever-expanding field of work.

At the conclusion of the meeting all the industrial arts shops in the high school and the junior high school were open for inspection to the conference participants. Many favorable comments were made concerning the outstanding equipment and facilities that the townspeople of Winchester have provided for the education of its youth in the field of industrial arts.

TO BE ORDAINED AT EPIPHANY

Richard Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ellis of 52 Wyman street, West Medford, is to be ordained to the Episcopal Diaconate at the Church of the Epiphany on Saturday morning, February 23, at 10:30 a. m.

The ordination is of interest to many in Winchester who know Mr. Ellis' parents through the business they conducted for several years in the Locatelli Building under the name of Dorothy Ellis.

Richard Ellis did not grow up in the Episcopal Church. He became an Episcopalian while a student at Dartmouth College. He subsequently graduated from the Berkeley Divinity School at Yale in 1955, and is presently teaching at the Taft School in Connecticut.

Mr. Ellis is a Candidate for Holy Orders from the State of New Hampshire. The Rt. Rev. Charles Francis Hall, Bishop of New Hampshire and formerly rector of Grace Church, Medford, will conduct the service of ordination and Mr. Ellis will be presented by the rector of the Epiphany, Rev. John W. Ellison.

CLARENCE H. POND

Clarence H. Pond of 102 Cambridge street, retired president of the Ivers and Pond Piano Company of Boston, died Thursday, February 7, in Miami, Fla., where he had been for about two weeks.

Mr. Pond was the son of Handel, and Amelia (Herrick) Pond. He came of two prominent old-line Winchester families and was born in this town September 24, 1878, in the old Herrick homestead, now the home of F. Manley Ives on Highland avenue, but then located on the site of the home of F. William Schumacher at 350 Highland avenue. In those days there was no Highland avenue in that location and Herrick street was little more than a driveway to the Herrick homestead.

Mr. Pond grew up in Winchester, attended the Winchester schools and was graduated from Winchester High School. He graduated from Harvard in the class of 1899 and during his college course spent a year in foreign study, equally divided between the University of Berlin and the Universitie de Nancy in France.

Je joined the Ivers & Pond Piano Company in 1900, at the time his father was president, subsequently serving the firm as trustee, executor, president and treasurer. At the time of his 50th college reunion in 1949 he wrote that whereas there had been some 28 piano manufacturing firms in New England when he joined Ivers & Pond in 1900, in his reunion year his firm was the only one remaining.

Mr. Pond, increasingly in the years following his retirement, made his home in the house built by his father on Cambridge street, though he also maintained an apartment at 7 Marlborough street in Boston. His Winchester home contains a fine pipe organ installed by his father, who was an accomplished musician. Mr. Pond, himself, played both the organ and piano, but solely for his own pleasure, though he was no mean performer on both instruments.

He was a member of the Union Club, the Engineers Club of Boston, the Harvard Clubs of Boston and New York, Charlotte Cushman Club, Society for the Prevention of Club, Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, the Beacon Hill Association and the Winchester Boat Club, being perhaps the oldest living member of the last named at the time of his death.

Mr. Pond was unmarried. He leaves a brother, Dana, who is well known as an artist and who makes his home in New York. Another brother, Shepard, died May 28, 1945.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiating. Burial was in the Pond family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

ARLINGTON OUTBID FRESHMEN FOR PLAYOFFS

Arlington and Walpole will represent their division in the Suburban Junior Hockey League playoffs. Winchester freshmen finished third, which was not good enough as only the top two teams are chosen for the final honors. Handicapped by three absentees, Winchester lacked the ability to withstand the third-period attack in which Arlington scored three goals. Charlie Myers, for the local boys, got the first score of the game in the first period on a double assist from Hosmer and Allen. Later, Arlington scored to tie it up. In the second period, Peter Branch broke the tie in Winchester's favor with a beautiful flip shot on an assist from Eaton and Hosmer. Shortly afterwards, Arlington tied it up again and the third period opened at 2-2.

Although Winchester showed flashes of the superb team play that has marked them on several occasions this season, they definitely were not up to their best game. On the other hand, Arlington was in top form, and with their three last-period goals, impressively clinched the crucial game.

In spite of last Saturday's outcome, Coach Harrison Chadwick says the freshmen have been a fine group and have come a long way in their hockey knowledge and technique. He believes they will make a valuable contribution to Winchester varsity hockey in the years to come.

"DRUGGIST OF THE WEEK!"

Bob and Ray Show will name Fred McCormack as "Druggist of the Week" on their radio show over Station WNAC this Friday evening between 5 and 6 o'clock.

This award came through a letter written by Mr. Vincent Erhard of 184 Washington street, nominating Mr. McCormack. The theme of the letter must depict some unusual service performed by "your local druggist."

Mr. Erhard's entry was judged as the winning entry of the week. Both Mr. McCormack and Mr. Erhard will be the recipients of beautiful Benrus watches.

SCHOOL VACATION AND WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

This week more than 950,000 school children will enjoy the first school vacation of 1957. During this period, the anniversary of George Washington's birthday will be observed.

Registrar King, Chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, urges all motorists to be extra alert during school vacation week and drive at reduced speed.

The Registrar says, "The child you save may be your own."

Ministers and laymen from five states will be at the college February 17 and 18 to lead religious discussion groups at the Embassy. The principal Embassy speaker will be the Rev. William F. "Billy" Graham.

Yale was last year's arrangement chairman for the Embassy. He has participated both in basketball and golf while at Amherst. A graduate of Winchester High School, Yale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius P. Yale of 100 Memorial Drive, Apt. 11-1R, in Cambridge.

ATTENDED DINNER MEETING

Norton Demsey, Jr., and Marion Balbioni of Winchester High School attended a dinner meeting at the Bear Hill Country Club in Wakefield, Tuesday evening, February 12, to get acquainted with officials of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company. This company is now constructing a new office building on Route 128 in Wakefield.

Guidance directors and school authorities from many cities and towns attended the session to listen to company officials describe job opportunities and personnel policies. The new building, which is expected to be completed in the spring of 1958, will provide five-and-a-half acres of floor space for nearly 875 employees.

Baker, Ross Reach Scholarship Finals

Winchester Seniors Chosen On High Academic Promise

Kirby Baker, the son of Dr. and Mrs. James G. Baker of 7 Grove street, and Bradley Ross, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Ross of 11 Madison avenue, have qualified to enter the final competition for 100 General Motors National Scholarships to be awarded in 1957. These scholarships are made available to secondary school seniors who have distinguished themselves in their school careers and who are winners in a competitive examination conducted by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey.

At least one award is made in each state, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, provided a candidate has qualified. Recipients are permitted to select any accredited college, public or private, that they wish to attend. Scholarships are continued from year to year, for four years, if the scholar's progress toward completion of degree requirements meets the standards established by his college or university. The field of study is unrestricted. A scholar may choose any field for which he feels himself best suited and interruption for military service is provided. Scholarships will be held open until six months after the scholar's release from service. Awards range from $200 to $2,000 yearly depending upon demonstrated need.

In qualifying for the finals, Mr. Baker and Mr. Ross were competing with outstanding high school seniors from all over the United States. Final selection of scholarship winners will be made by a group of educators who are representative of various parts of the country.

In evaluating candidates, the group will consider prior school records and the College Board test scores as indications of how well candidates may be expected to do college work. Information will also be obtained from high school principals of applicants' achievements—both academic and curricular—during their secondary school career. Successful candidates will be notified on or about May 1, 1957.

THE SENIOR FORUM

"Dynamic Citizenship" is the challenging title Hon. Harrison Chadwick has chosen for his talk to the Senior Forum this Sunday morning, at 9:30 in Ripley Chapel. Mr. Chadwick is well known for his interest in the young people in the community and has been in demand by the Forum young people for their guest speaker over a period of several years.

The chaplain will be Hank Schumacher, and assistant chaplain will be Craig Davenport. The deacons will be Carl Arlanson and Bob Cooper, and ushers will be Roger Erikson and Charles Simpson.

LINCOLN SCHOOL DADS' CLUB

The annual Valentine Cabaret Dance that will be held on Saturday, February 16, will be as much fun as the past dances that have been put on by the Lincoln School Dads' Club. The dance is to be held at the Lincoln School Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. The committee of Al Derro, Dave Grey and Jeff Gaudioso, along with other members of the steering committee have worked hard to set up an excellent program, so come on all you mothers and dads and join in the fun. Bring your neighbors and friends as well—they are all welcome.

As usual, there will be fine music for dancing along with refreshments and varied prizes and awards.

If you don't already have your tickets, come along and buy them at the door. So once again we remind you—Saturday evening, February 16, at 8:00 p.m. at the Lincoln School Auditorium. We'll be looking forward to seeing you all.

DESSERT BRIDGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL

Mothers, fathers and friends of the George Washington School enjoyed an evening of card playing at the school auditorium on Tuesday night, February 12. A delicious assortment of desserts was served from an attractive table set with a Valentine motif of "hearts and flowers."

BELMONT HERE TONIGHT

MIDDLESEX CROWN RIDES ON GAME

Winchester plays its long anticipated return game with Belmont in the local gymnasium tonight at 7 o'clock, and the championship of the Middlesex League is riding on the result.

Belmont edged Winchester by a basket in the previous thriller between the two teams at Belmont on January 18, and "Mel" Wenner's boys are undefeated going into tonight's game. Winchester has lost only to Belmont, and local fans who saw the previous game between the two schools expect the Indians to prevail in tonight's encore.

The worst Belmont can get title-wise is a tie, even if they lose tonight, while Winchester will be definitely out of the championship picture if Belmont triumphs again.

Tickets for the game have been sold out for some time, and if you do not have one in advance of starting time, there is no point to going on down. There will be standing room only for this one! Starting time for second teams, 7 p. m., and it's rumored that Winchester's former faculty manager of athletics, ol' Raymond Hayward, himself, will be in the jam-packed stands.

Little League Dad's Club meeting. All Dads with boys eight to twelve years old please come to Lincoln School Auditorium February 27 at 7:30 p. m.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

The winter meeting of the Winchester Babe Ruth League was held in the George Washington School Auditorium on January 30. George A. Rowe, Jr., chairman of the nominating committee, presented this slate of officers and directors, who were then elected for 1957:

President—Carl A. Morton
Vice Pres.—Theodore L. Freeman
Secretary—Joseph F. Cussen
Treasurer—Elmer M. Grinnell
Player Agent—George A. Rowe, Jr.

Board of Directors — Evander French, Dana J. Kelly, Henry Knowlton, Frank J. Provinzano, Harry Arlanson, Warren C. Hichborn, Robert W. Gray, Roderick Thomson, Charles A. Koch, John F. Coakley, Thomas L. Purtle, John J. Shanahan, George A. Rowe, Jr., Carl A. Morton, Sam M. Bellino, William W. Cruwys, Paul W. Connors, Theodore L. Freeman, Elmer M. Grinnell and Joseph F. Cussen.

Plans were made for the opening of the season on May 11 and continuing to late in July. The tryouts for all present Babe Ruth members and new candidates start April 6 or 13, with bidding and selection of players by team managers April 29 or 30.

All Winchester boys 13, 14 or 15 years old, born on or after September 31, 1941, and prior to September 1, 1944, are eligible for Babe Ruth competition for the 1957 season and application blanks can be obtained now at Chitel's Men's Shop or Winchester Sport Shop and returned to Winchester Babe Ruth League, P.O. Box 126, Winchester.

The Babe Ruth League of Winchester is sponsored by Rotary Club, En Ka Society, Little League, Fitzgerald Oil Co. and Christie McDonald Food Shops and teams are sponsored by: Giants, Parker Lane Winn Co.; Indians, Renton' Market; Phillies, Chitel's Men's Shop; and White Sox, Purtle's Pharmacy.

Each year through the generosity of Joseph R. Donovan, 7 Fells road, president of Bayburn Cleaners, all Babe Ruth uniforms are given a special cleansing job.

This desirable program for our boys of this important age group not only requires considerable planning but, is made possible wholly by the financial support of all their sponsors, with the splendid cooperation of our park department, and the many individuals who give their time and money to the task of developing good citizens among our boys by providing supervised baseball competition.

Contributors are always welcome, as with the start of the third season replacement of much of the equipment will be needed.

SECOND TERM OF CHILDREN'S THEATRE

The young people, some of whom are "veterans" of two season's performances, are eagerly starting their third term and are beginning work toward their third Program of the Children's Theatre School, which will be offered as the 4th Play on the Winchester Community Theatre's Membership ticket.

The older group (12 - 16 years) meets Thursday, in the Studio of the Director, Carlene Samoiloff. Registration this term is limited. For information or registration call Mrs. Charles Blanchard, Secretary; WInchester 6-4116 or Mrs. Hiram Smith, Treasurer; WInchester 6-0376.

ATTENTION!

Doing anything on February 20? How about joining the roller skating party which Metcalf Union is sponsoring? All those young people interested should meet at 7:30 in the evening in front of the Unitarian Church. Be sure to bring about a dollar, for admittance and any refreshments you wish to buy. The party will be held at the Wal-Lex.

Everyone is welcome, so be sure to come. It will be loads of fun!

And remember, those who have signed up for the Ice Follies, the time for departure has been changed. Everyone please meet at the railroad station for the 3:29 train on Sunday, February 17. Please be prompt—the train won't wait.

MELROSE SCALPED

Melrose fell victim to the Sachem scalping knife last Friday evening by a score of 77-52 in a Middlesex League basketball game last Friday night at the Melrose gym.

Shorthanded Winchester started so slowly that the Red Raiders were able to grab a 11-9 lead as the first period came to an end. They did little raiding after that, however, as the Indians caught fire, taking a 31-20 advantage at the half, and extending it to 50-29 at the end of the third quarter. The final period was their biggest as the team netted a total of 27 points. In all, Winchester had 33 baskets for 72 shots for a very respectable 46% shooting average.

Dave Bergquist had 20 points to lead the varsity scoring while Mike Callahan and Roger Symmes were one behind with 19 apiece. Goodwin, Campbell and Whitney with 18, 15, and 12 respectively were tops for Melrose.

The J.V.'s were easy victors, posting their highest totals of the year in an 80-59 win over the Raider Seconds.

A new high shooting average of 53% for the game was a big factor in this score, while an out of this world second period in which the squad hit for 10 out of 12 shots for 83% contributed to the terrific percentage.

Thomson and Schumacher paced the J.V.'s with 14 points each while Jake Horn had an even ten. High for Melrose were Bishop with 15, Hatch with 11, and George with ten.

FIREMEN DRILL

With the unseasonably warm weather last week, Chief Callahan of the Fire Department had several of his new men practicing working the pumps at the Palmer street hydrant near the tennis courts. Later in the spring they will also become familiar with the handling of aerial ladders and other equipment.

Conference Crown to Winchester

Indians Shut Out Danvers, 1-0

Winchester High scored the only goal in its Northeastern Conference hockey game with Danvers at the Lynn Arena last Saturday and the Indians' win over the erstwhile leader of the circuit gave them the championship of the Conference Division of the North Shore Hockey League. Winchester succeeds Woburn as the Conference champion, the Tanners having won the crown a year ago.

Marblehead was leading the Indians by a point going into Saturday's games but the 'Headers dropped from the pinnacle when they were upset by Swampscott while Winchester was getting by Danvers, the club that had led the league over a greater part of the season.

The Indians' battle with Danvers was a tense defensive struggle with both teams doing a lot of forechecking to keep play for the most part between the blue lines.

Winchester had the best goaler in the conference, Capt. Barry Urbanski of Danvers, to beat and found him a tough customer. Except for Capt. Leo Callahan's solo goal at 8:43 of the first period, Urbanski was air-tight.

Callahan tailed a Danvers defenseman who was carrying the puck and stole the rubber from him, barging in all alone on the side of his steal to take an unhampered shot at the net.

Urbanski made a game try to stop the rubber, but the puck eluded his glove and went into the net to give Winchester the game and championship as things turned out.

With its single goal advantage and the title riding on the game, Winchester was playing close to its vest over the last two periods, but even so, Goaler Denton had to make several good saves and was the Indians' outstanding player as the game drew to a close. The summary:

Winchester — Goal, Denton; defense, McElholm, Kelleher; forwards, Zirkel, Callahan; center, Cussen.

Spares — Weaver, Davenport, Sandberg.

Danvers — Goal, Urbanski; defense, Hooley, Turenne; forwards, Dowdell, Weaver; center, Lepage.

Spares—Ayles, Shaw, Howe.

1st period:

Scoring: Winchester, Callahan (unassisted) 8:43.

Penalties: Danvers, Lepage (checking in defensive zone). Winchester, Weaver (high stick).

2nd period:

Penalties: Winchester, Cussen (too many men on ice). Danvers, Hooley (interference).

3rd period:

Penalties: Danvers, Howe (tripping). Winchester, McElholm (interference).

ARLINGTON-WINCHESTER SIMMONS CLUB

The January meeting of the Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club was held at the Robbins Library, Arlington, on Thursday, January 31.

At a coffee hour which preceded the business meeting, cookies from various nations, artfully arranged around a centerpiece of United Nations flags, were served.

A large group of both Arlington and Winchester members were present to hear Dr. Simon, director of Ring Sanitarium, speak on the subject "The Feeling of Rejection." Dr. Simon began his interesting talk by showing a movie, one of a series on mental health, which induced a lively discussion by the members present.

Winchester members at the meeting were:

Mrs. K. Foster Cleaves, Mrs. Rony Snyder, Mrs William Glowacki, Mrs. Will Skerry, Mrs. B. M. Anderson, Mrs. James Loftus, Mrs. Donald Fritch, Mrs. Eugene Winter Mrs. James Walsh, Mrs. J. R. Marks, Hilda Hope, Constance Lane, Constance Procopio, Elizabeth Russell, Ursula Walz, Leslie Wetterlow, Helen Forsythe.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

BOARD MEETING

Mrs. Wesley Mallery was hostess to the Board of Directors at their February meeting. Eleanor Shinnick, our Executive Director, explained the next steps of our neighborhood development plan. This will bring all of our adult volunteers together in one of our four neighborhoods, at regularly scheduled Neighborhood Meetings, where plans, problems and progress can be discussed by the total adult membership. Marion Willing who is chairman of the Cedar Hill committee for Massachusetts Girl Scouts, as well as a local Board member, told of organized camping activities at Cedar Hill in Waltham. Since Camp Warren has been discontinued, more time and space can be given to troops wishing to use the camp site by the day or week, the year round. Girl Scout families may also use it for weekend camping, as well as qualified youth groups, outside the Girl Scout organization. Any local troop leader wishing additional information about the facilities at Cedar Hill may call the Girl Scout Office in Winchester or at Cedar Hill.

Camping Conference

Mrs. Shinnick attended a conference of Administrators of the Outdoor Program, held recently in Boston, which was followed by the New England Camping Association Conference. Mrs. Ralph Thompson and Mrs. James Stewart were also present at one of the sessions, which emphasized program and camping.

Share a Hobby

Would you like to spend a few hours with a Girl Scout troop, helping some of the girls earn a proficiency badge, along the line of your hobby, rather than lead a troop? Currently, six girls are coming to the home of Mrs. William Glowacki to earn their weaving badge, eventually being priviledged to make an article on her standard loom. The girls are: Thea Kirk, Sally Leighton, Alta Merritt, Mary Lou O'Donnell, Natalie Palmer and Martha Ross, all members of Troop 5. If you would like to share your hobby with some girls, contact the Neighborhood Chairman living nearest to you. Mrs. Frank Bowes, 325 Washington street; Mrs. Vincent March, 20 Standish lane; Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, 4 Curtis street; Mrs. S. Mortimer Ward, 1 Webster street.

Vacation Week

During the week of February 18, the Girl Scout office will be open from 9:00 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. except Friday, for the convenience of our leaders.

Roller Skating Party

A reminder to leaders—A Townwide Roller Skating Party will take place on Wednesday, February 20, from 10:00 a. m. to 12 noon. It is to be held at the Wal-Lex Rink in Waltham and troop leaders are arranging transportation for their troops and obtaining permission from parents.

A ringing burglar alarm at the Banner Hobby Co., of 50 Cross street was found to be only the work of a capricious breeze when investigated by police at 11:15 Sunday morning. They found the door to a storage shed had been blown open, setting off the alarm. The padlock to the door was lying on the ground, but there were no signs of the door having been forced. The owner checked the contents of the shed and found everything in order.

9. K. Donaghey	91.7
10. A. Thorne	91.2

On last Monday night a few new faces were seen on the bowling line. Messrs. Ross and Duffy joined the ranks and were immediately put into action. The top bowlers of the night were Al Thorne and Fred Kimball with Eric Johnson just missing the "300" mark by that one pin.

High Singles for the night were: E. Johnson and G. Cartier 115, Al Thorne 112 and 104, Leo Manoli 111, W. Giacalone 109, F. Kimball 108, K. Donaghey and Joe Cussens 105, Clarence Dunbury 103, B. Merenda, F. Muraco, and Charlie Manoli, 101, and finally Joe Sampson with the over 100.

The league is getting stronger each week so watch the team standings change more often than in the first half. Boston College winner of the first half and until last night seemed to be walking away with the second half, lost four points to Villanova, who by their win moved out of the cellar.

Incidentally have you seen the new jackets our Championship Softball Players are wearing? Pretty Neat!

EDITORIALS

Although it got short shrift in the Great and General Court when it was presented, our Representative Chadwick's bill providing for the limiting of political advertising and campaigning to the three weeks preceding election will appeal to many who hold the opinion that three weeks, after all, ought to constitute sufficient time for the average politician, at least, to extol his virtues.

Don't think you are being short-changed when you get your town report this year and find there is no Assessors list included. The Town Report Committee recommended omitting this list from the annual report at the last March meeting, and the Selectmen decided subsequently that the advice was sound.

It was contended at town meeting last year that few aside from those who use the list for business purposes ever look at the Assessors list. The late Joe Laraway would have given them an argument on that one, and it would have been over his dead body that the list was lopped from the town report. Joe held strong views on the matter of the Assessors list.

The Star is inclined to feel that the omission of the list from the town report is no killing matter, and it is going to be possible for those who do want to satisfy their curiosity or need it for business reasons, to secure one.

The lists are being printed separately and will be available at the Selectmen's office. The catch is that they will cost a dollar, but few who really want them will balk at the price!

SENIOR CITIZENS

Editor of the Star:

The senior citizen needs to feel he is needed. I see them going down hill each day for lack of something to do.

If I can get a group of them together once a week, we could have a meeting and map out things they could do.

Both men and women can get together and with something to do, even if there isn't too much compensation in it, will give them self respect.

We can find a space in town and find hobbies or part time work for them.

Folks on S.S. need to know their usefulness is not at an end.

If interested write to P.O. Box 17 and when we get a group together we will call a meeting.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Louise Chase

Winchester

TROOP 3 EAGLES!

Editor of the Star:

The following members of Troop 3 were awarded Eagle Badges prior to 1938:

Leroy, Jordan (the first scout to be awarded the Eagle Badge in Winchester), Dr. Richard Clark, Bardford Hill, Sargent Hill, Henry Brown, Dr. Donald Hight, Dr. Robert Millican, Dr. Leonard Millican, Albert Wilson, Paul Wentworth, Peter Sibley, Albert Grosvenor, David Grosvenor, Richard Grosvenor and David Fitts.

Edward R. Grosvenor
Scoutmaster Troop 3, 1923-1927
Field Executive, 1931-1935

Ed. Note—Last week's Star depicted the awarding of Eagle Scout rank to Scout William McLeod MacDonlad with the caption that he was the first Troop 3 Scout to receive the award. The troop should have been 2, not 3. The information came from the Scouts and the Star had no reason to doubt its authenticity.

APPRECIATES INTEREST!

Editor of the Star:

The Library Building Addition Committee appreciates the interest shown by Mr. Percival Mott in the proposed building additions to the Public Library as expressed in his recent letter to the Editor of the Star.

We wish to call attention to the Open Meeting to be held at the library at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday, February 19. At this meeting the architects will be present to discuss the building addition plans. This is an opportunity for the townspeople to question personally the Architects, Building Committee, and Library Trustees on all phases of the plans which will be voted upon at the coming Town Meeting.

A model of the library with its proposed building additions is now on display in the main foyer of the library. Citizens are urged to inspect this model and consult with the Librarian if they have questions.

REP. CHADWICK'S POSITION

Editor of the Star:

Through your columns, I should like to thank the citizens of Winchester for their many fine letters expressing their views on the "Pound Bill." Since there were more than 400 of these letters, if will be impossible for me to make individual acknowledgement because of lack of adequate facilities to handle this volume.

Right up to the very end, the letters continued to be about equally divided pro and con. Therefore, I undertook to analyze the arguments submitted to me and to do some investigation on my own. I looked into allegations of cruelty, the rights conferred upon humane societies under their charters, the cost of municipalities if the services of private pounds were withdrawn, the raising of animals especially for experimental purposes, and finally the benefits to mankind if the "Pound Bill' were to become law.

After spending much time on all phases of the subject, I came to the conclusion that the greatest good to our society came from the passage of the bill without amendment. I was strengthened in this conclusion by the report of the Committee on Legal Affairs. Accordingly, today, I voted for the bill and against the amendments. Since there was no roll call on this matter. I felt the people in my district were entitled to know how I stood on this very controversial subject.

Again I sincerely thank all who communicated with me on this legislation and assure my constituents I have tried to do what I believe will result in the greatest good for the greatest number.

Very truly yours,
Harrison Chadwick
State Representative

A LETTER TO THE PARK BOARD

Mr. Frederick M. Ives, Jr.
Chairman Park Department
Winchester, Mass.
Dear Mr. Ives,

Quite a few skating mothers have been wondering if there is any possibility of the Park Department maintaining a skating area on one of our ponds during the icy season.

There has been a good bit of skating this winter outdoors for those Winchester residents who are Country Club members. With what seems like a minimum expenditure of manpower and money, the Winchester Country Club keeps its rink sprayed and scraped so that there has been excellent skating much of the winter.

Do you think there is any possibility of your department maintaining a similar outdoor skating area for our children who are missing out on the good stating?

Please don't take my question as a criticism of the excellent work your department does all year around, but so many mothers have raised the question to me that I thought I should pass it along to you.

Yours very truly,
Dorothy Hills

FRIENDS OF THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

Program chairman for the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, Mrs. John K. Colony and Mr. Colony will entertain at dinner the guest speaker for the mid-winter meeting of the Friends on Wednesday, February 20, Dr. Clinton H. Bagenstose and Mrs. Bagenstose of Melrose. Others at the dinner will be Dr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Hertig, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Kelley, Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. James H. Wingate. They will then go on to coffee and the meeting at the Parish Hall of the Church of the Epiphany.

Coffee will be served to all attending at eight o'clock by Mrs. Frederick A. Cardin, Hospitality chairman of the Friends, and her committee which includes: Mrs. Donald Abbott, Mrs. James C. Breton, Mrs. R. L. Berg, Mrs. Jack Babakian, Mrs. Nicholas Deininger, Mrs. James M. Gustin, Mrs. Winthrop Knox, Mrs. Chester Manimon, Mrs. Clarence Roberts, Mrs. Robert Stewart, and Mrs. Harry Glenn Taylor.

Dr. Bagenstose, Psychiatric Consultant at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will speak on "The Role of Psychiatry in the College Atmosphere." All men and women interested are cordially invited to attend this open meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital.

FIRE SAFETY IN NATIONAL ELECTRIC WEEK

A survey among towns in the Boston area shows that if someone had not tinkered with their electrical protective devices, several hundred fires would not have occurred last year.

Chief James E. Callahan of the Winchester Fire Department said today that where the electrical protective devices in use are not of the tamper-resistant type, too many home owners are prone to replace a 15 ampere fuse with a larger size, namely 30 ampere.

"Fireworks got wider publicity for the damages they did, but were not as serious a threat to safety as careless use of electricity," Chief Callahan said today.

The firecracker made a loud report when it exploded, but when something goes wrong with the electrical circuit, there may be no warning. This is the reason why all electrical circuits should be protected with the proper size fuse which serves as the safety valve of electricity."

During this, National Electrical Week, we should check all our electrical circuits and make certain that the proper size fuses are in these circuits. Normal home circuits require the use of 15 ampere fuses. In our latest homes there are a few special appliance circuits where the wiring is heavier and the use of 20 ampere fuses are recognized. Make doubly sure before using these 20 ampere fuses that your circuits are designed for them. If the panel does not list 20 ampere circuits have your electrical contractor check before installing anything larger than 15 amperes.

If fuses blow frequently, because of too many appliances on one circuit, check with the Adequate Wiring specialist at your local electric company. Remember: Proper fuses and proper wiring assures safe, efficient and economical operation of your electrical equipment.

Fuses are designed to protect the circuit wiring and the cord attached to your appliance. They are not designed to protect against the extensive use of cords, one extension cord plugged into another extension cord, running over doorways, under rugs and through holes in walls to other rooms. With too much of this cord in the circuit, the electrical characteristics are such that while the cords heat up and cause fires, there is not enough current flowing to cause the fuses to blow.

The cord on your appliance has sufficient capacity for the job it has to do and is adequately protected by a 15 ampere fuse or fustat, provided no additional cord is used to supply the appliance. When your outlets are too far apart and you start running extra cords, look out, you can become a "statistic." Call a qualified electrical contractor to install more outlets.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The spirit of St. Valentine hovered over the meeting of the Fortnightly on Monday in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church. This was evidenced by the very prettily decorated tables where at one o'clock ice-cream and assorted home-made cookies were enjoyed, with coffee, the pourers Mrs. Erskine H. Kelley and Mrs. Everett W. Goss. A food sale for the benefit of philanthropies and in charge of Mrs. Carlyle D. Fiske was also carried on with most tempting cakes, candy, biscuits, etc., displayed.

The business meeting was called to order at 2 p. m. by the president, Mrs. Paul H. Atwood, who thanked Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. Haines, co-chairmen for the delightful "Valentine Dessert." They were ably assisted by Mrs. Bergquist, Mrs. Lamprey, and Mrs. Lemay and deserve much praise for their combined efforts as hostesses.

A few brief reports were given. Mrs. Harris, chairman of Community and Hospital Service, asked all members who have given their services to Red Cross and similar work, to let her know their number of hours since April 1, 1956. Mrs. Whitman, chairman of the Legislation, spoke of several bills coming up at hearings in the State House February 20, and would welcome any members interested in attending to go in with her.

Speaker of the afternoon, was Mrs. D. Talmadge Erb, her subject, "Grist for the Mill." This title, she explained, refers to all the various kinds of contributions given to the "mill of life" by individuals of different nationalities. Just as the better grains produce the finest meal, so life is enriched by offerings on a high level of quality and effort. She showed an interesting collection of varied articles from many places and told stories about each.

Beginning with the new $1 bill, she described the rug woven in a copy of it by the French people, of which she had a photograph; she recounted the dedicated work of the Duke of Edinburgh's mother the amusing gift of a 1200 pound cheese delivered to Pres. Jefferson from Cheshire, Mass., the original of the Baker's Chocolate lady, and many experiences here and abroad recalled by her exhibits. These demonstrated the "priceless ingredient" recognized as worthy grist for the "mill of life." They were later viewed at close range by her attentive audience.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

When the Junior High Fellowship of the First Congregational Church meets this Sunday afternoon, at 4:30 in Chidley Hall, they will start on an interesting new project. Largely through the use of visual aids, they will acquire information on the customs and cultures of the countries of Southeast Asia, and learn something of the problems that confront these countries today. A worship service will be conducted by Marilyn Beckley and Linda Chase, and a period of recreation and refreshments will conclude the program.

Did you get your copy of the Winchester Star this week? If you subscribe at $3.50 per year, delivered, you would be sure of getting it.

SENIORS

The Lakers remained undefeated by walloping the Royals 71-30 in their make-up game. The victory was the Lakers ninth straight and it was the fourth straight loss for the Royals, who are now tied for the cellar. "Easy Ed" Carter with 22 points led the Laker attack. Ted Little (18 points) and Dick Scott (16 points) also hit double figures. In the regularly scheduled games the Pistons beat the lowly Royals 33-24. Bob Thompson, with 14 points starred for the Pistons. His three quick third period baskets enabled the Pistons to overcome a 20-19 Royals lead. The Pistons, who have lost only to the powerful Lakers, are tied for second place with the surprise team, the Hawks.

The magnificent Lakers dropped the Eagles out of second place and into fourth by a 50-45 win. Dick Scott poured in 27 points for the Lakers. "Jigger" Bond led the Eagles with 15 points. The Lakers have clinched a tie for the second round championship. They play the second place Hawks on Wednesday.

The most improved team in the league, the Hawks crushed the hapless Celtics 77-47. The entire Hawk lineup hit double figures. "Slater" Martin led the onslaught with 24 and Dan "Arnie Risen" Brenner followed with 17. Govostes, Winn and Smith had 12 apiece to round out the Hawks' scoring. Phil Pollard was high man for the Celtics with 21 points. Wednesday night, the Celts have a golden opportunity to move out of the cellar and cop their first win of the season when they meet the slumping Royals.

Once again, it looks like the Lakers on top as the second round draws to a close. The remaining five places will not be settled until Wednesday night's games have been been played. The Lakers could finish in a first place tie if the Hawks beat them, but Dick Scott and company look too strong to be overtaken by anybody.

JUNIORS

Dartmouth remained undefeated by taking two games last week. In the regularly scheduled games, they swamped previously unbeaten Princeton 56-16. Don Butters led the attack with 18 points. Dartmouth played an almost perfect second half, allowing Princeton just 2 points for the entire half!

In their make-up game, Dartmouth beat the hardluck Holy Cross team. Holy Cross has not won a game in the second round of play, but have two boys Bert Stevens and Bob Puzzo, who are fine basketball players and who with a little help from big Dick Marabella could surprise some team.

Harvard eased to a 36-21 victory over Boston College. Bill Rogers, who has almost singlehandedly lifted Harvard from a mediocre first round finish to a potential championship, again broke the 20 point circle with 26.

Holy Cross lost its second game in a week, this time to Yale by a 48-25 score. Ben Stevens (15) Tony Ciruco (14) and Bill Lindsey (13) led the Yale attack. Bert Stevens was top man for Holy Cross with 12.

Good advice from
GOOD HOUSEKEEPING

The cheapest way to buy a car, as everyone knows, is to pay cash. That's one of the reasons why we urge people to open a savings account and keep it going. There's nothing like money in the bank.

But here's another bit of advice, from a recent article by Charlotte Montgomery, in Good Housekeeping (Title: "When You Buy A Car, How Do You Pay For It?")

"IF YOU DECIDE NOT TO PAY CASH, USUALLY THE NEXT MOST ECONOMICAL WAY IS TO BORROW FROM A BANK."

Many people forget that the cost of a car must include the cost of financing it. You can keep that cost down by financing your car here.

L. W. V. STUDIES MIDDLE EAST CRISIS

Many interested League of Women Voters members combined with representatives from other Winchester organizations to make the League's general meeting on February 6 the largest and most successful so far this year. Mrs. Henry K. Spencer's lovely home at 1 Central Green, as well as the delicious refreshments served by Mrs. Kenneth Donnell and her committee, helped to make the occasion pleasant as well as enlightening.

In the absence of Mrs. Neil Borden, president, the meeting was opened by Mrs. Edward Rendall, first vice-president of the League. In order that maximum time be available for the speakers, Mrs. Rendall kept the business meeting brief. However she did mention the "Decisions 1957" project being sponsored jointly by the League, World Affairs Council, Boston Public Library, and the Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Winchester adult education program is participating in the project, and individuals can benefit from the discussions on Channel 2, WGBH-TV of the decisions facing the U. S. in foreign affairs. These discussions are being telecast every Thursday evening from 8:00 to 9:00.

The three state League members who comprised the panel to present the issues facing the U. S. in the Middle East were then introduced by Mrs. Rendall. Mrs. Gregory Smith told the historical background of the situation in the Middle East up to last summer. Mrs. Vernon Stoneman then took over and explained in detail each step in developments in that area from early fall to the present time. The third member of the panel, Mrs. Fred Alexander, presented the background and the present crisis in Hungary. Following this excellent presentation of the issues, a lively, enthusiastic question and answer period ensued.

Safety Tip: Learn to pump your brakes on slippery pavement, warns the AAA. Gently press the pedal, let it up, then press it again. Your car will slow to a smooth stop without skidding. Easy does it when snow and ice cover the ground.

WHSR Notes
A very special production is on tap for Studio 43 when Director Sue Dresser presents her able cast in "Inside a Boy's Head." The engineers of WHSR have worked hard to produce the unusual sound effects used on this show.
Basketball at its best will feature the Friday show as the station brings you the game of the year as Winchester meets Belmont.
WHSR will be on vacation next week but will return to the air on Thursday, February 28, with the third in the series of apprentice shows from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hour as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thomson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

God's great healing and saving power will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.
Scriptural selections will include the following from Matthew (15:30): "And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them."
Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Soul" a word which, when capitalized, is used in Christian Science as one of the synonyms for God. Passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (210:11-16):
"Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving better understanding of Soul and salvation."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of the wonderful people of Winchester for their kindness at the time of their sorrow.
Much as we would like to do so, it is impossible to acknowledge individually the innumerable expressions of sympathy extended us during our bereavement.
The passing of Lt. John A. Shields was an irreparable loss to all of us, but our sorrow was lessened and our burden made bearable by the beautiful flowers and other expressions of kindly sympathy we received.
We wish to thank you again and again for your help in our hour of need.
The Family of the late
Lt. (j.g.) John A. Shields, USN

ASSEMBLY AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL

Recently Miss Glennon's fourth grade entertained the George Washington School with a short play entitled "A Trip to Holland with Linda and Lee." The audience was able to take an inexpensive trip to this country and learn about its people and their ways of living. Station WKLM with its announcer Janet Banester broadcast the entire performance.

Leaving Winchester, Massachusetts in a powerful plane Linda Dunn and Lee Sullivan first arrived in the busy city of Amsterdam, often called the Venice of the North. There they met Joseph Marrone, a worker for an export firm, who explained to our two friends a little about his business. Wandering through the narrow streets of this charming city Linda and Lee next met two Dutch school children, Mary McLaughlin and Stephen Hoffman. This friendly boy and girl told about the educational system in the Netherlands and invited Linda and Lee to join them skating on the canals that afternoon. The Rijksmuseum next caught our friends' eyes and with the guidance of Linda Colliander they were able to visit this famous National Gallery of Holland and see paintings by Vermeer, Rembrandt, and Hals. Stephen Dougherty obligingly piloted Linda and Lee on a glass-top launch through the canals of the city and showed the visitors points of interest along the way.

The next scene found Linda and Lee hiring a bicycle to visit Volendam and the Isle of Marken. On the way to the Isle Linda and Lee met Robert Sheehan, a farmer, who explained to the visitors something about the dairy industry. Continuing along a little further they noticed a cheese factory and decided to stop. David Mayer kindly invited them to come in and look around while he told them about the colorful cheese market at Alkmaar. When Linda and Lee finally arrived at their destination they were delighted to find six children in their native costumes singing and dancing. Leslie Brooks, Norma Panosian, Paula Donovan, Judith Carroll, Linda Knight, and Margaret Santo sang and danced to the "Land of the Dutch, Dutch, Dutch."

Traveling further North Linda and Lee arrived at the Zuider Zee. Here Denis Cushman and Janis Stepper told our friends about the windmills and polders. Holland is now busy at work on a project trying to reclaim the land which she so badly needs for her growing population.

On the way South again Linda and Lee saw fields of multi-colored tulips. They noticed Camille Gattineri working in the fields and stopped to chat with her. Linda was surprised to learn that you could purchase a handful of tulips for only a dime and wished that she lived in Holland in the springtime. In Rotterdam the visitors met Robert Spezzafero, who told Linda and Lee about the important shipbuilding industry. While there they saw a ship arriving from Germany. Yes, this is an international port. Bicycling again through the charming countryside, Linda and Lee finally arrived at the capital city of The Hague where the Dutch government is located. Townsend Barker informed Linda and Lee that Holland, too, is a democratic nation with a prime minister and a cabinet. Instead of 48 states Holland has 11 provinces, each with a governor appointed by the Queen.

Linda and Lee were certainly grateful to all the wonderful people in Holland for making their trip the nicest one they had ever taken. It was a marvelous way to learn about Holland—its people and their way of living.

NOTED HOSPITAL CHAPLAIN TO SPEAK

One of the country's leading young hospital chaplains, Rev. Lloyd E. Beebe, chaplain at the Boston City Hospital, will come to the Social Service Guild, First Congregational Church, on Tuesday afternoon, February 19, to explain his work at the hospital. The meeting is at two o'clock in the Palmer Room, followed by a tea. Women of all churches are cordially invited to hear Mr. Beebe speak on "Hospital Ministry."

A graduate of Tufts College and of Andover-Newton Theological School, Mr. Beebe served for four years as chaplain of the Albany Federation of Churches in Albany, N. Y. His interesting experiences there and his splendid record of achievement in Boston have given him a rich and varied background for his present work. In addition to his active ministry among patients of all ages and needs at the City Hospital, Mr. Beebe is on the faculty of Andover-Newton. He will answer any questions about his work and the program at the City Hospital and the needs among the volunteers who are active here. It should be a most interesting and stimulating program.

Mrs. Sanford H. Moses, director of the Social Service Guild, will preside, and tea will follow with Mrs. Harold Alpaugh and Mrs. Thomas Corkery in charge.

RUTHERFORD AT HOME SHOW

The New England Home Show, which opened Thursday afternoon, February 14, and continues daily through Tuesday, February 19, will show everything that's new for 1957 in appliances, heating equipment, air conditioning, kitchens, tile, floor coverings, wall coverings, masonry, lighting and many other items of interest to the home owner, whether building or remodeling.

Winchester's kitchen-planning center, the Rutherford Equipment Company, is taking advantage of this opportunity to introduce the Quaker Maid Cabinets, for which they are exclusive distributors in this area. Be sure to visit their display at the Home Show. Exhibit Spaces 272 and 273 in the Grand Hall, near the stage where the model house is being erected. There you can inspect these cabinets in detail and see why Quaker Maid is the world's most respected, most imitated example of perfect kitchen craftsmanship.

HOMEFRONTERS ANNUAL MEETING

The "spirit of Winchester," an intangible too warm to put in words, is never more felt than at the annual of appreciation by our Winchester Homefronters, a unique organization, now in it's sixth year. The "spirit" is of giving a little and the reward felt in the expressions of appreciation by or Winchester boys and girls in the service.

The annual meeting was held in the Library Monday night, February 11. Mrs. Harold Given, executive chairman presided. The report of the secretary, Mrs. Geogre Jonnson was read. This revealed the change wherein the Homefronters took over the job of personally packaging and packing the Christmas boxes, thus having more money to spend on the contents.

Mrs. Ralph W. Hatch, treasurer gave the financial report for the year. Mrs. Malcolm Burr, Christmas project chairman gave a fine report with warm expressions of thanks to everyone who helped. In connection with raising the largest share of funds, Mrs. Leonard Griffiths and Mrs. Ralph Hatch, Bakery Sale Chairmen, and also Ways and Means Chairmen gave a fine report, as did Mrs. Joseph H. Beck, chairman of the Tag Day project.

Special appreciation was expressed to En Ka who contributed the money to pay the postage on the Christmas boxes sent.

Mrs. Ross Cunningham, Birthday Cards and Files Chairman, reported over 50 cards sent out since December 1. She also told of the work of the Send-Off Committee who go up to Woburn to personally express the good wishes of the Homefronters to the boys who are leaving from there. 23 boys from Winchester who went into the service left from Woburn this year.

The publicity report by Mrs. Herbert Clark, chairman, was read and the Scrap Book she has kept, with clippings about Winchester servicemen and women, was shown to everyone. (Many letters have been received, some published in the Star and more still coming in. All of them will be up on the Homefronters Bulletin Board in the Library and parents and friends are invited to read them there.)

After kind words of appreciation for fullest cooperation from everyone connected with the Homefronters Mrs. Harold Given, Executive Chairman called on Mrs. Carl E. Thomas, Nominating Committee chairman. The following slate was presented and elected for the coming year 1957-58:

Exec. Chr., Mrs. Harold H. Given
Hon. Chr., Mr. George B. Redding
Recording Sec'y., Mrs. Edward G. Stacy
Cor. Sec'y., Mrs. Henry C. Murphy
Treas., Mr. Ralph W. Hatch
Publicity, Mrs. Frank D. Hawkins

Christmas Project: Mrs. Malcolm Burr, Chr., Mrs. Harland A. Wilbur, Vice Chr.
Files and Birthdays: Mrs. Ross Cunningham, Chr., Asst. Mrs. Eugene C. Hussey, Jr.
Advisory Committee: Mr. W. Allan Wilde, Mr. Nicholas Fitzgerald, Mrs. Dana R. Philbrook
Send-Off Committee: Mr. James H. Coon, Mr. Edward O'Rourke
Ways and Means: Co-Chairmen Mrs. Leonard Griffiths, Mrs. Ralph W. Hatch
Precinct Chairmen: (1) Mrs. Frank J. Carroll; (2) Mrs. Francis X. Bees; (2) Mrs. Charles O. Nichols; (4) Mrs. Gordon L. Sidebotham; (5) Mrs. Justin J. Callahan; (6) Mrs. John J. McSweeney
Nominating Committee by Precinct: (1) Mrs. Albert M. Thompson; (2) Mrs. Carle C. Zimmerman; (3) Mrs. Henry A. Bellicker; (4) Mrs. Carl E. Thomas; (5) Mrs. William F. Cox; (6) Mrs. Joseph L. Mullen

OUR HUNGARIAN FRIENDS

Some of our Hungarian visitors have found employment in or near Boston, and, for reasons of economy and transportation, have located living quarters near their jobs. Such are Mr. Joseph Kiss, Mrs. Irene Bogyo, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bende.

Mrs. Bogyo, who stayed with the Arthur Bonneys in Winchester, temporarily has a room on Shepard street, Cambridge, and is working in the kitchen of the Window Shop in Harvard Square. If you are eating or browsing at the Window Shop, you might ask to speak to Irene and let her know you are from Winchester.

Joseph Kiss, who was a guest of the John Lymans, has a job in the Boston Filene's store, and he is living on Mt. Vernon street on Beacon Hill.

Stephen and Margaret Bende, who made their Winchester home with the Misses Copland, are now at 1595 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge. They are living at Lennox Hall, a dormitory of Sargent College where Mrs. Bende is to be employed in the Physical Education Department. Mr. Bende has temporary work at the Harvard Co-op, M.I.T. Branch. Because he was a teacher of Hungarian literature, an attempt is being made to find scholarship assistance so that he can qualify as a teacher in an American school.

It is with deep regret that we heard this week of the death in Hungary of the wife of Lazlo Tabanyi.

INTERNATIONAL GUESTS

Twelve young college students from Chile who have been spending their summer vacation in this country under the auspices of the "Experiment in International Living" were in Winchester this week from Monday until Today as guests of six families of the Parish of the Epiphany.

This Organization which has its headquarters in Putney, Vermont, arranges for the exchange of students between our own colleges and universities and those of foreign countries during their respective vacation periods. The students live with private families in the countries to which they go, thereby getting first-hand acquaintance with their way of life.

These twelve Chileans are completing their stay in the United States with this visit to historic Boston and vicinity. While in Winchester they have been entertained by Mr. and Mrs. R. Alan Page, Dr. and Mrs. Everett Tisdale, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. C. Kimball and Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Putney. Peggy Putney was in charge of arrangements.

The Chileans' visit included tours of Harvard and M.I.T., Boston, Lexington and Concord, and visits to the Gardner and Fine Arts Museums.

KNOW YOUR SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

ADMINISTRATION AND PROCEDURE OF THE WINCHESTER SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

The Scholarship Foundation consists of a representative from each contributing organization plus representatives from the sustaining membership. Its duties—to elect a chairman, secretary, and treasurer, to elect the three trustees, to elect a four member gift committee, to elect the Scholarship Committee of four plus the principal of the High School.

Members of the scholarship committee serve for four years with one member retiring each year. The senior member serving as chairman has therefore three years of service before assuming the chairmanship. It is this committee that selects the winners of scholarship awards and that carries out the secondary purpose of the foundation—"to gather and provide data for others proposing to award scholarships."

High School students are told of the Foundation in the handbook given to them on the first day of school. An assembly is held immediately following Spring vacation at which forms are given to eligible students—those who have maintained an average of 30% or better during their last two years. One form is to be filled out by the applicant. The other is to be completed by the parents or guardian; pertains to the financial situation, is received in strictest confidence and later destroyed.

Upon the return of the applications, two members of the Scholarship Committee call upon all of the teachers of all of the applicants. Each teacher is asked to fill out a chart which rates the student from 1-10 on ability, character, citizenship, industry, leadership, maturity, personality and scholarly characteristics. These charts and the applications are then carefully evaluated by the Scholarship Committee and the final winners chosen.

Since it is the objective of the Foundation "to stimulate, recognize and reward scholastic excellence or other outstanding merits" Honor Awards are also given, usually not more than four or five, to deserving students who do not require financial aid.

The amount of the individual scholarship is made consistent with the chosen school or college. If a scholarship winner fails to follow his proposed plans the scholarship is refunded and his case is reviewed in view of his new plans. In a few cases the Foundation has investigated and met need beyond a student's first year.

CATHOLIC WOMEN TO HOLD DEANERY MEETING

The midwinter Deanery meeting of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women of the Woburn Deanery, which includes twenty-three parishes in this area, will be held Monday evening, February 18, at Fidelity House in Arlington with the Council of St. Agnes' Parish as hostesses.

Rt. Rev. Joseph M. Fitzgibbons, moderator of the Woburn Deanery, will open the meeting and Mrs. Elizabeth C. Rodgers, president, will preside.

Officers of the Deanery Council, chairmen of Deanery standing committees, presidents of parish councils and representatives of lay organizations within the Deanery will also attend. Rev. Joseph F. Donelan, archdiocesan moderator of the Council of Catholic Men and Women, will also be in attendance.

Interested women from any parish in the Woburn Deanery are invited to attend, and progress reports since the last Deanery meeting will be heard from the various council presidents in attendance.

CHECK FORGER CAUGHT

A check forger who passed a bad check at Paul's Gulf Service Station on Main street in Winchester last summer is believed to be the man captured by Cambridge detectives at Lechmere Square Monday morning.

The detectives claim that Gilbert I. Perkins of New Bedford has passed $30,000 in phony checks in Massachusetts, many of them in towns surrounding Boston.

FILM THAT SAVES LIVES TO BE SHOWN HERE

The women of Winchester will have an opportunity to attend the showing of a motion picture that doctors say already has saved the lives of many women and can be the means of saving thousands more every year.

The film, on early detection of cancer, will be shown free at the Winchester Theatre on the morning of Tuesday, March 5, at 10:00 a.m. There will be a repeat performance at the Immaculate Conception Hall, Sheridan circle, at 8:30 that same night. The film is sponsored by the American Cancer Society, and locally by the Winchester District Nursing Association, of which Mrs. Rowland Patrick is President.

Cancer of the breast is one of the easiest form of this disease to cure when it is detected at an early stage. The rate of cure can be nearly trebled if every case is treated in time. Of the 900 women in Massachusetts alone who died of cancer of the breast last year, 70% could have been saved if they had followed the advice given in this life saving film.

The program on March 5, will last one hour. After the fifteen minute film, a panel of doctors will answer written questions.

Mr. Jay Finn, manager of the Winchester Theatre, is donating the theatre, and his projectionist is also offering his services.

There will be free babysitting, with registered nurses in attendance, at Chidley Hall of the First Congregational Church, from 9:30 to 11:15. Mothers of children from 18 months up can make plans now to meet their friends at the theatre.

Mark the date, Tuesday, March 5, on your calendar now. This movie has no plot and its star is unknown, but it may be the most important film you have ever seen.

Mrs. Philip Efromson and Mrs. Donald Wright are Co-Chairmen of a large committee planning the showings.

ARMY NOW ACCEPTING SIX-MONTH ENLISTMENTS IN RESERVE

Young men may now fulfill their military obligation with only six months active duty instead of the two years formerly required, according to Sgt. First Class Jack Bateson, local Army Recruiter.

The sergeant states he has now received authority to enlist young men in two new programs of the Army Reserve. The first program is open to men between 17 and 18½ years of age. These men may enlist in the Army Reserve for a period of 8 years. Six months of this time will be spent on active duty for training and 4½ years will be spent in the Ready Reserve. The last three years may be spent in the Standby Reserve.

Members of the Ready Reserve are required to attend training periods one night each week and a two-week summer encampment each year. Members of the Standby Reserve take no training and can be called to active duty only by Act of Congress.

The second program is open to men between 18½ and 25 years of age, inclusive. These men may enlist in the Army Reserve for six years. Six months of this time will be spent on active duty for training and the remaining 5½ years will be spent in the Ready Reserve. The Ready Reserve period is a year longer than for the younger men, but the older men are not required to served in the Standby Reserve.

Young men interested in either of these plans are urged to contact the Army Recruiting Station at 49 High Street in Medford Square, MYstic 6-5777, for full information.

JUNIOR HIGH ASSEMBLY

An assembly program was presented on January 31 by the pupils of the physical education department.

Joan Denton eighth grade girl led the opening exercises with a reading from the Bible followed by the Lord's prayer and the flag salute.

Four eighth grade girls made up the opening number doing a tap dance routine, "Cruising Down the River." This was followed by a gymnastic Marching Drill by twelve girls from the same grade. The third selection was a modern dance, "The Skaters Waltz," performed by a group portraying the story of the Queen of the Ice and her favored skaters.

The Junior High School Gymnastic Team performed basic tumbling stunts and pyramid building. The boys demonstrated such skills as front rolls; back and shoulder rolls; and pyramid balances all of which has been taught as basic fundamentals.

Mrs. Montgomery and Mr. Battino were in charge.

WINCHESTER IN NORTH SHORE PLAYOFFS

Winchester High School's hockey team, champions of the Northeast Conference Division of the North Shore Hockey League, will meet Saugus in the opening round of the league playoffs at the Lynn Arena Saturday.

The playoffs commence at 6 o'clock and Winchester goes on at 6:30 with Saugus. Other pairings are Gloucester vs Swampscott, Peabody vs Marblehead, and Lynn English vs either Woburn or Danvers.

Winchester may be without its capable goaler, George Denton, who received a mean scalp wound when he was struck by a puck from the stick of Captain Leo Callahan during a practice session at Lynn on Tuesday.

Several stitches were necessary to close the wound, but it is expected that the injury will not prevent George's appearance in the nets against Saugus.

Mrs. Charles G. Phippen (Cynthia Morse) and daughter, Cathy, have returned to their home in Marlborough, Conn., after visiting for the past two weeks with Mrs. Phippen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Morse of Lloyd street.

TO SPONSOR PUBLIC HEALTH EDUCATION PROGRAM

The new president of the Winchester District Nursing Association presided over her first monthly meeting on February 8 at the town hall, Mrs. Patrick welcomed all new members to the board, Mrs. Bradford Bentley, Mrs. Richard L. Davenport, Mrs. John W. Harrison, Mrs. Hiram L. Smith, Jr., Mrs. William Spaulding, and Mrs. Carle Zimmerman.

Reports were read by Mrs. Walter F. Keyes, secretary, Mrs. Austin Broadhurst, treasurer, and Mrs. John G. Trump of the nominating committee, who reported the nomination of Mrs. Bentley to the public relations committee and Mrs. Donald M. Wright, vice president, as hospitality chairman.

Mrs. Patrick announced the 56th annual meeting of the Waltham Visiting Nurse Association on February 14 at 2:00 p.m., and three members volunteered to attend this; Mrs. George B. Redding, Mrs. Donald M. Wright, and Mrs. Hiram L. Smith, Jr.

Mrs. Walfred G. Wiklund, executive director, presented her monthly nursing report. Last month 200 hours were spent in school nursing and in all the complete work load of the nurses compares favorably with other agencies. Mrs. Wiklund informed the board that she is attending a "Parents' Baby Care" course at the Boston Red Cross Chapter in order to be qualified to teach similar courses in Winchester.

Mrs. Harry L. Mueller, chairman of the nursing committee, requested that all board members join the Eastern Mass. League of Nursing. Mrs. Mueller and her committee went on record in support of Mrs. Harlow Russell's election to the board of health this March. This was approved by the board as an excellent choice.

Mrs. Alvan G. Smith, chairman of the education committee, reported on the orientation course for new board members in March to be given by Mrs. Wiklund.

The business meeting was closed with the public relations report by Mrs. Philip C. Efromson, chairman, who announced the coming public health education program to be sponsored by the association. On March 5 plans are underway for two showings of the women's cancer film at 10 a.m. at the Winchester Theatre, at 8:30 p. m. at the Immaculate Conception Parish Hall. The Winchester Theatre is being donated and no admission will be charged. A panel of doctors will discuss written questions. All women, 20 or over, are urged to attend this nation-wide program of the American Cancer Society.

The committee planning this program includes Mrs. Philip C. Efromson, chairman, Mrs. Donald M. Wright, publicity and co-chairman, Mrs. Clarence S. Luitweiler, Jr., contacts, Mrs. Rolf Eliassen, churches, Mrs. John G. Trump and Mrs. Henry E. Kiley, baby-sitting facilities, Mrs. John W. Harrison, school mothers' groups, and Mrs. Raymond F. Concord and Mrs. Fred E. Smith, business and industry. Included on the publicity committee are, Mrs. Richard L. Davenport, Mrs. Bradford Bentley, Mrs. John Giuliani, Mrs. Richard R. Keppler and Mrs. Thomas L. Purtle. Free baby-sitting will be offered for children 18 months to school age at Chidley Hall at 9:30 a.m. on March 5 with three registered nurses in charge, Mrs. Leslie J. Scott, R.N. of the W.D.N.A., Mrs. Robert A. Gerisch, R.N., and Mrs. Lee J. Aubrey, R.N., and Mrs. R. Eliassen, Mrs. Lester C. Gustin, Jr., Mrs. Hiram L. Smith, Jr., Mrs. George L. Connor, and Mrs. William Towner.

Advisors for this program include Miss Vivian Scott, health educator, American Cancer Society, Mrs. Wiklund and Mrs. Patrick.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER SERVICE

The World Day of Prayer will be observed in Winchester by services in the Congregational Church at 1:30 on Friday, March 8. Mrs. Steward Sinclair of Greenfield, New Hampshire, will speak on "The Power of Prayer."

Organized in 1887 by a group of Presbyterian women to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer and to make an offering for world mission projects, the World Day of Prayer was taken up by other groups and became an international event in 1920. It is now observed in 20,000 communities in the United States and in 142 countries of the world, including those behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains.

Prayers begin at daybreak on the Tonga Islands and continue around the world, as the earth turns, closing with the observance on St. Lawrence Island, Alaska.

The 1957 service was written by Mrs. Serena Vassady, formerly of Hungary, and comes from her experience behind the Iron Curtain. When compiled, the Hungarians were not being persecuted, although they were under great pressure. Recent events bring new meaning to this service.

Nursery care will be provided for small children.

A limb which fell on a primary circuit in Arlington caused a blackout of about 600 lights in the Indian Hill section of Winchester and the Morningside area of Arlington between 9:10 and 10:00 p. m. Saturday night. Emergency crews remedied the situation.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Winchester Historical Society met on Saturday, February 9, in the art gallery of the public library with the president, Mr. Frank E. Crawford, presiding. After a brief business meeting, Mr. Crawford introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Fred C. Alexander of Newton, chairman of the board of trustees of the Jackson Homestead.

Mr. Alexander, with numerous colored slides gave the Society a conducted tour of the historical spots of Newton, starting with the Eliot Memorial, which marks the approximate site of Waban's wigwam, where, in 1646, John Eliot preached his first sermon to the Indians. Continuing on by the sites of the Old Burying Ground and the First Meeting House we pass the birthplace of Roger Sherman, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and then on to Newton Centre and the house of Samuel Francis Smith, author of "America," which he wrote in 1832, at the age of 24, while a student at Andover Newton Theological School. In Chestnut Hill we were shown the Hammond House, said to be the oldest house still standing in Newton, and then to Upper and Lower Falls, which was the site of much industry. In 1850 this district paid half the city taxes, and the Falls operated an iron mill, cotton mills, a snuff mill and a nail mill. Fish weir rights along the river bank were left to the Indians and written into property deeds as late as 1890.

The old Manufacturers Hotel on Boylston street, now a private residence, once was the first stop from Boston to change the horses on the stagecoaches. Travelling at a considerably faster pace than the stagecoach, Mr. Alexander showed us many houses of interest from the Woodward House, built in 1631, in which have lived ten generations of Woodwards; to the Hastings House, a charming "Salt Box," ending the tour at the Jackson Homestead, historic and community center for Newton, now owned by the city and open to the public.

Mr. Alexander's talk gave the Society a splendid picture of the historical development of Newton and of his interest in keeping the people conscious of that history.

HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On Wednesday, February 20, the Winchester Home and Garden Club is looking forward to a pleasant afternoon. Dessert will be served in the Social Hall of the Baptist Church, followed by a lecture on flower arrangement in the Japanese manner by Mrs. Yasuko Miyauchi. Mrs. Miyauchi teaches a course in this subject at the Boston Y.M.C.A.

MISS MONROE TREASURER

Appointment of Miss Helen M. Monroe, of 8 Lagrange street, as Treasurer of the 1957 Fund Campaign of the Winchester Chapter of the American National Red Cross was announced this week by Robert M. Edgar, 21 Oxford street, 1957 Fund Campaign Chairman.

Miss Monroe, formerly connected with the Winchester Trust Company, will handle the accounting details of the $18,700 fund for 1957 which Winchester men and women will raise in a door-to-door campaign throughout the town on Red Cross Sunday 1957—March 10. Miss Monroe held the treasurer's post in a previous Winchester Red Cross Campaign.

Chairman Edgar also announced this week that the "kick-off" meeting of the Winchester 1957 Red Cross Campaign will be held on Wednesday, February 20, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Chairmen of the various committees, precinct chairmen and their captains, and others interested in making sure that Winchester is one of the first town's to go "over the top" in the 1957 Red Cross Campaign, will gather in Chidley Hall, at the First Congregational Church to complete plans for the one-day fund raising effort.

LOCAL MISSIONER RETURNS

SEVEN YEARS IN BOLIVIAN MISSION FOR FATHER McCABE

Father John J. McCabe, M.M., of Winchester, returned to this country recently on furlough from the Bolivian missions.

Father McCabe, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis T. McCabe, of Santa Ana, Calif., formerly well-known residents of Myrtle terrace, served as pastor of the Santa Ana mission for the past five years located on the outskirts of Cochabamba, high in the Andes Mountains.

The Santa Ana he has known for the past five years is a poor struggling parish composed mainly of Quechua Indians. These people are descendents of the once powerful Incas who ruled most of South America before the coming of Columbus.

During his stay as pastor of Santa Ana, Father McCabe witnessed the first group of graduates from the modern parochial school conducted by the Maryknoll Sisters. He also inaugurated a mobile medical clinic to help the poor in outlying districts. To Father McCabe goes the credit for the completion of a new modern chapel in one of the Indian areas and before he left, he drew up plans for the building of a new wing for the school.

This is Father McCabe's second furlough. He first went to Bolivia with a pioneer group of Maryknollers in 1942. On his first mission assignment Father McCabe labored in the Pando region of Bolivia, known as the "Green Hell" area for its lush foliage and dense and treacherous jungles. In 1949, after seven years, the ordinary length of service Maryknollers spend in an area before a furlough, Father McCabe returned to the U.S. On his return to the missions he was assigned to the Cala Cala district, a station high in the Andes Mountains.

"The dire need of Catholics in South America is that of priests to instruct and minister to the great mass of her people isolated in the rugged mountains and teeming jungles," reports Father McCabe.

"Although 99 per cent of Bolivia's population is Catholic in name, less than 25 percent are Catholic in practice. Although baptized, the vast majority of Bolivians have not been instructed in the fundamentals of the Faith, nor even cared for in a sacramental way, because of lack of priests to serve the scattered habitations of the inaccessible regions. To minister to some 3,500,000 Bolivian Catholics, there are only about 400 priests, approximately one every 5,750 persons. Nine out of every ten Bolivians are Indians or metizos, and 85 per cent of the adults are illiterate.

Father McCabe sees the lay apostolate as the present answer to the acute shortage of priests until a native clergy can be built up. He proudly boasts of two boys from the Santa Ana parish presently studying in the seminary for the priesthood. In addition, two local girls have entered the convent.

To instruct the people in the sacraments, Father McCabe has one full time and three part time catechists in his parish. In addition he has a group of volunteer lay teachers instructing children and adults in 35 to 40 classes a week.

To reach the four mission stations in this area, Father McCabe calls on the service of a sturdy motorcycle. No other vehicle is suitable on the hilly, narrow paths among the Quechua.

Following his stay in this country, Father McCabe is expected to return to his mission sometime in the summer of this year. While he is here, Father Gerald P. Ziegiengeist, M.M., of Plymouth, Mass., is serving as pastor of the Santa Ana mission.

A native of Boston, Father McCabe, attended Immaculate Conception Parochial School, Boston College High School, and Boston College, before entering Maryknoll in 1934. Ordained to the priesthood in June 1942 he was assigned to the Maryknoll Missions in Bolivia shortly thereafter.

JUNIOR-SENIOR CLASSES PRESENT "LILIOM"

The Junior and Senior High School Class, under the guidance of their teacher and director, Miss Constance Trickett, selected the play "Liliom" by Ferenc Molnar to portray to the community on Saturday, February 16, at 8:15 p. m. in the High School Auditorium.

Liliom is a shiftless young ne,erdo-well and bully of Budapest. He works intermittently as a barker for a merry-go-round and many servant girls fall victim to his charms. Among these girls is Julie, whom he eventually marries. Learning that he is about to become a father Liliom participates in a highway robbery in order to enhance his fortunes. But he is caught in the act and stabs himself rather than submit to arrest.

He is tried in the Magistrate's Court on High, but they see through him there. He is sentenced to a term of years in the purifying confines of the penitential plains with the promise that after that sentence has been served he can go back to earth with a chance to do one good deed there.

COWLES IN RESERVE

Wayne E. Cowles of 52 Jefferson road, former Winchester High School hockey star, enlisted Tuesday, February 12, in the U. S. Army Reserve. The first man from Winchester to take advantage of the new "Six Months Active Duty Reserve Program," Cowles has been assigned to the 319th Engineer Battalion here in Winchester, where he will attend weekly meetings. His six months of active duty with the Regular Army will begin March 3. Upon completion of the six-month training period, Cowles will return home and fulfill the remainder of his total six-year obligation with the local Reserve unit.

Complete details concerning this new Army Reserve six-month program may be obtained by contacting Sergeant First Class John P. Bateson at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station at 49 High street, Medford.

NURSING SCHOLARSHIP

For seven consecutive years the Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society has given nursing scholarships. Again, one such scholarship is available, with the possibility of a second, to graduates of public and parochial schools within the district. Middlesex East includes the communities of Burlington, Melrose, Reading, North Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Winchester and Woburn. Twelve scholarships have been awarded since the fund has been in existence. Several of the young women have completed their training at hospitals of their choice, and are pursuing their careers, while others are in various stages of their training.

There are many attractive fields of opportunities open to the graduate nurse today, with an ever increasing need for her services. Her training is a satisfying and rewarding experience which extends throughout her entire life.

Complete information may be obtained from the office of the Principal of the High School; or from Mrs. Donald E. McLean, 19 Grove street, Winchester, Chairman of the Nursing Scholarship Committee.

MRS. ROY CHARLES CUMMINGS

CUMMINGS — PECKHAM

Easter lilies and cibotium ferns decorated the Unitarian Church on Saturday afternoon, February 2, for the marriage of Miss Leora Hall Peckham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon D. Peckham of 64 Church street, to Roy Charles Cummings, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Charles Cummings of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., formerly of Belmont. The minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, performed the candlelight ceremony at 5 o'clock and a reception followed in the church parlor.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Peckham wore a full length gown of tulle with embroidered panels of nylon. Her fingertip veil of soft tulle was caught to a coronet of lace and seed pearls and she carried a fan of white camellias combined with stephanotis and lace.

Miss Judith Roberts of Winchester was maid of honor, and Miss Susan Peckham of Winchester, small sister of the bride, was flower girl. Bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Freeman and Miss Linda McLaughlin, both of Winchester.

The honor maid wore a ballerina-length dress of rose taffeta trimmed with deep rose velveteen. Her headpiece was a matching velveteen band adorned with matching rosebuds and tulle, and she carried a cascade bouquet of deep red camellias.

The bridesmaids wore identical dresses and bandeaux like those of the honor maid except that the colors were light and deep blue. Their cascade bouquets were of pale pink camellias.

The flower girl wore a frock and headband of rose taffeta and velveteen and carried a basket of deep red sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Peckham, mother of the bride, was gowned in navy blue crepe trimmed with white. She wore a white feathered hat and white camellias. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Cummings, wore pink camellias, blue accessories and a light blue flowered hat with her navy blue crepe gown.

The bride's great-grandmother, Mrs. Fannie Tufts Peckham of Lexington, formerly of Medford, who recently observed her 96th birthday, was among the special guests at the wedding.

Herbert Kohler of Belmont was best man for Mr Cummings and ushering were Herbert Birch of Maine, Robert Trussell of Belmont and Joel Peckham, brother of the bride.

After their wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Cummings will make their home at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where the bridegroom is a 2nd lieutenant in the Army Field Artillery Reserve.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, 1955, and attended Mt. Ida. Mr. Cummings graduated from Belmont High School, and from the University of Maine in the class of 1955.

MISS CAROL U. HAWKINS

MISS HAWKINS ENGAGED

Mr. and Mr. Laurence K. Hawkins of 11 Stratford road, and Rockport, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Carol Upton Hawkins, to Mr. Wallace Hurtte Rowe III(son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace H. Rowe, Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Pasadena, Calif.

Miss Hawkins attended Winchester High School and was graduated from Middlebury College in 1955. She received a Master's degree from Radcliffe College last year where she was elected to Pi Lambda Theta, national honor sorority. She is currently teaching in White Plains, N. Y.

Mr. Rowe was graduated from Princeton University in 1953, and after two years' service with the Army received his Master's degree from Harvard University. He is now on the faculty at The Gunnery in Washington, Conn.

A July wedding in Rockport is planned.

MISS LOUISE ORGETTAS

MISS ORGETTAS ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. James Orgettas of 216 Cross street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise Ann, to Mr. Aldo De Simone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph De Simone of 405 Preakness avenue, Paterson, N. J.

Miss Orgettas graduated from Winchester High School in 1954 and is a junior at the New England Conservatory of Music where she is majoring in voice.

Mr. De Simone graduated from Central High School in 1947, received his B.S. degree in electrical engineering from the University of Cincinnati in 1952 and his S.M. degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is associated with the Instrumentation Labratory of M.I.T. and is studying at the Institute for his Doctorate.

An August wedding is planned.

GALA FASHION-MUSICALE

The Regis Choral Ensemble will accompany thirty beautiful models in the annual parade of fashions to be staged February 26, at St. Catherine's Auditorium, Somerville, at 8 p. m. by the Home Economics Department of the college in a showing of outstanding spring fashions, designed and created under the supervision of department director, Sister Agnes Marie.

A featured attraction of the show will be an outstanding and distinctive grouping of four bridal ensembles supported by a cast of modestly attired bridesmaids.

A selected repertoire of musical favorites from the musical "My Fair Lady" has been arranged by Sister M. Babola, music director, and the Regis Glee Club Choralliers will contribute varied numbers.

Invitations for the affair will be available at the Home Economics Department of Regis College.

BETSEY HOOPER AND "BEN, THE WONDER HORSE"

BETSEY HOOPER IN BALLET CARNIVAL

Fairytale glamour and circus fun are in store for young theatergoers when John Begg's Ballet Carnival company presents "Cinderella and The Big Top" at the high school auditorium on March 1.

One of the distinguished young dancers who will perform is Betsey Hooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olcott Hooper of 228 Highland avenue. Betsey, whose stage name is Betsey Drew, has studied ballet since she was eight years old and has loved it right from the start. Here in Boston she was taught by Alicia Langford.

She graduated from Winchester High School in 1950 and went to New York where she studied at the Ballet Theater School and the Metropolitan School. In 1951 she joined the Begg's Ballet Group and has toured with them through the South and out to Wisconsin and Minnesota. Her dance career also includes the Starlight Theatre of Kansas City, the Cohasset Music Circus, and the State Fair Musicals of Dallas.

Betsey's many friends here in Winchester are fortunate to have this opportunity to see her. And many townspeople will remember seeing Betsey and John Begg dance at the reception to Mr. Wade Grindle on his retirement last year.

WHAT ABOUT OUR LIBRARY?

HIGHSCHOOLERS NEED MORE SPACE

"The needs of 'intermediates' or high school students, of the great 14 to 20 year old group, who no longer wish to be treated as children, should be recognized by giving them special quarters or space for (a) leisure reading and (b) school reference work, with adult books available, but without disturbing adult readers."

(From American Public Library Building by Joseph Lewis Wheeler, Librarian and Alfred Morton Githens, Architect.)

At present, the Winchester Public Library can accommodate only a fraction of Winchester young adults of high school age who wish to use the Students' Room. The situation becomes more acute as the number of registered borrowers of this age increases. Ninety-nine per cent of the 981 Winchester High School students are active users of the library.

When the present library building was planned, no room was set aside for young adults. As the need became apparent, a small periodical room was converted into the present Students' Room.

With every available inch in use, the room will seat fifteen students —nine of whom can be seated at tables—and provides shelving for only a fraction of the books necessary for school assignments and recreational reading. The materials and space available will not take care of the freshman class alone.

Last April these prospective high school freshmen from the Winchester Junior High School and Saint Mary's Junior High School—numbering over 300—toured the Adult Library in order to become familiar with books and materials used for high school reading and reference assignments. At that time all of these eighth graders received a library card. Through these visits the library attempts to give boys and girls an idea of materials which can be of help during their four years of high school. Unfortunately, due to lack of space, this material is not always in a place available to students.

At 2:00 p. m. "during the High School Rush" it is not unusual to see as many as 50 young people returning books, trying to wedge their way into the Students' Room to select a book, or attempting to find reference material. The entire library staff, in addition to the Young Adults Librarian and Reference Librarian, at that hour of the day, must devote themselves to directing students to the books they need. This often means that adults in the library must wait for their books. The result is general agitation and a great deal of confusion.

Because of the lack of adequate shelving, many books on the High School reading list must be kept in out-of-the-way stack areas. For the same reason, the collection of college catalogs, magazines, and other pamphlets for young adults is inadequate. The entire collection of career pamphlets has to be kept in the Adult Reading Room. Since this is the time when many young people are making plans for their future, it is of the utmost importance that this material be put in one place where young adults may browse at will.

There should be a quick-reference area with encyclopedias and dictionaries accessible to high school students. At present, a section of the Adult Reading Room has been set aside for student reference. The natural exuberance of boys and girls of this age often disturbs those adult patrons who use the same room for quiet reading.

To accommodate the needs of the young adults who use the library, a room large enough to seat 45—50 people should be made available with sufficient shelving to house a good collection of books for quick-reference, class assignments and general reading, pamphlet material and magazines. Enough space between shelves and tables and chairs should be provided to allow students to choose books without the necessity of disturbing others who are reading or studying.

The town of Winchester has always taken great pride in its future citizenry and will wish to continue giving this group ever possibley assistance.

"No group more keenly needs the public library than the young people, especially that group from 15—20 years of age who are adjusting themselves to places in adult life. The stabilizing influence of books which help them psychologically, as well as vocationally and aesthetically, is essential in the development of responsible citizens."

(From Post War Standards for Public Libraries, published by American Library Association.)

Ed Note: This is another in the series of articles contributed by friends of the library.

RARE PAINTING ON EXHIBITION

The Winchester Trust Company has on exhibition in its Church street office a rare oil portrait of Benjamin Franklin, painted in Paris by the artist Joseph Silfrede Duplessis about 1780. The picture is the property of a Winchester resident.

For some years this painting has been the subject of considerable controversy, it having been considered by picture dealers as a "Copy." However, science has in recent years, developed methods by which a Museum Laboratory can positively identify the artist who originally painted the picture; and also make archaic the old "by guess and by Gorry" method.

The x-ray of a canvas shows the basic lines in the foundation; then the brush stroke of the artist, which in modern methods is as positive a means in the identification of the original painter as is the finger print of the individual. Other tests of age and the type of pigments used in the paints also pinpoint the pattern. The old method of a visual examination of a canvas by an experienced dealer was the only means at hand and such an opinion was, in the absence of contrary data, usually accepted as factual evidence.

This Duplessis painting of Franklin has been termed a "problem painting" by experts. It was a custom of Court painters to flatter their sitters to erase some of the evident wear and tear of the years, and it is a surmise that Franklin may have asked Duplessis to "turn back the clock," considering the flattery and popularity Franklin received in Paris, especially in that period. X-ray shows that the face of an older man was originally painted and later the face was, in the modern terms "lifted." The x-ray film gives the final answer to the Problem Painting terminology.

CONCERT OPPORTUNITY

Frank Kneisel, concert violinist and teacher of violin and ensemble at the Boston Conservatory of Music, will give a recital on Friday evening, February 15, at 8:30 in the Auditorium, [illegible] way street. Wilfred Churchill, pianist and teacher at the Conservatory, will assist Mr. Kneisel at the piano. Included on the program are the Beethoven Kreutzer Sonata, Vieuxtemps A minor Concerto, and Hindemith C major Sonata. The public is cordially invited to attend without charge.

On Friday afternoon, February 8, about 25 Scouts accompanied by Scoutmaster Michael D. Saraco, Asst. Scoutmaster Robert Fiore and Scout Committee members Randolph Kazazian, Wallace Scrivens, Joseph Strazzere, Peter Giannotti and Victor Ficociello, left for a 3 day week-end trip to Camp Fellsland in Amesbury.

Troop 1 Scouts who went on the trip were Paul Colella, John Powers, Jr., John McSweeney, Howard Hackett, William Paquette, Donald Nadeau, Nicholas Harris, Richard Crowley, Robert Migliaccio, Thomas Mooney, Paul Hermann, Richard Saurman, William Ring, John Sullivan, David Mullen, William Graham, Thomas Russo, Karl Russo, Victor Cotrone, Francis Donovan, John Geoghagan, Robert MacArthur, A. Walker, Michael Saraco and Robert McCormack.

No sooner had the cars, stopped at the George W. Magee Memorial winter cabin when twenty-five boys started competition for nineteen bunks. It took a tree-bending bellow from Scoutmaster M. D. Saraco to restore order and start chores for the night. No sooner were the stove and fireplace lighted for cooking and heat, when the boys commenced howling for food and if the kitchen door hadn't been closed, they would have eaten everything raw. Hot corn chowder, saltines, hot corn bread and butter, jelly and lemon squares were finally served and the meal added vigor and vitality to the surfeited scouts.

Finally, the boys retired and a sustained battle was on to get them to sleep and store up energy for that early morning anticipated surprise attack.

One thing can be said. It was warm and cozy with a nice log fire which was kept burning all night.

The tired committee men had barely closed their own eyes when they were wakened by what was at first believed to be the deep-toned roar of a lion! Confidence was quickly restored when the roar was identified as M. D. Saraco enjoying a quiet (?) snooze!

The first rooster crowed at 7:00 a. m. and before you could count ten the heavy artillery opened up and the stampede for food was on again! The scouts quieted down enough to enjoy a breakfast of juice bacon and eggs, bread, butter, jelly and cocoa.

Dinner arrangements were begun immediately after breakfast because the brisk fresh air gave every one a ravenous appetite.

At about noon time Lion member Joe Strazzieri and his son Joe, age 7, arrived to help. Patiently we were awaiting assistant scoutmasters Skitchy Fiore and Pete Giannotti. The stampede for dinner was on at one o'clock but with the advance preparations everything went smoothly and a delicious beef stew with the usual fixings was served and topped off with jello loaded with fruit cocktail and whipped cream. With pleasantly full stomachs, the Scouts went out for exercise in the freshly falling snow.

At last, at 3 p. m. reenforcements arrived in the persons of Skitchy and Pete! They took right over and quickly got things under control. One of their assignments for the Scouts at camp was to pass a five mile hike, which appealed to the committee men who looked ahead to a good night's sleep with the Scouts exhausted from their long tramp.

As scheduled, at 4 p. m. assistant scoutmaster Fiore left camp in the lead with 25 boys and little Joe Strazzieri, 7 years old, and Pete Giannotti, bringing up the rear.

The Scouts left on a pre-arranged five mile hike. Two and a half miles out of camp on the side of the road we had left a marker for them to pick up and bring back to camp. About 5:45 p. m. light rain started to fall and those at camp started to worry about the boys. Finally we spotted them coming over the ridge and as they came close it was seen there was one litter case.

Its hard to believe, but the litter case was Assistant Scoutmaster Skitchy Fiore. The training the scouts had received really paid off for they met this emergency like men.

Dog tired, the boys washed up and enjoyed the famous Boston Saturday special frankfurters and beans and all the fixings, with lemon squares for dessert. Really tired, at 9:30 they hit the sack and were sound asleep by 10 o'clock.

When the committeemen awakened in the morning, they found Pete Giannotti, a stranger to the Saraco brand of slumber, sleeping in the kitchen with the door closed!

Up at 6 a. m. with a full crew, we dished out a heap of pancakes, French toast, doughnuts etc., and then all attended 9 o'clock mass. It made the adult members of the party very proud to see what they had accomplished as they watched the Scouts in their uniforms file into church. All eyes were focused on them as they walked down the aisle and entered the pews.

Back from church, the clean up began to break camp after dinner. At 12 noon a dinner of steak, potatoes, chocolate pudding with whipped cream was served just as Peter Marchesi and Arthur Hewis drove in to have dinner and assist in breaking camp.

We broke camp Sunday at 1:12 p. m. and arrived home at 2:30 p. m.

The committeemen feel that the Boy Scouts gave a good account of themselves and came through with flying colors, reflecting credit on themselves and the community.

ST. MARY'S TO HOLD 7th-8th GRADE DANCE

In response to that popular question of the month, "when is the next one?", St. Mary's will sponsor a "King and Queen of Hearts" Dance for the 7th and 8th graders in the Hall on Wednesday night, February 20, from 7:30 till the band plays "Good Night, Little Angels," at 10.

These enthusiastic teens of tomorrow are looking forward to the big event during vacation week and children from the public and parochial schools are all invited to attend. The usual prizes and surprises will feature the evening's program, highlighted by the crowning of the King and Queen of Hearts. Parents of the children are always welcome to be present for the fun and frolic of these dances.

The 7th graders of the Sunday School have been selected to serve on that very important refreshment committee. The chairlady of this will be Her Highness, the Hostess, Mary Lou O'Donnell, assisted by Bonnie Burr and her long line of delightful debutantes, who have been thumbing through cook books and recipes for a month in order to provide the happy and hungry gathering with their memorable masterpieces from the kitchens of Winchester.

PARKHURST ASSEMBLY

On Tuesday morning, February 5, the combined Second Graders of Parkhurst School had their Assembly. It was a musical play in two parts. 1. "The Three Bears." 2. "The Little Red Hen."

Mrs. Ryder's class did "The Three Bears." The narrators were: Remington Clark, Lisa Douglas, and Robinson Whitten. Stephen Reynolds was Papa Bear, Sandra Swenson was Mama Bear and Pete Meissner was Baby Bear. Goldilocks was played by Judith Hanson. Craig Heindel was the Curtain Master. All the other children of the class were in the chorus.

Mrs. Stanley's class did "The Little Red Hen." The narrators were Thomas Milkie and Ruth Morse. Heidi Parrot was the Little Red Hen; Bill Elliot, the dog; Leigh Taylor, the cat; Scott Eaton, the duck and John Cheever, the Miller. The other children were the yellow chickens and the chorus.

"FLYING HIGH" AT PARKHURST

On Monday, February 4, the fourth, fifth, and sixth grade pupils of the Parkhurst School were "flying high" at an assembly held in the school auditorium. They were indeed fortunate to have as a speaker Colonel Waldo B. Jones, father of Douglas Jones, a pupil in Mrs. Mallion's fourth grade class which is studying "Progress of Air Transportation."

Colonel Jones is a professor of Air Science and Commander of Air Force ROTC Unit, Harvard University. He has six years of flying experience as a civilian pilot, has World War II and Korean War experience and is rated as a command pilot.

He has numerous awards and decorations, including the Presidential Citation, Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal, and the Bronze Star. He is married to the former Emmy M. Sands of Saskatchewan, Canada, and resides at 11 New Meadows road with their two children, Patricia Ann, 12, and Douglas, 9, of Winchester Junior High and Parkhurst School respectively.

Illustrating his talk with many model planes and a large graph showing progress in speed and altitude flying from World War I to the present time, Col. Jones gave an excellent account of the great technology and effort of this country's modern aircraft.

A celestial navigation sphere was very interesting to the group because it demonstrated so clearly the envelope of air which allows unlimited air travel for all people.

Colonel Jones was asked about the recent round-the-world jet flight and he was well prepared to answer with a large map showing the route taken by the record-breaking planes. The jet stream which was a feature in the recent trans-continental jet flight, safety for parachute jumpers, need for new heat-resistant metals, kilatons and megatons, G force, speed of sound and many other topics of air science were described. The talk was made extremely interesting and instructive through Colonel Jones's wide knowledge, his patience and interest in answering the many questions asked by girls and boys during the discussion period.

The following day the classes viewed a film depicting the history of flight. "We Saw It Happen," an hour-long film obtained by Colonel Jones, gave the Parkhurst pupils another opportunity to learn how progress in flight is affecting and will continue to affect their daily lives.

Safety Tip: Let your car motor warm up before you drive it out into traffic advises the Triple-A. It's unfair to the other drivers to be delayed by a sputtering coughing engine and it's dangerous, too. It's your responsibility to see that your car is in good condition and that means ready to drive.

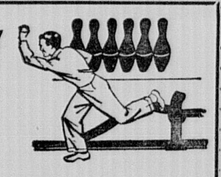
SONS OF ITALY Bowling News



S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

The weeks are flying by as nine weeks are left to close the second half. The All Stars are again pulling away for a substantial lead to end up on top this half as well as they did in the first half.

Team Standings:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
All Stars	18	6	8313
Blue Eyes	15	8	8240
Rock and Roll	14	10	8318
Hot Shots	14	10	8316
Lindy Hop	12	12	8267
Jitterbugs	10	14	8005

Bee Bops	4	20	7939

Hi Single: Choppers Gangi 147

Hi Triple: Dick Fiore 356

Top Ten Bowlers:

Tony Saraco	103.4
Dick Fiore	102.4
Richard Bucci	101.5
Joe Berardi	98.8
Bob Fiore	98.1
Babe Tofuri	97.1
Choppers Gangi	96.4
Max LaCarubba	93.9
Mingy Frongillo	93.2

Tony Saraco maintains to be a consistant 300 or better bowler to keep his average to its present standing. Never has anyone witnessed such competition which is presently going on in the average department. In my opinion the only way any one individual can overtake him would be to consistently bowl 330 or better at this stage of the game.

Once again the 300 bowlers were not too numerous as of the past. Only five hit this figure this week. This was headed by Dick Fiore who fired a 347 followed by Joe Berardi, 317; Tony Saraco, 314; Joe Amico, 309 and Dick Fiore, 306.

The Hot Shots took 3 points this week to go into a two way tie with the Rock and Roll boys for second place and in doing so they had the distinction of having high pinfalls of 1424. Their captain Bob Fiore did a splendid job himself and his able assistants were Rocky De-Tesso, Nick Molea, Sam Corby, Arka Amico and Pete Fiore. Bowling of this nature would eventually carry them to the top for you can see above that their pinfalls are just as consistent as the leading team.

As was stated above we had five bowlers who bowled over 300 but we had nine bowlers who bowled under 260. Joe Ciarcia, 256; Tony Chefalo, 255; Eddie Forgione, 253; Dom Simonetta, 243; Rocky De-Tesso, 240; Max LaCarubba, 239; Johnny Dattilo, 236; Larry Penta, 233 and at the bottom of the heap Ralph Tauro, 232. I'm not trying to humiliate any one individual I'm just trying to point out that even some of the best bowlers come up with an occasional bad night. Max LaCararubba for instance one of our top ten bowlers had a 68 string. Hard to believe but true.

Their isn't much news to report outside the news that I received from the score sheets as I was away at Camp Fellsland for the week-end. Will give you a full report next week.

The award winner this week is a well known official at B.C. Your friend and mine "Kangaroo Kid" Jeff Gaudioso.

FIRES

A fire in an overstuffed chair in the cellar of the home of George E. Gregory of 8 Water street filled the house with smoke Friday afternoon about 3:00. Firefighters used two smoke ejectors for three quarters of an hour to clear the house. Box 44 was put on for this fire.

Fire alarm box 25 was rung in from Mt. Pleasant and Washington streets at 4:12 p. m. Friday for a fire in the motor of a car belonging to Lawrence P. Canerlengo of 41 Otis street in Somerville. The blaze was caused by a short circuit in the wiring of the car.

PATENT TO MEREWETHER

Walter J. Merewether of 211 Forest street was the recipient on January 29, of U. S. patent No. 2,779,406, entitled "Screen For Automobile Windows."

There are a number of advantages in providing the windows of an automobile with screens. For example, they add to the comfort of passengers when the car is in motion and especially when it is parked at an outdoor theatre or beach where insects are prevalent. They also prevent many of the serious accidents that are caused by bees or wasps stinging the driver and causing him to lose control of the vehicle. However, notwithstanding these beneficial effects, most of the present-day automobiles are not equipped with screens.

The mounting of a screen in an automobile presents unique problems. It must be readily removable and, at the same time, be held securely against accidental displacement by vibration and wind. It must also have sufficient structural stiffness to keep its shape without the use of intermediate cross bars and wide frames that interfere with the vision or view of the driver.

To present a solution to this problem, Mr. Merewether has devised a novel screen which not only meets the foregoing requirements but may also be installed without the use of tools and without defacing the window frame of the vehicle. As additional advantageous features, it is readily adjustable to allow for variations in window sizes; it is neat and inconspicuous in appearance; it may be stored in a minimum of space when not in use; and it does not interfere with the normal operation of the automobile window.

It should be noted that no central joints or supports are employed in constructing the screen of Mr. Merewether's invention, and its frame is so inconspicuous that the screen affords practically the same freedom of vision as an unscreened window. Furthermore, the frame of the screen may be chrome plated or decorated as desired to harmonize with the trim of the automobile and thus present an unusually attractive appearance.

The application for this patent, which consists of six claims of originality, was filed on July 3, 1953.

JET TRAINING COMPLETED

Second Lt. John D. Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Foley of 60 Salisbury street, was graduated recently from basic single engine jet training at an impressive ceremony at Greenville Air Force Base, Mississippi.

During his year long course of instruction as a jet pilot Lt. Foley received intensive training in officer leadership, flying and academic fields.

Lt. Foley received six weeks of Officers Pre-flight Orientation at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. He was further assigned to the Air Force Primary Contract School at Hondo Air Base, Texas, where he learned to fly the T-34 and T-28.

At Greenville Air Force Base Lt. Foley received training in the T-33, the Air Force's single engine jet trainer. He soloed this aircraft in 12 hours and completed his flying training to receive his silver wings and join the ranks of the Air Force jet pilots.

TO TEACH IN ITALY

Winchester was the scene of many gay "Bon Voyage" parties this past week for Professor and Mrs Gerald B. Tallman of 17 Cambridge street, who sailed on Tuesday, February 12, for Turin, Italy, aboard the Constitution.

Accompanying them were their two daughters, Sukey, a sophomore at Middlebury College, and Lucy, who will continue her fourth grade work in Turin.

Dr. Tallman will be a visiting professor at IPSOA, an industry sponsored school for business managers, until July 1. The Tallman family then plans a tour of the continent, returning home early in September.

AD ALTARE DEI AWARDS TO TWO WINCHESTER SCOUTS

More than 3,000 uniformed Boy Scouts and youth leaders from all over the Archdiocese of Boston jammed the Cathedral of the Holy Cross last Sunday afternoon for the annual Catholic observance of Boy Scout Sunday. Graham Govoni and Lawrence Harrington were among the 594 boys presented the "Ad Altare Dei" medal by Archbishop Cushing. He confers this award, the highest in Catholic scouting, annually on the Sunday nearest Lincoln's birthday.

The Scouts of Saint Mary's attended Mass and received Holy Communion marking the observance of Boy Scout Sunday and the 47th anniversary of scouting in this country.

DAVE MAYNARD AT SAINT MARY'S RECORD HOP

Of course, you've already heard, but just in case, high schoolers will take time out from outscoring and outscreaming opponents on the court and on the ice to attend the dance at Saint Mary's Hall next week. Dave Maynard, popular disc jockey on Station WORL promises Miss Ann Porcaro that he will be back for a three-hour encore Thursday night, February 21, beginning at 8 p. m.

Dave made a big hit with us a year ago. He will welcome teenage stags and couples and will play request numbers for those of you who are good dancers and for those of us who would be good if it was not for our feet.

LITTLE LEAGUE DADS

A meeting of all Dads of present players and boys who will be trying out this spring will be held Wednesday, February 27, in the Lincoln School Auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

Winchester's Little League has been doubled for the coming season, thus offering our facilities to twice the number of boys participating last year.

As this expansion is quite a project in many ways, we are anxious to meet with all Dads with boys between eight and twelve years old. We want to explain our new program and the opportunities which will be available to so many new boys.

All Dads with boys in this age group are urged to attend this important meeting not only to become informed of our program but to lend their opinions and support to an organization which has placed fourth and third in national competition in the past two years. This entire non-profit program is for your boy. Please give it your support now. Mark the time and place. Make the effort to attend.

Miss Linda Thomson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick S. Thomson of 25 Fells road, has been named to the Dean's List of Colby Junior College, New London, N. H. Miss Thomson is a first-year secretarial science major at the New Hampshire junior college and a graduate from Winchester High School.

BORIS GOLDOVSKY

Colorful M. C. of Metropolitan Opera News of the Air, comes to Winchester March 9 to introduce and make his inimitable comments on the several popular operas, from which he will conduct leading members of the New England Opera Company in favorite passages at the high school auditorium. The Winchester Community Theatre is sponsoring the event.

ONCE FOUND OPERA BORING

GOLDOVSKY INTERVIEWED BY L. T. W.

"Were you always interested in opera?", interviewer L.T.W. of the Winchester Community Theatre asked Boris Goldovsky, colorful M. C. of the Metropolitan Opera Company's "Opera News of the Air" and dynamic director of the Opera School of the New England Conservatory of Music.

"No-o-o-o-o" replies the engaging Goldovsky voice with a rising inflection. "I was trained as a pianist and conductor, I thought opera a little boring and stilted!

"One day, when I was about 24, I was invited by Dr. Lert to come to Philadelphia to play the piano score for La Boheme in his Opera Workshop at Curtis Institute. Suddenly as I watched the company under Dr. Lert's direction acting their parts as if they were real people, as well as singing beautifully, I realized opera was wonderful!, that it was only the manner of performance which had been terrible.

"It was a revelation to me. It started my quest for the ideal opera performance."

Today Mr. Goldovsky directs the Opera School of the New England Conservatory of Music, heads another in Pittsburg, West Virginia, is a well-loved figure at the Berkshire Music Center opera department, has written "Accents on Opera," is celebrated for his "Piano Portraits" and has completed tours of 26 states and Canada with his successful Goldovsky Opera Theater.

"Where do you get your stars, Mr. Goldovsky," we asked. "We make our stars. There are today many more singers with fine musical training than there were years ago. We audition young singers from all over the country for our schools." he replied.

"What happens when a singer is accepted by you?" Our genial virtuoso answered, "The singer is taught to integrate dramatic perfection with musical proficiency; in other words, not only to sing his part at top performance but to control his facial muscles and body movements to identify his whole being with the character he is representing.

"This takes endless rehearsal and detailed regard for each minute stage effect. The characterization must even extend off stage between acts so that when the singer reenters the mood is clear."

"Is it true, Mr. Goldovsky, that you feel opera in America should be sung in English?" we query. "Yes," he answered with a smile. "I believe most American-trained singers cannot express themselves well in a foreign language. As long as they just stood still and sang that type of performance got by, but good acting is more than pretty sounds—it is the projecting of thoughts and emotions. Few singers can think and feel in a foreign language. If opera is 'done well' it gains from being done in English."

"Where do you get the English versions, Mr. Goldovsky?" "We had to delve into the problem ourselves," he replied.

"Did you hire professional writers?" we asked. "No-o-o-o, for brilliant word people with no knowledge of music cannot do it best. The sentence must go with the melodic line. We have searched original manuscripts wherever possible and have come up with complete librettos. Sometimes we have also discovered musical errors repeated through the years which we have corrected."

"And what about your future plans, Mr. Goldovsky, or are your present versatilities all-consuming?"

"They keep me busy but I do have a new project, a fascinating one. Next summer at Tanglewood I shall assemble a group of designers and engineers and we will work on new scenery materials of plastic and light metals. This should affect the future of stage craft."

"Thank you, Mr. Goldovsky, for your sidelights on a great musical career." As I said good bye to this winner of the 1954 Peabody Award for Outstanding Contribution to Radio Music I thought, Winchester is indeed fortunate to be host March 9 to one of the most interesting personalities in the musical world today. The town is also fortunate in the organization of the Winchester Community Theatre and its president, Mrs. Carlene Samoiloff, whose foresight it was in bringing us this unique performer and part of his company.

MR. & MRS. CLUB

Those who believed that the military fort was as out-dated as the Dodo, an establishment used only to embelish the hair-raising episodes currently contributing to the cultural development of today's small fry via T.V., were perhaps mildly surprised to discover at St. Mary's Hall last Wednesday evening, February 6, that there existed others besides Fort Apache. As it so often does, the Mr. and Mrs. Club at this, its February meeting, added another new and unique decor to the hall.

Following the usual short business meeting, and an opening prayer, by Rev. Father Doipnin who pinched hit for the Club's Spiritual Director, Father Manion, the large group of members who took up the card playing challenge were then initiated into the fun and mysteries of military whist. And fun it proved to be, and a delightful way of creating the social atmosphere that makes each monthly club meeting an important date on your calendars.

Betty and Pat Cosgrove, entertainment chairmen, took charge of the evening's activities and, with the skilled help of Mr. E. Dushuttle, the originator of the military whist, carried out the "campaign" in high style. To the victors went the spoils, in this instance a large assortment of fine prizes. Awards for meritorious service were well deserved. Purple hearts were in order for those whose winning tricks were trumped by overzealous partners. All of which, in truth, contributed to the evening's fun.

Remaining at their flag and pennant bedecked tables, each for this meeting carrying the name and standard of a U.S. fort, the club members were then treated once again to gastronomical delights served up by a refreshment committee headed by Mary and Jim Henry.

Next month's meeting is scheduled for the second Wednesday, March 13. On that evening will be the annual Communion Supper of the Club, the spiritual highlight of the club year.

FEBRUARY IS HEART MONTH

This is Heart Month, a time when thousands are startled into awareness of just how serious and pervasive a health problem "heart trouble" really is.

Heart diseases account for more than half of all the deaths in Massachusetts each year. The last recorded figure was 28,000—the equivalent of the entire population of Northampton, or Gloucester, or Belmont or Melrose. Inside Massachusetts' borders there are more than 300,000 persons with cardiovascular disease, or nearly the complete population of Hampden county.

Unless something is done about it, 28,000 of these 300,000 will die this year, to be replaced by about the same number of new patients. Inevitably, some of them will be people we know and love. And this goes on, year after year. One-third of the heart deaths occur in persons under 65.

The Massachusetts Heart Association, through Heart Month, seeks to cast new light on cardiovascular disease and to collect the funds with which the unending battle against it may be expanded. Medical science has done much for heart victims. But we still do not know the root causes of the major types of heart disease.

This takes research; research takes money; the more money the more research; the more research the better the chances for a lifetime.

The Heart Fund asks the support of everyone in curbing the ravages of Heart Disease.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME

On Sunday, February 10, at the 7:45 a. m. Mass, members of St. Mary's Holy Name Society together with a large group of cubs and boy scouts received Holy Communion in a body. The Mass was celebrated by Father Edmund L. Parker who in his sermon praised the boy scouts as an outstanding character building organization for youth.

After Mass breakfast was served by Frank Antonuccio and his young assistant, Al Thorne, III. President Al Thorne, Jr., opened the meeting and spiritual director, Father Martin J. Dolphin, led the group in the recitation of the Holy Name pledge. Father Dolphin presented a jacket to Kenny Donaghey, captain of the Holy Name softball team, and all the players of our town championship team will receive one. The sports night will be held on March 10, and Bill Lippman, chairman, is lining up a program of outstanding sport celebrities.

Herb Cleary reported on the hungarian housing committee. Herb did an outstanding job as chairman of this committee and said that a family consisting of father, mother and three boys, ages eighteen, fifteen and four, are settled and happy in the quarters prepared for them. The father is a skilled machinist and already has obtained a fine job.

The guest speaker was Mr. W. Rogers Hamel a fellow St. Mary's Holy Name member from Everett avenue. Mr. Hamel came from Erie, Pa., and is a fourth degree, Knights of Columbus member, a former naval officer in World War II and is the manager of the Raytheon Mfg. Co's Lowell plant.

His subject was "Electronics and New England" and he traced the growth of the electronics industry. The concentration of technical schools in this area was instrumental in the locating of the industry around Boston.

The electronic industry has done much to fill the vacuum resulting from the departure of the textile and the leather industries from New England and with fair taxation this area should continue to be the nations electronic center.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hamel's enlightening talk, Mr. James Marchant of the Raytheon Co., showed two fine technicolor films dealing with the electronic and atomic industries.

ATTENDING MEXICO CITY COLLEGE

(Special to the Winchester Star)

By attending Mexico City College, Betsey Jane Freeman daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Freeman of 11 Lorena road, is experiencing the excitement and novelty of living in a foreign country while furthering her formal education.

At Mexico City College, a non-profit, non-sectarian American type liberal arts college offering a B.A. and M.A. degree, students pursue studies in a wide variety of fields including Spanish, engineering, foreign trade, Latin American studies, philosophy, and international relations.

Miss Freeman is a graduate of Winchester High School and attended Michigan State College before coming to Mexico City. At MCC she is gaining an idiomatic mastery of Spanish and becoming familiar with Latin American customs and culture.

Most MCC students reside in downtown Mexico City, and many live in college-approved Mexican homes, combining class-room studies with everyday Spanish. Although not a required subject, most students take some courses in Spanish as an aid to understanding the Latin American culture.

Typical Mexican apparel such as the rebozo (shawl) and chaleco (jacket) has been added to many students' wardrobes, giving the campus an international flavor.

LEFT DAUGHTER HERE

Melville A. Bronson, 88, of 119 Crest road, Wellesley, who died Thursday, February 7, was the father of Miss Helen Bronson of Stetson Hall, for many years head of the Commercial Department of Winchester High School.

Mr. Bronson was a retired South Shore real estate broker and former resident of Abington, where he maintained his business office.

Besides Miss Bronson, he leaves a daughter, Katherine, of Wellesley; and a sister, Mrs. A. P. Estes of Newtonville.

Services were held Saturday afternoon, February 9, at the Waterman-Brown Chapel.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

Republican men and women met together on the evening of February 6, at the home of Mr and Mrs. John Volpe. This was an evening long to be remembered. The gracious hostess and Mrs. Wilbert E. Underwood poured while more and more members and guests arrived. All were looking forward to hearing State Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton. One and all agreed Mrs. Warren C. Whitman had made a happy choice. Mrs. Theodore C. Browne president, presided.

Without issues in a campaign where does one get? Talking around a circle, meeting yourself on the opposite side from where one starts, gets no where! Sen. Graham pointed out many issues which need clarification. In 1950, a highway program which was staggering to win comtemplate at that time. When is it to be paid for? 1965, when the children of today find themselves with a state debt about which they know nothing.

Yes, taxes, taxes and more of the same are the paramount problems of the state of Massachusetts. A good state, but one of the most expensive in which to live.

The money must be found to reduce these taxes in every city and town. Is a sales tax the answer? It appears it must be.

Long faces and worried expressions appeared on the faces of the assembled group. There must be a way out. Where can money be saved? The disability pensions, for one thing, are not equitable.

Stand up and be counted on the issues of the present administration. Do not sit in the side line and nod your head and keen saying "Oh me, oh my," do something.

In a previous notice in the Star we referred to Rep. Sen. Newland Holmes by another first name and a Democrat. For this we are apologetic.

HUBCAPS STOLEN

Two hubcaps were stolen from an auto belonging to Mrs. Muriel L. Davis of 94 Arlington street while the vehicle was parked in her driveway. A neighbor from across the street at 97 Arlington street told the police that he heard noises in the Davis driveway, and when he looked out saw two young men run up Arlington street towards Westland avenue and get into a dark colored car. They drove off without lights.

FORMER ROTARY FELLOWSHIP WINNER TO SPEAK HERE

Bertram F. Collins, an advisor to Massachusetts industrial management on unemployment compensation and allied matters, is to be guest speaker at the Rotary Club's regular luncheon meeting at Masonic Apartments on Thursday, February 21.

Mr. Collins joined the staff of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts in March, 1952. Born in Newton, he has lived in Marblehead for many years, entered Massachusetts Institute of Technology under a Hawkes Foundation Scholarship and was graduated from the Institute with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Engineering and Business Administration, majoring in industrial relations. At the same time he studied at the Boston and New England Conservatories of Music on a violin and piano scholarship.

During World War II Mr. Collins served for two years in the Army in the Special Services Division of the Middlesex Pacific Headquarters.

After his graduation from M.I.T. he was awarded a Rotary Foundation Fellowship as the result of an international competition and spent a year in graduate study abroad. During this year he attended the University of Wales while preparing a thesis entitled "British Industrial Relations and Nationalization." Printed copies of this thesis have been distributed to leading college libraries throughout the United States.

Returning to the United States, Mr. Collins joined the Industrial Engineering Division of the Atlantic Refining Company in Philadelphia and during this association spent some time independently preparing a report on his investigation of the presetting of time standards for field welding operations.

Mr. Collins left Atlantic to return to New England to serve the Associated Industries of Massachusetts as Director of the Unemployment Compensation Department.

Be careful when you turn on the oil stove. Don't leave it until it has settled down to a steady blaze. Keep it clean and make sure that there are no leaks which drip oil onto the floor or into the ash pan. It is from vaporization in the ash pan that many oil fires start.

VOTERS OF WINCHESTER

Evelyn R. Russell of 18 Norwood street, with a long background of interest in public health, is the first woman to seek office on the Board of Health in Winchester.

Mrs. Russell was brought up in an atmosphere of dedication to the advancement of public health programs; her father was a doctor in the field of public health medicine and her mother was a leader in the education of laymen to new public health measures. After being graduated from Middlebury College, Mrs. Russell attended the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing and went on duty as a registered nurse at the North Reading State Sanitorium for Children.

A resident of Winchester since her marriage to Harlow Russell, Mrs. Russell has been active in town affairs and in particular those activities of significance to public health. She has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Winchester Hospital, 1943-45, President of the Winchester District Nursing Association 1943-45, and Chairman of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee 1953-56. She is now serving on the Executive Board of the Middlesex Health Association. She has also served on committees of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital. Appointed by the town moderator, she served as a member of the Committee to Investigate Fluoridation in 1954-55.

The mother of Susan and Vicki Russell, who are students at Winchester High School, and of Harlow Russell, III, a freshman at Harvard College, Mrs. Russell has been active in the Winchester Mothers' Associations and is presently President of the Winchester High School Parent-Faculty Association.

Evelyn R. Russell is well qualified to fulfill the duties of a member of the Board of Health. She would bring to that board the understanding and background of an experienced community leader, a registered nurse and mother.

MRS. ELIZABETH R. CHAPMAN

Mrs. Elizabeth Russell Chapman, a native of Winchester, died suddenly February 12, at her home in Berkeley, California, where she had resided since 1910.

Mrs. Chapman was the daughter of the late Edward Russell and Mary (Rooney) Hodge, and was born January 5, 1881. She was a graduate of the Winchester High School in the class of 1898 and of Tufts College in the class of 1902. In 1907, she married Charles E. Chapman of Franklin Falls, New Hampshire, who died several years ago.

She had long been active in the Berkeley Hills Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, had served as Chapter Regent several terms and had also served as State Treasurer of California. She was also active in many functions of the Berkeley Women's City Club and in the alumnae chapter of her college sorority, Alpha Omicron Pi.

Mrs. Chapman is survived by her son, Dr. Seville Chapman, head of the Physics Department of Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory, Buffalo, New York; by three grandchildren, and by three sisters, Miss Harriett Russell of Cambridge, and Miss Clara Russell and Mrs. P. J. Glendon of Winchester.

Funeral services were held February 15, at the Berkeley Hills Chapel, and interment was in Wildwood Cemetery on Thursday afternoon.

WOBURN HERE FRIDAY

Winchester plays its annual return game with Woburn High at the local gymnasium, first and second teams, tonight commencing at 7 o'clock. The game should prove interesting, aside from the intense rivalry, because both Winchester and Woburn have been drawn to play in Class B of the State Tourney in the Garden. Winchester won the first game of the series at Woburn without too much trouble, but looked none too good against Braintree on Tuesday.

MISS ALICE L. HOPKINS

Miss Alice Lucille Hopkins of 47 Abbot street, Andover, librarian emeritus of Simmons College and a former resident of Winchester, died Wednesday night, February 13, at the Lawrence General Hospital. Her death occurred on the 97th birthday of her mother, Mrs. Walter E. Hopkins.

Miss Hopkins was the daughter of Mrs. Hopkins, and the late Walter E. Hopkins. She was born June 21, 1882, in Winthrop, but lived as a girl in Winchester, was educated in the Winchester schools and Chauncey Hall School in Boston, where she prepared for Smith College.

She was graduated from Smith with the degree of A.B. in the class of 1905 and attended the 50th reunion of her class at Smith last June, reporting as class secretary.

After Smith she spent a year at Boston Normal School and thereafter was assistant to the principal of the Wadleigh School in Winchester.

She then entered Simmons College, taking the graduate course of its library school and receiving the degree of bachelor of science. She served as assistant librarian at Radcliffe College from 1908 to 1911, and at Smith College from 1911 to 1912.

Miss Hopkins went to Simmons College in 1912 and continued there as librarian and assistant professor, and later as director, until her retirement in 1948. Upon her retirement she took up residence in Andover where she was consulted on library matters by Phillips Andover and Abbot Academies.

A direct descendant of Stephen Hopkins of the Mayflower, Miss Hopkins was a proprietor of the Boston Athanaeum and was a member of the American Association of University women, the American and Massachusetts Library Association, the Simmons Alumnae Association, Smith Alumnae Association, Boston Association of Smith College Alumnae, the Andover Historical Society, the Andover League of Women Voters, the November Club of Andover, and for many years, of the College Club of Boston.

The Hopkins family first made their home in Winchester during the nineties, and after a short absence from town returned to live at 113 Highland avenue until 1903. They were actively identified during their residence with the Church of the Epiphany.

Besides her mother, Miss Hopkins leaves two sisters, Miss Elizabeth L. Hopkins of Andover and Mrs. William C. Morris of Camden, Maine.

The Rev. John S. Moses, rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Andover, conducted funeral services Monday at noon at the Waterman Chapel in Kenmore Square, Boston.

FATHER McINNIS TRANSFERRED

Rev. Joseph E. McInnis, S.T.L., who has been a curate at the Immaculate Conception Church for the past year, is among the Roman Catholic priests of the Boston Archdiocese transferred in connection with the assignment of newly ordained priests to parishes in the diocese.

Father McInnis has been assigned to the Church of the Annunciation in Danvers. He will be replaced at the Immaculate Conception Church by Rev. John Dunn, curate at St. Edward's Church, Brockton.

TIMES PUBLISHER ILL

Paul L. Haggerty, well-known publisher of the Woburn Daily Times, is reported as improving satisfactorily from a sudden ill turn with which he was stricken as he was entering the Towanda Club on Tuesday with his brother, James D. Haggerty, editor of the Times, to attend the weekly Rotary luncheon. He was removed to the Choate Hospital and for a time was in an oxygen tank, though his condition improved sufficiently for his removal from the tank Wednesday. His many friends hope for a speedy and complete recovery.

A Day to Open Your Heart

"FEBRUARY 24 is a date to remember," says Film Star Donna Reed. Why? Because it will be Heart Sunday—the day a neighbor will ring your doorbell and give you an opportunity to support your Heart Association's nationwide assault upon the heart diseases through a contribution to the Heart Fund.

HEART SUNDAY FEBRUARY 24

Next Sunday is a red-letter day for Massachusetts— Heart Sunday, our annual opportunity to strike a blow against the diseases which account for more than half of our deaths.

On Sunday, a Heart Neighbor will visit your home to accept your Heart Fund contribution. In past years our Heart gifts have helped bring rheumatic fever, the scourge of childhood, under control, have made it possible to operate on the living heart, have found whole families of new medicine and techniques with which to handle diseases of the heart and circulation. Yesterday's heart research has insured longer lives for many of us today.

Sunday is your chance for a lifetime. Don't miss it.

JOSIAH E. BACON

VOTERS OF WINCHESTER

I am a candidate for election to the Board of Selectmen.

Without consideration of the Personnel Board's determination of equitable salaries and wages of Town Employees within their jurisdiction, the Finance Committee estimates the 1957 tax rate at $54.60. Certainly I am concerned with an annual increase of $74.38 in my own real estate taxes.

Naturally, we would all like to share in an addition to the library, increased educational facilities, a skating rink and why not, covered tennis courts, etc. The serious question presented is whether we can at this time, afford those items which give rise to a perennial tax increase without running the risk of ultimately drying up the most substantial source of revenue.

Since the tax rate is determined by the amount voted to be raised and appropriated divided by total valuation of taxable property, either new sources of revenue must be found or expenditures reduced before reductions can be achieved.

Presently, there is proposed a State Sales Tax which, it is suggested, could be enacted into law with the necessary safeguards to provide a measure of relief for property owners. However, I am persuaded that the history of the use of specified tax revenues labeled at their inception as "temporary," coupled with the probable costs of collection, promises no panacea in this respect.

Your Selectmen have suggested the use of town-owned property by clean, light industry. Certainly some of the new industries of this type are welcome additions to a Town which may face the loss of a major industry. It should be noted in this connection that a neighboring town will acquire an insurance company to broaden its tax structure. I believe that this area needs further exploitation and that an important measure of relief could be provided by the encouragement of selected new industries without changing the primary characteristics of Winchester as a residential community.

I would appreciate your support at the election of town officers on Monday, March 4.

PLANS FOR LIBRARY SHOWN TO PUBLIC

At an open meeting in the library Tuesday night, a group of forty-five people heard a detailed explanation of the plans for the new library addition. With a long black-tipped pointer in hand, Mr. Isidor Richmond of the architectural firm of Isidor Richmond and Carney Goldberg of Boston described the construction and function of the two proposed wings, using enlarged floor plans and a scale model.

One wing will connect at an angle to the northwest corner of what is now the children's room, and will form a new, much larger children's room on the first floor, and contain offices for the library staff and reading rooms on the second. The other wing will join onto the north end of the library, facing Washington street. This wing will be one story high, and hold an auditorium or exhibition hall and several small rooms. A courtyard between the two wings will be used for parking. The total cost of this construction is placed at $396,000.

Mr. Richmond stated that he and his partner made an extensive study of branch libraries in and around New England before starting on this project. He said the new design was influenced by the beauty and solid construction of the present building, and the exterior design of the wings will be harmonious with the existing building in color and texture, although the cost of building the new wings entirely of the same kind of granite as the old would be prohibitive.

He described the site of the library as "just what an architect loves to get his hands on," and designed the back wing to take full advantage of the view over the pond.

At the end of Mr. Richmond's talk there was an extended question period, during which such subjects as air-conditioning, lighting, and use of space were brought up, and the amount of increase in the tax rate necessary to finance the new wings was discussed.

After the meeting members of the library staff volunteered to show visitors about the library to point out the need for larger facilities.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

William Gerard Murray of 7 Wyman Court and Ann Elizabeth Joyce of 3 Elliot road, Lynnfield Center.

DANA J. HARDING

Dana Joseph Harding of 6 Ridge street, a long time employee of the Revere Sugar Refinery and a veteran of World War I, died Friday, February 15, at the Veterans Hospital in Jamaica Plain, following a seven weeks illness.

Mr. Harding was the son of Seth Hale, and Anna J. (Curran) Harding. He was born July 31, 1900, in Everett, but moved as a boy to Melrose and attended the Melrose schools, leaving Melrose High School to enlist in the Army Medical Corps during World War I.

After service at Fort Strong and Fort Henry he was transferred to the Watertown Arsenal, where he remained until the end of the war and was discharged.

Mr. Harding was associated with the Revere Sugar Refinery for 38 years, being foreman at the time of his death. He was a member of the Refinery's Quarter-Century Club, of the Arlington Heights Men's Club, Park Avenue Congregational Church of Arlington Heights and a charter member of Melrose Post, 90, the American Legion.

On July 31, 1926, Mr. Harding married the former Elizabeth Irwin of Winchester, who survives, with two brothers, S. Hale Harding and Philip B. Harding, both of Melrose.

Melrose Post held services at the late residence Monday evening, and full military honors were accorded at the funeral Tuesday afternoon at the Park Avenue Congregational Church. The Rev. Milton Schadegg, pastor of the Rollstone Congregational Church in Fitchburg, former pastor of the Park Avenue Church, officiated. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery Arlington, where three volleys were fired by a firing squad from the Boston Army Base and taps was blown by Scout Bugler Alfred Bonney of Troop 2, Winchester Boy Scouts.

PROFESSOR WHATMOUGH IN LECTURE SERIES

Joshua Whatmough, Professor of Comparative Philology and Chairman of the Department of Linguistics at Harvard University, who has during the past two years focussed attention on the power of language with his two publications, Language a Modern Synthesis and Scientific, Poetic and Other Discourse, is expanding the field still further by his series of lectures under the auspices of the Lowell Institute, Language The Measure Of Man.

The purpose of the Institute, founded by John Lowell, Jr., in 1836, is to bring to the interested public the persons of authorities in various fields and their subjects. The lectures are free and Professor Whatmough's talks which began on February 4, have been held on succeeding Thursdays and Mondays in the Main Conference Room of the John Hancock Building, Berkeley street, Boston, from 8 to 9 p. m.

That the subject is of more than usual interest is shown by the fact the Professor Whatmough, for all his lectures has had capacity or near capacity audiences.

The last two of the series, Language in Education, February 25, and Language and Human Stability, February 28, if not the most scientific promises to be among the most interesting of his discourses.

"DAVY OF BEGGS & COBB"

The February number of "Management Methods" has an article entitled "Davy of Beggs & Cobb—How He Won a Fair Day's Work," dealing in detail with Mr. Burton G. Davy's campaign to take Beggs & Cobb, historic old tannery in Winchester, out of unprofitable into profitable productivity by the application of the yardstick. "An Honest Day's Work for an Honest Day's Pay." The article describes the various steps that went into what Mr. Davy terms a new labor-management relationship which he claims is putting Beggs & Cobb back into successful competition with other firms in the leather industry, and guaranteeing the retention of the company's operations in Winchester.

FLUORIDATION PANEL DISCUSSION

All interested are cordially invited to attend a public hearing and panel discussion of fluoridation of public water supplies under the auspices of the Boston Nutrition Society, Inc., at 8 p.m., Thursday, February 28, at 30 Huntington avenue, Boston, one block from Copley Square.

Cyril C. Sullivan, for nine years chief of the Boston Division of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, will act as moderator, and speakers will be Charles A. Brusch, head of the Brusch Medical Center, Cambridge; John Auchter, Springfield attorney; David P. Whelan, Boston legislative expert; and Dr. Paul Manning, dentist, of Springfield.

INVITATION BONSPIEL

Ten or twelve Canadian rinks are participating in the third annual invitation curling bonspiel at the Winchester Country Club's rink this holiday week end. Among the 24 rinks taking part are those from The Country Club, Nashua, and St. Andrews as well as three wearing the Winchester colors. Joe Dolben and Howard Eteson will skip two of the rinks, and depending on a playoff, Geoff Neiley or Dr. Paul Sheeran, the other.

Elimination matches commenced Thursday with curling continuing today and tomorrow. The finals will be Sunday, followed by the usual prandial and presentation activities.

ARE EXHIBITION ROOM AND LECTURE HALL LIBRARY NECESSITIES?

In 1929 the report of the Library Planning Committee provided for an exhibition room in the new library. The plans were adopted at the Town Meeting of 1930, and the new building were erected and completed in 1931. "The Art Gallery was built with the idea of being also used for special exhibitions and lectures of a cultural nature . . ."

Has Town Benefitted?

In 1932 the Library Trustees called a meeting of interested townspeople for the purpose of forming an Art Association to sponsor exhibits in the library and generally stimulate interest in art. Since that time monthly exhibits have been enjoyed in the art gallery by our townspeople. These exhibitions have included not only loan exhibitions from other galleries but the art work of the pupils in our public schools.

The Winchester Art Association has met regularly in this Art Gallery and has sponsored not only exhibitions of paintings but also art classes for children and adults which are held there every Thursday.

In addition to the Art Association many other organizations in our town have used this meeting room, such as the Winchester Historical Society, Community Fund, Winchester Homefronters, Home and Garden Club, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Civilian Defense, and numerous other groups.

Because of the availability of a meeting room in the library, many children have acquired "the library habit" through the educational film programs which are shown here weekly.

In 1942, Family Night at the Library was inaugurated which is the showing of educational films in the Art Gallery for the family—parents and children come together every Friday evening to enjoy these fine films. Children's film programs are shown every Saturday morning. As they increased in popularity it became necessary for the children to obtain free tickets to insure a seat. Books and films are correlated and children are introduced to their own library. The gallery has made possible Book Talks, Book Fairs and other educational lectures and programs.

Most libraries in neighboring towns ie., Woburn, Stoneham, Arlington, Wakefield, have small meeting rooms seating 100 or more. Library groups of various types have met over the years in Winchester as well as in other libraries throughout the state.

Are Small Meeting Rooms Available?

There are no suitable meeting rooms in the schools with seating capacities of under 200. The only two which are centrally located are in the Junior High School with a seating capacity of 645 and in the Senior High School with a seating capacity of 1,050 It would not be feasible to supply heat, light and janitor service in the evenings for this type of small group which meets at the library. These groups ranging from 20 to 150 are too large to meet in homes but certainly too small to meet in such large auditoriums as those of the Senior and Junior High Schools. Naturally also, the use of the school auditoriums is largely given over to school activities and they are also used frequently by the larger groups in the Town.

Are Exhibition Hall and Meeting Room Adequate?

It would be desirable to provide a somewhat larger room with a seating capacity of about 150—175. Toilet facilities and a coatroom are needed. There are none in the present gallery.

In the proposed plans—the present art gallery is to be divided into a quiet reference area and open book shelves. A new wing providing for an exhibition hall and a meeting room is planned with a dividing partition so that use may be made of the hall by two small groups meeting at the same time. The hall is to be constructed as an independent unit so that late meetings may continue after the library has been closed.

If additional space is not forthcoming for the current library services—the present Art Gallery will have to be taken over as a supplementary Children's Area. This would in no way help to relieve the congestion in the adult services, nor produce adequate work areas for either department. It would mean a division by age groups thus necessitating more duplication of materials and require more personnel to run two different areas. This would mean, of course, curtailment of all services other than regular book service ie., film programs and those previously mentioned. It would mean no art gallery and no meeting place for the Art Association, Historical Society and the 30 - 40 other groups which have met at the library regularly during the past 25 years.

Desirability

(1) For library activities.

(2) No other small meeting room available for groups of 25—150. too small for the large town hall and school auditoriums.

(3) As a cultural center—no other art gallery in town.

In 1932 it was stated by the Board of Library Trustees that they believed that "The Public Library should be more than a collection of books. That it should be the intellectual center of town. With the cooperation of the citizens, we feel a contribution can be made towards increasing the attractiveness of the town and enlarging the activities of the library."

In the past twenty-five years this goal has been attained. Is this accomplishment to be taken away from the town now? Is our town to go backward?

Ed. Note: Another in the series by friends of the Library.

CHARLES HADLEY WATKINS

Charles Hadley Watkins of Middleton, formerly of Winchester, died suddenly Tuesday, February 19, in Washington. He suffered a stroke three weeks ago, shortly after arriving in Washington to act as head of the National Historic Sites Commission, to which he had been appointed in 1955 by President Eisenhower.

Mr. Watkins was long identified with the insurance business as broker, Boston agent and chairman of the board of the Excelsior Insurance Co., of Syracuse. He lived for many years at 2 Ridgefield road, leaving town in 1953 to go to Middleton where he and his wife bought and restored a 1750 house.

Mr. Watkins was the son of Rev. T. Corwin, and Emma H. Watkins. He was born December 1, 1886, in Boston, was graduated from Harvard in 1909 and received an honorary degree of A.M. in 1942.

Mr. Watkins had been active continually in Harvard affairs over the past 48 years, serving as a former class agent and chairman of the Harvard Fund; director of the Harvard Alumni Association and as chairman of the Committee of Decorative Arts for the Harvard Tercentenary in 1936.

He also served as chairman of the committee which restored the famous Dana-Palmer House on Quincy street, Cambridge; secretary and later president of the Harvard Club of Boston and vice president of the Associated Harvard Clubs.

He was a trustee of Mt. Ida Junior College; treasurer of the Sharon Sanitorium, director of Silas Pierce & Co., Ltd., and treasurer of the Lantern League of the Old North Church.

While in Winchester Mr. Watkins was actively identified with the Unitarian Church, serving as chairman of the standing and building committees of the church and acting as toastmaster at the banquet which celebrated the completion of the church parish house.

He was active in the Winchester Art Association, which he served as president, and he was one of the residents of the town to give a one-man exhibit in the Library Art Gallery, showing a part of his fine collection of etchings. He was president of the National Early American Glass Club.

He was also a former vice president of the Second National Bank of Malden and trustee of the Tewksbury State Hospital and Infirmary.

Mr. Watkins was a member of the Harvard Club of Boston, the Union Club, the Club of Odd Volumes and the Century Association of New York.

He was also a member of the visiting committee of the Busch-Reisinger Museum of Harvard and of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

Secretary of the Society for the Preservation of Covered Bridges, he also belonged to the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, the Essex Institute of Salem, the Middleton Historical Society, Rush Light Society, and the Cape Ann Littoral and Historical Society.

Mr. Watkins was long active in affairs of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and in 1942 helped to raise money to meet pressing needs of the orchestra.

As treasurer of the Lantern League, he played an important part in raising the money to rebuild the steeple of the Old North Church. This led to his first meeting with President Eisenhower, when he went to Washington to present a watercolor by Forrest Orr of the Old North Church with steeple restored.

He leaves his wife, Laura (Woodside); a son, C. Malcolm, associate curator of the Smithsonian National Museum in Washington; a brother, F. Webb of Shelburne Falls, and a sister, Mrs. Ralph G. Wilmot of Seattle.

FIRES

Residents are warned to watch sparks flying from incinerators as the grass-fire season has started again.

On Monday at 11:10 in the morning a grass fire was extinguished at Cross street.

A resident of 614 Main street called the fire station at 9:30 Monday night to report an odor of oil. Firefighters found that a space heater in Richardson's bicycle shop had flooded. They had to jimmy a side window to enter the shop to turn off the heater.

Firefighters put out two grass fires Tuesday, one at 11:20 in the morning in a field behind 38 to 42 Franklin road, the other at the rear of 34 Pond street, between that address and Horn Pond mountain at 2:45 that afternoon.

The fire station loaned two sump pumps to the Winchester Theatre Saturday after the boiler room there was flooded, putting the oil burner under water. The pumps worked all night to drain the water.

Firefighters were called to 58 Salisbury street Tuesday, where a short circuit in a wall plug had charred the plug and the plastic plate around the socket.

Firefighters had their hands full with two large brush fires Wednesday. At 12:50 p.m. Box 144 was rung in for a brush fire in the woods in back of Dunster Lane. Engine 2 responded, and shortly called back to the station for help. Engine 4 went into action, and an engine from Arlington also arrived. Hoses were attached to the hydrant in front of Irwin's barn, and the blaze was doused after about an hour.

The second brush fire was in a field owned by Russell Symmes Assoc. between Clearwater road and South Border road. Captain Amico responded to the first alarm at 1:55 p.m., and soon called for Engine 2 to help. An engine from Medford also came at the second alarm, and the firefighters labored for an hour to put out the blaze.

FOR SELECTMAN

Voters of Winchester:

As a candidate for Selectman, I have one desire—to help keep Winchester, the town where I was born and brought up, a good community in which my wife and I can bring up our three children.

Following graduation from Winchester High School (Class 1936), I attended Governor Dummer Academy for one year before going to Dartmouth College, where I graduated in 1941 and received my Master's degree from the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration in 1942. I then served over four years on sea duty in the United States Navy, during World War II, where I rose to the rank of Lieutenant Commander in command of a destroyer escort.

My entire business career has been in the banking field. I am now an Investment Officer with the Old Colony Trust Company and a Trust Investment Officer with the First National Bank of Boston. In 1952 I graduated from the Graduate School of Banking conducted by the American Bankers Association at Rutgers.

I have always taken a keen interest in Town affairs. In addition to serving as a Town Meeting Member from Precinct 3, I served three years on the Town Finance Committee from 1954-1956. Through these positions I have gained a familiarity with our town and its government which is invaluable to a Selectman.

In addition to my civic affairs, I have taken an active part in most of the local charitable drives. Last fall I served as Vice Chairman of the United Community Fund Red Feather Campaign. I have also been active in Dartmouth Alumni activities and am now serving as President of the Dartmouth Mystic Valley Club.

If you feel my background qualifies me for Selectman, I would appreciate your support on March 4.

AIR MAIL MEET ARRANGED

It's a small world! This week a communication was received at Winchester High School, addressed to the Director of Athletics requesting an air mail track meet between Winchester High School and Shore Line High School in Seattle, Wash.

The letter was signed Henry Thomson, track coach, and included the information that the writer formerly lived in Winchester and had played high school basketball for the then coach, Henry Knowlton, back in 1943-44.

Thomson did not know his old coach is now director of athletics here and coach of track. Coach Knowlton got off a reply to his former player at once, accepting the meet challenge and tentatively arranging the competition for the week of April 22.

ABSENT VOTER BALLOTS

Registered voters who expect to be absent from Winchester or who will be unable by reason of physical disability to cast their vote in person at the polling place on the day of the Annual Town Election, March 4, 1957, may obtain applications for Absent Voter Ballots at the Town Clerk's Office in the Town Hall.

Indians Avenge Earlier Loss

Winchester Beats Belmont, 55-47, For League Tie

Winchester High beat Belmont last Friday evening in a hat-hoisting basketball game at the local gymnasium, 55-47, coming from what looked early in the game like an insurmountable deficit. The victory reversed a previous one-basket defeat at the hands of Belmont and gave the Indians a tie with Belmont for the Middlesex League championship.

Belmont started like a sure winner as Winchester's defense seemed especially ineffective. The visitors led 17-8 midway through the first period, but at this point Winchester began to come to life, and 12 straight points wiped out the Belmont advantage and let Winchester lead at the end of the period, 20-17. A gee-whiz shooting percentage of 61 made this recovery possible.

Winchester poured it on during the second period with Greg Loser's jump shots keeping Belmont alive. The Indians led at the half, 35-30.

The third period saw the Indians slip a bit and dissipate their lead to a single point, totalling only eight points, all by Dave Bergquist, to hold a razor-thin 43-42 lead going into the final quarter.

It was Belmont's turn to fade in the last period as Mel Wenner's boys hit only one of twelve shots, while Winchester's slick-working captain, Mike Callahan, was increasing the local lead to six.

The stands were in an uproar as Devine tallied for Belmont to cut the Winchester lead to four points. Anything could have happened had Belmont scored again, but Roger Symmes, with only a minute remaining, scored on a jump shot, and Belmont's scoring effort proved fruitless.

Captain Callahan and his mates put on a freeze until ten seconds only remained. Then Mike fed Bergquist and Dave found the hoop to give the Indians a well-deserved eight-point lead.

The Winchester Jay Vees made it unanimous by eking out a 40-35 victory over the Belmont seconds with Dave Schumacher and Doug Thomson pacing the locals. The summaries:

SCHOLARSHIP

In preceding articles reference has been made to the Central Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association. Possibly some are wondering "Just what is this Central Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association" and those not having children in the Winchester schools, may be wondering about the Mothers' Association.

All mothers of children in the elementary, junior and senior high schools automatically become members of the Mothers' Association chapter of the school in which they have children, whether or not they pay dues, as well as members of the Winchester Mothers' Association.

Each chapter is named for its respective school, Washington Mothers' Association, Lincoln Mothers' Association, Mystic Mothers' Association, Wyman Mothers' Association, Noonan Mothers' Association, Parkhurst Mothers' Association. The Junior High chapter is called the Junior High Associates, includes fathers and meets in the evening. The High School chapter is called the High School Parent-Faculty Association, also includes fathers and meets in the evening.

Each chapter writes its own by-laws, has its own officers and plans its own meetings and programs.

The Winchester Mothers' Association is the co-ordinated group, including all chapters, has its own constitution and by-laws, and its own officers and committees who are drawn from all chapters.

Its governing board is made up of the officers, of committee chairmen and of the presidents and secretaries of each chapter. This governing board has come to be called the Central Board.

All of this information is given because, during the first week of April, many many mothers will go door to door throughout the town hoping all of you will want to give something to help the Scholarship Foundation.

There are, of course, many calls for funds today but this Winchester project for Winchester children is especially close to Winchester hearts. Anything is most accentable and the smallest contribution plays an important part in the grand total.

What better investment can be made as Americans, than to put money to work for our way of life by helping deserving and talented children to achieve the utmost in education, thereby enabling them to cope with the problems of this complex world.

Power Supreme ruled at the alleys with R. Tofuri, Al Thorne, and Fred Kimball ending up the high three bowlers for the night. Those hitting the "100" mark were: R. Tofuri 117, 112; Rotundi 115; Gorrasi and Bob Wyman 114; Al Thorne 113, 106; George Ross 112; Fred Kimball 112; Kenny Donaghey 111; F. Sylvester 104; George Cartier 103; Fran Allen 102; B. Merenda 101; and Charlie Manoli 100.

Last week I said there would be some changes in the standing. Villanova, captained by John Rotundi, has moved from the cellar to tie for third place in two weeks. Holy Cross took four points from Fordham and is ready to move out of the cellar next week. Georgetown, still in first place, will have to bowl a little better to hold their lead, as Villanova and Holy Cross are ready to move. Eight weeks bowling left and the winner of the first half Loyola, is ready to take on the second half winner for the Holy Name championship.

I regret to mention that one of our faithful bowlers, Frank Muraco, is ill at the hospital. Get better fast, Frank, we miss you.

The Star received its annual greeting from Charlie Dolan of Dallas, Texas, with his Star renewal last week-end. The former Winchester High athlete and B. C. Bald Eagle sends greetings to his old "Tourist Club" associates and reports everything lovely in the "big state." It will take a bit of covering to get his greetings to the "tourists" for this former highly mobile unit is now scattered far and wide.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Another week has come and gone and time passes very quickly.

The All Stars are starting to pull away from the rest of the pack as they start to show their superiority. The captain, Tony Saraco, is determined to give no quarter.

Team Standings	W	L	P.F.
All Stars	21	7	9761
Hot Shots	18	10	9738
Blue Eyes	18	10	9654
Rock & Roll	15	13	9725
High & Low	13	15	9730
Lindy Hop	13	15	9636
Jitterbugs	10	18	9374
Bee Bops	4	24	9330

Hi Single—Choppers Gangi 147
Hi Triple— Dick Fiore 356

Top Ten Bowlers

Tony Saraco	104.0
Dick Fiore	102.8
Richard Bucci	101.5
Joe Berardi	98.6
Bob Fiore	97.4
Babe Tofuri	97.0
Choppers Gangi	97.0
Tony Chefalo	94.2
Max La Carubba	93.9
Joe Riga	93.5

Tony Saraco heard rumors that unless he came up with a couple of big weeks he would be overtaken in the average department at the wire. He not only boosted his average this week but poured it on in the pinfall department with a spectacular 346.

This also made him the leader in the 300 circle. As he looks over his shoulder he notices that his chief cause of concern, Dick Fiore, bowled 325.

Bowlers 300 or over are Choppers Gangi, 325; Sam Corby, 307; Tony Chefalo, 306; Richard Bucci, 305. We had quite a few who deserve honorable mention this week. Eddie Forgione, 295; Jeff Gaudioso, 297; Dom Provinzano, 295; Joe Riga, 297; "Curly Locks" Chie Vespucci, 296; A. Fiore, 290; and last but not least, "Hokie," 290.

The distinct honor of high pinfalls went to the team which has been receiving all the glory and publicity these recent weeks. The All Stars have proved without the shadow of a doubt that they are the cock of the walk.

Their captain, Tony Saraco, has done a remarkable job in guiding his team which, in my opinion, is going to pick up all the marbles. His supporting cast is Tony Chefalo, Don Maestretta, Eddie Forgione, Joe Ciarcia and Tony Bardarsino.

It isn't my desire to wilfully humiliate any one individual, especially this particular bowler, who has contributed many hours to this community and has donated many free hours as Scoutmaster of Troop 1, but it is high time that he be told he is no bowler! Figures of 70-71-74 and a total of 215 should speak for themselves! His initials are M. D. S. and he is president of the Winchester Salvage Co.

Your scribe has been asked about the physical condition of that legendary character, "Hokie." We are very happy to announce that he is in the best of spirits and health these recent days, although about ten days ago he had an ingrown hair on the tip of his nose! As one bowler phrased it, "when he saw the end of his nose swollen it looked like a red golf ball perched upon a tee!" (His physician prescribed bathing it in a hot solution, which nearly caused his demise by drowning!)

We are sorry to announce that two of our brothers, Francis Murnco and Sam Puma are hospitalized, and we do hope that when this is read they are well on their way to recovery. This voices the wish of all the S. O. I. members.

We close another column and the award this week went to that well-known home builder and contractor, Fred La Torella.

See you next week!

Indians Blank Saugus, 5-0

Winchester Wins Playoff Opener

Winchester passed its opening test of the North Shore Hockey League championship playoffs last Saturday night, blanking Saugus, 5-0, at the Lynn Arena before a capacity crowd.

The Indians were slow in getting started and neither team was able to score during the first period.

Winchester really poured it on during the second period when the Indians scored all their goals. Captain Leo Callahan started the parade, and scoring what was actually the winning goal as things turned out on a pretty solo dash from the right side. His shot from 15 feet out found the corner of the Saugus net.

Only 1 minute and 40 seconds of the period had elapsed when Leo belted in this tally, and within another minute Callahan had scored another from almost the same spot, this time being set up by Joey Cussen.

Winchester's second line was in action when the next goal was scored with Bob Weaver centering the puck in front of the Saugus net after digging it out of the corner. The disk hit Goaler Cunningham's skate and bounced into the net for a goal that counted even if it was a bit on the lucky side.

Johnny Kelleher, big Indian defenseman, scored the next goal for the locals on a dash from the Winchester zone, splitting the defense to beat Cunningham on a hot shot from close up.

Cussen, Callahan and company combined for the final tally with Joey actually getting the goal, holding his shot until the last possible second after being perfectly set up by Callahan.

Neither team could score in the last period, and once again Winchester's George Denton put on a sterling performance in the nets, turning away several shots that looked to be ticketed.

The summary:

Winchester—goal, Denton; defense, McElholm, Kelleher; forwards, Cussen, Zirkel; center, Callahan.

Spares: Weaver, Davenport, Sandberg, Emerson, Scott, Sullivan, Harkins.

Saugus—Goal, Cunningham; defense, Secor, Light; forwards, Matthews, O'Neil; center, Comeau.

Spares: Stead, Platt, Sullo.

2nd period goals—Callahan, 2; Weaver, Kelleher, Cussen.

SINGING IN TUFTS OPERA

The Tufts University Choral Society and Community Orchestra will be presented by the department of music in Offenbach's comic opera, "La Vie Parisienne," Friday and Saturday evenings, March 8 and 9, at the Cohen Art Center on the Tufts campus.

The chorus and soloists will be directed by Prof. Kenneth MacKillop, Jr., music department chairman, assisted by Prof. Ruth Elder of the department of drama and speech, who will serve as dramatic director.

A member of the "La Vie Parisienne" cast, Natalie L. Bellows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight E. Bellows of 2 Lantern Lane, is a sophomore at Jackson College, liberal arts college for women at Tufts University.

WRIGHT SPARKS BROWN FIVE

Brown University's improvement in the second half of the current basketball season is due in a large degree, Bruin Coach Stanley Ward feels, to the play of Winchester's Jim Wright, a sophomore who recently earned a starting forward berth.

Wright, a 6'2" product of Winchester High School, typifies the player who has made the most of consistency and defensive ability. "Jimmy will never be an outstanding scorer," Coach Ward points out, "but he has added stability to the club and is definitely one of our stronger defensive ball players."

Besides his defensive contributions, Wright has shown steady improvement in both scoring and rebounding during the last several games. More than one-third of his 63 points have come in Brown's last four outings, and he has averaged seven rebounds a game over the same period. "If he can get us seven or eight points a game, I'll be perfectly happy," Ward says.

Jim's play for the Bruins takes on added significance when one considers his willing shift from guard to a forward position. He worked in the backcourt last season as captain of Brown's freshman team, which won nine of 15 starts. But when Ward needed added strength up front on the varsity, the former Winchester standout did not hesitate to make the switch.

Wright started only one game during the first semester while Brown was winning two games and losing nine. Scoring eight points in each of the Bruin's last two games, however, he seems to have hit his stride.

"I'm confident," Coach Ward says, "that Jimmy will be a big help to us in the next two years."

Wright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Wright of 8 Stratford road, Winchester.

Another player from Winchester High, junior Maxwell R. McCreery, has scored 27 points in a reserve role for the Brown varsity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery of 4 Curtis street, Winchester.

"Connie" Gowdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gowdy of 4 Lantern lane, was poster chairman for the 10th Annual Religious Embassy program, sponsored by the Christian Association of the University of Massachusetts and held at the University February 10, 11 and 12.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION PRESENTS BALLET CARNIVAL

This year the Play Committee of the Mothers' Association is again bringing a theater production to Winchester for the children's enjoyment. As you know, this is a non-profit project of the Mothers' Association—its sole purpose is to bring live theater for the children's entertainment and education. Two years ago it was "The Colonial Drummer Boy" and last year "King Arthur's Magic Sword" that delighted the audiences.

On March 1 in the high school auditorium at 3:30 p.m. there will be an enchanting afternoon with the Begg's Ballet Carnival. The first part of the program will be "Cinderella" and the second part will feature "The Big Top"—with dancing bears, acrobats of the high wire, performing poodles, Ben the Wonder Horse, a host of whirling clowns, and other circus favorites.

Tickets will be sold in the schools the week of February 25—on Tuesday the 26th and Wednesday the 27th—by the committee representatives: Lincoln - Mrs. Robert J. Grenzeback; Mystic - Mrs. Richard Chase; Noonan - Mrs. Edward Rendall; Parkhurst - Mrs. T. E. Burleigh, Jr.; Washington - Mrs. Charles Bund; Wyman - Mrs. Roger Welles. After Wednesday if you wish to purchase tickets, please call Mrs. Taggart, WInchester 6-4146, or Mrs. Millican at WInchester 6-2203. Tickets will be sold at the door if there are any available on Friday afternoon.

So do come to see the Carnival!

Pine Manor Junior College, of Wellesley, announces that Senior, Mary Ann Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Morgan of 10 Francis Circuit, has been named in the Honors group of the Dean's List for the first semester.

INDIANS SELECTED

WINCHESTER IN THIRD CONSECUTIVE STATE HOCKEY TOURNEY

For the third consecutive year, the Winchester High School hockey team has been selected to compete in the Massachusetts State interscholastic hockey tournament.

Eight teams were seeded of the twenty-four teams selected. Winchester was seeded as the fourth best team in the state following such hockey powers as Melrose, Malden Catholic, and Lynn English.

This is a far cry from the first time that Coach Frank Finigan led his Sachems into the State Tourney two years ago to emerge the Cinderella team and from five years ago when he first took the hockey assignment at the high school. Hockey has now come of age in the the high school athletic program. According to Coach Finigan much of this success is due to the tremendous backing and the cooperation of Athletic Director Henry Knowlton.

The tourney games will be played at the Boston Arena, but the Winchester opponent for Saturday will be chosen from one of the winners of the first set of play-off games on Wednesday.

ARLINGTON-WINCHESTER SIMMONS CLUB TO MEET

The February meeting of the Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club will be held at the Wyman School on Wednesday, February 27, at 7:30 p. m.

Following the coffee hour and business meeting, Mr. Richard Anderson, a member of the club by marriage, will present a film and informal talk on "A Visit With Our Mexican Neighbors."

Plans will be made for the annual banquet and this year's project. Everyone is urged to attend.

*Ninety-Percent

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch . . . like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

DR. CLARK AMHERST PANEL MEMBER

Richard J. Clark, M.D., of 21 Sheffield West, served as a panel member for a session on Medicine at the sixth annual Career Conference recently held at Amherst College. An Amherst alumnus he received his degree in 1928.

More than 40 business leaders, professional men, government officials and scientists met with Amherst students on career planning. Included during the two-day program were panel sessions on banking, finance accounting, publishing, sales, advertising, journalism, law, teaching, scientific research, manufacturing, personnel, insurance, government and medicine.

The annual conference is designed to acquaint Amherst undergraduates with opportunities in a variety of career fields and is part of the college's counseling program. Although recruiting was not a part of the conference, many company officials are expected to visit the college during the coming months to interview seniors.

WINCHESTER ELIGIBLE FOR MYSTIC VALLEY MENTAL HEALTH ASSOCIATION

In these days of accelerated interest in the field of mental health the announcement of a proposed area mental health association which would include Winchester is of special import. The planned Mystic Valley Mental Health Association would be an affiliate of the Massachusetts Association of Mental Health, which is a division of the National Association for Mental Health. These organizations are made up of groups of citizens working together on a voluntary and non-profit basis for the conservation and advancement of mental health.

The local association is proposed to cover the townships of Arlington, Bedford, Concord, Lexington, Winchester and Woburn. The many Winchester people who have already shown an interest in this association will join with groups in these neighboring towns, all brought together by the desire to learn more about this largest of all national health problems.

A meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 27, at 8 p.m. at the Follen Church Community Center in East Lexington. This meeting has been called to adopt by-laws and to discuss plans of this association. Subsequently it is hoped that Winchester residents will form a mental health committee to formulate local plans. All interested Winchester residents are invited to attend. For more information or for a ride on this evening, please call Mrs. Harrison Lyman, Jr., at WInchester 6-3307, Mrs. Harry G. Taylor at WInchester 6-4416, or Mrs. W. Langdon Powers at WInchester 6-0402.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 3

At their regular meeting on February 18, the following boys received awards at the February board of review:

Second Class—William Gaffney, Richard Geary, Alan Hodge, Paul Howard, Frank Manzie, John MacLellan, George Reppucci, David Wallace, first class; and Kenneth Forte, Star Scout.

Merit Badges — Kenneth Forte, reading; Robert Newton, citizenship in the home and citizenship in the community; James Reid, citizenship in the home, first aid and music; Joseph Russo, bird study and citizenship in the community; Clifford Sundberg, art and citizenship in the nation; David Taylor, home repairs.

Twenty of the boys of the troop are planning a three-day trip to Camp Fellsland over the holiday week end and expect to add to their advancement record during this time.

Troop 3 is also planning its fortieth birthday party on February 28 by having a dinner and parents' night with its past scoutmasters as guests. At that time two of the scouts will recieve the highest award in Scouting, the Eagle Badge. Explorer Post 3 will join with the troop that evening and two of the Explorers will also receive the Eagle Award. It is expected that February 28 will be a big evening for the oldest continuous operating troop in Winchester.

Many old members of Troop 3 protested the story in the Star two weeks ago about Troop 3's first Eagle Scout, as Troop 3 has had at least 30 Eagle Scouts since it started. We understand, however, that the author of that story was responsible for mixing up Troop 2 with Troop 3. To add to the confusion, the Scoutmaster of Troop 3 was honored to have been invited to present the Eagle Award to Bill Macdonald of Troop 2.

LIONS CLUB NEWS

The Winchester Lions Club welcomes two members. They are William J. McDonough of Woburn, who is on the staff of the Winchester National Bank; and Alfred H. Brabant of North Woburn, who is the owner of Ann's Doughnut shop on upper Main street.

On Monday, February 11, the guest speaker at the weekly meeting was Gilbert Oakes, a jewel expert. His talk on jewels was very interesting and informative to the members.

He told the members that there is a 40% loss on a rough diamond in the process of cutting it. He stated that only one-tenth of one percent of all diamonds cut are Blue-White and perfect diamonds, also that there are about 10 color grades of Diamonds.

A very interesting part of his talk was when he said that a new method of processing has been developed whereby they treat diamonds with cyclotrons to produce shades of brown, green, etc., in diamonds that make them have a high market value. The methods of diamond crooks and sharpies was very educational.

On Monday, February 18, 11 traveling Lions, headed by King Lion Dick Rogers, hit the trail for Newburyport, where they met with the Newburyport Lions at the Little Lebanon Restaurant. The 11 Lions who growled their way into the Little Lebanon were: Pete Giannotte, Dick Rogers, Wally Scrivens, Joe Strazzere, Pete Marchesi, Sam Bonasera, Jim McLaughlin, Randy Kazazian, Billy McDonough, Bob Shohet and Vic Ficociello.

Father and child night will be held on Monday, February 25, at Randalls. This is expected to be a bang up affair, as plans of the Program and Entertainment are announced.

Chairman R. Kazazian has announced that plans for a drive to collect used eye-glasses and frames are being worked out. More about this later.

"BELL, BOOK AND CANDLE"

by John Van Druten
Produced by the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church on February 14, 15 and 16
under the direction of
Harlan F. Grant

The Cast

Gillian Holroyd — Marian T. Blake
Shepherd Henderson, — Henry K. Fitts
Miss Holroyd — Jacqueline Sibley
Nicky Holroyd, — George S. Hebb, Jr.
Sidney Redlitch — Robert P. Blake
Pyewacket — Petroushka Archibald

The female of eerie fascination who works her will upon others—the male sex in particular—is a familiar figure on our stage. The practice of feminine witchery is as universal as eating (as most of us have discovered), but John Van Druten had the intriguing idea of introducing a dash of mediaeval witchcraft into a modern situation, and weaving therefrom a play.

A modern young woman possessed of supernatural gifts is not too believable a character, but such is Mr. Van Druten's craftsmanship and skill of the theatre that he contrives to keep the idea steadily entertaining. True, the middle section of his comedy lapses into conventional love business, with its well-known ups and downs, but his skill in previous and subsequent portions more than makes up, and the play as a whole provides a pleasant evening's diversion.

No doubt, too, the deftness of the Parish Players had something to do with it. It was indeed pleasant to see this veteran cast with their skilful interplay and acting talent milk all the goodness out of this somewhat naive concoction, and emerge with characters so human and colorful.

Who would choose between Marian Blake and Jacqueline Sibley as the bright particular star of this play? Certainly not this reviewer! From the curtain's rise, both were equally at home in their parts and entrenched in the hearts of their audience. From the sinister gleam in her eyes as she cast her first spell through growing tenderness as she yielded in turn to the spell of Romance, to withering scorn and righteous indignation in the final act, Marian, as always, played the part for everything there was in it. And can she use her eyes!

Into the part of the eccentric aunt Jacqueline poured her theatrical bag of tricks—the simper, the slink, the exuberance, the gestures, the giggles, the grimaces — and from it all emerged a character that added color, vivacity and charm to the evening's enjoyment. An intriguing portrayal.

As for Henry Fitts, his talents seem to grow with each impersonation. We envy him his naturalness and ease of manner. (And good-looking, too! Or is "handsome" the word? "Handsome" is the word!) Thanks to the skill of both, his love scenes with Marian Blake—it seems to me—gave the illusion of reality — something amateur love scenes rarely do.

In lesser parts, George Hebb, Jr., lent the role of Nicky Holroyd a pleasing personality and a well-rounded impersonation; while Bob Blake, as the magician without the "temperament" or "nerve" for it, did his usual efficient job in a difficult part.

What can one say of Piewacket (nee Petroushka Archibald) except that she came through with flying colors just being her own delightful self! Not that she failed to show an occasional flash of temperament, but then, an actress is entitled to that. And histrionic talent, we learn, runs in her family. (We wonder what she really thought! Could it be, perhaps: "There go those crazy humans, up to their silly tricks again. Well, guess I'd better humor 'em. After all, it's a living!")

The single setting evoked audience comment, as usual, and, as usual, the expert hand of Harlan Grant, the director, was evident throughout.

TUFTS SOLICITORS TO MEET TUESDAY

More than 25 Winchester residents have already agreed to serve as solicitors for the Tufts Alumni Fund drive in this town, to be held the week of March 10.

The solicitors, who will contact personally all Tufts alumni in the town, will meet Tuesday evening, February 26, at the home of Dwight Bellows, co-chairman, at 2 Lantern Lane, to plan the campaign. The meeting will begin at 7:30.

Any person willing to serve as a solicitor, who has not been asked by oversight, may contact Dwight Bellows or Herbert Black, co-chairmen, or Joseph Morton, former alumni secretary.

Want to make an occasion of Washington's Birthday? Be our guest. Come in for a close-up view of the smoothest number that ever touched tires to pavement! If you like a car with a clean-cut, youthful appearance, Pontiac's your baby. There's not a touch of the old hat here! And as sure as you're the type that likes to step out and go places, you're going to like the way Pontiac takes to the road. Handling this husky is strictly a breeze. Give an order and you get a lightning-quick response. The ride's nothing less than sensational, satin-smooth and even-keeled even on hairpin curves. And as for performance—well, that you must feel to appreciate. So do come in . . . and bring the whole family. They'll all enjoy going places in America's No. 1 Road Car!

NASON TO DISCUSS HARVARD FOOTBALL

What will happen to Harvard football? What problems will confront Lloyd Jordan's successor? These and other questions will be answered by Jerry Nason, Sports Editor of The Boston Globe at the next meeting of the Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex on Tuesday, February 26.

Mr. Nason will take "A Look at Harvard Athletics" and discuss how recent developments may affect the University, the students and alumni.

The meeting will be held at the White Spot Restaurant, Route 3, at Four Corners, in Woburn, beginning at 6:30, with dinner planned for 7:30. All Harvard alumni and friends in the Melrose, Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Winchester and Woburn area are invited to attend.

MYSTIC SCHOOL ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

On Wednesday, February 13, Mrs. Geary's fourth grade presented its annual assembly program to the boys and girls of the Mystic School. The program was uniquely presented in two parts.

Charlotte Dennett led the class in the first part of the program which portrayed the years in the Life of George Washington. Each selection was presented in poetic form and every member of the class participated.

"The Return of George Washington," a very clever play, made up the second part of the assembly on our Great President. It depicted George Washington returning to visit our country today and finding himself completely enthusiastic about the series of contrasts between the American way of life during his period and the American way of life today. Our First President was proud of the growth of our country and its continued position as a stronghold of peace and the freedom of man, so important to George Washington during the birth of our nation.

Robert Somerby played the part of George Washington and Bruce Jordan was the boy of today.

PARENTS PANEL

The Rev. John W. Ellison, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, will serve as moderator of a panel at the Wyman School Auditorium on Tuesday evening, March 5, at 7:30 for a discussion of such topics of parental interest as allowances, household responsibilities, helping children with their homework and social relationships with other children, and others.

Composing the panel are Dr. Harry Gilson, superintendent of Schools, Dr. James Wingate, psychiatrist; Dr. Harold Wheeler, pediatrician; Mrs. Ralph Jope and Mr. Arthur Johns. The Wyman Parents Organization is sponsoring the panel.

LINCOLN SCHOOL DADS' CLUB

The annual Valentine's Cabaret Dance, sponsored by the Lincoln School Dads' Club, was held this past Saturday evening at the school auditorium. If you weren't there, you missed an excellent evening of dancing and entertainment. The hall was gaily decorated with streamers, ribbons and silver balls in a gay Valentine Day atmosphere and music was provided for by Gentile's Orchestra.

There was a large turnout of happy couples that enjoyed the continuous dancing and frolicking. There were many familiar faces and also several new ones that we are especially happy to have welcomed aboard. Everyone enjoyed themselves immensely.

Refreshments in the form of coffee, soft drinks and doughnuts were available at all times to help restore the energy of all the dancing people.

Many prizes were donated and awarded at various times during the evening. The lucky winners included Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Fickett, Mrs. Maggio, Pete Graziano and Joe Marrone. Our sincere thanks go to the many local merchants who graciously donated these prizes.

Everyone had an enjoyable evening and as they wearily wended their way home for the evening were looking forward to, and making plans for, our next event of similar nature—namely, the annual spring dance. So keep your eyes and ears open; we'll be sending you more information on that in due time.

To the many members who assisted in making this dance a fine success, the committee extends its sincerest thanks.

MEN'S FORENOON GROUP

A new organization of men seems to be meeting a need in Winchester. Composed of men who are retired from business careers or who are doing part-time work, the group meets on the first and third Tuesday mornings and ten thirty in the library room of the Unitarian Church.

Many interests are shared by the men, from farming to clipper ships, investments, current affairs, townwise and worldwise, but the basic interest is fellowship. Based somewhat on the "cracker barrel" kind of meeting the group is informal. There are no membership requirements. Everyone is welcome.

Edward Chamberlain of 16 Pine street is chairman for the next meeting on March 5. The subject will be constructive use of leisure time.

SAINT MARY'S MOTHERS' CLUB

St. Mary's Mothers' Club received a treat as well as a treatment at their meeting on Wednesday evening, February 13. Woody Ross of "Ross Hair Styles," Thompson street, gave the members a very entertaining evening.

He did four hair styles that afternoon on models, and made up two of the ladies. Betty Cosgrove, who has a natural twist, had it brought out to perfection by Mr. Ross's unique lamp out.

Alice Sullivan and Marie Ryan looked to glamorous that their husbands thought they were in the wrong houses. Betty Kirk had hair and make-up treatments, and with Betty's natural assets, the results can easily be imagined. Eleanor Bates, who wears her hair long and straight, very becomingly, had her face made up very prettily.

Mr. Ross had a question and answer period after his lecture. His audience learned many interesting things; for instance, castor oil is good for the hair.

The club is really getting enthused about their fashion show on May 16th. President Elizabeth Iannacci informed the members that Peck and Peck is going to do the show, and Woody Ross will do the make-up.

Fran Penta and Mary McGrath, assisted by the fifth grade mothers, served coffee and a delicious dessert to top off a perfect evening.

CARE TV COFFEE PARTY

Would you care to come to the aid of our Hungarian Friends of Freedom? This is one way:

On Monday, February 25, at 9:45 a. m. Mr. Harold Putnam and officials of WBZ are presenting an interesting and informative fifteen minute film, taken during Mr. Darcy Wilson's recent trip to the Hungarian borders.

The Greater Boston Volunteer Care Committee is urging that as many gals as possible will either hold or attend a coffee party where they will view this film and contribute one dollar ($1.00) for a CARE package to be sent to these brave, hungry and homeless people.

The Committee says "We realize in addition to being an early hour, it is also wash day, but couldn't we for just one Monday morning sacrifice a bit and demonstrate just how much we Care?"

Please won't you call and tell us that you will gather in a few neighbors and put Winchester over the top in this effort. Kindly call Mrs. Henry Marcionette, Chairman; WInchester 6-0163.

BADMINTON CLUB NEWS

For those people who have been asking whether or not the Badminton Club is active this year, the answer is, definitely yes. We are playing every Tuesday and Thursday evening in the Junior High School gym. At the beginning of the season we were pleased to welcome a number of new members to our club and we want to remind anyone who would like to play with us, that we will be playing for another two months and it is not too late to join.

To date our teams have performed very creditably in the League matches against teams which have more members with State ranking than our Winchester players. We began the season with an unfortunate loss against the University Club but have since overpowered Needham and Tedesco, and last week tied with Framingham with the following scores:

Men's Doubles
B. Hawley and T. von Rosenvinge lost to H. Sherrerd and E. Nitt 11-15, 4-15.
E. Williams and W. Gray lost to J. Lager and D. Lager, 15-11, 3-15, 13-18.
E. Williams and B. Hersey defeated J. Mahoney and H. Chandler, 15-1, 8-15, 15-4.
L. Quigley and M. Parsons lost to E. Warwick and H. Chandler, 9-15, 10-15.

Ladies' Doubles
M. Kajander and M. Moore lost to J. Franchi and P. Seavey, 5-15, 4-15.
L. Hersey and R. Murray lost to J. Misner and E. Franchi, 9-15, 7-15.

Mixed Doubles
B. Hawley and M. J. MacDonald defeated E. Nitt and I. Chravorini, 15-11, 15-10.
E. Williams and M. Moore defeated H. Sherrerd and T. Franchi, 15-13, 5-15, 15-14.
T. von Rosevinge and L. Hersey defeated J. Lager and E. Franchi, 17-16, 15-8.
W. Gray and M. Kajander defeated D. Lager and A. Lager, 15-10, 15-10.

We are most anxious to develop players for our League games, so those of you who came only early in the season, come on down again and win a place on one of the teams.

A number of clubs in the Greater Boston area are sponsoring junior badminton—if there are any boys and girls of Junior High or High School age living in Winchester who would seriously like to learn the game, please contact Mr Gray at WInchester 6-0582-R. If sufficient interest is shown in this idea, the Winchester Badminton Club will be glad to organize a junior group.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 40 NEWS

The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 40, and Lillian Monsen and Dorothy Durfee, Leaders, made a trip to Patrick J. Gill & Sons Jewellers on Tuesday, February 12. We saw how different pieces of jewelry were made, such as silver bowls, candlesticks and pen holders. The girls liked it best when they showed us how different things were plated with gold. The last thing we saw was the polishing process. It was an interesting afternoon and we all enjoyed it very much.

Fly-up Training
There will be Fly-up training for all Fourth Grade leaders Tuesday, February 26, at 9:30 p. m. at the Girl Scout office.

Camp Committee
The Camp Committee will meet Friday, March 1, at 9:30 a. m. at the Girl Scout Cabin.

Winterizing the Cabin
The first step in winterizing the Girl Scout cabin has been accomplished. The changes in the heating system were completed this week, making it possible to keep the small rooms warm at all times.

Scout's Own March 3
We know all friends and parents of Winchester Girl Scouts will want to be present at the first Scout's Own that has been held in Winchester for a long time. The new High School auditorium makes it possible for all our Girl Scouts to meet together. The program will be conducted mainly by the girls. More about this next week.

GRAY LADIES HONORED AT TEA

The Winchester Red Cross Gray Ladies were guests at a tea given by Mrs. Frank C. Herrick, Chairman of the Gray Lady Service, and Mrs. O. W. Merrow of Fletcher street, her co-chairman. Mrs. Herrick held the tea in her attractive home on Ainsworth road, on Friday, February 8, and presented a very pleasant afternoon for the ladies who enjoyed the opportunity to get better acquainted. It was a nice way of saying "thank you" to these faithful workers who have volunteered so many hours of their time to help the Red Cross program at the Winchester Hospital, the Bloodmobile Days; the Bedford Hospital and the Boston Blood Center.

On Sunday, February 10, the following Gray Ladies' Mrs. Edward M. Feeley, Miss Constance Davy, and Miss Marion Arrell, assisted by Mrs. Harrison Wagner, of the Canteen Service, served a coffee hour at the Bedford Hospital to a group of veterans and their families. They served about one hundred and twenty-five guests.

Volunteers are always needed for the important Gray Lady service—particularly in acting as receptionists at the Winchester Hospital during the visiting hours each afternoon and evening, daily.

If you, or anyone you know, is interested in becoming a Gray Lady will you please call the Red Cross Headquarters at WInchester 6-2300.

SOUTHERN BOUND

Henry McCormack of McCormack's Drug Store in Billerica and Fred McCormack of McCormack's Apothecary, with their wives, are enjoying a three weeks cruise in the Caribbean and South American waters on the Ile de France.

An "Interprofessional Cruise," many among the passengers are members of the medical profession in New England. Several meetings will be held aboard ship and the McCormacks are planning to attend those pertaining to pharmaceutics. Pharmaceutical organizations will act as their hosts at the various ports of call, which include St Thomas, Virgin Islands, Martinique, Barbadoes, Trinidad, Venezuela, Curacao, Panama and Cuba.

SMITH COLLEGE CLUB

On Wednesday, February 27, at 1:30 p. m. the Winchester Smith College Club will hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Hood, Jr., at 6 Everett avenue.

Mrs. Clarence Whorf will report to the Club on her recent visit to Smith College. Mrs. Whorf has been in Northampton to attend the annual council of the Smith College Alumnae Association. The council is attended by representatives of all Smith Alumnae groups. All Club members are urged to attend this meeting, which promises to be most interesting.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The Division of Scholarships of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs is sponsoring several scholarships which should be of interest to students at our High School.

Among the institutions offering these are the Garland School, a Junior College, specializing in Home Economics; Portia Law School and Calvin Coolidge College of Liberal Arts, Academie Moderne, Saturday classes at the Museum of Fine Arts, School of Practical Art, Vesper George School of Art, The Faulkner Hospital School of Nursing, and Pierce Secretarial School.

All located in Boston, students may avail themselves of the opportunity to attend these schools of fine reputation, with tuition eased by generous scholarships.

Qualifications and requirements can be learned at the High School office or by contacting the chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the Fortnightly, Mrs. Frank B. McCullough, 38 Jefferson road, telephone WInchester 6-2508.

In addition, the New England Conservatory of Music and Boston University also are offering scholarships available to high school seniors, the former in piano, voice, or instrumental study.

During April, auditions will be held at the Conservatory but for detailed information regarding requirements, consult Mrs. McCullough.

In most cases the applications must be in by April first but at the Pierce Secretarial School the date is March 10 and at the Faulkner School of Nursing March 1. So don't delay if you are interested!

SENIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP OF FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Enthusiasm increases as the Youth Fellowship of First Baptist Church continues its study of the Great Religions of the World.

The group will meet Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Gustavson, 74 Salisbury street. Edwin H. Tuller, Jr., will lead the discussion on "The Catholic Faith," and a film strip will help to acquaint the group with fundamental facts.

Refreshments and an hour of fellowship will bring the evening to a close.

EDITORIALS

The Automobile Owners' Association makes public the fact that deaths due to auto accidents from 1900 to 1954 total 1,146,500 as opposed to 550,052 deaths due to wars, both those prior to and after World War I. Each year there are more and more cars on the road and each year those increased numbers of cars on the average are faster and more powerful, despite the limited opportunities to use such power and speed safely. What is the answer?

What has happened to our National Holidays? More and more each year business houses are ignoring them and opening all day when the law permits and after one o'clock when it does not. Naturally those merchants who feel that holidays should be observed do not like this opening any more, probably, than the help at the stores that open like to work when their business friends have a free day. Of course, those largely responsible for the holiday opening are those who patronize the stores on those days. If no one shopped on holidays, all stores would close up tight!

EXPENSIVE AND DANGEROUS HABITS

Editor of the Star:

"Because of the rising death rate from lung cancer, the American Cancer Society has allocated more than $1,000,000 for research on this disease. The relationship of cigarette smoking to lung cancer has been widely discussed. Based on the mounting statistical evidence from several studies, it seems to be clear that a man who smokes two packages of cigarettes or more a day has about one chance in 10 of eventually developing lung cancer. A man who smokes less than a pack a day has about one chance in 36 of developing the disease. The nonsmoker has about one chance in 270 of developing it."

A few years ago when scientists finished their research on cigarette tobacco and announced their findings, the manufacturers of cigarettes realized that the revealed truth of it was more than a passing concern to them. They could not deny the fact that several injurious chemicals were found. Something must be done about it, their fortune depended upon increasing sales and a cessation was impending. Then there was a rush to make filters, that allegedly, would make smoking safe. Each manufacturer exploited his own.

Scientists have found that, to date, filters do not make cigarette smoking harmless. "An American Cancer Society study of nearly 200,000 middle-aged men has reported that smoking apparently increases the risk of death from coronary heart attacks, as well as from lung cancer."

Following a temporary lull in the activity of sales of cigarettes, as well as of whiskey, there has been a great increase of both, due to a tremendous expenditure of advertising in newspapers and magazines. Convinced that it "pays to advertise," full-page advertisements were made attractive by skilled artists who seek to allure and beguile. Pretty girls and smiling boys appear happy by indulgence. The alcoholic smilingly displays his favorite brand in a way to tempt the thoughtless and unwary. Thus millions are spent in promoting the sale of non-essentials that injure and debauch.

The manufacturers of whiskey keep the Alcoholism Boston Committee and Alcoholics Anonymous busy night and day, faithfully serving the fallen in ways considered the most effective. There are 15,000 Alcoholics Anonymous in the United States, and four or five thousand in New England that have been helped.

The Christian Statesman in an article the writer has before him states "we now have 4,589,000 alcoholics and over 3,000,000 additional problem drinkers in the United States, and that the total of these is increasing at the rate of 250,000 a year."

"The United States is spending $15.25 per pupil for education annually, and $58.00 per capita on liquor, says the Biblical Recorder. About 100,000 persons are rejected by life insurance companies every year in this country on account of alcoholic indulgence."

The poverty, broken homes, unhappiness, juvenile delinquency, deaths caused on the highways by automobiles driven by alcoholics and blighted genius, make one realize how deserving of God's blessing are they who toil in Alcoholics Anonymous and the Alcoholism Boston Committee to help the fallen.

"When we do good to our fellow sufferers, we invest in a savings bank from which the heart receives the interest."

Daniel C. Dennett, M.D.

WHOSE RESPONSIBILITY!

Editor of the Star:

In the Winchester Star received February 15 is the synopsis of the play "Liliom" presented by the junior-senior classes of Winchester High School.

As a parent of four children (three pre-schoolers) I would like to ask the question, "What will my youngsters have to see for entertainment 10-12 years hence, if present-day hi-schoolers need that type of play to hold their interest?"

Is it solely the responsibility of the churches and homes in a supposedly Christian country to teach correct behavior attitudes and mores? Can our teen-agers act in plays starring immorality, suicide, second chances after death, and not feel life is cheap?

What are we as parents allowing to be given to our children under the guise of education?

Science teaches cause and effect.

The Bible teaches . . . "beloved . . . Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

"For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption . . ."

Shall we sow the wind that we may reap the whirlwind?

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Marjorie Cheever
147 Ridge street

"UNHAPPILY MARRIED"

Editor of the Star:

It seems to me that the proposed library additions would be unhappily married to the present structure, since the use of standard "modern" trappings in these wings hardly respects the interesting design of the existing building. Am I alone in finding such a stylistic union, already seen in the Washington, Mystic, and high schools, aesthetically repelling?

If we are to have good "modern" (as they say!), why not conceive it in a separate foundation?

Sincerely,
Sergei Sorokin
8 Cliff street

FROM THE PARK BOARD

February 20, 1957

Mrs. Arthur R. Hills
19 Ledyard road
Winchester

Dear Mrs. Hills:

During recent years, we have endeavored to have a town managed skating program on Little Winter Pond on Woodside road.

A sum is appropriated each year to engage a part-time supervisor to manage the program when there is good skating, and on such occasions the flood lights are turned on each evening. One of the principal duties of this position is not to allow hockey, and also to try and keep the attendance to only Winchester people.

When the ice is sufficiently strong (six inches thick or more), the tractor is used to scrape the ice. When this is not possible, the task is done by hand.

We appreciate the fact that the program of the Winchester Country Club is probably more efficiently operated than that of the town. However, it should be realized that as a municipality, our permanent men, after a snow fall, are working on snow removal for the town, and therefore, it is not possible for us to clean the ice as promptly as, no doubt, is accomplished by the Country Club. This is also true in regards to our equipment, which after a snow storm, is loaned to the Highway Department to aid in snow removal.

Experience has shown that it is extremely difficult to engage persons who will go immediately after a storm and clean the ice and spray the ice when it is necessary. As an economy measure, we believe it would be unwise to engage persons for this work on a permanent basis for the winter months.

Furthermore, this pond is under the control of the State and we, therefore, do not actually have the authority to restrict this pond for the exclusive use of Winchester people.

Some years ago, we attempted to flood and maintain a skating area for the children on the West Side Playground. As fast as we installed the necessary equipment, the children, themselves, destroyed it. As a result we gave up in disgust.

Very truly yours,
Frederick M. Ives, Jr.
Chairman
Winchester Park Board

Ed. Note: The Park Commissioners asked for publication of this reply to the recent letter of Mrs. Hills.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

HISTORY FILMSTRIPS AVAILABLE AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Due to the increasing interest in the collection of filmstrips, the Public Library has purchased a series of fifty-six comprehensive and historically accurate filmstrip documents. This purchase has been made possible through the Edgar J. Rich Library Trust Fund. These filmstrips will supplement the present collection—a gift of the Winchester Ministers' Association—which includes religious subjects, science, travel and children's stories. Church organization, study groups, and schools have used this collection extensively during the past few years.

American Patriots, American Poets, and American History series from Encyclopedia Britannica; the Pageant of America Filmstrips; and various history filmstrips from Life Magazine. Additional history filmstrips will be added in the future from time to time.

Upon request these filmstrips may be reserved in advance for specific dates and may be borrowed on any adult library card for a one-week period.

REV. ROBERT LITTLE

SENIOR FORUM

On this last Sunday of the month, Forum will again attend the church service at 11 o'clock instead of Chapel. Bill Schmink will be the chaplain, Forum boys will serve as deacons and ushers, and the Forum choir will sing. Dr. Cart will speak especially to the young people on "Walk Proudly In The Light." Those ushering will be Fred Ashenden, Steve Cochran, Tom Cox, Roger French, Sherwood Kelley and Bill Lindsey.

At six o'clock Forumites will assemble in Chidley Hall for supper prepared by Mrs James Baker, assisted by Mrs Richard Ashenden, Mrs. Daniel Dennett, Mrs. W. Campbell Ross, and Mrs. William Schumacher.

Rev. Robert Little, of the Dane Street Congregational Church in Beverly, one of Forum's most popular speakers for many years, will be their supper guest and will speak to them on "How Do You Know It's Love?" Entertainment will be provided by representatives of the Junior and Senior Classes.

For their monthly service project, Forum members are asked to bring to the supper one or more articles of used clothing to be sent to the Congregational Christian Service Committee for overseas relief.

KIWANIS HONORS MEMBERS IN CONGRESS

Kiwanis International and the Kiwanis Club of Washington, D. C., will honor the nearly 100 Kiwanians serving in the 85th Congress at their Fifth Biennial Kiwanis Congressional Dinner. The dinner, which will be held in the Presidential Ballroom of the Hotel Statler in Washington, will take place Thursday evening, February 21. The first such affair was held in 1949.

In addition to the congressmen and Senators on hand, Kiwanis will entertain those of its members who hold important positions in the executive branch of the national government, and a small number of special guests. Also at the dinner will be more than 800 Kiwanis members from Washington and the surrounding area.

Principal speaker at the colorful affair will be Mr. Reed C. Culp, president of Kiwanis International. Culp, a Salt Lake City, Utah, businessman, was elected Kiwanis president in June of 1956.

Also on the program will be The Honorable William M. Brucker, Secretary of the Army. Secretary Brucker is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Detroit.

Special musical features will be furnished by the United States Air Force Band.

Presiding officer will be Mr. John M. Howard, president of the Kiwanis Club of Washington, D. C. The toastmaster will be Mr. E. K. Morris, of Washington.

In announcing the Kiwanis Congressional Dinner, International President Culp described it as the means by which Kiwanis pays tribute, publicly, to those of its members who are leaders in the American national government. He pointed out that the 100 Kiwanians in the 85th Congress constitute almost 20 per cent of its membership, yet they are drawn from a body of people (Kiwanis International) whose numbers amount to only one-eighth of one per cent of the population. Current membership of Kiwanis International is 250,000.

Members honored by Winchester Kiwanis were William H. Bates of Salem, John W. McCormack of Dorchester, and Leverett Saltonstall of Dover.

ON DEAN'S LIST

Sarah M. Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Cunningham of 31 Fells road, and Hiram F. Moody, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram F. Moody of 85 Arlington street, have recently been named to Dean's List for their high scholastic standing at Brown.

Sarah is a member of the Class of 1958 at Pembroke College in Brown University. A graduate of Winchester High School, she is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts Degree.

Hiram is a member of the Class of 1957, and Zeta Psi fraternity, which is one of the seventeen national fraternities represented on the Brown campus. A graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy, he is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts Degree.

OF SCOUTING OBSERVED BY PACK 9 CUBS

On February 13, 1957, Cub Scouts of Pack 9 celebrated the 47th anniversary of scouting with a Blue and Gold Banquet held in the auditorium of the George Washington School and attended by the Cubs and their parents. Blue and gold decorations were made by the Cubs, and the delicious meal was prepared and served by the den mothers headed by Mrs. Richard E. Stiles.

An interesting program followed the dinner with Mr. John Stone, Cubmaster, presiding. After the invocation, given by Rev. Edmund Parker, the meeting opened with the flag ceremony with the following Cub Scouts acting as color guard: Buzzy Varley, John Holland, Philip Porter, and Albert LaTorella. Invited guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Sjoholm and Mr. B. M. Anderson, Scoutmaster of Troop 9, Mr. Edmund Oles, president of the George Washington Dads' Club, Mr. William Wickwire, Winchester District Commissioner of Fellsland Council, and their wives.

The following boys were then inducted as Bobcats under the direction of Mr. Stone: David Choate, Jan Sinclair, and Robert Homilton.

The following awards were presented by Dr. Richard E. Styles, chairman of the Cub Committee:

Roy Johnson—Gold Arrow, Silver Arrow
Albert LaTorella—Gold Arrow, Silver Arrow, Lion Badge
Stephen Hoffman—Bear Badge
John Shanahan—Wolf Badge
Teddy Howard—Wolf Badge
Steven Dougherty—Bear Badge, Gold Arrow, 3 Silver Arrows
Bergie Santo—Lion Badge
Ricky Riley—Gold Arrow, Silver Arrow
Alan Peckham—Bear Badge
Buzzy Varley—Lion Badge, Gold Arrow
David Mayer—Silver Arrow
John Sullivan—Bear Badge, Gold Arrow
Joe Marrone—Bear Badge, Gold Arrow, 3 Silver Arrows
John Marascia—Lion Badge
Ricky Stiles—Lion Badge
Richard Wakefield—Bear Badge
Lane Crue—Lion Badge, Gold Arrow
Thomas Lindberg—Gold Arrow
Carl Norris—Lion Badge, Gold Arrow
Buddy Rotundi—Lion Badge
Al Wile—Lion Badge, Gold Arrow, 2 Silver Arrows

Following the presentation of awards Mr. Merrill Swim of the Cub Committee announced the results of the Sports Night competition held in January. First place went to Den 5 with 110 points and second place to Den 6 with 105 points. Each winning den was awarded a Cub Scout banner, and each Cub in the winning dens received a prize.

Cubmaster Stone then presented each den mother with a certificate of merit in appreciation of her work with the Cubs.

The door prizes, two succulent turkeys, were won by John Sullivan and Carl Norris.

The high point of the evening for the boys was the Pinewood Derby. A month ago each Cub was given the raw materials from which to fashion, with his father's assistance, a midget racing car built to certain specifications of height, weight, etc. The derby was run on a thirty-foot ramp made by Mr. Frederick LaTorella with each Cub competing in his Cub group of Bobcat, Wolf, Bear, or Lion. After all heats had been completed the following winners were announced:

Bobcat — 1st, Alan Hendricks, 2nd, Drew Salling
Wolf—1st; Teddy Howard, 2nd, Billy Cronin
Bear—1st, John Sullivan, 2nd, Chucky Swim
Lion—1st, Lane Crue, 2nd, John Marascia

Prizes were awarded to the winners, and the meeting closed with the presentation to each Cub of a "loot bag" filled with a variety of items contributed by parents and friends of Pack 9.

BRAINTREE TRIPPED WINCHESTER

A combination of tired ballplayers and over-confidence proved the Sachems downfall in a non-league basketball game at Braintree on Tuesday evening. At the final buzzer the score read 50-39 in Braintree's favor.

From the minute the Indians took the floor they didn't look their usual selves, though at the end of the first half they had tallied over 40% for a shooting average and led 29-25.

Though both outrebounded and outshot percentage-wise, Winchester was really defeated on the foul line.

The Sachems sank only seven out of 10 free throws while Braintree had an excellent 22 out of 29! Otherwise the Wamps didn't play a very good game either.

Roger Symmes was "high" for Winchester with ten points while Braintree had three, Zanghi, Fabiano, and Smith in the double figures.

Fortunately, this game does not hurt the Sachem's Middlesex League standing nor does it nullify their Tech Tourney invitation though it may affect who they will be scheduled to play in the Tourney.

Psychologically the game may done the Indians some good. They'll certainly be ready for any opponent from now on and will be taking nothing for granted!

D. A. R.

The Committee of Safety Chapter, D.A.R., met at the home of Mrs. George H. Gowdy, on Monday, February 18. Dessert and coffee was served by Mrs. John B. Wills and her committee.

The business meeting was conducted by the Regent, Mrs. Hiram Moody. Miss Clara Russell read excerpts from the President General's message.

Mrs. Hiram Moody presented Linda Brennemen, a senior in the Winchester High School, as our Good Citizenship Girl. The appreciation among young people of character building as a basis of good citizenship is a goal of this committee.

A girl is chosen by the senior class members and faculty who possesses the required qualities which are: Dependability, Service, Leadership and Patriotism.

After the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin delighted the Chapter members with a showing of colored slides of England, Belgium, Holland, France, Switzerland, Italy and Austria.

Plans are being made for the annual Spring Formal Dance to be held April 27, at the Winchester Town Hall.

WINCHESTER DROPPED HOCKEY PLAYOFF

Winchester lost its chance for the North Shore Hockey League championship Tuesday night when the Indians dropped a 4-3 overtime match to Marblehead at the Lynn Arena.

Winchester wasn't too impressive against Marblehead, and would have lost in regulation time if Joe Cussen hadn't tallied the tying goal toward the end of the third period.

Five minutes elapsed in the sudden-death overtime when Booma set up Fitzgerald and the Header left wing let drive a 20 footer which Denton kicked away. Pete Noyes, right winger, pounced on the rebound and slapped the puck into the cage for the winning tally.

Captain Leo Callahan played his heart out in a losing cause, but generally speaking the Indians' effort wasn't impressive. The defeat brackets Winchester with Swampscott in the consolation round of the North Shore tourney while Marblehead meets Lynn English for the title. The game has no bearing on the State Title tourney. The summary:

MARBLEHEAD—g, Ryan; rd, Graham; ld, Winslow; c, Booma, rw, Noyes; lw, Fitzgerald.

WINCHESTER— g, Denton; rd, Kelleher; ld, McElholm; c, Callahan; rw, Zirkle; lw, Cussen.

Marblehead spares: Martin, Dixey, Sullivan, McKane, O'Rane.

Winchester spares: Sandburgh, Davenport, Weaver.

Score by records:	1	2	3	4
Marblehead	1	1	1	1	—4
Winchester	1	0	2	0	—3

First period: Sandburgh, (Weaver) 2:47, Smith (Graham) 4:57.
Second period: Graham (Winslow) 6:50.
Third period: Booma (Noyes, Fitzgerald) 4:01, Callahan 5:02, Cussen (Zirkle) 7:00.
Overtime—Noyes (Fitzgerald, Booma) 5:01.

ALIVE TODAY!
Because years ago she went to her doctor in time.
See this life-saving film on Cancer.
Free showing—all women over 20.
Tuesday, March 5th
10:00 to 11:00 A. M. Winchester Theatre
8:30 to 9:30 P. M. Immaculate Conception Parish Hall
Free baby sitting during morning showing at Chidley Hall of First Congregational Church.
Written questions answered by local doctors at showings.

ATTENTION, ALL WOMEN!

Every woman in Winchester should be sure to see a free movie which may save her life. You are invited to this film, which may be the most important one you have ever seen. Save the morning of Tuesday, March 5, eleven days from now,and be sure to be at the Winchester Theatre at 10 a.m. for the hour's program, which includes a panel of doctors who will answer your written questions. Or save that same evening for a duplicate program to be held at 8:30 at the Immaculate Conception Parish Hall on Sheridan Circle. Medical leaders and public health officials across the country say this may be the best hour you have ever spent, for in this short time you will learn the simple rules for safeguarding yourself against cancer of the breast, the most common form of cancer in women and the most curable. Nine hundred women in Massachusetts alone died of cancer of the breast last year. Six hundred and thirty of them could have been saved if they had seen this film, learned how to recognize the early signs, and thus gone to their doctors in time to be cured.

The committee in charge of the showing, which is sponsored locally by the Winchester District Nursing Association, has tried to think of every way possible to help all women of Winchester to attend this program. There will be free baby sitting, with three registered nurses in attendance, at Chidley Hall of the First Congregational Church from 9:30 a.m. until 11:15, so that mothers of pre-school children over eighteen months may attend. The evening showing will accommodate those with young babies, when their fathers can stay home with them, and also those who are unable to attend in the morning because of meetings or business. If you are in one of these categories, do not fail to attend the evening showing.

Mr. Jay Finn, manager of the Winchester Theatre, is donating the facilities of the theatre, and his projectionist is giving his time, in the interests of this important event for all women of Winchester over twenty. Many people are devoting hours of time and effort for this vital public health education.

SENIORS

For the first time this season Ben Harding was smiling. Why? Because his Celtics finally won their first game of the season. It was no easy win though. After leading 18-6 at the end of the first half, the Celts completely fell apart and were outscored by the Royals 24-12 in the second half, but driven on by the first taste of victory, Vic Poiitano sank a ten foot hook with only 20 seconds left to break a 30-30 deadlock and enable the Celtics to win over the Royals 32-30.

This game between the two cellar dwellers was the most exciting of the season. Jim Lindsey, with nine points, all in the second half, almost brought his Royals to victory, but in his over anxiousness, fouled out. His presence was sorely missed. Frank Gaudioso, with 18 points was high man for the winners.

The Pistons dropped the Eagles in a come from behind victory 41-39. The Eagles led right up until the five minute mark of the third period but the Pistons caught fire and left the floor with a one point third period lead. In the fourth period, the lead see-sawed back and forth until with one minute and thirty seconds left, Dan O'Connell broke a 38-38 tie with a lay up. Lynn Olmstead sank a free throw a few seconds later to bring his Eagles within one point of the Pistons.

Both teams traded fouls and tried to freeze the ball but Tim Reynolds took charge. Reynolds grabbed two rebounds and sank two free throws to give the Piston a 41-39 lead with 32 seconds left. Then with the Eagles pressing for three points, Reynolds came off the boards with an all important rebound to ice the victory.

The Lakers continued to tear apart the league. They cooled off the hot Hawks with a 55-22 win. This victory gives the Lakers the second round championship. Because they have won two rounds, there will be no playoffs at the end of the season. The final champions will be the team which has won the most games over the entire schedule. The Lakers were paced by Ted Little who had 24 points. Little hit with unbelievable accuracy. He had 11 for 12 from the floor and 2 for 2 at the foul line. Not only did he shine in the scoring column but also led his team defensively.

The writer's vote for the star of the week goes to two boys. Tim Reynolds, for his last minute hero role in the Pistons' 41-39 victory and Ted Little, for his all around scoring and defensive work for the Lakers.

JUNIORS

As in the Senior League, there will be no playoffs for the championship, because Dartmouth, by virtue of a 41-30 victory over Harvard, finished on top of the Junior League for the second straight round. Their overall record is 9-1. Pete Branch with 11 points and Don Butters with 9 led Dartmouth. Bill Rogers again led Harvard with 14 points.

Princeton moved into second place 3 games behind Dartmouth with a 41-36 win over third place Harvard. Paul Goddu with 22 points sparked Princeton. Bernsy Stevens led Yale with 13.

B. C. moved into a third place tie with Harvard by crushing Holy Cross 50-27. Holy Cross has now lost nine in a row. Joe Butare and Paul Mulloy with 18 points each paced B.C.'s attack while two-thirds of the Stevens trio, Bert and Ben shared the Holy Cross scoring honors with 11 and 10 points respectively.

The writer's vote for Junior star of the week goes to Bill Rogers of Harvard. Rogers had 14 points in a losing cause and kept his team close to the leaders with his rebounding, scoring and ball stealing. The 14 year old freshman whiz has been tabbed by everybody who has seen him as one of the future basketball stars of Winchester High School.

There will be no games during the vacation week. Practice resumes Monday, February 25.

WELCOMED BACK

Salvatore Danca, left, and S. Peter Volpe, treasurer, welcome John A. Volpe on his return to his duties as president of the John A. Volpe Construction Co. of Malden.

BACK AT THE OLD JOB

John A. Volpe, prominent Malden contractor, has resumed his duties as president of the John A. Volpe Construction Company in Malden after an absence of four years.

Since October 1956, Volpe has served as temporary Federal Highway Administrator, a position which he left only last week. Previous to receiving this Federal appointment, Volpe had served since January 1953 as Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Works.

As Federal Highway Administrator, Volpe inaugurated the nation's new 30 billion dollar road-building program, which will help construct modern super-highways across the United States.

During Gov. Herter's administration, he directed Massachusetts' 350 million dollar program of highway and bridge construction.

Volpe has received a letter from President Dwight D. Eisenhower thanking him for his services over the past four months. The letter reads:

"Dear Mr. Volpe:

"It is with sincere regret that I accept your resignation as Federal Highway Administrator. In doing so, I want to express again my deep appreciation of your willingness to accept interim appointment to this position last October, thus facilitating prompt initiation of the national highway program.

"The report of progress that you brought me yesterday morning is indeed encouraging. I am glad that the program has had the benefit of your wide experience and ability during these first months, and am confident that continued steady progress will ensue from the foundation that you have helped so much to establish.

"Thank you also for your readiness to be of service in the future should there be further need to call upon you.

"With best wishes for your continued success and happiness,

Sincerely
Dwight D. Eisenhower"

Dr. Samuel B. Kirkwood of Swan road, Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Health, is one of those who will participate in a Military Medico-Dental Symposium to be held in Boston March 20-22 under the sponsorship of Rear Admiral John A. Snackenberg, Commandant of the First Naval District. Aspects of military medicine and dentistry that will eventually have an impact on all peoples of the world will be disclosed.

VISITOR FROM SEATTLE

Bob Bernnard, a former Winchester boy, now manager of the Tacoma Country and Golf Club, paid a surprise visit to the Star office on Tuesday, dropping in for a chat while in town looking up old friends.

Previous to coming to Winchester Bob had been in New York for a week attending the annual convention of the Club Managers Association at the Hotel Commodore.

For the past five years Bob has been at the Tacoma Country and Golf Club. Before that he spent three years in Kodiak, Alaska, managing the Navy Officers Club there. He had five years in the Army Air Force and has been in the hotel business in Seattle, where he now makes his home.

His mother, Mrs. Bertram Bernnard, and his sister, Miss Ruth Bernnard, live together in Seattle, Ruth being employed in the sales end of the Scientific Supply Co., dealers in school equipment and plant scientific and laboratory supplies.

Bob's brother, Bill, teaches English in a high school in Seattle and last year was in Damascus, Syria, teaching English for the State Department under a Smith-Mundt Scholarship.

Bill is a graduate of Kenyon College and Bob, of the University of Wisconsin. He prepared at Winchester High, graduated in 1932, after playing some football, and is trying to wangle another trip back east to attend his 25th reunion this June.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL NEWS

The combination class at the George Washington School entertained their classmates recently by presenting a play in two acts, "The Boy Who Came to Dinner."

This rollicking play concerns an ill-mannered boy who comes to learn that being good can be fun.

Members of the cast were as follows:

John Doherty as Alfred Jones
Joyce Hanson as Mrs. Ames
Russell Taylor as Mr. Ames
Gerard Morgan as Mr. Jones
Barbara Foster as Mary Ames
William Dixon as Bob Ames
Phillip Pingree as Tom Ames
Thomas Clogston, William Platzoeder, Estelle Wharf and Thomas Donohue were yard rakers.

Many of the children's parents attended and enjoyed the play. Joyce Hanson officiated at the piano and Barbara Foster announced the play. Members of the class painted the background scenery.

OUR HUNGARIAN FRIENDS

As we continue our report of where our Hungarian families in Winchester are settled and employed, we find that Mr. and Mrs. Siegfried Pangrac-Donath and sons have moved from the home of the Ernest Dietrichs in Winchester to an apartment in Waltham where the father is working for the West End Chevrolet Company. Baby Siegfried, who is 1½ years old and was hospitalized with bovine tuberculosis (a disease common in middle Europe), has been released from the hospital. The other son, Coriolan who is 12, has been transferred from the Mystic School here to a school in Waltham.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peter located an apartment at 25 Burlington street, Woburn, and have left their Winchester hosts, the Richard Fryes. Mr Peter has been working at a temporary job at Renton's Market here in Winchester while seeking permanent employment. His experience has been diversified. Having completed one year as a pre-med student in Hungary, he was sent to a concentration camp in Siberia; here he learned to operate a crane and do some mechanical repair work on such apparatus, and also had some carpentry experience. Paul also acquired a knowledge of English. His wife, Ilona, is a seamstress, and ehe would like to obtain work of this kind. Her husband has given her a new Singer sewing machine, and she is all set to start work.

The Keresztes family, who were guests of the F. L. Fosters of Lakeview road, moved last week-end to 284 Cross street in this town. Mr. Stephen Keresztes, who has been working temporarily for the Aberthaw Construction Company, is to start a more permanent job with that organization at Wilmington. Mrs. Elizabeth Keresztes, who is a seamstress, is working for Mr. Kidder of the Bride Shop in Boston. She also is desirous of obtaining sewing work at home and will be available evenings. Their daughter, Elizabeth, who is 8½, will be transferred after vacation from the Wyman School to the Noonan.

Mr. William Keresztes (or "Cross" as he uses the Anglicized form) has been making his home with the Lester Snows of Chesterford road since his arrival in Winchester, but last week-end he moved to Watertown to board within walking distance of his job at Barry Controls. William graduated as an economist in Hungary and was a photographer and reporter for a Hungarian news agency until the Communists came. After that he was learning drafting in Hungary; and he is continuing to learn in that line in his new job as a draftsman at Barry Controls in Watertown. This company employs a refugee from another European country who can speak German with William, thus helping to bridge the language barrier. William also discovered that the man at whose home he is boarding is a camera enthusiast, thus establishing immediately a common bond of interest.

RED CROSS QUOTA RAISED

Winchester's quota for the 1957 campaign of the local chapter of the American Red Cross has been raised $800, to a total of $19,500 which must be secured in the town, according to Robert M. Edgar, 21 Oxford street, fund campaign chairman.

At a meeting held on Monday night of this week, Chairman Edgar told the local chairmen of the 1957 fund that word had come from national headquarters of the Red Cross to Royce H. Randlett, board chairman of Winchester Chapter, that the increase is necessary, as a part of an additional five million dollars which has been added to the National Red Cross 1957 Campaign.

"The Red Cross, since July 1, 1956," Edgar told the local chairmen, "has expended its entire disaster budget of four million dollars. Recent critical flood situations have inflicted very heavy destruction on Eastern Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia and Tennessee, necessitating extensive relief operations. These places may seem a very long way from Winchester, but that is the purpose of the Red Cross—to aid all Americans when they need it. I am quite sure that we shall have no difficulty in persuading residents of Winchester to do, as they always have, their proportionate part in quickly restoring the national Red Cross disaster fund to a point where it will be ready to give immediate relief to distressed Americans wherever disaster may strike in 1957.

"We, who are secure in our homes, want to be ready to help less fortunate Americans whose homes have been taken from them—or damaged in some manner, by unforseen disaster. No community can ever be sure that fire, tornado, or some other disaster may not visit it at anytime. The Red Cross must be kept ready, with funds available, to move quickly and sufficiently, wherever disaster strikes."

Chairman Edgar announced at Monday's meeting that Otis W. Leary, 30 Farrow street, has been named as co-precinct chairman of Precinct 6, for the one-day, house-to-house campaign which will be conducted in Winchester on Sunday, March 10, to secure the necessary $19,500 in contributions from the residents of Winchester.

He also explained to the local chairmen, some of the other disaster events in the Red Cross' fiscal year '56-57 which, totalling 115 disasters, resulted in the wiping out of the disaster budget of the national organization. Among these, Edgar said, were the Hurricane Flossy, during which the Red Cross spent $790,000 in relief work; the Andrea Dorea Ship Disaster, $80,000; Hurricane Betsy-Puerto Rico, $2,937,500; and Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia floods and tornadoes $214,400.

"These are only a few of the 115 disasters into which the Red Cross moved promptly and efficiently," said Edgar. "Some of the money used in these instances to give prompt relief to families who were suffering bitter hardships came from Winchester's contributions to the 1956 Red Cross Campaign.

"There certainly is no telling when disaster may strike in 1957—or where—and the Red Cross must be ready to meet it. Here in Winchester we must all do our part, even though our quota for 1957 is still a modest one and can be raised quickly if everyone will contribute his, or her, share."

THE QUOTA IS RAISED

MRS. JOHN J. FITZSIMMONS, JR.

FITZSIMMONS — CATERINO

The marriage of Miss Florence Angeline Caterino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Caterino of 187 High street, to John Joseph Fitzsimmons, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fitzsimmons of 27 Victoria road, Arlington, took place on Sunday afternoon, February 17, at St. Mary's Church. The 3 o'clock ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward Sweeney of the Propagation of the Faith Office in Boston and was followed by a reception at the Lido Banquet Room of the Fresh Pond Restaurant.

Miss Caterino was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of lace and net fashioned with a high neck and long lace sleeves and a bouffant skirt extending into a short train. Her fingertip veil was caught to a lace hat trimmed with pearls and she carried a white prayer-book with matching streamers and two white orchids.

Miss Lorraine Caterino of Winchester was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Mary Jane Fitzsimmons of Arlington, small sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Miss Ellen Fitzpatrick of Arlington, cousin of the bride, and Miss Carol Ann Fitzsimmons of Arlington, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

The honor maid wore a street length red velvet dress with matching shoes, a white feather hat and matching gloves. She carried red sweetheart roses. The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of blue velvet with matching shoes. Their accessories and flowers were like those of the honor attendant.

The flower girl wore a long dress of red velvet with matching hat and white gloves. She carried red and white roses.

Both the mother of the bride and bridegroom were gowned in lace, Mrs. Caterino wearing blue, and Mrs. Fitzsimmons, light tan. Both had corsages of white orchids.

Jeremiah Lynch of Lawrence was best man for Mr. Fitzsimmons, and ushering were Roy Van Steenburger of Newton and George Caterino of Arlington, cousin of the bride.

After a honeymoon spent in New York, Mr. Fitzsimmons and his bride will make their home in Arlington. The bridegroom is studying at the Northeastern University School of Engineering and is a member of the Army ROTC.

MRS. EDWARD E. HICKS

HICKS — CANFIELD

Miss Kaye Allyn Canfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Canfield of Chardon, Ohio, was attended only by her sister, Mrs. Richard Fisher of Remsenburg, N. Y., at her marriage on Saturday afternoon, February 16, at St. Mary's Church to Edward Ernest Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Hicks of 7 Cliff street. The Rev. Charles E. Anadore, read the 2 o'clock service before an altar decorated with two bouquets of mixed spring flowers. A reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Miss Canfield was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white waltz-length gown of Alencon lace and tulle with an elbow-length veil caught to a small crown of pearls. She carried a nosegay of white hyacinths.

Mrs. Fisher wore a royal blue dress of lace over taffeta with a matching headdress and carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

Mrs. Canfield, mother of the bride, was gowned in dusty pink lace and wore a white orchid. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hicks, wore mink brown chiffon with a corsage of three cymbidium orchids.

Frederick L. Hicks, Jr., of Winchester was his brother's best man, and ushering were Dennis R. Canfield of Chardon, Ohio, brother of the bride; and Charles Wansker, Jr., of Winchester.

After a honeymoon in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Hicks will live in Winchester at 24 Salem street.

The bride is a graduate of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. She is a teacher in the Weston schools. Mr. Hicks graduated from Winchester High School, from Harvard University and from Harvard Law School. He is a member of the Chancery Club and is an attorney associated with Comins and Newbury in Boston.

MRS. BLANCHIE S. BENSON

Mrs. Blanchie Sumner Benson of 1 Chardon road, widow of Henry A. Benson and a resident of Winchester for the past 33 years, died suddenly Wednesday, February 13, while visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ethel S. Dunning, at the latter's home in Freeport, Me.

Mrs. Benson was born in Derby, Vt., April 13, 1869, the daughter of George H., and Mary (Lawrence) Sumner. She was a member of Bernice Rebekah Lodge of South Boston and besides her daughter in Freeport, Me., leaves a daughter, Mrs. Ethel M. Hill of Newport, Vt.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock with the Rev. C. S. Milligan, pastor of the College Avenue Congregational Church in Somerville, officiating. Burial was in Mt. Vernon Cemetery in North Abington.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Flaherty, of 348 Washington street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Marie, to Mr. Robert E. Kleber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Kleber of 26 Oxford street.

Miss Flaherty graduated from Winchester High School with the class of 1955 and is currently attending Mount Ida Junior College. Mr. Kleber graduated from Winchester High School in 1953 and is a member of the senior class at Boston College, School of Arts and Science.

NOT BUILT BY HANDEL POND

We are indebted to Mrs. Fred Abbott of Lewis road for pointing out an error in the Star's obituary of Clarence H. Pond. The old Pond homestead at 102 Cambridge street was not built by Mr. Pond's father, Handel Pond, but by Walter Marsh.

Mr. Marsh built the house in the late nineties and installed the pipe organ for his son, H. Stanley Marsh, who while not a professional musician, was an organist of real ability.

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1957

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hour as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thomson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Mind opens the way to greater abilities and opportunities will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" will include the following from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (128:14): "A knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity."

The Golden Text is from Romans (12:2): "Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

HI NEIGHBOR!

Your IGA grocer believes that the way to build America stronger is from the inside out rather than from the outside in. This is one of the basic reasons he has adopted a new "Community Builder" program.

Why don't you join with your IGA grocer in his great civic program which will benefit you just as much or more than it will help him.

Everyone - the children at school, the people in church, the men in business - benefits when a community is live and vibrant and pushing forward.

OPERA INTEREST MOUNTING

The sale of tickets to the general public for the Goldovsky Opera evening, Saturday, March 9, at the Senior High School auditorium is well under way. Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel, Membership Chairman announces that sponsors and members (some 200) of the Winchester Community Theater have been allotted their seats and Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell, Ticket Chairman is carrying on from this point.
Mr. Abraham Korn, an active member of the Ticket Committee and in charge of program advertising is aiding the Committee by having tickets for sale at his store the Winchester Appliance Company at 15 Thompson street. He is open every day from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and is open on Wednesday and Friday evenings until 9 p. m. All seats are reserved. There are special rates for students.
The following members of Mrs. Pettingell's committee have tickets available. You may place your telephone orders with them and tickets will be delivered if necessary. Call and place your order early in order to get a good choice of seats.
Mrs. Richard Carr, Mrs. Stephen E. Hall, Mrs. James T. Hintlian, Mrs. Winthrop S. Knox, Jr., Mrs. William Kimball, Mrs. Edward Little, Mrs. Henry Marcionette, Mrs. Stephen Root, Mrs. John R. Sheehan, Mrs. William Towner, Mrs. Joseph W. Worthen.
Mrs. Harold Thistlethwaite, and Mr. Wendell S. Withington of the Music Departments of the Junior High School and High School, respectively, are briefing their students about the operas to be presented. This is a wonderful opportunity for families to experience opera to-gether at reasonable rates.

GEORGE MAKECHNIE

JUNIOR HIGH ASSOCIATES EVENING MEETING

The next meeting of the Junior High Associates will take place in the school's Auditorium on Tuesday evening, February 26, at 8:15 p. m. Dean George Makechnie of Sargent College at Boston University will be the speaker.
Dean Makechnie has been associated with B.U. since his graduation there, first as Assistant Dean in the School of Education, then Registrar and Professor of Education. He helped organize nursing education at that institution, and has taught at many of the hospital nursing schools in Boston. Since becoming Dean of Sargent in '45, he has represented the U.S. at physical education conferences in London and Paris, and is currently affiliated with the Pan-American Association in Physical Education.
In a town as sports-minded as Winchester, Dean Makechnie's discussion of "Current Trends in Physical Education in Secondary Schools" will certainly draw a large and interested audience. Illustrating, a team of girls selected from Mrs. Montgomery's classes in gym at the junior high school will give a demonstration of tumbling and the modern dance.

HOOVER COMMISSION RECOMMENDATIONS SEEN IN NEW TOWN BUDGET

Presentation of the Town Budget as a program of services to be rendered rather than as details of items to be purchased is the outstanding new development inaugurated by the Fiscal Survey Committee and described in the forthcoming Town Report. The Committee will say "Program budgeting in a systematic form is a new development in municipal government that is spreading rapidly. Recommended by the Hoover Commission for the federal government, it has been urged by experts as a sound approach for lesser government units. They state that the 'plan is rapidly earning a performance niche for itself in the administration of government at all levels in the United States. This recognition stems from its superiority first, as an improved instrument of management . . .; second, as a more meaningful and effective device in the hand of the legislative body for evaluating and controlling financial operation . . .; and third, as a plan more comprehensible to the individual citizen'."
In defining what such a system is the Committee explains that "a budget is an expression in financial terms of a specific plan, or program, for a definite future period. Every single operation of government proceeds according to a plan, or program, whether or not that program is spelled out in a systematic, or detailed manner. In the preparation of all budget requests there has always and necessarily been some plan of activities, outline of projects to be done, or schedule of work to be accomplished, though this plan may have been sketchy, informal, or even never reduced to writing."
"Program budgeting simply systematizes these plans, formal or informal, as previously made. It envisions setting these programs down on paper in such manner that the ideas, and needs, may be communicated to, and understood by, all reviewing boards, the town meeting members, and the citizens of the town generally." For this year this type of budgeting is of an introductory character, only a few of the larger departments having been called on to follow completely the new procedure.
All departments have, however, prepared information in accordance with a prescribed new and uniform classification of accounts, as outlined in the new Town Budget and Accounting Manual, prepared by this committee. In this it is pointed out that "Winchester has had in the past no manual, no general and detailed guide to the departments to aid them in determining what form of budget document is expected of them, or what terminology or description of items . . . is called for. As a result there has been no uniformity, but instead wide diversity, of preparation and presentation. Recently there has been a strong and growing movement throughout this country and Canada to standardize precedure and to adequately guide department officers through well prepared and comprehensive budget instructions." This new financial information method "permits, for the first time in Winchester, a classification of expenses by which similar items in any and all departments are uniformly identified. Thereby, the cost to the town of any one item, service, or type or expenditure can be readily determined."
A master copy of all such budget information as it was submitted by the various departments is now on public view in the office of the town accountant. Any citizen of the town may read it there and study all or any part of it. This informative compilation is much more in detail than the summarized version published in the Town Warrant and Finance Committee report.

TOWN MEETING MEMBERS' ATTENDANCE RECORDS

The League of Women Voters has compiled, by precincts, the attendance records of town meeting members who are up for re-election. Six town meetings were held in 1955; five in 1956, excluding the first meeting, which was cancelled. A blank in the 1955 column indicates that person was not a town meeting member in 1955. Incidentally, it is a startling fact that only 45% of the registered voters voted in the last town election, while about 90% voted on November 2, 1956. Let's improve our record in 1957.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE

Mrs. Robert Reynolds, chairman of Ways and Means; recently entertained her committee at her home for morning coffee.
This enthusiastic group discussed plans for the forth coming anticipated annual Florence Crittenton dessert - fashion show. This event is to take place in Chidley Hall of the Congregational Church on Friday, March 29, at 1:30 p. m.
Delicious home made desserts will be served before the showing of latest Spring fashions provided by some of Winchester's well known stores—Town and Country, Peck & Peck' Loralane's and The Silver Slipper are cooperating this year. An added attraction will be numerous door prizes donated by other Winchester stores. An outstanding one is a twenty-five dollar dress contributed by The House of Fashion.
Mrs. Reynolds will be assisted by the following ladies acting as chairmen for the various committees:
Mrs. Theodore Atkinson, Decorations
Mrs. Ralph Bonnell and Mrs. Harry Mueller, Desserts
Mrs. Walter Abbott, Tea
Mrs. Roy Kingston, Door Prizes
Mrs. Hoyt Hottell and Mrs. John Harrison, Stage Production
Mrs. Don Greer and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Publicity
Mrs. Lawrence Dallin, Treasurer
Mrs. Henry Marcionette and Mrs. E. Ober Pride, Tickets
As has been the former custom two tickets are being sent to each member. Mrs. Henry Marcionette and Mrs. E. Ober Pride are in charge of reservations.

JOINT MEETING AT CHIDLEY HALL

A joint meeting of the Men's Club and the Women's Association of the First Congregational Church will be held on Tuesday evening, February 26. The meeting will be held in Chidley Hall and will be preceded by a catered dinner at 6:30.
Dr. J. Wendell Yeo, nationally-known educator and youth counselor, will be the speaker. Dr. Yeo was formerly dean of the Boston University School of Education. Before his appointment to Boston University, he had a varied experience as teacher, principal, superintendent, instructor and professor at several schools and colleges. Dr. Yeo now devotes his whole time to the work of several national educational associations. He is the author of articles in professional journals on youth problems and counselor training and of reports based on surveys of school guidance services in various communities. He is co-author of the textbook entitled "Growing Up," which is planned to help teen-agers solve their personal-social problems.
The co-ordinated efforts of the Men's Club and the Women's Association are sure to guarantee a pleasant evening. It is equally certain that the talk by Dr. Yeo will be enlightening and informative. The directors of both organizations hope that many men and women of the church will attend this first joint meeting. Reservations may be made by calling either Mr. or Mrs. Joseph D. Hall at WInchester 6-1211.

MRS. MOULTON CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Lester R. Moulton was chairman of the Open House Tea held by the Association of Tufts Alumnae Wednesday, February 20, on the campus. Because the January tea was postponed, the classes, 1916 - 1935, combined to act as hostesses for the February tea. It is at these monthly teas that the Alumnae get together and chat over a cup of tea. On the committee with Mrs. Moulton were Mrs. Dwight Bellows and Mrs. Joseph Moran both of Winchester.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE

Mrs. Davenport J. Brown opened her lovely home on Wedgemere avenue Friday, February 15, for a joint meeting of the Junior and Senior Circles of the Florence Crittenton League of Winchester.

In the absence of a minister, Mrs. Vera I. McKenzie, the president, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. McKenzie warmly thanked Mrs. Brown for her gracious hospitality and welcomed the Junior members to the meeting.

Reports were given by the various chairmen, Mrs. Weimer reporting on the approaching reopening of the Thrift Shop in Brighton and Mrs. Theodore Messer, nominating chairman, announced that Mrs. Hoyt Hottel is the new Thrift Shop chairman for the Winchester Circle. The details of the new policies of the Thrift Shop will be announced later. The three following members were appointed to the nominating committee, Mrs. Harold Jones, Mrs. Forrest L. Pitman and Mrs. Lester C. Gustin.

Mrs. McKenzie spoke of the coming annual luncheon for all the Circles to be held at the Hotel Beacon sfield, Brookline, on February 28. The speaker at this luncheon will be Dr. John Wallace, minister of the First Congregational Church in Wellesley Hills. Dr. Wallace has an impressive background and being a young and inspiring speaker, he will give his audience many thoughts to take home. Any members wishing tickets, please contact Mrs. George B. Field.

At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. McKenzie introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Richard B. Chesley, vice president of Thomas Long Co., whose subject was gems and gemology. Mr. Chesley told of the history of gem making from crystal formations to cut gems. As Mr. Chesley unfolded the wonders of his subject, he passed around $25,000 worth of handsome pieces of jewelry and the exclamations of his audience proved their appreciation. He demonstrated how jewelers can tell a gem from a piece of glass and said that three things wer necessary in a gem, namely, beauty, durability and rarity. Mr. Chesley told of the origin of the superstition that opals are unlucky. It all began when Sir Walter Scott in one of his novels, had a heroine who was always unfortunate when wearing opals. A lively question period followed his lecture.

When the meeting was adjourned, Mrs. Crosby B. Kelley and her committee served a delightful Valentine tea. Mrs. Laurance D. Sibley and Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills poured.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

An inter-church square dance for junior highs will be held next Friday night, March 1, in Chidley Hall, at the First Cangregational Church, from 7:30 to 10:00 o'clock. Tickets will be limited and only those who have tickets purchased before Friday will be able to come. Tickets are available in the church school office.

An iron sign bearing the name "Apple Acres" and of considerable value was taken from the front yard of the home of Frank Millyan of 170 Forest street Monday night. In its place were left several signs taken from the model home on Ridge street.

THE WINCHESTER STAR.

VOL. LXXVI NO. 25 THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, MARCH 1, 1957 PRICE TEN CENTS

FOR SELECTMAN

JOSIAH E. BACON

Voters of Winchester:

Last week I mentioned that the 1957 tax rate had been estimated at $54.60. Of course if the amount voted to be raised and appropriated exceeds the amount recommended by the Finance Committee, without a corresponding additional source of revenue, the rate will be proportionately higher.

Furthermore, Winchester finances have reached the point where it has become necessary for the Finance Committee to comment upon the advisability of taking the necessary steps to allow the Town to borrow about $1,200,000 OUTSIDE THE DEBT LIMIT to meet proposed major capital expenditures for the period ending December 31, 1959.

Hasn't the time come when we should stand up and be counted on the question of whether we can at this time afford all the items which give rise to these questions?

I have previously stated that I was educated at Boston University College of Business Administration and Boston University Law School and that I am a practicing attorney with the Boston Law Firm of Tyler & Reynolds.

If I am elected Selectman I can promise you only that my decisions in that office will be made upon all the evidence presented and that I will bring to such office no preconceived views as to the merits of any problems upon which I am called upon to pass judgment.

REP. CHADWICK PRESENTS BILL

Rep. Harrison Chadwick appeared before the committee on constitution law last week at the State House, on a bill jointly sponsored by him and Rep. Adolph Johnson of Brockton. The bill would decrease the number of Representatives from the present 240 to 160 members. Rep. Chadwick stated that the House could function more efficiently and with dispatch could carry on the work of the voters, without any sacrifice of representation. Chadwick said that in the long run, there would be less politics involved.

NEW FIRST NATIONAL SUPERMARKET

First National Stores will open another local supermarket on Wednesday, March 6, the newest addition to its chain being located in Woburn on Lexington street at the junction of routes 3 and former 128.

The new store has an overall area of 15,540 sq ft. with an inside area of 14,965 sq. ft. including meat preparation room and storage. The spacious sales area totals 11,648 sq. ft., there will be 10 checkout stands and a bottle return station. Entrance and exit doors will be fully automatic and there will be parking space for 264 cars.

William Campbell is grocery manager of the store and William Foley, meat manager.

SCHOOL ENTERED

Harry V. Gilson, Superintendent of Schools, reported to police that sometime during the recent school vacation an entrance was made into the Lincoln school, and an attempt made to force open a teacher's desk.

Despite the general disorder, nothing seemed to be missing, he said.

VALUABLE PUBLIC SERVICE

A valuable public service is being offered to the women of Winchester on Tuesday, March 5. Two showings of a motion picture on early detection of breast cancer will make it possible for every woman in town to avail herself of this opportunity. A morning show from 10:00 to 11:00 at the Winchester Theater and an evening show from 8:30 to 9:30 at the Immaculate Conception Parish Hall have been planned with the hope that all women will find one of the times convenient.

The Winchester District Nursing Association is sponsoring this film in conjunction with the American Cancer Society. It should be made clear that the film deals exclusively with the technique of self-examination to detect early signs of breast cancer. This form of cancer is one of the easiest forms to be cured when found in its early stages.

Two Winchester doctors have consented to be present at each showing to answer any questions which may arise. Dr. George A. Marks, chief of surgery at the Winchester Hospital, and Dr. Sanford H. Moses, chief of obstetrics and gynecology at the Winchester Hospital, will be in attendance at the morning showing. Dr. William F. Hickey, Jr., surgeon on the staff of Winchester Hospital, and Dr. James McDonough, an obstetrician and gynecologist at the Winchester Hospital, will attend the evening showing.

Mr. Jay Finn, manager of the local theater, and Mr. Robert McDermott, a projectionist, are donating the use of the theater and their time to this worth-while project. Mr. Philip Efromson is the projectionist for the evening showing.

Mark the date now, March 5, either 10:00 a.m. or 8:30 p.m. Remember, there is no cost for baby sitting at the First Congregational Church during the morning hour, and there is no charge for the film.

CANDIDATE FOR BOARD OF HEALTH

Evelyn R. Russell, 18 Norwood street, candidate for Winchester Board of Health in next Monday's election, is by her education and by her activities in town affairs well qualified to fulfill the duties of this office.

A graduate of the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing and Middlebury College, she is a registered nurse. Mrs. Russell is the wife of Harlow Russell and the mother of Vicki, Susan and Harlow Russell, III. She has served on the Board of Directors of the Winchester Hospital, as President of the Winchester District Nursing Association and Chairman of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee. She is presently President of the Winchester High School Parent-Faculty Association.

Mrs. Russell's active role in Winchester organizations has given her an insight into the many-sided needs of town life. Those needs of a public health nature have always been of primary concern to her.

We, the undersigned, endorse Evelyn R. Russell for the Winchester Board of Health and urge you to support her candidacy at the polls Monday, March 4.

SLINGSHOT DANGER

An epidemic of broken windows which has been spreading in town was greatly diminished Tuesday when police confiscated a large number of slingshots from Winchester youths.

The slings, made from wire coat hangers bent into a fork and heavy rubber bands, are used to shoot BB pellets. Winchester stores have been advised not to sell this equipment to youngsters, and police chief Charles J. Harrold urges parents to take a hand in the matter before some child is seriously hurt.

Police were able to apprehend three boys who broke two windows in a home on Bacon street, but a great many children seem to have slingshots and help is needed from parents to control the danger.

Central Hardware a Winchester Institution

Fifty Years In Hardware Business

Today, March 1, 1957, Joseph M. "Joe" Donahue, proprietor of the Central Hardware Company, completed fifty years in business in Winchester, celebrating the event by doing his regular day's work at his well-stocked store at 46-48 Mt. Vernon street.

There aren't many businesses in Winchester still operating under the names they had fifty years ago, if they are still in operation, and there are fewer still, if indeed there are any at all, being run by the owners who started them half a century ago. Central Hardware is one, and "Joe" Donahue is its owner. Day in and day out, come rain, snow, hurricane or flood, "Joe" has been on the job, digging hardware items out of his huge stock for three generations of Winchester buyers, or arguing with carpenters and builders the merits of some new gadget in the hardware field.

"SURE, WE HAVE IT! WHAT IS IT?"

Joseph M. "Joe" Donahue, veteran hardware dealer, completes fifty years in business today.

"Joe" had his 79th birthday last October 14, but he has no plans to retire. Surely his friends hope he won't, at least for a long, long time, for Winchester's business center wouldn't be the same without him.

"Joe" was born October 14, 1877, on Cedar street, son of John, and Annie (McNulty) Donahue. He went as far as the last year in grammar school when the death of his father sent him to work. Not that he had lived a life of ease to that point!

Even while in school he had a paper route, leaving Winchester each weekday morning at 7 o'clock to sell papers on the old Boston & Lowell Railroad trains and riding the cars to Boston, thence going to Arlington Heights and back before returning on the train to Winchester in time for school at 9 o'clock.

Afternoons he had a paper route through Cutter Village and the Highlands for the princely sum of 75c a week, and he also covered the same route on Sundays, reporting to the railroad station at 7 o'clock to put together the papers, which came to Winchester in a team from Malden.

"Joe" got another 75c for his Sunday route, and he earned other money as he could at any sort of odd jobs.

In 1898, he went to work in the then Nutter & Barnes Machine Shop on Atlantic avenue in Boston, leaving his job to, as he puts it, "chase gypsy moths for the State in Winchester and Medford."

On March 1, 1907, "Joe" embarked in the hardware business, opening a store on Main street in the old building owned by "Jim" Burnes, then located on the site of the present Locatelli Building. "Joe's" Central Hardward was the shop nearest the river, and he paid the whole of $15 a month rent.

Despite his low rent he remained at this location only a year, moving then to 15 Mt. Vernon street, where he rented the quarters now occupied by the Ames store.

In 1928, after 20 years in that location he bought the building that houses his present store at 46 to 48 Mt. Vernon street and settled there, filling the hardware needs of a large segment of Winchester people who soon came to feel that if "Joe" doesn't have it, you can't get it!

Central Hardware hasn't changed too much through the years. Not that the new merchandise isn't included with the old-line staples on its counters and shelves. It is. You can get the latest from "Joe," though he has resisted every effort to "modernize" his picturesque establishment, claiming his customers know where everything is now!

All Joe's life has been spent in town. He married Mary F. J. O'-Hara August 25, 1903, and they lived for some years on Maxwell road, later moving to 211 Highland avenue, where Mrs. Donahue died January 1, 1949.

Joe has a daughter, Miriam, Sister Charles, for 23 years in the Sisters of St. Joseph, presently teaching at Matignon High School; and two sons, Dr. Charles P. Donahue, Winchester optometrist; and Francis Donahue, in the wholesale fish business in Rockland, Maine. He also has three brothers, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles Donahue, I.P.P., of St. Theresa's Church, West Roxbury; James H., and Fred J. Donahue, both of Winchester.

BONSPIEL TO WINCHESTER

SHEERAN RINK OUTLASTS SHERBROOKE

The home club's number 3 rink, skipped by Dr. Paul Sheeran, and comprising Jim and Walter Wilcox and Bob Ingersoll, worked its way through all opposition to defeat the Sherbrooke, Canada, rink of Don Howard, Bill Fuller, Duke Doucet and Don McRae, skip, 10-5, in the final round of the Winchester Bowl Division of the Washington's Birthday week-end invitation bonspiel at the Winchester Country Club last Sunday.

Winchester's No. 3 won its way into the final round by defeating Utica, N. Y., 12-10 on last Saturday, while Sherbrooke gained the final at the expense of Winchester's No. 2 rink, comprising Howard Eteson, skip, Bill Fulton, Tom Stirling and John O'Donoghue.

Including the finalists and their semi-final opponents, 24 rinks participated in the bonspiel, the other contestants being Winchester No. 1, skipped by Joe Dolben, Carleton, The Country Club No 1, Fredericton No. 1, St. Andrews, New York Caledonian, Nashua No. 1, Albany, Norfolk, Halifax, Schenectady, Ardsley, Lachine, Brae Burn, The Country Club No. 2, Fredericton No. 2, Nashua No. 2, Edmundston, Schenectady No. 2, and Yarmouth.

Halifax won the Mystic Trophy division of the bonspiel by beating The Country Club No. 1 rink, 13-3. The Winchester Country Club Curling Shield competition was won by Yarmouth over Schenectady No. 1.

The curling dinner was held at the club Friday evening and the trophies were presented Sunday at the close of the competition.

NORRIS VICE PRESIDENT

Fenton Norris of 1 Elmwood avenue has been elected vice president of the American Funeral Directors & Embalmers Assn., Inc. Mr. Norris also is chairman of the banquet committee for the Association's annual banquet scheduled May 23 at the 1200 Beacon street Hotel, Brookline.

Installation of officers occurred February 14 at Blinstrub's. Manuel Rogers of 380 Cambridge street, Cambridge, succeeded Frederick Shea of Randolph as president.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

NEW SCHOOL DEDICATED

BARTLETT PRINCIPAL OF NORTHWOOD HIGH

There is Winchester interest in the dedication last Sunday, February 24, of the new Northwood Junior and Senior High School because of the fact that a former Winchester resident and member of our teacher-coaching staff, Edward A. Bartlett, is principal of the Montgomery County, Md., institution.

The dedication has further local interest because of the fact that Winchester's former superintendent of schools, Dr. Forbes H. Norris, holds a similar position in Montgomery County, both he and Mr. Bartlett having left Winchester to assume their present positions in the South.

Still another Winchester angle was the fact that the dedication speaker, Dr. Arthur S. Adams, former provost at Cornell and president of New Hampshire State University, as well as head of the wartime Navy education program, was the dedication speaker. Dr. Adams left University of New Hampshire to head the American Council on Education in Washington. He is, of course, a native of Winchester and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Adams, formerly of Mystic avenue, his father having been for many years a popular taxi operator in town.

Also at the dedication was a former Winchester resident and member of the School Committee, Mrs. Ruth Gates Smith, wife of Dr. Lyman Bradford Smith, who now lives in Kensington, Md.

The new Northwood High School is of striking modern design. It cost complete $2,250,000, and has a present enrollment of 1230 with a faculty of 50. The enrollment will jump to 1665 next year and plans are already made for a 14-room addition to the building which will increase its capacity by 350.

The building opened this year and Mr. Bartlett is its first principal, being called upon to secure the teaching staff and to solve the many intricate problems involved in the opening of a new school.

He will be remembered as one of the administrative assistants to the principal of the high school and as an outstanding basketball and baseball coach, as well as an assistant coach of football in Winchester.

"KAYDETS" ENTERTAINED

Major General and Mrs. Ralph A. Palladino of 19 North Gateway, entertained West Point Cadets Arvid Doucette, Karl Prunitsch and Robert Crawford at their home on February 22, following the West Point-Harvard track meet which was held in Cambridge.

Cadet Prunitsch is currently a roommate of Cadet Donald J. Palladino. Cadet Doucette has visited with the Palladinos on two previous occasions. All three cadets are members of the West Point track team.

FOR SELECTMAN

HARRIS S. RICHARDSON, JR.

To our Fellow Citizens:

One reason why Winchester is such a desirable community is the vigorous and high-principled self-government which this town has always enjoyed.

The Board of Selectmen constitutes a five-man group whose members serve long hours (throughout three-year terms) wholly without pay.

So far Winchester has been fortunate in having a continuous supply of able and civic-minded people willing to take on these duties. This year is no exception; and we respectfully direct your attention to the candidacy of HARRIS S. RICHARDSON, JR., for Selectman.

Harris Richardson, Jr., is an officer of the Old Colony Trust Company. He is a graduate of Winchester High School, Dartmouth College and Tuck School of Business Administration. During World War II he commanded a destroyer-escort, attaining the rank of Lt. Commander. He is married and the father of three small boys.

Harris Richardson, Jr., has already served Winchester as a Town Meeting Member and (for three years) as a member of the Finance Committee. We hope you will be sure to vote March 4, and elect him to the Board of Selectmen.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

With the Big Leagues ready to start their spring ball season, the bulbs already blooming in Winchester, Va., and the first day of spring only twenty days away, all Winchester, Mass., boys eligible for Babe Ruth baseball should return their applications now.

Boys 13, 14 and 15 years old, born on or before September 1, 1944, or after September 1, 1941, are eligible; obtain your application blank at Chitel's Men's Shop or Winchester Sport Shop and return to either store or mail direct to Winchester Babe Ruth League P.O. Box 126, Winchester.

The tryouts will start April 6, each candidate either new or now a member of a Babe Ruth team must tryout with his age group, unless advised otherwised by letter, also, if a candidate because of sickness, or away during the tryout period, April 6 - 27, and has his application in, arrangements will be made to workout with the teams before the final selection.

Present plans are to open the season on or before May 11, with the many practice sessions and 36 game schedule, plus championship plays-off and All Star games, should give our Winchester boys a real opportunity to further their baseball career and development needed as they join later the high school teams and teams in the older programs.

Plenty of openings in all age groups, and all candidates have an equal chance.

We have a new line of gift wrappings and ribbons. Winchester Star. Star Building.

Brookline 5-4 Victim in Overtime

Sachems Win Ice Tourney Opener

Winchester High took the first step toward a possible State Hockey Title on the afternoon of Washington's Birthday when the Indians finally eked out a 5-4 win over Brookline High School at the Boston Arena after two seat-squirming overtimes.

The Winchester-Brookline game was late getting under way because of the overtime periods played by B. C. High and Springfield in an effort to settle their match. These were played with ten-minute rests between, and afterwards the ice had to be scraped, so local fans who wanted to see both the hockey and the Woburn basketball game at Winchester had to miss the end of the ice attraction.

Four minutes and 32 seconds of the first period had elapsed when Johnny Zirkel set up Leo Callahan perfectly to the right of the cage and the Winchester captain fired one from 15 feet out right past Goaler Richie.

Brookline countered slightly more than two minutes later when Pons scored unassisted.

Neither team was able to tally during the second period, but Winchester went out in front on defenseman Jim McElholm's goal at 1:09 of the final period, with Leo Callahan getting the assist.

Pons, big Brookline defense man, proved the villain once again, tallying the evener a minute after McElholm's tally. From then until the buzzer ending the regulation game the teams battled on even terms with neither being able to score.

During the first overtime Winchester again went out in front when Joe Cussen set up Callahan at 1:21, but Muldowney scored on a pass from Thompson at 3:39 and the clubs were all even again.

Following a ten minute rest the teams returned to the ice with Callahan again putting Winchester in front on a pass from Cussen at 1:48, and then setting up Zirkel with what proved to be the winning goal at 3:34.

Brookline kept fighting and Brown scored on a pass from Pons at 3:54. With Denton turning in several great saves, the Indians held on, however, until the end of the overtime to pull a real thriller out of the fire. The summary:

WINCHESTER (5)—g, Denton; defense, Kelleher, McElholm, Cullen; forwards, Cussen, Zirkel, Callahan, Weaver, Davenport, Sandberg.

BROOKLINE (4)—g, Richie; defense, Pons, O'Neil; forwards, Brown, Muldowney, Thompson, Cushing, Hegarty, Love, Hughes.

First period scoring: Winchester—Callahan (Zirkel) 4:32; Brookline—Pons (unas) 6:43.

Penalties: Winchester—McElholm (handling the puck).

Third period scoring: Winchester—McElholm (Callahan) 1:09; Brookline—Pons (unas) 2:26.

First overtime scoring: Winchester—Callahan (Cussen) 1:21; Brookline—Muldowney (Thompson) 3:39.

Second overtime scoring: Winchester—Callahan (Zirkel) 1:48; Zirkel (Callahan) 3:34; Brookline—Brown (Pons) 3:54.

Penalties: Winchester—Cussen (checking in offensive zone).

P. A. L.

There were no games during the vacation. Practice resumed Monday, February 25. The Lakers still hold down first place in the Senior League with the Pistons in second place, two games behind. The magic number for the Lakers is three, that is any combination of three Laker victories or three Piston losses will give the Lakers the senior championship. The Hawks and Eagles are tied for third place, five games back of the Lakers. One Laker win will eliminate these two teams. The Royals, in fifth and the Celtics in sixth round out the standings.

In the Junior League, Dartmouth leads Princeton by two games. Their magic number is also three. Harvard and B.C., in a third place tie, four games behind, have an outside chance to win. Yale and Holy Cross are in fifth and sixth place.

All Star Games

On Monday, March fourth, the Lakers will play the St. Clement's J.V. squad. In the first game, beginning at 7:15 the Junior All Star team will meet the Woburn P.A.L. Junior All Stars. Both games will be played at the Junior High Gym. Remember, mark it on your calendar, March 4, 7:15, Junior High Gym. It will be well worth your time to come and see them. The public is invited, so come on down and give the kids your support, and bring a friend. Admission is free.

The Junior All Star team will be made up of at least one boy from each team in the league. They are: Paul Goddu and Bill Errico, Princeton; Bill Rogers and Richie Carter, Harvard; Joe Butare and Paul Mulloy, B.C.; Bert Stevens, Holy Cross; Berney Stevens and Junie Perritano, Yale; Mike Bellino and Bob McGee, Dartmouth.

Funerals are the chief social and artistic outlet for Tiwi tribesmen on Melville Island. To put the deceased's evil spirit properly to rest, the death ceremonies are carried on for months, culminating in a final ritual called pukamani. The man who leads this dance requires five hours to make up. His camouflage —including a beard of goose feathers set in beeswax, a ball of goose down hung by human hair around his neck, and heavy paint and powder—is designed to prevent his recognition by the dead man's spirit.

H. S. Seniors Win Scholarship Commendation

More Academic Honors To Winchester

Four seniors at Winchester High School have been commended by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for distinguished performance in its nationwide search for students of unusual ability, according to Principal W. Howard Niblock.

The students honored are: Robert A. Kugler, Brenda K. McGowan, Frances N. Swisher, and Sara J. Woodward.

They have also been named Massachusetts state runners-up in the 1957 Merit Scholarship competition.

"The seniors honored today are among the top one or two percent in ability in the state," according to John M. Stalnaker, president of NMSC. "While they did not quite reach the finals of the 1957 Merit Scholarship competition, their unusual promise deserves recognition. Indeed, we want to encourage every one of them to make a special effort to obtain the best college education possible. Both student and country will profit."

As state runners-up, the local students will be sent letters of recommendation by NMSC for use in applying to the colleges they wish to attend.

The National Merit Association competition provides the largest system of privately financed scholarships offered in the United States. High schools may enter their most outstanding students in the annual competition. The first hurdle the students face is the "Scholarship Qualifiying Test," a high-level measurement of potential ability to benefit from a college education.

This year over 166,000 outstanding seniors from 12,500 high schools entered, with 750 four-year scholarships worth an estimated $3.75 million at stake.

NMSC was established in 1955 through grants of $20.5 million from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. Over forty business and industrial firms offer four-year scholarships through its facilities.

The results of this year's National Merit Scholarship Corporation program has indicated some very interesting statistics of significant importance to the Town of Winchester. The 166,581 boys and girls from all over the country who participated in the quest for the four-year college scholarships are selected from the top ten percent of their high school's senior class. This group represents the best students in all private and public schools in the United States.

Of the 31 seniors from our high school who entered the scholastic competition, Winchester had four students place in the national finals: Kirby Baker, Bradley Ross, Mary Kiley, and Whitney Smith. This accomplishment places these students in the top one or two per cent nationwide. The four students honored as state runners-up (Robert A. Kugler, Brenda K. McGowan, Frances N. Swisher and Sara Jane Woodward) placing in the top one or two percent in ability in the state gives Winchester over 25 per cent of its group in the highest ratings possible in the Merit Scholarship competition.

Another fact of significance is that the entire group of 31 seniors was placed in the upper 25 per cent in the quantitative section of the test, and in the upper 12 per cent in the verbal section of the examination.

A record such as this made by Winchester High School students indicates the excellent qualifications and backgrounds our students take with them into national competition. Our community should take just pride in the caliber of Winchester students and the program of studies, high standards, and quality of leadership set by our Winchester teaching staff, when competition such as the NMSC provides indicates our students are placing in the top percentiles of the outstanding students in the United States.

ADDRESSED CONNECTICUT LEGISLATURE

Winchester's representative, Harrison Chadwick, took a day off from the Massachusetts legislature last week to visit the Connecticut legislature. While there, he addressed the Connecticut lawmakers on comparative procedures in the legislative bodies of Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York. Among other things, Rep. Chadwick said that if his bill to install an electric rollcall machine in the Massachusetts House were passed 100 hours would be saved in each session and that this amounts to 24,000 man-hours since there are 240 members.

Johnson 140 and 101.

The teams are starting to put the pressure on Georgetown, but Captain Eric Johnson says his team is just warming up for the Roll-Off with Loyola for the Holy Name Championship. Captain John Rotundi has a different few on the situation as Villanova has taken 14 out of the last 16 possible points and are shooting for the top, he also states his team has two shots at Georgetown before the season closes in seven weeks.

The most improved bowler so far this year is Joe Grant of Villanova who rolled 111-96-104 last night for a 311 total—not bad!!

The league treasurer Joe Moffett reports a strong financial standing so all are looking forward to an exquisite Banquet.

James H. Nease, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nease of 741 Main street has completed the first phase of basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, Texas. He is now in school studying finance and accounting at Sheppard's Air Force Base 400 miles from Lackland. He graduated from St. Mary's Grammar School and attended Winchester High School up until a few months ago. James is expected home in late March or early April.

Sunday afternoon, Mr. C. S. Chiang, who has spent most of his life in Borneo, will speak to the Fellowship. Though he was born in China he has lived and worked in Borneo and will have much to tell about life and customs in that country. The worship service will be led by Marilyn Beckley and Phyllis Rogde.

Mrs. Marion Wing and son, Harry, of Salem street spent the holiday week-end in New York City. They were interviewed on Friday morning over Station CBS-TV.

SUN FILM AT MUSEUM

A spectacular color picture which delves into one of the world's most potent forces, the sun, will make up the March Week-end Film Program at Boston's Museum of Science.

Titled "Our Mr. Sun," the film is an unusual combination of entertainment and education, featuring Eddie Albert and Dr. Frank Baxter along with fascinating cartoon creations named "Thermo the Magician," "Chloro Phyll" and "Father Time."

The 55-minute picture is the first in the Bell System's new Science Series.

Showings will be in the Museum's Morse Auditorium Saturdays at 11 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. and on Sundays at 3:30 p. m.

There is ample free parking at the Museum of Science, but for those using the MTA, the Science Park Station on the Lechmere line is just a stone's throw from the Museum.

EDITORIAL

The top of the mornin' to you, "Joe" Donahue, and congratulations upon your completing fifty years of business in Winchester. May you and your popular establishment long continue to serve Winchester!

Town meetings are always important, and seldom has there been a Winchester town meeting so fraught with vital decisions as the one facing the precinct members on March 14 is likely to be.

Winchester's tax rate has been moving steadily upward from $30 in 1946 to $49.60 last year, an increase of $19.60 in ten years. This means a family with a home valued at $10,000, and that is a modest figure for Winchester homes, paid $196.00 more in taxes in 1956 than they did ten years previous, while a family with a $15,000 home, still not a high valuation, paid $294.00 above their '46 rate.

In 1946 our total appropriations were $1,179,046.22. Last year they amounted to $2,886,305.96, an increase of $1,707,259.74.

This means, if it means anything, that Winchester hasn't been exactly pinching its pennies during the last ten years, and the prospect taxwise doesn't seem to hold out any relief this year. Early tax rumbles from the town hall were to the effect that there would be a $10 increase this year before the town meeting finished the departmental budgetary items, with an added $2.00 for special items.

The Finance Committee, in its report, indicates that if the meeting follows its recommendations, the tax rate for 1957 will be $54.60, or an increase of $5.00 over last year. This rate does not include salary increases which may be recommended by the Personnel Board, nor any special articles not recommended by the Finance Committee. In other words, the $5.00 increase can become $7.00, or $8.00, or even more if the Town Meeting members are generously inclined.

A ten or twelve dollar tax rate for many of us would be close to confiscatory, and the Star is pleased to see that the Finance Committee does not envisage any such figure. However, a five to seven dollar tax increase isn't going to be fun for a lot of us, and is likely to hit two segments of our citizenry especially hard.

We refer to our young people, who are trying to swing a mortgaged home, and to elderly people on fixed incomes, who own their homes and want to continue to live in Winchester.

Many young people who have grown up and married are going out of Winchester because they cannot afford to live in the old home town. With them goes bred-in-the-bone Winchester stock that is a real asset to the future of the community.

The same is true of the residents in the twilight of life who have contributed to the Winchester we have known over the years, and want to spend the remainder of their lives in the town they love. How many such residents we have seen move out of town to Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut or to other communities where the tax burden is less heavy.

Nor is it only the young and the old who will be hit by a substantial tax increase this year. The family of modest means in its own home, is going to find it hard to meet even a $5.00 increase.

Winchester has spent a lot of money lately. Its appropriations have mounted yearly. This is not peculiar to Winchester, of course, but it is still a fact. Our recent school building program, exclusive of furnishings and architects' fees for the senior and junior high schools, cost $2,210,134.51, and if we are to believe the school authorities, more buildings and additions are in the immediate offing.

The overhead railroad will add directly and indirectly to Winchester's tax burden. We have just begun to adjust our pay scale for teachers and town employees to conform with the going rates in comparable communities. This adjustment is bound to cost more and more as time goes on and new teachers and employees are necessary. The State financial condition is bound to have its impact on us all.

There comes a time in every business after large capital outlays when a leveling-off period is necessary, when further expenditures, excepting those vital to the business, are carefully scrutinized, and generally postponed until the business has a chance to absorb past expenditures and adjust itself to the increase in operating expenses such capital outlays produce.

A town, or city, is also a business, generally larger, it is true, but still no different in principles of operation from a factory, market or shoe shop. Communities also need leveling-off periods. This may be a good year for Winchester to start.

Most of the expenditures for the town departments cannot be cut too much. They pay for services for which the town has indicated a desire. We must also keep in mind a new school for the West Side hill district, to say nothing of another fire station in that same locality, and a probable addition for the newly remodelled and enlarged high school. We are told it is functioning at capacity now. Of course this is "optimum" capacity. It is probable that the building can be made to do for a while as it is.

One thing we are told cannot be postponed. This is the lowering of the water level of the river and the height of the dam at the Mill Pond spillway to prevent the frequent buckling of the new access highway through the Skillings estate. The town's share in this program is said to be $25,000. If you drive a car around town, you know that our roads cannot go much longer without major attention.

The Star is not opposed to progress. We would like to see a fine new town hall with accommodations for all town departments. We would like to see our library second to none in the Mystic Valley. We would like to see a community skating rink, provisions for adult recreation in the wintertime and a fine Little League baseball field like the one in Woburn that is so generally admired.

We are not opposed to these costly additions to our town facilities. We are simply trying to present the side of a greatly increased tax picture that can work a real hardship for many of our friends and neighbors.

The interests of these taxpayers lies in the hands of the town meeting members. They will be importuned to vote for improvements by enthusiastic and sincere committees, who have lived with projects until convinced of their absolute necessity, and by organized pressure groups. They will be warned by the Finance Committee, which, however, in recent years has shown little tendency to argue in support of its warnings. And they will be watched by their neighbors and friends, whom they represent.

The Star believes this is the year to decide large expenditures, not by their desirability, but by their necessity. Such expenditures should by all means be decided on their own merits and not by "deals." Our town meeting members have a real responsibility ahead of them this year!

LIBRARY EXTENSIVELY USED

Editor of the Star:

I would like to say a few words in regard to the appropriation requested of the town for addition and improvement of the public library.

The library is the nearest approach to a community centre in Winchester. It is extensively used by adults and children alike, though the requested amount is in large part for addition to the children's library.

It is used by a number of organizations for their meetings: the Art Association, Historical Society and Garden Club, and at least twenty other groups use it for smaller meetings and committee meetings.

Winchester has grown by leaps and bounds since 1930, when the library was built, and has long outgrown itself.

The Historical Society, which has a valuabel collection of objects pertaining to old Winchester, has been forced to store its things in the attic, with no chance to display them, as was done when it occupied the present Edgar Rich Room, and many residents took advantage of a chance to see these interesting things.

There is no more worthy or worth-while object to spend the taxpayers' money for than to increase the facilities and usefulness of the library, and I hope the appropriation may go through without cutting it down.

Sincerely,
Clara R. Russell

COMMUNITY SHOULD FEEL PROUD

Editor of the Star:

On my desk is a masterpiece of the mid-twentieth century, known as Nelson's Complete Concordance (Thomas Nelson & Sons - Publishers) of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible, with over twenty-one hundred pages of key words, used to check or find certain passages in the Bible. On the second printed page you will find these words, "Compiled Under the Supervision of John W. Ellison."

The whole story behind this amazing piece of work is a marvelous one and would take more space than would be allowed, but suffice it to say that our community ought to feel proud that, along with its many distinguished residents we may add the name of the rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Reverend John W. Ellison. We not only list him as a fine neighbor but a great leader in the field of religion, and a scholar of the highest order, with a great future as a servant of Christ and the Christian Church. Greater than any great piece of work is always the man behind it. Congratulations, Reverend Ellison.

FAIR AND HONEST REPRESENTATION

Voters of Winchester:

I am once again appealing to you for honest and fair representation.

I am a candidate for the Board of Selectmen, and submit herewith the following facts as reason for my being elected.

I have lived in this town for 28 years, and am married to a girl born in Winchester. All of my thirteen children have been born in Winchester, and all have attended the Winchester schools with the exception of the twins who will enter next year. Five have graduated from Winchester High School. From a purely personal standpoint I have every reason to work only for the best interest of the town in which I live and am bringing up my family.

I therefor submit my name for your consideration as a candidate for Selectman. If elected, I can in a small way repay my debt to the town by working hard for the future progress of Winchester.

If elected, my ambition as Selectman, will be to give my time and experience for the interest, welfare and security of the Town of Winchester. In reality I am obligated to perform this duty.

I am qualified to serve as a member of the Board of Selectmen, having been a town meeting member for twelve years. I am a high school and college graduate with thirty years of business experience as an engineer and contractor.

This in my opinion is sufficient to qualify any one as a candidate for Selectman. I could further enumerate my civic activities, and the offices I have held in fraternal organizations, but many already know about them.

I do state, in all sincerity, that if elected, I will discharge my duties with fairness, justice and impartiality, for the welfare and happiness of all the people of Winchester.

PIPE SWIPED

A large quantity of transit sewer pipe was taken from outside a shed on Sussex road sometime between Saturday and Tuesday, according to Mr. Horace A. Weene of 60 Clearwater road, who reported the theft to the police.

He said there were tire tracks of a car or truck evidently used to haul away the pipe. Police are also investigating damage done to this property with sling shots and BB guns.

WINCHESTER AND CHARLESTOWN DEADLOCK

Winchester and Charlestown High Schools battled to a scoreless stalemate in the quarter final round of the State Interscholastic Hockey Tournament at the Boston Arena Tuesday night. Two overtime periods failed to break the deadlock.

It took goal tending of a spectacular order by Charlestown's Jerry Murray to frustrate Winchester's attempt to win the game, both in regulation periods and during the overtime.

Johnny Zirkel gave Murray a tough chance with eight minutes gone in the second chukkah, but he made the save. He made another beauty at 3:13 of the second overtime period at the expense of Captain Leo Callahan, turning aside the Indian star's sizzler at point-blank range.

Three times Murray stopped Callahan on solo sorties, and Leo is always dead on the mark in such attempts.

George Denton outsaved Murray, 23-19, but most of his shots were less spectacular. He did make one "darb" with but two seconds to play when he came up with a shoestring catch of a sizzler from a face off near the local net.

Johnny Zirkel made a great try to win the game in regulation innings when he blasted at the net a mile a minute from fairly close. The puck hit the post and bounced away. Murray had no chance to save.

The two teams were scheduled to play off their tie at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Following is the summary:

WINCHESTER—goal, Denton; defense, Kelleher, McElholm; forwards, Zirkel, Cussen; center, Callahan.
Spares: Weaver, Davenport, Sandberg.
CHARLESTOWN—goal, Murray; defense, J. Sullivan, Dole; forwards, McNamara, Foster; center, A. Sullivan.
Spares: Carey, Kennedy, O'Donnell.

WINCHESTER, 66; WOBURN, 35

Winchester defeated perennial rival Woburn for the second time this year, 66-35, in a game played on the home court last Friday night. Completing another successful regular season.

The Sachems were never pressed as they took a 17-4 lead in the first period and continued to pile up points for the remainder of the game.

Dave Bergquist was high for the Indians with eighteen points while Mike Callahan was right behind him with 16. Jordan with five baskets, was the only Woburn player to reach ten.

The J.V. had a little trouble in winning a 41-27 verdict over the Woburn seconds but a lead 14-4 in the first period proved enough to sustain a Woburn drive that closed the gap to seven points at the end of the third quarter. The finale was all Winchester as the home five outscored the Tanners 12-5 to win by a healthy margin.

Joel Peckham and Dave Schumacher each hooped ten for the victors while Magee also hit ten in the losing cause.

Winchester's next field to conquer is the Tech Tourney. Their first contest will be played this afternoon starting at 4:30 against Roslindale in Boston Garden. Due to their fine showing throughout the season the Sachems deserve the support of all their fans in this and any subsequent tourney games.

FIRES

Firefighters made a number of runs to the Town Dump this week. Chief Callahan warns residents using the dump to avoid throwing away hot and smouldering ashes from fireplaces or incinerators as this seems to be the way many of the fires start.

The first call came at 10:40 Saturday morning for a "hot spot" in the rubbish. This was a fire that the dump caretaker had already put out, but which was still smoking. At 2:20 that afternoon box 35 was rung in from the street for a pile of rubbish burning at the dump.

At 9:52 Monday morning, box 35 was rung in from the fire station for a fire at the dump which required five hours labor to bring under control. Over 2,000 feet of hose were used in combating the fire.

Again on Tuesday morning at 8:30 the dump became a trouble spot, and a bull dozer was used to clear away the smouldering rubbish so firefighters could douse the heart of the fire. They worked for three hours.

A series of brush kept the firefighters busy when they were not at the dump. At 5:00 p. m. Friday a grass fire was extinguished near 27 Sunset road.

Two fires were reported in the Town Forest, one near Grove street at 2:37 Saturday afternoon, and the other at 1:45 Sunday afternoon near Wellington road. Both fires were small, and firefighters used brooms to extinguish them. In this method the fire is swept back into the already burned section so it will die out.

Brooms were also used for a brush fire near Johnson road at 3:00 p. m. Saturday. Arlington and Winchester fire departments were both present at a brush fire on Trinity road at 12:05 Sunday afternoon, and after extinguishing the fire on the Winchester side of the line left the operation in charge of Arlington.

Two brush fires during the first of the week were at 60 Franklin road at 2:16 p. m. Monday, and at 54 Emerson road at 9:03 Tuesday morning. Box 263 was rung in for the former blaze.

Firefighters were roused out at 3:20 Wednesday morning to answer a report of wires burning in a tree in front of 11 Lloyd street. They remained until an Edison repairman arrived.

EARTHWORM GAINS ATTENTION AS FISHING, FARMING BEGIN

Again with spring at hand, people turn to the earthworm as a lure for fish and fertilizer of gardens.

Sometimes called fishworms, angleworms, nightcrawlers, dew worms and rain worms, the multitudinous wigglers have served mankind since antiquity, the National Geographic Society says.

Cleopatra guarded the rich Nile Valley worms as a state secret. Naturalist Charles Darwin doubted "whether there are many other animals which have played so important a part in the history of the world as have these lowly organized creatures." Others have called them the world's first plowmen, chemists, irrigation systems and fertilizer factories.

From burrows lacing the soil, the worms venture to the surface at night to feed on decaying plants and other organic material. Sometimes they drag the provender underground to eat at leisure. The digested product is a black substance called the earthworm castings, a powerful natural fertilizer. Some authorities say that fruit and vegetables grown in such enriched soil have more flavor and often greater size.

Prodigious Workers

The worms' burrows help the earth to hold air and moisture. Upward of 50,000 earthworms inhabit each acre, Darwin estimated. Over 15 tons of soil per acre may be brought to the surface each year by the untiring "cultivators."

Earthworms came into commercial importance in recent years. An Ohio fishing-tackle firm recently ordered 25,000,000 lobworms (lugworms that burrow in sandy places) from England. Millions of Egyptian worms have been exported to the United States to fertilize soils. A Washington, D. C., fishing hobbyist decided to raise a few for his personal use, later to find himself in the earthworm business with an inventory of 2,000,000 worms.

An Arlington, Virginia, resident some years ago treated his barren backyard with earthworm castings. Today, tomato vines climb almost to the eaves of his bungalow. His flowers are the envy of his neighbors.

A New York City student earned his way through college selling worms to anglers. A "worm farm" near Hereford, England, sold more than 1,000,000 specimens between last June and September to fishermen seeking trout, perch, roach and grayling. The redder worms are, anglers say, the more attractive they are to fish.

To satisfy increasing demands, worms often are packed in tins with preparations that feed and insulate them from undue heat and cold. Tins for individual fishermen may contain only a hundred specimens. Huge commercial shipments for fishing interests and agriculturists move by truck or train.

Earthworms live in all parts of the world where conditions are favorable. They have been found at 15,000-foot elevations in the Andes Mountains. In Australia worms sometimes grow 10 feet long as compared to the 10-inch whopper of the United States. Some peoples, including the Maoris of New Zealand, use worms for food.

INDIANS PLAYOFF VICTORS

In the longest match in the history of the Massachusetts State Interscholastic Hockey Tournament Winchester finally beat Charlestown, 1-0, Wednesday afternoon before a jam-packed seat-squirming crowd of partisan fans at the Boston Arena. The game was continued from a two-period overtime stalemate the day previous.

Captain Leo Callahan finally broke the scoring ice at the 54-second mark of the fourth overtime period, taking a pass from Johnny Zirkel after a faceoff to fire a 40-foot skimmer past the partially screened great goaler of the Charlestown team, Jerry Murray, into the right corner of the net. The score came just after the Charlestown captain, Art Sullivan, who had played a great game, was banished for a check in the center zone.

The four overtimes boosted the Winchester-Charlestown battle to seven periods for a tournament record. Arlington and Malden Catholic played six.

Winchester's semi-final opponent last night was Melrose, G.B.I. champion, with Arlington taking on Lynn English, North Shore champs and defending tourney titlists.

The summary:

WINCHESTER HIGH (1)—goal, Denton; defense, Kelleher, McElholm; forwards, Zirkel, Callahan, Cussen, Weaver, Sandberg, Davenport.

CHARLESTOWN HIGH (0)—goal, Murray; defense, O'Donnell, Dole; forwards, A. Sullivan, McNamara, Foster, Carey, Kennedy, J. Sullivan.

Goal—Callahan (Zirkel), 0:54 of fourth overtime.

SENIOR FORUM

Coming to speak to members of the Senior Forum this Sunday is Rev. Leonard G. Clough, Associate Minister of the First Congregational Church in Cambridge. He also serves as Minister to the Congregational students at Harvard University. His topic will be: "A New Look at the Old Book."

The chaplains this Sunday will be Carol Swett and Andy Swan; and ushering will be Bob Donaghey and Charles Petri.

Forum members planning to join the enthusiastic group going on the Spring Trip to Purity Spring Resort in New Hampshire, April 15, 16, and 17, must be sure to get their down payment in before March 17.

Forumites are reminded of the Lenten Services, planned by the Interchurch Youth Council, which begin on Wednesday, March 6, at 7:25 a. m. at the Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church. The young people's group at the Unitarian Church will have charge of this service.

Safety Tip: Poor night vision causes accidents. When you leave a brightly-lighted place, drive slowly until your eyes become accustomed to the darkness. Never drive at a speed which makes it impossible to stop within the distance you can see ahead, advises the Triple-A.

ON THE MOVE

Precinct chairmen for Winchester Red Cross fund campaign move out with solicitation records for next Sunday's house-to-house campaign. Left to right, back row: Charles Harris, 23 Stevens street; Mrs. Ruth Stevens, 28 Hillcrest Parkway; Mrs. Ronald King, 92 Hillcrest Parkway; Mrs. George Niles, 11 Madison avenue West; George Gowdy, 4 Lantern Lane. Front row: Mrs. Richard Pritchard, 53 Salisbury street; Mrs. John Enright, 4 Pine street; Mrs. Bernhart Anderson, 56 Dunster Lane.

RED CROSS

This is Red Cross week-end in Winchester!
Nearly five hundred residents of the town will, commencing today, ring doorbells throughout the town in order to secure $19,500 to meet the Winchester Chapter's quota in the 1957 National Red Cross Campaign.
The doorbell ringing will be by 495 women and men who have volunteered their time and services, determined that on next Sunday—Red Cross Sunday in Winchester—word will be flashed to state Red Cross headquarters that Winchester is among the first communities to over-subscribe its quota for 1957.
At an enthusiastic meeting of Committee Chairmen and Precinct Captains this week, 1957 Chairman Robert M. Edgar of 21 Oxford street, said that "I share your enthusiasm that on Sunday, March 1, we shall be able to send word that Winchester residents have again met their obligations as American 'neighbors' and oversubscribed their Red Cross quota for 1957."
Those assembled in the vestry of the First Congregational Church for the pre-campaign meeting were told that every resident is to be urged to give something for the Red Cross campaign. One precinct captain reported that, in many cases in former years, neighborhood solicitors have been told that "my husband gives at his business address."
It was agreed that, in this year's Red Cross campaign in Winchester, the solocitor would agree that "that's fine, but how about giving a token additional contribution, so we can put our town over the top, quickly?"
The funds solicited will be taken to the Winchester Trust Company next Sunday afternoon. There, under the direction of Miss Helen M. Monroe, campaign treasurer, they will be tabulated.
Those at the meeting were told by Chairman Edgar that "either the precinct captains or the individual neighborhood solicitors may bring their collections to the Winchester Trust Company.
"We hope, however, that the individual solicitors will bring them in, for in that manner we shall get our total tabulated more quickly. A committee of local Red Cross workers will be on hand to welcome all solicitors and we hope we shall see many of our 495 volunteers at the Trust Company early on Sunday afternoon."
Special Gifts Chairman Ralph H. Bonnell, Jr., of 7 Lockeland road told the meeting that preliminary work among the special gifts list has already indicated that this portion of the campaign will "do well this year, as we have found a realization that, in addition to the need for funds for the regular work of the Red Cross, something extra must be secured this year in order to replenish the national disaster fund which has been exhausted by the 115 disaster relief campaigns in which the Red Cross has participated in the past year."
1957 Fund Chairman Edgar emphasized that "we all need to give just a little more than usual, for again I want to point out that it could be in Winchester that a disaster might strike. The Red Cross disaster fund is really American neighbors helping other American neighbors, no matter where they may live. It's a fund which all Americans want to keep replenished."

AN OPEN LETTER TO ALL LEATHER WORKERS

Dear Members:
It is about time that you were informed of the true facts concerning the problem of Beggs & Cobb Tanning Company and our Union.
In our negotiations of 1955 the Officials of Beggs & Cobb stated time and time again that without added productivity they would not be able to continue operations at the Winchester Plant. As a result, the workers went to a mass meeting and voted to return to work and accept the Company's Incentive System, of which Management claimed would enable them to operate the plant at 24 packs or more. Since we have resumed work, the highest increase in packs were 20, which lasted only a short time.
At a meeting between Union and Management, it was proposed to your Union Officials a plan to reschedule the Regular Work Week so as to enable the plant to operate 6 consecutive days instead of 5 days. This plan was rejected by your officials because they felt as long as the Regular Work Week was agreed to at the 1955 Negotiations and accepted by both parties, that to change it would be a violation of our agreement, and that if we accepted it, it would also mean that some workers would have to work Saturday's for straight time, in order to get their forty hours of work. The Company has tried to make it appear that the Union has refused to co-operate with them in this matter. "Now you be the judge."
At a recent meeting between Management, your Business Agent, the Union Council and the President of your local, it was proposed that since the Company claimed that because of their customers' demand for pasted leather that they had a chance to establish a good market and that this plan would only involve 2 departments, namely, the setting-out and the pasters of the Grain shop; that we would recommend to these 2 departments to accept this plan provided that the Company and Union would set a specified period of time, and after such time, if the Company wished to continue this schedule, then they would pay the premium of time and one half for any time worked on Saturday's. This Company refused. "Now who is kidding whom?"
The Plant Manager stated in his recent letter, that because of the Union's refusal to co-operate with them, they were forced to drop production to 12 pack. "Now who is to blame?" It is their lack of foresight and mismanagement that is to blame, because they claim that they could see this condition coming months ago, but were unwilling to accept the provision of the contract agreed upon and pay the premium of overtime for Saturday work. Your Union Officials have bent over backward to help to put the Company back on its feet. But, when it seemed that they were about to balance themselves, they became weak in the knees and toppled over for which the Union and its Members are being blamed.
It's about time they realized that if they utilized their time, money, and so-called Geniuses in making the fine quality leathers that Beggs & Cobb has been known for; instead of fighting and trying to break the Union, only then could they see a future for the Company.
Fraternally yours,
Boyd Bowers, President
Gasper Muraco, Business Agent
Officers of Local 22

NOBLE CITIZENS OF WINCHESTER

Many and varied have been the methods employed by the Ways and Means Committee of the Winchester Mothers' Association to raise funds for the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, but always the same story over and over of so many people giving unselfishly of their time and energy so that the Winchester Scholarship Foundation might be a permanent and worthwhile organization, a completely American affair that knows no boundaries of race or religion.
Unfortunately the records at hand do not or could not name everyone involved but possibly a brief review with available names might prove interesting.
On February 27, 1947, Miss Ruth Draper was presented to an enthusiastic audience in the High School Auditorium. Arrangements for her appearance were made by Mrs. George Chatfield, Mrs. William Morton, and Mrs. Daniel Beggs, Jr.
On October 17, 1947, through the efforts of Mrs. Annette Burnham, Mrs. Paul Lamb, Mrs. Herbert Ross, Mrs. Arthur Hertig, Mrs. Charles Hart, and Mrs. Benjamin T. Marshall, Jr., Mr. Bradford Washburn of the Museum of Science appeared at the High School Auditorium and delivered a most entertaining lecture with movies of his recent expedition to the summit of Mt. McKinley.
In 1948 it was decided that the Teachers' Club of Winchester should be invited to join the fund raising efforts. The teachers, as usual, were most co-operative and presented a series of skits entitled "Teachers on Parade," coached by Mr. Ray Hayward with Dr. Forbes Norris as Master of Ceremonies. In addition Miss Helen Goodwin assembled a teacher's orchestra which added the final professional touch. Leading the workers on this project we see the names of Mrs. Sally Woodward, Mrs. Richard Cunningham, Mrs. Frank d'Elseaux, Mrs. John Swift, Mrs. Henry Dellicker, Mrs. Lyndon Burnham and Mrs. John McLean.
Since the 1948 theatrical had been so well received the 1949 association decided to try another. They presented "Parents on Parade" followed by dancing to Ken Reeves orchestra. Mr. Ray Hayward coached the presentation. Mrs. John McLean, Mrs. Paul Forrester and Mrs. James Coon were the able leaders.
The next year Mrs. John Swift worked with Mrs. Richard Bolster, Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, Mrs. Henry Dellicker, Mrs. Francis Millet, Mrs. Frederick Ives, Mrs. Benjamin T. Marshall, Jr., Mrs. George Saltmarsh, Mrs. George Blackwood, and Mrs. Kenneth MacArthur. They offered "Yankee Wander World" an illustrated lecture by Commander Irving Johnson on his recent cruise aboard his famous sailing ship The Yankee to the South Pacific. Two lectures were given, one in the afternoon for children and the other in the evening. Chances were sold on eight turkeys donated by these local markets— Lynch's, Richardson's, Ward's, Winchester Provision, Converse Fruit, Economy Stores, First National Stores, and Harrow's of Reading.

Dorothy J. Kallis, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Stephen A. Kallis of 282 Main street; and Sheila A. Gallivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Philip Gallivan of 3 Alden lane; have been named to the Dean's List at Tufts University Jackson College for Women. Miss Kallis prepared at Sendai American School, Sendai, Japan, where her father was stationed. Miss Gallivan graduated from Winchester High School.

BOY SCOUT FINANCES

Editor of the Star:
It may be of interest to some of your readers to know something concerning the finances of the Boy Scouts. The Fellsland Council, of which Winchester is a member, receives a substantial portion of the funds necessary for operations from the Community Fund drive.
This year our share amounted to $16,620. However, as the basic outline of the budget for council operations shown below indicates, this is not sufficient to bear the entire expense.
The Community Fund can increase the allocation to the Boy Scouts only in proportion to the total increase which may be subscribed in future campaigns. In order to make up the difference, the community fund approves and authorizes Sustaining Membership campaigns.
The purpose of adult membership in scouting is to help boys do in scouting that which they can not do for themselves. Some members serve in administrative capacities such as the scoutmaster who may give as much as four or five hundred hours of his time a year.
The sustaining membership provides an opportunity for those who are unable to give of their time to give financial support and thus play a responsible part in the Scouting movement. A sustaining membership gives one an opportunity to identify one's self with a national movement lending financial and moral support to a program whose purpose is the development of citizenship and character.
Participation in the Community Fund means acceptance of a responsibility for not otherwise seeking through public drives additional monies. Thus the Boy Scout organization does not make any comprehensive appeal to the public, but rather approaches only those known to be interested in scouting. Of necessity, therefore, it may be that many people actually interested in scouting have been unintentionally denied an opportunity to participate in the past.
The digest of the budget for Fellsland Council operations for this year is outlined below. In Winchester we have eight troops of scouts, seven cub packs, and three explorer posts. These groups serve over 750 boys. The total number of boys in the Fellsland Council organization is 2888. The towns of Medford, Stoneham, Burlington, Woburn, and Winchester make up the council.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH!

Editor of the Star:
Although a lot of publicity has been given to the educational film being sponsored by the Winchester District Nursing Association, I wonder if it is realized what a unique opportunity this is to learn a few simple but important facts which may make a difference between life and death to many women.
Last year nearly a thousand women in Massachusetts alone and fifty thousand in the United States died of cancer of the breast. Eighty per cent of these women could be alive and healthy today if they had known and practiced the procedures demonstrated by this film. This is simple arithmetic which is understandable to us all, and it seems incredible that any Winchester woman of twenty years or over would fail to attend one of the two showings of the film.
Many people take the ostrich attitude that this couldn't happen to them and is meant for the other person, but unfortunately the person to which it does happen has to be a "you" to someone. When it does happen the previous importance of a bridge or shopping date, or hairdresser's appointment, that prevented learning these facts, becomes a tragic triviality.
Lest there be any misunderstanding, this film is not meant to supplant the physician and regular examinations, nor does it send women scurrying to the doctor with cancerphobia. Rather it will teach every woman to be a valuable aid to her doctor and to relieve many of the useless fears that arise out of ignorance of some of the basic facts of this disease. Most important of all, it will save money, suffering and lives.
Done with dignity and good taste, concerned only with early detection, no woman should let anything interfere with her opportunity to attend. If my judgment of the innate good sense and intelligence of Winchester women is correct, (and I've had a fair experience with it,) then two showings of this film should not be enough to accommodate them.
Very truly yours,
Harry L. Mueller, M.D.

HAROLD A. BATTEN

Harold A. Batten of 15 Hancock street, a jewelry engraver and veteran of World War I, died Wednesday morning, February 27, at the Soldiers' Home in Chelsea after a nine months illness.

Mr. Batten was the son of Isaac, and Mary (Goodrick) Batten. He was born October 4, 1894, in London, England, but came to this country as a boy of seven years and spent his boyhood and young manhood in South Boston. He later spent seven years in Boston before coming to Winchester in 1940.

Mr. Batten was a jewelry engraver, working for many years for Smith Patterson in Boston and then for Jordan Marsh when this firm took over Smith Patterson. A veteran of World War I he served overseas as a member of the 102nd Machine Gun Company of the 26th Division, winning the Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry in action. He was a member of the Legion of Valor and was a past member of St. Paul's Lodge, A.F. and A.M., of Dorchester, formerly of South Boston.

Mr. Batten married Marion Leavitt of Boston, September 8, 1932. She survives with a son, Harold Kendall Batten of Massapequa Park, Long Island, N. Y.; and two grandchildren, Mary and Ronald Batten.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Waterman Chapel in Kenmore Square, Boston. Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

DEAN MAKECHNIE PRAISES JUNIOR HIGH PROGRAM

Junior High parents unable to hear Dean George Makechnie of Sargent College last Tuesday missed a very informative evening. Speaking on "Physical Education in Seconday Schools," Dean Makechnie first pointed out what we all know but hate to admit: Americans just do not exercise enough to keep physically fit.

For this reason, physical education in the schools which is thoughtfully designed to develop the stamina, co-ordination and flexibility of every student is of particular importance. To accomplish this, a good plant is helpful; more important is a good program of gymnastics and sports.

Obviously, over-emphasis on team and competitive sports can be detrimental to such an all-inclusive plan. The answer to this is not the elimination of competitive sports, but the creation of a greater number of teams to include all students, with emphasis on exercise and physical development rather than competition.

Dean Makechnie had high praise for Winchester's Junior High School, for the faculty and school as a whole, and for the exceptional physical education facilities and program. In this regard, Mr. Meurling explained that Winchester's fame in the field of sports comes not at the expense of a broad physical education program, but because of it.

Illustrating this point in another way was the fine demonstration of dancing and precision marching by a team of 8th grade girls selected from Mrs. Montgomery's classes. In the tap dancing routine were Gail Tonello, Sally Clark, Penelope Borden and Linda Gagliormella. Marching in the drill were Carlene Hatchell, Joanne Hill, Marie Enright, Muriel Mirak, Judith Canniff, Jean Lonigro, Barbara Corey, Carolyn Davis, Suzanne Koch and Marion McMahon. Jeanne Chase, Patricia Murphy, Carol Radocchia, Barbara Winsor, Carol Ann Sansone, and Marcia Ayer demonstrated the modern dance.

On March 19, at 2:30 p. m. there will be another discussion meeting for the Junior High Associates in the school auditorium. The topic will be the Math Program in the school.

FINED IN MALDEN

Two Winchesterites made the mistake of deciding to rifle a truck parked directly across from the Malden police station last week, and were apprehended by two police officers who were coming out of the station.

The two men, one 19 and the other a juvenile, were arrested and charged with larceny from a truck.

The older man received a fine of $50.00 in the Malden District Court on Monday, and the other was held for a hearing before the juvenile session of the court. The 19 year old pleaded intoxication at the time of the robbery.

RALPH G. SWANSON

Ralph G. Swanson of 3 Marshall road, president-treasurer of the Matthews Lumber Company at Ball Square, Somerville, died Friday morning, February 22, at the Winchester Hospital at the age of 62. He was stricken with a heart attack on the Monday before his death, but had not been in good health for some time.

Mr. Swanson was the son of August, and Anna Elizabeth (Anderson) Swanson. He was born August 21, 1894, in Boston, but grew up and was educated in Somerville and entered the employ of the Matthews Lumber Company 40 years ago as a clerk in the office.

Advancing through various stages, Mr. Swanson took over the business 15 years ago and was its president-treasurer at the time of his death. He was widely known in lumber circles throughout New England.

He was a member of Mt. Hermon Lodge, A.F. & A.M., of Medford; a charter member of the Somerville Lions Club, a member of Fylgia Lodge, Order of Vasa, a Swedish organization; and of the Church of the Epiphany. He came to Winchester from Somerville 31 years ago.

On October 4, 1922, Mr. Swanson married Dither Glass of Duxbury, who survives, with two sons, Wesley and Donald Swanson, both of Winchester; a sister, Mrs. Wilbur Maher of Cambridge; and a brother, Oscar C. Swanson of Danvers.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany with the rector, Rev. John W. Ellison, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

ALBERT MILLER

Albert Miller, 73, of 26 Prescott street, Malden, who died February 24, at the Malden Hospital, was buried Tuesday afternoon in Wildwood Cemetery, following services at the Margeson Funeral Home in Malden. The Rev. H. Belmont Hill, pastor of the Center Methodist Church in Malden, officiated.

A native and lifelong resident of Malden, Mr. Miller was for many years a cook in the Merchant Marine service, retiring in 1947. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Susan Clark Miller, aged 93, living in Malden.

As a baby Mr. Miller used to come to Winchester with his mother to visit his mother's sister, and at that time his mother greatly admired a plot of ground which the family later acquired and which is now a part of Wildwood Cemetery, the family purchasing a lot when it became cemetery land.

WASHINGTON DADS TO PRESENT CALL

The George Washington School Dads' Club will present K. Thomas Call as the featured speaker at the Club's annual Father and Son Chowder Party Monday, March 18.

Mr. Call, a versatile lecturer, will present "Play for Your Life," a subject of vital interest to every one. The speaker couples a firm belief in the importance of fire prevention with a mastery of magic, practiced and perfected since boyhood, to bring to his crusade for saving lives a unique combination of ability and conviction.

A prizewinning member of the Society of American Magicians, Mr. Call uses his talents to stress, dramatize and highlight his message of fire safety and fire prevention. "It's amazing, but gratifying," he says, "how a little magic at just the right time can make people remember an important life saving hint that otherwise might go in one ear and out the other."

"Play For Your Life," a unique stage presentation of Liberty Mutual Fire Insurance Company, was created with the single purpose of helping to avert the tragic deaths and crippling injuries brought about by home fires. In this 45 minute show it is shown, re-enacted in a scale model of a typical home, how fire in the night can find a family unprepared. It is also demonstrated how smoke inhalation can cause death as real flames are seen breaking out in the model, the fire causing the flames being the result of carelessness.

Members, their sons or male guests will be contacted by committee members for reservations.

SALVATION ARMY SPENT MONEY IN WINCHESTER

Residents of Winchester received a total of $986.21 in direct aid from the Salvation Army during 1956, it was announced by Colonel Ralph T. Miller, New England Provincial Commander.

The money was spent the following ways: $396.22 for food orders; $332.25 for clothing; $128 to send needy children to summer camp; $50 for schooling; and $79.74 for sundries.

Twenty per cent of the funds raised here in the Salvation Army Friendly Annual Appeal remains in Winchester to meet local needs and emergencies as they arise. The rest of the money benefits over 30 social welfare agencies and the famed Disaster Service.

The 1957 fund drive will begin May 1 with an over-all goal of $600,000.

President, N.E. Tel. & Tel. Co.

MR. WHITE REPORTS

With its operations geared to the accelerated pace of the New England economy, the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company in 1956 added 139,652 telephones, Erskine N. White of Rangeley, Company president, says in his annual report to stockholders.

He reported that this increase was the largest ever experienced by the Company, except for the period right after World War II, and that it brought total telephones in service to 2,818,962.

He called 1956 "one of the most active years in the history of our business"—a year in which the Company made the largest investment in new and improved facilities, and a year in which employment, revenues and expenses increased and more new capital was brought into the business.

"While earnings on invested capital were at a rate somewhat above the average postwar level," Mr. White said, "they declined from 6.32 per cent for the preceding year to 6.26 per cent for the year 1956. Net income per share was $9.01 compared with $8.95 for the year before. But, for the last quarter, the annual rate had dropped to $8.85 reflecting the addition of 611,000 new shares in September.

"Truly the year 1956 pointed up the difficult problem of building, expanding and improving facilities on a large scale during a period of rising costs. But we cannot select the period that is most favorable for our expansion. We must build to meet public demands for service whenever they are made upon us—confident that through operating economies and increases in the prices we charge for telephone service whenever they are necessary, adequate earnings can be maintained."

Mr. White's report brings out: That the Company's expenditures for new construction in 1956 amounted to $111,000,000 . . . that construction in 1957 and 1958 will exceed $220,000,000 . . . that the construction program the Company embarked on after the war has amounted to $633,000,000 to date . . . that the present total plant investment of $904,000,000 may reach $1 billion before the end of 1957.

"Because of the construction job for the next two years amounting to $220,000,000," Mr. White said, "large amounts of additional new capital will be required. It will be necessary to undertake periodic permanent financing of our short term borrowings by the issuance of stock or debt securities. In view of the current tight money market, it is all the more necessary that our credit be preserved through the maintenance of satisfactory earnings levels in order to carry out this financing successfully."

Mr. White noted that the plant investment per average Company telephone has gone up from $220 in 1946 to $302 in 1956 and that this rise resulted from increasing construction costs during the period.

"In a business like ours," he said, "it is very important that the prices we charge for service be kept in line with the higher investment required to provide it. In fact, it is necessary that this increasing investment be anticipated in establishing rates for telephone service."

Mr. White pointed also to continually rising costs of operation and cited wages as the Company's biggest single cost in providing service, or about two-thirds of operating expenses, not counting taxes. As to taxes, he said the Company's total operating taxes in 1956 rose to a little less than $50,000,000, an increase of 11.6 per cent over 1955, and was the Company's biggest tax bill ever.

"Through operating economies and greater efficiency," he said, "steps are regularly being taken to offset these continually increasing costs of operation. Substantial as these steps have been and will continue to be, they are far from adequate to overcome the impact of wage, material and tax increases which have so characterized this postwar inflationary period."

Mr. White's report said that the 1956 growth in the Company's business included many services newly available. He cited particularly the service features such as answering and recording sets, push-button telephones, cordless switchboards, speakerphones, mobile radio and teletype services as playing new roles in thousands of New England industrial and commercial firms.

The report also described many service improvements and cited as the biggest strides the provision of dial equipment for the handling of both local and long distance calls. During the year, 49 more central offices were converted to dial operation. At the end of the year dial-operated telephones were over 81 per cent of the Company's total telephones, as compared with 50 per cent in 1945.

With reference to the further installations during 1957 of Direct Distance Dialing—which permits telephone users themselves to dial certain distant cities and towns—the report said, "A real start has been made in the introduction of this new method of handling long distance calls."

Robert E. Wolf of 14 Wildwood street was among those named to the Dean's List for scholastic excellence for the fall term at Northeastern University. Dean's List students have an academic average of "B" with no grade lower than "C."

MURPHY — MORRISON

Of Winchester interest is the marriage at St Margaret's Church in Burlington on Saturday morning, February 23, when Miss Eleanor Frances Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Morrison of Skelton road, Burlington, became the bride of Francis Richard Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Murphy of 10 Canal street. The Rev. James Davis, O.M.I., of St. Stephen's Priory in Dover, a cousin of the bride, performed the marriage ceremony at 10 o'clock and was celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Frank Flahive sang "Ave Maria," "O Lord I Am Not Worthy," "Panis Angelicus" and "O Sacred Heart."

Miss Morrison was given in marriage by her father, and attended by her sister, Miss Marjorie Morrison, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Flaherty, Miss Marcia Foley and Miss Charlotte Gouthro.

The bride wore a gown of net over satin with lace inserts, a sweetheart neckline, lace sleeves and a short train. Her fingertip veil was caught to a fitted crown of lace and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, centered with an orchid.

All the bridal attendants wore identical American Beauty ballerina length dresses with matching stoles and white crowns with matching attached veils. They carried bouquets of American Beauty and white roses.

James Carroll of Winchester was Mr. Murphy's best man, and ushering were Walter E. Murphy, Jr., and Donald Murphy, both of Winchester, brothers of the bridegroom; also Albert E. Wilde, Jr., of Burlington.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Bear Hill Country Club with the mothers of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Morrison, mother of the bride, was gowned in navy lace and wore orchid accessories and an orchid. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Murphy, also wore an orchid with her dress of powder blue lace and accessories of powder blue and navy.

After a wedding journey by automobile to Miami, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will make their home at 79 Montvale avenue, Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of St. Charles School, Woburn, Mr. Murphy is associated with the George Mann Co., of Stoneham, graduated from Winchester High School and Bridgton Academy and attended the University of Massachusetts.

RECITAL PARTICIPANTS

The monthly informal recital was held at the Arlington Academy of Music on Wednesday evening, February 20. A capacity audience responded enthusiastically to the offerings of the young musicians.

Guest artists were present from the Waltham Music School and Framingham Music Studios, branches of the Academy.

Winchester participants were: Thalia McCarthy, 10 Fairmount street and Cornelia Frazier of 7 Summit avenue.

ERNEST L. PARKER

MOSLER PROMOTES TWO

Promotion of two members of the Boston office of the Mosler Safe Company was announced Friday, February 22, by Edwin H. Mosler Jr., president.

Ernest L. Parker of 3 Wilson street was named Northeastern regional director. He is succeeded by Larry W. Troy of Lawrence, who becomes New England bank division manager.

Parker has been with the firm since 1925; he was named New England manager in 1950. Prior to joining Mosler he was with Eastern Advertising Company, Boston.

Troy, a member of the Boston sales staff for the past 18 months, was previously with the firm's Detroit and Washington offices.

EATON NAMED DIRECTOR

Allen O. Eaton, of 34 Rangeley road, a partner in the Boston law firm of Ropes, Gray, Best, Coolidge & Rugg, has been elected a director of The Flintkote Company, it was announced today by I. J. Harvey Jr., Flintkote president.

A graduate of the University of Vermont, Mr. Eaton took his law degree at the Harvard Law School in 1935 and has been associated with Ropes, Gray, Best, Coolidge & Rugg since then.

He is also a director of Quincy Market Cold Storage and Warehouse Company, and is active in civic affairs in Winchester, being a director and secretary of Winchester Hospital and a director and clerk of the Winchester Community Chest.

WHAT ABOUT OUR LIBRARY?

THE MONEY QUESTION

At the coming Town Meeting, the Library Building Addition Committee and the Trustees will present to the Town Meeting members details of the proposed building addition to the Children's Library, an exhibition hall and meeting room wing, and renovations to the existing building to provide more book shelf area and improved reader facilities.

These plans have been prepared after careful study by the distinguished architectural firm of Richmond and Goldberg, whose recent works include the Egleston Square branch of the Boston Public Library and the Winchester Square branch of the Springfield Public Library. This firm was awarded a gold medal by the city of Boston for excellence in design and construction of the Southern Brookline Community Center.

The proposed additions together with renovations, site work, furnishings and architects' fees are estimated to cost a total of $396,000. The architects feel confident that this estimate will be very close to an actual figure obtained by competitive bidding.

However, the Building Committee and Trustees are of the opinion that the Town Meeting members would much prefer to vote on a firm contractor's bid rather than on an estimated cost.

Accordingly at Town Meeting, request will be made for $19,000 which represents the architects' fees necessary for completion of working drawings and specifications. This amount will be deducted from the total project cost of $396,000. From these drawings and specifications, bids will be solicited. The low bid will be presented at a special Town Meeting to be called later in the year and at that time, authorization for construction will be voted. It is believed that construction can begin in 1957.

Information furnished by the Town Accountant indicates that $300,000 of the $396,000 estimated cost can be bonded for twenty years. This would mean an increase on the tax rate of only 54 cents per $1,000.00 of assessed valuation the first year, reducing each year to 34 cents by the twentieth year. The balance of $96,000 would come either from surplus or 1957 revenues.

Ed Note: Another in the series of articles by friends of the Winchester Library.

WHICH MAN PASSED THE N.P.* TEST?

*Ninety-Percent

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the right of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch . . . like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

You buy your clothes to make a good impression. As you wear them, have them drycleaned often. A smart man takes care to keep that impression fresh.

METHODIST COUPLES CLUB

Mr. Walter Fish, who is now quite famous for his theatrical productions using "home talent," has again planned an evening's entertainment for the March meeting of the Couples' Club. Aided by a large group of club members, he promises to do away with your income tax woes or late spring blues and will have you rocking with laughter and rolling in the aisles. The theme is still a hush-hush affair, but all who are tempted are most welcome to find out for themselves on Tuesday, March 5, when a social hour and catered dinner precede the big surprise.

E. Carl Hoglund of 26 Willowdale road, a 1927 graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute, is among the graduates assisting with the alumni solicitation in the Boston area for the Institute's half million dollar development program.

GERALD F. D. REICHLEY

Gerald F. D. Reichley of Weston, who is associated with Sears Roebuck and Co., will serve as Greater Boston area chairman of the 1957 Easter Seal campaign, it was announced today by Tenley Albright, chairman of the $285,000 state-wide appeal of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped. The campaign will be held March 15 through Easter Sunday, April 21. Reichley is one of five campaign area chairmen who suffered physical disabilities and were rehabilitated at an Easter Seal facility so that they could enter employment or return to former employment.

OBSERVING LONGFELLOW'S ANNIVERSARY

In connection with the celebration of the 175th anniversary of the birth of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, on February 27, the great poet's home, Craigie House at 105 Brattle street, Cambridge, will be open today and tomorrow, March 1 and 2, for visits by young people accompanied by adults.

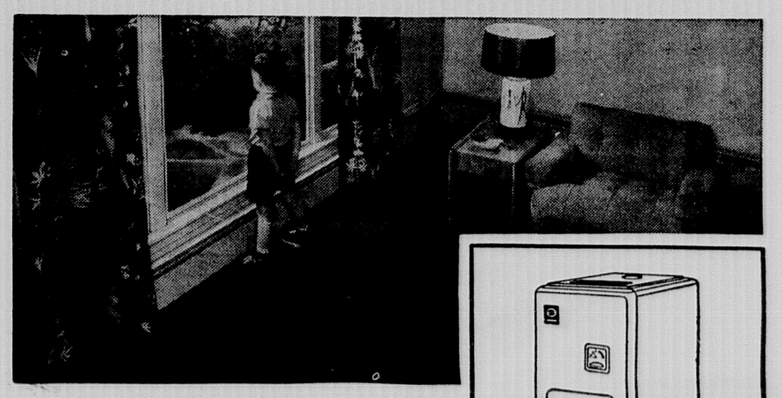
Teachers, Scout leaders and settlement workers, and all other leaders of young people's groups are invited to bring their groups on those days between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Arrangements should be made in advance by calling TRowbridge 6-2340.

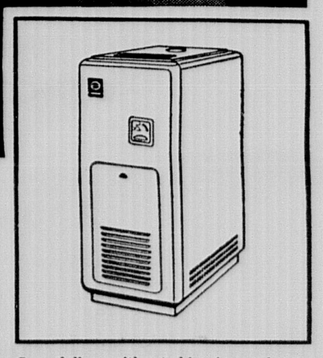
Hot water heating in its most modern form—

AMERICAN-Standard

BASEBOARD HEATING PANELS

can be installed in your home on easy payment terms





Save dollars without skimping on heat—install an American-Standard Empire gas fired boiler. Economical to buy—economical to operate, this handsome boiler gives quick, abundant heat.

For new construction or modernization, baseboard panels provide all the comfort and efficiency of hot water heating in its most modern form. Taking the place of regular wood baseboards, the panels save floor space, leave walls unbroken, allow greater freedom of decorating—provide even warmth from floor to ceiling, and from wall to wall.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

"SCOUTS' OWN
at 3:00 P. M. SUNDAY

All Winchester Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts with their leaders, troop committee members, Girl Scout board members, and friends of Girl Scouting will assemble in the high school auditorium before 3:00 p.m. Sunday, March 3, to take part in the 'Scouts' Own," mentioned last week. All girls who can, will be in uniform, others in dark skirts and white blouses.

This will be a significant occasion at which all Girl Scouts, young and old, will renew their promise and laws. We will be privileged to hear Mrs. E. Sohier Welch, Jr., a member of our regional and national boards, speak on "It All Depends."

Mrs. Welch is not only active in national Girl Scouting, but in many Girl Scout and civic affairs in her home town of Framingham. Her deep interest in girls and her conviction about what our program can do for girls, will be evident in her talk. Because of the seriousness of the occasion, we avoid applauding a "Scouts' Own."

Board Meeting

The monthly meeting of the board of directors will be held on March 7, at 9:30 a.m., at the home of Mrs. James Stewart, Jr., 7 Winslow road.

Overnight at Cabin

Troop 40 reports a very successful overnight at the Girl Scout cabin, with a fried chicken dinner, followed by games on Wednesday evening, a fun hike on Thursday morning with skating on Long Pond, ending with a cook-out at the cabin.

Mrs. Robert C. Lewis, Mrs. Robert Durfee and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery assisted the leader, Mrs. Arvid Monsen, and her program aide, Carol Monsen. Girls enjoying the overnight were: Debby Price, Marcia Kimball, Cathy Lewis, Barbara Monsen, Paula Ellison, Susan McLennon, Janice Wolff, Caroline Leaf, Betsy McCreery, Janet Herrmann, Jo-Ellen Corkery, Joan DeVries and Maureen Gill.

Next week's Film Program, Friday and Saturday, March 8 and 9 will be: Airport, Pride of New England; the Boston Red Sox, Baseball, Andy and the Lion.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

The monthly meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Winchester will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Atwood, 77 Arlington street. The time is 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday, March 6, and tea will be served.

Please note the change of time and place from previous announcement in the Club Book.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Blair Hawley of Winchester. On February 11 he was elected president of the Greater Boston Young Republican Club. He had served as vice-president of the organization and chairman of the membership committee. As one of the ten outstanding young men in the Junior Chamber of Commerce and organizer of Middlesex County Chamber of Commerce for the Republican State Committee, he is well qualified to present many facets of the party.

All members are urged to attend.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

We are sorry to state that the records for this week's bowling were misplaced. Our scorekeeper has informed me a true copy is forthcoming from the alleys and a complete resume will be made this coming week. We do have a record of how each individual team made out so we will post these.

Team Standings:

All Stars	25 - 7
Hot Shots	18-14
Blue Eyes	18-14
High and Low	17-15
Lindy Hop	17-15
Rock and Roll	15-17
Jitterbugs	14-18
Bee Bops	4-28

Hi Single:
Choppers Gangi 147

Hi Triple:
Dick Fiore 356

You are all aware by now that the All Stars are really making a runaway as they broaden their lead this week with four points again. With only six weeks left to go they might be caught but it doesn't seem probable.

As we don't know who bowled over 300 or what team had high pinfalls this week, we will devote a little time to what happened in the alleys.

We know that one nationally recognized record was equalled this week. This distinguished honor goes to a man whose voice is only exercised for the good of charity and whose humbleness is known town wide, with the initials M.D.S. and he bowled 225, thereby equalling this record. The dummy score of 225 is recognized throughout the country. He can say that he stepped forward this week for the previous week he bowled 215.

There was quite a commotion that evening as our good brother long John Mangano made a surprise visit in Uncle Sam's best from Camp Devens. He sure looks trim now that Uncle Sam is watching his calories. We also nearly had a bad accident as brother "Correction" Fiore did a real back flip when his feet went from under him, but with Dr. A. Vespucci on the job administering first aid recovery was immediate.

Nick, where were you this evening? Poor brother Peter Fiore spent more time calling and look-for you than a father with his first son. Your going to send him back to Skid Row. Please, at his age he can't take it.

We are extremely happy to announce that after your scribe visited Frances Muraco and Sam Puma the report is that they are both well on the mend.

Visitors are now welcomed if you can make it.

The award this week went to our beloved "Kangaroo Kid" Jeff Gaudioso. We heard through the grape vine that two weeks ago this award was turned down by that great philanthropist, the honorable "Sir Winston" Frongillo, and the award at that time went to the "Kangaroo Kid."

PLAN AHEAD

Now is the best time to have your lawn mower and other powered garden equipment sharpened and repaired. As the local factory authorized service station for most engine manufacturers we carry large supplies of parts which enable us to meet most requirements. But experience has shown that it is the unusual requirement which causes those annoying delays in the spring when parts departments are so busy. So PLAN AHEAD by contacting us NOW about your lawn mower service problem. Planning ahead will assure you of having your mower in tip-top shape for the first spring cutting.

THREE PATENTS TO BRADLEY

John J. Bradley, Jr., of Winchester, and Joseph W. Ayers, Easton, Pa., were the recipients on February 12, 1957, of three United States patents, all dealing with glue compositions that are particularly useful in the manufacture of plywood.

Plywood is made by gluing together a number of thin layers of wood so that the grain of each layer is at right angles to that of its adjoining ones. The glue for this purpose has been made for some years by incorporating natural walnut shell flour in a water solution of a phenolic resin adhesive, and, according to Messrs. Bradley and Ayers, the plywood produced therefrom possesses the highly desirable properties required for all-weather and marine applications. However, because the use of increased amounts of the walnut shell flour would reduce the amount of resin required in the manufacture of the glue, experts in the field have for some time been trying to provide low cost materials which may be utilized in comparatively large amounts while at the same time producing plywood of commercially acceptable quality.

In their three patents, Messrs. Bradley and Ayers provide solutions to this problem. Thus in one of their inventions that disclose a method whereby the phenolic resin glue composition is made by using a substantial quantity of a flour made by grinding the shells of nut such as the walnut, hickory, palm and filbert. Likewise, the pit shells of fruits such as the peach, prune and apricot may be employed as well as the hulls of grains and seeds or the cones of coniferous trees.

In one of their other patents, Messrs. Bradley and Ayers provide a method by which the desired phenolic resin glue composition is produced by using the ground bark of trees such as the pine, hemlock, fir or cedar as an ingredient; and in their third patent it is made by the use of waste agricultural products such as oat hulls, cotton seed hulls and like materials.

It should be noted that in all of these processes, the ground ingredients are subjected to a dual alkaline treatment.

These three patents have been assigned to Agrashell, Inc., Los Angeles, California.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hour as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thomson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

The vital significance for people today of Jesus' healing works will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.
Scriptural passages in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" will include the Master's reply to the disciples of John Baptist who questioned his mission (Luke 7:22): "Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard: how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read (131:26-30): "The mission of Jesus confirmed prophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden times as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood. Jesus' works established his claim to the Messiahship."

UNION LENTEN SERVICES

The Directors of Religious Education of the Protestant churches of Winchester have planned with their young people a series of short morning worship services through the season of Lent. Commencing on Wednesday morning, March 6, they will go through April 10.

Young people from the various youth groups will lead the services and the talks will be given by the various ministers. All services will be held in Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church and will be over by 7:45. Young people are requested to enter the Chapel from the Mystic Valley Parkway side.

Evening services will be held in the various churches commencing on Ash Wednesday at the Church of the Epiphany at 7:45. The following preachers have been engaged for these services: The Right Reverend Frederick C. Lawrence, Suffragan Bishop of Massachusetts, Rev. Kenneth R. Henley, minister of the First Congregational Church of Greenfield, Mass.; Dr. John Wesley Lord, Bishop of the New England area of the Methodist Church; Rev. Edwin H. Tuller, Executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention; Dr. Edwin Prince Booth, head of the Church History Department of Boston University; Dr. Joseph N. Barth, minister of King's Chapel in Boston.

The Mystic Glee Club will furnish the music at the Baptist Church. Offerings will be used by the Ministers' Association for community religious education work, and for non-sectarian purposes. Our Winchester churches join hands for many good enterprises. We rejoice that we walk in one company together in the deep things of life.

DR. JOHN HERBERT WAITE

Dr. John Herbert Waite of 42 Wildwood street, an internationally prominent ophthalmologist and from 1931 to 1941 ophthalmic chief of the staff of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, died Saturday ,February 23, after a long illness. He had made his home in Winchester for 34 years.

Dr. Waite was born November 24, 1889, in Bellefonte, Pa., the son of John Sitman, and Mary L. (Botorf) Waite. He was graduated, magna cum laude from Bucknell University in 1911 and was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Sciences by Bucknell in 1936.

Following his graduation from Harvard Medical School in 1916, he interned in pathology at the Boston City Hospital, and then entered the service of the Rockefeller Foundation, spending four years in the Far East helping lay the foundation for later projects to be carried out in that area.

After returning to the United States in 1919, Dr. Waite spent a year as a Resident in Medicine at Albany, New York, and then entered the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary in Boston to begin his work in ophthalmology, for which he became world renowned.

Between the years 1931 - 1941 he was the Ophthalmic Chief of Staff at the Infirmary, and Clinical Professor of Ophthalmology at Harvard Medical School. Since 1941 he had been a consulting surgeon at that hospital and was consulting ophthalmologist on the staffs of New England Deaconess, Peter Bent Brigham, Children's and Infants', and New England Baptist Hospitals, New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children, and the Winchester Hospital.

He was a fellow of the Massachusetts Medical Society and a fellow of the Boston Medical Library. He was a member of the American Medical Association, American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Ophthalmological Society, and New England Ophthalmological Society.

He had been a member of the Board of Honorary Consultants for the Army Medical Library since 1946, and was on the Editorial Board of the Archives of Ophthalmology from 1929 through 1942. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa honorary scholastic fraternity and of Phi Gamma Delta and Nu Sigma Nu.

Dr. Waite is survived by his wife, Florence Long Waite, of Winchester; a son, John H. Waite, Jr., of Westmont, N. J.; and two daughters, Mrs. David H. (Joanne) Scott of Wenham and Mrs. Bruce A. (Elinor) MacDonald of Manchester, Conn.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in Gordon Chapel of the Old South Church in Boston with the minister, Dr. Frederick Meek, officiating. Burial was in Boalsburg Cemetery, Boalsburg, Pa.

CUB PACK 11—LINCOLN SCHOOL

The annual "Blue and Glod" dinner for the Cubs and their parents will be held at Lincoln School Auditorium, Saturday, March 9. The festivities are scheduled to begin at 6:00 p. m.

Each Den is planning the decorations for their respective table and also providing the dessert course, so a surprising evening may well be in store for all parents who attend. Variety is the spice of any such occasion and the imaginations of all Cubs will make the evening memorable. So parents, we will see you March 9, at 6:00 for a sumptuous repast.

ATTENDED MEDICAL CONVENTION

Dr. A. L. Maietta of 408 Main street, a member of the American Academy of Allergy, attended the Annual Convention of the Academy in Los Angeles, California. Dr. Maietta is Chief of the Allergy Clinic, Carney Hospital, Boston.

Mrs. Maietta took this opportunity to visit her sister, Mrs. Roy E. Belding, who now resides in Los Angeles.

Dr. and Mrs. Maietta enjoyed the cross continental trip and visited several places of interest. A visit to Mexico was part of their itinerary.

MISS DOROTHY NASH

Miss Dorothy Nash of 24 Everell road, a native of Winchester and widely known among older residents of the town, died Thursday, February 21, at the Winchester Hospital, following a two months illness.

Miss Nash was the daughter of Howard D., and Ellen M. (Jennings) Nash. She was born January 17, 1892, in Winchester and grew up in town, graduating from Winchester High School and from the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston.

For several years she was active as an interior decorator, after which she became associated as a citations clerk with the Middlesex Probate Court in Cambridge, remaining in that capacity for 23 years until her retirement.

Miss Nash was a member of the Winchester Unitarian Church and of the General Alliance. Intensely interested in flowers and gardening, she was an active member of the Winchester Home and Garden Club and of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. She was also a member of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, Winchester Art Association and was an active worker for the Red Cross.

She leaves a brother, former Associate Justice Curtis W. Nash of the Woburn District Court, a resident of this town, and two nieces, Margaret L. Smith of Winchester and Miriam S. Green of St. Louis, Mo.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, officiating. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

L. W. V. NOTES

At the home of Mrs. Leon Sargent, 8 Central street, the League of Women Voters will hold a general meeting March 6. A question of great local interest will be the topic: Winchester's long term school building needs—their relation to total town planning and our ability to pay.

Seated around a table, Town Hall style, will be three noted local authorities as panelists: Dr. Harry V. Gilson, Superintendent of Schools; Mr. Harrison F. Lyman, Jr., Secretary of the Planning Board; and Mr. Austin Broadhurst, Chairman of the Finance Committee.

After a few leading questions have been answered by the panel the subject will be thrown open to the audience for questions from the floor. Refreshments at 2:30 will precede the meeting.

CHESTER J. CRUWYS

Chester J. Cruwys of 23 Nathaniel road, janitor at the Boston University School of Medicine, died Saturday, February 23, at the Saugus General Hospital. He suffered a heart attack on January 18, entering the hospital at that time. His condition improved sufficiently to permit him to go home February 16, but five days later complications developed which necessitated his return to the hospital.

Mr. Cruwys was the son of James, and Sarah (Fraser) Cruwys. He was born December 4, 1880, at Prince Edward's Island, Canada, and grew up on the Island, learning the trade of a carpenter.

He came to this country in 1923, settling in Medford, and for many years he followed the trade of a carpenter, taking the position of janitor at Boston University as he became less active in recent years.

Mr. Cruwys came to Winchester seven years ago. He was a member of Mt. Herman Lodge, A.F. & A.M., of Medford and of the Second Congregational Church.

He leaves his wife, the former Myrtle Weeks, whom he married January 11, 1911; two daughters, Mrs. William Olson of Quincy and Mrs. Paul G. Weden, Jr., of Burbank, Calif., a son, William W. Cruwys of Winchester, and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Allen Funeral Home in Medford with the Rev. Norman Smith, minister of the Second Congregational Church, officiating. Burial was in Puritan Lawn Cemetery, Peabody.

Masonic funeral services were conducted at the Funeral Home Sunday evening. William W. Cruwys, son of the deceased and past member of Mt. Herman Lodge of Medford, conducted the services.

PONTIAC IS GRAND NATIONAL CHAMP!

Wins NASCAR Grand National Championship Race Against All Cars Regardless of Size, Power or Price—Setting New Track Record in Biggest Stock Car Event of Year Following Clean Sweep of Its Class in Flying Mile and Acceleration Runs.

Here's why it's important to you! You can buy the same model Pontiac right here in town with the same ruggedness, safety and precision-handling that outclassed all the others at Daytona! Remember, this was a strictly production model Chieftain Pontiac powered by the spectacular 317 h.p. Strato-Streak engine—and introducing Pontiac's revolutionary Tri-Power Carburetion, a great new advance, optional at extra cost on any Pontiac model. This amazing carburetion system literally gives you 2 engines for the price of 1 . . . tame or terrific at a touch of your toe! For normal driving the engine operates on a standard two-jet carburetor (the same type that won the economy tests last year). A little extra pressure automatically cuts in four more carburetor jets for instant response when you need more power. Come on in and drive America's Number One Road Car. You can easily afford it—prices actually start below 30 models of the low-price three!

THE FORTNIGHTLY

American Home Day, in charge of the committee chairman, Mrs. Ralph R. Meigs, began at 10:45 a. m. Monday, February 25, in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church. She presented to Fortnightly members the director of the Educational Department of H. P. Hood & Sons, Miss Bertha J. Hughes who spoke on "After thirty-five—then what?" She addresses many groups in her field work to inform women on the comparative value of foods, with accent on the unequalled nutritive properties of pure milk. In a friendly manner she first discussed fallacies as to age, the advantages of hobbies, health, diets, and then explained the separate chemical contents of a quart of Hood's milk. Questions from the floor such as "pasteurized vs. homogenized" were answered and she offered samples of various cheese spreads and pamphlets on Hood's products and further ways to use and enjoy them.

At noon Miss Helen Niedringhaus and Mrs. Joseph L. Martin as hostesses at the "Snack Bar" provided a delectable luncheon and a social interval followed until the regular business meeting began at 2:00 p. m.

Mrs. Paul H. Atwood, president, presided. A donation of woolen socks, afghans, material for laundry bags and other articles from the local Red Cross was announced by Mrs. Carlyle D. Fiske, chairman of Cooperation with War Veterans Committee, which will be a very welcome addition to what we give toward the comfort of canvalescents in the naval hospital. Magazines, puzzles, and tumblers are always acceptable, also cribbage boards and penuchle decks.

Notice was given that a dessert will precede the March 11 meeting instead of a tea afterward. And note the date of the Annual Meeting is April 8, not 11, as incorrectly printed in Year Book.

The platform next took on the appearance of a broadcasting studio with Mrs Ida N. Glasser, a radio commentator from Quincy, as moderator on a "Home-Makers' Quiz." She interviewed nine club members (in teams of three) on various topics; then each drew a question on spelling and definitions of a word used in cooking, with small cash awards. The contestant who outlasted the others (and who had caused much amusement by her witty remarks on standards of etiquette) was Mrs. Fiske. She was given a prize of twin costume pins. We congratulate her and extend thanks also to Mrs. Meigs for a very successful "American Home Day."

Filene's congratulates the Winchester Community Theatre in presenting Boris Goldovsky and the New England Opera Company Singers, for an evening at the Opera March 9, Winchester High School Auditorium at 8:30.

ART ASSOCIATION

The March meeting of the Art Association will be held in the Library Gallery Tuesday evening, March 5. The speaker will be Mr. Frederick P. Walkey, the director of the de Cordova Museum in Lincoln since 1950. Mr. Walkey graduated from Tufts College and also from the Museum of Fine Arts School in Boston. He was the first director of the Art Festival in Boston and is on the Executive Committee of the Art Festival this year. The subject for the evening is a Resume of the topics, Line, Form and Color, which have been discussed during this winter. Mr. Walkey will also comment on the exhibition of paintings, loaned from various Boston galleries, which include paintings from the traditional to the abstract. Remember that the April meeting will be the Members' Show.

CHILDREN'S WORLD DAY OF PRAYER OBSERVANCE

On Friday afternoon, March 3, at 3:30 o'clock, there will be a World Day of Prayer service for the children of Winchester from the first through the sixth grades, at the Church of the Epiphany. Mr. Ellison will lead the service, assisted by Mr. Storer and the following Junior High young people: Joseph Dunn, Ralph Thompson and Brian Walsh. Mr. Mallery will lead the singing of hymns as the children arrive. The Children's Choir of the Church of the Epiphany, under the direction of Mr. Held, will sing, and a special presentation will be given by the following members of the Primary Department of the First Congregational Church: David Butters, Toby Choate, Deborah Ericson, Eric Hadidian, Christie Hall, Nancy Millican, Betsy Moore, Mary Power, Paul Robinson, Ann Rozelle.

Ushers for the service will be Wayne Baltzer, Stephen Bereco, Stephen Blair, Patricia Jones, Gretchen Laban, John Mallery, Phyllis Rogde, and Joan Tuller

The service has been carefully planned to make this a meaningful service for our children and it is hoped that all children will plan to come after school on Friday.

MRS. STUART E. SINCLAIR

SPEAKER AT WORLD PRAYER SERVICE

"Who Can Separate Us?" will be the subject of the speech that Mrs. Sinclair will make at the World Day of Prayer service on Friday, March 8. Mrs. Sinclair will endeavor to help each one of us to understand the meaning and use of prayer.

As an active member of the Council of United Church Women, she has served as chairman of the World Day of Prayer committee, as well as, being a member of other committees of the United Church Women.

Representatives from seven Winchester churches have worked together to arrange this year's service. From the Church of the Epiphany, comes Mrs. Fred Cameron and Mrs. Robert A. Nyere; from the Unitarian Church, Mrs. Ganson Taggart and Mrs. W. L. Powers; from the First Baptist Church, Mrs. E. D. Littlefield and Mrs. Edwin H. Tuller; from the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, Mrs. Lillian Monsen and Mrs. Lawrence Kinney; from the Second Congregational Church, Mrs. Ralph Meigs and Mrs. Rony Snyder; from the New Hope Baptist Church, Miss Esther Kirby and from the First Congregational Church, Mrs. Charles Greene, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Robert Lowry and the chairman, Mrs. Edmund C. Filler.

This committee has arranged to have the church bells ring at 11 a .m. March 8, in recognition of this annual universal event. The prayer service is from 1:30 p. m. to 2:30 p. m. at the First Congregational Church.

The Day carries on - through the offering. The Interdenominational ministries in the United States, Alaska and Puerto Rico are greatly supported by the offering of the church women united in prayer on this first Friday in Lent. Other projects receiving help vary from scholarships to migrant workers assistance.

Child care and transportation will be provided, arrangements can be made at the respective church offices.

Following the Women's Service is the Union Service for School children to be held at the Church of the Epiphany at 3:30 p. m. Children of all denominations are invited to join in this experience in spiritual unity.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

Do you remember "Baked Beans for Polio?" Of course you do!!

On a stormy January day in 1956 Winchester Grange prepared and served a baked bean luncheon and turned the profits over to the Polio Foundation. It was one of many such luncheons and suppers served by Granges all over the State of Massachusetts for the benefit of the Polio Fund. It was such a great success that other states are using the idea this year.

However, the Granges of Massachusetts, in the belief that we should aid all charities, are sponsoring breakfasts, luncheons, suppers and entertainments during the month of March for the benefit of the Cancer Fund

Winchester Grange is now busy planning a luncheon, hoping for better weather and a larger profit than last year The Home and Community Service Committee, Mrs. Ida Noonan, Chairman, will be looking for your help and support to make this a real community project.

FAVORED FURNITURE FASHIONS

A look around the furniture departments indicates that Contemporary is a top contender for home popularity. It is still straight-lined and simple, but the new soft, light scaling gives it a more graceful air. The result of this trend is a gentle elegance expressed in the use of inlays, tiles and carved detailing. Pewter, copper, chrome and brass are used to accent this mellow mood.

If an honest look around your living room indicates shabby-looking, out-of-shape furniture, you would do well to inquire about our expert upholstering service. We repair frames, re-tie springs, replace webbing and then custom-cover your furniture in the fine fabric of your choice.

BOARD FACES TASK OF IMPROVING EDUCATION

Since its organization in July of last year, the New England Board of Higher Education, located at 31 Church street, has been concerned with promoting regional cooperation among institutions of nigher learning in New England.

When Dr. Robert H. Kroepsch, Executive Secretary of the Board, and his staff moved into their offices, which were formerly occupied by a group of doctors now at 38 Church street, all she remodeling they found necessary was a new coat of grey-blue paint for the walls in addition to new office furniture. Although a large percentage of Winchester residents have at some time been in what was once the doctors' waiting room, they would hardly recognize it now as a conference room. A mural of typical New England countryside covers the upper half of one wall, creating a pleasant atmosphere for conferences concerned with the improvement of higher education in New England, which meet around a large modernistic table in the center of the room.

Dr. Kroepsch works in the front office, which faces Church street, and his two secretaries occupy the next two offices on the south side of the building. When moving to Winchester, the Board decided it would be best to have local office workers as far as possible, and chose two Winchester women from a long list of well qualified applicants for the positions. They are Mrs. Marion Chase of 22 Feils road, who has had much experience in the business world and was formerly associated with an insurance firm in New York, and Mrs. Venezia Mezzacappa of 100 Wildwood street, who previously was with the administrative staff of Boston University.

Progress Outlined

In a progress report published in December of 1956, Dr. Kroepsch discussed the work accomplished by the Board, and outlined its plans for the future. The Board is the operating body of the New England Higher Education Compact, which was formed under the sponsorship of the Massachusetts Commission of Medical and Dental Research, and subscribed to by five of the New England States: Massachusetts, Maine, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont. Three men from each state were named to the Board, forming a representative group of New Englanders from the fields of education, government, medicine, banking, journalism and industry. Their responsibility is to better educational opportunities for students through cooperative educational programs between various institutions, particularly in the fields of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, public health, and in professional, technical, scientific and literary fields.

Experiments in such regional cooperation have been in progress in Massachusetts since 1948, under an agreement adopted by the board of control of the six New England state universities. For instance, the University of Connecticut has accepted New England residents at in-state tuition in certain programs such as law, pharmacy, social work, physical therapy and insurance. Many of the universities have similar arrangements. This type of agreement is indicative of the steps which can be taken to provide wider opportunities for the youth of the region, at the same time avoiding needless duplication, particularly in highly specialized subject fields.

The Board is now making a detailed analysis of the undergraduate and graduate curricula currently available at the several New England state universities to ascertain those areas in which each institution offers unique programs which might be made available to the students from other New England states at in-state tuition, and also to ascertain where curricula offerings are weak or non-existent and might be made available at a sister institution at in-state tuition.

The Board is also exploring the problems of expanding the educational opportunities in the fields of medicine and dentistry, specifically in one public and five private institutions. As Dr. Kroepsch stated in his report, "Should it be possible to devise a plan which would seem to meet with the general approval of representative health educators, legislators, and lay people, the Board would then be ready and willing to work for its implementation —always bearing in mind that it is the states and the institutions themselves which must make the final decision. The Board's prime function in all these matters is to discover facts, to identify problems, and to make suggestions for their solution."

Dr. Kroepsch further pointed out that there is need for a great deal of research in the field of relating the educational needs of the region to the facilities available for its residents. Although New England is known throughout the country as an educational center, Dr. Kroepsch said that according to figures derived from national surveys it may be a case of "no shoes for the cobbler's children." The Board hopes to make a major contribution in this area of research which will be invaluable to colleges and universities, both public and private; to commissioners and state boards of education; to legislators; to those vitally concerned with New England economy, and to the public, as they plan to provide for the growing number of college students and improve the level of education in this region.

BE SEEING YOU MARCH 9

Boris Goldovsky and New England Conservatory Opera School cast who will appear in Opera Night at high school auditorium March 9.

OPERA COMES TO WINCHESTER

In the handsome new Winchester High School Auditorium, the Winchester Community Theatre will present a delightful thesis on the night of March 9, at 8:30 p. m.

Opera comes to Winchester that night and if you're one of those persons who can take your opera or leave it strickly alone, don't jump at conclusions.

For the operatic entertainment to be offered under W.C.T. auspices that night won't be a boring display of vocal pyrotechnics, garbed in language you don't understand, served by oldish men and women who like their food with a nice big caloric content.

The thesis for the night will be that opera can be valid, absorbing and intensely satisfying entertainment for every member of the family. And if you don't think that opera in any form can make sense to a 20th Century American public you're in for the surprise of your life.

Climaxing the highly successful 1956-57 season which marks its debut on the Winchester scene the W.C.T. sought to obtain the best possible entertainment that could carry its audience away in a wave of enthusiastic approbation.

It has turned to Boris Goldovsky and his great New England Opera Theatre to turn the trick. If you like singing, if you like drama, if you like comedy—if you like sheer vital theatre at its best, you'll be in the High School Auditorium March 9, along with your family.

Because that's exactly what will be on tap. The fare will include excerpts from eight great operas, including the entire third act of "La Boheme." The entire program will be a carefully balanced melange of delightful comedy and sheer, breath-taking tragedy with all the nuances in between.

Boris Goldovsky will be featured in the dual role of conductor and commentator. His talented actor-singers will include Jacqueline Bazinet, Nancy Tricky, James Joyce, Robert Gay and John McCollum.

The program besides the "La Boheme" act will include excerpts. from "Cosi Fan Tutti" ("Way of All Women"); "Don Pasquale," "The Abduction From The Seraglio," "Don Giovanni," "Carmen," "The Marriage of Figaro," and "La Traviata."

The period costumes, and scenery and lighting will all be "big league," having been planned by Mr. Goldovsky and Carlene Samoiloff, using sets and the tremendous lighting of the High School, some of which was contributed by the Winchester Community Theatre.

It promises to be a night Winchesterites of all ages will long remember. High School pupils of Wendell S. Withington and the junior high students of Mrs. Harold Thistlethwaite have been briefed on the operas and are looking forward to witnessing them first hand.

Paying tribute to Winchester's own big opera night with window displays are many merchants, including Filene's, Town and Country, House of Fashion, Spaulding's Bookshop in cooperation with the Public Library and the Winchester Appliance and Record Shop.

If you haven't obtained your tickets drop in at the Winchester Appliance and Record Shop or Filene's, or contact one of the members of the membership committee or ticket committee, all seats are reserved.

Membership committee members are Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel, chairman; Mrs. Henry Magno, Mrs. James C. Marchant, Mrs. A. J. Connell, Mrs. Fred Martignetti.

Members of the ticket reservation committee include Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell, Chairman; Mrs. James T. Hintlian, Mrs. Winthrop S. Knox, Jr.; Mrs. Joseph W. Worthen, Mrs. Richard Carr, Mrs. Stephen Root, Mrs. John A. Sheehan, Mrs. Edward Little, Mrs. Henry C. Marcionette, Mrs. Thistlethwaite (for junior high) and Mr. Wendell S. Withington (for high school.)

Don't wait to get those tickets. It's a show you will not want to miss. It's the show the whole town will be talking about for months.

Record Turnout For "Scouts' Own"

Close to 800 people filled Winchester High School's Auditorium last Sunday, March 3, when Winchester's Girl Scouts and Brownies held a traditional "Scouts' Own" ceremony.

This was the first such combined meeting held in Winchester for many years. All Girl Scout and Brownie troops were invited to participate, and the huge turnout was a fitting tribute to the efforts of Mrs. Thomas M. Hill, president of the Winchester Council, and Mrs. Ralph C. Thompson, who was responsible for planning the program.

A 'Scouts' Own," quoting from the Girl Scout Handbook, is "an inspirational program planned by the girls and their leaders, stressing the spiritual values of Girl Scouting."

In addition to the large percentage of the troops and their leaders, many parents and friends came to the ceremony and took part in the singing of Girl Scout songs, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lucy Cushman.

The activities opened with the flag presentation, handled by girls from Mrs. Waldo B. Hersey's Senior Scout Troop 1, including Joyce Connell, Carlie Clark, Joan Thompson and Sally Beal. Another member of Troop 1, Stephanie Hersey, led the exercises, as well as prompting the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance, the Girl Scout Promise and the Girl Scout Laws.

Mrs. Hill officially welcomed everyone then, and Anne Hurley from Troop 38 read an anonymous "Thoughts for Scouts' Own." "A Girl Scout's Prayer" by Ruby Cullen Frasier was solemnly invoked by Linda Chase of Troop 10, followed by the familiar song "Hymn of Scouting," in which everyone joined.

The speaker, Mrs. E. Sohier Welch, Jr., was introduced by Mrs. Thompson, as National Girl Scout Board Member of Region 1. Her selected topic, "It All Depends," was brought home on a fine selection of homey examples. Mrs. Welch showed what these words can mean to a girl making the best of her opportunities in Girl Scouting. She used three B's as a central theme to illustrate her thoughts—Girl Scouting means Believing, Belonging and Building. It was pointed out that "it all depends" affects our everyday lives, many times. It is how we apply these three B's that can determine what kind of person each girl will become.

The impressive ceremony was concluded with the en masse singing of "The Golden Day is Dying," a Girl Scout Evening Song, followed by "Taps," with an effective echo sounded from outside the auditorium on a cornet played by Alta Merritt of Troop 5.

The ushering was headed by Mrs. James C. Marchant, and drew as its active workers the following members of the Girl Scout board of directors: Mrs. Dan Fortiere, Mrs. Roswell Harding, Mrs. Vincent March, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mrs. Herbert Ross, Mrs. James Stewart, Mrs. S. Mortimer Ward and Mrs. James Willing.

MARSHALL R. PIHL

Elected chairman of the Board of Assessors, on which he has served since 1948.

ART ASSOCIATION

Dr. Samuel B. Kirkwood, president of the Winchester Art Association, opened the March meeting of the Association held in the Library Art Gallery Tuesday evening, with a tribute to Mrs. Langley C. Keyes who passed on suddenly last Sunday. Mrs. Keyes, a Library Trustee, had for many years, represented the Library Board as a member of the Board of the Art Association. Dr. Kirkwood spoke of her dedication to the Library and to the art interests of Winchester.

Mrs. Charles Abbott, chairman of exhibits, spoke with pride of the importance of the Winchester Art Association. As evidence, she called attention to the current exhibition. There are now in the gallery pictures by many contemporary artists on loan from five Boston galleries. This exhibition is well worth seeing.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Frederick P. Walkey, director of the de Cordova Museum in Lincoln. He was the first director of the Boston Art Festival and is on the executive committee of the festival this year.

Mr. Walkey was the last speaker in the series of monthly seminars held by the Art Association this season. He summarized the course of study and spoke especially as an Art Critic.

The next meeting of the Association will open the Members Show and will be held in the Library Gallery on Tuesday evening, April 2.

BREAK-IN AVERTED

Police averted a break-in into an empty home on Swan road Wednesday afternoon when they apprehended two Arlington boys who were acting in a suspicious manner about the house.

The officers found the boys within four minutes after a tip from a neighbor who noticed them around the property.

The youths, who were cutting school at the time, admitted to Police Chief Charles J. Harrold that they had intended to break into the house.

PRECINCT MEETING

Town meeting members of Precincts 4 and 5 will meet Tuesday evening, March 12, at 7:30 at the Wyman School to discuss the warrant for the coming town meeting. All town meeting members of the precincts are urged to attend the all others interested are invited.

MRS. GLADYS A. TARBELL

Mrs. Gladys Adeline Tarbell of 43 Mystic Valley Parkway, widow of John Appleton Tarbell and a lifelong resident of Winchester, died Monday morning, March 4, at the Winchester Hospital.

Daughter of George A., and Carrie (Symmes) Spaulding, Mrs. Tarbell was born in Winchester, December 26, 1892. She grew up in town and attended the Winchester schools graduating from Winchester High School in the class of 1911, and from National Park Seminary, now National Park Junior College, in 1915. Among the most popular members of her high school class, she was captain of, and one of the star players on the girls basketbail team.

Mrs. Tarbell was married June 26, 1920, in the old General Corse house at the corner of the Parkway and Washington street, then the home of her aunt. She had lived since her marriage on the Parkway, first at 39, and then for many years next door, at her late home, 43 Parkway.

Mrs. Tarbell was long active in the social and civic life of the town, as a member of the Winton Club, the First Congregational Church, where she worked regularly for the church bazaar, and the Mystic Chapter of the Mothers' Association, of which she was a past president. She was also secretary of the National Park Alumnae Association.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Richard H. Halverson of Winchester; a son, John A. Tarbell of Lexington and three grandsons, Richard, Christopher and Steven Halverson. Her husband died March 9, 1952.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church. The minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiated. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. ANNETTA MAY HARTLEY

Mrs. Annetta May Hartley, widow of Theodore W. Hartley, died Sunday, March 3, at her home, 15 Governor's avenue, following a ten day illness.

Mrs. Hartley was the daughter of Samuel E., and Elizabeth (Somers) Goodwin. She was born April 28, 1870, at Bay Vert, N. B., and lived there until after her marriage in 1892.

Two years later she came to this country and for the past 51 years she had lived in Winchester, being among the oldest members of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. She was also a member of the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Crawford Church and had been a member of Victoria Rebekah Lodge.

Mrs. Hartley's husband died December 21, 1951. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Mina Ralston of Arlington; a son, Ralph Franklin Hartley of Cambridge; five grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

Winchester and Belmont Again

Old Rivals Clash In Semi-Final

Winchester and Belmont High Schools, joint rulers of the Middlesex Basketball League, will decide which is the better team tonight at the Boston Garden at 7 o'clock when they clash in one of the semi-final round games of the Class B Division of the Eastern Massachusetts Interscholastic Basketball Tournament.

This should really be a "dilly' of a game. Winchester and Belmont have met twice this year, and each holds a decision over the other, Belmont winning by a single basket at Belmont and Winchester reversing this decision by four baskets in the return game at Winchester. Both games were close enough so that anything can happen tonight and neither team can afford an off evening in this chips-down battle.

Belmont drew a bye in the opening round of the Class B matches, and has played only one game, barely getting by St. Mary's of Brookline, 40-39, last Monday evening and snatched victory from defeat in the final seconds at that.

Winchester has played two games, winning handily from both Roslindale and South Boston, despite only so-so showings. Belmont's opposition has been possibly the stronger, Winchester's victories the more impressive.

Whatever happens tonight, one thing is for sure, neither club will hold the other cheaply, and both will be going all out to win. It is probably quite true either would rather beat the other than any team in the tournament.

FRIENDS OF HOSPITAL ANNUAL TELEPHONE CARD PARTY

Tuesday, March 21, is the date this year for the Friends' annual telephone card party. This event has become so popular among Winchesterites and surrounding communities that a new innovation has been introduced into the usual program this year; that of having mixed bridge or canasta parties in the evening as well as the usual afternoon parties. This will give many people who would like to entertain their friends, as well as contribute to a worthy cause, two choices of times to do so. Husbands do enjoy bridge games, too, so the committee hopes all of you, whether members of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital or not, who would care to open your homes for a gay afternoon or evening of fun and prizes, will start now planning your parties and getting up your tables.

There will be door prizes for each party, both afternoon and evening, as well as the usual bridge and canasta prizes. For details about this popular event, please call Mrs. Richard Preston at WInchester 6-2039. We would like to have this spring project of the Friends be an even greater success than it was last year, so won't you be a hostess either the afternoon or evening of March 21 for bridge, canasta, afternoon tea, a coke party or just a friendly gathering?

Assisting Mrs. Richard Preston, chairman, in planning this enjoyable day are: Mrs. Richard Shroeder, Mrs. Blair Hawley, Mrs. Courtney Crandall, Mrs. Daniel Gaynor, Mrs. Harold J. Wheeler and Mrs. Arthur T. Hertig, president of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital.

FIRES

A fire in the cellar of W. J. Cantwell of 47 Jefferson road at 9:18 Friday morning was caused by a spark from a gasoline motor. Box 262 was rung in for the blaze.

A delayed ignition in an oil burner caused an explosion in the home of Ciriaco Vozzella of 131 Highland avenue at 10:55 Friday night. The explosion blew the furnace door off its hinges and spread soot over the cellar.

Alarm 33 was rung in at 4:43 Monday afternoon for a serious fire in the home of Paul Whitney of 30 Kenwin road. On arrival firefighters found the bedroom in flames, and the furniture in the room was destroyed. There was also considerable smoke damage. The ladder truck was used, and an hour was required to douse the blaze.

COMMISSIONED AN ENSIGN

Henry C. Valcour, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Valcour of 56 Yale street, was recently commissioned an Ensign in the U. S. Navy, upon completing his studies at the United States Naval School at Newport, R. I.

Ensign Valcour is a graduate of Winchester High, Class of '52 and received a degree in Marine Architecture and Naval Engineering from M.I.T. last June. He has recently been employed by the Bethlehem Steel Corp., at Baltimore, Maryland.

Upon completing a three weeks training cruise Ensign Valcour will be stationed on the West Coast.

DR. HOVEY L. SHEPHERD

Word has been received in Winchester of the death in Riverside, Calif., on March 2, of Dr. Hovey Learned Shepherd, a former resident and practicing physician in Winchester, in the nineties and early nineteen hundreds.

Dr. Shepherd was the son of Freeman W., and Martha (Dodge) Shepherd. He was born August 16, 1869, in Belfast, Maine, was graduated from Kent's Hill Seminary in 1888, and from Boston University in 1892. He received his medical training at Boston University Medical School, from which he was graduated with the degree of M.D. in 1895.

He first practiced in Springfield, but soon came to Winchester and had a wide practice here as a homeopathic physician, a pleasing personality winning him many friends among citizens in all walks of life.

Dr. Shepherd was married in 1895 to Mandana Snow and they had two children, a daughter, Ruth, and a son, Eltinge. Later, October 5, 1904, he married Anne Ethel Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo P. Weeks, prominent residents of the Rangeley section of the town for many years.

Dr. Shepherd did not remain in Winchester many years after his marriage, and had made his home on the west coast for many years.

While a resident here he was a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons, which he joined in 1906; the Calumet Club and was past regent and medical officer of the then Aberjona Council, Royal Arcanum.

He was made a life member of William Parkman Lodge and held the Masonic 50-year Veterans' Medal presented to him by the Grand Lodge in 1949.

OPERA HERE TOMORROW

The Winchester Community Theatre is presenting Boris Goldovsky and five members of the New England Opera Theatre at the high school auditorium tomorrow evening at 8:30.

The singers will present selections from eight favorite operas, including Carmen, La Traviata, Don Giovanni and the Marriage of Figaro, as well as the entire third act of La Boheme. All will be sung in English and the singers will be in costume and there will be attractive stage settings. Soloists include Jacqueline Bazinet, Nancy Trickey, James Joyce, Robert Gay and John McCollum.

Here is a grand opportunity for opera lovers to introduce opera to their family and friends at popular prices. This will be Winchester's first evening of opera, an ambitious undertaking for the Community Theatre and one deserving popular support. A limited number of tickets will be available at the door.

HAD YOUR CALL YET!

Members of the Winchester Fireman's Relief Association are making their annual rounds of the town selling tickets for their annual entertainment, this year's to be held for the first time at the Memorial Auditorium of the high school.

There will be professional entertainment from 8 to 11, with the usual dancing being discontinued because of lack of interest. All proceeds go to swell the funds of the Fireman's Relief Association.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of contagious diseases was reported for week ending March 6:

4 cases of mumps
2 cases of chicken pox
1 case of dog bite

ROBERT A. DRAKE

Robert A. Drake of 6 Lagrange street, died very suddenly Wednesday, March 6, in Bermuda, where he and Mrs. Drake had been on vacation. Mrs. Drake accompanied the body north by plane to Idlewild Airport in New York and from there to Boston, arriving here late yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Drake was 60 years old and a native of Franklin, N. H. He was educated at Dartmouth, Harvard and the Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth, and during World War I drove an ambulance in France, enlisting before the United States entered the conflict.

He came to Winchester from Newton in 1929 and had since made his home here, being widely known through his active interest in community affairs. He was associated with the advertising department of Harpers Magazine.

Besides his wife, Mr. Drake leaves three daughters, Mrs. Graham Gillette (Jean) Alvord of Kittery, Me.; Mrs. Alfred James (Betsy) McClure, III, of Keene, N. H.; and Mrs. Robert Arthur (Marilyn) White of Brockton. There are also 10 grandchildren and two sisters.

Funeral arrangements were not complete when the Star went to press.

PRECINCTS II AND III TO MEET

Precincts II and III will meet on Tuesday, March 12, at 7:45 p. m. in the Lincoln School to discuss the warrant for the town meeting.

All residents of these two precincts are welcome and it is urged that all members of the town meeting try to be present.

MRS. HELEN ECKERT

Mrs. Helen Eckert, 92, widow of J. Elmer Eckert and formerly of Winchester, died Tuesday night in the Mt. Auburn Hospital, Cambridge, after a fall at her home. She had been living with her daughter, Mrs. Herbert H. Pentz, at 1016 Belmont street, Watertown.

Mrs. Eckert was born June 18, 1864, in Jersey City, and spent most of her married life in New York. Following her husband's death in 1930, she came to make her home with Dr. and Mrs. Pentz, then living at 417 Main street. She remained with them here until they sold their home and moved to Scituate in 1946. Dr. Pentz, a nose and throat specialist, died in Scituate, and following his death Mrs. Pentz and her mother had lived in Watertown.

Besides Mrs. Pentz, the deceased is survived by a son, Wilbur Eckert of Rochester, N. Y.; two granddaughters, Mrs. James Nardin of Greeley, Colo., and Mrs. Walter Spear of Dedham; and by five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bigelow Chapel in Mt. Auburn Cemetery. The Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, will officiate. Cremation will follow the services.

CAB DRIVER DROPS DEAD

A taxi driver of the Boston Cab Co. dropped dead after delivering an Ardley road resident to his home Friday afternoon.

Herbert D. Bouley of Dorchester was found collapsed across the seat of his cab which he had pulled into the resident's drive to make a slight repair to chains on the tires. He was pronounced dead upon the arrival of the medical examiner.

PRECINCT I MEETING

Precinct Chairman Richard C. Cunningham announces a discussion meeting of all Precinct I town meeting members and others interested, Monday evening, March 11, in the George Washington School auditorium at 7:45. All are asked to bring their warrants as the discussion will be on the articles and figures the warrant contains.

GEORGE A. SALTMARSH

NEW CHAIRMAN, BOARD OF SELECTMEN

SALTMARSH ELECTED

At an organization meeting of the Board of Selectmen, held Tuesday evening, George A. Saltmarsh was elected chairman for the ensuing year.

A resident of Winchester since 1900, Mr. Saltmarsh was educated at Winchester High School and Dartmouth College, leaving college in his junior year to enlist in the Navy during World War I.

This is Mr. Saltmarsh's third year on the Board. He previously served as a member and chairman of the Finance Committee and is in the investment business in Boston.

DANCED THE "FADO"

Miss Lee Dresser of 33 Cambridge street was one of the entertainers at the Spanish Ball held on March 1, at the Hotel Vendome, Boston.

She danced "Fado' a Portuguese peasant dance accompanying herself with the Spanish cymbals.

Lee is a student of Juanita Cansino, a member of the famous dancing Cansinos of Madrid Spain.

AUTO STRIPPED

John J. Dwyer of Woburn came to the police station Friday night to report that while his car was parked on the Converse Bridge on Main street two hub caps and two fender skirts were stolen from it.

He said he left his car only for a few minutes while he and his wife went into Brigham's, and on returning found the accessories missing.

Campaign Needs Boost

Winchester Red Cross Quota, $19,500

The 1957 Red Cross Campaign of fund solicitation in Winchester needs considerable more assistance.

The 495 Winchester women and men who are collecting the $19,500 Winchester Chapter quota of the 1957 National Red Cross Campaign will be "mopping up" this week end, prior to Sunday's final report, which they hope will place Winchester as one of the first communities in the state to go "over the top."

Fund Chairman Robert M. Edgar of 21 Oxford street said that preliminary reports show the committee chairmen, the precinct leaders, and the individual solicitors have already done a remarkable job in preliminary work in getting the Winchester Chapter well on its way to better than making its 1957 quota for the Red Cross."

Edgar warned, however, that "we are not yet anywhere near the ultimate goal of $19,500. We must have generous contributions from those whom the solicitors will approach in the last three days of the 1957 solicitation.

"I am confident, however, that on Red Cross Sunday, March 10, we shall be able to flash the word that Winchester has again gone 'over the top' for the Red Cross."

Final tabulations will be made on Sunday afternoon at the Winchester Trust Company, under the direction of Miss Helen M. Monroe, campaign treasurer.

Edgar urged that individual solicitors, when they have completed the call assignments given them by the Precinct Captains, take their collections direct to the Winchester Trust Company on Sunday, March 10.

"If the individual solicitors will take their envelopes to the Trust Company as soon as they have completed their assignments" said Edgar "it will speed up and simplify the task of tabulation, rather than having to wait until the Precinct Captains have assembled the envelopes. We want to be able to report our total as early in the evening as possible."

A Committee of local Red Cross executives will be on hand at the Winchester Trust Company on Sunday afternoon, ready to welcome all the solicitors who bring in their collection-assignment envelopes.

Residential Chairman Wade L. Grindle of 20 Mason street said that Sunday is the final day on which individual solicitors will have an opportunity to get their collections into the fund report. "Many of the solicitors have already completed their calls" said Grindle. "On next Sunday, however, they will be doing 'mopping up' at those residences where their first call did not result in contacting someone.

"We also hope that every resident of the town will make at least a token contribution to the Winchester Chapter fund. In the few instances where solicitors have been told that the head of the family 'contributed at his place of business' it has been most gratifying when the family has made an additional token contribution to the Winchester Fund. We need all the money which every resident feels he, or she, can give in order that we may be sure of meeting Winchester's 1957 quota."

Few at Winchester Polls

Richardson New Selectman, Mrs. Russell Elected To The Local Board Of Health

Only 3099 of Winchester's 10,614 registered voters took the trouble to vote in the annual election of town officers and precinct members Monday. A paucity of contests on the ballot is undoubtedly responsible for less than 30 percent of the electorate going to the polls. Weather conditions were good.

Chief interest in the election centered in the contest for Selectman where Harris S. Richardson, Jr., whose father is a former Selectman, State Senator and present Planning Board member, withstood the challenge of Josiah E. Bacon, a new candidate, and Eugene B. Rotondi, who has run for town office on several occasions.

Mr. Richardson polled 1483 votes to Mr. Bacon's 994. Mr. Rotondi's total was 522.

Mrs. Evelyn R. Russell was elected to the Board of Health over Dr. Charles E. Quinn, a dentist, 1748 to 1166.

In the remaining contest, Joseph T. Callahan, 2396; Gleason W. Ryerson, 2388; and Earle C. Jordan, 1797; were elected Constables over Podgoro Iannacci, 544, and Hector Palladino, 584. Messrs. Callahan and Ryerson were candidates for re-election.

Despite the small vote cast, the returns were not announced by retiring Town Clerk Helen E. Stinson until 11:30 p. m. the condition of the tally sheets in some of the precincts and the number of write-in candidates in others making final tabulations difficult and time-consuming.

At no time was the vote heavy, and those who fear the results of a light vote would have had plenty of reason for concern had more contests been on the ballot.

There was a little flurry of interest in what was expected to be the routine election of two candidates for re-election as library trustees. The sudden death of Marianne Keyes, unknown to many voters, who marked their ballots for this popular candidate, created an opening which caused some scurrying about to ensure a suitable substitute.

New Selectman

ANTONIO DeTESO

Antonio DeTeso of 11 Olive street, a resident of Winchester for half a century, died Sunday, March 3, after a long illness, at the age of 67.

Mr. DeTeso was a native of Italy, but came to this country as a boy in his teens and settled in Winchester, spending the remainder of his life here and being well known in the Italian section of the town. He was for many years an employee of the town Highway Department until forced to retire because of ill health.

Mr. DeTeso leaves his wife, the former Catherine Bubba; four daughters, Mary and Lila of Winchester; Mrs. John Salera of Stoneham and Mrs. David Scheydal of St. Louis, Mo.; two sons, Salvatore, of Winchester and Rocco W. DeTeso of Woburn; six grandchildren and a brother, Salvatore DeTeso of Winchester.

The funeral, was held Wednesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. Rev. Charles E. Anadore was celebrant, Rev. Edmund Parker was deacon and Rev. James J. Cullinan of St. Charles Church, Woburn, subdeacon. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Father Parker.

Board of Health

Rumors through the day that several candidates were conducting heavy vote write-in campaigns proved without foundation when the votes were counted. Dr. Eugene M. Pollard, former Park Commissioner, for whom some late afternoon work was done, was elected to replace Mrs. Keyes, polling 169 votes. No vote appeared for the candidate most frequently mentioned during the day. Former Moderator Philip P. Wadsworth, original candidate with Mrs. Keyes, polled 2460 votes.

Of interest to many was the election of Mrs. Elsie M. Nelson, assistant town clerk, to the office of town clerk, succeeding Miss Helen E. Stinson, present encumbent, who was not a candidate for re-election.

Town Moderator Harrison Chadwick led the ballot vote with 2679 votes. Assessor Alfred D. Elliott was second with 2669.

Biggest vote getter among precinct members in Precinct I was Anthony C. Barbaro with 393 votes. Other precinct leaders were, Precinct 2, Vincent F. Erhard, 385; Precinct 3, Don S. Greer, 527; Precinct 4, Vincent Farnsworth, 492; Precinct 5, Kate W. Shoemaker, 404; and Precinct 6, John T. Horn, 294. Mr. Greer's 527 was high for all precincts.

Melrose Blanked Winchester

Indians Lose Semi-Final, 5-0

Winchester bowed out of the State Interscholastic Hockey tournament Thursday night, March 28, dropping a 5-0 verdict to a good-looking Melrose High sextet at the Boston Arena. The Indians, dead tired after a four-period overtime battle with Charlestown on Tuesday and Wednesday, were never seriously in contention, though they never stopped trying.

Harrington got Melrose off to a lead at 1:54 of the first period when he took a Lowe pass behind the Winchester defense and fired the puck between Denton's pads. Lowe made it 2-0 at 8:08 of the opening period when he took a pass from Lowe at the Indians' blue line and sent a lucky skimmer trickling between Denton's skate and the goal post.

Winchester battled gamely, but luck wasn't in its corner. Goaler Crosby spoiled a breakaway attempt by Leo Callahan and just before the end of the period a five-foot whizzer off Zirkel's stick just missed the net, striking the post.

Melrose added two more in the second period, Lowe scoring on a back-hander at the five-minute mark and Meehan finishing up a breakaway with a goal at 9:05.

Winchester, behind four goals to a much fresher team, still refused to fold. Melrose added its final goal at 3:21 of the final period, slapping in a Broderick rebound.

The Indians tried desperately in the closing minutes but couldn't score as the final whistle found them defeated but by no means disgraced.

For Winchester the stars were surely Denton in the nets with 32 saves, many of them brilliant, and Jim McElholm, whose play and rugged body-checking was very effective.

Following is the summary:

Melrose — Goal, Crosby; R. Defense, DiNardi; L. Defense, Brodrick; R. Wing, Harrington; Center, Dobbins; L. Wing, Lowe.

Spares—Connors, Traill, Meehan.

Winchester — Goal, Denton; R. Defense, Kelleher; L. Defense, McElholm; R. Wing, Zirkel; Center, Cussen; L. Wing, Callahan.

Spares — Weaver, Davenport, Sandberg, Cullen.

1st Period Scoring

Melrose — Harrington (Lowe) 1:54.

Melrose — Lowe (Harrington) 8:08.

Penalties

Winchester — Kelleher (leg-check)

2nd Period Scoring

Melrose — Lowe (Harrington-Brodrick) 5:00

Melrose — Meehan (unassisted) 9:05

Penalties

Winchester — Kelleher (rough-ing) (Major - Misconduct)

3rd Period Scoring

Melrose — Dobbins (Brodrick) 3:21.

Penalties—None.

ARLINGTON STORAGE WAREHOUSE PRAISED

Much favorable comment has been directed to the management of Arlington Storage Warehouse on the manner in which several large moves of office and laboratory equipment were planned and performed.

Firms of national prominence with imposing new plants along Route 128 which arranged with Arlington Storage to meet their requirements include the U.S. Rubber Co.; the Rexall Drug Co.; Waters Manufacturing Co.; Technical Operations, Inc.; and High Voltage Engineering Co.

In addition to such industrial moves Arlington Storage specializes in long-distance as well as local household goods moving. The company has for many years been affilliated with Allied Van Lines, Inc. in the performance of its national moving services, and its vans operate through-out the forty-eight states.

The firm, in its 51st year in Arlington, maintains excellent storage facilities at 20 Mill street for household goods, business records and commercial items of special nature. Complete crating and boxing services are also available for overseas as well as domestic shipments.

IMPORTANT MEETING WINCHESTER WOMEN'S COUNCIL

A special meeting has been called for Thursday, March 14 for the Women's Council. The time is 10:15 a. m. the place is the Art Room of the Winchester Public Library. This is not a run-of-the-mill meeting, but one called by the board to act on a recommendation concerning the future of the organization in town.

All participating groups are hereby urged to send their representatives to this meeting so that their valuable opinions and votes can be counted.

Affiliated with Little League Baseball, Inc. Williamsport, Pa.

THANK YOU!

Behind the scenes of many civic activities in Winchester are an unsung and too-often unknown group of good neighbors known as sponsors.

These are people, like ourselves, who go to work every day to make a living and who have the same problems of bills, sickness, and demands upon their time and abilities that occur to all of us.

They do, however, voluntarily rise to the needs of their community by providing the backbone of many of our most worth-while projects of varied civic and social enterprise. Fundamentally, their major contribution is the financial backing which is so necessary to the success of these programs. Too often their backing is accepted, and in the press of administration they are somewhat forgotten. They would be the last to ask for or expect publicity for their efforts.

While many of these wonderful neighbors are unknown to us, the Board of Directors, Managers, Coaches, and Players of Winchester Little League want to take this opportunity to publicly express their appreciation to their 1957 sponsors.

K. THOMAS CALL

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL DADS' CLUB

The annual Father and Sons Chowder Party will be held at the school Monday evening, March 18.

This popular annual event has been fortunate to book a most interesting speaker.

He's K. Thomas Call and his unique combination of ability and conviction is called "Play for Your Life," a stage presentation he produces for Liberty Mutal Fire Insurance Company. An interest in magic, continued since boyhood, and a firm belief in the importance of fire prevention are combined by this Swampscott, Mass., man to help battle the national death toll from fire.

The show, which has traveled countrywide and been seen on many television programs, runs approximately 45 minutes and stresses the company's program of teaching all members of the family to play a series of games that would enable them to escape death or injury should fire break out in the home. An important part of the show is a scale model house with which Mr. Call demonstrates how fire can trap and kill the unprepared person.

An accomplished magician, Mr. Call makes liberal use of his knowledge of magic to help underline the show's main points. He is a member of the Society of American Magicians and was general secretary of the 1952 Boston national convention of magicians. He has won two prize cups in magical competition, has made frequent guest appearances at magicians' gatherings under the billing of Tito the Magical Clown and was active in USO work during World War II. Since 1931, he has held a Methodist preacher's licence and is chaplain of the Swampscott Auxiliary Fire Department.

A committee of the Dads' Club is distributing tickets this week-end, and the school auditorium limits the number to be served, there will be no ticket sales at the door. All Dads' Club members are invited and encouraged to bring their sons or a male guest.

The committee consists of Jack Shanahan, Bill Sullivan, Guy Santo, and Dick Cunningham. The other members of the Board of Directors are assisting in ticket distribution and any of them may be contacted for reservations.

7. A. Thorne	92.7
8. C. Manoli	92.5
9. K. Donaghey	91.7
10. F. Allen	91.5

The power bowlers for the evening were Dave DeCourcey with 326 and Bob Merenda 317. Those hitting the "100" mark were: Dave DeCourcey 127-116; Bob Merenda 129; R. Tofuri 111; John Rotundi 110-103; G. Cartier 109; Joe Grant, C. Dunbury and Ed Forbes 106; Al Thorne 106; Al Lapointe and F. Allen 102; and Fred Kimball the even 100.

Capt. John Rotundi was all smiles at the close of the night as his prediction is coming true. Villanova has moved from the cellar to second place in five weeks, and John says wait till we bowl Georgetown next Monday night and see who is on top then. Dave DeCourcey did his part to hold Georgetown on top with his 326; as Capt. Eric Johnson was among the missing. You better be there next Monday Eric!

Capt. Mike Civetti was pleased to find his team Holy Cross out of the cellar. I believe it is the first time this year. Joe Moffett the league treasurer had his best night of the season so therefore he informed Mike he is going to spend the next three weeks in Florida (for a rest).

Don't forget the Sport's Night Sunday, March 10—8:00 p. m. at St. Mary's Hall.

P. A. L. BASKETBALL

SENIORS

The Lakers rolled on with a 63-39 crushing of the Royals. It was the Lakers' eleventh consecutive win and the Royals' sixth straight loss. Doug Scott set the Lakers' pace with 22 points and "Easy Ed" Carter was right behind with 18.

"Old Reliable," Jim Lindsey, kept the Royals from a complete collapse with 12 points. Lindsey, the Royals' most valuable player, may be lost to them for two weeks because of an injured arm. Lindsey slipped on a patch of ice during Friday's snowstorm while battling the elements to get to school.

The Lakers need to win only two more games to be sure of a tie for the championship.

Andy Crawford's Hawks moved into a tie for third place by edging the Eagles 49-46. Before the game the Eagles led by one game.

Richie Winn, led the Hawks with 17 points. "Jigger" Bond with 17 led the Eagles. The Eagles looked like the team to beat at the beginning of the season. After the first three games they had scored 18 points and a 3-0 record, but since then they have won only 2 while losing 6.

The Hawks started off slowly, but began to get hot after their third game and have a 4-3 record after dropping three of their first four games. They meet the Pistons next week and if they can win, they will be in a very good position to take second place.

In the last game, the Celtics one game winning streak was snapped by the second place Pistons by a 49-30 score. Bud DeRenne led the Pistons with 16 points and Frank Gaudioso's 10 points topped the Celtics. Things are beginning to look dark for the Pistons. They must win all their remaining games and the Lakers must lose all theirs for the Pistons to win, but either by two Lakers wins or two Pistons losses, they will be eliminated.

Star of the week—This week's star again comes from the league leading Lakers. It is Doug Scott. Scott scored 22 points, twelve of them in the second period. He is a consistent 20 point scorer for the Lakers.

JUNIORS

Dartmouth moved one step closer to the Junior championship with a 44-13 walloping of Holy Cross. Mike Bellino led their attack on the hapless Crusaders, with 14 points. Bert Stevens, with 7 points, again was Holy Cross' top man.

A last second basket by "Joltin" Joe Butare gave Boston College a 41-39 win over Yale. The win put B.C. in third place, one game ahead of Harvard who lost to Princeton. The game was nip and tuck all the way. At the end of the first period, the score was deadlocked at 12-12.

At the half B. C. led by two, 20-18 but Yale came back with 14 points in the third period to tie for B.C. to even it up at 32-32. The two teams just about traded baskets until Butare's dramatic basket to win it. Butare with 15 points led B.C. Bernie Stevens and "Skeets" Scallesse, with 11 each topped Yale.

Princeton kept their championship hopes alive by dropping Harvard 49-43. Bill Errico, with 19 and Paul Goddu, with 18 points led Princeton. "Old Faithful" Bill Rogers once again topped Harvard with 24 points. The loss dropped Harvard into fourth place, a game behind B.C.

Star of the week—The Junior star of this week is B.C.'s "Joltin' Joe" Butare. Joe scored 15 points, and netted the last two points to put the game on ice for the Eagles.

All Star Games

St. Clement's J.V.'s defeated a plucky Laker team Monday night 40-37. The Lakers were hampered by not being accustomed to playing full court because all P.A.L. games are played half court. A little more full court practice and the Lakers could become a winning all star team as well as P.A.L. champs.

The Juniors also suffered from fatigue because of full court inexperience. They were defeated 76-57 by a well conditioned Woburn Junior P.A.L. team. All the Juniors need is a couple of games under their belt and they can be matched against anyone.

ST. MARY'S TO SHOW "BEHIND TRAPPIST WALLS"

The only movie ever to be filmed behind the walls of a Trappist Monastery will be shown in St. Mary's Hall on Sunday, March 17, at 7:30 p. m. This exclusive portrayal in color gives an intimate view of how a Trappist Monk spends his entire day; their strict fast; their silence; their sign language; the technical labor you would never expect. We have read about them in Thomas Merton's books. Now we are privileged to actually see two hours of excellent closes-ups, on the screen, of God's silent men.

The movie is being sponsored by the Sodality in aid of the Scholarship Fund. Each year this organization awards a 4 year scholarship to Matignon High School for which daughters of any of the members are eligible. Since the announcement of the picture there has been an enthusiastic response from miles around. Tickets are still available and may be obtained from Mrs. Frank Hurley, Prefect of the Sodality and from those assisting her on the committee.

LINCOLN SCHOOL FIELD TRIP

Miss Richardson's kindergarten at Lincoln School visited the post office this last week. They saw mailbags, packages of all sizes, letters being sorted and many different stamps which are sold in the post office. Each child cancelled a letter in the cancelling machine. It was later discovered that the person who proved so helpful in explaining post office procedure to the children was Mr. Foley.

EDITORIALS

Michigan State University is reported to have recently concluded a survey, during which it was found that in this country there are 140,000 scholarships available for boys and girls at the college level, totalling $31,000,000. Last year, the survey found that 17,000 of these scholarships went begging for want of application for them.

These brawls at schoolboy sports events are causing grave concern to parents and school authorities, and especially to those lovers of high school athletics who do not have too much trouble looking ahead to the discontinuing of such events if the trouble does not stop.

One of Winchester's student bandsmen was set upon by young thugs at Monday's game at the Garden, his instrument knocked from his hand and he in turn badly beaten and kicked. Another Winchester youth was attacked without warning at the North Station while waiting for a friend.

We hold no brief for the local group who started a Winchester cheer at a hot-dog stand packed upon their arrival with supporters of a rival team. They got what they asked for, and as we get the story, it wasn't fun!

Winchester plays in the Garden again tonight. Let's all behave ourselves and do our rooting at the game! Let's leave the fighting to the pugilists who ply their wares at the Garden for cash! Especially let us not help to permanently discontinue such enjoyable events as the basketball and hockey tournaments! Believe us when we say it won't take too many more Donnybrooks to do just that!

We hope everyone will read Mr. Mott's letter about the library elsewhere in this issue. The Star has printed the letter because we feel it only fair to present both sides of a question involving roughly half a million dollars.

The library supporters have presented their case, ably and enthusiastically in the Star for several weeks now. Mr. Mott is not convinced that all of their arguments are sound: at least he urges the town meeting members to make sure that they are sound.

He suggests that the town meeting members ask themselves certain questions, and if they cannot answer them to find the answers by personal investigation before town meeting convenes. He does not say that the library supporters are wrong, but he does ask the town meeting members to make sure that they are right.

This is by no means bad advice, whichever way your preferences tend, and the same yardstick Mr. Mott asks the town meeting members to apply to the library addition can as well be applied to every capital outlay this year, no matter how desirable.

The more we talk with people about town the more firmly we are convinced that this town meeting should examine proposals to spend large sums of money with necessity rather than desirability the determining factor. A whole lot of us are becoming gravely concerned with the tax rate, now and in the future.

WINCHESTER CRAZY QUILT

Editor of the Star:
The patch work on the public buildings in our town reminds one of the crazy quilts our mothers made with bits of cloth, taken from this and that, found here and there, following a pattern that made no rhyme or reason and finally were used to cover something.

The architectural design recently proposed as an addition to our library is a nightmare. The blank wall facing Washington street reminds one of the retaining wall of the new railroad overpass.

In adding something new to the high school addition, perhaps a complete modernistic effect could be realized by putting it on sky hooks. That ought to be roomy enough. The present one would have been, and should have been big enough, if the powers that be had had the proper foresight in the first place.

In renovating the junior high school, the contractor forgot to make the roof water-tight, the result being the pupils in one of the top rooms of the building have to leave their seats because of the leaking roof when there is ice and snow on it.

In the auditorium of the Washington School addition, the inside wall has a crack half an inch wide from the roof down to the floor and a companion crack of lesser degree. This is gross negligence on someone's part and would seem to call for recourse against the party or parties responsible. It's a disgusting shame.

When more blunders are added to the crazy quilt of buildings, we might charge admission to curiosity seekers, so that the proceeds would alleviate the burden for Winchester taxpayers. Relief has to come somehow, because the trend is spend, spend, spend regardless of circumstances, and without common sense. The hill to the poor house is only an ant hill now!

JOHN AND MARY

(An Allegory)

Editor of the Star:
"John, we sure are lucky. We have a nice little place and everybody wants to live near us; we are everybody's friends."

"We sure are lucky, Mary, but I am worried about our budget! We want our home to be as nice as our neighbors, we want to send our kids to a good school, we want to give our kids more of the better things of life."

"And, John, along those lines, we need a new car this year and we must put an addition on little Mary's room to take care of the new books that she got for Christmas."

"Mary, one minute, please! This year I was going to build a new garden house to keep my tools in and I was going to get a man to help me to keep the garden a little better garden."

"Keep your garden a little better? Why, John, our garden is a lot better than our friends' right now! You think your wants are the more important, and I think mine are. In fact, I think they are all wonderful to have. I would love them all, but . . .

"I'll tell you what let's do, John. As you know we have a large tax bill and we have the interest on that big mortgage we put on last year. Why don't we put new tires on the car, put the old books that Mary doesn't read often up in the attic, keep our garden tools in the cellar as we always have, and let you take care of the garden like you have right along."

"Mary, that is a swell idea, especially when we are so far in debt! And by the way, Mary, the boss says we may get a three percent raise on sales next year. Let's wait and see!"

The Homespun Boy.

SHOULD SET EXAMPLE

Editor of the Star:
Enclosed is a copy of a letter I have sent to Senators Saltonstall and Kennedy, and Congresswoman Rogers.

With town meetings coming up next week it behooves each of us to examine carefully the hypothesis that we as individuals right here in town should set the example for economy and tax relief.

If we are willing to economize and hold the line on taxes at the local level, then we may properly demand our State and Federal Governments to do likewise.

Yours very truly,
Charles C. Bond

Honorable Leverett Saltonstall

Dear Sir:
I feel the need of adding my small voice crying in a seeming wilderness of excessive inflationary spending.

Any efforts you may expend toward relieving the staggering burden of taxes sadly borne by each and everyone of your constituents, either individually, corporately, or both, will be duly appreciated.

Yours very truly,
Charles C. Bond

MISSES STARS AND STRIPES

Editor of the Star:
Would it be possible to have the American Flag flown in Winchester Common? I have seen the Red Cross and Red Feather flags flown, but the American Flag either is not raised at all, or is displayed below these flags.

It would be nice to see the Stars and Stripes flown in the Common again. I miss it.

Thank you,
Diane Ditmars

"BETTER CHANGE PASTURES"

Editor of the Star:
My sincere thanks to the ever-faithful and loyal friends who year after year vote for me. It was disappointing to know after election that 457 personal friends in Precinct One did not vote, that over 400 more in Precinct One did not vote and about 200 in Precinct 2! If these people had voted, I would have been elected.

Voters of 3, 4 and 5 showed interest in the so-called English Candidates. I respect and admire these people, for, at least, they come out and vote for their candidates. Lack of cooperation in Precinct 1, 6, and 2, awakens me to the reality that I had better change pastures. The flock of sheep I have always admired and loved have strayed away. My only recourse is to see whether or not I can graze with content and happiness in another pasture with a strange flock of sheep!

Sincerely yours,
Eugene B. Rotondi, Sr.

MR. ELLIOTT THANKS VOTERS

Editor of the Star:
I wish to thank every one of you lovely people who voted for me to start my tenth year as one of your assessors. It won't be good but I'll do my very best. P.S.: I would like to take this opportunity to thank the three wonderful girls who have worked in the assessors office since I have had the privilege to work there. They are very understanding and capable people and even though the valuation of our town has increased over ten million dollars in this time these girls have done all this extra work with a smile. Thanks girls!

THANKS VOTERS

Editor of the Star:
May I through the Star express my thanks to all those who expressed their confidence in me by supporting me for the office of Constable in Monday's election. I will discharge the duties of my office to the best of my ability.

FROM THE TREASURER

Editor of the Star:
I would like, through the Star, to thank all those who voted for me for Town Treasurer at the polls on Monday. My vote, in view of my being unopposed, was particularly gratifying and I deeply appreciate this show of confidence on the part of my friends.

OTHER COMMUNICATIONS ON PAGE 15

REV. KENNETH R. HENLEY, D.D.

GUEST PREACHER AT FIRST CHURCH

The Reverend Dr. Kenneth R. Henley, Minister of the large and active Second Congregational Church in the western part of the state at Greenfield, will be the guest preacher at the First Congregational Church in Winchester on next Wednesday evening, March thirteenth at seven forty-five o'clock. This is the second in the series of Union Lenten Services, sponsored by the Protestant Churches of the community. All are invited.

FROM MR. BACON

Editor of the Star:
May I take this opportunity to thank those people who worked on my behalf.

I would also like to congratulate the winner of the election, Mr. Apathy, whose margin was greater than six thousand votes.

I trust that he will be in no way inconvienced by the results obtained; either by the big buildings small minds type of school expenditures, or increased taxes.

Josiah E. Bacon

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's Holy Name Society will be held on Sunday, March 10. The society will attend the 7:45 a. m. mass and receive Holy Communion in a body. After mass coffee and doughnuts will be served in St. Mary's Hall and a short business meeting will follow presided over by President, Al Thorne, Jr.

The guest speaker is to be Chief Charles J. Harrold of the Winchester Police Department who will speak on "Juvenile Delinquency."

A sports night will be held this Sunday evening, March 10, starting at 7:30. Bill Lippmann, chairman, has a full evening of speakers, movies and refreshments lined up. Local coaches will be included and among the films will be "Red Sox Pride of N.E." in color and sound. This affair should especially appeal to dads and sons.

The Nocturnal Adoration Society will hold their monthly hour of devotion at St. Clement's Eucharistic Shrine in Boston on Friday evening, March 15 from 9:00 to 10:00 p. m. everyone is invited and cars will leave from St. Mary's rectory at 8:15 p. m.

We are happy to report that Francis Muraco is out of the hospital and getting along fine.

UNITARIAN WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

The monthly meeting of the Women's Alliance will be held Tuesday, March 12, at 1:30 p. m. in Metcalf Hall. After Dessert and coffee, the program will include as speaker Mrs. Charles Monbleau whose talk on "Women of the Bible" is well known to many people in Winchester. She is the wife of the former Universalist minister in Malden, who is now at Harwichport.

Mrs. Monbleau attended Tufts College and Boston University of Religious Education and describes the various women of the Bible with a keen sense of humor. She brings out the virtues, foibles and faults of each one with insight, and compares them with women of the present day. Anyone wishing to hear her will be welcome.

IN MEMORIAM MARIANNE COLEMAN KEYES

The Board of Library Trustees and the Library staff are deeply shocked and saddened at the untimely passing of Mrs. Langley C. Keyes, Trustee of our Library for the past ten years.

We have lost a warm and true friend whose wise counsel and loyal support have been invaluable to us. Her devoted interest and gracious personality will be sorely missed.

To the members of her family, we extend our heart-felt sympathy.

Board of Library Trustees

WINCHESTER REUNION

While attending the football coaches' meeting last week end at the Officers' Club in the Fargo Building, Winchester High's Director of Athletics Henry Knowlton had a pleasant chat with a former well-known Winchester resident, Jim McElroy, now living in East Lansing, Mich., where he and his wife, "Scottie," are sort of unofficial deans of boys and girls at Michigan State. Being an alumnus of State and in Boston on business, Mr. McElroy went around to the Officers' Club to see the State football coach, Duffy Dougherty, who came to Boston for the week end to conduct a football coaches' clinic.

LINCOLN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Tuesday, March 12, is the day to mark off on your calendar as it is the spring meeting of the Mothers' Association of the Lincoln School.

Mr. Norton E. Demsey, Director of Pupil Personnel Services in Winchester will be our guest speaker and his subject will be: "A New Method of Reporting Pupils' Ability and Achievement to Parents." It promises to be an interesting afternoon and we hope to see every mother there at 3:15. There will be a good supervision of pre-school and kindergarten children in the kindergarten room.

Refreshments will be served as usual by our able committee.

Let us show the teaching staff that we are interested in their efforts on behalf of our children by being present one and all.

Make the Star Office your headquarters for school supplies. Star Building.

THE TALK OF TWENTY TOWNS

We don't know how many uses the customers of Superior Laundry and Dry Cleaning have discovered for the durable transparent plastic bag which protects every garment that leaves the Superior plant. The count was well over 37 the other day and not a day goes by but we hear of another.

For instance, yesterday, Mrs. R. said she is using hers as seat covers.

Here is a list of other uses customers have found: dust proof other clothes, furniture covers, auto seat covers, shower bath curtains, cellar window shields in winter, winter covering for small shrubs and trees, cut into rain hats, cut up for bowl covering for food, emergency raincoats for children, storing hats and storing sweaters, blouses, sox in drawers.

Well, what we started out to say was that not in all our years of serving Winchester, Cambridge, Arlington and Belmont have we ever seen anything so take the town by storm.

One day we ran out of them and we actually had a dozen call customers who left their garments at the office so they could call again next day and get their garments in a polyethelyne protective cover. Especially do they like them because it's easy to tell which dress, suit or other garment is in the bag as it hangs in the closet. And the answer is simple. The bags are transparent.

What's more they are moth proof, moisture proof, do not sweat, and keep garments spotless, fresh and clean. Every order that leaves the Superior dry cleaning plant is protected by this new technological development of the day—a polyethelyne cover bag with gusset shoulders, which means it fits without pinching or crushing finished valuable garments.

Shrimp Boats Eliminated

Sachems Beat Defending Champs

The much-overrated defending Class B champions, South Boston five, were eliminated from the Eastern Mass. Basketball tournament by Winchester, 61-38, in the quarter-final round of competition at the Boston Garden Monday evening.

The popular "Shrimp Boats" kept the score close during the first two periods, the Sachems leading 23-18 at the halfway mark.

The second half was an entirely different story! Winchester romped to outscore their opponents 38-20 for the half, having a 20-5 advantage in the third period alone.

Roger Symmes and Dave Bergquist shared top scoring honors for Winchester with 12 points each, while Mike Callahan had an even ten. Mike also did an outstanding job of guarding Roache, Southie's star, who was able to make only one basket against him. Winchester's overall shooting percentage was 34% as against a cold 25% for the losers.

Winchester, paced by Hank Schumacher, again controlled the boards with 40 rebounds to Southie's 29. Flynn with 16 points and Roache with 12 were high scorers for Southie.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Chapin Harris of Easton, Pennsylvania (Priscilla Flagg), are the parents of a third son and fourth child, born February 26. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Granville H. Flagg of Lloyd street and Mr. Richard Harris of Manchester, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bigelow Moore, formerly of Ardmore, Pa., announce the birth of their third child, second son, Steven Bigelow, on February 21, at Richardson House. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Johnson of 40 Glen road, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Moore of Wellesley.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Allan Wilde, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Geertz are back from 10 days in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in lieu of a trip in southern waters, prevented by the recent strike conditions. While in Florida, they visited with the Ralph Bonnells at Pompano Beach, and with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sparks at Fort Lauderdale.

WINCHESTER NOBILITY

Continuing with last week's review of projects sponsored by the Central Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association it is noted that 1951 produced an enterprising group who decided to try a celebrity.

Through the efforts of Mr. John Donovan, Mrs. Haggerty, Mrs. Paul Dunn, Mrs. Paul Nason, Mrs. Wadsworth, Mrs. Ralph Jope, Mrs. Paul LaMarche, Mrs. James Coon, Mrs. Alexander Clark, Mrs. Millett, Mrs. George Marks and Mrs. J. Leslie Scott our town was treated to "An Evening with Charles Laughton." The great actor, appearing in person, was a tremendous success.

1952 presented The Holbrooks, a talented couple, who did dramatic portraits. They were sponsored by Mrs. Paul Dunn, Mrs. Herbert Mullen, Mrs. Thomas L. Purtle, Mrs. Lyndon Burnham, Mrs. Virginia Dickey, Mrs. Marjory Sears, Mrs. Lillian Donaghey and Mrs. James Coon.

Mrs. Ralph Webster, Jr., felt that the 1953 association should try something particularly for children. So, in November, she and her committee offered a magician's show, "The Gloom Chasers." Later that year an amateur show was done, this time "Fun's a Poppin," combining talent from the Teachers' Club and the Mothers' Association. Mr. Ray Hayward acted as coordinator with Mr. Thomas Morse as master of ceremonies. Mr. Fred Felmet and Eleanor (Anifantis) Thistlethwaite helped with the music. Mrs. Kenneth Cullen directed the dances and Mrs. Marian Blake contributed her dramatic talent, as did Mrs. Ruth Graham, Mrs. Houghton, Mr. Alfred Meurling, and Mr. Paul Howard as well as the committee of Mrs. Ronaldd Wyman, Mrs. William O'Malley, Mrs. Carl Morton, Mrs. Francis Manzi, Mrs. Charles Hart, Mrs. Paul Nason and Mrs. Warren Shoemaker.

During the 1953-54 season Mrs. H. G. Bradlee with her committee of Mrs. Paul Nason, Mrs. Roger Burton, Mrs. Edward Peabody, Mrs. Carleton Bolivar, Mrs. Robert Ingraham, Mrs. Robert Low and Mrs. Herbert Ross presented a series of three review movies. High school students, headed by Roger Hauck, operated the movies and husbands of the various committee members ushered at the three separate events.

Thus concludes the record of professional and amateur talent offered to the citizens of Winchester for the benefit of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation since its establishment in 1946. Certainly an impressive list of truly noble citizens that would be astounding if all of the names of all the workers were available.

MUSEUM OF SCIENCE OFFERS COURSES

Two evening courses especially tailored to the layman, one on geology and the other on taxidermy, will start this month at the Museum of Science, Boston.

The geology course, titled "The Face of the Land," will begin Thursday, March 21, and the taxidermy course, "Techniques of Taxidermy," the following Tuesday, March 26. Both will consist of ten sessions.

The whys and wherefores of mountains, rivers, deserts, glaciers and volcanoes will be among subjects explained by Chan Waldron, geologist from the Museum's Education Department. Classes will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 Thursdays, at the Museum.

"Techniques of Taxidermy," valuable to the hunter who wants to permanently preserve his prized specimens as well as naturalists and art students, will cover the newest taxidermy methods. Students will prepare a mammal and a bird mount, both provided by the Museum.

Sessions will be held from 7 to 9:30 p. m. Tuesdays with instructors David D. Bonney of the Museum's Education Department, and Arthur Heiman, professional taxidermist.

Advance registrations for both courses may be made through the Education Department at the Museum of Science.

THE SENIOR FORUM

The chapel speaker at the Senior Forum on Sunday will be Rev. John W. Ellison, rector of the Church of the Epiphany. Special interest is being shown in his coming because of the story in the recent issue of "Life" magazine telling of "Nelson's Complete Concordance of the Revised Version of the Bible," which Mr. Ellison prepared for publication. This is undoubtedly one of the great Bible reference works of our century and it is a privilege for Forum to have Mr. Ellison come as one of its speakers. His subject will be "We Have This Treasure."

The chaplain will be Brad Ross, assisted by Doug Canning. The deacons will be Peter and Bill Schmink; and ushers will be Doug Gowdy and Phil Pollard.

Class night meetings will be held on Sunday evening at 6:00 o'clock with Class Advisors and Student Council Representatives in charge.

Rehearsals of the Lenten drama "Dust of the Road" have begun. It will be presented on Sunday evening, March 31, in Chidley Hall. Mrs. George Stone, Forum drama advisor, will direct the rehearsals.

MAMMOTH CHEESES

For the Lenten season Converse Market has on hand eight mammoth cheeses weighing over 350 pounds apiece. Each cheese stands about two feet high, with a diameter of twenty inches. These cheeses were ordered and made especially for Converse in May of 1955 by the Kraft Food Co. at their cheese factory in Lowville, New York. Lowville is located in the heart of the dairy and milk-producing region of New York.

Since 1955 the cheeses have been naturally cooler cured at Lowville—a period of 22 months. Each huge cheese contains between 3500 and 4000 pints of pure milk, and bears the official stamp of a natural New York State Mohawk Valley Cheddar Cheese.

Two of the cheeses are now at Converse and the remainder in storage. The cheeses are not cut until shortly before they are sold in order to preserve their flavor. The cutting is done at Converse by Mr. Bill Armstrong, who hopes to be able to leave one of the cheeses on display for this coming week, providing the weather does not take a sudden warm turn.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

An important change made by the Board of Directors of the Babe Ruth League, Inc. Trenton, N. J., in the Age Determination Date should greatly benefit our Winchester League, several of its present members and Little League graduates trying out this spring.

In 1955, the National Committee for Amateur Baseball which includes the membership of Babe Ruth League, Inc., National Federation of High School Athletic Associations, American Junior Legion and many other groups, unanimously voted to adopt September 1, as its Age Determination Date, as of the 1956 playing season.

As this caused considerable hardship on ex-Little Leaguers born in August, who as 14 years old were placed in a position of competing with older experienced boys, the Babe Ruth league adopted a policy for the 1957 season and including those on the 1956 teams.

Therefore, in the best interest of these 13 and 14 year old boys, a special waiver is made for Little Leaguers born in August 1943, and prior to September 1st, 1944, will be considered as 13 years old, those of last year teams born in August 1942 will continue as 14.

While no future policy has been established, this gives our boys selected through our tryout system, in the 13 and 14 age group this year, an opportunity for three seasons of Babe Ruth Baseball.

It will also give an excellent chance this year for a season of baseball for several 15 year old boys, as each team can carry a maximum of 5 boys, along with 5-14 and a minimum of 5-13 year olders.

Many applications have been received, get your blanks at Winchester Junior High School, Chitel's or Winchester Sport Shop. Return same to the two stores or mail direct to Winchester Babe Ruth League, P.O. 126, Winchester. (No returns to the school). Tryouts will not interfere with any school activities.

FILMS AT THE LIBRARY

BASEBALL TIME

Can Spring be far away now that the baseball training season is here? Fenway Park will soon lure many baseball fans to its bleachers to cheer for the Boston Red Sox.

At the Public Library's Friday evening and Saturday morning film programs, March 8 and 9, a new film entitled "Pride of New England, the Boston Red Sox" will be shown. This film features excerpts from many exciting games of the 1956 season, including the All Star Game.

Other films on the same program will be:
Airport
New England, Background of Literature
Andy the Lion

Exciting Nature Film Coming

At the next regularly scheduled film programs, the Public Library will present the full-length film, "The Great Adventure."

This film has been received as a masterpiece in the realm of nature. It is a beautifully photographed film which begins one spring day on a Swedish farm and follows the symmetry of nature from the fox preying on the hen coop to feed his hungry cubs, to the farmer protecting his living by preying on the fox.

It will be shown Family Night, Friday, March 15, at 7:30 p. m. and at the Children's Hour, Saturday, March 16, at 10:15 a. m.

The regularly scheduled recorded music programs will be held Wednesday afternoon and evening at 2:30 and 7:00 p. m. Any requests for favorites will be played.

W. H. S. RIFLE CLUB

Have you ever had a real rifle in your hands, an object that can be friend or foe, and can do a great deal of good, or even bad when not properly handled? Many people have a high interest in riflery because of its relaxing enjoyment and its necessity of skill and hard practice.

We have a Rifle Club in our own High School to serve these purposes. The club is under the careful guidance of Mr. Aversa. This club is organized as any other club with a president, vice president, treasurer and two secretaries, one for the boys' team and one for the girls' team. Rather than meetings after school the club has practices on every Friday night in which every member participates. These practices are held downtown in the rifle range used by the police and auxiliary police.

Monday night brings out the boys' and girls' teams. The two teams are made up of the ten highest scorers of the boys and girls. The boys' team is led by Capt. Bill Ryerson and the girls' by Sally Scott. Mr. Aversa has the job of coaching these two teams.

While riflery is not a spectator sport, but one that everyone participates in, a hearty good luck is always welcome!

Girls Rifle Team

The girls got out their "trusty rifles" a few weeks ago to have a shooting match with Malden. They lost to the Malden crackshots, who did not shoot under 93, by a score of 28 points, not too big a margin in riflery. The gals could see that practice was a must. With the perseverence of Sally Scott, this year's able captain, the girls have bettered their scores. Wednesday, February 27, the Riflettes again pulled out their muskets to set out after Malden for a second time. Very happily they tied with Maiden 471-471. They certainly felt rewarded after their practicing.

Fairly soon they will meet Melrose and will shoot with high hopes to bring back a Sachem victory.

TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

Miss Evelyn Forsyth, president of the Winchester Toastmistress Club, was the winner of a club level speech contest held recently by that organization.

The topic of Miss Forsyth's winning speech was "Why Nursery Rhymes?" She is now eligible to compete during March and April in the council and regional areas. A prepared speech and an impromptu speech must be given at each level.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Tuesday, March 12, at 7:45 p.m. in the Medford Girl Scout Office, 5 High Street, Medford. The entire membership will participate in a forum discussion on "Television and Children."

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
LAND COURT
No. 24227 Misc.

(SEAL) IN EQUITY

To GEORGE A. SALTMARSH, SHERMAN W. SALTMARSH, ROGER W. SALTMARSH and LUCY MARGUERITE SALTMARSH, of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; PAUL BARRON WATSON, Jr., of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, surviving executor under the will of PAUL BARRON WATSON; ELIZABETH E. REYNOLDS, now or formerly of said Winchester, or her heirs, devisees or legal representatives:

GREETING:

Whereas a suit in equity has been begun against you in our Land Court, by FRANK X. BEES and BERNADINE D. BEES of said Winchester:

We command you, if you intend to make any defense, that on the first Monday of May next, which Monday is the return day of this subpoena, or within such further time as the law allows, you do cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer or other lawful pleading to be filed in the office of the recorder of said court at Boston in the County of Suffolk, and further that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.

Hereof fail not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged, and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.

The plaintiffs allege to be the owners of certain land on Myrtle Terrace in said Winchester; that in the chain of title affecting said property there appears a mortgage running from GEORGE A. SALTMARSH to ELIZABETH E. REYNOLDS, dated November 18, 1902 and duly recorded in Book 3003, Page 597, in which it is stated that the premises were free from all incumbrances except a balance of $1500 due on a mortgage held by PAUL BARRON WATSON to be paid by grantee within one month from date; that there appears of record no mortgage in favor of the said PAUL BARRON WATSON; and there further appears in the chain of title a deed running from SALTMARSH to REYNOLDS, dated November 22, 1902 and duly recorded in Book 3006, Page 213, in which the conveyance stated that mortgages were to be discharged as a part of this transaction, and that through inadvertence and mutual mistake between the parties, the words "of record" were omitted from said clause, and praying that the Court find that the allegation contained above in regard to the mortgage is no longer in force and effect, and that said deed be reformed by adding the words "of record."

And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the plaintiffs that the whereabouts of some of the defendants are unknown and they cannot actually be served with process, it is ORDERED that notice be given by publishing a copy of this order once each week for three successive weeks in the Winchester Star, a newspaper published in said Winchester, the last publication to be one month at least before the said Monday of May next.

Witness, John E. Fenton, Judge of our Land Court, the twenty-sixth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven.
Sybil H. Holmes, Recorder.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hour as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thomson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Permanent health and happiness—gained through the spiritual understanding of man's true relationship to God—will be dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.
Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Man" is the Golden Text from Roman (8:16): "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God."
Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (243:32-3): "Inasmuch as God is good and the fount of all being, He does not produce moral or physical deformity; therefore such deformity is not real, but is illusion, the mirage of error."
Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' healing of the man "sick of the palsy, lying on a bed" (Matthew 9:2-8) will be included in the readings from the King James Version of the Bible.

WINCHESTER LOSES CONSOLATION

ARLINGTON 5-1 VICTOR AT ARENA

Arlington High beat a lack-luster Winchester sextet, 5-1, in the consolation round of the State Interscholastic Hockey tournament last Saturday night at the Boston Arena. In the championship round Lynn English beat Melrose, conqueror of Winchester in the semi-final round, 2-0.

Winchester, dog-tired, both physically and mentally after its four-overtime quarter final marathon match with Charlestown, didn't have it against Melrose, and lost, 5-0! On their normal game, the Indians are not that inferior to the El Ponders, and had a couple of key plays in the early minutes of that game gone Winchester's way, the game could have been quite different.

Saturday against Arlington, the Indians gave the impression of indifference to the outcome of the match, and it wasn't until the final period that they finally tallied.

Meanwhile, Arlington, paced by George Limerick and Gerry Cronin, had rolled up five goals in the first two periods to take all the chance out of the game.

Even so, the Winchester goal was a pretty one, Jim McElholm, effective, hard-working defense man, took the puck near his own cage and skated the length of the rink to feed in to Joe Cussen in front of the Arlington ten. Cussen, in turn flipped the disc to Johnny Zirkel, who drove it past Apprille.

Winchester's defeat left the Indians in fourth place behind Lynn, Melrose and Arlington:—not bad in a 24 team field! The summary:

ARLINGTON—g, Apprille; rd, Brennan; ld, Bowser; c, Limerick; rw, Cronin; lw, Aiken; spares: Flanagan, Staffon, Ellingwood, Chisholm, Allen, Staffon, McClean.
WINCHESTER—g, Denton; rd, Cullen; ld, McElholm; c, Cussen; rw, Callahan; lw, Zirkel; spares: Weaver, Emerson, Sandberg, Davenport, Sullivan, Scott.

Score by periods	1	2	3	Total
Arlington	1	4	0	5
Winchester	0	0	1	1

First: Cronin (Limerick 6:51); second: Limerick (Cronin) 1:31; Limerick (solo) 5:30; Limerick 9:14; Flanagan (Ellingwood-Staffon) 9:32; third: Zirkel (Cussen, McElholm) 9:25.

It is always nice to show appreciation and the Church street pediatricians took a nice way of showing their appreciation of the services of Mrs. Mary Haggerty, secretary in the office of the Board of Health, during the hectic days of the salk vaccine rush. A handsome cream-colored orchid for Mrs. Haggerty arrived at her office last Thursday, delivered personally by Dr. Don McLean. Needless to state "Mary" was delighted, her only regret being that she was not going out "to the Ritz" to show off her gift.

CUSTOMERS AT EASE IN NEW FIRST NATIONAL STORE

At the opening of the new First National Store at Four Corners in Woburn, Wednesday, customers found many new advances in supermarket construction and planning.

The building itself is of modern design, surrounded on three sides by a 264 car parking lot. On the inside the color scheme features a combination of pinks, grays, yellow and white on the walls and ceilings. A special mural wall paper covers the back wall.

For speed and convenience in serving customers, a conveyer system transports foods from basement storage and pre-packaging rooms to the sales floor. When replacement of stock is necessary, a call is made by special phone to the downstairs storage rooms. Clerks pricemark items before they are sent to the sales floor and shelf replacement is made with a minimum of disturbance to customers, even during the busiest shopping hours.

At the self-service meat section the cutting and packaging is done in full view of customers through plate glass windows, and the selection of the meat packages is made from refrigerated cases whose hand rails are warm to the touch.

In addition to the 3500 items displayed on the grocery department shelves, shoppers find specialty departments with housewares, health and beauty aids, potted plants, toys, records and magazines. To prevent rush hour congestion there are ten check-out counters, and a check cashing service is provided from a booth in the manager's office.

Throughout the store customer convenience is stressed.

REV. DR. EDWIN H. TULLER

ACCEPTS NEW YORK CALL

The Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Tuller, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention for two years, resigned today to accept a call as Associate General Secretary of the 6500-church American Baptist Convention.

With headquarters in New York, Dr. Tuller's new post will include that of General Director of the ABC Council on Missionary Cooperation.

He will begin his new work June 1.

In expressing regret for leaving the 302 Baptist churches of Massachusetts, Dr. Tuller said it was his personal choice to remain with the Baptists of Massachusetts for a quarter of a century.

"However," Dr. Tuller stated in his resignation statement to the Board of Directors of the Convention today (Tuesday, February 26), "I must say 'not my will, but Thine be done.' My personal desires must be rejected. My decision, I am convinced, is the will of God for me at this time."

The state president of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention, the Rev. Dr. Finley Keech of Fall River praised the "foundations for progress that has been put down in the past two years by Dr. Tuller during which time four new churches have been established in Lynnfield, Bedford, Dedham and Wilmington."

In his resignation statement, Dr. Tuller said in part: "My stay among you has been all too short, and I have enjoyed every moment of it. My resignation comes fully twenty-two years before I had expected it to. I have been looking forward eagerly to seeing the fruits of our labor together. It is only the prayerful consideration of the most impelling set of circumstances that has driven me to the conclusion that I have, under God, no alternative but to accept the invitation extended to me by our national organization. I have high hopes for the future of the Baptist work in Massachusetts."

Previous to coming to Massachusetts, Dr. Tuller was general secretary of the Connecticut Council of Churches, and assistant secretary and director of Christian Education of the Connecticut Baptist Convention. He was also at one time the assistant pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Washington, D. C.

A graduate of Brown University, where he received his B.A. degree, he took his seminary training at Colgate Rochester Divinity School (NY) from which he won his B.D. degree, and did graduate work at LaFaculte Libra of Theologie Protestants at Paris, France.

He has served on the Board of Education and Publication of the American Baptist Convention, on its Council on Missionary Cooperation, and as Recording Secretary of the Council on Christian Social Progress.

He is a trustee of the Andover Newton Theological School, the New England Baptist Hospital, the Baptist home of Massachusetts, and other institutions.

A native of Hartford, Ct., he was ordained in the First Baptist Church, West Hartford. He is married to the former Rose Catherine Walker. The couple have four children. Their home is in Winchester.

CAMP NOKOMIS CHATTER

On Saturday, March 2, seventy-seven campers from Camp Nokomis celebrated their fifth camp reunion at the Hotel Bellevue in Boston.

Excitement ran high as the campers greeted friends they had not seen since August. Slides and movies of camp activities brought back all our happy hours together.

A large birthday cake, topped with a doll on water skis, was the center of attraction.

Camp is really filling up this year with many new campers and interest is running high. Everyone is looking forward to a wonderful camp season.

CHARLES E. McGOWAN

The funeral of Charles E. McGowan, retired Winchester letter-carrier and veteran of World War I, was held Saturday morning, March 2, from the McLaughlin Funeral Home in Woburn, with requiem high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. A delegation from the Winchester Postoffice, headed by Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgun, attended the mass. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. McGowan died suddenly Wednesday, February 27, at his home, 24 Lake avenue, Woburn. He was 61 years old and a native of Woburn, the son of John H., and Bridget (McLaughlin) McGowan.

As a boy and young man Mr. McGowan lived in the south end of Woburn. He was appointed a carrier at the Winchester Postoffice January 17, 1922, and for many years had a route on the West Side of town, retiring December 23, 1955. From 1931 to 1945 he made his home in Winchester at 63 Woodside road.

Mr. McGowan was a veteran of World War I and a member of George A. Campbell Post, 101, the American Legion. He was also a member of the Immaculate Conception Holy Name Society.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Lucy Baylis McGowan; his mother, Mrs. Bridget McLaughlin McGowan; and a son, Dr. Charles McGowan. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Frank J. Murphy of Brighton; and two brothers, Thomas H. McGowan, librarian of the Woburn Public Library; and Norman G. McGowan, also of Woburn.

BILLMAN NAMED

APPOINTED TO U.S. SAVINGS AND LOAN LEAGUE COMM.

George L. Billman, treasurer of the Winchester Cooperative Bank, has been appointed to the 1957 Appraisal Policy and Building Practices Committee of the United States Savings and Loan League.

The appointment was announced today by Roy M. Marr, Memphis, Tennessee, president of the League, which is the nationwide trade organization of the savings and loan business and represents more than 4300 savings associations and cooperative banks.

The Appraisal Policy and Building Practices Committee works to develop methods to improve real estate appraising policies and practices of savings associations. This Committee keeps savings and loan associations informed of new building materials, processes and technological advancements and makes suggestions relative to housing design and subdivision planning in connection with the League's "Better Homes" program.

NATIONAL GUARD RECRUITS WANTED

Army recruiters have started an intense campaign to build up the strength of the National Guard, according to a statement issued today by Sgt. 1/c Jack Bateson, local Army recruiter.

The sergeant said he is starting immediately to recruit men to serve with the Massachusetts National Guard units in this vicinity. The active duty and training obligations are now the same for both the National Guard and the Army Reserve, so it is a matter of personal preference as to which a man joins.

Men interested in joining the Regular Army, Army Reserve or the Massachusetts National Guard are urged to contact Sgt. Bateson at the Army Recruiting Station at 49 High street, Medford, or call him at MYstic 6-5777.

COMMISSIONED IN NAVY

Melvin F. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Smith of 6 Oakland circle, and Henry C. Valcour, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Valcour of 56 Yale street, both of Winchester, were graduated from the Navy's Officer Candidate School at the Naval Station, Newport, R. I., and commissioned Ensign March 1.

To earn their commissions the 935 new officers had to complete an intensive 18-week course of study and indoctrination covering such subjects as navigation, engineering, seamanship, military justice and naval weapons.

Rear Admiral Thomas H. Robbins, Jr., USN, President of the Naval War College at Newport, spoke to the class and presented the honor graduates with their certificates.

Members of the graduating class have been assigned to ships and stations while others will take further specialized training.

Part of every American's savings should be in his country's Savings Bonds.

MRS. MARIANNE C. KEYES

Marianne Coleman Keyes, wife of Langley C. Keyes, of 1 Copley street, died suddenly on Sunday, March 3, in the Winchester Hospital.

Mrs. Keyes was very active in Winchester activities. For the past ten years she was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Winchester Public Library, and at the time of her death she was Secretary of the Board. She was also at the time President of the Massachusetts Library Trustees Association. Mrs. Keyes was a former president of the Wyman Mothers' Association, and also a former president of the Winchester College Club. She was an active member of the En Ka Society, in which she held many offices. She had also been an officer in the Winchester Chapter of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Keyes was the daughter of Judge Frank B., and Irma (Hard) Coleman of St. Louis, Mo. She was born in Oneida, N. Y., but spent her early life in St. Louis. She graduated from Vassar College in 1928, and was married December 20, 1930.

Mrs. Keyes and her family have lived in Winchester for more than 20 years. Besides her husband, who is executive vice-president of Hoag & Provandie Inc., she leaves two sons, Eben W. Keyes, II, a graduate student at Columbia, and Langley C. Keyes, Jr., a student at Harvard; also her parents, a sister, Mrs. George Roudebush and a brother, George Coleman, all of St. Louis.

Funeral services were conducted at the Unitarian Church Tuesday afternoon by Mr. Don S. Greer, first reader of First Church of Christ Scientist in Winchester, assisted by the minister of the Unitarian Church, Rev. Robert A. Storer. Interment was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. ALMA CARLSON LANGILL

Mrs. Alma Carlson Langill, wife of Carl Langill of 156 Summit street, Peabody, a former resident of Winchester, died February 23, at the J. B. Thomas Hospital in Peabody after a short illness.

Born in Sweden, May 26, 1894, Mrs. Langill came to this country in 1916, settling in Winchester and living during her ten years in town, first on Washington street, and later on Loring avenue.

For a short while after leaving Winchester she lived in Woburn before moving 26 years ago to Peabody where her husband was associated with the Eastman Plant.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Alma Aylward and Miss Evelyn Langill, also two sons, Roland and Edward Langill, all of Peabody; 11 grandchildren; three sisters, Miss Maria Carlson, Mrs. Albin Danielson and Mrs. Gunnar Abrahamson, all of Winchester ;and two brothers, Herman Carlson of Wakefield and Carl Carlson of Peabody, both formerly of this town.

Funeral services were held February 26, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Peabody. Burial was in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Peabody.

HOLY CROSS SINGERS IN BOSTON

The Holy Cross Club of Boston will sponsor its annual concert of the Holy Cross College Glee Club on Sunday, March 10, at 3 p. m. in the main ballroom of the Sheraton Plaza Hotel, Boston. The entire proceeds of this concert program are allocated to the Scholarship Fund under the administration of the Holy Cross Club of Boston. This fund makes it possible each year for young men in the metropolitan area to obtain scholarship assistance at Holy Cross.

Chairman of this year's concert program is Mr. Paul A. Hines, 107 Hoover road, Needham.

This affair will mark the first appearance in Boston of the Holy Cross College Glee Club following a recent successful tour of the Mid-West Composed of ninety voices the Glee Club will be under the direction of Professor Frederick S. Mirliani, Director of Music at the college.

W. S. C. S.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church is planning a busy day on Thursday, March 14.

Starting at 9:30 a. m. there will be a short business meeeting for members of the Executive Board. At 10 o'clock all members are invited to participate in a worthy sewing project. Bring a sandwich and at 12:30 the Hillside Group will serve dessert and coffee.

Mrs. Arvid Monsen, President, will preside over the afternoon meeting starting at 2:00 p. m. The speaker will be Mr. Schoeffer from the Boston Legal Aid Society and his subject will be, "Legal Tips for the Homemaker. All members and friends are welcome.

WHAT ABOUT OUR LIBRARY?

IN CONCLUSION

In this series of weekly articles the Library Building Addition Committee has sought to bring to the attention of the townspeople the reasons why additions and modifications to our library are needed at this time. The pressing needs of the children, young adults, and for more book storage have been cited. Attention has been called to the architects' proposed solution to these needs. The library services and town organizations which have need of a moderately sized central meeting place have been indicated. The cost of this project to the town has been stated.

Now Is the Time

The needs of the library for additional space have existed for a number of years. The library has waited in favor of the schools for nine years. Now its needs are very critical. If the library is to continue to provide the present high quality of service to its many users, it must have additional space.

The population of the town has increased by about fifty per cent since 1932 when the library, which was then adequate, was completed. The number of registered borrowers has more than doubled in this time as has the number of volumes in the library. Circulation of books is up more than fifty per cent from 1932.

Also to be considered is the fact that the cost of building is at present increasing steadily at the rate of about one per cent per month.

Once and for All

A point which should be stressed is that the proposed plans offer a solution not only for the present requirements of the library, but a solution for the forseeable future. It is possible at this time to predict that the population of Winchester will never exceed 23 to 25 thousand. The proposed additions will provide adequate library facilities for a town of that size according to current American library standards.

Some Like It Flat

There has been much discussion relating to the roofs of the proposed additions. Present building practices in the interest of economy dictate the flat type of roof. It is wholly adequate even for this type of climate. Few people will realize that a person standing on the ground will not see such a roof as a wide expanse of flat space, as one does when viewing it in a model or from an airplane. The peaked roof is wasteful of space and material. It must also be remembered that the wages of construction workers have increased by a factor of two or three since 1932.

The building committee felt from the beginning that an addition which fulfilled the functional needs of the library must also harmonize with the existing structure. The committee feels very proud of the job our architects have done in blending the new work with the old, presenting a complete building which will be attractive for our town and at the same time keeping an eye on the cost.

Something for Nothing

There was considerable time spent in the open meeting discussing the area under the proposed exhibition hall wing which is marked on the architects' plans as a parking area. This area occurred as a consequence of the sloping land on which the library is built. The architects had their professional estimator priced both the cost of filling in the space and leaving it as an open-ended room which could serve a useful purpose as a parking area. The cost estimates showed that filling the space would be slightly more expensive than leaving it open. The result is a space which serves a useful purpose at present and which could in the future be finished off as additional library space. This would not be so if it were filled in. In this region foundations must be laid a certain number of feet below the original ground surface. Therefore, if the area were filled, foundation walls would still have to be laid to the same depth below the original surface.

It is time to trade in our 1930 library for a 1958 model.

Ed Note.—Final article in a series submitted by friends of the library.

SPORT NIGHT

St. Mary's Holy Name Society is sponsoring its annual sport night Sunday, March 10, at 7:30 in St. Mary's Hall.

Space does not permit a description of the many interesting events planned, but you may be assured of a very entertaining evening with several well-known sports figures present in addition to some excellent sports films in sound and color.

Sunday evenings seldom offer much in the way of entertainment but here is a chance for you and your family to really enjoy yourselves.

Scouts' Anniversary February 28

Fortieth Birthday Party For Troop 3

Boy Scout Troop 3, with Explorer Post 3 assisting, celebrated its fortieth year of continuous activity on Thursday, February 28, at the First Congregational Church. One hundred and thirty-eight scouts, guests and parents joined in the celebration at which two scouts and two explorers received the Eagle Badge.

Guests for the evening included Mr. Ben Gowing, Fellsland Council president, Mr. William Wickwire, Winchester district commissioner, Mr. Wesley Mallery, assistant pastor of the church, and a group of former leaders of the troop. The former leaders present were Mr. Robinson Whitten, the first scoutmaster, Mr. Edward Grosvenor, Mr. Paul Dunn, Dr. Robert Millican, Mr. Lyndon Burnham and Mr. Tom Hill. Mr. William Burrows, another past leader, sent a letter of congratulations. Mr. Richard Davenport, a past explorer advisor, was also present.

After a delicious dinner, a huge birthday cake was brought out amid the strains of "Happy Birthday" and after appropriate admiration for the beautiful decorations the candles were blown out and the cake was consumed. The cake was large enough to serve all one hundred and thirty-eight present with seconds for some.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Eagle badges to Scouts Bruce Graves and Thomas Joslin and to Explorers Thomas Hinton and Steve Root. Council President Ben Gowing made the awards with some inspiring remarks.

Other awards made to the scouts and explorers by Assistant Scoutmaster Byron Graves and Explorer Advisor Lawrence Beckley were as follows:

Also Frank Spang, Russell Taylor, David Willis, John Thompson, Peter Schmink, Steve Root, David Sweetser, Rex Williams, Dudley Willis, John Bell, Richard Dawson, Steve Dewar, Richard Niles and George Denton.

Two Silver Palm awards were made to Eagle Scouts Dudley and David Willis. The silver palm is awarded for achieving 15 merit Badges beyond those required for Eagle and in addition requires 18 months of service after receiving the Eagle award, so the Silver Palm is one of the highest awards in Scouting.

The entire evening was conducted by the Scouts and Explorers themselves and much credit is due to the poise and ability of Tom Joslin, Bruce Graves, Steve Root, Richard Niles, David Taylor, John Fenoglio, Bud Sundberg and John Thompson.

Commissioner Wickwire presented the Woodman's Rally trophy to Bruce Graves representing Troop 3. This trophy was won by the troop at the annual Fall Camporee at Camp Fellsland for the third time. Commissioner Wickwire also presented Charters for the Troop and Post to Mr. Mallery who in turn presented them to Explorer Leader Beckley and Scoutmaster Hinton.

It was particularly gratifying to the present Troop and Post leaders to receive the warm comments and see the interest of the past scoutmasters who were present.

Mr. George H. Gowdy was in charge of the arrangements and program planning for the evening.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH YOUTH FELLOWSHIPS

Under the direction of Miss Muriel Roel, director of Christian Education, and the Pastor, the Junior High Fellowship of First Baptist Church will meet at five o'clock Sunday evening at the church for the second of a series of classes on Christian Living. This series consists of six classes planned to prepare young people for Baptism. A film strip on the symbolism of the Christian religion will be shown.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Muilen, 8 Park road, will be hosts to the Senior High Fellowship at seven o'clock Sunday evening. This group has been studying the Great Religions of the World. Sunday evening's meeting will include an evaluation of the different religions with emphasis on the respect in which Christianity is regarded as the superior faith. A question and answer period, followed by refreshments and a fellowship hour will bring the evening to a close.

LENTEN SERMONS AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

On the basis of a questionnaire, the result of which evidenced interest in certain Christian beliefs, Rev. Walter L. Bailey of First Baptist Church announces the following series of Sermons for the Lenten Season:

March 10, "After This Manner, Pray." Seeking to understand the meaning, the place and the power of prayer.

March 17, "How Can We Tell Right From Wrong?" Guidance in making ethical and moral decisions.

March 24, "Making Habit Our Ally." "Making our nervous system our ally instead of our enemy." Prof. William James.

March 31, "Writing One's Own Commandments." Laying down the law to one's self.

April 7, "Are The Demands of Jesus Reasonable?" "If a man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me."

April 14, "Who Crucified Christ?" Dealing with the temptations and the sins of maturity. On Palm Sunday the children rejoiced and sang Hosannahs—later Christ was crucified by adults.

April 21, "The Meaning and Message of Easter." Reflections on the Christian interpretation of the mysteries of life and death and the hope of immortality.

ATTENTION PARENTS AND PARENTS-TO-BE

The Winchester Red Cross will be glad to sponsor a course—"Home Nursing care of Mother and Baby" if enough interest and desire is shown by new and prospective parents. This is a course that is attended by both parents, if they wish.

Mrs. Doris L. Wiklund, Chairman of the Red Cross nurses has volunteered to be the instructor. Mrs. Wiklund, who is also Director of the Visiting Nurses Association, is extremely well equipped as a capable and interesting teacher and would have much to offer to a class.

Many couples have found such instruction to be of invaluable assistance in preparing for the birth of their baby and for its care. It is gratifying for the mother and father to share in the pleasures and responsibilities of their new parenthood.

Should five or six couples call the Red Cross office and show their interest in participating in such a course, every effort would be made to get one started by the third week in March.

Please call WInchester 6-2300, promptly, if you would like to join or wish further information.

HUNGARIAN SETTLEMENT COMMITTEE

Rev. John Ellison, chairman, expressed his thanks to the members of the Hungarian Settlement Committee by entertaining them at his home, 3 Glengarry, on Thursday evening February 28. The steering committee met first to hear progress reports and to transact necessary legal business. At 8:30 the other members of the committee assembled to enjoy the hospitality of the Ellisons; Mrs. Ellison was assisted in serving dessert and coffee by Mrs. Milton Brown and Mrs. Fred Smith; Mrs. Lowry poured. Mrs. Donald K. Lewis shared with Mrs. Ellison the responsibility of hostess.

Since the methods of processing Hungarian refugees at Camp Kilmer has been changed and it is now being done through individual church groups, it is not now anticipated that any other large group of Hungarians will come to Winchester in the near future. It is hoped that arrangements can be completed successfully for Mrs. Mathilda Szederkenyi's husband and son to join her in Winchester; and it is reported that the Catholic Charitable Bureau is seeking places for 25-teen-aged students who would be supported by their hosts for at least a full year. Mrs. Charles Kerrigan can supply fuller information.

OUR HUNGARIAN FRIENDS

Another of our Hungarian families has been able to find living quarters in Winchester. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Varga, who have been with the Francis Parsons of Euclid avenue, moved this week to an apartment on Irving street. Mrs. Eva Varga is employed as a draftsman by Bolt, Beranek & Newman, an acoustical engineering firm in Cambridge; Mr. Varga has a job with the Calidyne Company of Cross street, this town. Mr. Varga had university training as an architect, but his experience abroad has been as a draftsman and construction engineer. It was Mr. Varga who made the sketch of the Church of the Epiphany which he presented to the Rev. Mr. Ellison; a reproduction of this drawing is being used as a cover for the church bulletin from time to time.

In this and previous articles appearing in the Star, reports have been made of where twenty of the Hungarians who came to Winchester on January 2, have found living quarters and employment. The twenty-first member of the original group was Joseph Vidrih who lived briefly with the Lewis Snows of Chesterford road, before he was recalled to Camp Kilmer. Mr. Ellison has received a letter from Joseph which has been in the process of translation, and in which he thanked Winchester for the hospitality he had received while here.

Probably in the future, as the Hungarians master the language barrier they will be able to change to other jobs more commensurate with their capabilities and training. Establishment of direct contact with our Hungarian friends could not have been made successfully without the splendid cooperation of one group of the Hungarian Settlement Committee, the interpreters: Mr. and Mrs. William P. Frisco, Dr. and Mrs. Lazio Varga, Mr. S. Berecz, Sr., and Mr. S. Berecz, Jr. Helping also to pierce this language barrier are the four regular teachers who sat in on Mrs. Anne Austill's original classes until they learned her methods; they are Mrs. Patrick J. Cosgrove, Mrs. Howard L. Leary, Mrs. Norman J. Padelford, and Mrs. Paul M. White, Jr. There have been four regular classes, but job hunting, moving, and regular employment have reduced attendance so that the classes have now been cut to three which meet two nights a week and will probably continue for quite a while.

The Hungarian Settlement Committee will continue to maintain contact with the Hungarian families through its social service workers. Members of this committee are, Mrs. Thomas Hill, Mrs. Philip Downes, Mrs. Eugene Pollard, and Miss Grace Wills. Each one has had a family or families assigned to her and will maintain follow-up work to give advice and assistance where necessary.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

GIRL SCOUT WEEK
MARCH 10 — 17

The Winchester Girl Scouts, along with Scouts all over the nation, will celebrate their 45th Birthday on March 12, which comes during Girl Scout Week. On Sunday, March 10, designated as Girl Scout Sunday, girls will attend their own churches in uniform, except girls from St. Mary's Church, who will attend on March 17.

Girl Scouting is built around one fundamental principle; "On My Honor." Each girl on becoming a scout, promises on her honor to try "to do my duty to God and my Country; to help other people at all times; to obey the Girl Scout Laws;" and these laws include trustworthiness, loyalty, helpfulness, courtesy, kindness to animals, obedience to authority, cheerfulness, thrift and cleanliness of mind and action.

These principles are interpreted to Girl Scouts through a program of activities and interests that is planned in consultation with nationally known authorities on all phases of youth work. The program is based on the belief in the educational value of small groups working and playing together. It aims to provide leisure time activities which emphasize high standards of conduct, right habits of living and cultural hobbies that lead to pleasant comradeship and a sense of civic responsibility.

Today the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts is serving some 767 girls and over 200 adults. These girls belong because they subscribe to the above principles. The essential qualification for adult membership is an interest in girls, and the realization of the importance of giving them the best possible preparation for their jobs as homemakers and citizens.

Hospital Aide Capping

On March 12, at the Girl Scout Cabin at 7:30 p. m. twenty-three members of Senior Troop 2, will receive their caps from Miss Laura Rogers, superintendent of nurses at the Winchester Hospital. The program is being planned by the girls and their leaders, Mrs. Francis Parsons and Miss Martha Daschbach. The speaker will be Miss Florence Brickett, R.N., who is a member of the faculty at the Boston College School of Nursing, a staff member at Shattuck Hospital, and formerly a staff member at the Winchester Hospital. Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Program Committee

The Program Committee will meet on March 12, at the Girl Scout Cabin at 9:30 a. m. The committee chairman, Mrs. Ralph C. Thompson will preside, and other members of this committee are Mrs. Harold Butters, Mrs. James Marchant, Mrs. Arvid Monsen, Mrs. Charles Myers, and Mrs. Daniel Fortiere.

LENT AT ST. MARY'S

All during Lent, daily Masses will be at 6:45 and at 9, except on Wednesdays when the 9 will be omitted and in its place an evening Mass will be said at 7:45.

Stations of the cross for both children and adults will be held at 2:30 and 3:30 each Friday afternoon. There will be no public Stations on Friday evenings this year. In their place there is being introduced a series of six pulpit dialogues. They will concern the following subjects: 1) The Church of Christ must be One; one in its Founder, in its ultimate end, in its means to that end. 2) It must be Holy; offering means to sanctify its members. 3) It must be Catholic or Universal, not restricted to any nation or class of people. 4) It must be Apostolic, traceable back to the times of the apostles. 5) Marriage is more than a contract; it is a sacrament. 6) Sins and their forgiveness.

Rev. William Granville and Rev. Frederick Brigham, both from Cardinal O'Connell Seminary will be the speakers. A brief explanation of the subject will first be given and then the objections that may be common will be presented by one of the speakers, to be answered by the other. It should prove both interesting and stimulating. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will close the exercises.

All parishioners are urged to attend daily Mass and the Lenten exercises.

A SALTY AFTERNOON

The cub scouts of Den I and Den 10, Pack 3, enjoyed an interesting trip to Cain's Potato Chip factory last week. The boys saw potatoes processed from pale wet slabs to crispy salty chips. Each visitor received a sample bag.

Attending the outing were Peter Cunningham, William Ulfelder, Douglas Gustin, Bruce Cardin, Patrick Garner and Gus Bond from Den 1; Mark Billman, Jeffrey Russell, Fred Cardin, James Gustin, Winky Bacon, and Dwight Bellows from Den 10. Mrs. Ellis Green, Mrs. Seymour Russell, Mrs. James Gustin and Mrs. Fred Cardin chaperoned.

INFANT SAVIOUR GUILD

The next regular meeting of the Winchester Chapter will be held Tuesday afternoon, March 12, at St. Mary's Hall, at two o'clock. Mrs. Peter A. Murphy will preside at the business session.

The speaker on this occasion will be Dr. James A. McDonough, obstetrician and gynecologist at the Winchester Hospital.

Mrs. Chester J. Powers, Arlington, past president of the Guild, is chairman of the day and she will deliver an important message to members and their guests, and a large gathering is anticipated.

K. of C. ANNOUNCE ANNIVERSARY PLANS

In celebration of the 60th Anniversary of the institution of Winchester Council 210, Knights of Columbus, the oldest Catholic organization in town, the Council announces a gay Banquet-Dance and entertainment to be held early in May.

An organizational meeting was held at the Council Rooms on Wednesday evening, February 27, at which preliminary plans and suggestions were acted upon. Additional meetings will be held regularly to perfect present plans.

Since its institution on February 27, 1897, Winchester Council has regularly celebrated its existence as who will forget the 25th, 40th, 50th, and 55th anniversary celebrations to cite a few.

This year's affair is to be under the capable leadership of the Past Grand Knights of the Council and the current officers. Past Grand Knight L. C. Thibeault and Past Grand Knight Charles L. Haggerty are Co-Chairmen. Honorary Chairman is Thomas J. Gramzow, Grand Knight of the Council.

Eric W. Johnson is heading the special Council Fund Raising event which will terminate on the evening of the Banquet, just as he did so successfully last year. The Knights thus hope to build their own building in what they hope will not be the too distant future.

The dress for the Banquet-Dance is to be informal and as on the previous Anniversary celebrations, an outpouring of knights and womenfolk is expected.

MISSION UNION GUILD

Mrs. Dwight L. Cart, the wife of the pastor of the First Congregational Church, will be the speaker for the Mission Union Guild of the Congregational Women's Association, Tuesday, March 12. Mrs. Cart is well known to all members of the church and to other Winchester people because of her devotion to numerous church and town activities and her ever gracious friendliness. She is also an exceptionally talented speaker and is widely known around Seattle her former home, and is becoming well known around here for her excellent book reviews.

All who have listened to Mrs. Cart before know she is a charming and deeply inspiring speaker and they will be glad of this opportunity to hear her again. Those who have not had this privilege will wish to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Cart will review the book "New Lives For Old" by Margaret Mead. No other book could be more appropriate at this time because it has to do with South East Asia, the same part of the world that the Lenten Study Groups have chosen for their morning programs.

The Second Mile Gift boxes will be collected and the offering dedicated. Mrs. Howerd Bartlett will lead the Worship Service. As usual the Mission Union Guild program starts at 2:00 p. m. Luncheon will be served at 1:00 p. m. by the chairmen Mrs. Charles Crede and Mrs. Richard Keppler.

TELEPHONE COMPANY ASKS NEW RATES

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company on March 1, filed a revised schedule of rates with the Department of Public Utilities that will increase telephone revenues in the Commonwealth by approximately 9½ per cent.

"Existing rates for telephone service were authorized in February, 1955," said Hugh W. Macdonald, Massachusetts General Manager for the Telephone Company, "and they are based on costs as they existed in 1954. The new rates filed with the Department of Public Utilities today are based on costs as they will exist in 1957 and on a telephone plant investment that will be substantially higher than when our rates were last determined.

"Our investment in a telephone plant has been growing rapidly," Mr. Macdonald said. "Back in 1951 our investment per telephone was $260. Today it is $307, an increase of 18 per cent. As we continue to build to meet public demands for expansion and improvement, higher construction costs will bring our Massachusetts investment to even higher levels in the next few years. To keep pace with this steadily increasing investment and to keep our rate of earnings at an adequate level, additional revenues are urgently needed now.

"In addition, after weeks of bargaining the Company has now made firm wage proposals to the union organizations representing telephone employees. These will result in increased wage costs about the same in amount as the wage increases of October, 1955. Existing rates, therefore, do not reflect the cost of either of these two wage increases or other increased wage costs which altogether amount to approximately $12 million a year in Massachusetts.

"It is the steady increase in plant investment and the impact of wage, material and other expense increases that make necessary the relief we are now seeking. In the steps we are taking to keep the business financially sound we are looking at the needs of Massachusetts telephone users not only as they are today, but as we know they are going to be during the next few years.

"It is only through the maintenance of earnings at satisfactory levels that we can induce people to put their savings into this business. This is the only way we can acquire the permanent capital needed to build additional telephone facilities to meet these future telephone requirements.

"It is estimated that the proposed rates will increase our Massachusetts revenues by a little over $1½ million per month which, after taxes, would increase the Company's net income by about $700,000 per month. With two million telephones now in service in Massachusetts, this will mean an average monthly increase per telephone slightly in excess of 75 cents."

The principal changes in the proposed schedule are as follows:

For over half of the 1,200,000 residence customers in Massachusetts the proposed increases would range from 20 cents to 70 cents per month. For the remainder, the proposed increases would range from 80 cents per month to $1.40 per month, the maximum increase applying only to one-party full suburban service in metropolitan Boston. The rate for local calls from public telephones would remain at 10 cents.

Proposed increases for business service are somewhat higher than for residence service. They include increases for switchboard trunk lines, dial switching equipment on customers' premises, push-button telephones and other miscellaneous equipment used by business customers.

A 5-cent increase is also proposed on most station-to-station calls of more than 16 miles. Person-to-person rates would be increased and a 15-cent charge in addition to the regular message charge is proposed for all collect calls. These changes in Long Distance rates will only affect Long Distance calls within Massachusetts.

Why your telephone company is asking for a price increase on some of its services.

While this new construction has permitted us to meet most service requests, we must do even more before all demands can be filled promptly.

YOUR Telephone Company is asking the Department of Public Utilities to approve increases in certain telephone charges here in Massachusetts.

We will naturally be giving the Department all the detailed facts, statistics, and evidence needed to judge our request. But because this evidence is extensive and complicated, we would like to give you the simple facts about our request and why an increase is so necessary now.

OUR PRICES BASED ON '54 COSTS

Present-day prices for telephone service in Massachusetts are based on costs as they existed in 1954.

Since then, the cost of almost everything we use has increased substantially for us, just as it has for you. Prices of building materials, supplies, trucks, telephone equipment, and nearly every other item required in telephone construction and maintenance, are higher than ever.

WAGES—OUR BIGGEST EXPENSE

Wages represent our biggest cost in the job of providing you with telephone service. Wages alone make up about two thirds of our operating expenses before taxes.

We have put into effect a great many operating economies and cut costs still further through technical improvements. We are continuing to do so, wherever and whenever we can. But these are not enough.

Our big problem comes from the fact that all of our expenses, including wages, are increasing more rapidly than our revenues.

MEETING DEMAND COSTLY

To provide new service for those who want it, and to maintain and improve the quality of service to present users has required an average outlay for telephone construction of over $1 million a week during the last five years.

This has required more and more equipment, buildings, and lines — all costing more than they did a few years ago.

BETTER SERVICE

In your home or in your business, you need good telephone service. But more than that, it should be constantly improving. We believe you are aware of the progress we have made.

Today, 81 per cent of Massachusetts telephone users have fast, modern, local dial service.

This represents a great advance over four years ago when only 65 per cent of telephone users had dial service.

In addition, many customers may now dial direct to Massachusetts and New England points beyond their local calling areas, and even to New York and Philadelphia. More of this direct distance dialing is planned, and it will be only one of many improvements now scheduled for your telephone service.

VITAL TO ECONOMIC PROGRESS

Our program of improvement and expansion has meant employment and wages for many groups of men and women. Millions of dollars have been spent in the last five years for new buildings and building additions in 165 different locations throughout the state. Much of this money went to masons, carpenters, electricians, plumbers, and other Massachusetts workers.

Materials and supplies have been bought from hundreds of Massachusetts merchants and manufacturers. For last year alone, these purchases amounted to over $1½ millions weekly.

All of this was in addition to the effect of wages earned and spent right here in Massachusetts by 31,000 telephone men and women.

THE ANSWER

Our problem results from the increased costs of providing service and service improvements. The many economies we have put into effect will not do the job.

The plain truth is that the income we now receive from present rates will not continue to cover all of these costs and adequately maintain our credit.

The answer can be found only in the modest increase in rates we are now requesting.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

On Thursday morning, February 14, the boys and girls of the Winchester Junior High School presented a program in the school auditorium based on the theme: "Our American Heritage."

The plan was to show how our great patriots had striven to unify, first, the colonies, then the states, and, finally, the hostile nations of the world.

David Wallace from 7 - 6 was the announce who tied together the various incidents, people, poems, and songs selected to develop the theme.

The program opened after David explained the purposes of the assembly; Alta Merritt, 7 - 2, read Psalm 133 and led the Lord's Prayer. Tom Bell, 7 - 4, Nancy O'Neil, 7 - 3, and Sue Bennett, 7 - 1, led the salute to the flag. Drummers Bill Swett, John Chane, and Ralph Thompson began the play by a long, and effective, drum roll.

The play, by Tom Eliassen and George Neville, 8 - 7, showed Washington crossing the Delaware River and defeating the Hessian troops. The soldiers were played by Wesley Wheater, Steve Blair, John Fenoglio, Paul Roberts, Arthur Hewis, Peter Devlin, and the two authors. The play's forcefulness was increased by the use of excellent scenery and props supplied by the art department.

Thea Kirk read "Abraham Lincoln Walks at Midnight" while James Nolan, dressed as Lincoln presented his profile very dramatically behind the screen. Robert Flaherty and John Edmands, both of 7 - 3, arranged this bit of theatre.

Choral reading groups, led by Dennis Golden, Linda Chase, and Brian Walsh created a splendid effect by reading the Gettysburg Address from different parts of the auditorium floor.

Appropriate music was performed by an orchestra consisting of Phil Mead, Bucky Nichols, John Hopkins, Ralph Thompson, and Muriel Mirak.

A climax to the program was supplied by John Heaton. John wrote and read an essay about President Eisenhower's innaugural address. He demonstrated the third and last point in the development of the theme: just as Washington had tried to unify the colonies and Lincoln had tried to unify the states, so has the president attempted to bring unity into a world made up of hostile nations.

Places at Medico-Dental Schools

More Facilities For N. E. Students

A plan to provide additional places for New England students in New England medical and Dental schools has been adopted by the New England Board of Higher Education, headquarters of which are located at 31 Church street.

The plan proposes that each state appropriate funds for each additional student enrolled from that state in each N. E. medical and dental school in excess of the number enrolled in 1956. These funds would help reduce the very sizeable gap between what the student pays in tuition and what it actually costs the schools to offer the instruction, thus encouraging these schools to consider expansion of their facilities for New England students.

According to NEBHE's chairman, Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, president of the University of Maine, the Board is hopeful that legislation incorporating principles of this medical-dental education plan will be introduced in the several state legislatures during current sessions. This Board, organized in December, 1955, was created by legislative action of the compacting states to improve educational opportunities for New England youth through the establishment of regional, co-ordinated programs.

In commenting on the Board's action, Dr. Hauck noted that "the problem of medical and dental education is one of increasing concern to New England and to the nation. This concern is both with the need to maintain and continue to improve our region's medical welfare, and to assure that we shall be able to do so by providing increased opportunity for medical and dental education for the qualified young men and women of our New England States.

"The Board recognizes, with the many other interested individuals and groups who have been concerned, that we need to encourage and assist our medical and dental schools to open additional doors if we are to make room for those who are qualified and thus continue to meet and improve the health standards of New England," he said.

Under NEBHE's plan, six medical and two dental schools in this region could participate in expanding educational opportunities for New England students. These schools are associated with Boston University, Dartmouth, Harvard, Tufts, The University of Vermont, and Yale.

Under this proposal each existing New England medical school would receive the sum of $2,500 per year for each student it enrolls from each New England state in excess of the number enrolled from that state on October 15, 1956.

To provide these funds, each state would appropriate $2,500 for each student from that state enrolled at each existing New England medical school in excess of the number enrolled on October 15, 1956.

The State of Vermont, however, will not reimburse the University of Vermont College of Medicine for additional Vermont residents under the NEBHE formula, since this school is a public institution which receives direct state appropriations.

A similar formula would be applied to existing New England dental schools except that the per student stipend would be $1,500.

NEBHE, in accordance with its charter, would serve as an agency of the compacting states in receiving and disbursing funds. Annual audited reports would be made to the appropriate state officials.

Medical and dental schools desiring to participate would agree to provide necessary information on forms furnished by the Board to establish the residency status of the students. The Board would then certify to the appropriate officials in each state the names of resident students enrolled from that state in each of the participating schools. In disputed cases of residency, the final authority would rest with the attorney general of the state in which residency is claimed.

This proposal would become effective upon its adoption by any one of the compacting states and by any one of the existing medical schools. Upon the establishment of a new medical school in New England, the Board would make additional legislative recommendations for including it in the regional plan.

Similar plans, though not identical, have been in operation in the South and West for a number of years. Details will soon be available in a special booklet which is being prepared. Copies may be obtained from Dr. Robert H. Kroepsch, Executive Secretary, 31 Church street, Winchester.

Dr. James M. Faulkner, medical director, M.I.T.; A. George Gilman, president, Malden Savings Bank; and Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, chancellor, Boston University, are the members of the Board for Massachusetts.

Cadillac

Relaxing... Across America!

Behind them are the majestic mountain roadways of Southern California and the picturesque desert drive through Arizona.

And ahead lie the broad highways of Texas . . . the scenic roads that wind through Oklahoma and Missouri . . . and the great Midwestern turnpikes that lead to the Eastern Seaboard.

What's it like to spend the better part of a week in a 1957 Cadillac?

Well, first of all, there is the restfulness a Cadillac provides. The car is so incredibly smooth and quiet and comfortable that even the longest journey is an occasion for glorious relaxation.

And for the lucky gentleman in the driver's seat, there is the added reward of Cadillac's brilliant new performance.

In fact, the car is so nimble and eager, so responsive and alert that day's end will usually find them well beyond their morning's destination!

And then there will be the many other Cadillac virtues to enhance the pleasure of their journey . . .

. . . its vast areas of vision to give them the full panorama of America's great beauty and grandeur

. . . its extraordinary safety and dependability to add to their contentment and peace of mind

. . . and its remarkable operating economy to remind them how practical their odyssey is.

So there they are—seeing our wonderful land from the finest vantage point on the American road: through the windshield of a 1957 Cadillac!

* * *

Of course, you don't have to travel 3,000 miles in this newest "car of cars" to realize why its owners call it "the greatest of all Cadillacs".

The evidence is in our showroom now—and an hour at the wheel will tell you the whole story.

A WONDERFUL RECORD BRECK'S, BOSTON

Mr. J. M. Donahue
Central Hardware
Winchester, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. Donahue:

It seems difficult to believe that it was 50 years ago that you first placed an order for Breck's items with this company, then headed by my grandfather!

What a wonderful record that is! We of Breck's congratulate you, not only for your loyalty to our company through all these years, but also for the services you have been rendering your neighbors and your community. By always maintaining the highest standards of retailing, you have done honor to all your sources, including Breck's, and to the fellow citizens you serve.

You knew not only my Father, but my Grandfather as well. They believed that the success of any line of merchandise was determined by those who actually made the goods available to the public. And so today I know they both would want to join me in congratulating you on 50 years of loyalty to Breck's and to thank you for your long and constant efforts.

All of us wish you much health and happiness in the years to come!

Most sincerely,
Luther A. Breck, Jr.

SHOULD CHECK CLAIMS

March 4, 1957

Editor of the Star:

Following is an open letter to Town-Meeting Members:

Town Meeting Members:

Before Town Meeting; voting "members" should check claims and get information as to conditions at the Public Library. You must make up your mind as to how pressing is the request to spend an estimated $400,000 for revamping the Library building.

Crowding at the Library is claimed, especially on school days. You should visit the Library upstairs, evenings, Monday thru Thursday. Look in at the Childrens' Room between two and five o'clock. Also, Saturday morning, just after the free movie is over.

Is more space needed for the movies either Friday night or Saturday morning? What is so poor with using larger and newer space just across a street, for this one activity, educational films? It would seem to be your duty to get the facts. You vote your neighbor's tax money as well as your own, remember! Have you got fair answers to the following questions?

Do you know what your neighbors want?

Are you certain that it was wise for the Library Building Committee to ignore the original firm of architects who had on file all data on present structure, even including a set of plans showing additions? All paid for, but not used.

Do you think it best and fair to ignore all local architects; in this case, at least two, with whom I checked? As an example, an outside firm would not be alert to what available space might be usable just across the street? Do you wish to brush aside the economic law that it is not wise policy to make too many capital expenditures in a period of inflation?

Note: Original Library cost 61 cents per cubic foot. In 1944 suggested enlargement about $1.00 per cubic foot, In 1957 proposed changes estimated about $1.50 per cubic foot. You have paid for two estimates.

Is Our Library Overcrowded

Is it true that the taxrate will go up, even without special appropriations such as the above sum?

Will the School Committee hold down its budget, this year, but bring in a very large "must" request in 1958? That means, the school interests will vote this year for the Library $400,000 and expect a return favour in 1958. Spreading such a sum over a twenty-year period is just kidding-the-public, shall we say?

Is our Library over-crowded after only twenty-five years of service? That is no age at all for a public building. One architect has said that our Library is extra rugged in its construction. It certainly makes a beautiful picture, on that exceptionally fine site by the Old Mill Pond.

Is it understood that the alledged overcrowding may (or did once) be due to teen-agers doing their homework studying at the Library rather than at their own homes? Is this practice of collective study with no teacher in charge, advocated by the High School staffs? Is it good for the pupils? It is a great temptation for the tired football-baller, who has a quick and kind-hearted pal. The point is, do we wish to provide an annex to the High School study rooms and do we expect the Library Staff to act as lay-teachers? To an ex-teacher, the set-up seems poor. You should check all these statements.

Are we ready to increase the Library Staff to supervise such a general study hall project? Even a dozen teen-agers can exhaust a lone, Library Staff member. Would it not be better, and much cheaper, to insist that all general homework be done at home, under the observation of the parents?

Is it understood that the above does not include legitimate study by English and Social subject pupils who, from time to time, are given definite subjects, calling for use of reference books found only in the Library? The number of such pupils, at any one time, is never excessive. Each brings a memo slip from the teacher. At the Library, an expert gives guidance on procedure. Such a project is very worth-while.

Saturday Condition

Another alleged time and place of overcrowding at our Library comes when the free, Saturday morning movies (Educational) are over, and the children are permitted to go down stairs to the Children's Reading Room. Here they look-over reading matter and take out books. All power to this fine habit-forming activity. This makes a hectic period but it is not of long duration or true of every day of the week. This Saturday condition can be handled; in fact the area of the Children's Room can be doubled, at a cost way, way under the plans suggested. In fairness to all, each of you should visit this department, say, between 3 - 5, Monday through Thursday. Up stairs, the writer has been unable, so far, to see the hectic conditions reported many months ago, by adult readers. The busy time for the Main Reading Room and Special Rooms is evenings between seven-thirty and nine o'clock. Try to look in then, Monday through Thursday. If you can not do so, you can at least get some of your neighbors to look in and tell you? This is repeated because it should be done!

Is it not true that the existing Exhibition Hall is large enough for most exhibits and most clubs? The new Hall is not much larger. Down stairs, now, we have the Rich Room which measures 28' x 22' that can be opened for club meetings with no dishonor to the memory of a very fine citizen. It has been suggested that the schools would cooperate by opening one of several new Halls, if the Educational Movies need more seating. In the Junior High there is a long room marked Library but not used as such. When the writer looked in the other day, the shades were drawn and a projector stood on a table. Is yet another Hall a "must," under such conditions?

Is Space Available?

If the Library Staff is to be increased, or needs more working space, is not space available on other floors? The original plans seem to say "Yes." Could there be 1430 square feet not now used to the best advantage?

Is it wise to dismantle most of the present Book Stacks? Even after drastic culling, many books with worthwhile quality, must be kept. But such books are not in constant demand and can rightly be shelved on the top or bottom levels of the Stack Room. The writer got the impression that our Stack Rooms had space if used only as Planned?

Has any one, besides the writer, checked the original plans? It would seem logical to find out what suggestions the architect had in mind? A reliable authority informed the writer that such extensions were on paper and the finished job would have presented a harmony of roof line and wall: not a hodge-podge as now offered at a prohibitive cost.

Radical Change

And again: is every one content to see the present fine, yes beautiful building, so radically changed, as shown in the new model and plans? Does not the new, two-story Childrens' Wing, that sticks out towards the Pond, look like any new machine shop? Is not a box a box, no matter what you call it. Up to now, did any one claim any beauty for the flat tar-and-gravel roof? Just utility and only Bonded for twenty years of ugliness. Brick walls, painted tomato-bisque, will never fool anyone that they are associates with the rest of the building.

The $400,000.00 estimate includes a far too modest sum for window hangings, to keep out the hot afternoon sun, and general furnishings. We know how those items mount! We pass over the yearly increased cost to the town, to cover cost of increased staff and nearly twice as much area to heat and to light. Also exterior brick walls to go over every few years, plastic paint or regular!

PROTESTS DELETION OF ASSESSORS' LIST

Editor of the Star:

Distribution of Town Reports confirmed statements recently published in the Winchester Star, to the effect that the Tax Assessment List would be omitted from the Town Reports partly as an economy measure and partly because the distribution of the list was believed to serve no useful purpose except to satisfy idle curiosity. As long ago as 1942, when a similar proposal was made, the writer, then a member of the Town Finance Committee, succeeded in persuading the Committee that the deletion of this list would be a shortsighted economy. The same reasoning that proved to be persuasive then, may help to convince this year's Town Meeting that publication of the Tax list in 1958 and future reports would be for the best interests of the taxpayers of the town.

The continued interest of citizens generally in town affairs and willingness to give time freely, is one of the things which has distinguished Winchester from some of its less fortunate neighboring cities and towns. Representative Town Meetings have unavoidably taken away some of this interest for many citizens. The Town Report is the only remaining link for many others, and this is of little value unless it is read and kept more than the few days needed for a cursory examination. If curiosity or convenience of the tax list for occasional reference causes a large proportion of Town Reports to be kept, any advertising man will agree that the rest of the report is more likely to be read. There is little in the 1956 report that would justify saving by the average citizen and it is a good guess that a large proportion of those distributed have already found their way to the waste basket—and Town Meeting hasn't been held yet.

The 1955 Town Report contained 443 pages, of which 197 contained reports of town officers and Committees; 155 pages the tax list; and 91 pages the report of the Town Accountant. Nearly all of this latter section contains substantially the same data as appears in much more readable form in the excellent revised report of the Finance Committee. If the Cost of printing the Town Report is proportionate to the number of pages, about a thousand dollars per year could be saved by leaving out the portion of the Town Accountant's report that is substantially duplicated in the Finance Committee report. Since the Tax List must be set up in type, if a limited number of separate reports from the Assessors are to be printed, it is reasonable to believe that the saving of the cost of printing the Accountant's report would more than offset that of restoration of the Tax List. This should dispose of the economy justification for deletion.

Our system of town government provides many safeguards over the expenditure of money by the Town. The preparation of budgets by Town Officials, scrutiny by the Finance Committee, approval by vote at the Town Meeting, advertising for bids, approval and payment of bills by town boards, the Town Accountant and the Town Treasurer, means that at some point or other more than 250 citizens have a part in the expenditure of funds raised by taxation. The other side of the coin, that of assessment, of equal importance to the town and of vital interest to individual taxpayers is left in the hands of only Three men, whose decisions can only be reversed by costly legal proceedings at county or state levels. The only safeguard that the taxpayers can have against arbitrary discrimination in assessment is that the widest possible distribution be given to the tax lists, so that every Board of Assessors may know that discrimination would be quickly discovered and something done about it at the next election if not before.

It is not enough to state the fact that Winchester is fortunate in having a Board of Assessors whose ability, experience and integrity are beyond reproach. It may not always be so. The writer owns a summer home in a New Hampshire town in which favoritism and discrimination in tax assessment is so flagrant that taxpayer suits against the town are becoming almost annual routine. The best way to prevent this from happening in Winchester is to continue publication of tax lists in the town reports every year.

The cost of such protection? The Finance Committee states in its current report that "every $46,000 of expenditure adds approximately $1.00 to the tax rate." If the added cost of printing the tax list in the annual report over that of printing a smaller number separately were about $900, this would represent 2¢ on the tax rate or about 25¢ per year for the average real estate taxpayer. Is this too high a price to pay for future protection, a better informed citizenry, or if you prefer, convenient reference or curiosity?

Sincerely yours,
John Carruthers

"REMEMBERING AND FORGETTING"

Two of the most vital factors necessary in attaining peace of mind and heart, are the knack of remembering and the knack of forgetting. The trouble with a good many people is that they forget what they ought to remember and remember what they should forget.

For the next two Sundays the Pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will use these subjects as a basis for the morning message.

This Sabbath is the first Sunday in Lent and the Pastor is urging a special effort on the part of the people for perfect attendance as one of the important participations for gaining the full meaning and impact of the whole Lenten season, climaxing in the death and resurrection of Christ.

Social activities are being curbed as much as possible and a stress is being made on spiritual evaluation of the individual life and a challenge to grow in the things of God.

Taking inventory of the individual life is just as vital, rather more vital, than taking stock in business, and the Lenten season becomes an appropriate time for such an endeavor.

The church is inviting its members and friends of the community who have no other church ties, to share in this religious emphasis.

Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Symmes of 230 Main street, boarded a Pan American Clipper March 3 for a Bermuda vacation. This is a return trip for the Symmes, and they are looking forward to it with anticipation.

Former Winchester Girl Goes Animal Hunting In Africa

Winchester residents attending high school here in 1924 will remember Cornelia Smith of that class, and older residents of the town will remember her parents, the F. Patterson Smiths, whose last home was in the old Swan house on Cambridge street, dating from 1722. It will interest Cornelia's old school associates and the friends of her family to know she is sailing March 20 on an animal hunting safari in Africa.

Cornelia, now Mrs. J. John Mazerski of Costa Mesa, Calif., went to the Museum School of Fine Arts in Boston after high school, studying drawing and painting for three years. An innate love of animals, however, attracted her to University of Massachusetts and a course in animal husbandry after art school despite a total lack of parental enthusiasm.

Mrs. Mazerski had to earn her own way at Mass U, and she did just that for two years, leaving college to run the poultry farm of a state school for girls in New Jersey.

From this job she, as she expressed it, "bounced around the country" from job to job, working for the Curtis Publishing Company, and at various agricultural jobs as well as for the Glen L. Martin Aircraft Company in Baltimore.

She finally married Mr. Mazerski and they settled in Costa Mesa, Calif., where both have been electronics technicians with Douglas Aircraft.

Through her various jobs about the country Mrs. Mazerski retained her interest in, and love for, animals. She bought and read countless books about them, she studied them first hand at zoos, and in her own right she operated a poultry farm and in recent years, a good-sized rabbitry in her spare time in Costa Mesa.

In the back of her mind she turned over the possibility of going to Africa to study and trap animals and birds, and the more she mulled over the idea, the more she became convinced that was what she wanted to do.

At first her husband shared her views, to the extent that he built a fine 42-foot cruiser in which they planned to cruise around the world. This plan was abandoned for the plan of going to Africa on a freighter and taking a truck with them, conserving their energy aboard ship for the rigors of hunting in the jungle.

About this time, however, it developed that business was going to keep Mr. Mazerski in Costa Mesa. No so his wife! She had made up her mind to go to Africa animal hunting and she was going! She bought herself a four-wheel-drive jeep, equipped with a special body for living and cooking, and left Costa Mesa for the east in the machine, making the 3½-week trip by way of Florida, where she visited her grown-up daughters, Mrs. Joan Suggs of Greenville and Mrs. Linda Stotsbery of Miami.

Another magnet drawing Mrs. Mazerski to Florida was John Hamlet and his famous "Birds of Prey" establishment at Ocala. She looked in on Mr. Hamlet, was cordially received and actually given a commission to secure certain animals and birds for him.

Mr. Hamlet suggested that Mrs. Mazerski go on to Washington to visit Dr. William Mann, famed director of the National Zoological Park in the Capital City. She followed his advice and cashed in on her habit of writing authors and authorities on wild life as she read their books through the years.

She had written Dr. Mann. He recalled her letter, had liked it and received her cordially in his home, giving her letters to various key figures in the wild-animal field that proved, and will prove, invaluable.

Among those with whom he arranged interviews for Mrs. Mazerski was Dr. Theodore Reed, acting head and veterinarian at the National Park Zoo, who also gave the former Winchester girl invaluable advice and another commission for animals and birds for the National Health Institutes, a government-sponsored institution for medical research.

Mrs. Mazerski had planned to go to Africa anyway, whether she got the commissions or not, and to stay as long as her money would hold out! With two commissions she naturally faced the trip with much greater equanimity, and can hardly wait to get going.

From Washington she came to Winchester and spent this week visiting her two sisters, Mrs. Henry Short and Mrs. Ralph Joslin, and in looking up old friends. She and her jeep sail from New York March 20 on the SS African Lightning for Cape Town, from where she plans to continue up the coast to a suitable port from which to begin her trek into the jungle.

She plans to drive through British East Africa, through the Belgian Congo to French Equatorial and French East Africa, taking in the Gold Coast and Ivory Coast. She told the Star she planned to remain in Africa indefinitely, or as long as her work keeps her there.

When you realize that this is an entirely new venture for a woman whose school and college days are long behind her, a woman with a grown family who has no experience with the perils of the jungle, you get some idea of the intrepidity of this former Winchester schoolgirl, who faces her adventure with the keenest anticipation and whose sole concern is how she can best get the birds and animals she is "going to catch" back to those who want them in this country.

SHORTAGE OF POLIO VACCINE

Due to a shortage of polio vaccine no booster shots will be given during the next four to six weeks. Vaccine is available only for the first and second doses for individuals under nineteen years of age and pregnant women.

RED CROSS

Winchester's 1957 Red Cross quota of $19,500 will be met, and over-subscribed.

This was the prediction of Robert M. Edgar, 21 Oxford street, 1957 Winchester Fund Chairman, after some 500 Winchester women and men had, last Sunday, completed the majority of their house-to-house canvass of the town, and the Special Gifts Committee had made a preliminary report of over $5400 in cash.

Some $17,000 was in the coffers of the 1957 Campaign Committee this week. Chairman Edgar said that "we still have some 'back-tracking' to do, but we are confident that householders who were not at home when solicitors made their first calls; and special gifts' contributors who are away on winter vacations, will provide enough funds to put us over the Winchester goal of $19,500 for the town's quota of this year's National Red Cross drive."

The Winchester Trust Company was a busy place last Sunday afternoon as a large group of Winchester women gathered to receive and tabulate the house-to-house contributions, and to welcome the various neighborhood solicitors who had given their personal time to make the house-to-house calls. Each hour was marked by thousands of dollars being delivered at the Trust Company, where Miss Helen Munroe, treasurer of the 1957 Fund Campaign directed the efforts of receiving, checking, tellers and messenger volunteers.

The Receiving Committee consisted of Wayne E. Davis, Mrs. Ruth Hilton and Miss Munroe.

Checkers were Mrs. James H. Coon, Mrs. Thayer F. Hersey, Mrs. Janet Manzie, Mrs. Edward Feeley, Miss Ruth Nelson, Miss Dorothy Osborne, Mrs. Alice Eberle, Mrs. Ronold King and Mrs. Hugh Grimes.

Tellers were Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin, Mrs. Will B. Skerry, Mrs. Ernest W. Clark, Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor, Mrs. Joy A. Wooley, Mrs. E. Ober Pride, Mrs. W. L. Caldwell, Mrs. Robert E. Fay, Mrs. Walter P. Roberts, Mrs. Harold Dover, Mrs. Robert W. MacArthur and Mrs. Robert S. Baylies.

Messengers, from Apache Patrol, Troop 6, Boy Scouts of America, were Stuart Davis, Paul Gibb, Jeff Hills, Frank McNamee and Jerry Sansing.

Precinct Chairmen and the captains whom they had appointed in the various sections of the town arrived in continuous groups, all armed with money and checks which they had secured in their door-to-door calls.

Careful checks were made of houses where first and second calls found no one at home. Neighborhood captains and their solicitors were given lists of those "not-at-homes" and plans were made to continue calls until everyone in the town had been given an opportunity to make a Red Cross contribution for 1957.

One of the heartening features of this year's campaigns was the success of the plan devised by Residential Chairman Wade L. Grindle of 20 Mason street, where by at those houses where the man in the home was reported as having "given at his business address' the household was urged to give a token additional contribution to aid the Winchester Chapter's goal. Solicitors reported that in very few instances did town spirit fail to provide an additional token contribution, even if it was only a dollar.

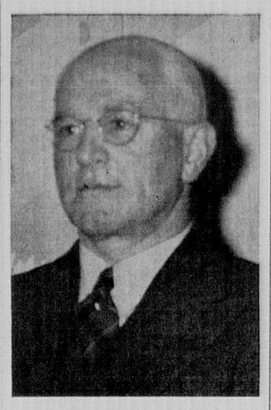
Special Gifts Chairman Ralph H. Bonnell, Jr., 7 Lockeland road, reported that the special gifts fund will be swelled further by contributions from regular contributors who are at present away on winter vacations. Bonnell said he confidently expects that these late contributions will result in the special gifts proportion of the campaign exceeding that of last year.

RECEIVED ACADEMIC HONOR AT WELLESLEY

Roxanne E. Jope of 37 Dix street was named a Junior Wellesley College Scholar, an academic honor awarded recently at the Honors Convocation in the Houghton Memorial Chapel of Wellesley College.

As a political science major, Roxanne is also one of the thirty members of the junior class at Wellesley and Vassar Colleges who have been selected to have the opportunity of observing the Federal Government at close range during the June and July annual "Washington Internship Program" under the joint sponsorship of the two colleges.

Roxanne, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Jope, graduated from Winchester High School in 1954. She is now serving on the house council of Cazenove Hall in the position of house treasurer, and was in charge of the sale of music and records for "Royal Flush," the original musical show produced by the Wellesley College junior class.



JAMES H. COON
New Chairman,
Board of Park Commissioners

COON HEADS PARK BOARD

James H. Coon was elected chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners at a recent organizational meeting of the board, succeeding Fred M. Ives, Jr., chairman since 1950, who remains a member of the board. First elected in 1947, Mr. Ives succeeded Kenneth F. Caldwell as chairman.

Mr. Coon has lived in Winchester for more than 20 years and is a graduate of Harvard, where he played varsity baseball. He was first elected to the Park Board in 1949, resigning in 1953 when he left town for a time.

He was re-elected in 1956 and is serving his second year of a three-year-term. He is especially interested in the recreational end of the Park Department.

FRIENDS CARD PARTIES

Parties galore are being planned for the Friends of the Winchester Hospital Annual Card Party on Thursday, March 21, and it promises to be a great success. There are prizes waiting in bridge games for the first grand slam bid and made; first 150 honors; and high scorer. In Canasta games the high scorer as well as the first holder of four red threes will receive a handsome gift. Door prizes also will be at each party, so don't miss the fun and join the crowd in supporting this very worth-while project of the Friends. If you are planning a party for the afternoon or evening of this day, be sure to call Mrs. Richard Preston, Chairman of the Committee, at WInchester 6-2039.

Among the Hostesses who have already reported parties to be held in the afternoon in their homes are: Mrs. Ralph Sexton, Mrs. Arthur Hughes, Mrs. Arthur Hertig, Mrs. Gilman Wallace, Mrs. Victor Politano, Mrs. Gerald Barrett, Mrs. Edward S. Rendall, Mrs. Frederick Bailey, Mrs. Nelson Fontneau, Mrs. D. Reed Weedon, Jr., Mrs. Charles Blanchard, Miss Dorothy Drake and Mrs. Roswell M. Boutwell, III. Evening parties will be given by: Mrs. Charles Wansker, Mrs. Lindsay Caldwell, Mrs. Harold J. Wheeler, Mrs. Frank Kelly, Jr., Mrs. James W. Blackham, Jr., and Mrs. Allen Teel of Reading. Contributions have also been most gratefully received from several members of the Friends.

CITIZENS AT WORK

Mr. George L. Connor is chairman of the special gifts committee which starts its drive among the various business establishments of Winchester on Monday, March 18.

Serving under Mr. Connor is Mr. Michael Saraco, Mr. Jack Chitel, Mrs. Herbert Mullen, Mr. Henry Van Dyke and Mrs. Clifton Keane, who, in turn will be assisted by Mr. Harry Chefalo, Mr. Frederick Hill, Mr. Fred McCormack, Mr. Ralph H. Bonnell, Jr., Mr. Edward F. O'Rourke, Mr. George L. O'Brien and Mr. Paul W. O'Neil.

This is the third year our generous merchants have been approached in this fashion. Doubtless when their donations have been added to what the Mothers' Association is able to accumulate by going door to door throughout the town during the first week of April the Winchester Scholarship Foundation will be able to grant the requests for scholarships which grow every year, due not only to our increased population but also due to the fact that over 75% of our seniors wish to further their education.

So dig deep, noble merchants, for certainly a grateful Winchester will be loyal and thoughtful enough to say thank you by making a point of bringing their business to you.

PARKHURST PARENTS' ASSOCIATION

On Tuesday evening, March 12, the Parkhurst Parents' Association met in their school auditorium to enjoy a stimulating panel discussion on "Developing Responsibilities and Emotional Maturity in children."

The skillful moderator was Dr. Robert H. Anderson, who is director of elementary school apprentice teaching at Harvard. The panel was made up of the following distinguished gentlemen: Dr. Harman P. Meissner, professor of chemical engineering, M.I.T.; Dr. William L. Wilson, orthodontist; Mr. Guy A. Petralia, assistant principal, Arlington High School. After a brief questioning period, Dr. Anderson summed up with facility the arguments of the panel, culminating an enjoyable evening.

Refreshments and a short social period concluded the meeting.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE TO ATTEND SCHOOL BOARD CONFERENCE

Mr. Dana J. Kelly, Chairman, Mrs. Louise A. Kugler, Mrs. Barbara P. Clark and Mr. Earle F. Littleton of the Winchester School Committee and Dr. Harry V. Gilson, Superintendent of Schools will attend the Annual School Board Conference on Friday, March 22, at the Hotel Bradford, Boston.

The Conference held under the auspices of the New England School Development Council will feature an evening address by Dr. J. Paul Mather, President of the University of Massachusetts, entitled " Education is a Dangerous Thing."

The afternoon portion of the Conference will consist of five concurrent discussions. Mr. Earle Littleton will participate in the panel entitled "Solving the Teacher Shortage." Mrs. Kugler and Dr. Gilson will attend the panel "Citizen Participation in School Affairs." Mrs. Clark and Mr. Kelly will enter into the discussion on "What's Ahead in Secondary Education." Panel speakers will include Henry Toy, Jr., President of the National Citizens Council for Better Schools, Professor Matthew P. Gaffney of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, and Archibald B. Shaw, Superintendent of Schools, Scarsdale, N. Y.

Winchester is a member of the New England School Development Council, which is a cooperative organization of 130 public school systems in New England that have joined together to study common problems and to improve public education.

TO COMPETE IN DRAMA FESTIVAL

Winchester High School will compete in the annual Massachusetts High School Drama Guild Regional Festival at Reading High School on Friday, March 22.

The play this year will be "Stand Up To Death," a television play by Ken Parker, adapted to the stage by Mr. Morse of the high school faculty. This play is played in three areas and depends on lighting and the flexibility of the cast.

The cast is as follows:

Joe	Peter Dee
Dr. Parkhurst	David Usher
Jenny	Carol Leverone
Louise	Blanche Cartier
Minister	David Guarente

EUROPEAN TOUR

Mr. Adolph Alla, Jr., of Winford way left Monday, March 4, on a two months tour of the British Isles and the Continent, which will include a visit to Italy and an audience with Pope Pius XII in Rome.

Mr. Alla, proprietor of the Adolph A. Alla Co., dealers in clerical clothing at 16 Lincoln street in Boston, will go to England, Ireland, France, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Monaco, Spain and Portugal, returning home by way of the Azones.

ST. MARY'S MOTHERS' CLUB

The March meeting of Saint Mary's Mothers' Club will be held on Wednesday evening, March 20, at St. Mary's Hall.

The meeting will commence immediately after the evening Mass at St. Mary's Church. As usual, an interesting program is planned.

L.W.V. STUDIES SCHOOL NEEDS

The League of Women Voters' general meeting on March 6, was stimulating and timely. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Leon Sargent, 8 Central street, and was called to order at 3:00 p. m. by Mrs. Neil Borden, president, after refreshments had been served by Mrs. Kenneth Donnell and her hospitality committee.

Mrs. Thomas Gibb, chairman of the League's education committee introduced the panel of highly informed Winchester officials who were speaking on the subject of our school building needs, especially as they related to other town problems.

Dr. Harry Gilson, superintendent of schools, outlined the school building needs for the next five years. He felt that the addition to the high school was paramount. He explained that while the long-range trend in Winchester's schools is toward steady growth, it is difficult to make specific yearly predictions of class sizes because of population shifts.

Mr. Austin Broadhurst, finance committee chairman, explained the recommendations of the finance committee regarding the articles in the warrant. While he felt that school needs were very important he thought they should be weighed in the light of the many needs the town faces, such as the west side fire station, a new dump or incinerator system, additions to the water system, etc. He said the finance committee favored the library addition without the auditorium.

Mr. Harrison Lyman, Jr., from the planning board, suggested that some light industry in the area of the new road crossing the Skillings estate might help keep Winchester's tax rate from becoming exorbitant. He also pointed out that there is an article in the warrant increasing minimum lot size in residential areas from 15,000 to 25,000 sq. ft. which would help prevent the town from the growing pains it might otherwise feel.

The meeting ended on an optimistic note. League members left with the impression that we actually get a lot for our tax money. Although our assessments are comparatively low, as is our tax rate when compared with most neighboring towns, our school and other facilities are well above average. So while Winchester has problems to solve, we must remember that we are getting our money's worth when we pay our taxes.

MISS CUMMINGS, MR. McLAUGHLIN ENGAGED

At a tea held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Cummings of Robin Hood Road, Arlington, the engagement of their daughter, Carole Jeanne, was announced to Lieutenant Charles Henry McLaughlin, III, U.S.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. McLaughlin of Robinson Park.

Miss Cummings was graduated from Lasell Junior College at Auburndale in 1956. Her fiance was graduated from Norwich University, Northfield, Vermont, Class of 1956. While at college, he was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon and The Skull and Swords Honorary Society and captain of the varsity hockey team. Lieutenant McLaughlin is presently stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. A late fall wedding is planned.

BUTTERWORTH RETIRES

VETERAN JEWELER LEAVES BUSINESS THIS MONTH

As the final days of March run their course one of Winchester's old line businesses will change hands for the second time since 1890 when Ernest H. Butterworth, jeweler and watchmaker, will retire and his business will be taken over by Charles Elliott Ward, his watchmaker for the past 36 years.

Mr. Ward will continue the business under the name Butterworth, Charles E. Ward, proprietor; and at the same location. The business has always been on Common street, but was first located next door to its present address in a shop now a part of Peg's Doughnut and Coffee Shop.

It didn't open its doors in 1890 as Butterworth's. The owner in those days was Fred S. Scales, who last lived at the corner of Lloyd street and the Parkway. Mr. Butterworth went to work for Mr. Scales in 1914, took over the establishment at Mr. Scales's death in 1918 and has continued the business, for some years as a jewelry and gift shop as well as a watchmakers establishment. In recent years the business has been largely watch and clock repairing.

The retiring owner was born and learned his craft in Maynard, being apprenticed to a Danish watchmaker there, one Hans Dahl. He joined Mr. Dahl in 1909, after finishing high school and following a three year apprenticeship, worked for Mr. Dahl before coming to Winchester in 1914.

Mr. Butterworth married a Winchester girl, Ethel Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Richardson, members of an old line Winchester family, who lived on Richardson's Row in the Highlands. Mrs. Butterworth died in July, 1954. Mr. Butterworth has a son, Paul, living in Reading, and three grandchildren. He plans to continue his clock repairing from his home on a somewhat limited scale.

The new owner of Butterworth's, Mr. Ward, learned his craft with Shepard and Bennett in Malden. A native of Laconia, N. H., he has lived in Winchester since 1929, and aside from his watchmaking, his avocation is that of a call fireman in the Winchester Fire Department.

TWO CHILDREN HURT

Two children were injured at noon Wednesday when they stepped from the curb of Highland avenue near Appalachian and Kenwin roads into the side of a moving car. John Porter, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip P. Porter of 11 Valley road, suffered a broken leg; and Alan Wynn, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Corey Winn of 10 Maple road, received lacerations on his head.

The driver of the car was a Stoneham resident who had stopped at the intersection and started north on Highland avenue at the direction of School Traffic Officer Edward Dalton, who was on duty at the intersection. The accident occurred when the children stepped into the street from between two parked cars several feet north of the intersection.

The boys were immediately rushed to the Winchester Hospital, where the Wynn boy was released after being treated for his head injuries, and John Porter was held overnight for the treatment of his leg.

TOWN CLERK ELSIE M. NELSON

Winchester Has New Town Clerk

At the recent town election Elsie M. Nelson of Pond street was elected Town Clerk, succeeding Helen E. Stinson, Town Clerk since 1954, who was not a candidate for re-election.

Mrs. Nelson is the third Winchester woman to serve as town clerk since a special act of Legislature enabled Mabel W. Stinson, sister of the retiring Town Clerk, to be elected to this office in 1920. She retired in 1954, to be succeeded by her sister, under whom Mrs. Nelson served as assistant Town Clerk. She entered the Town Clerk's office under Miss Mable Stinson in July of 1952.

The new Town Clerk is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Morrow of Pine Grove Park. She was born in Winchester and educated in the Washington and Wadleigh Schools and Winchester High School, from which she was graduated in the class of 1929.

While in high school she was a member of the field hockey team, playing one of the halfback positions on the team of 1928, generally considered one of the best in the school's history and winner of the Greater Boston championship in that year.

As a high school student Mrs. Nelson worked for the Winchester Trust Company and after graduation was employed by the Atlantic Corporation which is a part of the Atlantic National Bank in Boston.

She married Alfred G. Nelson in 1931 and they have two children, Philip E., in business in Waltham, and Bette, a physical therapist at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

VINE STREET RE-ZONING

Members of the Planning Board told residents that Article 58 of the Town Warrant will not be presented at Town Meeting in the same form that it is printed in the warrant at a public hearing in the Town Hall Monday night. Article 58 concerns the re-zoning of a strip of land along Vine street from residential to business district.

Thomas Moranian has asked that this land be re-zoned so that he can construct an apartment house there. The area under question is a strip 50 feet wide running parallel and adjacent to the east side of Vine street, beginning at the southerly leg of Vine street and running north to the Fallon property line. The area included in the wording of the warrant is larger than this, but Harrison F. Lyman, Jr., of the Board assured those present that the motion presented at the Town Meeting would conform to desires of the residents of that district, who had previously suggested that the re-zoning be limited to the area described above. This zone would include three properties, that of the Lodge of Elks, of Ernest H. Hurd, and of Thomas Moranian and Nubar Dinjian.

In response to a fear expressed by a resident that some form of business other than an apartment house would be built here once the new zoning took effect, Mr. Moranian pledged his intention to build only an apartment house as long as he was financially and physically able. He also assured those present that the apartment, although it will be several large suites, will not have many children. He said that in similar apartments in Arlington and Belmont that he had visited he found practically no children.

In the show of hands called for by Mr. Lane of the Planning Board the vote was about 15 to 1 against the proposed zoning change.

RECENT BIRTHS

FIRE AT BEGGS AND COBB

Employees at Beggs and Cobb Co. on Swanton street were able to control a fire in the finishing department there Wednesday morning.

The blaze started in an electric motor on one of the machines and flames and smoke shot up the length of a three-story air vent and out through a fan. The fire itself however was confined to the motor, and workers put it out with the chemical fire extinguishers which are on every floor of the plant.

Box 42 was sounded from the station at 8:56 a.m. for the fire, and all apparatus responded, including Engine 1 of Woburn, which answers all Beggs and Cobb calls. Firefighters found the blaze extinguished upon their arrival.

PANEL DISCUSSION FOR JUNIOR HIGH ASSOCIATES

Because the first discussion program of the Junior High Associates proved so popular, a second such meeting will be presented on Tuesday, March 19, at 2:30 p. m. in the school's auditorium. The subject this time will be the junior high mathematics program; the panel again being made up of faculty members. As before, there will be a question period at the close of the discussion.

RECEIVED SILVER TROPHY

Mrs. Donald W. Horley, 3 Webster street, received a silver trophy from Governor Furcolo, Thursday afternoon at the Governor's office. Mrs. Horley received the award for holding a world's record bestowed on her by the International Fish and Game Association.

Mrs. Horley caught a 12 lb., 5 oz. blue fish on a 20 lb. test line during the Tuna and Bluefish Tournament held last summer at Hyannis. Her fish was caught off Nantucket Island.

Mrs. Raymond Williams of Arlington also received a silver trophy for her world record fish caught at the same time.

NATIONAL BANK LOW BIDDER

The Town Treasurer is pleased to announce the sale of $400,000.00 anticipation of revenue notes dated March 26, 1957, to mature October 31, 1957, to the Winchester National Bank at 1.85% discount, plus $3.00 premium. The rate received, Treasurer Bradlee says, is about .15% under the prevailing market. The other bids received were:

Winchester Trust Co., 1.864%, discount;

Second Bank-State Street Trust Co., 1.96%, discount;

National Shawmut Bank of Boston, 1.98%, discount;

First National Bank of Boston, 1.99%, plus $5.00 premium.

ADULT STUDENTS EXPRESS APPROVAL

TOWN TO VOTE ON ADULT EDUCATION EXPANSION

Winchester adults fortunate enough to enroll in the experimental adult education program before class limits were reached are enjoying a wide variety of activities. Enthusiastic approval of this program by enrollees has been expressed as the classes reached the half-way mark last Monday.

The program was organized by the school committee upon the recommendation of an advisory committee composed of local citizens which had been appointed to study adult educational needs in Winchester. Classes include sewing, upholstering, leathercraft and jewelry making, woodworking, insurance and investments, and international affairs. Over 300 persons have attempted to register for the 140 class positions available.

The question of expanding the present program to include additional classes accommodating more adults will be decided in town meeting when an article authorizing formal acceptance of adult education will be presented for vote. Approval of this measure would allow the school committee to request state reimbursement for 50 percent of the cost of approved classes which qualify under the provisions of state aid to adult education.

CHURCH WOMEN TO GATHER

The annual assembly of the United Church Women of Massachusetts is to be on Thursday, March 21, at Emmanuel Church, 15 Newbury street, Boston. The meeting opens with registration at 9:15 a. m. and a service of worship will be led at 10:00 a. m. by the Rev. Dr. Albert Buckner Coe, president of the Massachusetts Council of Churches. Following this there will be Departmental Conferences on all aspects of church life. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m. Reservations must be made through Mrs. Howard P. Kellet, 1 Grey Gardens east, Cambridge, before March 18.

After lunch the worship service will be led by Mrs. Richard T. Loring, the Episcopal representative of the Eastern Diocese.

Mrs. Theodore O. Wedel will give the main address of the afternoon. Mrs. Wedel is the National President of United Church Women and will speak on "The Dimensions of Our Unity." A reception to honor her will follow.

All women are welcome at this day, the central theme being "Forward Together" and the gain of information, inspiration and fellowship. The leaders are especially well qualified to give church women a dedicated picture of the benefits to be derived from such an Assembly.

Pack 8, Boy Scouts held its annual Blue and Gold Banquet Thursday evening, February 28, at the Noonan School with an attendance of more than 200 parents and friends. Entertainment followed the dinner.

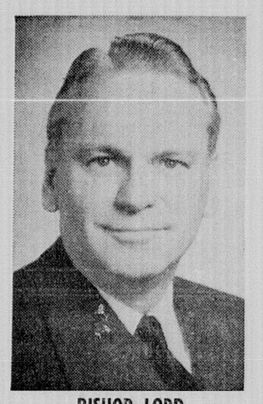
DR. JOHN W. BRUSH

SENIOR FORUM

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will this Sunday welcome to their service Dr. John W. Brush, one of Forum's favorite speakers over a period of several years. Dr. Brush is a graduate of Colby College and of Yale University, and is now professor of church history at Andover Newton Theological School. He has chosen as his topic, "Saviors Many, But One Christ."

The chaplain this Sunday will be Bob Weaver, assisted by Phil Dreyer. The deacons will be David Mawdsley and Fred Ashenden, and ushers will be Bob Cooper and Peter Gowing.

Forumites are now working on plans for their Spring Trip Conference, which will this year be held at Purity Springs Resort in East Madison, N. H., April 15-17. Chairman of the Spring Trip committee, Hank Schumacher, is reminding all Forum Spring Trippers to bring their down payment to the Forum office on or before this Sunday, March 17.



BISHOP LORD AT THE UNION SERVICE

This coming Wednesday Dr. John Wesley Lord, bishop of the Greater Boston area of the Methodist Church, will be the speaker at the Union Lenten Service at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

Bishop Lord's education has been wide and varied. He is a graduate of the Montclair State Normal School, Dickinson College and Drew Theological Seminary. He matriculated for his Doctorate of Philosophy at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. He also did graduate work at Rutgers in the field of education and has received honorary degrees from Dickinson College, DD and LLD, and Boston University, where he received his Doctorate of Sacred Theology.

He was elected bishop of the Methodist Church in 1948 and was assigned to the Boston area. In addition to his many responsibilities as bishop he has served as trustee for Boston University, Claflin College in South Carolina and the New England Deaconess Hospital. He has also served as grand chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts and this past fall served as official representative of the Council of Bishops in the Centennial of Methodism in Norway and Northern Europe.

Having a vital message for our times you will not want to miss this unusual evening of worship as we support the Lenten service and seek to strengthen our own spiritual lives.

The public is most welcome to be with us in this Union Lenten Service.

MRS. OCTAVIA TUFTS

Mrs. Octavia Tufts of 120 Hutchinson road, widow of Bowen Tufts and a former widely known resident of Winchester, died at her home Saturday, March 9, after a long illness.

Mrs. Tufts was the daughter of David, and Mary (Charlton) Williams. She was born December 28, 1885, in Chicago, Ill., and spent her girlhood there, coming east to attend Smith College. She was married September 24, 1906, in the well known "old stone castle" in Lexington, and spent the first years of her married life in that town, later living in Arlington before coming to Winchester in 1918.

Her first home in Winchester was on Highland avenue. Later she and her family lived for many years on Stratford road until after her husband's death on April 7, 1935, when she moved to the home built for her on Hutchinson road in Arlington.

Though Mrs. Tufts was active in many civic enterprises, she will be best remembered for her contribution to the Red Cross, here and in Boston. For many years she headed the motor corps of the Boston Chapter and in Winchester she is generally credited with providing impetus that resulted in the Chapter's progressing to its present-day stature.

Mrs. Tufts became associated with the Winchester Red Cross Chapter soon after her arrival in town and worked with and for the new group during the war years. She became Chapter chairman in 1926 and due to her dynamic leadership and indefatigable efforts the Chapter grew and flourished.

She was largely instrumental in organizing the Winchester Chapter Motor Corps and it was while she was president that the water safety program was instituted with classes meeting at Sandy Beach, before the days of the town beaches. During the days of the W.P.A. she organized the Red Cross sewing classes under this agency and she personally delivered much of the flour and wheat sent to Winchester by the Food Administration.

Mrs. Tufts concluded her service in the local Red Cross after the death of her husband, resigning as president in 1936 at about the time she left town. Besides her Red Cross activity she was a member of the Florence Crittenton League, Winchester Garden Club and the League of Women Voters. A member of the Church of the Epiphany, she was also a member of the Women's Guild of the church, and was very active in working for the success of the annual Parish Bazaars.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Mary Shultis of Hingham and Mrs. Jeanne Cassidy of Westport; also two sons, motion picture actor Bowen C. (Sonny) Tufts of Beverly Hills, Calif., and David Tufts of Old Greenwich, Conn.; five grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. David Witmer of Los Angeles, Calif.; and four brothers, David Williams of Arlington, Richard A. Williams of Chicago, Ill.; Robert H. Williams of Arlington and Raymond G. Williams of Providence, R. I.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Church of the Epiphany with the rector, Rev. John W. Ellison, officiating. Burial was in Munro Cemetery, Lexington.

FRANK WHITE

Frank White of 71 Wildwood street, retired president of the Boston wholesale druggist supply firm of Howley-White Company, died early Sunday morning, March 10, at the Winchester Hospital. He became ill while in Florida and returned to Winchester March 5, entering the hospital last Friday. He had been bothered with a heart ailment for several years.

Mr. White was the son of David, and Johanna (Willis) White. He was born January 1, 1884, in Boston, but grew up in Chelsea and was educated in the Chelsea schools. He spent all his business life in the druggist supply field and was associated with Palmolive for a time before founding the Howley-White Company more than 35 years ago. He retired from business in 1954, and had made his home in Winchester for the past 13 years, coming here from Chelsea.

Mr. White was a member of the Winchester Country Club, the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, Chelsea Lodge, B.P.O.E.; and the Wholesale Druggist Association of Boston.

He leaves his wife, the former Isabelle Rehill of Chelsea; a daughter, Miss Adele G. White of Winchester, a teacher in the Chelsea schools; a brother, Willis, of Melrose; and a sister, Mrs. James J. Sullivan of Jamaica Plain.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

"PSYCHOLOGY OF ILLNESS"

"Psychology of Illness" was reported on by Mrs. Robert D. Lowry at the last monthly meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association Board on March 8, at the Town Hall as presented by Dr. Norman Bell of the Harvard University and the Childrens' Hospital, at the February 6 and 7 meeting at the Museum of Science. Mrs. Lowry stated that illness is a temporary interruption in the normal living due to a disorder in the body caused by organic misfunctions, introduction of disease, physical stress or psychological tension. The patient's family and all his contacts contribute to his recovery and there must be complete confidence in the doctor involved. Mental attitudes can complicate or aid any illness.

The meeting of the W.D.N.A. was opened with a welcome by Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, President, to the two new board members present Mrs. Rolf Eliassen of the Education Comm. and Mrs. Hiram L. Smith of the Nursing Comm. The secretary's report was read by Mrs. Walter F. Keyes and the treasurer's report by Mrs. Austin Broadhurst.

At the last executive committee meeting, Mrs. Patrick reported that it was decided to grant a six months leave of absence to Miss Rita Plummer, R.N., of the staff for extensive hospitalization and surgery needed. Mrs. Leslie J. Scott, R.N., will replace her part-time.

Mrs. Walfred Wiklund, Executive Director, opened her monthly nursing report with sincere thanks to the committee in charge of the March 5, Women's Cancer film program, "Breast Self Examination" for their remarkable organization and publicty for this film, that enabled 1500 women to see this in one day with several hundred turned away due to lack of space. Last month 283 home nursing visits were made with 131 visits to date ahead of last year.

Attention was called to the coming March 13, Star announcement by the Winchester Red Cross asking all interested parents and parents-to-be to call WInchester 6-2300 if they would like to attend a course in "Home Nursing Care for Mother and Baby" to be taught on request by Mrs. Wiklund, Chairman of the Red Cross Nurses. Fathers would be most welcomed.

Mrs. Patrick announced the resignation of Mrs. Alvan G. Smith, Chairman of the Education Committee and the appointment of Mrs. George B. Redding of the Finance Committee to serve on the House Committee also.

An orientation meeting for new board members is being planned by the Education Committee and Mrs. Wiklund for this fall. In the meantime, reference was made to the board by Mrs. Patrick to read the library book, "The Art of Board Membership" by Ray Soronson.

Mrs. Philip C. Efromson, coordinator for the Cancer film program expressed her sincerest thanks to her co-chairman, Mrs. Donald M. Wright, her committee, Mrs. Patrick, moderator, the doctors, and all local churches, schools, businesses, and organizations that helped publicize this program and carry out an outstanding organization project that resulted in "Standing Room Only" with hundreds turned away. Mrs. Efromson announced that due to the nearby local showings in Woburn, Arlington, and Medford, the American Cancer Society requests that all women wishing to see this film, attend one of these. Dates to be announced for showings this month.

Mrs. Wiklund reported on the meeting she attended with Mrs. Thomas L. Purtle of the Nursing Committee on February 27, in E. Lexington on the Mystic Valley Mental Health Committee, five towns, Winchester, Lexington, Arlington, Bedford, and Woburn are represented in this. The Council of Social Agencies in Winchester will hear Dr. Bower speak on this particularly in reference to a proposed psychiatric clinic in this area to be partly financed by the State Health Department to be used for referrals of children in the earlier grades with emotional problems. Dr. Gustav G. Kaufmann is a Winchester representative on the Central Board.

The work of a Mental Health Committee is needed everywhere and increased organization by this group would be welcomed.

The meeting adjourned at 11:00 a. m.

GRANGE OPEN HOUSE

Granges all over the nation are holding Open House meetings during the month of March. Winchester Grange has chosen March 19, for theirs.

The feature of the evening will be an illustrated lecture by the "Girls from Freedom Acres" Wilmot Flats, N. H. This is the story of three girls (ex-service women) and their struggle to establish a business, which has grown in a few short years to a fairly large one. All the work of clearing the land, building, etc., was done by the girls themselves.

This program was shown in Burlington a few years ago and was thoroughly enjoyed by a capacity audience. Refreshments will be served and there is no admission charge. This is your opportunity to learn a little about the Grange and the good works of the order. Everybody welcome.

LT. COMDR. CONRAD LARSON

AIR MEDAL TO LARSON

WINCHESTER NAVY AVIATOR HAS HAD EXCITING CAREER IN HELICOPTER FIELD

Lt. Commander Conrad S. Larson of 1 Marshall road was recently presented the Air Medal for the rescue of seven survivors who had crashed east of Little America, Antarctica, in February of 1956, during Operation Deepfreeze.

Presented by Captain Donald McIntosh, Commanding Officer of the Naval Station, Argentia, Newfoundland, the citation accompanying the medal follows:

The Secretary of the Navy
Washington

The President of the United States takes pleasure in presenting the Air Medal to Lieutenant Commander Conrad S. Larson, United States Naval Reserve, for service as set forth in the following Citation:

"For meritorious achievement in aerial flight as Pilot of a Helicopter during the search for a downed United States Naval Aircraft east of Little America, Antarctica, on February 9, 1956. Proceeding over relatively unknown and unfamiliar terrain to the scene of the crash, 108 miles from his base, Lieutenant Commander Larson landed near the summit of a snow mountain of 4,000 feet elevation and discovered that survivors had left the area. After determining the direction in which they had departed, he took off and located the victims 35 miles from the scene of the crash. Landing on the snow plateau, he awaited the arrival of other rescue aircraft and assisted in the return of all personnel of the downed aircraft to Little America. By his outstanding professional skill and devotion to duty, Lieutenant Commander Larson upheld the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

For the President,
Charles S. Thomas
Secretary of the Navy

LCDR Larson is presently serving with Patrol Squadron Eight, Argentia, Newfoundland as Officer-in-Charge. Flying jet equipped bombers he is engaged in anti-submarine shipping patrols and ice reconnaissance reaching into the Artic Regions.

Holder of Navy Helicopter pilot designation No. 231 he was one of the early pilots as the Navy has over 3,000 helicopter pilots trained to date. Qualified in fighters, 4 engined transports, bombers as well as helicopters with 7,000 flight hours. Fifteen years of Naval Service.

LCDR Larson is married to former Jane Davis of Winchester and they have two children, Peter, eight, and Katie, three. He is the son of Mrs. Mabel Gray Larson of Cambridge, formerly of Winchester and of the late Conrad S. Larson.

LCDR Larson has had a number of thrilling experiences in his flying career. While at NARTU, Seattle, in 1953, he successfully maneuvered his HTE-2 helicopter to a breathtaking pinpoint landing after flying over and under high tension powerlines and avoiding a gapping six foot ditch at Golbar, Washington.

The near fatal mishap was caused by loss of the tail rotor which whirled off during the flight on return from a search of a U. S. Naval Patrol Bomber which claimed 11 lives.

Copter Crashed in 1953

LCDR Larson, was uninjured when his helicopter crashed in the water during a Naval Air Show for governors of 40 states in Seattle for their annual convention in 1953.

The helicopter piloted by LCDR Larson, and carrying him and Machinist's Mate 2/c William S. Robertson, of Seattle, was directly in front of the governors' viewing stand at Sand Point Naval Air Station when it apparently went out of control and crashed.

A helicopter and a crash boat rescued Larson and Robertson, and neither apparently suffered any injuries.

Last year, LCDR Larson was awarded a commemorative plaque by the Aero Club of New England for establishing a Boston-to-San Diego helicopter flight record. Larson flew the 3500-mile trip in 62½ hours. He was a member of the Aero Club.

Twice LCDR Larson was awarded the Sikorsky converted winged "S" for rescues and advancement in the helicopter field. One for the rescue of a fighter pilot Ens. Specte, Fighter Squadron 34 based at Naval Air Station Quonset Point, Rhode Island. Ens. Specte had crashed in Hull Bay, Mass. These awards were presented to Commander Larson by Igor Sikorsky, the father of the American Helicopter.

Flew Doctors to Crash Victims

A Navy Hte-2 helicopter piloted by LCDR Larson played a prominent part in bringing the first NARTU Seattle doctors to an almost inaccessible mountain spot near Selleck, Washington, on April 14, 1953, where an Army chartered Miami Airline DC3 had crashed.

Flying over hazardous mountain terrain and hampered by heavy snows, LCDR Larson was able to land within one-quarter mile of the downed aircraft. He made two trips to the crash scene, each time bringing with him a doctor to aid the 19 surviving passengers, many of whom were critically injured. He also made another trip to Sellick to render aid.

Flew Many Missions

LCDR Larson spent three and one-half hours on the afternoon of April 14, in helicopter flight operations.

Besides carrying medical men, he also flew photographers who obtained outstanding photographs of the rescue work at the scene of the crash. One of the photographers flown, Josef Scaylea of the Seattle Times, snapped photos of the crash which were subsequently used in Life Magazine.

Praises Hiller

Scaylea was high in his praise for the performance of the HTE-2 and stated "despite the high altitude and gusty winds, the Hiller surely did perform well and I was amazed by its smoothness and stability."

Helicopter squadron HU891 was commissioned in May 1952, at the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit, NAS Seattle. Lieutenant Commander Larson was a former training officer of the squadron.

Sorry to report only one man bowled over 300 last night. Mike Civetti of Holy Cross had the honor with 302.

A bad night all around at the alleys—only nine men hit the 100 mark. Mike Civetti, 108; Joe Cussens and Fran Allen 105; Joe Sampson and George Ross 104; E. Johnson 103; F. Kimball 102; Ken Donaghey and R. Tofuri the even 100.

Well, it finally happened! In six weeks Villanova has moved from the cellar to top position. Capt. John Rotundi says they are there to stay and are ready to be crowned Holy Name champs. They have taken 22 out of the last 24 possible points. Loyola, winner of the first half and at present in the cellar, lost 3 points to Holy Cross who, by the way, is also shooting for the top. Boston College, captained by Henry Barry, took 3 points from Fordham to stay in the running.

We would like to welcome Leo Roache back to Winchester and are looking forward to seeing him at the alleys next week.

Get ready for the big variety show Easter Monday.

UNITARIAN BANK ACCOUNT BRIDGE ON MARCH 28

Mrs. Raymond G. Terhune and Mrs. Olcott L. Hooper, co-chairmen of the 1957 bazaar of the Unitarian Church, make two announcements today of interest and importance to many Winchester women. The first is that the annual fall fair will be called the "World Fair" and will be held this year on November 5 and 6. The second is that in order to get the "World Fair" on its financial feet the fair committee is holding for the first time what might be called a "Bank Account Dessert Bridge and Games" at 1:00 p. m. on Thursday, March 28, at the Church.

This will mark the first time that the church women have tried to earn a special deposit to start their fair workers off, and all women are urged to bring their favorite friends and favorite games to the church on that afternoon of combined sociability and charitable venture. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Terhune or Mrs. Hooper.

EDITORIAL

We had a visit Monday from a group of Winchester boys who asked us to give their side of the trouble in which they were involved at the Boston Garden on the evening Winchester played South Boston in the Eastern Massachusetts Basketball Tournament.

According to them the trouble actually started when a much larger group of youths which they met at a hot dog stand in the Garden made disparaging remarks about them and the naval reserve uniforms they were wearing.

The Winchester group resented the slurs, but did nothing more in retaliation than to cheer for the home town team. Thereupon they claim they were set upon and had to defend themselves as best they could from their more numerous attackers.

The odds, they claim, from the first were not conducive to their starting any trouble, even if they had intended to do so. We are glad to give their side of the affair and pleased to have them assure us they were not looking for trouble.

NO ONE ELECTED BY FRIENDS!

Editor of the Star:

If Mr. Rotondi's capacity for town government is no greater than his ability to analyze election figures and results, then we probably should be thankful that the poor misguided Winchester "sheep" failed to elect him to the job he sought.

According to the returns he was soundly beaten by 961 votes. In extenuation of this low position in the race, he complains publicly that 1057 of his friends failed to turn out to vote, utterly disregarding the obvious conclusion that, in a one-third turnout of voters, most likely three times that number of Mr. Richardson's friends did not vote either. Probably Mr. Bacon had some hundreds of stay-at-home friends also.

So far as I can remember Mr. Rotondi's appeal to us, it contained little else than a listing of his 28 years in the contracting business, a roster of his brood and his desire to be elected—all accompanied by a picture of a good-looking young man whom I would judge to be in his early thirties. He seemed to offer nothing in the way of a plan, of what he thought he might accomplish for the town in the job, of what he thought might be wrong in our present governing personnel. In short, no platform.

In this connection I will give him the dubious credit for not being alone. Only a handful of our candidates for town offices ever feel it necessary to offer the voters anything beyond a brief biography of their residence, marital status, job and education. How can we judge their capacities on this sketchy basis? Would we elect a governor or a senator if he failed to offer us some clues as to what he intended to accomplish in office? No applicant for a job at executive levels in industry would get more than a passing look if he did not sell his prospective employer on his objectives and dramatize the benefits therefrom. Why not also in politics?

I think I object to Mr. Rotondi's classification of town voters, not of his own ethnic group, being "so-called English," with the obvious inference that we Scotch, Irish, Scandinavian, Dutchmen and Hindus only vote for our own. In the light of the fact that we have for governors, Mr. Furcolo in Massachusetts, Mr. Ribicoff in Connecticut and Mr. Muskie in Maine, I would ask Mr. Rotondi if those gentlemen can properly be termed Englishmen, or were elected by Englishmen, or Americans?

This implication seems to smell strongly of the unsweetened fruit of the grape vine. Let's be constructive, Mr. Rotondi. The next time out offer us something to think about. A plan, an idea, a program. Even if you did no more than Mr. Vincent Carroll does in a letter that chances to border on yours in today's Star, or said that you would recommend that the town remove that archipelago in front of the post office, I for one, would say that "here's a guy with ideas" and I'd give you consideration.

Nobody ever gets elected by their "friends" because nobody has that many. You get elected by the voters—even by Englishmen.

Yours very truly,
J. Ken Macneill
9 New Meadows road

AN EXPRESSION OF GRATITUDE

Editor of the Star:

The first year of the forming of the Winchester Community Theatre, Inc., is over, and with a deep breath of relief and gratitude, I wish to express our thanks, for myself and for the Board of Directors of Community Theatre. Thanks to all those who have so generously participated in the many phases of the work. The founders and sponsors, the legal advisor, those who have served on the Board of Directors, the cooperation of the School Administration and their Staff, the student crews, the parents and children in the two (and now third!) children's production, those who worked on the ticket and membership sales, the publicity and cooperation of the Star, and the kindly and interested merchants who have helped and cooperated in promotion; those who participated in the actors' workshop, and our first adult production offering; those who have helped in the Childrens' Theatre School; and the interested cooperation of out of newspapers and radio program; and those many individuals whom we can not name individually, but without whose every effort this year of a successful launching of a healthy nucleus of a real Community Theatre, would not have been possible.

Our "Opera Evening" proved the ability of our organization to add to the delight and glamour of Theatre fare offered to Winchester audiences.

Again Thanks To All.
Carlene Murphy Samoiloff, Pres.
for the Board of Directors of Winchester Community Theatre, Inc.

IN APPRECIATION

Editor of the Star:

After serving several years as member of the Board of Park Commissioners, Mr. George H. Gowdy, due to his many outside activities, was not a candidate for re-election this year.

However, the Board of Park Commissioners feel that they would be remiss if they did not publicly acknowledge their grateful appreciation for the services that Mr. Gowdy has rendered the Board. His sound judgment and wide engineering experience have been of great value in solving many of the problems that have confronted the Park Board. We hope that he will be a candidate for re-election at some future date.

Sincerely yours,
James H. Coon, Chairman
Frederick M. Ives, Jr.

SPLENDID RESPONSE

Editor of the Star:

Through the Star I want to express on behalf of the Winchester Red Cross our great appreciation for the splendid response which this year's drive had from everyone in town. The results as tabulated at the Winchester Trust Co., on Sunday night give us reasonable expectation of reaching our budget in the usual Winchester fashion.

In particular, I want to commend the nearly 500 men and women of Winchester who worked so diligently and unselfishly in the collection of the contributions. No words can express adequately the appreciation felt for the splendid efforts of our Red Cross team.

As usual, we had the full measure of cooperation from the Winchester Star and to its Editor I wish to express our gratitude.

Very truly yours,
Robert M. Edgar
Fund Chairman

CONGRATULATES VICTORS

Editor of the Star:

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all those who voted for me, or in any way aided me in my campaign for election to the office of constable at the recent town election. My heartiest congratulations to the winners, Mr. Callahan, Mr. Ryerson and Mr. Jordan.

Podgoro Iannacci

APPRECIATES SUPPORT

Editor of the Star:

I wish to thank all those who indicated their satisfaction with my discharge of the duties of town treasurer by voting for me in the recent election. I sincerely appreciate their confidence.

"THE TEN PENNY TRAGEDY"

On Friday, March 8, at 3:30 some of the 5th grade girls of the Lincoln School presented a play "The Ten Penny Tragedy" to their parents and friends. This was an extra-curricular activity for which the girls had prepared in out-of-school time. There was no admission charge.

The play was produced and directed by Norma Wood. Mrs. Robert Grenzeback assisted with make-up. Fifth grade boys acted as ushers, and helped with curtains, lights, doors, and music.

The cast as follows:
Announcer, Jean Wiener
Andrea, Norma Wood
Marjorie, Susan Buchanan
Audrey, Susan Tully
June, Helen Nash
Delia, Mary Goethals
Arlene, Betsy Aiken
Marilyn, Gail Hegarty
Principal, Margaret Rich

ANTIQUES GROUP MEETS MARCH 19

The "Antiques Study Group" will meet on Tuesday evening, March 19, at 7:30 o'clock in the Edgar Rich Room of the Winchester Public Library. The speaker will be Mr. Leonard Pimentel of Leonard's Interiors, who will explain the fabrics of Colonial days, the authentic copies made today, and their uses in homes, new and old, of the present.

Mr. Pimentel is a skilled and sympathetic decorator, well versed in the technique of using the early designs in fabrics, and in making the old colors and patterns fit into the modern trends. He has studied design, and has attended the annual Williamsburg courses for decorators. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blake will preside, and members may bring in questions about fabrics.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY

The women of Woburn and Winchester will have an opportunity to see a motion picture that doctors say already has saved the lives of many women and can be the means of saving thousands more every year.

The film, "Breast Self-Examination," will be shown at the Strand Theater, Woburn, on March 19, at 10:00 a.m. and at Woburn High School, Thursday evening, March 21, at 8 p.m. It is sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Cancer of the breast is one of the easiest forms of the disease to cure when it is detected in an early stage. The rate of cure could be nearly trebled if every case were treated in time.

Baby-sitting facilities are available at First Baptist Church, corner of Winn and Main streets, Woburn, at no charge to the mothers attending the film program Tuesday. Registered nurses have offered their assistance in the care of the children.

LOUIS E. TUFFIN

Louis E. Tuffin of Miami, Fla., who died Saturday, March 9, at the Veterans' Hospital in Coral Gables, Fla., was the brother of Mrs. Burton Caldwell of Canal street.

Born in Everett 68 years ago, Mr. Tuffin was a retired salesman and had lived in Miami for the past five years. He was a veteran of World War I. Mrs. Caldwell is the only survivor.

The funeral and interment took place in Miami.

CONTROVERSY OVER ZONING HEARD BY PLANNING BOARD

A tone of quiet yet persuasive and informed discussion marked the controversy over Article 67 of the Town Warrant at a public hearing of the Planning Board in the Town Hall Monday night.

This article, sponsored by William J. Speers, Jr., of 2 Fernway, and others, would provide for the increasing of the minimum lot size in any single residence marked "A" from 15,000 square feet with a 100 foot frontage to 25,000 square feet with a 150 foot frontage. This change would apply primarily to the West Side Hill area, which is the largest undeveloped section of Winchester.

Mr. Franklin Lane of the Planning Board, who presided at the hearing, first called for proponents of the article, and in the absence of Mr. Speers, Mr. Herman F. Pike of 30 Arlington street explained the proposal to the crowd of about 90 persons at the meeting. The main points of Mr. Pike's talk were:

1. Under present zoning laws setting 15,000 square feet as the minimum lot size, the development of now undeveloped land could result in a 25% increase in Winchester's population. He cited Lexington as a bad example of building developments on small lots.

2. Although the advocates of the measure want to be fair to builders, every builder runs a certain calculated risk in buying land, and the first loyalty of the citizens should be to Winchester.

3. Definitive plans for building already under way would be exempted from the proposed law. Only new building would be affected.

4. The Western area of town, the section most affected by the proposal, is of predominately rough terrain. This means that under the present regulation either the land would have to leveled to build, or houses would be built on small lots. In the first case the beauty of the land would be lessened, and the second case would result in small houses.

5. Winchester should defend itself against the construction of a large number of small houses, because relatively inexpensive houses could not be assessed at a high enough value to pay their own way in taxes.

According to comparative figures from other towns around Winchester, these houses would average at least two children apiece, and the school expense alone would take up a great deal of the taxes collected from the properties. As a result the rest of the town would suffer an increase in the tax rate to help pay for these new houses. Other towns around Winchester have already raised the minimum size of lots, Lexington and Billerica, for instance, who have increased to 30,000 square feet. Lexington, however, has closed the barn door long after the horse was stolen. Winchester should avoid finding itself in the same position.

Several other residents then spoke in support of the article, emphasizing several points of Pike's argument.

Opposition Speaks

Leading the opposition to the article was Clarence A. Roberts of 20 Westland avenue, a Boston attorney, who said he was speaking both for the Winchester Development Co., and for himself as a resident of the West Side Hill area.

Standing in front of the gathering and speaking from notes, he explained the reasons for his opposition to the article:

1. The primary concern hurt by the proposed change would be the Winchester Development Co., which in 1956 bought about 70 acres of land in the southwest corner of town between the Arlington and Lexington lines. Several lots have already been approved and houses are already under construction.

2. Although these houses would not be affected, the Corporation has invested $23,000 in plans for further development, plans whose usefulness would be almost completely nullified by this article. It would mean the tieing up of expensive machinery while new plans were made, and the best selling season of the year, spring, would be lost.

3. The builder of the Winchester Development Co., has a good reputation in other towns around Winchester, including Lexington, for building substantial and attractive houses.

4. The Corporation bought this land in good faith with the Planning Board and has cooperated with them in every way, not anticipating there would be any change of town policy "in the middle of the game."

5. It is illegal to use zoning laws to control tax rates by decision of the state courts, and Winchester would not want such a proposal on its records.

6. A larger lot does not necessarily mean a larger, more expensive house. In fact, in order to sell homes on larger and more expensive lots, builders might be forced to build cheaper houses.

7. Revenue from taxes on these new houses should equal the increased burden on the town, as it has been indicated they will be assessed at 50% selling price. This is especially true since there are plans for building a new school on the west side anyway, and these homes would help disperse the cost.

8. Do the present residents of Winchester have the right to tell others that if they want to live in this town they must buy larger lots and pay more taxes than those already living here? Most of the lots in town are now under 15,000 square feet, having been developed before the present zoning law went into effect.

9. Builders, the backbone of the country, can be forced off the scene by zoning practices such as are proposed. If this happened the government might step in with low cost public housing.

Several other builders and residents voiced opposition to the article. Harry J. Stabile, Jr., of 9 Herrick street, who has done considerable building in town, stated that if this article is accepted instead of building homes that sell for around $32,000, as he is now doing, for around $23,000. Another builder around $23,000. Another builder pointed out that the reason many of the towns around here have increased the minimum size of lots is to alleviate a sanitation problem resulting from cess pools and feeder systems in place of sewers. He said that the Winchester Development Co., plans call for a complete sewer system with pumping stations installed at the expense of the company.

A town resident felt that such a zoning law would make the prices of new homes prohibitive to young people who wished to live in Winchester.

Mr. Lane called for a show of hands after the disccusion in favor and in opposition to the article. The opposition vote numbered about 45 and those in favor about 12.

REHEARSE FAURE REQUIEM

How many times have you seen a headline like this? "Would Extend Benefits" you read in your daily journal, and you wonder: "Who would?"

Well, when we say, "Rehearse Faure Requiem," we mean that the Winchester Unitarian Choir has begun to rehearse it because it is going to be presented April 7, and you can't put all that in a headline because there isn't room.

Anyway, the Faure Requiem will be presented on Sunday evening, April 7, by the augmented Winchester Unitarian Choir under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham, at the Unitarian Church. Those who have heard the Christmas and Easter Vespers performed by this outstanding choir in past years will need no urging to "Save the 7th;" and those who have not had a chance to hear the choir before are most cordially invited to avail themselves of this opportunity.

The soloists will be Dolores Baldyga, soprano; Ann Lakis, contralto; John Morabito, tenor; and Sidney Blanchard, Jr., baritone. Weston L. Brannen will be at the organ.

ATTENTION!!!

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR CLASS

The high school senior class carnival's coming to town! Remember to save the date, March 23.

At 2:00 p.m. the Winchester High School cafeteria will be transformed into the most exciting fair grounds ever. Somewhere in this maze of activity there will be a booth designed exactly for your taste. Maybe it's shaving a balloon, or, better yet, you might belong to the category of people who just like homemade food—and we'll have plenty of that!

When the atmosphere puts you in the mood, you'll find some of the prizes offered by the booths of skill worth taking another try. And don't forget, everyone has just as good a chance at the door prize as the next person.

Peter Dee is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements and John D. Stevens is faculty advisor.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CHI RHO CLUB

GREEN DOOR DANCE

If you are wondering what's going on behind the "Green Door," plan to drop in at the Immaculate Conception Chi Rho Club informal dance on Friday evening, March 15, at the Town Line.

All young adults are invited to this gala St. Patrick's Green Door Dance. Dancing will be from 8 to 12 to Bob Stone's Quartet.

Miss Mary Lou Mooney, social chairman, is being assisted by an enthusiastic committee including Catherine Callahan, James O'Reilly, Frances Bedley, Jimmie Carroll and Peggy McHugh. Also active on the committee are Virginia Heitz, Judy Sullivan and Helen Hogan.

Come stag or couple, but be sure to come; for a "Chock-full-of-fun" time is in store!

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Eleanor A. Thistlethwaite, Music Supervisor in the Winchester Junior High School, presided at the General Session on Junior High School Music at the Eastern Music Educators Conference in Atlantic City, New Jersey, March 1 - 5. Mrs. Thistlethwaite, who was former National Chairman of Junior High School Music, is now serving as a national committee member and is State Chairman of Junior High School Music in Massachusetts.

L. W. V. NOTES

League of Women Voters members attending units from March 20 to 22, will examine the question of water conservation with greatest emphasis on the national aspects of the problem. Although the subject is a new one to the League this year, the resource committee studying conservation is enthusiastic in its interest in this relatively unknown field. Throughout the country too, interest in water conservation is on the increase. The New York Times of Sunday, March 3, presented a full page summary of water conservation. Also the October 15, National Voter contained an excellent analysis of national problems in this field. Why not look up one or both of these articles and bring them to the unit with you?

Unit hostesses and leaders are as follows: Wednesday, March 20, 7:45 p. m. hostess, Mrs. Robert Joslin, 6 Crescent road; leader, Mrs. Lawrence Kelbley. Thursday, March 21, 9:30 a. m. hostess, Mrs. Olcott Hooper, 228 Highland avenue; leader, Mrs. Ernest Dieterich. Thursday, March 21, 7:45 p. m. hostess, Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., 55 Yale street; leader, Mrs. John Harrison. Friday, March 22, 9:30 a. m. hostess, Mrs. Wilbert Underwood, 9 Ravenscroft road; leader, Mrs. Howard Aiken.

TALENT SHOW IN READING

The Reading Kiwanis Club is holding its second annual Talent Show at the Reading High School auditorium Saturday, April 27, and invites all interested to call Mrs. Charles Bacigalupo, REading 2-1780-W or Mrs. James Bryant, REading 2-0760 for an audition appointment. First prize will be an appearance on a TV Talent Show in Boston plus a $50 bond, and there are other prizes.

Officers Crawford and Greel of the police department took into custody last week-end a New Bedford man wanted in that city for alleged theft of a White tractor. He was arrested as he backed the tractor up to a Winchester firm and was turned over to the New Bedford police. The local authorities had been notified by teletype that the man might be heading for Winchester.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR ROBERT A. DRAKE

Funeral services for Robert A. Drake of 6 Lagrange street, who died suddenly March 6 while vacationing with Mrs. Drake in Bermuda, were held last Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiating. Organist and Choirmaster J. Albert Wilson played favorite selections. Cremation at Mt. Auburn followed the service, and interment will take place during the spring in Union Village, Vt.

A native of Franklin, N. H., Mr. Drake was educated at Dartmouth, Harvard and the Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth. He was associated with the advertising department of Harper's Magazine, and during World War I drove an ambulance in France.

He leaves his wife, Jeannette S. Drake; three daughters, Mrs. Graham Gillette Alvord of Kittery, Me.; Mrs. Alfred James McClure, III, of Keene, N. H.; and Mrs. Robert Arthur White of Brockton; 10 grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Stanley Worthington of Saranac Lake, N. Y., and Mrs. Chester Rausch, assistant dean of the University of Rhode Island.

MOTORBOAT HEARING

There will be a public hearing on proposed bills regulating motor boats in Massachusetts at the State House on Thursday, March 21, at 10:30 a. m. before the Committee on Public Safety. Whether the hearing will be held in a room or the auditorium will probably not be determined until shortly before it is held.

The hearing is of vital concern to Winchester because of the increasing number of motor boats using Mystic Lake each year. Among the bills to be heard is House 1434 introduced by Winchester's Representative Harrison Chadwick which seeks to register motor boats.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Adams of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Brandt Adams, to Lester Rhodes Moulton, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rhodes Moulton of Winchester and Marblehead, Neck.

Miss Adams, who is a student at Wheaton College, made her debut at the annual Charity Ball in Milwaukee in the 1955 season.

Mr. Moulton graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy and is a senior at Harvard University, where he is a member of the Hasty Pudding—Institute of 1770 and the Harvard Lampoon.

A late June wedding is planned.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert M. Bartlett of 306 Cross street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy E. Bartlett, to John J. Dwyer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Dwyer of 5 Woburn parkway, Woburn.

Miss Bartlett and Mr. Dwyer graduated from Woburn High School in the class of 1952, and Mr. Dwyer is taking evening courses at Wentworth Institute while working for the Graybar Electric Company. Miss Bartlett is employed by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company of Boston.

No date has been announced for the marriage.

"Dougie" Thomson, promising sophomore athlete at Winchester High, underwent an operation for a herniated muscle in his right thigh on Monday at the Winchester Hospital. The leg is in a cast and "Doug" will probably be at the hospital for two weeks.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

David L. Gowing, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Benjamin Gowing of Myrtle street, is one of 38 members of the Animal Husbandry Club of the University of Massachusetts who will compete for the title of premier showman at the 17th Annual Little International Livestock Show at the University Saturday, March 16, at 8:00 a. m. David will show Chester White hogs in the contest.

Peter Luitwieler, John Smith and Kent Parrot were Winchester boys who participated in the exhibition hockey match played by sons of Dartmouth alumni last Saturday evening between the periods of the annual Dartmouth alumni-Dartmouth varsity hockey game. The boys were given Dartmouth jersies as mementos.

Miss Marjorie Wyman and Miss Charlotte Flowers of Holland street are vacationing in Sarasota, Florida.

Mr. Roger Romei of McCormack's Apothecary is vacationing in Georgia.

Thirty cartons of cigarettes, five cartons of gum, 10 ball point pens, a five pack of cigars and between seven and ten dollars in cash were stolen in a break discovered last Saturday morning in the store of Sebastina Bordinaro at 143 Swanton street. Access was gained by breaking glass at the rear and removing two locks from the door.

Mrs. Charles Fortis of Dix terrace is returning home Friday from the Brooks Nursing Home in Medford where she has been recuperating from several months illness, during which she was a patient for a time at the Winchester Hospital. She will be happy to see her friends at her home.

Upon returning home last Saturday after a three-day absence from town James Baker of 71 Grove street discovered that two tires had been stolen from his Cadillac, parked in its garage. The garage had been left unlocked.

Last Friday evening in dispersing a large group of boys who were creating a disturbance at his home a resident of Grove street was able to catch one of the group, a 14-year-old boy living in another section of the town. In the scuffle the boy sustained a cut on the head. He was identified by the police and his father notified.

PARROT SCORED FOR PEE WEES

If you happened to be watching the Boston Bruins - Detroit Red Wings hockey game on TV last Saturday afternoon and were like most of those at the Boston Garden or in their living room easy chairs, you got a big thrill out of watching the exhibition put on by the Pee Wee hockey team from the Belmont Hill School rink and the Lynn Arena Pee Wees.

If you had gone into the Garden from Winchester or watched the game on your TV at home, you got an added thrill in the scoring of the only goal of the exhibition by Kent Parrot, a Winchester boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Parrot. Added was the thrill you got when you heard the announcer say the goaler of the winning Belmont Hill team was Andy Page, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Page of this town.

"Spotlighting the News" will bring listeners a comprehensive run down on the "Big Events" in world affairs. Whitney Smith and Dave Moore will handle the commentary.

Coaches Corner will feature interviews with the coaches of spring sports. These interviews should prove interesting in predicting the success of Winchester's spring sports teams.

The first of a series of programs provided through the American Medical Society will be aired this Friday. More information on this series will appear in next week's Star.

In the membership of the 85th Congress of the United States of America, which convened last month, there are 100 Rotarians. Of the 96 United States Senators, 35 are Rotarians. Of the 435 members of the House of Representatives, 65 are Rotarians. Governors of 13 states and one territory of the U.S.A. also are Rotarians.

Never before A WALL PAINT SO FUSS FREE!

New Kyanize Plastic COLOR-Spree

FLOWS ON EASILY—DRIES IN A FLASH—HAS NO ODOR AT ALL

Color-Spree painting is so quick and easy. Move the furniture away from a wall, paint that wall, and in just half an hour you can put the furniture back in place. And your new paint will be washable in twenty-four hours.

Kyanize Plastic Color-Spree gives a velvet-flat finish. You just slap it on, it's self-smoothing and never shows where you touch up "holidays." It's self-priming and can be used on any interior wall or ceiling surface, new or old. Spills and spatters wipe off with a damp cloth; brushes or rollers rinse clean in clear water.

MATIGNON GUILD

On Thursday, March 14, at 2:30, Matignon Guild will hold its monthly meeting at the school. Mrs. Thomas A. Kelley of Somerville will give a talk on the Problem of Parental Education toward Mental Retardation. A film, "Tuesday's Child," will be shown followed by a short question period. Mrs. Kelley is parish chairman of St. Catherine's committee of social service affiliated with the National Council of Catholic Women.

Coffee hostess will be Mrs. Henry Valcour of 56 Yale street, assisted by Mrs. Daniel Fortiere of 113 Mt. Vernon street, Mrs. Thomas H. Dolan of Woburn, Mrs. Dennis DuBois of Belmont, Mrs. Albert Olsen of Medford, and Mrs. Philip MacDonald of Arlington.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

A Southeast Asia workshop is planned for the Junior High Fellowship this Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational Church at 4:30, in Chidley Hall. A number of projects will be set up and each Junior High can choose what most interests him: A one-act play, "Jungle Prize," a 3-dimensional map, table decorations, service project, and worship. The worship service will be led by Al Bonney and Brian Walsh. This is their second service as part of the work on their God and Country award. Recreation will follow the meeting and refreshments will be served.

The pastor's class will meet at 4:30 in the Palmer Room. At the close of this period the class is invited to join with the Fellowship for recreation and refreshments.

GRANGE LUNCHEON BENEFITS CANCER SOCIETY

Winchester Grange No. 343 is serving a home cooked luncheon on Tuesday, March 19, for the benefit of the American Cancer Society. Ham, baked beans, potato salad, rolls, butter, cottage pudding and coffee will be served family style in Masonic Hall (over Hevey's Pharmacy) from 11:30 a. m. to 2:00 p. m.

If you were at our "Beans for Polio" luncheon last year you certainly will be present at this luncheon and bring along those friends who listened to you "rave" about the delicious food served then.

Your support is all that is needed to make this affair a complete success.

BAPTIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Bosselmann, 84 Wildwood street will be hosts to the Senior High Fellowship of the First Baptist Church, at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. The young people will begin a new series on "The Life of Christ" with the main emphasis based on Prayer, Bible Reading, Communion, and Baptism. This is intended to prepare them for the Lenten Season. The topic for Sunday evening will be "Why Pray." The evening will close with refreshments and Fellowship.

The Junior High Fellowship will continue their series of classes on Christian Living. The third topic in the series will be "Grow in the New Life." They will meet at 5 o'clock in the Church Parlor.

BLACK HORSE FIRE CO.

The muster roll of the Black Horse Fire Co. of Winchester in 1883 contains the following names, Frederick Marshall Symmes, Newton A. Knapp, Walter F. Symmes, Harry E. Wellington, James W. Russell, W. H. Herrick, Louis Goddu, L. R. Symmes, C. H. Sleeper, F. B. Wadleigh, and G. Lynch. All have since passed away with Louis Goddu being the last to survive. The Hose house stood on Main street opposite Marshall road. The hose wagon, a hand-drawn affair, is still owned by the town after being purchased by I. L. Symmes from a small town in New Hampshire where it had been sold.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
LAND COURT
No. 24227 Misc.

(SEAL) IN EQUITY

To GEORGE A. SALTMARSH, SHERMAN W. SALTMARSH, ROGER W. SALTMARSH and LUCY MARGUERITE SALTMARSH, of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; PAUL BARRON WATSON, Jr., of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, surviving executor under the will of PAUL BARRON WATSON; ELIZABETH E. REYNOLDS, now or formerly of said Winchester, or her heirs, devisees or legal representatives:

GREETING:

Whereas a suit in equity has been begun against you in our Land Court, by FRANK X. BEES and BERNADINE D. BEES of said Winchester:

We command you, if you intend to make any defense, that on the first Monday of May next, which Monday is the return day of this subpoena, or within such further time as the law allows, you do cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer or other lawful pleading to be filed in the office of the recorder of said court at Boston in the County of Suffolk, and further that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.

Hereof fail not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged, and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.

The plaintiffs allege to be the owners of certain land on Myrtle Terrace in said Winchester; that in the chain of title affecting said property there appears a mortgage running from GEORGE A. SALTMARSH to ELIZABETH E. REYNOLDS, dated November 18, 1902 and duly recorded in Book 3003, Page 597, in which it is stated that the premises were free from all incumbrances except a balance of $1500 due on a mortgage held by PAUL BARRON WATSON to be paid by grantee within one month from date; that there appears of record no mortgage in favor of the said PAUL BARRON WATSON; and there further appears in the chain of title a deed running from SALTMARSH to REYNOLDS, dated November 22, 1902 and duly recorded in Book 3006, Page 213, in which the conveyance stated that mortgages were to be discharged as a part of this transaction, and that through inadvertence and mutual mistake between the parties, the words "of record" were omitted from said clause, and praying that the Court find that the allegation contained above in regard to the mortgage is no longer in force and effect, and that said deed be reformed by adding the words "of record."

And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the plaintiffs that the whereabouts of some of the defendants are unknown and they cannot actually be served with process, it is ORDERED that notice be given by publishing a copy of this order once each week for three successive weeks in the Winchester Star, a newspaper published in said Winchester, the last publication to be one month at least before the said Monday of May next.

Witness, John E. Fenton, Judge of our Land Court, the twenty-sixth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven.

Sybil H. Holmes, Recorder.

The fact that the man of God's creating is not at the mercy of accidents, chance, or discord of any kind will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" will include the account of Paul's healing of Eutychus "who fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead" (Acts 20:7-12).

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (424:5): "Accidents are unknown to God, or immortal Mind, and we must leave the mortal basis of belief and unite with the one Mind, in order to change the notion of chance to the proper sense of God's unerring direction and thus bring out harmony."

The Golden Text is from Ecclesiastes (3:14): "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it."

Serial Shares Insure Saving

Most folks think of a co-operative bank in terms of home mortgages. True, we have helped thousands of people become home owners.

Equally important is the way we have helped other thousands build security for themselves through our systematic savings plans.

Serial shares bought on a monthly installment program (even as low as $1.00 per month) have proven to be the surest, safest and most convenient way to lay aside savings for the future.

"TRAPPIST" MOVIE AROUSING GREAT INTEREST

Both young and old are enthusiastically inquiring about the 2 hour colored movie," a trip behind Trappist walls," which will be shown in St. Mary's Hall on St. Patrick's night, Sunday March 17, at 7:30 sharp.

For years people have wondered about the secluded manner in which a Trappist Monk lives, and for the first time, every phase of the "Thomas Merton" type of living is revealed on the screen.

The film begins with the actual scenes of the fire which burned their monastery to the ground, in Valley Falls, Rhode Island. The Sodality is sponsoring the presentation. Tickets are in great demand, and Mrs. Frank Hurley Sodality Prefect still has some available.

HUNGARIAN PIANIST TO PLAY

The Reading Symphony Orchestra will present its second concert of the current season on Sunday afternoon, March 17, at 3:30, at Reading High School auditorium.

Weston L. Brannen, conductor, is pleased to announce that the guest soloist will be Mikles Schwaib, Hungarian-born piano virtuoso. Mr. Schwalb will perform with the full symphony orchestra Beethoven's Concerto No. 5, ("The Emperor"). Two other works by the orchestra will complete the program.

CANCER FILM ATTRACTS LARGE GROUPS

The Winchester District Nursing Association and the American Cancer Society were gratified with the reception given to the two showings of the life saving film on the early detection of breast cancer. The film was shown on March 5 in the morning at the Winchester Theater to an audience of 900 women and in the evening at Immaculate Conception Parish Hall to a group of 600 women. It was necessary to turn several hundred more away because of the seating capacity of the two buildings.

Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, president of the Winchester District Nursing Association was moderator of both programs. Dr. George Marks and Dr. Sanford Moses were present to answer questions at the morning session, and Dr. William Hickey and Dr. James McDonough served in the same capacity at the evening showing.

A large group of Winchester people contributed a great deal to assure the success of the program. Mrs. Philip C. Efromson was chairman of the committee from the District Nursing Association and Mrs. Donald M. Wright was co-chairman in charge of publicity. Other members of the committee included Mrs. Clarence Luitwieler, Mrs. Rolf Eliassen, Mrs. John Trump, Mrs. Henry Kiley, Mrs. John Harrison, Mrs. Raymond Conard, Mrs. Fred E. Smith, Mrs. Richard L. Davenport, Mrs. Bradford M. Bentley, Mrs. John Giuliani, Mrs. Richard R. Keppler, Mrs. Thomas L. Purtle, Mrs. Leslie J. Scott, Mrs. Hiram Smith, Mrs. Harry Mueller, Mrs. Lester C. Gustin, Mrs. William Towner, Mrs. Lee J. Aubrey, and Mrs. Robert A. Gerisch.

Advisors for this program were Miss Vivian Scott, health educator for American Cancer Society and Mrs. Walfred Wiklund, executive director of the Winchester District Nursing Association.

Special thanks go to Mr. Jay Finn, manager of the Winchester Theater, and to Mr. McDermott and Mr. Efromson who operated the projectors. Mr. Walfred Wiklund lettered the posters used in advertising the program.

For the first time, at least insofar as the memories of those at the event could take them, Winchester had its first full evening devoted to Grand Opera last Saturday in the high school memorial auditorium.

The Winchester Community Theatre sponsored the event and the opera, or rather bits of several operas, was done by Boris Goldovsky and members of the New England Opera Theatre.

There was a large, if not capacity audience, on a not too pleasant evening, and if you could judge by appearances and what you heard during the entre d'acts, those attending the performance liked what they saw and heard.

This was not opera in the grand manner. You don't do it that way in a high school auditorium without an orchestra and proper scenery. It is also difficult to lift scenes, or episodes, out of their operas and have them effectively tell their part of the whole story.

That is where Mr. Goldovsky came in. From the stage before each number, or group, he told the story of what the singers were about to portray, spicing his remarks with a ready humor, and refusing to be at all upset by late comers, for whom he broke off his opening remarks and had the house lights brought up so they could find their seats.

The New England Opera Theatre artists brought good voices to Winchester, and vocally proved entirely equal to the demands of the music they sang. Histrionically they seemed very much at home in their roles, which in the cases of Miss Bazinet, Miss Trickey and Mr. Joyce called for both the humorous and dramatic approach.

Miss Bazinet displayed a big soprano of wide range which she colored skillfuly to reflect varying moods. Her voice in the softer passages, especially during the duet from Traviata, was especially rich and pleasing, while she rose equally well to the dramatic demands of the same score.

Miss Trickey's singing and acting were real joys to the ear and eye, her small trim figure and attractive stage presence adding greatly to the pleasure she gave the audience. She moved capably from the coquette, Susanna, to the lovelorn Michaela with equal competence, and also gave a convincingly appealing portrayal of the mortally ill Mimi of the Boheme ensemble.

Mr. McCollum's tenor has the size and robust quality so necessary to the demands of opera, his high notes being achieved with full ringing tones. He acquitted himself well in the music by Mozart, Bizet and Puccini, sang effectively with Miss Trickey in the beautiful duet from Carmen, and portrayed equally well the love and anguish of the harassed Rudolfo in La Boheme.

Mr. Gay's baritone has a wide range and even scale, with more than a hint of tenor quality in its upper register. He was heard in the evening's lighter roles but delivered himself well, and is fully capable of more exacting musical demands as he showed in the Boheme quartet.

He and Mr. Joyce introduced the comic note in effective fashion in their duets from Don Pasquale. This brings us to Mr. Joyce and one of the stars of the evening, whose resonant finely placed basso cantante gave a first rate account of itself from first to last, encompassing with equal ease the buffo, dramatic and bel canto styles.

His splendid singing of the famous, and difficult catalogue song from Don Giovanni was balanced by his performance as the elder Germont, his voice and acting in this number effectively portraying austerity, drama and regret.

The audience increasingly warmed to the singers and gave them an ovation at the conclusion of the well done quartet from Boheme with which the program closed.

Mr. Goldovsky appeared with the singers at the final curtain and a goodly portion of the applause was for his contributions as commentator and accompanist. It is no mean chore to accompany opera on the piano, but Mr. Goldovsky managed it nicely.

The costumes were fresh looking and attractive and the props effective. With the exception of the Mozart and Verdi scores the singing was in English. Whether the audience got enough of the context to be helpful we do not know. Suffice to say your reviewer was glad the Traviata was done in Italian.

As an approach to opera, and the attracting of new devotees it would seem more familiar, and tunefui selections could have been chosen.

The sets, all simple but colorful and in good taste, were designed by Mrs. Carlene Samoiloff, without whose vision and drive this opera evening probably never would have been. The garden and tree scenes were painted by children of the Children's Theatre under her direction.

For a moment in the La Boheme when one of the ladies in her voluminous skirts went through a doorway at the top of the steps of the tavern the wall swayed noticeably, but emergency measures were quickly and effectively taken and there was no casualty.

Thomas Morse was stage and auditorium supervisor with a stage crew of Alfred Doherty and Christopher Nichols in charge of lights, and David Guarente, in charge of scenery.

The scenery light plan was by Mrs. Samoiloff. The stage props in charge of Maureen Dee and the hand props in charge of Mrs. Wilfred McKenzie.

Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel and Mrs. Richard R. Pettingell were co-chairmen of the committee for the presentation with Mrs. Ronald W. P. King as co-ordinating chairman. George L. Billman and Al Korn were in charge of the program.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORY FOR WINCHESTER

Thirteen north-of-Boston telephone exchanges, including Winchester, are grouped together in a new local directory area and will have first delivery next January of the new telephone directory which will serve them.

Manager James E. Lowthers of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company's Winchester office reported that the new directory is in early stages of preparation and that it will be designated North Suburban (Boston) Telephone Directory.

It will replace two of the Company's present suburban directories of smaller scope—one serving Everett, Malden, Medford (MYstic) and Melrose only; the other serving Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop only. In addition to these exchanges, the new directory will include Burlington, Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Winchester and Woburn, giving them representation for the first time in a localized Telephone Company directory.

Customers' alphabetical listings in the new directory will be set up similar to the present arrangement in the big Boston book—that is, all listings to be in one sequence for all 13 exchanges. It has been found that the single sequence arrangement is handier, in that it eliminates the necessity of first locating a particular section of the directory before starting to look for the desired listing.

Yellow Pages (Classified Listings) in the new directory will be published in accordance with a division of the 13 exchanges into three market areas as follows: (1) Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop; (2) Everett, Malden, Medford (MYstic) and Melrose; (3) Burlington, Reading, Stonenam, Wakefield, Winchester and Woburn. With this grouping, only the classified listings of the exchanges in a market area will be contained regularly in the directories delivered in those exchanges.

All telephones in the North Suburban area will also be listed, as usual, in the 1958 issue of the big Boston directory which covers all exchanges in the Metropolitan Boston telephone area. Its two volumes (alphabetical and Yellow Pages) will be delivered next November and December.

Manager Lowthers said the new North Suburban directory is aimed at improved directory service for telephone users in the 13-exchange area. In the seven exchanges which already have a local directory it will provide a larger local coverage and in the six exchanges now without any local directory it will eliminate the necessity of relying solely on the big Boston directory.

Studies the Company has made show that on the average, 72 per cent of the calls a person in the 13-exchange area originates, go to other telephones within the area. This is an indication that the new directory will be more frequently used than the big Boston directory, and that people will find its use more convenient because of its smaller size in comparison with the big Boston directory.

If users' experience with the new North Suburban directory, to be determined in a survey after its publication, bears out its expected popularity, the Company expects to carry out plans for three more directories in the Metropolitan Boston telephone area, each covering a given number of exchanges. Such a plan would require a few years to put into effect entirely. It would not only provide all telephone users in the Metropolitan area with directories easier to handle and generally more convenient, but would result in savings of paper and printing by eliminating thousands of listings from each directory which are of little or no interest to a majority of users in each directory area.

ART ASSOCIATION

EXHIBITION OF LOCAL TALENT

An exhibition of Local Talent to be held in the Library Art Gallery during the month of April, 1957. This will include all forms of painting, drawing, and the other graphic arts. There will be a jury of three: Karl Nelson, Ruth Cobb, and Loring Coleman. Entries will be accepted only from those 18 years or older. Each artist may submit one or two entries, with the understanding that not more than one and possibly not even one, may be selected for exhibition. Entries must be original work and not previously exhibited in the Winchester Art Association.

There will be no entry charge for members of the Association. Non-members must pay $1.00 per person, which fee must accompany the entries. This fee will be returned to any person who does not have an entry accepted for exhibition.

Entries will be received at the home of Mrs. Fulton Brown, 24 Arlington street, on Wednesday only, March 27, between 10 a. m. and 9 p. m. All entries must be framed. The name and address of the artist and the name and price of the picture must be on the back of each entry. All possible care of the entries will be taken, but each entry must be made at the risk of the owner. It is understood that the pictures chosen to be hung will remain on exhibition until May 3, after which they should be called for as soon as possible. Entries that are not hung should be called for on April 1. All pictures must be picked up at the Library Gallery.

The opening of the exhibition will be on Tuesday evening, April 2, at which time not only members of the Association but also non-members who send entries will be welcome. Mrs. Elizabeth Lobingier and Dr. John W. Ottiano will discuss each others paintings on the basis of what constitutes a good picture and further illustrate with examples from the pictures on exhibition. There will be a popular vote for the best picture, results to be announced before the close of the meeting.

Everyone is most cordially urged to enter this exhibition and to help make it a success.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD CONFERENCE

A two day Conference for board members carrying administrative jobs in Region 1, will be held in Boston on March 18 - 19 at the United Community Services building. Attending from the Winchester Council will be: Mrs. Thomas Hill, president; Mrs. Herbert Ross, vice-president; Mrs. Ralph Thompson, program chairman; Mrs. James Stewart, camp chairman; and Mrs. E. M. Shinnick, executive director. The focus of this conference is on the aspects of the board members' job in relation to the budgeting of time, money and people.

Junior High Troops Get-Together

The girls in the junior high troops met Thursday night at the Girl Scout cabin for a combined meeting. The girl planning board arranged the program, with girls from Troop 38 in charge of games and girls from Troop 10 in charge of refreshments. Mr. Champagne, safety officer connected with the Newton Police Department and Newton Red Cross showed a colored film on water and ice safety. This part of the program was arranged by Mrs. Herbert Uhlig who has been working with a group of girls from Troop 5 on their skating badge.

Girl Scout Sunday at St. Mary's

All Brownies and Scouts in St. Mary's parish attending public or parochial schools will attend mass on Sunday, March 17, at 7:45 a. m. in observance of Girl Scout Week—girls in uniform will meet with leaders in Merritt Hall at 7:15 a. m.

Social Agency Group Meeting

Mrs. Maxwell McCreery and Mrs. Daniel Fortiere will represent the Winchester Girl Scouts at the March meeting of the local social agency group on Monday, March 18, with the Winchester District Nursing Association as the hostess group.

Monday, March 11, was International Day for Troop 20, fifth grade Girl Scouts at Parkhurst, under the leadership of Mrs. Howard L. Leary. The girls completed the literature and dramatics and international friendship requirements which makes them eligible for their 2nd class rank.

Miss Jeanne Macgregor of Medford and Miss Louise Mossisian of Winchester are showing slides of Europe. Miss Mossisian has just returned from teaching in Germany. Miss Macgregor has just returned from studying in France. Both are members of faculty of Medford High School.

The Girl Scouts planned a European menu and a display of various articles from certain countries in Europe. They even had Holland hyacinth bulbs as a centerpiece. Carol Howland, Diane Schiffmacher and Janet Forsberg offered information on Germany and articles made there; Ginny Stearns, Claudine Rogers, Pat Thomas and Natalie Wernet talked on Switzerland; and Mary Clair, Betsy Ewell, Mary Louise Albiani and Rosemary Leary commented on Holland.

Troop 1 has had their annual ski week-end at the Keene's in Etna, N. H. Fortunately there was plenty of snow and we didn't waste a bit of it.

Thanks go to the Leaders, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hersey and the following:

Mr. Harry Bean, Mrs. Paul Boyle, Lt. J. G. Jack Frost, Mr. Al Kajander, who furnished transportation for the girls and boys.

Attending were girls: Sally Beal, Ann Buros, Tricia Buros, Carlie Clark, Joyce Connell, Mollie Devaney, Bonnie Harrington, Alison Hersey, Althea Hersey, Stephanie Hersey, Maxine Kajander, Marjorie Moore, Debbie Nichols, Roberta Rich.

Boys attending were: Alan Buros, Peter Buros, Bill Doughty, Jo Emerson, Dick Low, Joel Peckham, David Shiverick and Jim Wakefield.

We all had a great time skiing and eating and some also attending a Dartmouth — Harvard Hockey game. Stiff muscles and black and blues have now been forgotten and we are all ready for next year.

D. A. R.

The committee of Safety Chapter, D.A.R., will meet on Monday, March 18, at the home of Mrs. John W. Harrison, 47 Yale street at 2:00 p. m. Linda Branneman, the Good Citizen Girl, will give a talk on "Youth Defines Patriotism." After the meeting, there will be a Tea and reception to new members.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL HONOR SOCIETY MEETS

Winchester has always been rightfully proud of the achievements of its schools and students in both athletic and scholastic endeavors. Some people, however, are perhaps not acquainted with one of the principle means utilized to award worthy students who have maintained a high standing in their studies and have exhibited an all-round standard of excellence. Each year students such as these are elected to the Aberjona Chapter of the National Honor Society in recognition of their Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service, the principles upon which the Society is based.

Instituted in 1922, the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools dedicated itself to the encouragement of Scholarship and the allocating "of academic work in its proper place in the estimation of the student body." Winchester's chapter was founded in 1946 and has continued to grow in number, while retaining the necessary superior standards of membership.

Every Spring the junior and senior classes suggest students from amongst their midsts for this honor, the final decision being up to the faculty; the total number of new members is limited to 5% of the junior and 15% of the senior class. These new members are inducted at an assembly, previous to which time none of their names are known to themselves or to their fellow-students.

Recently, in anticipation of this year's election and assembly, a meeting of the senior members of the Society was held. At this time the following officers were elected: Whitney Smith, Jr., President; Kirby Baker, Vice-President; Dorothy Smith, Secretary; and Robert Kugler, Treasurer. Other members are: Linda Branneman, Carol Eaton, and George Chabot. Mr. Fitts and Miss Bronson are the faculty advisors for the group.

CRITTENTON LEAGUE SPONSORS HASTY PUDDING PERFORMANCE

The Florence Crittenton League of Compassion (all Circles) are sponsoring the Hasty Pudding Show "On the Rocks" Tuesday evening March 26, at the Hasty Pudding Club, 12 Holyoke street, Cambridge.

"On the Rocks," a hilarious comedy, is a parody on Oyster Bay Society, the plot revolving around an ex-chorus girl who marries into society.

It is hoped that members of the Winchester Circles, both senior and junior and their friends will avail themselves of this opportunity to be highly entertained and also to aid the important work of the Florence Crittenton League.

Mrs. Vera I. McKenzie is in charge of tickets.

AREA MENTAL HEALTH GROUP ORGANIZED

The first steps toward organization of an area mental health group were taken in Lexington on February 27, when the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association was accepted, by-laws voted, and some officers and directors chosen.

This association will be an affiliate of the Massachusetts Mental Health Association, which is a division of the national group by the same name. It has been formed so that citizens in Arlington, Bedford, Lexington, Winchester, and Woburn may work together promoting mental health activities in this area.

About twenty-five Winchester residents responded to the notice in the Star and went to Lexington to attend this meeting. In the near future they and others hope to organize a Winchester branch which will be representative of the interest in the town and which will have the purpose of educational, fund-raising, and promotive work in Winchester. There will be announcements about this soon.

In Lexington three Winchester people were chosen as active workers in the Association. They are: Mrs. Ellis J. Green, and Dr. Gustav G. Kaufmann as directors at-large, and Mrs. W. Langdon Powers as corresponding secretary.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY ST. PATRICK'S EVE PARTY AND DANCE

The Ladies Auxiliary of Aberjona Post No. 3719, V.F.W. will hold a party and dance on Saturday evening, March 16, at 3:00 p. m. in their recently enlarged Post Home on 15 White street.

The Auxiliary have a hard-working committee in charge of this social and hope to make a success of it as its their first social in the new hall. Let's help by joining them on Saturday, March 16. Co-chairladies are Mrs. Anna Notemyer and Mrs. Rose DiTucci.

Refreshments will be served and a good time is promised all those who attend.

RECEIVES AIR AWARD

Maj. Virgal E. Sansing, operations officer with the 311th Fighter Bomber Squadron at Osan Air Base, Korea, has been presented the Far East Air Forces Able Aeronaut Award for outstanding skill and judgement which prevented what could have been a serious aircraft accident.

A native of Bay City, Tex., Major Sansing will return in July to his wife, Mrs. Connie Sansing, and their three children, Jerry, Bruce and Virginia, who are living at 15 Lloyd street, Winchester, while the major is on his tour of duty in Korea.

Presentation of the coveted award was made to Major Sansing by Col. Wayne E. Rhynard, 58th Fighter Bomber Wing Commander, who recalled the event which led to the commendation.

On September 14, 1956, Major Sansing and 1st Lt. John E. Regan took off from Osan Air Base on a normal transition flight. Major Sansing, having been recently assigned to the Far East Theater, was completing the transition rides required for operational readiness in the F-86F Sabre Jet.

Although he had a total of 1,298 hours in jet fighters, he had flown only eight hours in the F-86F, weapon of the 58th Fighter Bomber Wing.

Almost immediately after he raised the gear handle following take-off, Major Sansing felt a violent change in rudder force and the rudder pedals deflected almost half their full travel.

He swiftly pulled up the aircraft to decrease air speed and to gain altitude. Lieutenant Regan called Major Sansing and told him the nose wheel had not fully retracted and appeared to be cocked.

Then it was found that the nose gear was cocked 70 to 30 degrees from the normal down or landing position. The major called the control tower and advised the mobile control officer of his difficulty.

Emergency fire fighting equipment was dispatched to the runway on stand by status. The mobile control officer suggested that the major make an approach and touch his nose wheel down in an effort to swivel it to its normal position.

Major Sansing touched the nose wheel to the runway, but it failed to deflect from the cocked position.

A trail of fire killing foam eight feet wide was laid on the runway, beginning 2,000 feet from the approach end and extending to the 7,000-foot marker.

Landing at an indicated air speed of 130 knots, the Sabre Jet began a long slide on a nose wheel that still refused to unlock at first. The major steered the craft by using the braking action of his left wheel, which was off the foam path. The wheel finally snapped from its locked position and the jet rolled to a stop 6,500 feet from the approach end of the runway.

The wing commander said Major Sansing's "experience and cool judgement" combined with excellent ground coordination averted an aircraft crash and possibly saved his life.

AIDING GREEK EDUCATION

Mrs. James S. Allen gave morning coffee at her home on Highland avenue on Friday, March 8. The occasion for this affair was the drive to raise funds for Athens College, Anatolia College, Pierce College and the American Farm School, all located in Greece.

The following committee members attended: Mrs. Harrison Lyman, Mrs. F. W. Schumacker, Mrs. F. E. Abbe, Mrs. L. K. Snyder, Mrs. Lawrence Shepard, Miss Helen Hall, Mrs. Zach White, Mrs. Theodore E. Shasta and Mrs. A. A. Haskell.

The fund raising will be accomplished through a benefit Preview-Premier of the 20th Century Fox Cinemascope feature "Boy on a Dolphin" starring Allan Ladd, Clifton Webb and Sophia Loren, filmed entirely in Greece and superbly directed by Jean Negulesco in the manner of "Three Coins in a Fountain."

The Preview-Premier will be at the Keith Memorial Theatre in Boston on Wednesday, April 10, with gala pre-curtain events at 8 p. m. The entire proceeds of this performance will be donated to the four schools.

Winchesterites are urged to contribute to this worth-while cause by attending the showing of this magnificent film.

Mrs. Theodore Shasta and Mrs. L. K. Snyder are co-chairmen of tickets.

JOINS MARINES

Private Robert Brian Amundsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Amundsen of 287 Washington street, recently enlisted in the Marine Corps and is presently undergoing recruit training at Parris Island, South Carolina.

Pvt. Amundsen is a graduate of Winchester High School where he participated in many school activities. He was on the football, track, and softball teams, was class president in his second year, and a member of the athletic association and student council.

Pvt. Amundsen served three years with the Air National Guard prior to joining the Marines. He was enlisted at the Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Union Square Post Office, Somerville.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The regular meeting of the Fortnightly on Monday, March 11, in the social hall of the First Baptist Church, was preceded by a dessert and social hour at 1 p. m. Thanks were extended to the hostesses, Mrs. Frank J. Ebens and Mrs. John B. Wills. At the table, prettily arranged and decorated in St. Patrick's Day green, the pourers were Mrs. Harry Glover and Mrs. Hiram Moody.

With the president, Mrs. Paul H. Atwood in the chair, the business meeting opened at 2 p. m. Art Committee chairman, Mrs. Moody, reminded members of the Camera Contest; entries for this must be in by the middle of April and information about it may be obtained from her.

Mrs. Fiske, chairman of the Cooperation with War Veterans Committee, read her annual report (an impressive record) a list of some of the articles taken this winter to the Mass. Soldiers' Home. She expressed sincere thanks to all who have helped the work in her department.

Mrs. McCullough, chairman of Music, drew attention to the coming Festival of Music given by the State Federation, in New England Mutual Hall, Boston, Thursday, March 21, beginning at 10:30 a. m. Both morning and afternoon sessions offer a real treat of excellent musical talent, the speakers, soloists, and singing groups outstanding. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

As it was Drama afternoon, Mrs. Joshua Vernaglia, chairman of Drama, next introduced Mrs. Alice Mansur Packard, gifted reader. The first half of her program consisted of short poems of many moods on "women" (for the most part) by ancient and modern poets including MacLeish, Milne, Dickinson and Fishbach. Each was given with impeccable interpretation. Three beautifully portrayed character studies comprised the second half of her performance. They were taken from "Red Wine First," a book by Nedra Tyre, a southern case worker, about women she had known, all in decided contrast. These characterizations were subtly moving or delightfully humorous and the last one so poignantly pathetic that many in the audience paid tribute with wet eyes to Mrs. Packard's exceptional ability. She impressed all as a charming person of rare artistry.

Single Point Beats Indians

Belmont Wins Semi-Final 53-52

Those who still say lightning never strikes twice in the same place didn't see Winchester lose successive Eastern Massachusetts Interscholastic Basketball Championships at the Boston Garden this year and last.

A year ago the Indians went out of their class to lose the Class A championship to the opportunist Durfee team by a single basket in the last ten seconds of play. Last Friday evening Winchester lost the B title to a fading Belmont team by the even slimmer margin of a single point with about the same time remaining to be played.

In some respects the games were not similar. A year ago Winchester led all the way and had an eight-point advantage with only six minutes to play. Playing the only game they knew, the Indians kept driving and shooting, failing to hit while Durfee whittled away their lead.

With it all tied up and less than a minute to play Durfee, in possession, put on a freeze until ten seconds remained, then drove in for the layup that won the game and title.

This year Winchester had to come from behind, and it is to the Indians' everlasting credit that they did so in the face of an 11-point deficit at the half as well as a red-hot Belmont team.

Winchester couldn't seem to get going at all in the opening quarter, missing shot after shot while Belmont was working its plays and building up a 20-11 lead.

The Indians looked dead on their feet and were being outrun badly by the speedy Belmont boys. For all that they did better in the second period, being outscored only 15-13, making the score at the half 35-24.

That first period with a rather noticeable failure at the foul line in the final quarter spelled doom for a Winchester team that outshot the opposition, 19-17, but trailed 20-15 in free tries.

At that, Winchester could have, perhaps should have won. The Indians outplayed Belmont pretty completely over the last two periods, controlling the ball off the boards much better than in the first half, and actually outrunning Belmont at times.

This was especially true when Coach Phillips inserted the speedy "Doug" Thomson and Quentin Roberts into the lineup, the hustle of these boys seeming to give the Indians just the lift they needed.

Winchester went right to work on that 11-point Belmont lead with the resumption of play after the half and reduced the advantage to a mere two baskets as the buzzer sounded to commence the final quarter.

The Indians outscored Belmont, 18-11, in the third period and faced a 46-42 deficit as the last quarter got under way. Winchester continued to dominate play, and actually outscored Belmont, 11-8, over the final period.

With the big clock moving into the final minutes Belmont was leading, 48-46, when Thomson drove in for the basket that tied it up, and he was fouled on the play. "Dougie" made the free try good and Winchester led for the first time in the game, 49-48.

With everyone on their feet and the Garden a bedlam, Hamilt drove in from midcourt for a basket, but a traveling call nullified the score, and it wasn't until its next drive down the court after Winchester missed its try that Belmont again went ahead on a floor goal 50-49.

Quentin Roberts dropped in a layup to put Winchester again in front, 51-50, with less than a minute remaining. A Belmont foul shot and Roger Symmes' two successful free tries gave Winchester a 53-51 advantage with slightly more than half a minute to play.

Belmont was trying desperately to tie it up and when Loser, its scoring star, was fouled and went to the line for two free tries, Winchester conceded. Loser generally doesn't miss.

Pressure was tough out there, though, and the Belmont star hit the rim with his first one. He sank the second, but Winchester still led 53-52 with 35 seconds to go. With memories of the Durfee game still fresh in everyone's mind, it looked good.

Coach Phillips left nothing to chance. He called time out and set up a "box play" tailor-made for such a situation, calculated to split the opposition down the middle and give Winchester a chance for a drive-in layup.

It worked to perfection. Captain Mike Callahan passed off to Roger Symmes, who passed back to Callahan and the latter actually had a clear path in to the basket.

As he drove in he saw Chapin absolutely free under the Belmont hoop, and decided to pass in to him. Whether the ball on the dribble took a bad bounce or Mike lost sight of it momentarily in the surprise of seeing Chapin free, no one will ever know.

At all events, the ball hit Mike's hand, rolled up his arm as he drove along, and he was called for traveling. He didn't lose the ball or throw it away, as many seemed to believe.

As it was, Belmont got the ball, and worked it down the floor with Loser driving in for the shot that won the game.

Quent Roberts harassed him all the way, and his shot wasn't a "swisher." It was thrown from off balance and had to have lots of luck on it to go in.

Winchester tried desperately to win in the second or two remaining. It quickly worked the ball into position, but "Quent" Roberts' hurried layup was missed and it was still Belmont's game.

Callahan led both teams with 15 points with Symmes only a point behind the second-place Loser, who had 14.

Callahan and Symmes each had seven points on free tries, but Thomson was the only other Winchester player to make a foul shot good.

It was especially tough for Callahan, who played his heart out, to have the ball bobble on him with victory for his team in sight. All in all the Indians made a great comeback and lost the game like sportsmen. They have many regrets, of course, but nothing of which to be ashamed.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

First I would like to apologize for getting to the press too late last week and because of this the most accommodating Winchester Star was unable to print last week's scores. I will try to give you a complete resume of the past three weeks because two weeks ago the score sheets were misplaced. Our most efficient score keeper Paul Lentine got a duplicate of the missing score sheet so now our records are all up to date.

Team Standings as of March 10:

All Stars	32 - 8
Blue Eyes	24-16
Lindy Hop	22-18
High and Low	20-20
Rock and Roll	19-21
Hot Shots	19-21
Jitterbugs	18-22
Bee Bops	6-34
Hi Single:
"Choppers" Gangi	147
Hi Triple:
Dick Fiore	356
Top Ten Bowlers:
Tony Saraco	104.2
Richard Bucci	102.1
Dick Fiore	101.4
Joe Berardi	99.3
Bob Fiore	97.9
Choppers Gangi	97.5
Babe Tofuri	96.
Max LaCarubba	94.8
Chic Vespucci	94.4
Tony Chefalo	94.3
Joe Riga	94.3

You'll notice that with only the four weeks left to bowl that it is probable that the All Stars are solidly entrenched for top honors this half. What fight there is left will be for second place and third place as the six teams under the leading team are very close. There is also no doubt at this stage in the game that the fiery little mailman Tony Saraco will cop the honors in the average department. He also is the captain of the All Stars who are so securely imbedded on top. For the past two weeks prior to last week the honors of high pinfalls went to this team. The other members of this team along with their capable captain Tony Saraco are Tony Chefalo, Joe Ciarcia, Danny Mastretta, Eddie Forgione and Tony Bardarsino.

Once in a while in the course of a bowling season one team or another really clicks. We mean by this that the whole team works as one unit. Every player does what is expected of him by his captain and in so doing this the team of High and Low captained by Richard Bucci bowled 1502 P.F. This gives each bowler better than 100 average. This stalwart team consists of Jake Ciarcia, Frank Corby, Joe Riga, Ben Gilotti and Chic Vespucci.

List of 300 bowlers for the last 3 weeks:

Joe Berardi	303	318	321
Correction Fiore	312	314	327
Tony Saraco	303	336	311
Choppers Gangi	303	305	302
Max LaCarubba	304	309

Hokie Procopio, 302; Bob Fiore, 317; Richard Bucci 348; M. J. Saraco, 318; Joe Riga, 312; Chic Vespucci,, 330; Al DiMinico, 304; Joe Ciarcia, 302; Richard Tofuri, 308; and for once in his entire bowling career Phil Adagno, 305.

There were numerous absentees but some are excused because of known reasons which are acceptable.

The inexcusable ones are our chief menace. Can you visualize "Don Juan" Dom Provinzano missing bowling just to sit and gaze at his new car. As one happily married bowler put it, "At least it can't talk back to him." We can readily understand Ben Gilotti bowling 241 and Ralph Tauro 242 but can you picture "Sir Winston" Frongillo bowling 239 for three strings. Could be he had another tussle with his bulldozer? We are happy to announce that Dan Gattenieri is back along with Nick Molea. It has been rumored that Pete Fiore received an autograph photo of Nick to keep him from getting lonely during Nick's absence. Guess who is a staunch advocate of allowing the practice of Euthanasia in this state? In my opinion the ready made candidate would be Hokie himself.

The award the previous week went to one of our main cogs in the S.O.I. and a friend to all, Mulligan Fiore.

The award this week went to a non-bowler Frankie Frongillo brother to that well known "Sir Winston" Frongillo the local philanthropist.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME

Members of St. Mary's Holy Name Society received Holy Communion in a body, Sunday, March 10, at the 7:45 mass, celebrated by Father Edmund L. Parker. After Mass, coffee and doughnuts were served in St. Mary's Hall by chairman Frank Antonuccio and his young assistants, Al Thorne, III, and George Kean.

President Al Thorne, Jr., presided at the meeting and spiritual director, Father Martin J. Dolphin, led the group in the recitation of the Holy Name pledge.

The Nocturnal Adoration Society announced that on Friday, March 15, the group will hold their monthly hour of devotion at St. Clement's Shrine in Boston from 9:00 to 10:00 p. m. Cars will leave St. Mary's Church at 8:15 p. m.

Program chairman Herb Cleary continuing the policy of presenting outstanding Winchester residents as guest speakers, introduced the chief of police, Charles J. Harrold.

Chief Harrold gave one of the most interesting talks that we have ever listened to. His subject was "Juvenile Delinquency" and he had everyone sitting on the edge of their chairs as he illustrated his talk with weapons picked up from teen-agers. Among the weapons were stick knives, air pistols, bayonets, brass knuckles and zipp guns.

Chief Harrold said that broken homes and lack of real affection in the homes were among the chief causes of trouble among juveniles. He said that Winchester has as good a record as any town in the state in regard to offenses by teenagers and credits the cooperation of the clergy, teachers and police including, the Police Athletic League, with this record.

Father Dolphin closed the meeting with a prayer.

Robert McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLaughlin of 1 Robinson Pk., was among the sophomore members of the Norwich hockey team to receive varsity letters for their work during the past season.

K. of C. ANNIVERSARY MAY 11

According to the Co-Chairmen, Past Grand Knights L. Chester Thibeault and Charles L. Haggerty, the date for the Knights of Columbus 60th Anniversary Banquet and Dance has been definitely established as Saturday evening, May 11, from 6:30 p. m. until midnight at the Winchester Town Hall. The dinner will be catered and a large committee is busily engaged planning to make this anniversary celebration one of the finest ever. A seven piece orchestra will play and there will be suitable entertainment.

Past Grand Knight Thibeault, has in his possession the first anniversary program booklet of the Council, probably the only one now in existence and was exhibiting it to the Council members at the most recent meeting. It is a highly historical and most interesting piece of work and the Knights enjoyed the photographs shown of early members of the Council who have long since gone to their reward. It was also interesting to read the advertisements of our local businessmen and note the patron list of those by-gone days.

For example our own Winchester Star and Woburn Times had advertisements prominently displayed as well as other firms still engaged in business in Town.

The coming anniversary party is not limited to members of the Knights of Columbus and it is expected that the Knights will extend invitations to their friends and acquaintances to attend. We venture to predict that it will be an affair that the womenfolk will long remember.

Chairmen of sub-committees include: P.G.K Charles W. Craven, catering and hall; Bart Conlon, orchestra; Eric W. Johnson, fund raising; L. C. Thibeault, P.G.K. program; P.K.G. Vincent F. Erhard, publicity and invitations; Fred W. McCormack, refreshments; P.G.K. Alfred J. Puilo, entertainment; William D. Sullivan, tickets.

A Roast Beef dinner will be served and there will be a reception period before the repast.

Paper guest towel, 24 in a box, 59¢. Four beautiful designs at the Winchester Star, Star Building.

SPORTS NIGHT

On Sunday evening, March 10, the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Parish ran a very successful Sports Night. A committee headed by Bill Lippman, chairman; Herb Cleary and president Al Thorne, Jr., lined up a full evening of sports entertainment which attracted a full house of fathers and many of their sons.

John Griffin was the M.C. and the speakers were Father John M. Manion, Pastor; Malcolm MacLeod, director of intramural athletics at Boston College; Roy Goodfellow, freshman coach at Tufts; Jim Phillips, High School basketball coach; Frank Provinzano, director of the town softball league; Henry Knowlton, director of athletics at Winchester High School; and Joe McKenney, head of the physical education department of the city of Boston and former Boston College football coach; Eddie Sanford former Boston Bruins great and Artie Johns, manager of Winchester's Championship New England Little League team were present.

Among the films were Sports Highlights of 1956, the complete Harvard — Tufts game of 1956 in color and the Red Sox, Pride of New England.

HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On Wednesday, March 20, the Winchester Home and Garden Club are looking forward to a lecture and slides by Mr. Franz de Gager on the subject of Spring bulbs.

Mr. de Gager comes from a family of specialists on this subject who have gardens in South Hamilton, Mass., and Holland.

DANISH DESIGNERS

Danish designers are not affected by a demand of the moment but rather put their talents to creating things of lasting merit. They are concerned with texture, figure and color as component parts of design. They stress functional and adaptable aspects of their creations and the result is furniture styles that are clean-cut, functional and contemporary. They have made some brilliant contributions to period furniture of this era.

For a brilliant selection of the latest textures, designs and colors, look to the fabrics at this shop. You are always welcome to drop in and browse around. Never hesitate to ask for ideas and assistance with any decorating problem. For tops in slipcovers and draperies, look to the custom work of

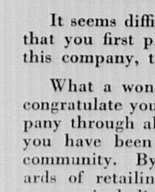
CONGRATULATIONS MR. DONAHUE



ON 50 YEARS OF SELLING BRECK'S PRODUCTS

1957, Our 140th Year, February 28

Mr. J. M. Donahue
Central Hardware
46 Mt. Vernon Street
Winchester, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. Donahue:

It seems difficult to believe that it was 50 years ago that you first placed an order for Breck's items with this company, then headed by my grandfather!

What a wonderful record that is! We of Breck's congratulate you, not only for your loyalty to our company through all these years, but also for the services you have been rendering your neighbors and your community. By always maintaining the highest standards of retailing, you have done honor to all your sources, including Beck's, and to the fellow citizens you serve.

You knew not only my Father, but my Grandfather as well. They believed that the success of any line of merchandise was determined by those who actually made the goods available to the public. And so today I know they both would want to join me in congratulating you on 50 years of loyalty to Breck's and to thank you for your long and constant efforts.

All of us wish you much health and happiness in the years to come!

BRECK'S SEEDSMEN SINCE 1818

Most sincerely,
Luther A. Breck, Jr.
Luther A. Breck, Jr.
President

P. S. Thanks to you Mr. Donahue! Your half century of confidence in Breck's products has helped to make Winchester's lawns and gardens tops!

TO ALL YOU GARDENERS!

Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgun advised Winchester home gardeners today that for the safest delivery of their shrubbery and plants during the current planting season, they should take certain steps to aid deliverymen.

The postmaster said there were three steps that purchasers of nursery stock should take:

If away or on vacation, make arrangements to have a neighbor accept shipments. Keep moist and in a cool location until planting time. Otherwise, the plants may deteriorate in storage at the Post Office, Express, or Freight Station while awaiting delivery.

If a neighbor cannot accept delivery, contact the Post Office or Transportation Agent, and leave instructions as to where the plants can be delivered. A cool basement, garage, or shaded porch is always better than a mail room or On-Hand Department for dormant plants and nursery stock.

Best of all, if you are home, have the ground well prepared, and make your planting as soon as possible after delivery. Early planting, liberal watering, and following the sender's instructions will insure best growth of all plant materials.

VISITED STAR

Den 2 Cub Scouts of the 3rd grade of the Wyman School visited the Star press room last Thursday to see the paper being printed and the various machines used in preparing copy and ads for printing.

Included were Billy Price, Greg Kaufmann, John Newton, Tom Niblock, Billy Chase, Billy Campbell, Bruce Howe, Steven Baird and Mark Spang. Mrs. Warren Price and Mrs. Gustav Kaufmann were the Den Mothers.

MINISTER WINS FIFTH FREEDOM AWARD

The Rev. Harold Roy Brennan, D.D., brother of Mrs. Lewis G. Curtis of 154 Highland avenue, and minister of Saint Mark's Methodist Church in Rockville Centre, N. Y., was awarded one of Freedoms Foundation's highest honors, at Valley Forge, Pa., on Friday, February 22. He was one of 753 individuals, businesses, organizations and schools cited on George Washington's birthday ceremonies at Valley Forge, Pa.

J. Edgar Hoover, head of the F.B.I., got the top award. A $5,000 award and a special honor medal was presented with this well deserved citation. The winners were singled out for furthering the American way of life by what they said, wrote or did.

Dr. Brennan was chosen for one of the three Spiritual Values Awards for making what the Foundation called the best public address of 1956. Dr. Brennan's award, which carried a $1,000 prize and a George Washington Honor Medal was presented to him by Dr. Kenneth Wells, president of Freedoms Foundation.

The Award was given for an address, which he made in January, 1956, in Albany, N. Y., at the Presidents Council and Secretaries Conference of the New York District of Kiwanis International. It was entitled "Keeping the Fires of Freedom Alive."

Dr. Brennan has been honored by the Foundation in four previous years for his sermons and in recognition of this, he was also presented with a replica of the watch carried by George Washington.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS CONTEST

Student publications in the high schools of the Greater Boston area will compete for awards in a journalism contest sponsored by the Ladies Committee of the New England Medical Center. Planned as part of a three months educational project culminating during National Hospital week, May 12 - 18, the program of the Ladies Committee is in keeping with the national theme of Hospital Week—"Careers That Count." Students have been invited to prepare and print editorial material on the subject of hospital vocations.

The first phase of the program, planned to educate young people to career opportunities in hospital and medical work, took place on January 22, in Pratt Auditorium at the New England Medical Center when vocational guidance counselors of Greater Boston High Schools were guests of the Ladies Committee at a Career Seminar. Boston Dispensary Administrator, Abbie E. Dunks was moderator of a group of ten panelists representing paramedical vocations in all the Medical Center units.

Following the Seminar, a resume of the material presented was printed as a manual for high school counselors and distributed to all public, private and parochial high schools in the Greater Boston area.

"In addition to our assisting guidance counselors to know about job opportunities in hospitals, reaching the students through their own publications and reading material seemed an important area not previously attempted," said Mrs. John J. Sullivan, project chairman, in announcing the contest. The contest which officially began on February 15 is open to all high school publications in Greater Boston. Awards will be given to the top three contestants at a special ceremony on May 9th in the New England Medical Center. All entries will be judged on originality, content and how successfully the story of hospital careers is told.

Judges for the contest are: Mrs. Frances Burns, Medical and Science Writer, Boston Globe; Addie E. Dunks, Administrator, Boston Dispensary; John Fenton, Boston Bureau Chief, New York Times; Arthur Fetridge, Radio and TV Editor, Boston Herald; Alan Frazer, Columnist, Boston Record-American; Francis Hatch, New England Manager, Batten, Barton, Dustine & Osborne; Rt. Rev. Francis Lally, Editor, Boston Pilot and Richard T. Viguers, Administrator, New England Center Hospital.

The entire educational project will terminate in a special one-day program for high school students during National Hospital Week, May 12 to 18. The students will be guests of the Ladies Committee for guided tours through the Medical Center units and a party where Medical Center personnel will meet and talk with the students to give them a comprehensive picture of hospital careers.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN'S CLUB

The monthly meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Winchester was held at the home of Mrs. Paul Atwood on Wednesday, March 6. The gracious hostess and the Hospitality Committee welcomed the many members who attended.

The president, Mrs. Theodore C. Browne opened the meeting with a friendly greeting for everyone. After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by the recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas L. Morison, Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl, chairman of the nominating committee read the slate for 1957-58.

The club is very fortunate in having Mrs. Warren C. Whitman to inform them of the Bills coming up at the State House. All were invited to attend the sessions with her at any time.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mr. Edmund Blair Hawley of Winchester. As president of the Greater Boston Young Republican Club, no one is better qualified than he, to speak of the plans and activities of the young people.

The membership has grown under his leadership and what the group did in the last election was most interesting. They meet monthly, laying plans, getting to know one another and learning to express their thoughts in words. All of these attributes are useful equipment for the years to come.

After the meeting Mrs. Edmund Blair Hawley and Mrs. Charles Kerrigan poured at the attractively decorated table. The refreshments prepared by the Social Committee were enjoyed by everyone. Mrs. Alfred W. Drew, chairman and Mrs. Herbert Darling, Co-chairman, were ably assisted by Mrs. William J. Apsey, Mrs. Charles E. Crede, Mrs. George W. French, Mrs. John C. Gilbert, Mrs. Arthur H. Haines, Mrs. Raymond Terhune, Mrs. Harold M. Twombly, and Mrs. Raymond C. Strawbridge.

As program chairmen for the year, Mrs. Maxwell R. McCreery and Mrs. Don S. Greer have worked hard to make the meetings informative and interesting. Every meeting has been a huge success.

The annual meeting on April 10, will be a luncheon at the Winchester Country Club.

BREAKS HEBRON SCORING RECORD

"Richie" Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnson of 42 Jefferson road, had a great season with the Hebron Academy Hockey Team, which completed an undefeated season against the better school and college sextets.

The team broke the all time Hebron scoring record with 99 goals, and "Richie" set up a new individual scoring record for the academy with 47 goals, nearly half of all those scored.

"Richie" graduated from Winchester High School and played as a junior on the great high school hockey team that won the Massachusetts State Championship two years ago.

Look who upset the "Low-price" Applecart!

This one's had them rubbing their eyes ever since it landed smack in the middle of the "low-price" field! The handsome rebel you see right here is upsetting tradition right and left on what a modest budget should buy. It's pricing a big 122-inch wheelbase right down with cars from four to seven inches shorter! It's adding a big bonus of extra road-hugging heft—and powering it with an all-new 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 for highest horsepower per pound in the field! A lot of might and muscle for sure—but it's gentled like nothing else on the road by Pontiac's exclusive Level-Line Ride and Precision-Touch Controls. And remember—the Chieftain's standards of luxury and quality were set by the same men who gave America the incomparable Custom Star Chief Catalinas. What we're leading up to is this: If smaller cars have gotten you down, you can actually buy a Chieftain Pontiac for less than 30 models of the "low-price three"! Second Meeting Completes Budgets

Despite early doubts of a quorum that delayed the opening of the meeting, 203 town meeting members finally turned up for the first adjourned session of the limited town meeting at the Memorial Auditorium at the high school Monday evening. Between the banging of the opening gavel and the final adjournment motion by Mr. Lane at 11:20 the delegates managed to complete the long Article 7, dealing with departmental budgets, a number of which had been deferred at the opening meeting on Thursday, March 14.

Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, made the invocation at the opening of the meeting and the first budget considered was that of the Selectmen, postponed when the Board was unable at the first meeting to tell Mr. Hewis why this year's town reports cost $500 more to print than last year's with the Assessors' reports deleted.

Mr. Saltmarsh explained that the Tax Lists have been printed separately for sale this year and gave page prices for each and other data in support of his contention that the cost of this year's printing is not out of line, also informing the meeting that since the Board got only one bid for the work, it had no choice in the matter of awarding the printing contract.

The meeting seemed satisfied with his explanation, and voted the $15,071 recommended by the Finance Committee under the budget.

The Building Department budget was next considered and Mr. Merrow wanted to know if the figures in the sum requested reflected the fact that the Building Commissioner proposes to retire as Agent of the Board of Health.

Mr. Saltmarsh explained that after April 1 the present Building Commissioner will no longer serve as Health Agent, but will spend his full time as Building Commissioner, the $770 he has been getting as Health Agent being applied to his Building Commissioner's Salary.

The increase brings the Building Commissioner's salary to $1926, to which is added $3209 for Inspector of Wires, a tenure of office job under civil service, and $489 as gas inspector. The total, $5622, is the same as last year with the six percent increase.

The meeting accepted Mr. Saltmarsh's explanation, appropriated the $13,030.84 recommended and moved on to consideration of the Board of Health budget. Under this head Mr. Hewis questioned the amount recommended, both for repair of the bulldozer and for fill.

He stated that the Board of Health got $2,000 for repairs to the bulldozer last year and with $3,000 recommended this year will have spent $5,000 on the bulldozer in two years, a sum he believed excessive. He also questioned the amount recommended for fill in the light of what he described as the lack of fill at the dump, stating the many costly fires there could not occur if the fill was being used. He said the town is covering the dump with money, but not with fill, the rubbish, odor and rats being still in evidence there.

Mr. Redding replied for the Board of Health, explaining that the money spent on the bulldozer last year was for the driving mechanism, and this year's money is to be expended for a complete motor overhaul.

He added that the fill requested is necessary and the meeting supported him, appropriating the $33,506 he requested.

Consideration of the deferred Highways budget resulted in a debate of some length over the advisability of the town buying a Gradall, a huge piece of equipment for which great claims were made by its proponents.

Mr. Hewis opened the debate by asking for the cost of the Gradall, how much time it will save and how many men it will displace.

Mr. Saltmarsh replied that the Gradall costs $30,400, and that it does about any kind of construction job that any municipality encounters. Engineers estimate that the machine will save in construction costs up to $5,000 in 12 months, and that the Selectmen assume in 1958 it will save $7,000 and in 1958, $10,000. The life of the machine, Mr. Saltmarsh said, is 10 to 15 years and its upkeep, $600 a year, or higher. The Board estimates its savings in equipment in ten years to be about $100,000.

As Mr. Saltmarsh described the various uses of the Gradall it seemed able to do about anything but baby sit.

Mr. Rotondi prefaced his remarks by stating he has nothing but admiration for a Gradall, which he has encountered often in his work as a contractor. He did not question its efficiency or ability to do the sort of thing it is intended to do.

He did question Winchester's need for the machine, in fact felt that it would be difficult for the town to find for it enough of the sort of work the machine does to keep it busy.

GILBERT H. HOOD, JR.

AWARDED GOLD SERVICE PINS

Recently honored at special ceremonies conducted at H. P. Hood and Sons were Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., of 6 Everett avenue and Charles Lewis of 209 Washington street. Thirty-five years ago this month, Mr. Hood officially joined the company. He is now vice president and treasurer. Lewis joined the company thirty years ago and is a member of the Boston milk processing plant. At a luncheon held at the Boston ice cream plant, the two men were presented with gold service pins marking the anniversary of their employment. They were in a group of twenty-one people with service records from twenty through forty-five years honored at these ceremonies.

Presentation of the gold service pins were made by Harvey P. Hood, president of the company.

E. EVERETT ARNOLD

E. Everett Arnold of 79 Carleton street, Brookline, retired New England salesman for Curtice Bros., Co., wholesale food distributing firm of Rochester, N. Y., and a former resident of Winchester, died suddenly Monday, March 18, in the Deaconness Hospital in Boston.

Mr. Arnold was the son of George, and Martha (Low) Arnold. He was born August 5, 1874, in Boston and spent his boyhood in that city and in Pepperel. Like so many of his generation he had only a grammar school education before going to work.

At the age of 13 he went to work for George L. Mead Co., Boston wholesale grocery firm, and he spent all his business life in this field, working subsequently for C. D. Swain in West Roxbury and the Boston firms of Delano Potter Co., H. J. Blodgett Co., and J. R. Roberts Co., before entering the employ of Curtice Brothers Co., in 1908.

From 1916 to 1927 he served as sales manager for Curtice Brothers Co., in New York State and Western Pennsylvania, returning to Boston the next year to fill a similar position in New England. He served in this capacity until 1948 when he retired.

Mr. Arnold was president of the Grocery Manufacturers Representatives of New England in 1934-35, and from 1943 to 1948 he was president of the Past Presidents' Club of the same organization.

He was president of Boston Rotary in 1947-48, and served as chairman of the Food Committee of the Winchester Civil Defense and Red Cross in 1944-45. He was a member of the Greater Boston Advisory Board of the Salvation Army from 1943 until 1948. A mason, he was a member of Rabboni Lodge, Dorchester Chapter, and Damascus Temple of the Shrine in Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. Arnold came to Winchester from Belmont in 1930, and lived at 16 Chesterford road until moving to Brookline four years ago. His wife, M. Josephine Arnold, died February 19, 1952, and there are no immediate survivors.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Waterman Chapel on Commonwealth avenue in Kenmore square, Boston. The Rev. Dana Greeley, pastor of the Arlington Street Church, Boston, officiated. Burial was in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

DR. PRATT HONORED

Dr. Lester A. Pratt, 7 Everett avenue, will be honored by the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society as a 50-year member Thursday, April 11, at a dinner-meeting of the Society in the Graduate House at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

More than 250 professional chemists from Eastern Massachusetts and New Hampshire will participate in the meeting and golden membership anniversary of Dr. Pratt.

Dr. Lars G. Sillen, Dean of the Chemistry Department, Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, Sweden, currently the Arthur D. Little visiting professor at M.I.T., will give the main address after the dinner on the subject "Temperature and Chemistry."

Edward R. Atkinson of Dewey & Almy, President of the Northeastern Section of A.C.S., will deliver testimonial remarks about Dr. Pratt.

MARCH OF DIMES REPORTS

The March of Dimes announces that $5,682.75 was received in Winchester during the January campaign.

Mr. Theodore J. Boecker, 49 Wildwood street, was Campaign Chairman.

The Campaign in Middlesex County was an outstanding success. The total already received is $297,390 and is expected to pass the $300,000 mark.

Heading the campaign in Middlesex County are Chairman John Whyte, first vice chairman Donald Guiler, second vice chairman Ralph Nelson, treasurer John Casey, secretary Mrs. Nora Veale. Mrs. John D. Nagle of Belmont was County Chairman of Women's Activities and Mothers' March.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS CAPPED

SCOUT HOSPITAL AIDE CAPPING

Twenty-one Winchester Girl Scout hospital aides received their caps at a candlelight ceremony held the evening of March 12 at the Girl Scout cabin.

Parents and friends of the Girl Scouts were invited to witness the capping ceremony. The program was opened by Miss Martha Daschbach, R.N., assistant leader, who introduced Mrs. Eleanor Shinnick, executive director of the Winchester Girl Scouts, and Miss Laura Rogers, superintendent of nurses of the Winchester Hospital.

Miss Rogers spoke briefly of the support to the nursing service given by the hospital aides, and their numerous duties. She mentioned that two former hospital aides are now in nurses' training. Miss Rogers then capped each girl with a small white cap, the symboi of devotion and loyalty, the "dignity" of all nurses. Mrs. Shinnick then led the newly capped hospital aides in the Girl Scout Promise.

Miss Florence Brickett, R.N., B.S., was the principal speaker. Miss Brickett, a former supervisor at the Winchester Hospital, now on the staff of the Boston College School of Nursing, congratulated the girls on the excellent work they have done at the hospital.

She commented on the freshness and gaiety of their youth that they bring to their work. She made mention of the critical nursing shortage and the desperate need for nurses in all walks of medicine. She voiced the hope the early contact such as these girls were having might influence them in choosing their vocations.

Mrs. Shinnick noted briefly that no matter how happy the Winchester Hospital was to have the hospital aides, the hospital aides were indebted to the hospital for the time and energy spent in making them an integrated part of the nursing service. The ceremony was then closed and refreshments were served.

Since last September these girls have been on duty at the Winchester Hospital, averaging about four (4) hours a month. Their duties are many and varied, such as, carrying trays, discharging patients, running errands.

Their biggest contribution, however, is relieving the nurses of the odds and ends in caring for the children. Their troop leader is Mrs. Virginia Parsons, a woman well known for her interest in civic and youth organizations.

HOSPITAL GETS FINAL FORD GRANT

The Ford Foundation on March 14, announced the final payments totalling $98,315,300 to 3,300 private hospitals in its $200 million program to improve and extend community hospital services in the forty-eight states, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The program is one part of the appropriations of $500 million announced by the Foundation on December 12, 1955. This total also included $210 million to raise college faculty salaries and $90 million to strengthen medical school instruction. An additional $10 million has since been approved to match contributions to the National Fund for Medical Education by industry and individuals.

Winchester Hospital was among those benefitting by the Ford Foundation's generosity, its total grand being $55,000. Its final grant on March 14 was $27,500.

MISS CLARA H. ALLEN

Miss Clara H. Allen, retired Boston school teacher who made her home at 586 Washington street, died Wednesday morning, March 20, at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital.

Miss Allen was the daughter of Willard S., and Adeline (Newhall) Allen. She was 77 years old and spent her early life in East Boston, where she later taught in the public schools for many years, until her retirement. A graduate of Smith college, she had lived in Winchester for the past 15 years, coming to this town from West Medford. She was the last of her family.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon, March 23, at 1 o'clock in the Robinson Chapel at 809 Main street, Melrose, with the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Wallace Ford Caldwell of 1825 G street, Washington, D. C., and Ruth Halm of 3412 Morrison street, Washington, D. C.

MRS. EDNA S. HILTON

Mrs. Edna S. Hilton of Davisville, Falmouth, wife of Carroll S. Hilton and a former resident of Winchester, died early Monday morning, March 18, at the Baker Memorial Hospital in Boston. She suffered a cerebral hemorrhage on February 27, collapsing after a trip to Boston while on her way to the home of Mr. Hilton's sister, Mrs. Bernice Danforth, 9 Myrtle street, where she and her husband were spending a few days.

She was removed at that time to the Winchester Hospital, later being transferred to the Phillips House and then to the Baker Memorial.

Mrs. Hilton was the daughter of Dr. Charles R., and Isabelle (Wilmot) Angus. She was born December 12, 1899, in Cambridge, and grew up in that city and in Somerville, attending the Somerville schools.

She and Mr. Hilton were married December 19, 1939, and lived on Parker road until moving to Falmouth in 1950. She was a member of the Falmouth Garden Club and the Junior League.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Hilton leaves a son, Dr. A. Robert Killam of New Rochelle, N. Y.; two grandchildren, Lynn and Robert Killam; a stepson, Stillman Hilton of London, England; and a stepmother, Mrs. Josephine Angus of Brooklyn, New York.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

MISS PUSCHEL ENGAGED TO MR. MESKELL

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Puschel of Cathlow Drive, Riverside, Conn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Suzette F. Pushel, to Cadet David J. Meskell, Jr., son of Mrs. David J. Meskell of Bridge street and the late Mr. Meskell.

Miss Puschel was graduated from Greenwich Academy. She attended Connecticut College for Women and the University of Grenoble, Grenoble, France. Miss Puschel made her debut at the Greenwich Debutante Ball in 1954.

Mr. Meskell graduated from Winchester High School in 1953. He will graduate in June from the U. S. Coast Guard Academy where he now is a first classman.

The wedding is being planned for September.

HARVARD FROSH COACHED BY WINCHESTER MAN

H. Corey Wynn of 10 Maple road, has just coached the Harvard Freshman squash team through on outstanding undefeated season.

The Crimson Yearlings not only won every match but scored shutouts against Williams, Exeter, (twice), M.I.T., Dartmouth and Wesleyan. A previously undefeated Yale team was beaten 5-4.

In individual competition Wynn's players lost only 4 matches of the 63 they played.

Wynn has coached Harvard freshmen squash and tennis teams since 1947.

Library to Continue Calendar

Winchester Women's Council To Dissolve

On Thursday morning, March 14, at the annual meeting of the Winchester Women's Council in the public library, with Mrs. Harold Given presiding, Mrs. Henry Kiley, secretary, read a recommendation from the board that the Council be dissolved.

Opportunity was given for discussion. Those who wished the Women's Council to continue argued that this clearing house group is valuable and cited the worth-while projects that have stemmed from it. Those who spoke for the recommendation argued that questionnaires sent to all participating organizations showed that, except for the annual listing of officers and the Date Calendar, the Council is not being used enough to warrant its continuation.

The vote supported the board's recommendation to dissolve, more than four to one. The library will continue to have the Calendar and the Winchester Directory will continue to carry the list of organizations and officers as in the past.

It was voted to turn the $37.30 balance in the treasury over to Mrs. Dana Philbrook, librarian, to use for the upkeep of the Calendar and at her discretion, for further expenditure.

The meeting adjourned with an expression of sincere appreciation to Mrs. Given and Mrs. Kiley, and to all those who have spent time and energy for the good of the Women's Council.

ATTENDED DRY CLEANING CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Donovan of 7 Fells road, returned home last Sunday after attending the four day annual Convention of the National Institute of Dry Cleaning in Atlantic City, New Jersey, March 7 to 10.

It was the "Golden Anniversary" Convention to hear talks by leading authorities in drycleaning and related fields. They also viewed in the huge Convention Hall several hundred thousand dollars worth of modern drycleaning equipment displayed by more than 230 manufacturing firms. The exhibit occupied 55,000 square feet of exhibit space. This was more than in any dry cleaning exhibit ever held.

After returning home, they were present Monday for the opening of their new Winchester store at 13 Mt. Vernon street, next door to Randall's.

L. W. V. PRESENTS RADIO PROGRAM ON TAXATION

On Sunday, March 24, at 5:00 p. m. Station WORL will present Professor Arnold M. Soloway of Harvard and Professor Philip L. Gamble of the University of Massachusetts discussing for one-half hour the advantages and disadvantages of the suggested Massachusetts sales tax. This will be a fine opportunity to hear an impartial analysis of this controversial issue. The Boston League of Women Voters is sponsoring the program.

IT'S MRS. GRIFFIN NOW!

For some time readers of Life, Saturday Evening Post and other leading magazines have reveled in the gorgeous color photography of Winchester's Arthur Griffin, a leader in this exacting field.

Now another member of the family, Wife Claire, has blossomed into a photographer, and a good one, if her study illustrating the article "A Day of Faith" by Arthur Gordon in "Women's Day" magazine is a criterion.

Mrs. Griffin shows a charming full-page, black and white study of a colonial-style church seen across a quiet bit of water through the foliage of graceful birches. Watch it, "Art," the lady has done a neat bit with that sky and the reflections!

JOHN RAMSAY FULTON

John Ramsay Fulton of 75 Yale street, vice president of Wheelock, Lovejoy & Co., of Cambridge, and a veteran of World War II, died Tuesday, March 19, at the Winchester Hospital after an illness extending from last November.

Mr. Fulton was the son of Mrs. Dorothy (Ramsay) and the late A. Oram Fulton. He was born December 21, 1912, in Newton Center, attended the Newton schools and prepared for Yale at the Choate School in Wallingford, Conn. He was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale in the class of 1935 and was a member of the Delta Kapp Epsilon fraternity.

All of Mr. Fulton's business life was spent with Wheelock, Lovejoy & Company, dealers in alloy steel with warehouses in Cambridge. He was a metalurgist with the company and vice president of the firm. During World War II he served in the Navy with the rank of lieutenant, senior grade, being stationed at the Fore Rover Shipyard.

Mr. Fulton was a member of the Winchester Country Club, the Yale Clubs of Boston and New York, the Algonquin Club of Boston and the Oyster Harbors Club of Osterville. He came to Winchester from Cambridge in 1948.

On June 14, 1941, Mr. Fulton married Helen Dean of Brookline, who survives, with a daughter, Elizabeth, aged 9; his mother, living in Louisburg square, Boston; a sister, Mrs. William C. Hanway, Jr., of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., and a brother, A. Oram Fulton, Jr., of Wellesley Hills.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany with the rector, Rev. John W. Ellison, officiating. Burial was in Forest Hills Cemetery.

MRS. FLORA NICHOLS BEGGS

Mrs. Flora Nichols Beggs of 6 Madison avenue, widow of William Earle Beggs and a resident of Winchester for more than half a century, died at her home Thursday morning, March 21. She had been ill for several weeks, but had been in failing health for a much longer time.

Mrs. Beggs was the daughter of George W., and Susan A. (Spaulding) Nichols. She was born July 9, 1874, in Lexington, but went with her parents to Woburn at the age of six years, and grew up in that city, being educated in the Woburn schools. After her graduation from high school she taught for a year in the schools of Westport Point near the Rhode Island line.

On June 2, 1898, she married William Earle Beggs of Woburn and they lived the first three years of their married life in Melrose, coming to Winchester in 1901. They moved to 6 Madison avenue in 1907 and Mrs. Beggs had lived there ever since. Her husband died July 15, 1928.

Mrs. Beggs was widely known in Winchester through her active participation in community affairs. She was a member of the Fortnightly Women's Club, of the Winchester Women's Republican Club, of the Algonquin Club of Boston, Loammi Baldwin Chapter, D.A.R., of Woburn; Florence Crittenton League, the Unitarian Church and its Ladies Friendly Society, now the Women's Alliance.

Mrs. Beggs leaves a son, William Nichols Beggs, Winchester attorney.

The funeral services will be private. Burial will be in the family lot in Munroe Cemetery, Lexington.

WHY, I KNOW HIM!

That is what many a Winchester old timer exclaimed when he came upon a large picture of former Selectman George M. Bryne of Copley street in the March 9 issue of Saturday Evening Post. Others uttered the same ejaculation as they saw the same illustration in Time Magazine, The Nation's Business and the Boston Globe.

George's picture didn't appear in connection with a feature story, though one could easily be written about him. It is used to illustrate a full-page advertisement of the Employers' Mutuals of Wausau, Wis., and shows him bending over his deep-sea diver John Simpson as the latter prepares to don his gear for a descent into Boston Harbor on one of the marine construction jobs being done by the Bryne Construction Company, of which Mr. Bryne is the head.

Mr. Bryne, who has many successful marine construction jobs to his credit, is shown by Mutuals of Wausau as a typical New England employer who insures in their company. The picture is a good one, and no one would ever believe this elder statesman is the 87 years old he owns up to being. Pretty nifty, George! You look fit to don the gear and "go down" yourself!

COMMUNITY THEATRE TO MEET

The first annual meeting of the Winchester Community Theatre will take place on Wednesday, March 27, at the Art Gallery of the Public Library at 8:00 p. m.

All sponsors and members are urged to attend to hear the results of the Theatre's first year activities and to help in formulating plans and policies for future development.

All those interested in the promotion of a real Community Theatre in Winchester are cordially invited to attend this annual meeting.

ROTARY AUCTION

This is what you have been waiting for! "Al" Elliott's seventh annual Rotary Auction on Saturday, April 13. "Nick" Fitzgerald is actually auction chairman, but the "Homespun Boy" claims he's really running it, and it is going to be the best yet!

The Auction opens at 10 o'clock and lasts all day. One of those toothsome luncheons will be put on at noon by the Rotary Annes!

Reaches Coveted Milestone

Mrs. Stone 100 Years Old March 19

Mrs. E. Henry Stone of 6 Wood Lane, one of Winchester's oldest residents, both in years and length of time in town, observed her one hundredth birthday on Tuesday, March 19. Nothing pretentious was attempted by way of celebrating an event which comes to few persons in their lifetimes, but Mrs. Stone did enjoy having her family about her on the momentous occasion, some coming from Worcester and others from Concord, Nashua, N. H., and East Orange, N. J.

From East Orange came a former well-known Winchester girl, Margaret Mason, Mrs. Stone's niece, who recently retired after many years teaching in the East Orange schools.

Mrs. Stone and her husband, who died in 1939, observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary on June 18, 1935, at which time a large reception was held and they were able to greet their many friends and relatives.

RALPH W. HATCH

HATCH CEMETERY BOARD HEAD

At a recent organization meeting of the Board of Cemetery Commissioners Ralph W. Hatch was elected chairman to succeed Kenneth P. Pond who was not a candidate for re-election to the Board.

Mr. Hatch was elected to the Cemetery Board in 1955 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Ernest R. Eustis. Previously he had served as a member of the Finance Committee for three years, and as secretary of the Finance Committee for ten years.

A native of Winchester, Mr. Hatch graduated from Winchester High School and attended Tufts College. He entered banking with the Winchester Trust Company and later transferred to the Winchester Savings Bank where he became, first assistant treasurer, and upon the retirement of William E. Priest, treasurer. He has been treasurer of the Winchester Hospital for many years and has served as treasurer for countless drives and organizations in Winchester. Actively identified with the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, he is serving as chairman of the committee charged with building a new wing on the church building.

Mr. Hatch is married, lives at 2 Meadowcroft road, and has two sons and a daughter. His grandfather, Ira G. Hatch was among the returning veterans of the civil war to be presented by the town with double lots in the then new Wildwood Cemetery.

90th BIRTHDAY

Dr. Harry S. Parsons of 73 Bacon street, retired Boston dentist, observed his 90th birthday last Thursday, March 14, with a family dinner party at his home. Featuring the dinner was a handsome birthday cake with one large candle, which the doctor extinguished in the manner prescribed by tradition.

Present with Doctor and Mrs. Parsons to enjoy the birthday party were their two daughters, Mrs. Malcolm D. Bennett and Mrs. Bertram H. Dube of Winchester, and their son, Frank R. Parsons of West Sutton; also their grandchildren, Malcolm and Edward Bennett, Leslie, Diane and Nancy Dube and Frank R. Parsons, Jr.

A native of Brunswick, Maine, Dr. Parsons studied medicine at Bowdoin College and was graduated from Harvard Dental School in 1892. For 62 years he practiced dentistry in Boston, his last office being at 25 Bay State road. He also for many years taught in the Harvard Dental School.

Dr. Parsons married Florence Ripley, member of a prominent Winchester family, on September 28, 1903. For four years they lived in Boston before coming to make their home in Winchester in 1913.

The Doctor is remarkably well for one of his years and enjoys working about his garden and grounds.

The Star is happy to add its birthday congratulations and best wishes to those of Dr. Parsons' many other friends.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of contagious diseases was reported for week ending March 20:

2 cases of mumps
1 case of scarlet fever

William B. MacDonald
Agent, Board of Health

Mrs. Stone was born in Charlestown, living two years in Plymouth before coming to Winchester with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark Mason, prominent residents and among the founders of the old Winchester Methodist Episcopal Church, now the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

Mrs. Stone grew up in Winchester, attending the Winchester schools, and living in the old Mason homestead, built by her father at the easterly corner of Hillside avenue and Mt. Pleasant street. As Martha Mason she was married in that house on June 1, 1885, her husband having been for many years treasurer of the well-known paper house of Stone & Forsythe, of which he was one of the founders. Mr. Stone, who died at the age of 89, came to Winchester as a boy of eight, and was numbered among the town's prominent residents for many years.

Mrs. Stone spent her early married life in a house built for her by her husband on Winthrop street. In 1897 Mr. Stone built the fine residence on Cambridge street in which he and his family lived until he died, and where his widow and her daughter, Mildred, continued to live until they moved to their present home at 6 Wood Lane four years ago.

Throughout her long residence in Winchester Mrs. Stone has maintained an interest in the civic, social and religious life of the community. She is among the older members of the Fortnightly Women's Club and the Congregational Church and she is a charter member of the Mission Union of the Congregational Church.

Besides her daughter, Mildred, Mrs. Stone has a daughter living in Winchester, Mrs. Carl W. Wood of Fernway. A son, Robert M. Stone, former chairman of the School Committee and prominent in town affairs for many years, died November 30, 1953.

For one of her advanced years Mrs. Stone enjoys excellent health. She is in remarkable possession of her faculties and takes a keen interest in what is going on around her. The Star is happy to congratulate Mrs. Stone upon her birthday and to extend its very best wishes for her continued health and happiness.

MRS. BRIDGET E. YOUNG

Mrs. Bridget E. Young of 153 Washington street, a lifelong and widely known resident of Winchester, died Wednesday morning, March 20, at her home after a long period of poor health.

Mrs. Young was born in Winchester March 1, 1873. She grew up in town, attended the Winchester schools and was one of the older members of St. Mary's Parish, having been a long time member of St. Mary's Sodality. She leaves a son, George F. Young of this town.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning from the Lane Funeral Home at 9 o'clock with requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church at 10. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

BEAUTIFUL SPRING!

Spring arrived yesterday at 4:27 p. m., if memory serves. And what a spring day it was! Eight inches of wet snow, necessitating street plows and making those prudent souls who hadn't taken off their snow tires very glad about it all. It snowed all day from early morning until about 11 o'clock at night, reminding Winchester of the first day of spring last year.

Power came back last night with five men hitting the "300" mark. B. Gannon 327, A. LaPointe 315, George Ross 309. R. Tofuri 304 and K. Donaghey 303.

A total of fifteen men hit the "100" string: Al LaPointe 127-104. R. Tofuri 125, George Ross 114, Duffy 110, J. Sampson 108-100, Giacalone 107, Fred Kimball and D. DeCourcy 106, Ken Donaghey 106-105, M. Civetti and B. Merenda 104, E. Johnson and F. Allen 102, E. Forbes 101, and the big man of the night, Bill Gannon 133 and 100.

There are only a few weeks left to bowl, and Villanova is starting to run away with this half, taking four points from the first-half champs. However, they cannot rest, as there is enough time left for any of the first four teams to move to the top.

ARLINGTON-WINCHESTER SIMMONS CLUB

The March meeting of the Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club will be held at the Robbins Library, Arlington on Tuesday, March 26, at 7:30 p. m.

Coffee hour will precede the business meeting. At this time the nominating committee for next year's officers will be selected.

Two representatives from the New England Telephone Company will show a color film "Your Voice Is You." Background music for the film is by the Bell Telephone Symphony Orchestra. After the film, members of the club will have an opportunity to hear their own voice on a tape recorder. This might prove to be an unusual experience for all.

Mrs. George Gowdy is in charge of transportation for Winchester members.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

The season is fast closing and the playoffs are just around the corner, with but only three weeks to go another successful bowling season will come to a close. The pitched battle for second place is still smouldering and it looks like it will not be decided until the final night.

Team Standings:

All Stars	35 - 9

Top Ten Bowlers:

Tony Saraco	104.5
Richard Bucci	102.5
Dick Fiore	101.4
Joe Berardi	99.2
Bob Fiore	98.1
Choppers Gangi	97.5
Babe Tofuri	96.1
Max LaCarubba	94.8
Tony Chefalo	94.6
Chic Vespucci	94.6

We have really had some fancy bowling this year, especially in the 300 circle. There were seven again this week and once again "Mighty Mouse" Tony Saraco led the pack as he showed no mercy to the opposition who have any thought of threatening his superiority in the average department. Behind Tony, with his 335; were Richard Bucci, 332; Bob Fiore, 309; M. J. Saraco, 305; Jeff Gaudioso and Tony Chefalo, 302; and Jake Jacobellis, 300.

From my viewpoint, if my memory doesn't fail me, Tony Saraco is setting a new record in the average department. We also wish to state that we are averaging better than 20 bowlers who are bowling over 100 a string each week. This is a remarkable average as there were only 37 bowlers this week.

Rock and Roll took the high pinfalls this week. It's properly named and fitting to their captain, my favorite personality who is indigenous to the United States and front page news, manager Pasquale Giovanni, Hokie Procopio.

In my days of captaincy, a captain was anchor man but his team decided that he be lead off man for the only strong part left in his body is his jaw and vocal muscles of which he is a master.

The winning score sheet read as follows: Hokie, 267; Jake, 300; Joe Amico, 291; Al Diminico, 287 and Max LaCarubba, 282. Nuff said, With only three weeks to go it looks like the 147 high single by Choppers Gangi set early in the season will hold out along with Dick Fiore's 356 high triple.

There's been a lot of knocking on each department's door but they just haven't been able to cross the threshold. The strange noise heard at the alley this week which sounded like a foghorn of a ship lost at sea was our good friend Bill Falzano who had just dropped in to see the boys.

So down we go again and the awards went to a man who helps keep our town looking clean and healthy the one and only Ralph Tauro.

See you next week.

BLADES IN 3-1 WIN OVER SWAMPSCOTT FRESHMEN

In a close checking game Saturday, March 9, the Winchester Blades defeated the Swampscott Freshman Hockey Team at the Lynn Arena.

Winchester opened the scoring in the first period when Pete Branch stole the puck from a Swampscott defender and found the corner of the net. Dana Keiley added another score on a break away and finished it off with one of his whistling drives from the right side.

Billy LaMarche ended the scoring when he slapped home a loose puck from a scrimmage in front of the Swampscott cage.

Teddy Marks again played a tremendous game in the nets for the Blades turning aside many difficult shots.

The Winchester defense of John Hosmer and Bobby Eaton successfully held off the attack until near the end of the third period when Skinner dented the strings for the only Swampscott score.

Whitey Allen, Doug Scott and Roger Griffin performed well on the forward wall as did Brian Cullen, Dick Jameson and Tom Purtell as a second line of defense.

The next game will be with the Revere Freshmen at the Lynn Arena at 5:15 p. m. Saturday, March 16.

FELLSLAND HAS NEW EXECUTIVE

The retirement of Mr. Bruce E. Stewart Scout Executive of the Fellsland Council of the Boy Scouts of America and the appointment of Mr. Bartley B. Nourse as the new Scout Executive were announced last week by Mr. A. Benjamin Gowing of Winchester, President of the Fellsland Council Executive Board. At a meeting of the Executive Board held at the Council Headquarters on South Border road, Winchester, the sincere thanks and appreciation of all members of the Council were expressed by members of the Board for Mr. Stewart's faithful and able services to Scouting during his three year tenure in the Fellsland Council.

During this period the number of Scouting Units, Cubs, Scouts and Explorers increased from 64 to 78 and the number of boys enrolled from 2135 to 2888. Fellsland Council today has one of the outstanding enrollment and achievement records in all Scotland.

Best wishes for his future happiness were given to Mr. Stewart who is moving from his former home in Stoneham to Cape Cod.

Mr. Gowing introduced Mr. Bartley Nourse to the Board. Fellsland Council's new Scout Executive has a background of 8 years experience in Scouting. He was formerly District Executive of the Blackstone Valley Area of the Narragansett Council which is one of the fastest growing scouting districts in this part of the country.

He was born in Worcester, Mass., and following graduation from high school in that city he spent 2½ years in the Naval Aviation. He attended Dartmouth College for one year and transferred to Middlebury College where he graduated in 1948.

Mr. Nourse entered Scouting professionally in November 1948 and began his first assignment as Field Executive in the Eastern Connecticut Council. He served as assistant Camp Director for three years at their Council and Camp Director the fourth year. He was transferred to the Narragansett Council in September 1952 and served as Commissary Director for four years at Camp Yawgoog. The largest boy's camp in New England.

He is married to the former Helen Clark of Winsted, Conn., also a Middlebury College graduate. They have two sons, aged 6 and 3. The Nourses are members of the Central Congregational Church in Providence, R. I.

Mr. Nourse will be assisted in his Fellsland Council duties by Francis "Mac" MacFeeley, long time and well known Fellsland Council Field Executive.

HIT EDISON POLE

Two Woburn residents, Robert M. Walsh and Karen Paulsen, escaped serious injury when a car driven by Walsh struck an Edison Co., pole at the intersection of Calumet road and Fletcher street shortly after midnight Friday night.

Walsh ran the front end of the car into the pole, which was damaged slightly, while making a right hand turn, and the car was towed to a Woburn garage.

WAYS AND MEANS FOR THE SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

Just three years ago the Central Board of the Winchester Mothers' Association decided to be brave and try a town-wide canvass for funds for the Winchester Scholarship Foundation. There was strong feeling among those present, a truly diversified group, that there were many Winchester people who would like to donate to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation if given the opportunity, people who would not necessarily have children in the Winchester Schools, who would therefore, not have been approached and who had a keen interest in youth and the future of their country. This proved to be a sound theory for the resultant amount that was turned over to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, far exceeded anything that had been raised before.

Mrs. James Coon was the able chairman for this first town-wide appeal. Mrs. George Gowdy served as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee that conducted the 1956 Drive. She and her workers were equally successful. So we arrive at 1957—

The members of the Scholarship Committee recently met at the home of the 1957 chairman of Ways and Means, Mrs. Elmer Grinnell.

Progress reports were made and photographs taken by the official Star photographer, Bill Ryerson.

Committee representatives of the various schools are busily appointing Captains who, in turn, will have volunteers to cover every street of their particular area during the first week of April.

Mrs. Paul McCarthy, of the Noonan School, was the first to submit her list of Captains who are as follows: Mrs. Russell D. Roberts, Mrs. John B. MacLellan, Mrs. Edward H. Drown, Mrs. John Collins, Mrs. John S. Morgan, Jr., Mrs. Jesse Rezendes, Mrs. Peter Graham, Mrs. Joseph Drotter, Mrs. Otto Schaeffer, Mrs. Byron Graves, Mrs. Frank Olivadoti, Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. William Duran, and Mrs. Joseph Bonasera.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL SHAREHOLDERS MEETING

A special shareholders meeting of the Winchester Cooperative Bank will be held in the Banking Rooms at 2:00 p. m. on Monday, April 1, 1957, for the purpose of changing the date of the Regular Monthly Directors Meetings from the Thursday after the first Monday to the second Monday of each month.

UNITARIAN DESSERT BRIDGE

Scrabble and bridge will be given equal billing along with any other game of your choice at the dessert bridge and games at 1:00 p. m. on Thursday, March 28, at the Unitarian Church. For the first time in the long history of Unitarian fall bazaars this afternoon has been planned to help the committee of the 1957 "World Fair" for November start a bank account of its own. The purpose will be to meet the immediate needs of the many fair workers already at work, and to keep an account separate from the Unitarian Alliance treasury.

Sponsoring this gala afternoon next week will be the table and activities chairmen of the 1957 "World Fair" among who are: Mrs. Herbert Black, Mrs. Richard Bolster, Mrs. Reginald Bradlee, Mrs. James C. Breton, Mrs. Theodore Burleigh, Jr., Mrs. Lawrence Burke, Mrs. Charles R. Carter, Mrs. Frederick L. Churchill, Mrs. O. Norman Codding, Mrs. Anthony Duquette, Mrs. Harold F. Fifield, Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. Horace Ford, Mrs. Raymond Gross, Mrs. Kenneth Hall, Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth, Mrs. George W. Hayden, Jr., Mrs. John J. Hefferman, Mrs. Erwin Hutchings, Mrs. George E. Kimball, Mrs. Ralph D. Larson, Mrs. R. W. MacArthur, Mrs. Edward Macfarlane, Mrs. Charles T. Main, II, Mrs. Harold E. Marr, Mrs. Leonard C. Mead, Mrs. John S. Morgan, Mrs. D. Earle Osgood, Miss Catherine Spaulding, Miss Mary Spaulding, Mrs. Edward G. Stacy, Mrs. Russell Symmes, Mrs. Gilbert Tapley, Mrs. Ganson P. Taggart, and Mrs. Robert B. Williams. Co-chairmen of this event are Mrs. Raymond C. Terhune and Mrs. Olcott L. Hooper, who may be called for information.

Safety Tip: Physical fitness plays an important role in safe driving. When you're sleepy or tired you can't stay alert through all kinds of conditions you'll encounter on the road. Drive only when you're in condition, advises the Triple-A.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL SCIENCE FAIR

We are living in times where the need for technically trained persons in all the science areas is essential to the security and economy of our nation. The need for scientists is critical. Consequently, Miss Lenna M. Travis, Head of the Science Department of the Winchester High School cordially invites the public to attend the first in a series of Annual Science Fairs to be held in the science rooms of the high school on March 22, from 2:15 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.

It is hoped that the introduction of a Science Fair in Winchester will provide further opportunities for students to do additional work on scientific projects of their own choice. Thus acquiring basic facts, techniques and skills developed through scientific research. These projects provide participating students with the opportunity to develop as well as create and to become aware of the varied implications of science and its role in everyday living.

Science Fairs have done much to encourage high school students to pursue scientific areas of study. Many industrial firms contribute tens of thousands of dollars annually in the way of college scholarships to winners of Science Fairs all over the country. The winner of our Science Fair will represent Winchester High School in the State Science Fair to be held at the M.I.T. Rockwell Cage on March 26, 27, and 28.

The fields of biology, general science, chemistry and physics will be represented at the Fair. Interesting exhibits on radios, transmitters, airplanes, rocks, spot removal, printed circuits, water systems, rabbit diet, audio rig, and transistors are among the 30 to 40 exhibits which will be on display.

Serving on the Science Fair Committee with Mrs. Travis is Miss Sybil Daniels and Mr. Joseph Papandrea who is acting as Chairman of this initial program.

WHS IN DRAMA FESTIVAL

Friday evening, March 22, at Reading High School, Winchester wil lpresent its play, "Stand Up To Death," by Ken Parker as part of the Massachusetts High School Regional Drama Festival. Fourteen plays will be presented over a two-day period.

The cast includes Blanche Cartier, Carol Leverone, Peter Dee, David Usher, and David Guarente. The stage crew are Al Doherty and Chris Nichols. Cynthia Dunn is student assistant to the director. The play is under the direction of Mr. Thomas A. Morse.

LARAWAY ELECTED

At a recent meeting of the American Motors of New Hampshire Dealers Club, held in Concord, N. H., Edson S. Laraway of Portsmouth, N. H., formerly of Winchester, was elected Secretary.

The club is composed of all American Dealers in New Hampshire and in the fringe cities of Maine and Vermont.

Wednesday, March 20th . . .

Mother Nature presented Dame Spring a gift of ermine this morning . . . a lovely stole of snow. And as far as I am concerned young ladies should refuse this type of gift . . . especially at this time of year when I am yearning for the green fairways and the windows of the shops are budding with new spring styles.

Talking about styles . . . a necktie has been created from the fabric used in a ball gown of Queen Elizabeth II. Hand-cut velvet and black frise on a deep-blue satin ground. The price tag of this little number to adorn the gentleman's neck is $100. My source of information quotes "and is being produced in limited quantities." The next person I hear complaining about the price of our $2.50 pure silk repp ties will be the recipient of no sympathy from these quarters.

For those who object to such fantastic price tags we are showing the most beautiful array of spring ties you have ever seen at only $1.50 to $3.50, including imported Swiss and Italian silks. Every season the washable, no-iron Dacron tie is being made in a greater variety of weaves and patterns. This innovation in necktie fabrics is truly amazing. Soil it . . . wash it . . . wear it. Absolutely no ironing. If you care to try one . . . we have a complete selection.

One cheerful and encouraging note to lighten the spirit of a damp morning. Waiting at the door of the shop this morning at 9 a.m. was a brave gent. Ten minutes later he left with a new spring hat. If only there were more optimistic souls such as he to lighten the days of the poor clothing retailers on snowy spring days.

The goal for the Boston area in the Easter Seal campaign for crippled children and adults is $61,400, it was announced today by Henry K. White, treasurer for Boston.

Easter Seal services include rehabilitation centers in Boston, Springfield and Worcester; a J.O.B. (Just One Break) Program, which provides jobs for physically disabled adults; physical, occupational and speech therapy; rehabilitation and architectural counselling, and community planning for the handicapped, and student training in the field of rehabilitation.

WHSR MEDICAL PROGRAMS

Mrs. Richard E. Stiles, public relations officer of the Middlesex East Medical Auxiliary, announced this week a dual series of medical programs to be presented for the next 13 weeks on Station WHSR, the radio outlet at Winchester High School, 91.9 megacycles on the F.M. dial.

The facts presented in these series have been asembled on electrical transcriptions by the Bureau of Health Education of the American Medical Association, and are sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the local county medical society as a public service.

One program entitled "Superstition—or Science" will be presented weekly at 4:35 p.m. on Friday, and the other series entitled "Hi-Forum" will be aired at 6:10 p.m. on Fridays.

MUSIC AND FILMS AT LIBRARY

The regularly scheduled recorded music programs will be held Wednesday afternoon and evening at 2:30 and 7:00 p.m. Any requests for favorites will be played.

This week's film program, Friday and Saturday, March 22 and 23, will be:

In Paris Parks
Yours for a Song
Circus Animals
Story of Bananas

Next week's film program, Friday and Saturday, March 29 and 30, will be:

Life in a Garden
Scottish Highlands
Boston, Then and Now

AT SEA FOR KINGS POINT

Harold H. McKinley, Jr., of Elmwood avenue, recently arrived in New York from West Africa, after a ten week "sea-project" trip with Farrell Lines aboard their cargo ship African Dawn.

McKinley is now making a voyage with the United States Lines Company on the S.S. American Clipper, heading for Bremerhaven, Bremen and Hamburg, Germany.

He will have two more of these shipping assignments before completing his "sea year" at the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, Long Island, New York.

EDITORIAL

No one knew yesterday afternoon when the Star went to press what would happen at last night's town meeting: whether the delegates would follow the advice of the Finance Committee and those concerned with keeping the tax rate as low as possible consistent with good municipal practice, or whether they would be persuaded to vote for large capital expenditures by any one of several groups backing special articles in the warrant.

As you read your Star you will have learned, if you are interested, and we predict that you will be, if not now, later, what the delegates did last night and how much your tax rate is up as the result of their action.

Going into last night's meeting the delegates had voted appropriations roughly $288,000 in excess of expenditures at the same spot in the meeting a year ago, or a gross increase of $6 on the tax rate. The $6 will be reduced somewhat when expected increased town receipts and increased valuation are set against the $288,000.

If the net tax increase for the meeting thus far is $5, and it is quite sure to be at least that, Winchester tax payers will face a considerably larger tax bill this year, especially if any of the proposed larger appropriations were voted last night, or are voted at future meetings.

A $5 tax increase on a $15,000 home will add $75 to its owner's tax bill. On a $25,000 home the increase will be $125. On a modest $5,000 home the owner will pay $25 additional, and this increase may be the hardest to pay of all.

From its observation of the first two meetings the Star does not believe the tax rate will stop at $5 above last year. It does, however, have hopes that the good sense of the citizen town meeting members will have guided their voting last night along lines of prudence and consideration for their fellow citizens, to whom a greatly increased tax bill will prove a severe hardship, and that in the remaining meetings expenditures under special articles will be considered carefully on the strict basis of necessity.

In this connection it is pertinent to remind those whose responsibility it is to vote the town's money that the debt service of the town has increased percentagewise from .2 in 1951 to 7.8 in 1956. In round figures that is an increase from $3 to $219,455 in the same time, with $229,098 recommended for this year.

The suggestion has been made to the Star that the B & M construct a modest flight of steps at Wedgemere Station at the end of the dividing fence on the side of the outbound track so that commuters can more safely go down the banking there into the walk across Ginn Field.

As it is now the more hardy are scrambling down the banking rather than riding out in the crowded rear cars of the train that leave passengers at the ramp leading down into Bacon street. Once down the ramp, there is the Bacon street late afternoon traffic with which to battle.

The steps surely would not cost much and they would be a great convenience as well as adding saftey to commuters crossing Ginn Field to their homes. It is something for railroad officials to think about, at least. Commuter good will would be increased considerably thereby.

Drives are becoming increasingly prevalent in Winchester, and a vast majority of our citizens want to aid just as many of the worthy projects seeking funds from the public as possible. There are, however, not so many families who can afford to contribute twice to the same drive, and there are quite a number of people who live in Winchester and work somewhere else who are called upon to make a contribution to drives at their places of business. The Star has heard complaints of late from residents who have felt that drive solicitors have doubted their statements that they have made their contributions to the drives in question where they work.

The Star is quite sure that there should be no doubt in the vast majority of cases, and in those cases where there is, no contribution is likely to be received anyhow.

It would seem some sort of arrangement could be made so that those who have to contribute to drives where they work may be identified in some way so that local canvassers need not doubt their good faith. With larger and larger quotas now being fixed for most businesses and communities this seems increasingly important.

As we were checking one of the Star forms being printed yesterday we noted the head, "Laraway Elected." It referred to the election of a former Winchester boy, Edson Laraway, to office in an automobile dealers' club in New Hampshire.

The head, however, brought back to the editor, days long gone by when Edson's father, the late Jonas A. Laraway, was elected Selectman. Whatever else happened after the election of the elder Laraway to town office the days of his incumbency were never dull.

"Joe" Laraway, as he was universally known, was never one to hide his opinion under a barrel, unless he had good reason for so doing! As a champion of lost causes and an outspoken critic of municipal practices he believed not in the community interest he was not afraid to stand alone, and often did!

Under Article 56 the current town meeting will be asked to name that portion of Common street extending northerly beside the railroad tracks to Main street Laraway road in honor of "Joe" Laraway. Those who were grateful to this former town father for livening up many a town meeting and for saying the things they did not dare to say themselves hope the name will be adopted.

LET'S KEEP LIBRARY BEAUTIFUL

Editor of the Star:

As one of the older citizens of Winchester, having had four years on the board of selectmen, I am still much interested in the welfare of the town and I was much disturbed by the type of the proposed addition to the town library as pictured in an enclosure of our town warrant. Since the work to be done is an addition to a beautiful and well built structure of one type why spoil the unity by using a strictly modernistic type for the new wings?

We lost one of the beauty spots of our center when the Massachusetts Public Works Commission, under the Chairman, Mr. John A. Volpe, took over the Skillings Estate. Instead of beautiful trees we now have a bare expanse with a view of distant tanneries.

The library and its location form one of the remaining beauty spots of our town. Let us keep it beautiful.

Yours very truly,
George M. Bryne

D. A. R.

The Committee of Safety Chapter, D.A.R., met at the home of Mrs. John W. Harrison, 47 Yale street on Monday, March 18. The regent, Mrs. Hiram Moody presided at the business meeting which opened at 2.

Mrs. Paul Stoneman and Mrs. Marshall Symmes reported on the highlights of the State D.A.R. Conference held March 14 - 15 at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel, Boston. On Thursday morning, the "Good Citizen Girls" were addressed by Rev. Charles R. Joy, Newton Highlands and Mrs. Russell Magna, honorary president general of the National Society, D.A.R. Some 221 high school senior girls who have won D.A.R. Good Citizen pins were guests at a luncheon at the Hotel Vendome and later visited the State House to meet Gov. Furcolo and to observe a session of the State Legislature. In the afternoon a memorial service was conducted by the state chaplain followed by an address by Charles Gibbons, former speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

Plans for the Annual Spring Dance, April 27, were announced by Mrs. Kingman Cass and tickets are now on sale. Music will be furnished by Herbie Sulkin's Orchestra. Any friends of the D.A.R. are invited to attend. Kindly call Mrs. Cass, WInchester 6-0228 for tickets. Proceeds from this dance go to Hillside School for boys at Marlborough, Mass., and other philanthropic work of the chapter.

Mrs. Harry D. Locke announced plans for the annual meeting and luncheon to be held April 22, at the Colonial, Lynnfield. Members desiring to go should make reservations with Mrs. Locke, WInchester 6-1242-W not later than April 14.

Linda Branneman, the "Good Citizen Girl" of Winchester High School, read a paper on "Youth Defines Patriotism," meaning love of country, devotion to the welfare of one's country, an association of ideas—youth and the flag; youth and religion; youth and the future. Patriotism springs from the deepest emotions, our flag is its symbol.

After the meeting, the new members were welcomed by the chapter. Tea was served by Mrs. John Wills and her committee with Mrs. Marshall Symmes serving as pourer.

CHILDREN'S OWN SCHOOL NEWS

Several affairs of interest have been held during the school year for the benefit of the Children's Own School, with others scheduled to take place during the spring.

A delightful Chinese dinner party was held in December, Mr. and Mrs. William Herron, of 7 Central street, graciously opening their home for the occasion. Mrs. Ming Chen prepared a delicious dinner of choice Chinese dishes, ably assisted by members of the Parents' Committee, including Mr. Ming Chen, Mrs. David Chipman, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Goldberg, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Tucker. Mr. and Mrs. J. Norton Kidder were hosts at cocktails before the dinner hour.

On February 21, an unusual exhibition of Chinese handcrafts, etc., was held at the School. The older children took part in some of the arrangements, making posters and decorations, this being a part of their studies concerning the country of origin of one of their fellow pupils.

There were excellent loan exhibits of pictures, scrolls, lovely embroideries, linens, as well as stamps, coins and photographs. Chinese tea and rice wafers were served during the afternoon.

A Rummage Sale will take place at the School this evening, from 8 to 10 o'clock. Clothing for children and adults, books, toys and a wide variety of household items—old and new—will be on display for eager bargain hunters. Coffee will be available, also!

Plans are under way for a special children's party to be given later in the spring and a gay party for grown-ups near the close of the school year.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Serieka of Middlesex street attended the college basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden in New York last week-end. During the week-end they also attended a dinner and get-together of the Dads' Club of Xavier University, Cincinnati, Ohio, where their son, Edward ("Jocko") former Winchester football star, is a member of the sophomore class.

OLD EAGLE SUGAR BOWLER TO SPEAK

Rev. Edmund Parker has announced that Rev. George S. Kerr, former Boston College All American football star who was one of the guards on the famous B. C. Sugar Bowl eleven of 1940, will be the speaker at the high school boys' and girls' communion breakfast at St. Mary's Hall on Sunday morning, March 24.

More than 300 high school boys and girls are expected to attend the 7:45 mass at St. Mary's on that day and to receive communion. The breakfast will follow the mass and those who have heard Father Kerr, one of the best linemen of his day in college ranks, promise a rare treat for all young people who attend.

"I BELIEVE IN JESUS" SUBJECT AT METHODIST CHURCH

The coming Sunday marks the third Sunday in Lent at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will present a request sermon.

In presenting the subject, "I Believe In Jesus," Rev. Snook will seek to answer three important questions, namely, "Who Is Jesus?" "What Was He Like?" "Why do I Believe In Him?"

Members and friends of the community are extended a continual welcome to these Lenten services.

FASHION SHOW

"A LOVELIER YOU"

Florence Crittenton's Annual Event will show Fashions from Town and Country, Silver Slipper, Loralane, and Peck and Peck.

As a change of pace for this year's show, models will be Winchester's own "Fair Ladies," including: Lilla Abbott, Edith Peabody, Ruth Hutchinson, Rosalind Lynch, Mildred Bailey, Florence Collins, Trudy Irving, Jessie Brown, Evelyn Russell, Betty Anne Pritchard, Nancy Lanigan, Stephany Laird; and the following teen-agers, Sally Beal, Mary Alice Codding, Linda Branneman, Judy Dallin. Olga Wright will be the commentator.

There will be valuable door prizes including a $25.00 gift certificate from the House of Fashion.

Don't forget the date, Friday, March 29; at the First Congregational Church, Chidley Hall.

Delicious homemade desserts will be served at 1:30 p. m. before the Fashion Show. We hope to see not only members, but every woman interested in becoming "A Lovelier You!"

The price of admission $2.00, includes everything. Tickets may be purchased at the door or phone WInchester 6-0163 or WInchester 6-1007.

SENIOR FORUM

At the 9:30 a. m. Chapel Service next Sunday Forum will have as its guest speaker Mrs. Dwight L. Cart, wife of Dr. Cart, Minister of the First Congregational Church. Mrs. Cart is one of Forum's favorite speakers and her visits are always looked forward to with keen anticipation. Mrs. Cart brings to her message a wide understanding of young people, having for several years been active in church youth work and Girl Scouts in Massachusetts and Washington. Young people find in her a friendly concern for them as individuals and a sympathetic and helpful way of discussing their interests and problems. Her subject on Sunday will be "Faith Makes the Difference."

The chaplain this Sunday will be Linc Handford, assisted by Gordon Peil. The deacons will be Larry Templeman and Tim Reynolds; and ushers will be Donald Butters and Phil Nichols.

Rehearsals are in full swing for Forum's Dramatic Club presentation of "Dust of the Road," to be given at the March supper meeting. Dramatic chairmen Janet Monro and Bob Cooper have charge of this production.

By the middle of this week, sixty young people are signed up for the Spring Trip to Purity Springs, East Madison, N. H., in April. The Spring Trip Committee is planning a full schedule of activities for the three day period. Special interest is being shown in the many recreational facilities at the resort and the Recreation Chairman for the Outing is Doug Gowdy.

To help meet expenses of the Spring Trip, Forum is planning a Food Sale, to be held in one of the down town stores on Saturday, April 6.

MEETING OF ANTIQUES GROUP

The charm and beauty of early American fabrics, and the excellent copies of these materials available at modest prices today, was the topic of Mr. Leonard Pimentel of Leonard's Interiors, Burlington, when he spoke Tuesday evening before the March meeting of the Antiques Study Group in the Edgar Rich Room of the Library. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blake presided, with Mr. John Thornton chairman of programs.

Mr. Pimentel, who has studied at Williamsburg and who has made a hobby as well as a profession of the wonderful world of fabrics, first showed his audience swatches of materials, from simple cotton which will wear the longest, to the cotton combinations, and on to the fabulous silk imports from France. He showed slides of actual rooms in the various museum homes where these materials were in use, where the beautiful copies of old fabrics fitted in suitably with antiques. Most of his sample materials were actual copies of old fabrics—and many of them could be shown, by slides, as now used in the museums. The sildes Mr. Pimentel had taken—and he professed to be an amateur!—gave his listeners an exciting journey into Williamsburg, Monticello, Schuyler Mansion, mansions of Salem and Newburyport, where all types of furnishings and fabrics could be seen to supplement the material Mr. Pimentel described.

In May, the Antiques Study Group plans an evening meeting and Hobby Show for its members and invited guests at the Royal House (kitchen and slave quarters).

TO PARTICIPATE IN COST FORUM

Two residents of Winchester, Clinton W. Bennett of 10 Everell road, and Rae D. Anderson of 4 Ox Pasture, are participating in the annual spring cost forum of Boston Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants to be held at Harvard April 4 and 5.

Mr. Anderson will take part in a panel discussion on "Providing Cost Information for Determining Profits," which will be one of the topics covered by the forum under the main theme of "Modern Techniques in Cost Accounting."

Mr. Bennett will be the speaker on one of the topics under the outline, "Uses of Cost Information and Ways of Developing It."

Town Meeting Authorizes Pay Raises

Winchester's annual town meeting got under way at the Memorial Auditorium of the high school last Thursday evening when 193 of the 225 Limited Town Meeting members completed the first six of an exceptionally long warrant of 73 articles, and got part way through the long Article 7 dealing with departmental budgets.

Following the recent custom of opening the meeting with prayer, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the First Congregational Church, made the invocation.

Rep. Harrison Chadwick presided as moderator and preceding the meeting spoke briefly of his belief that Winchester stands in need of attracting new light industry to town to provide new tax revenue and also needs another apartment house, not only for the revenue it will bring but to provide suitable small living units for elderly persons who are no longer able to, or desirous of maintaining a larger home.

The usually innocuous Article I, dealing with reports of Committees, provided material for a brisk debate over the proposal of the Finance Committee incorporated in a sense of the meeting motion that the compensation for owners of private cars used in the transaction of town business be standardized at 8c a mile.

Mr. Broadhurst, chairman of the Finance Committee, had barely made the sense of the meeting motion, when Mr. Elliott of the Assessors was striding toward the microphone to express his, and his board's objection.

He explained that a flat mileage rate didn't work out in the case of the assessors whose driving is highly concentrated and who might drive around all afternoon while covering less than ten miles.

Mr. Elliott also felt that the flat rate wasn't fair to the Board of Public Welfare, members of which run the risk of having the interiors of their cars subjected to "nonconforming" use while transporting welfare cases here and there.

Mr. McCreery of the Board of Public Welfare felt that a lot more study and exchange of ideas are necessary before any flat rate like 8c, or 8½c can be determined upon. Mr. Saltmarsh bespoke the Selectmen's feeling that some action about the use of private cars by town officials should be taken, and Mr. Wadsworth brought Mr. Elliott again to his feet when he asked if those who use their private cars for town business want to make money out of such use.

Rather more than half an hour had been consumed by this discussion when the original sense of the meeting vote was amended to delete the words 8¢ a mile. It was then voted to establish some uniform system of reimbursement of town officials for the use of their cars for town business.

In his remarks during the meeting Mr. Broadhurst explained something of the new presentation of budgetary figures for acceptance by the town meeting members and paid high tribute to the work of the Fiscal Survey Committee who have worked out a system whereby department heads provide the Finance Committee with departmental expenditures and requests on a uniform basis, greatly aiding the Finance Committee in its arriving at opinions, while also making available to any resident all the financial steps and items that go into the preparation of town departmental budget.

Mr. Broadhurst reminded the town meeting members of the affect of undue generosity on the tax rate, explained that following the Finance Committee's recommendations would result in a raise in the rate from last year's $49.60 to $54.60, or possible $56.20.

Mr. Crockett had no difficulty in getting the Personnel Board's proposals through the meeting. Previous to his remarks and before the votes on his motions were taken the Finance Committee and Selectmen paid high tribute to the effectiveness of the job the Personnel Board has done, a job that has made the Winchester wage and personnel schedule the envy of many neighboring communities.

Mr. Crockett presented to the meeting on behalf of the Personnel Board three motions, all of which were accepted by a voice vote. In fact there wasn't a polled vote all evening.

The first motion provides for a Personnel Board to be established as a central authority for personnel problems, wage and salary adjustments and job classification. The Board is to consist of five members to be appointed by the Moderator, two members for three years, two members for two years and a single member for one year. All subsequent appointments are to be for three year terms to provide for a rotating Board. One member of the Board is to be appointed from the Finance Committee and one is to be a town employee.

Mr. Crockett's second motion provides for the amendment of the wage and salary scale of 1950 to establish maximum and minimum limits for the following employees:

Workmen's compensation agent, minimum. $611; maximum, $962
Police and Fire Chiefs, maximum, $6,100
Accountant, minimum, $4,600; maximum, $5,600
Parking meter maintenance man, weekly, $29.34
Assistant Water Superintendent, minimum, $3,800; maximum, $4,800
Sanitarian (Board of Health), minimum, $3,800; maximum, $4,600

Mr. Crockett's third motion provides a six percent increase in pay, or $250 a year, whichever is higher, or in the case of hourly workers, 12¢ an hour increase, effective April 1, 1957. School, welfare and recreation workers are exempted from the provisions of the motion, the acceptance of which added $54,600 to appropriations, and more than $1.00 to the tax rate.

In expressing the approval of the Finance Committee of the wage increase, Mr. Broadhurst said the committee was particularly pleased with the increase because it is especially beneficial to the low salaried employees, who have generally been paid at a lower scale than elsewhere. The scale for the town's middle and upper bracket employees has been generally good, he said.

Two brushes occurred under the consideration of Article 7, Mr. Hewis questioning the greater cost by $500 of printing the town reports without the Assessors List over the old reports which included the assessments.

Mr. Saltmarsh and Mr. Dolan of the Selectmen could answer him only in generalities and at the request of Mr. Dolan further consideration of the Selectmen's budget was postponed until he should be able to answer the question exactly.

More discussion occurred under consideration of the Town Hall budget, where the difference between $20,000 requested for the repair of the town hall tower under a special article and the $4,500 recommended for the same purpose under the Finance Committee recommendation was questioned.

Mr. Broadhurst explained that the difference resulted from the fact that a roofing expert had been found to make an examination of the tower and repair it permanently from a bos'n's chair for $4,500, as opposed to the $20,000 asked by another contractor to erect stagings for examination and repair.

Upon the motion of Mr. Lane the meeting adjourned until Monday evening, March 18, with subsequent meetings to be on Thursday and Monday evenings.

VOLPE PREDICTS NEW INDUSTRIAL CONSTRUCTION

John A. Volpe of Winchester, former Federal Highway Administrator, predicted Tuesday that as a direct result of the new Federal highway program Massachusetts "will have many hundreds of millions of dollars of new industrial construction and its by-products within the next ten years."

Speaking at a meeting of the Massachusetts Building Congress at the University Club in Boston, Mr. Volpe stated, "Although some will look upon this highway program as simply a public works project for the construction of thousands of miles of roadway, history will record it as one of the greatest economic influences of this century.

"Building construction," he said, follows in the wake of new highways. Our own Route 128 is being used as an example of this all over the country."

Mr. Volpe last month returned to his duties as president of the John A. Volpe Construction Company in Malden, following his interim appointment as the nation's first Federal Highway Administrator. Immediately previous to this appointment he served as Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Works.

Mr. Volpe summarized the work done by his department during his 100 days in Washington when he set up the nation's 50 billion dollar road building program, and explained the functioning of the new Federal grants to state highway systems.

He urged his audience to serve willingly in public service whenever called upon to do so, stating, "There are a great many fine people in public service, and honest men can serve in public life without jeopardizing their principles. I am sure, Mr. Volpe said, "That you will derive a great deal of seifsatisfaction in rendering service to your fellow-man."

NEW AUTO SALES STUNT!

A new stunt to sell automobiles has appeared and is spreading throughout the country. It is a chain selling scheme. A prospect is informed that he can get a car free or at a discount by steering other customers into the showroom. For every one of these customers who buys a car, the original prospect gets $100 off on his new car. The person referred, in turn, is offered the same deal, and for each additional buyer this person gets, the original buyer receives an additional $50. As is usual in chain letter and similar schemes, some people are getting stuck.

This same scheme is being used to sell TVs, home freezers and other products to a surprising number of gullible consumers. People lacking sufficient funds are tricked into entering the scheme only to be stuck with most of all of the cost of a product they cannot afford.

The Post Office Department has held that any literature on the plan or advertising of such schemes would be unmailable as "an endless chain scheme, the operation of which conflicts with the postal lottery and fraud laws."

TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

The next regular meeting of the Winchester Toastmistress Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Anne Pyne, 5 Blaisdell road, Medford, on Tuesday, March 26, at 7:45 p. m.

Scheduled as speakers for the evening are Mrs. Florence Durrant and Mrs. Ivy Harris. Miss Edna Brownell will be Toastmistress, Mrs. Anne Pyne and Mrs. Bernice Lankharst will be Evaluators and Mrs. Mary Zeldin will be Topicmistress.

SECOND MEETING COMPLETES BUDGETS

He questioned any savings in labor through the Gradall, in fact felt that more labor would be used to supplement the Gradall than without it. He also questioned the upkeep costs which he said members of his family who own such machines have found nearer $2500 a year than $600. He also stated that the men who operate the machine command a very high rate of pay.

Mr. Rotondi did not oppose the purchase of the Gradall but felt it might be better to wait until a smaller model is produced more suitable for the needs of the town. He said the size of the Gradall will block most in-town streets, is too slow on snow removal and not good for loading.

Mr. Broadhurst, in bespeaking the Finance Committee's approval of the purchase of the Gradall, stated that the machine will save the town money by obviating the continual hiring of new personnel, of temporary personnel and in overtime. He estimated the machine would save one-sixth of its cost in the first year, and informed the meeting that the constant increase in personal services accounts for $2,000,000 of the town's $3,000,000 budget being expended under that heading.

Mr. Tansey, while not opposing the purchase of the Gradall, asked the meeting if the town should go into the use of machines to the complete exclusion of the summer jobs for Winchester boys attempting through such labor to work their way through college.

The meeting supported the Selectmen and Finance Committee in the purchase of the Gradall, the $259,039 appropriated for Highways containing the $30,400 necessary for its purchase.

The Finance Committee continued to command the support of the meeting in the discussion under the deferred budget of the Public Welfare Department.

Under this budget Mr. McCreery, chairman of the Board of Public Welfare, sought to increase the $9,873.75 recommended by the Finance Committee to $10,715.75 to enable the Board to pay its employees a wage equivalent to that of other town employees receiving the 6 percent increase voted at the opening session.

Mr. McCreery explained that Welfare Department employees are paid according to the compensation scale established by the State, which in this instance is less than the other town employees are receiving with the 6 percent increase. It seemed best, he said, to accept the State compensation scale at the time that the town set up its wage and job analysis structure, and that the present attempt to pay the Welfare workers a wage equal to other town employees is not an attempt to play both ends and the middle.

Mr. Broadhurst emphasized the fact that the Welfare Department had chosen to remain under State compensation standards rather than accept the town wage scale when it was set up. He also said that State increases in wages resulted in an increase of $650, or 5 percent, before Mr. McCreery offered his amendment.

Mr. Broadhurst added that Winchester's welfare employees are not required to do more work than those of other communities and that adding the town wage increase to that offered by the State would lift the employees of the department above those elsewhere in comparable cities and towns. He felt that the Welfare Department should pay its employees either by town or by State standards, but not by both.

Mr. Hewis asked if the $842 increase in the Welfare appropriation would work a severe financial hardship on the town, and Mr. Broadhurst replied that it was not dollars, but principle which caused the Finance Committee to oppose the McCreery amendment.

The meeting supported the Finance Committee, Mr. McCreery's amendment was lost and the original $9,873.75 recommended by the Finance Committee was appropriated.

Under the deferred School Department budget of $1,232,980, Mr. Kelly explained that the $140,000 increase over last year was largely due to personal services. Included is the cost of a full year of the $450 pay raise voted last year for teachers across the board, $6,000 in new step-rate increases this year and $45,000 for nine new teachers engaged.

Mr. Kelly explained that the School Committee began its deliberations with the Finance Committee much earlier this year than usual and as the result of the joint deliberations felt its budget has been trimmed to its lowest possible terms. In order to maintain its good teachers and attract new teachers of the ability desired the School committee has established two additional step-rate increases for teachers, the first of which will go into effect next September.

This step-rate increase will add $224 to all teachers at the maximum with bachelors' degrees. The following year a second step-rate increase will add $224 to teachers on maximum with masters' degrees.

Mr. Broadhurst gave the Finance Committee's blessing to the School Department's budget and took more credit for the two $224 step-rate increases than Mr. Littleton thought proper, this gentleman informing the meeting in very positive fashion that the new increases are due to the School Committee with little thanks to the Finance Committee. He was especially eager that any teachers present at the meeting keep this firmly in mind.

Under the School Athletics account Mr. Kelly explained an increase in the appropriation from $1,500 to $7500 by saying that this is a revolving account and that the money obtained from high school athletics goes into it to defray expenses of equipment and running high school sports.

Much of the revenue is from football and money is not available until mid-October, and the Town Accountant has found it bad accounting practice to have practically nothing in the Athletic Fund to pay necessary bills until the football season rolls around, especially when the receipts may fluctuate with the success of the local team and particularly with the place where the annual Woburn game is played.

Aside from Mr. Cullen and Mr. Hewis unsuccessfully trying to have the addition to the Athletic Fund taken from the Excess and Deficiency account there was no debate and the larger figure was voted.

Mr. Hewis took the floor under the Interest on Temporary Loans item, to berate the Finance Committee, town officers generally and the town meeting members for not listening to him a year ago when he predicted that the amount appropriated under this would prove insufficient and the resulting lack of funds cause some embarrassment later in the year. He made no motion under the article and the meeting accepted the $8,750 recommended by the Finance Committee.

The final budget considered was that of the Water Department, and Mr. Dwinell in speaking on the motion to appropriate $172,495 under this account explained that acceptance of the budgetary expenditure would imply acceptance of special Water Department items inserted under the special articles of the warrant.

He stated that the Water Commissioners had been charged with securing a new source of water supply and with the rehabilitating of the present water system, an engineering study authorized by the town having shown these things to be absolutely necessary.

An increase of 51 percent in those using water with a consumption increase of 40 percent, together with the fact that the town's water mains are functioning at about 40 percent normal capacity all point to the soundness of the advice of the engineering experts engaged.

Winchester, Mr. Dwinell said, is currently using a million gallons of water a day and in eight years time it is estimated the consumption will be 3,000,000 gallons daily.

The town's system of reservoirs is not going to be adequate to meet this demand and the West Side well field is good only for an auxiliary supply in cases of emergency.

The Water Commissioners, after exploring increased water possibilities, came to the decision that the only practical and legal way for the town to secure sufficient additional water is to join the Metropolitan system.

For some time now the Commissioners have been conferring with the Metropolitan authorities in an attempt to arrive at an agreement satisfactory to both the state and town. The agreement was not, he said, easy to arrive at, but at last both sides have agreed and the town has especially gotten what the Water Commissioners felt it should have.

Under the agreement the town will construct a 24-inch pipe line to the Spot Pond reservoir of the Metropolitan water system only 2250 feet distant from the town's Middle Reservoir and build a pumping station to get the extra supply of water from the pond to the Middle Reservoir.

In addition to this new source of supply the program of cleaning and augmenting the present system will continue until the system once again is on an efficient basis.

Under the agreement with the Metropolitan the town is permitted to take water as it wishes, with a minimum, which it is almost sure to need. Mr. Dwinell explained this is important because the water we take from our own reservoirs costs $20 per million gallons, while that from the Metropolitan will cost $80.

Mr. Dwinell said the connection with the Metropolitan will cost the town $16,000 a year for ten years, the pipes connecting the Middle Reservoir with Spot Pond and the construction of the pumping station will cost $90,000, and the equipment for the pumping station will add $26,000, part of which will be taken from the Excess and Deficiency Account and a part from water surplus.

There was practically no opposition to the Water Commissioner's plans. Mr. Ault favored the whole project except that he did not want the water system extended into Johnson road. Mr. Dwinell explained that the pipes are already in the road and Mr. Halwartz, in reply to a question, stated that already several houses there are without adequate fire protection.

Mr. Cullen wanted to know if it would be possible to pump the spring overflow from the Middle Reservoir into Spot Pond and sell the extra water to the Metropolitan. Mr. Dwinell replied quite frankly that he did not know, the question being of a technical engineering nature which he could not answer.

Mr. Broadhurst bespoke the Finance Committee's blessing of the Water Commissioner's plans and complimented them highly on a fine bit of research and negotiation. The tired delegates then voted the $172,495 recommended under the budget and adjourned until Thursday, March 21.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
LAND COURT
No. 24227 Misc.
(SEAL) IN EQUITY
To GEORGE A. SALTMARSH, SHERMAN W. SALTMARSH, ROGER W. SALTMARSH and LUCY MARGUERITE SALTMARSH, of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; PAUL BARRON WATSON, Jr., of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, surviving executor under the will of PAUL BARRON WATSON; ELIZABETH E. REYNOLDS, now or formerly of said Winchester, or her heirs, devisees or legal representatives:
GREETING:
Whereas a suit in equity has been begun against you in our Land Court, by FRANK X. BEES and BERNADINE D. BEES of said Winchester:
We command you, if you intend to make any defense, that on the first Monday of May next, which Monday is the return day of this subpoena, or within such further time as the law allows, you do cause your written appearance to be entered and your written answer or other lawful pleading to be filed in the office of the recorder of said court at Boston in the County of Suffolk, and further that you defend against said suit according to law, if you intend to make any defense, and that you do and receive what the court shall order, adjudge and decree therein.
Hereof fail not, at your peril, as otherwise said suit may be adjudged, and orders and decrees entered therein, in your absence.
The plaintiffs allege to be the owners of certain land on Myrtle Terrace in said Winchester; that in the chain of title affecting said property there appears a mortgage running from GEORGE A. SALTMARSH to ELIZABETH E. REYNOLDS, dated November 18, 1902 and duly recorded in Book 3003, Page 597, in which it is stated that the premises were free from all incumbrances except a balance of $1500 due on a mortgage held by PAUL BARRON WATSON to be paid by grantee within one month from date; that there appears of record no mortgage in favor of the said PAUL BARRON WATSON; and there further appears in the chain of title a deed running from SALTMARSH to REYNOLDS, dated November 22, 1902 and duly recorded in Book 3006, Page 213, in which the conveyance stated that mortgages were to be discharged as a part of this transaction, and that through inadvertence and mutual mistake between the parties, the words "of record" were omitted from said clause, and praying that the Court find that the allegation contained above in regard to the mortgage is no longer in force and effect, and that said deed be reformed by adding the words "of record."
And it appearing to the Court upon the suggestion of the plaintiffs that the whereabouts of some of the defendants are unknown and they cannot actually be served with process, it is ORDERED that notice be given by publishing a copy of this order once each week for three successive weeks in the Winchester Star, a newspaper published in said Winchester, the last publication to be one month at least before the said Monday of May next.
Witness, John E. Fenton, Judge of our Land Court, the twenty-sixth day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven.
Sybil H. Holmes, Recorder.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same hour as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thomson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

Man's God-given dominion over material laws of sickness and limitation will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.
Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" will include the following from Isaiah (33:20,22): "Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken . . . For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (380:32-1): "Every law of matter or the body, supposed to govern man, is rendered null and void by the law of Life, God."
The Golden Text is from Colossians (3:2): "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth."

THREE CAR CRASH

A three-car crash occured at Symmes corner Saturday, when Donald M. MacLeod of Nashua, N. H., drove his car the wrong way around the rotary.
Approaching the rotary from the south on Main street, he went to the left of the rotary rather than to the right, and struck head on an auto driven by Joseph Casey, Jr., of Woburn. He was driving south on Main street.
Another auto, driven by Francis P. O'Boyle of Malden, which was behind Casey, was also struck, but was able to leave under its own power. The other two cars were towed from the scene.

SWANTON STREET ACCIDENT

An accident on Swanton street near the intersection of Florence street involved James J. McGrath of 14 Perkins road and Robert C. Crockett of 203 Highland avenue Saturday morning.
McGrath said he was driving west on Swanton street and collided with Crockett's car which was going in the opposite direction. Crockett explained that he had just turned onto Swanton street from Florence street and hit the other car while avoiding a parked car.

Mr. Robert C. Deroo, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Deroo, Jr., of 3 Dana avenue, has just been named to the President's Honor Roll at Burdett College, Boston, for excellence of achievement in his studies for the first semester. The Burdett Honor Roll is a small group, in conformance with the high standards of scholastic excellence in business training established and maintained by this New England institution since 1879. Mr. Deroo is a freshman student in the School of Business Administration, majoring in Accounting.

VOLPE CHAPEL DEDICATED

More than 400 persons attended the dedication of the new Volpe chapel of Don Orione Home for Aged Italians in East Boston last Saturday morning when Archbishop Cushing blessed the chapel and celebrated the first mass. The chapel was given by former Federal Road Administrator John A. Volpe of Everett avenue in memory of his father, Vito. At the chapel were, left to right: Fr. Gaetano Piccinini of Sons of Divine Providence; Fr. Louis Toma, pastor, St. Lazarus Church of East Boston; Judge Vincent Brogna, chairman of board, Don Orione Home; Archbishop Richard J. Cushing; John A. Volpe; and Mrs. Vito Volpe and Mrs. John Volpe. Leading public officials, leaders of Sons of Italy and church dignitaries attended the dedication. Volpe headed the two fund drives sponsored by Sons of Italy for the construction of the Don Orione Home several years ago.

PLANNING FOR UNITED RED FEATHER DRIVE

Winchester's Austin Broadhurst was among presidents of 22 community chests and community councils in Greater Boston which have raised funds and participated in planning for 163 local health and social services, who met last week to learn how the new United Fund would affect their future operations.

A. H. Parker, Jr., president of United Community Services, outlined present plans at the luncheon meeting held at the United Community Services building, 14 Somerset street, Boston. These plans to date embrace hopes that the unified drive to be held next fall would raise substantially more money for participants than all of them brought in, in their last campaigns.

"A United Fund is being organized in Boston for two reasons," Mr. Parker said.

"First, the public, desiring relief from the pressures of assisting in and recruiting workers for multiple drives, wanted and demanded it. Secondly, it is expected, from records achieved by United Fund campaigns in other cities, that such a drive will provide a better level of support for agencies it supports, and at the same time, raise money enough for establishing new services in areas where they are needed for the over-all welfare of the Greater Boston community," Mr. Parker explained.

Both Mr. Parker and O. Kelley Anderson, chairman of the United Fund Campaign, formerly of Winchester, stressed that local community chests would not cease to function, but, like UCS itself, would probably give up their campaign function and concentrate in the future on planning and budgeting the money raised.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

On Tuesday afternoon, March 12, the Mothers' Association of the George Washington School enjoyed a pupil-teacher demonstration of creative arts. The president, Mrs. Roland Hanson, opened the program and then turned it over to Miss Rich, the school principal, who served as announcer.

Miss Jeanne Loudon, Assistant Music Supervisor, directed the sixth grade choral group and one of the selections was an original song composed by the group with lyrics written by John Lindsay, a sixth grade pupil.

Selections were then played by members of the beginners and advanced voilin class under the direction of Mr. Theodore Janner. Four of these selections were written and arranged by the following members of the group: Deborah Hancock, Mary Ann Johnson, Deborah Nichols and Richard Stiles.

The school band, directed by Mr. Fred Murray, was next on the program and played "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Mammy's Little Baby Loves Shortening Bread" and "Our Director."

Pupils from the fifth grade, instructed by Mr. Alfred Meurling, demonstrated square dancing with the lively dance, "Just Because."

Miss Rich then explained to the mothers how creative arts are important in preparing the student for high school work and also that they are a form of communication and emotional release.

Miss Virginia French, art supervisor, gave an interesting talk on the teaching of art, explaining the various forms of materials used and the ways in which the children are guided in art work without losing their originality. An exhibit of work done by the pupils in classroom instructions was displayed in the school auditorium and included paintings, illustrations of stories, puppets, poems, stories and ceramics. All classes were represented from kindergarten through the sixth grade.

This interesting program was planned by Mrs. Walter Hutchinson, program chairman, incooperation with Miss Rich.

Following the program, refreshments were served by the social committee with Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Howard Nichols pouring.

MISS MUNCASTER COMMITTEE MEMBER

Judith Muncaster of Oak Park, formerly of Winchester, was a member of the committee which produced the third annual Book Fair held recently on the campus of Lasell Junior College, Auburndale, Mass.

In addition to a large exhibit of current American publishing, the two-day affair featured appearances by Miss Helen Fay, book consultant to the "New York Times" and Mrs. Emily P. Flint, managing editor of the "Atlantic Monthly."

Miss Muncaster, a Retailing major at Lasell, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Muncaster, 240 Washington boulevard, Oak Park, formerly of Myrtle terrace.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

On Monday afternoon, March 25, members and guests will have the pleasure and privilege of hearing Mrs. Marian T. Rudkin discuss 'Bits from the Best Books." For this particular meeting the guest fee is slightly higher. Also, tickets of visiting members from other clubs in the Federation will not be honored.

A large attendance is expected, Mrs. Rudkin always gives a delightful resume of interesting books. The meeting will be held in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church as usual at 2:00 p. m.

LITTLE LEAGUE DADS' CLUB ELECTS

A meeting of the Winchester Little League Dads' Club held in the Lincoln School Auditorium resulted in a good showing of dads who were interested in the 1957 program for their boys.

The meeting, presided over by the club's founder and president, Warren C. Hichborn, was brief and informative. The purposes of the Dads' Club were outlined and a report of its accomplishments were outlined which included:

Providing dads to assist with tryouts

Providing dads to assist with tag day

Procurement and rebuilding of a concession stand

Procurement of equipment to rope off the playing field

Providing of bat racks for the major league

Providing of men to handle scoring of games

Providing transportation and assistance for homecoming of the all-star team

Providing for taking all major league personnel to a Red Sox game at Fenway Park

A nomination and election of officers was held and the following were elected for the coming year:

President—Gordon Bird
Vice pres.—James Fitzgerald
Secretary—George Snelling
Treasurer—Dr. Amos Guarente (re-elected)

The new officers then called for volunteers to assist in this year's program. The following were gratefully accepted: ohn Sexton, Bob Grenzeback, Ray Chase, John Lynch, Bill Gustin, Leslie J. Herzog, Ralph M. Atkinson, N. J. Grady, Thomas Foley, Anthony Silvestri, Frank Frongello, James J. Russo, Bill Cruwys, Jim Norris, Leo Ford, S. L. Horne, C. W. Barnes, Nat Tonello, Nick Luongo, Joe Tansey, Gene Lane, Roger Griffin, Hazen Jonah, John McIntyre, Lee Foster, Col. W. B. Jones, Ralph T. Colliander, Gordon Bird, Jim Fitzgerald, Dr. Amos Guarente, George Snelling.

There is still a need for a few more scorers and men to assist at tryouts as well as assistant coaches. Anyone interested who will help in these positions should call Gordon Bird for details.

An open forum with questions and answers relative to the new expanded Little League program was most informative and contained some excellent suggestions which will be conveyed to the governing board.

Thanks were expressed for the fine support and assistance given by the Dads' Club last year, and it already appears that this year's officers and membership are out to better that work in every respect. There is very little time required of any individual, and all Little League dads are urged to offer their support to assure a successful season for their boys. If you were unable to attend this meeting, please call and give your name to Gordon Bird, president, at WInchester 6-2481.

MOVE TO ABOLISH POSTAL SAVINGS

Hearings began on a bill to abolish the postal savings system. It was created in 1910 because of a lack of public confidence in private banks after the panic of 1907.

Postmaster General Summerfield testified that the service "no longer meets today's social conditions and savings habits." He added, "Furthermore, it is desirable that the government withdraw from competitive private business at every point." The Postmaster General's position was supported by the Treasury Department and the General Accounting Office. The Second Hoover Commission also recommended abolishing the postal savings system.

With the elimination of this business activity from the government, it is hoped that a study now underway by the Budget Bureau (Wash. Bul., Feb. 21, 1957) will result in the elimination of envelope printing by the Post Office Department.

DO YOU KNOW MASSACHUSETTS?

STATE EMPLOYMENT UP 15,000

There were 15,000 more employees in Massachusetts during January than a year ago, estimated jointly by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and the Massachusetts Dept. of Labor and Industries. In manufacturing the number was 7,700 less than a year ago, a loss of 1.1%. Manufacturing production payroll was off only 0.4% from January last year because average weekly earnings per wage worker increased to $73.47, a gain of $1.84.

Important industrial centers reporting average weekly earnings of factory wage earners above $80 in January were: Lynn $94.02, Everett $93.25, Pittsfield $92.34, Chicopee $88.70, Beverly $86.14, Worcester $84.84, West Springfield $84.45, Springfield $82.32, Peabody $82.68, Fitchburg $81.08 and Quincy $80.44.

Industrial Power

Massachusetts manufacturers in January used 1.1% more electric current than a year ago, as shown by reports from principal electric systems and companies generating their own current. There were 22 working days in January this year compared with 21 in January 1956. Industries showing the most increase in January were printing and publishing, machinery except electrical, food, the miscellaneous group, electrical machinery, fabricated metals, rubber products and chemicals.

Public Employees

A tabulation by the U. S. Department of Commerce reports that in October 1956 there were 226,401 public employees in Massachusetts, of whom 59,632 were civilian Federal employees, 34,532 state employees and 132,237 municipal employees. Massachusetts stood 17th from highest among the state in number of Federal civilian employees per 10,000 population, 30th in number of state employees and 8th in number of municipal employees per 10,000 residents.

Master Planning Continues to Grow

The Massachusetts Department of Commerce reports applications are being assembled for eight towns to prepare Master Plans under Title VII, Section 701 of the Housing Act of 1954. The towns involved are Ashland, Bedford, Milton, North Reading, Norwell, Mansfield, Randolph and Dover.

These communities will await Federal approval, then proceed with Master Plan studies with a professional consultant doing the actual planning work. This brings the total that have filed application to 42 municipalities.

FIRST CHURCH MEN'S CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church will be held on Tuesday evening, March 26. The meeting will be held in Chidley Hall and will be preceded by a catered dinner at 6:30. Reservations for the dinner can be made by calling Mr. Joseph Hall at WInchester 6-1211.

The Men's Club is fortunate to have Dr. Nicola Abdo Ziadeh as speaker and he will discuss the current crisis in the Middle East. Dr. Ziadeh is Associate Professor of Arab History at the American University of Beirut, Lebanon, and is presently visiting professor at Harvard University. Dr. Ziadeh was born in Damascus and studied at Arab College, Jerusalem and at the University of London from which he received his Bachelor degree in 1939 and his Doctor degree in 1950. Most of Dr. Ziadeh's life has been spent teaching in Palestine and Beirut, so he will come to speak to the Club with an intimate knowledge of the countries involved in today's crisis. He understands the people of these countries and therefor is able to evaluate justly their problems. He is the author of more than twelve books in his native Arabic concerning the problems of this troubled area. He has also published several books in English, the latest of which, "Syria and Lebanon," was just published in London on March 13.

Dr. Ziadeh is obviously one of the future leaders of the entire Middle Eastern area. His timely subject is certain to be enlightening to everyone and all who are able and urged to take advantage of the opportunity to hear this outstanding speaker.

ENROLLED AT CAMBRIDGE CENTER

Claire Curtis, 36 Oneida road; Mrs. John I. Donovan, 5 Lakeview road; Sally Jackson, 212 Main street; Mrs. Joseph T. McCauley, 19 Lakeview road; Mrs. Robert Nyere, 4 Squanto road; and Mrs. John A. Volpe, 10 Everett avenue; are among early registrants from Winchester in spring courses at the Cambridge Center of Adult Education.

A spring open house will be held by the Center Tuesday, March 26, from 7:00 to 9:30 p. m., at the Center's home, historic Brattle House, near Harvard square.

The Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is among the leaders of group discussions at the State-wide conference for older Baptist youth of more than 300 churches being held today and tomorrow at the Congregational Conference Center in Framingham.

JOHN G. McELWEE

WINS JOHN HANCOCK PROMOTION

John G. McElwee of Winchester was elected an assistant secretary of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company at a meeting of the board of directors last week.

Mr. McElwee, a graduate of Boston College Law School, joined the Company in 1945, following outstanding service in the U. S. Naval Air Corps. He rose rapidly to methods analyst, senior methods analyst and was appointed administrative assistant in 1951.

A native of Bannantyne, Scotland, he grew up in Brookline, Mass., and attended Boston College from 1939 to 1942. He left at the end of his junior year to enter the service, and, following commissioning as an ensign, was assigned to the U.S.S. Hancock as a carrier base fighter.

He joined the John Hancock's administrative program in 1945 following separation from the service, and continued his academic training by attending Boston College Law School evenings, receiving his LL.B. degree in 1950.

Mr. McElwee has continued to take an active part in the Naval Reserve, as Commanding Officer of Jet Fighter Squadron 917. He is a member of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Toastmasters International, the Lexington Toastmasters, and the Big Brother Association of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. McElwee, the former Barbara Sullivan of Melrose, make their home at 1 Parker road.

MRS. CHARLOTTE G. JEALOUS

Committal services were held March 13 forenoon at Wildwood Cemetery for Mrs. Charlotte G. Jealous of 49 Alton place, Brookline, widow of Francis H. Jealous, whose family formerly lived on Cabot street in Winchester.

Mrs. Jealous died March 10, at her home in her 97th year. She was born in Berkeley, England, December 2, 1860, daughter of Octavius, and Mary Anne (Whitethorne) Long. She had lived for the past 26 years in Brookline, where she was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

She leaves three sons, Alwyne F. of Wellesley Hills, Lionel F. of Thomaston, Me., and William K. Jealous of Southport, Me.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 10 o'clock at St. Paul's Church, Brookline, with the rector, Rev. Murray W. Dewart, son of the former rector of the Church of the Epiphany, the late Murray W. Dewart, officiating.

EDITH ANN LADD

Edith Ann Ladd, infant daughter of Chester E., and Bernice (Taber) Ladd of 19 Chandler road, West Medford, died Wednesday, March 13, at the Children's Hospital in Boston. She was only nine days old.

Besides her parents, Edith leaves her grandfather, S. Walter Taber of Winchester and her great-grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Whitman, also of this town. She leaves an uncle, Walter W. Taber in Sao Paulo, Brazil. Her mother was until recently catalogue librarian at the Winchester Library.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at Beals Funeral Home in Medford with the Rev. Gordon W. Washburn of the West Medford Congregational Church officiating. Burial was in Puritan Lawn Cemetery, Peabody.

DARTMOUTH WOMEN'S CLUB

The Dartmouth Women's Club is holding a Dessert Bridge and Millinery Fashion Show on Friday, March 22, at one p. m. at the Fiske House, 146 Commonwealth avenue, Boston. An added feature will be many exciting and attractive door prizes.

The purpose of the Bridge is to raise money for the Dartmouth College Scholarship Fund.

Serving on the committee from Winchester are: Mrs. Clifford England, the Club's President and Mrs. Percy Gleason.

Mothers of Winchester boys now in Dartmouth College are especially welcome.

On its eight floors the Boston YWCA offers courses ranging from pottery to fishing to French.

KIWANIS SCHOLARSHIP MONTH

Kenneth F. Cullen, President of the Kiwanis Club of Winchester, announced today that Senior year students of all public, private, and parochial schools are urged to check with their school principals with regard to the annual New England Kiwanis Scholarship Awards.

These scholarships provide toward four years tuition in a college of the recipient's own choice. Basis for the awards are need, character, scholarship, and leadership qualities and these awards are made to outstanding young people in New England without regard to sex, race, creed, color, or national origin. Four new Kiwanis Scholarships are awarded each year.

Kiwanis Scholars from New England States are now attending the University of Massachusetts, University of Connecticut, University of Maine, University of New Hampshire, Bates College, M.I.T., and Providence College and are represented in each of the four college years. 1957 will mark the graduation of the first Kiwanis Senoiars.

Funds for these scholarships are derived from a foundation originated and administered by New England Kiwanis and supported by each of the 210 local clubs throughout the New England area.

We have a new line of gift wrappings and ribbons. Winchester Star. Star Building.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION AWARDS

Among the New England recipients of fellowship awards announced by the Foundation on March 15 was Frank B. Livingstone of 12 Chestnut street.

A 1946 graduate of Winchester High School, and of the class of 1950 at Harvard University, Mr. Livingstone is at the University of Michigan preparing his doctoral thesis in the field of anthropology. He spent a year in Africa, at the Liberian Institute of Tropical Medicine on a research grant from the United States Department of Public Health and Welfare, and plans to spend some further time in Africa on research with the post-doctoral fellowship award from the National Science Foundation.

LENTEN CANTATA AT THE EPIPHANY

"On the Passion of Christ," a cantata by David H. Williams, will be sung by the choir of the Parish of the Epiphany under the direction of Mr. Enos Held, choir director and organist, on Sunday morning, March 24, at both the 9:30 and 11:15 services. This cantata will be in place of the customary sermon.

WHERE IS THE AUDIENCE?

We started out to write a routine publicity piece about the Unitarian Choir's performance of the Faure Requiem to be given Sunday evening, April 7. But before we'd any more than got started, we stopped. And we thought.

We thought, why not come right out and tell the good people of Winchester what is on our mind?

What is on our mind is a picture of at least two occasions in previous years when this superb choir has presented Easter or Christmas music in vespers programs appropriate to the season—to an audience so small as to be almost outnumbered by the choir itself. Perhaps it was the weather: a fine day, and people wanted to be outdoors. No doubt there were those who meant to go and simply forgot. Whatever the reason, the audience was largely missing.

Here was one of the best choral groups to be found in New England outside Metropolitan Boston, equipped with soloists who had achieved distinction with a variety of oratorio and concert organizations and who had appeared at Gardner Museum, Jordan Hall and Symphony Hall, singing some of the great literature of sacred music: the Brahms Requiem, the Mozart Requiem, the Haydn Imperial Mass, the Elijah, the Saint Saens Christmas Oratorio—and singing to a handful, a gathering of relatives and close friends, less than a hundred.

Winchester has many devotees of good music. There must be hundreds who, often or occasionally, go in town to Symphony Hall to hear the Boston Symphony or one of the visiting attractions. There must be thousands who listen to recordings of the world's great music.

To them we say, give the great music in your own community a hearing, too. It is offered freely, with decidation and with skill. It is well worth your while.

AIR FORCE POLICY CHANGE

In a sweeping change of policy aimed at obtaining veterans of all branches of the Armed Forces, the U. S. Air Force has initiated a base of choice program that enables former GI's to select their initial duty station, it was disclosed by Sergeant Al Raftopoulos.

To implement this program, the local recruiter has received a list of vacancies that are available at Air Force installations throughout the country. The sergeant said that with the facts he has on the new Prior Service Program, any veteran, regardless of what branch he formerly served with, may now obtain complete information on grade, assignment and numerous other benefits the Air Force is offering.

Enlistment of former servicemen has been on the upswing for the past six months, with the sergeant attributing the increases to the realization amongst many of the veterans that they can put their service-learned skills to excellent use in the Air Force. Vets are even offered an advance 30 day paid leave before reporting for duty.

Veterans are reminded by the sergeant that they may contact him at the local recruiting station at 49 High street, Medford, Mass.

REV. EDWIN H. TULLER

UNION LENTEN SERVICE SPEAKER

Again our community will be privileged to hear the famous Mystic Glee Club when they furnish the music at the Union Lenten Service to be held at First Baptist Church, Wednesday evening, March 27, at seven forty-five o'clock. The following selections will be rendered:

"The Cherubic Hymn"
—A. Gretchaninoff
"Beautiful Saviour"
—arr. by Christiansen
"Jesu Dulchis Memoiria"
—Vittoria

An added opportunity and inspiration for all that evening will be the message: "Faith for Troubled Times" by Rev. Edwin H. Tuller, executive secretary of the Mass. Baptist Convention. A graduate of Brown University, Dr. Tuller received his seminary training at Colgate Rochester Divinity School, from which he won his B.D. degree, and did graduate work at LaFaculte Libra of Theologie Protestants at Paris, France.

Previous to coming to Massachusetts, and Winchester, Dr. Tuller was general secretary of the Connecticut Council of Churches and assistant secretary and director of Christian education. Dr. Tuller has recently accepted a call as associate general secretary of the 6500 Church American Baptist Convention. He will begin his new work June 1, with headquarters in New York.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this Union Lenten service.

The alarm of fire from Box 341 at 12:53 last Friday morning turned out to be false. It was preceeded by an anonymous telephone call reporting a house on fire on Cabot street. An attempt to trace the call, which came from out of town proved futile.

HALLMARK of QUALITY

Like Sterling on silverware, our label is a hallmark of quality—a positive guarantee that the medicine is exactly as the doctor intended it to be—precise quantities of precisely the ingredients he prescribed for you. It is your assurance of medicine as fine as it is possible to make. That is why our label is the trademark of dependability . . . the hallmark of professional skill.

TROOP 1 NEWS

On Sunday, March 10, about 30 scouts went to the Sheep fold in Stoneham for an afternoon of outdoor activity. The afternoon was very windy and some of the scouts experienced considerable difficulty in building a fire that was capable of cooking a meal, and not become a hazard owing to the windy weather. Considerable amusement was enjoyed by the Scout Committee on the efforts of Asst. Scoutmaster Bob Fiore to build a fire in one of the fireplaces, under the difficult condition of the weather.

On Monday night 18 scouts went before the reviewing board at the Legion Home to take their 2nd class scout test. All 18 passed the test. They were: Paul Collela, Victor Cotrone, Richard Crowley, John Geoghagan, William Graham, Howard Hackett, Robert McCormack, John MacSweeney, Robert Migliaccio, David Mullen, Donald Nadeau, John Powers, William Ring, Thomas Russo, Michael Saraco, Richard Sauermann, John Sullivan and Albert Walker.

Plans are being made for a group of scouts to make a trip to Mt. Monadnock on Sunday, April 28. After that, Greeley Pond will be the next place that the Scouts will visit.

Senior Patrol Leader Robert McCormack and Patrol Leader Richard Sauermann were the guests of the sponsoring organization, the Winchester Lions Club on Monday, March 18, at their weekly meeting which is held at Randalls.

SAW PAPER PRINTED

Members of Pack 9, Den 7, Cub Scouts, saw the Star printed and folded during a visit to the press room last Thursday.

Cubs included were Roy Johnson, Bergino Santo, Philip Ardagno, Albert and Billy LaTorella and John Hall. Den Mothers were Mrs. Fred LaTorella and Mrs. Oscar Johnson.

K. of C. 60th ANNIVERSARY NEWS

The all important ticket committee for Winchester Council No. 210 Knights of Columbus, 50th Anniversary and Dance celebration is announced as follows:

William D Sullivan, Chairman; Grand Knight Thomas J Gramzow, Deputy Grand Knight Sam Vangel, Chancelor Charles Doucette, Jr., Warden Vincent D. McCabe, Financial Secretary Thomas Drapeau, Treasurer Andrew Smith, Recording Secretary Kearin Dunn, Inside Guard Richard Fiore, Outside Guard Willian Bell, Advocate E. DiLoreto, Trustees Charles Doherty, Eric W. Johnson and P.G.K. James Mawn; Past Grand Knights L. Chester Thibeault, Charles L. Haggerty, Frank Rogers, Luke Glendon, George F. Young, Joseph Cullen, Everett Kimball, Vincent F. Erhard, Charles Craven and James Mawn; and Daniel O'Donnell, Bart Conlon, Henry Murphy, William Dailey, John Lane, Frank Nowell, Jeremiah McCarron, Edward Dalton, John Mulrennan, John Mercurio, Leo Coughlin, Anthony Keaney and John Connors.

On February 27, 1897, Winchester Council was founded with a membership of 39 Catholic men who became Charter Members of the Council. Today the membership numbers about 350, attesting to the fact that the Council has really grown.

The Charter Members have all gone to their reward, the last being Honorary Member Thomas K. Lynch who passed away about two years ago.

The Anniversary Banquet and Dance is scheduled for the Winchester Town Hall on Saturday evening, May 11, at 6:30 p. m. with a catered dinner to be served followed by dancing and entertainment. General Chairmen of the affair are Past Grand Knights L. Chester Thibeault and Charles L. Haggerty with all Past Grand Knights of the Council as either active or honorary members of the committee.

WOMEN FILL A. F. POSTS

Most civilians give little thought to the many important military jobs currently being performed by women in the Air Force, according to M/Sgt. Al Raftopoulos, local Air Force recruiter. Because of their achievements, the Women in the Air Force (WAF) have become a permanent and important part of that service.

Many technical and highly important positions are held by the opposite sex, who work side by side with their male associates in such vital fields as medical, dental, administration, weather, photography, communications, and aircraft control and warning. WAF are trained at Air Force technical schools or through an intensive on-the-job training program prior to assuming key positions in their particular field.

The local Air Force recruiter, located at 49 High street, Medford, stated that pay, retirement, travel, plus top educational opportunities, and all other benefits available to Air Force men are the same for WAF.

Young women in the 18 to 34 year age group interested in a most rewarding career in the U. S. Air Force may secure complete information by visiting the local Air Force recruiting station, or by calling the sergeant at MYstic 6-5109 or WInchester 6-1764.

EPIPHANY SERVICE LEAGUE

A general meeting of the Church Service League of Epiphany Parish is scheduled for Tuesday, March 26. The day will start as usual with Communion at 10 o'clock and lunch is at 12:30.

The speaker will be Mrs. Charles Monbleau of Harwichport. Last year she delighted a large audience at Epiphany with her talk on "Women of the Bible," and on this occasion she will continue that topic by covering "Other Women of the Bible."

This in an open meeting—representatives from the other Winchester churches have been invited and any others who wish to attend will be welcome to come to lunch and hear Mrs. Monbleau.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Girl Scouts at St. Mary's

Girl Scout Sunday was observed at St. Mary's Church on March 17. At least 200 Brownies and Girl Scouts from the public and parochial schools attended the 7:45 a.m. Mass with their leaders.

Flag bearers were: Betty Ann Bowes, Troop 5, and Anne Hurley, Troop 38.

Honor guards were Joanne Busceme and Marjorie Burns of Troop 27.

Organ music was played by Mrs. Martha Daschbach.

Plans Completed for European Trip

Troop 1 is all set for its friendship trip to Europe, flying from Boston on June 23, and returning on August 6.

There are nineteen in the group, which is divided into two patrols, and an additional group of alumnae members.

Troop Leader—Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey

Patrol 1—Alison Hersey, assistant leader; Susan Russell, patrol leader; Susal Beal, Carlie Clark, Angela d'Elseaux, Stephanie Hersey, Joan Thompson

Patrol 2—Mrs. Harlow Russell, assistant leader; Binkie Clark, patrol leader; Beverly Bonnell, Elaine Golden, Patricia Hampe, Eleanor McLaughlin, Sherry McNeil, Roberta Slone

Alumnae Girl Scouts—Mrs. Isaiah Bullard, Vivian Bullard and Pat Aitken.

The troop will travel through Scotland, England, Holland, Germany, Austria, Switzerland and France.

They are now orienting themselves to characteristics of these countries and the habits of their people.

They are also assembling and learning American songs and dances to share with the youth groups being contacted in each country that they visit.

Meeting of Hospital Aides

Tuesday, March 26, at 7:30 p.m. at the Girl Scout Cabin.

HERLIHY FINANCE OFFICE HEAD

Leo J. Herlihy, formerly of Winchester, has been appointed branch manager of the new office of the Household Finance Corporation of Stoneham located in the Redstone Shopping Center. Mr. Herlihy has been associated with the consumer finance business since 1948 having served in managerial capacity in Boston, Brooklyn, Schenectady, and Troy.

Born in Woburn, he was educated in Winchester High School and Keith Academy in Lowell. He is a past member of the Schenectady Chamber of Commerce, Troy Chamber of Commerce, Retail Credit Association, Troy Boys Club, and a member of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, Lt. Gov. Thomas W. Wallace Assembly.

For twenty-five years the family operated the Cloverleaf Baking Company in Woburn. He is married to the former Elizabeth J. McCorry of Medford. She was a teacher in the Medford Public School System. They are presently residing in Medford and have one son.

LENTEN YOUTH MISSION

On Sunday, March 24, the Young Peoples Fellowship of the Parish of the Epiphany will be hosts to the Youth Fellowships of St. John's Church, Arlington; All Saints' Church, Belmont; Christ's Church, Cambridge; and Grace Church, Medford, in their Lenten Youth Mission, for which they meet in turn in the churches participating. The general theme of the Missions is "The Big Idea" and the special topic this week is "Help Available." The speaker is Mr. Robert Morisseau. The program begins with Evening Prayer in the church at seven p. m. The public is cordially invited.

Police Headquarters was notified last Friday evening by a resident of Everett avenue that there seemed to be a strong odor of gas in that neighborhood. Sgt. Irving Reardon and Officer Roland Roy investigated and found that the odor permeated much of the west side, apparently being brought into town by the wind. Several nearby communities also complained of the odor.

BOSTON ADVERTISING AGENCY MARKS 50th ANNIVERSARY

Commemorating its 50th Anniversary as an advertising agency, Walter B. Snow & Staff, Inc., is expanding to larger quarters at 9 Newbury street, Boston. In a relatively young profession, fifty years of continuous operation marks Walter B. Snow & Staff as one of the first creative advertising agencies in the country.

Winchester interest in the success of the Snow corporation centers in the fact that its president, Harold Bugbee of 7 Dartmouth street, has long been a resident of the town and is a graduate of Winchester High School.

Carl Freyer, vice president, lives just over the town line in Arlington and is a widely known member of the Winchester Boat Club. Another vice president, Harold Pyne, also lives near Winchester in West Medford.

Founded in 1907, when most advertising agents were simply independent space brokers, Walter B. Snow & Staff was among the first to offer complete advertising counsel to manufacturers of technical and industrial products. Harold Bugbee, president of the agency, pointed out that from its inception, Walter B Snow & Staff was organized to coordinate all phases of advertising and marketing.

Among the present clients of Walter B. Snow & Staff are several who have grown with the agency almost from its beginning. These include the L. S. Starrett Company of Athol, Mass., manufacturer of precision measuring tools; Bird Machine Company, South Walpole, Mass., manufacturer of machinery for the paper and chemical process industries; Byron-Weston Company, makers of fine bond, ledger and index papers. The agency also serves many other prominent New England manufacturers such as Raytheon leaders in electronics, an industry which was not even conceived at the time of the agency's founding.

Walter B. Snow & Staff is a charter member of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, and several of its employees are active in the National Industrial Advertisers Association.

ARTISTS AT WORK

On Friday night, April 5, from 7:30 to 9:30, the Winchester Art Association is sponsoring for the second year an entertainment called "Artists and Craftsmen at Work." The proceeds of the evening are to be used as an Art Scholarship to be given to a candidate who shall be chosen by the Winchester Scholarship Foundation. Those who attended this event last year are most enthusiastic in their approval of a "repeat performance."

This will be a most unusual opportunity to see professionals in the process of actually creating in their various arts and crafts. The artists making this generous contribution of time include such well known people as: Ture Bengtz, Graphic Arts; Ernest Dudley Chase, pencil sketching; Charles Demetropoulos, water colors; Emil Kessler, illustrator; Elizabeth Lobingier, abstract oil painting; Tom O'Hara, water colors and oils; Joseph Santoro, water colors; Robert Wild, sculpting; the ever popular Macefield staff, enamelling, leather work, silver jewelry and design; Esther Borden, weaving; Lillian Leathers, rug hooking; Carol Nickerson, ceramics; Agatha Tully, painting on tin.

The committee in charge is: honorary chairman, Mrs. George Marks; general chairman, Mrs. William J. O'Malley; tickets, Mrs. Bradford Darling; publicity, Mrs. Herman P. Meissner; members at large, Mrs. George Green, Mr. Wade Grindle, and Mr. George Connor. Mrs. Charles Abbott represents the Art Association.

An attractive door prize will be donated by Macefield.

WAH HOO WAH!

Among the large Winchester delegation attending the concert given last Friday evening by the Dartmouth Glee Club at John Hancock Hall, Boston, were Mr. and Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey, Mr. and Mrs. George Redding, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stockwell, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Willing and Mr. and Mrs. William Cusack who gave a dinner party preceding the concert.

Several Winchester couples were present, including Mr. and Mrs. James McGovern, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Woodford Wilcox. Fred Stockwell is secretary and William C. Cusack is vice president of the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Boston.

"ANASTASIA" TRY-OUTS

Try-outs for the Parish Players' production of "Anastasia" will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Palmer Room (later in the evening the group will adjourn to the stage). The Players extend a cordial invitation to all actors and actresses interested in this play to come to this meeting. Anyone wishing further information may call the chairman, George S. Hebb, Jr., WInchester 6-0794.

The romantic but legally controversial story of the real Anastasia, daughter of the Czar, is a fascinating one, and makes a really dramatic play. Whether the lady found destitute and desperate was really the princess who escaped the assassin's bullets is a mater for the audience to decide! But the story makes good drama. Mr. Harlan F. Grant of the Weston (Vt.) Playhouse and Boston Conservatory Drama Department will direct this play, dates of which will be May 2, 3 and 4.

INFANT SAVIOUR GUILD

Winchester Chapter is sponsoring a St. Patrick's Dessert Bridge, Tuesday afternoon, March 26, at St. Mary's Hall. This gala affair is an annual event and has become one of the most popular and eagerly awaited parties on the Guild social calendar.

Mrs. Michael H. Hintlian, past president, is the general chairman, and she is assisted by a distinguished and enthusiastic committee. At a recent Lenten luncheon at the home of Mrs. Hintlian, plans were discussed and arrangements made for this highlight of the spring season.

Many valuable and interesting prizes have been donated and members of the Guild and their guests are promised an enjoyable afternoon. A suitable holiday dessert will be served promptly at one o'clock and cards will follow. Already many reservations have been made; this is one occasion that you cannot afford to miss.

CUB PACK 3

At the regular meeting of Cub Pack No. 3, held Tuesday, March 12, the following awards were made:

Den 1: B. Cardin, Silver Arrow point on Wolf Badge; P. Garner, Two Silver Arrow Points on Wolf Badge; B. Ulfelder, Silver Arrow Point on Wolf Badge; and D. Gustin, Bobcat Badge.

DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THE EYE BANK?

Did you ever stop and think what it would mean to be blind?

Suppose you knew that an operation could restore your sight, but that this operation depended upon the generosity of another person.

Ten years ago the Boston Eye Bank, serving New England, was established for the purpose of supplying eye tissue for the corneal transplant operation.

How much do you know about the work of the Eye Bank?

Do you know, for instance, that the corneal transplant operation can help only one type of blindness, that in which sight has been lost because of corneal injury or disease? And did you know that this affects 20,000 of the American blind? The operation is one where the cornea from the donated eye is transplanted to a patient whose damaged cornea has been removed. Did you realize that this operation is successful in over 80% of the cases, and that neither age, cause of death or wearing glasses has much significance in regard to the usefulness of the cornea?

Consider for a moment the young doctor whose medical career was so cruelly stopped by blindness. Left with little hope that he would ever again practise medicine, Dr. M's life was given new meaning when he learned that his sight could be restored. Then his days were spent in waiting and praying that someone would fulfill his need. And so it happened that an eye donor died in a Boston hospital and within 24 hours Dr. M. had his first transplant. Today Dr. M. is making fine progress and will soon be ready for his second transplant. Because of the thoughtfulness of a person he never knew, Dr. M. today looks forward to continuing his medical career. Thus the generosity of one eye donor may have resulted in this young surgeon having the opportunity to save the lives of countless others.

Eye donors are people like yourself. As one woman wrote, "We are just ordinary people—working to earn our way but feel that maybe we can do something to help our fellow men along their path out of darkness through you." The list of registered donors numbers over 4300 people . . . priests and convicts, teachers and students, businessmen and housewives, young and old, rich and poor. For blindness is no respector of persons and can strike anywhere. It could happen to you!

How can you donate your eyes? Write or call the Boston Eye Bank, 243 Charles street, Boston, for a donor blank. This form must be signed by you and witnessed by your next of kin, who has the responsibility of making sure that your wishes are carried out.

In the past 10 years the number of hospitals affiliated with the Eye Bank program has grown to 76, in towns small and large throughout New England. These hospitals make sure that the eyes are removed within the necessary one hour after death. The railroads, airlines and Red Cross all cooperate in rushing this precious eye tissue to Boston where it is used within 24 hours.

It would be a mistake to associate the Eye Bank with corneal transplants alone. No less important is the role that it plays in research, although no eye is used for research if it is suitable for transplant. The corneal transplant operation can help only one type of blindness, but through research we may someday find the prevention and cure of many types of eye diseases.

There is no substitute for human eye tissue. Nothing else can fulfill this urgent need. The hopes of thousands of blind persons depend on you to provide the means of restoring their sight.

The Boston Eye Bank is a charitable organization completely dependent upon public support. The demand is great for both eyes and financial aid with which to carry on this work in sight restoration.

Statistics are meaningless. Their significance only becomes clear when they are reduced to one person. To bring sight to even one person justifies the existence of the Boston Eye Bank.

The opportunity is yours. You can perform a miracle!

Fits America's Big Ideas...

-and everybody's budget!

THIS ONE BREAKS ALL THE RULES ON WHAT A LOW-PRICED CAR SHOULD BE!
In quality and luxury, it gets its cues from way, way up the price scale. It throws in a bonus of four to seven inches more wheelbase—king-sized 122 inches that glide you over the dips and bumps instead of riding on them. And the Chieftain combines a whole flock of new suspension ideas to give you the same exclusive Level-Line Ride you find on Pontiac's incomparable Custom Star Chief Catalinas. For the first time, it puts a big-time 10 to 1 compression ratio, 347 cu. in. V-8 power plant within the reach of any new-car buyer. (And for the ultimate in performance and economy, the Chieftain offers Daytona-proved Tri-Power Carburetion* at the lowest cost in the industry.) Then all this might and brawn are made your absolute servant by precision-touch control—the most effortless way of handling a king-sized car yet developed! And just as easy to handle is Pontiac's budget-lovin' price—starting below 30 models of the low-price three! Why not start living it up big? Come in and see how Pontiac makes this year your year to go big time!

NUMBER OF VACANT HOUSES
JANUARY 1, 1957

Precinct 1	21
Precinct 2	6
Precinct 3	16
Precinct 4	12
Precinct 5	8
Precinct 6	15
Total	78

This is five (5) less than January 1, 1956. Since January 1 several of these houses have been occupied and the trend of families moving from one precinct to another precinct in the town still continues.

NUMBER OF DOGS LISTED

Precinct 1	200
Precinct 2	123
Precinct 3	335
Precinct 4	364
Precinct 5	206
Precinct 6	130
Total	1358

This is a gain of ninety-nine (99) over 1956.

It is interesting to note that the number of children under 20 years of age is about thirty-five (35) per cent of the total population. This per cent varies from thirty-eight (38) per cent in Precinct 4 to thirty-one (31) per cent is Precinct 2.

Slight increases in population can be expected in the next few years in Precincts 1, 3 and 5. The largest increase can be expected in Precinct 4 west of Cambridge street where there is considerable undeveloped property. Precinct 2 has reached its limit.

At the present rate of increase, it will probably be several years before the population of the town reaches twenty thousand (20,000).

MR. & MRS. CLUB

On Wednesday evening, March 13, the St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club members demonstrated the strong spiritual bond that underlies the more apparent social aspects of the club, when, as a group, they attended evening mass and received communion. A most enjoyable supper was served in St. Mary's Hall after the mass.

The thanks of the club are extended to Doris and Bill Lippman, chairmen of this meeting and their many hard-working committee members for the delicious supper that was served as well as the smooth and efficient manner in which it was carried out.

An informative and interesting speaker whose style of delivery and mastery of public speaking holds the complete attention of his listeners is usually the piece de resistance of any such supper meeting. Fortunate indeed were the club members to have as their supper guest, and after dinner speaker, the Reverend Francis Low, S.J., whose discourse shed a new light on some of the underlying causes of world tension today.

Before adjournment, President George Kean made a valiant attempt to outline the highlights of the coming April meeting. We suspect that many members, however, were busily engaged in discussing the just concluded talk of Father Low and quite likely missed what to us sounds like a wonderful evening planned for April 3.

Gardening and landscaping are to be the theme and we understand there will be pictures, an enjoyable skit, and displays. Don't worry if you don't have a green thumb, you will thoroughly enjoy this meeting. After all, everyone should learn the difference between a "chionanthus" and a "helanthemum."

MR. AND MRS. GUSTAVE A. DANIELSON

OBSERVED GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave A. Danielson of 4 Kenwin road celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Sunday, March 24, at a reception held in their honor at Masonic Hall.

Friends and relatives from many surrounding cities and towns, as well as guests from Brockton, Cohasset and New Hampshire were among the 175 who attended the reception. Mrs. Danielson wore a mauve lace gown and white orchid.

The hall was attractively decorated with palms and flowers, and music was furnished by Warren Johnson's Orchestra. Fancy sandwiches, cakes and ices were served by a caterer.

Featuring the reception was the presentations to the Danielsons of 50 yellow roses by their grandson, David Lundin. Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, made the formal presentation of gifts and extended anniversary congratulations and best wishes on behalf of all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Danielson received many appropriate gifts and beautiful flowers from friends and relatives near and far.

The Danielsons came to this country in 1902 and were married in Brooklyn, N. Y., March 27, 1907, coming to Winchester the next year. They have a daughter, Mrs. Emil T. Lundin; three grandchildren, Norman and David Lundin, and Irene Straghan; also two great-grandchildren, Lynne and Cynthia Straghan.

RECENT BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Shoemaker (Margaret Bragdon) of Lexington announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Kimberlee, on March 9 at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Bragdon of China, Maine, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Shoemaker of Wildwood street.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph H. Viohl of Fairfield, Conn., announce the birth of their third son, Robert Booth Viohl. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Booth of Winchester and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Viohl of Long Island, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Checani (Mary Horne) formerly of 3 Stratford road, now of Belmont, announce the birth of a second child, first son, born March 26, at the Richardson House, Boston. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Horne of Winchester and Mrs. Eva Checani of Natick.

UNAUTHORIZED SOLICITATION

Personal, street or telephone solicitation or the sale of any articles, door-to-door or otherwise in the name of crippled children, definitely is not authorized by the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped, Inc., Leonard B. Campbell of Ware, treasurer of Ware Savings Bank and president of the society, said today.

Anyone wishing to give to the annual Easter Seal appeal, the president of the society said, may do so by sending his gift in the return envelope which was sent with the Easter Seals.

HOME FOR SPRING VACATION

Miss Jane D. Godwin, a freshman at Bradford Junior College, Bradford, and Miss Adele E. Mitchell, a member of the senior class, are at home for the spring vacation. Miss Godwin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Godwin of 7 Grassmere avenue, and Miss Mitchell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mitchell, Jr., of 7 Gardner place.

Miss Mitchell was elected president of the house committee and a member of the Student Council for the second semester of the college year, and Miss Godwin was elected a member of the house committee.

ST. MARY'S CYO COMMUNION BREAKFAST

High-school youth and their parents thronged Saint Mary's Church in an edifying demonstration of Catholic Faith for the 7:45 Mass and Holy Communion last Sunday. Afterwards the boys and girls filled Saint Mary's Hall and themselves at their first annual Communion Breakfast, a real hearty one.

Guest speaker was Father George V. Kerr, a former All-American football player and, at present, Assistant Director of Boston Archdiocesan Charities as well as Chaplain at Nazareth Home for Children, Jamaica Plain.

Close attention and continued applause complimented Father Kerr's moving message to youth on "The Idea, The Ideal, and The Industry for Perfection."

Seated at the head table were Fr. Edmund Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. McKenna, Youth Council Chairmen, discussion club leaders, and senior class officers. Mr. Daniel Doherty, Senior Class President, was Master of Ceremonies.

The entertainment was local and fit for recording under any label: Dorothy Smith, vocalist, and Jacqueline Hogan, pianist; plus "The Jibers" with Joseph Gray, David Manning, Quentin and Ronald Roberts.

In sincere appreciation for their splendid services we'd like to present an armful of orchids to our charming hostesses: Mrs. Robert F. Buckley, Mrs. Charles W. Craven, Mrs. William A. Durant, Mrs. John P. Hogan, Mrs. Henry S. Kirk, Mrs. William G. Laird, Mrs. John J. McDonald, Miss Mary G. McKenzie, Mrs. Leo V. Manoli, Mrs. Charles H. Newton, Mrs. Samuel J. Reid, and Mrs. Richard M. Smith.

DOCTOR'S DAY MARCH 30

Governor Furcolo has proclaimed Saturday, March 30, as Doctor's Day in the State of Massachusetts. This day originated in the south in 1949. It commemorates the use of ether as human anaesthesia by Dr. Crawford Long, and is now celebrated in 17 states.

Outstanding medical men are being honored by the Medical Auxiliaries in their districts. The Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex South District Medical Society is honoring two physicians who have been practicing in this area for 50 years, they are:

Dr. C. W. Harrington, 30 Grove street, and Dr. Lewis F. McCarthy, 11 Chestnut street, Malden.

Florist Telegraph Delivery will present them with flowers and Mrs. Ernest J. Vogel of Arlington, president of the district auxiliary will personally extend greetings on behalf of the members.

ENGAGEMENT

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Jackson of Winchester, and Searsport, Me., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sally Jackson, to Mr. James Gordon Frailey, son of Mrs. Henry E. Frailey of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and the late Mr. Frailey.

Miss Jackson was graduated from Colby College and is presently employed at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. Frailey was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Psi and Alpha Delta Sigma fraternities. He served two years as a lieutenant (j.g.) with the U.S. Sixth Fleet Staff. He is associated with the Armstrong Cork Company in Portland, Maine.

ATTENDED DAUGHTER'S WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Field of Maxwell road went to New York last week-end to attend the marriage of Mr. Field's daughter, Betty Field, stage, motion picture and TV actress, to Edwin J. Lukas, New York attorney. The ceremony took place on Sunday afternoon at Miss Field's apartment.

WINS SYLVANIA PROMOTION

Ernest H. Ulm of Winchester, has been appointed general sales manager for the Semiconductor Division of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., it was announced by Charles W. Hosterman, division general manager.

Before receiving his new assignment, Mr. Ulm was product sales manager-electronics within Sylvania's electronic product sales organization. He continues to have his offices in Woburn, at Semiconductor Division headquarters.

Mr. Ulm joined Sylvania in 1945 as a sales engineer in New York City. He became merchandising manager in 1950 for what was then the company's Electronics Division, and product sales manager three years later.

During World War II, Mr. Ulm was for two years engaged in teaching assignments for the U.S. Army Signals Corps, becoming principal of the Signal Corps Training School (Bancroft), Chicago, in 1943. He also was a field engineer in anti-submarine warfare with Columbia University's division of war research at its underwater sound laboratories, New London, Conn. In 1944-45, he was with Western Electric Co., in radar and sonar work.

Mr. Ulm was born in Fort Dodge, Iowa. He is a graduate of Carleton College, and has done postgraduate work at Carleton, the University of Iowa and Northwestern University. A fellow of the Radio Club of America, he is also a member of the Institute of Radio Engineers and the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. He and his wife, the former Elizabeth Hjarding, and their three children, make their home at 39 Prospect street, Winchester.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS ON FORCE

LT. EDWARD W. O'CONNELL APPOINTED PATROLMAN IN 1922

Police Lieutenant Edward W. O'Connell completed thirty-five years as a member of the police department on Wednesday, March 27. He is presently on night duty at headquarters, his usual assignment, except in those instances when he, as senior lieutenant, is acting chief of the department in the absence of Chief Harrold.

Lt. O'Connell was appointed a patrolman in the department March 27, 1922. He was promoted to sergeant December 30, 1930, and was made lieutenant May 11, 1936. He was acting chief of the department for 10 months in 1947-48 between the retirement of Chief William H. Rogers and the appointment of Chief Charles J. Harrold.

Lt. O'Connell was the first motorcycle officer in the Winchester Department in the twenties, and has seen duty of all sorts all over town. In his more active years few cared to resist "Big Ed" when he went to make an arrest.

Lt. O'Connell comes from a family of uniformed men. His brother, Archie, is one of the veterans of the Winchester Police Department. Another brother, Michael, is a retired Boston police officer and a third brother, Charles, now deceased, was a member of the Boston force. Another brother, John, is a Boston letter carrier.

Lt. O'Connell is the son of Edward O'Connell of 3 Middlesex street, one of Winchester's older residents. A retired town employee, he observed his 89th birthday on February 18 of this year. Besides the brothers mentioned above, Lt. O'Connell has four sisters, Theresa O'Connell and Mrs. Mary Serieka of Winchester, Mrs. Helen Lucy of Malden and Anna O'Connell of Woburn.

The Lieutenant makes his home at 9 Mt. Pleasant street, is married and has six children, four daughters and two sons.

Many in Winchester will join with the Star in extending anniversary congratulations to Lt. O'Connell and in wishing him continued health and happiness.

HOSPITAL AIDES CAPPED

On Friday afternoon, March 22, capping exercises were held at the Winchester Hospital for the newly trained hospital aides. Miss Laura B. Rogers, R.N., director of nursing at the hospital, capped the new aides, and Mrs. Bertie Donaghy, who instructed the class, presented the diplomas. Miss Ruby Willis, of Reading, chairman of the nursing committee of the board of directors, expressed the appreciation of the board for the valued assistance being given by the new hospital aides.

The following women received their caps: Mrs. Frances MacDonald, Miss Ann McDonough and Mrs. Sigrid Grimes of Winchester; Mrs. Mary Clarke, Mrs. Helen Cushing and Mrs. Madeline Farley of Stoneham; Mrs. Mary DiLuna of Reading, and Mrs. Beulah Sprague of Medford.

PLANNING BOARD ORGANIZATION

The Planning Board, at its meeting on March 18, elected by unanimous vote the following officers for the ensuing year:

Chairman—Franklin J. Lane
Secretary — Harold V. Farnsworth
Member of Committee on Names —Ralph H. Bonnell

SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION SEEKS DONATIONS

As of April 1, this coming Monday, through April 7 the following Sunday, a veritable army of workers will go throughout the town from door to door asking all to donate to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation that we may help worthy students to gain the knowledge they desire.

Wickwire, Mrs. Ralph Colliander, Mrs. Robert P. Watson, Mrs. Edward J. Parsons, Mrs. Walter G. Overacker, Mrs. Herbert Thompson, Mrs. J. Donald Brosius, Mrs. C. W. Thompson, Mrs. Roland Hanson, Lawrence W. Lunt, Jr.

The Lincoln School district under Mrs. S. K. Tully is sending out: Mrs. Gardiner Handy, Mrs. Ella Horne, Mrs. Lawrence Hutchings, Mr. and Mrs. Archangelo Amico, Mrs. Fred Hill, Mrs. Francis Carlson, Mrs. Charles Buchanan, Mrs. Robert Grenzebeck, Mrs. Lawrence Kelbley, Mrs. Leonard Mead, Mrs. Robert Joyce, Mrs. Wendell Harvey, Mrs. Ralph Scott, Mrs. Albert Farnham, Mrs. William Laidlaw, Mrs. Roland Moody, Mrs. Robert Sanborn, Mrs. Roland Nault, Mrs. Herbert Marcy, Mrs. Francis Wiener.

Mrs. Harry Arlanson for the Mystic School area has: Mrs. Helen Conte, Mrs. Richard O. Jordan, Mrs. Roger Carpenter, Mrs. Jean Lever, Mrs. Stephen Morang, Mrs. Clarence Wiggin, Mrs. Paul Uccello, Mrs. Wesley Mallery, Mrs. Everett Clark, Mrs. Alfred LaPointe, Mrs. Anthony Menucci, Mrs. Walter Josephson, Mrs. David Thoms, Mrs. John Lynch, Mrs. H. K. Porter, Mrs. Robert Twombly, Mrs. Russell Stout.

Wyman School workers helping Mrs. Forest Maclean and Mrs. Dwight Bellows include: Mrs. S. O. Cornwell, Mrs. Thomas Hill, Mrs. Elmer Gates, Mrs. William C. McConnell, Mrs. George Snelling, Mrs. Charles L. Corderman, Mrs. John F. Corcoran, Mrs. L. F. Quigley, Jr., Mrs. Robert H. Gregory, Mrs. Thomas Corkery, Mrs. S. E. Russell, Mrs. Robert Kittredge, Mrs. John W. O'Grady, Mrs. W. Raymand Chase, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Robert W. Carlson, Mrs. James H. Coon, Jr., Miss Helen Bronson, Mrs. Frederick Palazzo, Mrs. Alfred Wolff, Mrs. Royal H. Wadleigh, Mrs. Theodore W. Shidler, Jr.

Mrs. Bertrand Dube with Mrs. Warren Taylor is covering the Parkhurst section of town. They have Mrs. Joseph Cerra, Mrs. Richard Osgood, Mrs. Ray Howland, Jr., Mrs. Donald Birchall, Mrs. Robert Buckley, Mrs. Arthur Schmidt, Mrs. Quentin Roberts, and Mrs. John Maclean for assistants.

HOLE-IN-ONE!

Quite by accident the Star discovered that one of the town's well known residents of York road, "Charlie" Nahagian, made a hole-in-one at the Bear Hill Country Club last February 22. It is never too late to recount a hole in one! Golfers never tire of talking about such a feat.

Mr. Nahagian got his ace on the 7th hole at Bear Hill and he got it in the ne plus ultra of all ways to make such a coveted shot, on the fly. He was playing around with "Babe" Rogers, Harry Chisholm and Paul MacGregor at the time.

Holes in one are no new thrill for "Charlie," he having shot an ace last year at the Bear Hill second.

LOYAL WORKERS AID BLOOD CENTER

The above group of Red Cross volunteers is typical of the unselfish, loyal workers from the Winchester Chapter who staff the Massachusetts Regional Blood Center on the first Wednesday of each month.

Their efficient and faithful work at the Blood Center has done much to further the success of the important Blood Program, and many letters of high praise and gratitude for their services have been received from the Center officials.

The volunteers find this day at the Center a most pleasant and satisfactory way of helping others and they enjoy the association with the group and with the many people they meet on that day.

There is always a need, and plenty of room for, more workers in all of the Red Cross Services. New Nurses' Aides, Canteen Workers, Gray Ladies or Staff Aides would certainly be most welcome and would feel that their time was well spent as Red Cross work is "People Helping People."

The ladies are pictured in front of the new Red Cross station wagon which was recently purchased for the Chapter as a much needed replacement for the old wagon.

Mrs. Daniel J. McLaughlin, Motor Corps Chairman, states that the new Ford drives very easily and is equipped with power steering for easier parking. She urges that anyone interested in driving for the Red Cross should call the Red Cross Office, WInchester 6-2300 or contact her directly at WInchester 6-0815.

It is a great satisfaction to the drivers to help a patient who has to other means of transportation to get to Boston hospitals and clinics for treatment, or to save a life by getting blood from the Center to the Winchester Hospital, in an emergency.

There are many other ways of assisting people through Motor Corps service, among them day long outings for Veterans at the Bedford Veterans' Hospital in the summer.

OUR THANKS

Winchester Grange 343 wishes to thank all those who helped in any way to insure the huge success of our luncheon on March 19 for the benefit of the American Cancer Society.

We are deeply indebted to all those who came for lunch as well as for those who made donations of merchandise, etc.

We are proud and happy to announce a net profit of $172.00, to date the largest contribution from any subordinate Grange in our district.

We would be remiss if we did not mention the part our own members played in this project. Baked beans and dessert were prepared and donated by our own members and cash donations were made to cover our small expenses of $16.47. Those who were unable to work at the luncheon helped prepare the potato salad the night before. The results proved that a small organization with a spirit of cooperation can do things in a big way. Thank you!

MATIGNON GUILD

A "Country Store" will be held on Friday, March 29, at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of Matignon Guild, at Matignon High School, North Cambridge. There will be hundreds of prizes and a special door prize of a $25 U. S. savings bond.

The ten top attractions are a G. E. portable television set, a Columbia three-speed phonograph, George Washington bedspread, Hamilton portable mixer, Infant of Prague, Presto electric skillet, G.E. steam and dry iron, Hawkeye Flash camera outfit, Pullman Jr. airplane luggage, and a choice table lamp.

Co-chairmen, Mrs. James J. Cannon and Mrs. John F. Looney of Medford, are being assisted by a large committee of freshman and sophomore mothers. Winchester women on the committee are Mrs. Daniel Fortiere of 113 Mt. Vernon street and Mrs. Henry Valcour of 56 Yale street. Mrs. James W. McGinn of Arlington, president of the Guild, invites all to attend.

AIDING PREVIEW PREMIERE

Mrs. Theodore E. Shasta and Mrs. James S. Allen are co-chairmen of the Winchester committee aiding plans for the Preview-Premiere of "Boy on a Dolphin" a 20th Century-Fox Cinemascope production to be held at the Keith Memorial Theatre on Wednesday evening, April 10, for the benefit of the American sponsored schools in Greece.

In addition to Mrs. Shasta and Mrs. Allen other active committee members are Mrs. Lawrence K. Shepard and Mrs. Louis K. Snyder.

New Town Hall Defeated

Economy Still Rules Fourth Session Of Town Meeting

Nine more articles were laboriously hacked from the 73-article agenda for this year's town meeting Monday evening as 191 town meeting delegates deliberated in the Memorial Auditorium of the high school until 11:15. The meeting was still economy minded and examined everything to which an appropriation price tag was attached with a jaundiced eye.

Rev. John M. Manion, pastor of St. Mary's Church, made the invocation and Rep. Harrison Chadwick presided as moderator.

As he declared the meeting open Mr. Butler of the Selectmen asked the meeting to reconsider Article 12 calling for an appropriation to complete work on Johnson road under Chapter 90, which had been indefinitely postponed at a previous meeting.

Mr. Butler explained that the Selectmen felt strongly that Johnson road should be completed as far west as Ridge street, since the water and sewer mains are already laid in the street and the town has voted to install hydrants there. Only a relatively short stretch of Johnson road remains to be done to bring the construction to Ridge street, and both the Finance Committee and Planning Board concurred with the Selectmen that this small stretch should be completed, leaving any further development of the road west of Ridge street to the future.

The amount of $5,000 was asked for the town's share of the work, $1250 to be raised by revenue and $3750 to be transferred from the Excess and Deficiency account. The meeting supported the Selectmen and voted the appropriation without dissent.

This brought the meeting to consideration of one of the major controversial articles, that concerned with the proposal to erect a new town hall to house the various town departments and school administration office.

Mr. Fitzgerald, reporting for the Town Offices Committee, created a year ago to consider the problem and report with recommendations, told the meeting that the committee after careful consideration and conferences with various town officers and boards had reached the decision that adequate housing and working facilities for the town departments can best be provided by building a new Town Offices building on the Skillings Estate at an estimated cost of $600,000.

Mr. Fitzgerald moved that a new Town Hall Building Committee be established to consist of five members, one each to be chosen from the Selectmen and School Committee and three to be appointed by the Moderator, to employ architects and engineers and to prepare estimates for a new town hall to be erected on the Skillings lot. The sum of $36,500 was asked under the motion for the use of the committee, the whole to be transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Account.

Mr. Fitzgerald told of the Town Offices Committee's consideration of remodelling or repairing the existing town hall and of using the now unused Wadleigh School Building. Their consideration and advice of experts led them to believe it is not practical to try to fix up the town hall as a modern office building or to use the Wadleigh building for the same purpose.

It has cost the town in repairs on the town hall $61,000 since 1930, $41,000 being spent since 1948. Repairs on the hall will increase as time goes on, not decrease, Mr. Fitzgerald said.

The Town Offices Committee came to the conclusion that this seventy-odd years old building is no longer adequate for the town departments who annually conduct business amounting to nearly $3,000,000. The present School Department headquarters the Committee found totally unfit and inadequate, while the Board of Health and Building Department are now housed by themselves in rented quarters in the center. Ten thousand persons trudge upstairs to the Building Commissioner's office yearly. A total of about 2700 children go to the Board of Health offices each year.

RAYMOND I. RIGNEY

APPOINTED ATOMIC COORDINATOR

Raymond I. Rigney of 45 Nathaniel road, a teacher in the Somerville Junior High School, has been appointed coordinator of the Massachusetts Commission of Atomic Development by Governor Foster Furcolo to succeed James E. Hollis, Jr., of Worcester, who has resigned. His confirmation was expected to take place at last night's meeting of the Governor's Council, after which Mr. Rigney will be sworn in by the Governor.

As coordinator Mr. Rigney will act as a liaison between the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington and the State Commission of Atomic Development so as to bring into better rapport the activity of the A.E.C. with the State effort in industrial promotion, education, health and safety.

Born in West Roxbury, Mr. Rigney prepared for college at Boston College High School, got his Bachelor's Degree from Holy Cross College and his Master's from Boston College Graduate School. He is now doing postgraduate work at Boston University. He plans to continue his teaching, at least for the present.

Mr. Rigney came to Winchester seven years ago from Somerville. As chairman of the Democratic Town Committee in last fall's State and National elections he made many new acquaintances and friends, to whom his appointment as State Atomic Coordinator came as a pleasant surprise.

The new coordinator is married and has five children, Maureen and Susan, Raymond, Jr., Paul and Peter Rigney.

CHOIR TO SING REQUIEM

The Winchester Unitarian Choir will present the Faure Requiem at the Winchester Unitarian Church on Sunday evening, April 7, at 8 o'clock, under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham.

The Faure Requiem is comparatively short, as this genre goes, but is distinguished by some of the most beautiful passages to be found in the great literature of sacred music. As performed by such a group as the Unitarian Choir, which has established and maintained an unusually high standard over a period of years, it promises to be an eloquent and moving expression of the spirit of the Lenten season.

The principal solo parts are for soprano and baritone. Dolores Baldyga, the soprano soloist, has appeared many times at Gardner Museum and Jordan Hall, and has sung recently as soloist in a performance of the Verdi Requiem with the New England Conservatory Chorus, as well as receiving critical praise for her work as soloist with the Farberman percussion group in its recent Jordan Hall recital.

Sidney Blanchard, Jr., baritone, is a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music and was formerly soloist at the Second Church in Boston. He has been baritone soloist with the Winchester Unitarian Choir for the past three years.

The choir will be augmented for this performance by several voices, some of which belong to old friends who have helped out on past occasions. Weston L. Brannen will be at the organ.

TO ATTEND "PILATE'S DAUGHTER"

"Pilate's Daughter" is 56 years old now. For over a half a century America's oldest Passion Play has thrilled thousands with its inspiring message of the faith of the early Christians in the catacombs and the heroic courage of the martyrs.

Two hundred and thirty 6th, 7th, and 8th graders of St. Mary's School have reserved seats this Saturday for more than just a play. They'll find an electrifying sermon across the footlights. They will also make their attendance at "Pilate's Daughter" a Lenten Pilgrimage to the Shrine of Our Mother of Perpetual Help at the Mission Church.

A special pilgrimage service before the performance is being arranged.

LAUNDRY BROKEN INTO

Police suspect that children are responsible for a break-in at the Chinese laundry on Main street above the center Monday night.

The owner, Kim Chan of Malden, told police that when she opened the laundry at 6 Tuesday morning she found that the cellar had been entered by some one who forced the lock on the cellar door. The lock was pried by the wedging of a wall type bracket between the door and the lock.

She reported that an iron and a record player were missing.

The Big Men for the night were: Fred Kimball 330, Bob Merenda 327, Fran Allen 315 and Frank Sylvester just missing by one point, 299.

The "100" bowlers were a dime a dozen. Ralph Marchese must have taken his foot off the lever and let the pins fall as Fran Allan the big man for the night hit 132 and 106, others were: Kimball 126, 113; Donaghey 126; C. Manoli 117; B. Merenda 114, 110, 103; Ross 108, 101; Johnson 104, 100; Cussen and LaPointe 102; Sylvester 103; Sampson, Cartier and Gorvasi 101; Goe Grant and Giacalone 100. An apology to Henry Barry—Henry was one of the 100 bowlers of last week and I missed recognizing him.

Three weeks of bowling left and then the rolloff. Loyola needs to improve to take the championship from Villanova.

BABE RUTH TRYOUTS APRIL 6

All Winchester boys 13, 14, or 15 years old interested in their baseball future are eligible to try out for a position on one of our Winchester Babe Ruth League teams.

Application blanks are at the office of the Winchester Junior High School, Chitel's Men's Shop or Winchester Sport Shop. Return same at once to either store. (No returns to the school). All candidates, new or old must file an application before trying out.

With weather permitting all new candidates are to report at 1:30 p. m. Manchester Field, April 6. (in event of postponement, report 2:00 p. m. April 7). All other members of last year's teams are to report as notified.

Each year a minimum of twenty (20) 13 year old boys are needed for the teams and from the many applications already received it would appear that an excellent crop of candidates will be on hand for the tryouts. However, at this date more applications are needed from the 15 year old group. Because of a rule change, several older boys this year have an opportunity of one year of Babe Ruth Basebail.

Each of the four League teams can carry a manager and two coaches this year which will give an opportunity for several High School, college or baseball minded citizens to join one of the teams, not only to keep in condition, but help to provide the baseball knowledge and the task of developing good citizens for our future Winchester teams.

Contact any of the managers, Sam Bellino, Paul Connors, Bill Cruwys, Ted Freeman or telephone Carl Morton, WInchester 6-1808 for information.

B. U. ALUMNI CLUB ORGANIZED HERE

The Boston University Alumni Club of Arlington, Winchester and Lexington was officially organized last week at an informal meeting in Arlington attended by alumni representing all three towns.

A steering committee was appointed by the gathering, and will coordinate all activities prior to the election of the organization's first slate of officers.

Among the topics discussed was a meeting of all local B.U. alumni, which is slated for mid-April at the Boston University Faculty Club. The election of officers will take place at this event.

The following were named to the steering committee: William G. Robertie, 7 Harris circle, Arlington, CBA '48; Gregory D. Khachadoorian, 32 Churchill avenue, Arlington, CBA '52; LAW '55; Arthur Landry, 5 Minuteman lane, Lexington, CBA '42; Bernadette Kelly, 435 Waltham street, Lexington, PAL '45; and Margaret Harkins, 19 Eaton street, Winchester, ED '51.

Local B.U. alumni can obtain additional information on the club by contacting William G. Robertie, 7 Harris circle, Arlington, phone MIssion 8-5865.

WINCHESTER BLADES 5, DANVERS FRESHMEN 1

The sound of the opening whistle had hardly died away at the Lynn Arena, Thursday afternoon, when Dana Kelly drove a hard shot at the Danvers goalie, who made the stop but accidentally pushed the puck into the cage in his haste to clear it.

Billy Lamarche followed with a lift from close in and another from the blue line that evaded the entire Danvers team.

The second line then began to make its power felt when David (Whitey) Allen slapped in a score from a scramble in front of the Danvers net and Roger Griffen finished up the scoring with an individual effort that found him outskating the opposing defensemen.

Outstanding on the defense were Bobby Eaton and Teddy Marks. Proof of this was the fact that Danvers was unable to score until late in the last period. Then J. Hooley drove the puck from the blue line and it found its mark for their only score of the game.

BADMINTON ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Announcement is made by the Governing Committee of Winchester Badminton Club that next Tuesday, April 2, annual election of officers will take place. All members are urged to attend not only to vote but participate in the annual meeting.

ARTISTS AND CRAFTSMEN AT WORK AT HIGH SCHOOL

The committee in charge of "Artists and Craftsmen at Work" at the High School on Friday, April 5, anticipate a most rewarding and diverting evening. The profits are to be used for an Art Scholarship for a candidate who shall be chosen by the Winchester Scholarship Foundation. One of the interesting features of the evening will be a display of some of the work of Mary Lou Cox, who was the winner of the Art Scholarship in 1956. Miss Cox attends the Rhode Island School of Design and hopes to be present on April 5.

Outstanding among the artists at work will be Elizabeth Miller Lobingier who is a teacher at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. For fifteen years she was director and instructor at the Studio Guild in Winchester. She is a graduate of the University of Chicago, studied at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, and in New England. Mrs. Lobingier is in "Who's Who in American Art," and paints in various media, both traditionally and abstractly. She has exhibited at Boston Arts Festival, DeCordova Museum, New England Circuit of Boston Society of Independent Artists, Oberlin College, Tufts, various galleries on the North Shore and in Winchester.

Mention the name Ernest Dudley Chase in Winchester and his hundreds of fine pencil sketches of this town where he lived for many years come to mind. The most familiar group of these are the ones annually seen on the Winchester National Bank calendar.

Ture Bengtz, a teacher at the Museum School, is very well known as a painter, and in the graphic Arts, which two of his best students will demonstrate in various forms. Last year the students were especially popular and proved to be a great drawing card for dozens of the younger members of the audience.

Charles Demetropoulos , water colorist, is a graduate of the Mass. School of Art and a member of the faculty of that institution as well as of the Vesper George School of Art and the South Shore Art Center in Cohasset. He was a prize winner at the Jordan Marsh Exhibition in 1941, and 1951. A member of many Art Associations including Guild of Boston Artists, Boston Watercolor Society, Rockport Art Association, Ogunquit and Cape Cod Art Association, and Artists' Equity.

Emil A. Kessler, illustrator, teaches at Belmont Day School and was with the Boston Post for twenty-seven years. He was born in Switzerland, came to this country at an early age, and spent considerable time in the South at various occupations. He likes to do marines and landscapes in oil or watercolor. He is now doing book jackets and illustrations for the Boston Sunday Globe magazine.

Joseph Santoro, a graduate of Vesper George School, is a member of several Art Societies and has had one man shows at the Guild and Vose Galleries as well as in other cities. His work is in the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston and in many private collections. Before he became a painter, he was a boxer and is at present one of the boxing officials of this state. It was Mr. Santoro who generously gave his water color to this project last year.

Tom O'Hara, a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design is now teaching at the Mass. School of Art in Boston. He has had many One Man Shows in various parts of the country, and has been represented in many Group Shows. He is a winner of the M.M. Ross award of the Boston Watercolor Society in the Museum of Fine Arts in 1956.

Robert Wild is well known for both his sculpture and his photography. He is a graduate of the Mass. School of Art.

Macefields will be represented by Bill Mason, working in silver, Leonard Field, his partner, working out the designs on paper, Mark Allen doing enamelling and Phyllis Allen, his wife, working in leather. Macefields is in its tenth year and has a well established reputation for fine craftsmanship in the art circles and museums of Boston. The Allens are both graduates of the Museum School, Leonard Field of the New England School of Art and Bill Mason of both the Mass. School of Art and the Museum School.

Esther Borden, a popular member of last year's group will have some work on exhibit, and will explain various kinds of looms used in weaving. She is well known in town for her many civic interests.

Lillian Leathers is well known as a rug hooking teacher in this area. She has had many exhibitions of her work and there will be some on exhibition on April 5.

Carol Nickerson is a resident of Winchester who is very well known for her lovely ceramics, both in pot form and in tiled tables. Mrs. Nickerson was one of the most popular demonstrators last year as she worked steadily at her potters' wheel.

Agatha Tully is well known for her work in tray painting as well as for her work as teacher of the Childrens Art Classes sponsored by the Winchester Art Association. She will show the many possibilities to be found in the every day tin can.

"YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY!"

Mrs. Donald W. Horley of 3 Webster street receives silver trophy from Governor Foster Furcolo for catching a world-record bluefish (12 pounds, 5 ounces) on 20-pound test line in the women's division, during 1956 season.

BLADES IN SECOND WIN 6-0

Teddy Marks, in the nets for the Winchester Blades, shut out the Saugus Freshmen at the Lynn Arena, Saturday afternoon, March 16, while his teammates were ringing up six tallies. Saugus is a new team in the league, replacing Revere.

Dana Kelly led the scoring for Winchester, denting the strings for four of the six markers, with Peter Branch and Billy Lamarche accounting for one each.

Line-up: Goal - T. Marks. Defense - J. Hosmer, R. Eaton, B. Cullen, T. Purtle. Forwards - D. Kelly, W. Lamarche, P. Branch, R. Jameson, R. Griffin, P. Luitwieler.

Miss Norma Jean Hart who is a junior at the MacDuffie School for Girls in Springfield, is spending the spring holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley H. Hart of 64 Wedgemere avenue.

HIGH SCHOOL DRAMATISTS SHARE TOP HONORS

The Winchester High School entry "Stand Up To Death" in the Massachusetts Regional Drama Festival shared top honors with Malden, Newton, Cambridge High and Latin, and Reading as it qualified for the Massachusetts State Finals to be held on April 5 and 6 at John Hancock Hall, Boston.

The local play was presented last Friday as part of a two-day program of 14 plays. The play was rated "Excellent" by the judges.

The play was written by Ken Parker for television and adapted by Mr. Morse of the high school faculty for stage presentation.

It is an unusual play requiring skillful acting from all the cast. The success of their playing is reflected in the comment of the judges, "This was indeed a very thrilling performance, acted with skill, restraint, and feeling. Very fine voices that conveyed much emotion —very little wasted action. A dramatic story, done dramatically. Joe Daley was excellent as the typical new husband. The two women were superb."

Another honor won at Reading was the selection of Carol Leverone, who played the part of Jenny, as a member of the All-Regional Cast. This group consists of the 15 top actors and actresses appearing in the festival. Selection to this group is an outstanding achievement when it is realized that over 95 students appeared in the 14 plays presented.

Following is the Winchester play cast:

Joe Daley—Peter Dee
Dr. Parkhurst—David Usher
Jenny Parkhurst — Carol Leverone
Louise—Blanche Cartier
Minister—David Guarente

Thomas A. Morse directed, assisted by Cynthia Dunn. Alfred Doherty and Christopher Nichols were the stage managers.

WINCHESTER TEACHER HONORED

Mr. F. Meredith Cooper, Head of the Social Studies Department of the Winchester High School was honored at the annual meeting of the New England Association of Social Studies Teachers. Mr. Cooper was elected to serve on the Board of Directors of the Association. He has contributed materially each year and has wholeheartedly supported its many and varied activities in the field of social studies. The meeting held at Radcliffe College on Saturday, March 23, was a combined luncheon and business meeting.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS GIVE JOINT CONCERTS

On Thursday, March 21, the Winchester Junior High School Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Theodore Janner, Supervisor of Music, was host to the Lexington Junior High School orchestra in a joint concert given at a morning assembly for both parents and student body. On Friday, March 22, the concert was repeated at Lexinging with our Winchester orchestra as guests. Both orchestras numbering 90 players combined to present the excellent program listed below. This is the first time that orchestras of Junior High School level in this vicinity have participated in a combined presentation. Parents and faculty members of both communities were high in their praise for the results obtained through this unusual venture. The program follows:

A Mighty Fortress Is Our God
Alla Turca
Sonata in D by Handel (violin solo played by Marie Lenos, outstanding violinist from Lexinton.)
Andante from "Surprise Symphony," Hayden
"La Cinquataine" (cello solo by Jean Wilson of Winchester accompanied by Jane O'Malley.)

THE FORTNIGHTLY

A regular meeting of the Fortnightly, was held Monday, March 25, at 2:00 p. m. in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church, Mrs. Paul H. Atwood, President, presiding. On the walls about the room were many pictures done in watercolor and tempera by High School students under the direction of Miss Pauline Goodrich, head of the Art Department. For several years the Fortnightly has offered two prizes, $10 and $5, for the best pictures by two Seniors, also Honorable Mention to two other Seniors and three Juniors. The present winners in this order were Annabella Morse, Susan Stanwood, Maureen Downey, Jane Bowman, Charles Bond, Roberta Rich, and Ann Jackson. They may now enter their work in the State Art Committee contest. Miss Goodrich expressed her appreciation and that of the students to the Fortnightly for its continued interest (through the Art Committee) in encouraging and exhibiting the splendid artistic work of these young people.

Mrs. Burr, chairman of the nominating committee, read the slate of officers and chairmen for the coming year. Mrs. McCullough, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, reported the vote of the Executive Board to give a scholarship of $100 to a deserving high school student for further education in an accredited technical or professional school. Mrs. Browne, in charge of tickets for the Annual Luncheon, April 8, told members that they are now on sale.

Speaker for the afternoon, a favorite with everyone, Mrs. Marion T. Rudkin, was then warmly welcomed, introduced by Mrs. Fitts, chairman of the Literature Committee. In her usual entertaining way, Mrs. Rudkin commented on current books, giving first a dramatic account of the beginning of "The Scapegoat" by Daphne DuMaurier. Among other books briefly reviewed and recommended were "Blue Camellia" by Francis P. Keyes, "Stopover Tokyo" by John P. Marquand. "The Ladies Home Journal Treasury," "The Year of my Rebirth" by Jesse Stuart, "The F.B.I. Story" by Don Whitehead, "The Bridge at Andau" by James Michener, "Miss Boo is Sixteen" by Marjorie Runbeck, and "To Make a World" by Morrison. In conclusion she recited a colorful short poem of spring, entitled "Blue."

It is surprising in view of the vote that so many seem to feel so strongly that something should be done to end the neighborhood feud that is preventing the acceptance of Sunset road as a town way. As things turned out the town meeting had to sit in judgment on a battle of neighbors. Many believe this should not be so.

Not a few at Monday's town meeting, judging from post-meeting comment, agreed with Mr. Fitzgerald that the Planning Board should have told the meeting where a proposed new town hall fits in the good planning picture we all like to think we have in Winchester.

The establishment of "Doctor's Day" by Governor Furcolo on Saturday, March 30, makes a lot more sense than many of the "days" we are called upon to observe. There is no finer citizen, or greater contributor to the public weal than the dedicated doctor. Let us all pause for a bit to honor him on Saturday.

In its consideration of modernizing existing buildings, or providing a new building the Committee found that modernization will cost two-thirds as much as the new building, which will in every way, including upkeep and operation, be much better.

Mr. Elliott opposed the new town hall plan, wondering how the town does its business so well in such wretched quarters. He admitted to a great fondness for the old town hall, and particularly opposed the appropriation of $36,500 for the proposed Town Hall Building Committee, stating "if you are not going to get married, you don't need a marriage license!"

Mr. Main asked indefinite postponement of the proposal to build a new town hall, stating that maintenance costs on the present town hall will not take more than half the amount it will cost for interest on the bonds necessary to build the new office building.

Mr. Broadhurst prefaced his remarks with praise for the job of investigation and report done by the Town Offices Committee, describing it one of the best he has encountered. He and the Finance Committee did feel that in view of the other capital outlay in the offing, it would not be wise to add such a large amount as that required for a new town hall to our fixed costs. The Finance Committee felt that somewhere around 1965 the town might well consider a new building for its town departments, and believed that proposed additions to the senior and junior high schools may solve the problem of the School Administration office.

Mr Hewis favored the establishment of the Building Committee, stating the men and women working in the various town departments are working for the citizens of the town and deserve decent conditions under which to do their work. He felt that if it is a question of decent working conditions for the town officers and clerical workers or a library addition, the town hall is the more important. He also reminded the meeting that the town bought the Skillings estate in 1940 as the site for a new town hall and there will never be a better time to build from the cost angle than now.

Mr. Lybeck felt that sentiment for the old town hall should not be permitted to supercede good business sense, which points to the construction of a new building to house the town departments. As a member of the Town Offices Committee he had faced the problem as a tax payer, and he especially took issue with the estimated cost given by the Finance Committee for permanent repairs to the town hall tower. He too reminded the meeting that delay will prove costly.

Mr. Sherman Saltmarsh, Jr., asked the meeting to wait five years before doing anything about building a new town hall. He felt that in the five years coming the town will have to build a new west side school and possibly a west side fire station, will have to add to the present high school and definitely do something about the disposal area, now "bulging at the seams."

He believed it was not good business to give the proposed committee $36,500, since in so voting the meeting would practically commit itself to building a new hall. It is bad, he believed, to secure plans and not use them right away.

Mr. Saltmarsh also felt that the land on which the new town hall would be built is too valuable for that purpose and should be sold to house a $1,000,000 building, which he said would return to the town $30,000 in revenue without adding to the crowded schools problem. The land he believed would bring in the neighborhood of $200,000 if sold.

Mr. Cullen felt the town should see what it can get along without. He did not agree that old buildings are necessarily a liability, and said it wouldn't be necessary to go too far away to find some new buildings that are causing trouble.

Mr. Lane reported the Planning Board favored indefinite postponement. Mr. Schaeffer felt the meeting should not postpone but decide the article on its merits, and that at all events the town should retain the committee for further study. Mr. Barnard concurred in the retention of the Committee.

Mr. Littleton objected, stating the committee had given the problem its best judgment and he could see no point to retaining it to come up with the same recommendation at a future date.

Mr. George Saltmarsh, speaking as an individual and not a selectman, opposed the construction of a new town hall.

Mr. Fitzgerald asked the meeting not to indefinitely postpone the article, but to decide it on its merits, after which, if the motion to establish the committee was defeated, he would move to discharge the committee, of which he had been chairman.

He felt it strange that the Planning Board had nothing to say about what major projects and capital expenditures are most important, especially since the Finance Committee had referred several times to a priority list.

Mr. Broadhurst explained that in a sense the Finance Committee has to decide which projects should come first because of the effect the varying costs have on the tax rate. Mr. Twombly felt that the consideration of spending $600,000 should not be considered time wasted as suggested by another speaker.

Cries of "Question" were heard in many sections of the hall, and Mr. Chadwick informed the meeting that the vote would come on the motion to indefinitely postpone. Mr. Fitzgerald asked for a polled vote on his motion to establish the Building Committee, and Mr. Lane, who had moved to postpone, asked that the vote on this motion also be polled.

The question was put and the motion carried, 160 to 21. Mr. Fitzgerald then moved that the Town Offices Committee be discharged. Before the vote was made Mr. Broadhurst amended to add the words "with thanks."

Something like an hour and one-half had been consumed in the town hall argument, and after a brief recess the meeting took up article 21.

Here the sum of $8500 was voted to be taken from the Parking Meter fund and expended by the Board of Selectmen to hard top space for 100 cars in the parking lot on the old Skillings estate opposite the town hall.

It was voted under Article 24 to authorize the Selectmen to have the old dwelling house between the junior high grounds and Dr. Phillip McManus' residence torn down, to remove a possible danger spot and to provide more space adjacent to the school. The last occupant of the house had left the premises, and the cost of rehabilitating the property would be excessive. The sum of $1,000 was appropriated for the expense involved.

It was also voted to authorize the acquisition of the former Martin property just to the south of the present high school lot, as insurance for school purposes. It was explained that the present owner wishes to sell. The sum of $13,500 was appropriated under this article.

Articles 26 and 27 provided for the appointment of school building committees, one to consider and report on the need for increased facilities for both the senior and junior high schools and to establish headquarters for the School Department, and the other, to provide plans and estimates for a school in the West Side Ridge street - Johnson road district. Both committees are five member groups with one to be appointed by the School Committee from its membership and the others to be appointed by the Moderator. The sum of $2500 was appropriated for the use of the Senior-Junior High Committee and $1500 for the so called Ridge street - Johnson road School Building committee.

It wasn't as easy as this. There was much discussion of population trends and projected population trends, explanations of school sizes and room capacity, and the possibility that a single school in the West Side hill area might not be enough.

Mr. Kelly carried the ball for the School Committee and said in response to questions that the committee figures two children to a house as a basis for school population. This raised a hue and cry with various estimates decreasing from that figure to three-quarters of a child per house.

At times the discussion got pretty technical as when Mr. Kelly tried to explain that apparently people living in the larger older houses are having more children than those in the smaller newer homes.

Various delegates were heard during the discussion, including Mr. Greer, Mr. Speers, Mr. Littleton and Mr. Cullen.

Mr. Kelly stated that the newly remodelled high school has an outside capacity of 1020 and as a figure of 80 percent of the actual capacity is taken for high schools as opposed to elementary schools, the real capacity of the new building is about 815. It is actually full right now, was nearly full when it opened, and 95 new pupils are expected next year.

Since it took five years to decide upon the building and get it ready for occupancy, in view of the increased growth of the town, it is not too surprising that the building is full now, at least according to School Committee reasoning.

There was no opposition to providing the building committees nor to accepting the fact that the addition to the senior high must be built, as well as the new Ridge street - Johnson road building. Among the possibilities discussed for new secondary school facilities was that (of all things) of extending a connecting building across Main street to join the junior and senior high buildings. Many will recall a proposal of this nature made some years ago and called the Foster Plan!

The last article considered was 28, inserted to see if the town would authorize the School Committee to establish and maintain state aided vocational education in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 74 of the General Laws.

Mr. Kelly explained that a survey found a very definite demand for adult education in Winchester, and that thus far it has been impossible to provide facilities for all who wish to enroll in courses.

Under the state aid plan those taking courses that are strictly vocational pay a registration fee of only $1, while the town has been charging a $5 registration fee for all courses, whether strictly vocational or not. Under state aid the state reimburses the town for half the expense of the vocational courses.

The Finance Committee had no quarrel with adult education, but did feel that much of that education being provided in Winchester would not qualify for state aid anyhow, and that it would be unfair to charge those taking general courses more than those taking the vocational instruction.

As things are working out the registrants are paying slightly more than half the cost of the courses with the town paying the remainder.

The Finance Committee recommended unfavorable action on the state aid and the meeting supported its recommendation. The vote does not mean there will be no more adult education for Winchester. It does mean that the registrants and the town will share the expense involved without help from the state.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL TUMBLETTES

TUMBLETTES ON TV

WINCHESTER HIGH GIRLS TO STRUT STUFF AT CELTICS GAME

The Winchester High School Tumblettes, famous girls' tumbling team, will strut their stuff at the Boston Garden Saturday afternoon between the halves of the Boston Celtics-St. Louis Hawks National Basketball Championship match. The game, and of course the Tumblettes, will be on TV, over Channel 4.

Appearing before Boston Garden crowds will be no new experience for the Tumblettes, who have been featuring Winchester's games in the State Interscholastic Basketball tourney for several years.

The first year the girls appeared Director Henry McCarthy, when approached to grant permission for their act, rather reluctantly agreed to let them go on for "five minutes or so."

The next year, when the then Coach Ted Bartlett asked if it would be all right to bring back the Tumblettes, Mr. McCarthy replied, "Don't come yourself if you don't!" In their first appearance the girls sold themselves to the director and audience alike, the applause and handclapping that accompanied their individual stunts and the prolonged cheering at the conclusion of their act testifying eloquently to the hit they made.

The Tumblettes started some years ago as a little group of girls performing in the high school Vaudeville Show. The Johnson Sisters, Noreen and Marguerite, skilled tumblers and acrobatic dancers as school girls, were prime movers in getting the girls together, and they also coached the girls as well as performed themselves as stars of the team.

Right from the start the Tumblettes were enthusiastically received. They starred in the Vaudeville Shows and they featured Winchester football games and basketball appearances at the Garden. Mrs. Jay Pratt, then Helen Carroll, girls' physical education instructor and coach, took charge of the group, which commenced to build up a reputation for excellence everywhere.

The older Johnson girls have graduated. Their double cartwheel was a feature Tumblette performance for several years. A younger sister, Carlene, is a member of this year's group, and last year teamed with her sister, Marguerite, in feature stunts.

Mildred Barnes, girls' coach and director of physical education, is in general charge of the Tumblettes, who are being coached by Isadore Battino of the physical education department, a tumbler in his own undergraduate days at Springfield.

The girls have many opportunities to appear here and there, but in general their appearances have been in connection with school functions, the School Committee having frowned upon exploitation of the group.

A year ago an invitation to appear at one of the Celtics games was turned down by the school authorities, but this year, permission to appear has been granted and those few in town who haven't seen the Tumblettes in action definitely shouldn't miss them on TV Saturday.

Patylin Bruno is captain of the group, the others being Barbara Arbeene, Judy Madden, Mary Jean Newton, Brenda Cowles, Brenda McGowan, Linda Fessenden, Suzanne Dresser, Carlene Johnson and Jean Elliott. Nancy Stewart and Dorothy Chute are alternates.

First Tryouts for 1957 Season

Little League Tryouts April 13th

The first tryouts for the 1957 season of the Winchester Little League will be held on Saturday, April 13, at the Loring Avenue Playground. As has been the custom in past years, the groups of boys will be divided up into comparable age groups. Applications may be obtained through the schools and at the Star office.

This year begins a new era in Winchester Little League, as we are to have two separate leagues with a farm system for each major league. The old league, which has been existence since 1952, will be the National, and the new league will be the American. This will mean that a total of 240 boys will be playing Little League baseball in Winchester in 1957.

Players Agent Ken Hall has announced that because of this new set-up there will be a place on the application to put in the number of the precinct the applicant lives in. The new division of the town will be by precincts, not east-west, as has been the custom of other activities in Winchester. All boys are requested to put in the precinct number on their applications as it will help in classifying each participant. Failure to do this may injure a boy's chances to play baseball this summer. All applications must be returned to the schools by April 10 or earlier.

Opening day is May 11, when there will be a parade and dedication ceremonies at both Ginn Field and the West Side Field, which will be used by the new American League.

If you have any questions, please call Ken Hall, WInchester 6-3370.

VARSITY CLUB JAMBOREE

If you haven't arranged to attend the Varsity Club Jamboree at the high school gym tonight, change your plans and hop on down to a real "take" commencing at 7 o'clock. The Varsity Club is sponsoring the affair to raise funds for a whirlpool bath for the trainer's room at school, so you will be aiding a worthy cause as well as treating yourself to a good time by attending.

Feature attractions will be basketball games pitting men of the school faculty against the varsity tournament squad and "Millie" Barnes' "Bloomer Girls" faculty team versus the unbeaten girls varsity basketball squad.

Between the halves of the two basketball extravaganzas the high school boys tumbling team will give a breath-taking exhibition and it is expected that the famous girl Tumblettes will warm up for their Boston Garden appearance the next day by appearing in action.

ST. MARY'S MOTHERS' CLUB

Snow again tried, but failed, to dampen the enthusiasm of Saint Mary's mothers. Last Wednesday evening, the March meeting of the Club was held following the evening mass.

President Elizabeth Iannacci, announced the committees for the Fashion Show which will take place in May. The models are even prettier than last year's and that's really something. You'll be hearing more about it later.

The most thought-provoking part of the meeting is always the short but very potent reading and question period by Father Manion. His concern is always the unity of the family and the ultimate good of the children.

Gerry Hayes of the National Shawmut Bank was the guest of the evening. His talk and movie on the Eucharistic Congress of 1955 was most interesting.

The sixth grade mothers, with Helen Curran and Eleanor Duffy as hostesses, served coffee. Food was not served, of course, because of the Lenten fast.

SENIOR FORUM

This Sunday will find the members of the Senior Forum attending the 11:00 o'clock service in church. Dr. Cart will speak on "Taking Heed What You Hear." The young people participating in this service will include Forum Chaplain David Usher; Forum Deacons Henry Dietz, Gordon Fay, Tim Hill, Lincoln Handford, Lin Morison and Terry Mulford; Forum Ushers Dennis Baker, David Bates, Roger Griffin, John Johnian, Martin Kazanjian and Myron Kazanjian; and an anthem by the Forum choir.

A large number have signed up for the supper meeting at six o'clock. In charge of the supper is Mrs. Richard Davenport, who is being assisted by Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper, Mrs. Wayne Cowles, Mrs. G. Hartley Curtis, Mrs. James Denton, Mrs. Lyle Longworth, and Mrs. Victor Politano.

The program for the evening is in charge of the Dramatic Club, chairmen of which are Janet Monro and Bob Cooper. A Lenten play, "Dust of the Road" by Kenneth Sawyer Goodman, will be presented, under the direction of Mrs. George Stone, assisted by Janet Monro. Members of the cast are Peg Archibald, Dan Dennett, Phil Dreyer and Liz Fisher. Others helping with the production are Tally Kelley, prompter; Peter Gowing, stage manager; Bob Cooper, lights.

Co-chairmen of Forum's Food Sale, to be held on Saturday, April 6, are Cindy Dunn and David Usher.

FRED CARDIN TOP SALESMAN

Fred Cardin was top salesman of Winchester Pack 3, Cub Scouts, in their recent sale of greeting cards. The Pack, consisting of 80 Cubs in 11 Dens, was charged with the responsibility of selling 400 boxes to raise money with which to operate the balance of the year and to start next Fall with sufficient funds. The boys met the challenge with so much determination and enthusiasm that the results exceeded the most optimistic goal and the sale of more than 775 boxes was recorded.

Best salesmen for the Pack were: 1st F. Cardin, 46 boxes; 2nd, P. Bacon, 37; 3rd, M. Hakanson, 34; 4th, A. Broadhurst, 31; 5th, R. Boutwell, 27.

Best salesmen for Dens were: Den 1, P. Cunningham, 18; Den 2, J. Newton, 17; Den 3, D. Pywell, 22; Den 4, M. Hakanson, 34; Den 5, D. Larson, 21; Den 6, A. Silvestri, 23; Den 7, W. Knox, 8; Den 9, T. Wadsworth, 9; Den 10, F. Cardin, 46; Den 11, R. Boutwell, 27; Den 12, A. Broadhurst, 34.

The winning Den, No. 10, was responsible for the sale of 122 boxes and is made up of the following Cubs: P. Bacon, D. Bellows, M. Billman, F. Cardin, J. Gustin, B. Johnson and J. Russell.

All of the Cubs mentioned above were rewarded for their excellent efforts with silver dollars in varying numbers and, in addition, will attend the opening game of the baseball season between the Red Sox and the New York Yankees, April 18. The Committee thanked all Cubs and Parents for their splendid cooperation at the last Pack meeting.

"GOOD LUCK!"

Retiring Watchmaker Ernest H. Butterworth and his successor, Charles E. Ward, extend mutual good wishes as Mr. Butterworth leaves his shop on Common street. Mr. Ward, after a long association with Mr. Butterworth, will continue the business. Ed. Note—Mr. Ward does not have a black eye. The dark patch over his right eye is his badge of office, the magnifying glass through which he peers when he tells you your watch needs cleaning!

"LINES BUSY"

The intricacies of Alexander Bell's invention were recently displayed before the enthralled gaze of the sixteen boys who make up Dens 1 and 10 of Cub Scout Pack 3. The local telephone company played host to the boys and gave them a most instructive and entertaining hour. Every boy also had a chance to 'phone home and surprise his family. Afterward the group moved on to Randall's for a snack.

Those attending the outing included the following: Douglas and James Gustin, Mark Billman, Jeffrey Russell, Barry Johnson, Perry Bacon, Dwight Bellows, Bruce and Fred Cardin, Peter Cunningham, Patrick Garner, Gus Bond, Christopher Green, Robert Hudson and William Ulfelder. Mrs. James Gustin, Mrs. Ellis Green, Mrs. Fred Cardin and Mrs. Seymour Russell went along for the ride.

WIN BABSON HOCKEY LETTERS

Three Winchester members of the student body of Babson Institute of Business Administration, Michael Brown of 24 Arlington street, William von Rosenvinge of 111 Church street, and Maurice McCarthy of 255 High street, have been awarded letters as members of the Institute's varsity hockey team.

Brown, who prepared at Kimball Union and graduated from Yale in 1952, is a graduate student at Babson.

Von Rosenvinge graduated from Deerfield Academy in 1949 and is a senior at Babson majoring in finance.

McCarthy, who managed the hockey team, graduated from Winchester High School in 1954 and is a senior at Babson, majoring in investments.

BAPTIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ward, 28 Stone avenue, will be hosts to the Senior High Fellowship of the First Baptist Church on Sunday evening. They will continue their study on the "Life of Christ," preparing them for the Easter Season. Along with the discussion there will be a film strip entitled "The Betrayal and First Trials." Jean Dawson will lead them in their Evening Worship. The evening will close with fellowship and refreshments.

"Study The New Life" will be the topic for study at the Junior High Fellowship, Sunday evening at 5:00 p m. This is the 5th of a Series of classes for the Young People who are interested in Baptism and Church Membership.

BLOOD DELIVERED

A quantity of "O" type blood was rushed to the Salem Hospital from the Winchester Hospital Saturday morning. Winchester police received a teletype message from the Salem police department shortly before noon asking them to pick up the blood at the hospital and deliver it to a State Police cruiser which was waiting at the juncture of Washington street and route 128. State Police then took the blood to Salem.

SUBJECT ON THE "CROSS" AT METHODIST CHURCH

While many people are aware of certain symbols related to the Christian church, oftentimes they find it difficult to define them.

For example, if someone asked you what the symbol of the Christian Cross meant to you, what answer would you give? You may know about it and what happened but to define it in relationship to your own life might cause hesitation.

This coming Sunday at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, the pastor will review another sermon in the fourth of a series of Lenten messages. The title of the sermon is, "What the Cross Means To Me."

Again we extend a pleasurable welcome to those who have no particular church ties and would like to worship with us at this Lenten service.

Dorothy J. Kallis, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Stephen A. Kallis of 282 Main street, has been appointed reporter for the Tufts Weekly, the undergraduate newspaper of Tufts University. A graduate of Sendai American School, Sendai, Japan, Miss Kallis is a senior at Jackson College for Women at Tufts.

ANDREW H. TITILAH

Andrew H. Titilah of 43 Shore road, a retired mechanic and resident of Winchester for more than 40 years, died early Thursday afternoon, March 21, at the Winchester Hospital following an illness of only six days.

Mr. Titilah was the son of Robert, and Elizabeth (Hodgson) Titilah. He was born February 15, 1879, in Haddington, Scotland, and grew up in his native land, learning a mechanic's trade.

In 1913 he came to this country, settling at that time in Winchester, and for 30 years he worked as a mechanic for the Railway Express Company, retiring in 1944. He was a member of the Mechanics' Union and of the Church of the Epiphany.

Mr. Titilah's wife, Mrs. Ann Ray Titilah, died June 8, 1955. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Constance O'Kane of Winchester; five sons, Robert, of Arlington; Andrew H., (Roy) and Martin, of Winchester; Alexander, of Roxbury; and Kenneth Titilah, in the Navy, stationed at Norfolk, Va.; who flew home from Bermuda at news of his father's death, 17 grandchildren and a brother, Robert Titilah of Saskatchewan, Canada.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany with the rector, Rev. John W. Ellison, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. ABBIE KEADY

Mrs. Abbie Keady of 26 Farrow street, a long time resident of Winchester, died Friday afternoon, March 22, at her home after a long illness at the age of 81.

Mrs. Keady was the daughter of Patrick, and Nora (Flaherty) Curran. She was born November 1, 1876, in County Galway, Ireland, and had lived in Winchester for the past 55 years, settling here when she came to this country. She was for many years active in the affairs of St. Mary's Parish, and in recent years until her health failed she was an active worker in the Immaculate Conception Parish.

Mrs. Keady's husband, the late Patrick Keady, died many years ago. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Martin Titilah, and a son, Joseph P. Keady, both of Winchester, and a sister, Miss Mary Curran, living in County Galway.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with requiem high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church by Rev. Charles E. Anadore of St. Mary's Church. Rev. Cornelius J. Hogan, a former curate at St. Mary's, was seated in the sanctuary.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Father Anadore.

FRED F. CROTO

Fred F. Croto of 9 Kendall street, a well known local tinsmith, died suddenly Saturday morning, March 23, at the Winchester Hospital. He suffered a heart attack the day previous and entered the hospital last Friday night. He had been out and around in the days preceding his illness and had been at his tinsmith's shop on Swanton street on last Friday.

Mr. Croto was the son of Eugene, and Rose (Bachard) Croto. He was born 66 years ago in Burlington, Vt., and as a young man learned the tinsmith's trade, coming to Winchester 30 years ago and establishing himself in a shop at the rear of the White residence on upper Main street, torn down at the time Moody Motors acquired the property as a parking lot.

He then moved to the Ficociello building on Swanton street and continued to operate from that location, also working for some years as a tinsmith at the Charlestown Navy Yard. He was a member of Winchester Lodge, 1445, B.P.O.E.; and of the Sheet Metal Workers Union, Local 395.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Helen Locklin Croto; a son, Fred F. Croto, Jr., of Wakefield; a daughter, Marguerite L. Croto, of Winchester; two grandchildren; his mother, in Burlington, Vt.; four sisters, Mrs. Gladys Eaton of Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Rose Pigeon and Mrs. Emma Henderling, both of Albany, N. Y.; and Mrs. May Clay of Glen Falls, N. Y.; also three brothers, Michael, living in Mexico; William in Louisiana; and Edward Croto of Hartland, Maine.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with requiem high mass celebrated at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Rev. Martin Dolphin was celebrant of the mass and also read the committal prayers at the grave.

KNIGHTS COMPLETE ANNIVERSARY PLANS

With the engaging of the caterer and the orchestra this past week, final plans are now complete for the Winchester Council No. 210 Knights of Columbus 60th Anniversary Banquet and Dance to be held on Saturday evening, May 11, at 6:30 p. m. at the Winchester Town Hall.

Music will be provided by the popular Ned Marshall and his six piece orchestra, "the Melotones," while a catered dinner of roast beef and lobster salad will be served.

Round tables seating ten people will be the arrangement at the Town Hall with parties even at this early date having tables reserved for them. However, this will be no deterrent for couples not in any prearranged group, since no matter to what table they are assigned, they will find a cordial welcome.

It will be interesting to note that this year the Knights of Columbus, the world over, are celebrating the 75th anniversary of the founding of the order, their Diamond Jubilee, with Winchester Council celebrating its 60th birthday.

Life Magazine has scheduled a feature story for its May 27th issue in color and black and white on the K. of C. and its activities.

For seventy-five years ago, the founders of the order and their successors have carried on the numerous and varied good works by which the K. of C. principles of charity, unity, fraternity, and patriotism have been given living expression. The Order now numbers over a million members and is the world's largest fraternal society of Catholic men.

ACADEMY CONCERT

The monthly informal recital was held in the concert Room of the Arlington Academy of Music on Wednesday, March 20. Despite the heavy snowstorm, parents and friends of the young performers filled the hall and late arrivals were standing through most of the concert.

Peter Diodati, a veteran student from Lawrence, presented a very novel and effective harmonica solo of Saint-Saen's "Bacchanale." Dean Ward pointed out that this is the first time to his knowledge that a program of complete musical instruction has been offered by any school for this particular instrument.

It was a well varied program both instrumentally and vocally and each young performer was received with well deserved enthusiasm.

Those participating from Winchester were: Nancy Collins of 68 Hutchinson road, singing "Gianinna Mia"; Joan Wilson of 3 Oneida road, playing "Gavotte" on the clarinet; and Jean Wilson of 3 Oneida road, playing the cello.

Mrs. Iva Ford of Highland avenue is a patient at the Winchester Hospital.

STAR MARKET TO BUILD LOCAL SHOPPING CENTER

Stephen P. Mugar, President of the Star Market Company, which now operates 9 large supermarkets in the Greater Boston area, announces the acquisition of 34 acres on Route 3, at the Woburn-Winchester line, on which the Company will erect an ultra-modern shopping center, embodying the most advanced ideas in food merchandising and shopping.

While no definite date has been set for the completion of the project, all steps are being taken to expedite its construction, and it is hoped that it will be opened by the Spring of 1958.

Star's new Woburn-Winchester shopping center will be a magnificent development, along the lines of the famous and enormously-popular Chestnut Hill Shopping Center. An added and important convenience will be the enormous parking area, with space for more than 1200 cars.

PARTICIPATED IN PHILIPPINE LANDING

Marine Cpl. Donald J. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Murphy of 53 Allen road, landed on the Philippine Island of Luzon, March 25, with the 3rd Marine Division in the largest ship-to-shore operation held in the Far East since World War II.

The week-long exercise started when the assault landing forces hit the beach in small landing craft. Other units hopped over simulated beach defenses in helicopters to capture key inland positions.

This vertical envelopment concept, developed first by the Marine Corps, provides a landing force with a powerful one-two punch for securing a beachhead.

The exercise includes more than 40 miles of hiking, practical application of tactics and techniques perfected during the 3rd Division's year-long training program, and living in the field under simulated battle conditions.

Watch for that slippery spot on the highway, especially around a curve or in a protected place where the ice is melting slowly. That's the spot that can cause you trouble, warns the AAA.

MYSTIC SCHOOL NEWS

The Mystic School Chapter of the Winchester Mothers' Association held its third meeting, Wednesday evening at 7:30, March 20, at the school auditorium, with Mrs. Wayne Davis, president, presiding. An evening meeting was especially planned so that both the fathers and mothers might be acquainted with present methods used in teaching creative writing in the elementary grades.

Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker spoke briefly on the Winchester Scholarship Foundation giving its history and how it functions. She urged all to support the coming drive.

Mrs. Davis then introduced Mr. Joseph C. Forte, principal, who presented the program for the evening and spoke about creative writing in the second, fourth and sixth grades. A booklet was distributed to each person containing an outline of the aims and procedures of creative writing. Ten children from one section of each of the above classes were selected by the students themselves to participate in the demonstration.

Miss Gladys L. Wood, sixth grade teaeher, and her representative group appeared first. After being shown a picture, they had a class discussion on what they saw, why and what they might write in a descriptive paragraph. The aims in this grade are to help children develop the ability to express ideas in a descriptive paragraph or short story, to learn to use colorful, picturesque words and to develop imagery. The children then returned to their classrooms to create a short story stimulated by motivation presented. Later they returned and read what they had written.

Miss Eileen Cummings' second grade class read a short synopsis of a story from one of their reading books. From this story they showed how they were able to create their own group story. The aims in this class are to have the children express their ideas, create an original story from another story using the same character, to give the story a continuity and to develop imagery.

The pupils in Miss Lydia J. Whittemore's fourth grade each read a part of his story, which had been written previously, one in its entirety. The group then evaluated them. Their aims are to acquire the ability to write an interesting story, to become conscious of the beauty of language, to develop an attitude of self-criticism and to develop a willingness to give and take in the spirit of improvement.

After the program Mrs. Ernest Phillips, Jr., and her committee served refreshments to the children in Miss Littlefield's room and to the parents in Mrs. Laughner's room.

On March 12, at the home of Mrs. Wayne Davis, 9 Marshall road, the members of the Board of the Mystic School Mothers' Association gave a luncheon for the teachers. Also present were Mr. Joseph C. Forte, principal, Mrs. Maud Dover, secretary, and Mrs Nicholas Grant, past president.

Mr. Roger Romie, popular clerk at McCormack's Apothecary, has returned from a two weeks vacation, spent touring Maine, New Hampshire and Canada.

MEURLING A MUST FOR SQUARE DANCERS

"Mickey" Meurling (his real name's Alfred, remember?), is largely responsible for the present wave of popularity on which square dancing for young and old is riding in Winchester. "Ken" Pratt carried on alone for years, but "Weenie" was a performer, not a caller, and the scope of his influence was, as a consequence, limited.

"MICKEY" MEURLING
Square Dance Caller
Par Excellence

Mickey's vocation is of course physical education. He heads up the program for junior high pupils and also works with the younger kiddies in the elementary schools. If you don't think they all love him, young and old, just make some slighting remark about the popular and still youthful-appearing Mr. Meurling, and then duck—fast!

"Mickey" started teaching square dancing to school children as part of the physical education program. He and the parents of the town found the youngsters loved it, and soon dances were being arranged with Mr. Meurling as caller.

For some years now "Mickey" has been running square dances for sixth-grade pupils with the events sponsored by the Winchester School Custodians Association and the various parent-teacher groups.

Proceeds from the dances have gone to assist the school janitors with their benevolent fund and to assist the various projects of the PTA. Part of the funds realized have gone to provide a PA system, record player and recordings to make the dances more enjoyable.

"Mickey" hasn't just run square dances of sixth graders. He has called for adult dances, church groups and other enthusiasts, all of whom pay high tribute to his ability. He has been calling for ten years and claims he is learning new techniques all the time.

His most recent job of calling was last Friday evening at the Custodians' Dance for sixth graders at the junior high gym. A picture of the happy youngsters enjoying the party appears above.

COMPLETES OFFICER'S BASIC

Marine second lieutenant Thomas P. Gallagher, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Gallagher of 25 Grayson road, completed the 34-week officer's basic course March 16, at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va.

The basic course is compulsory for all newly commissioned Marine officers, including former enlisted men, Naval Academy graduates and graduates of colleges and universities.

ST MARY'S MR. & MRS. CLUB

The next monthly meeting will be held Wednesday, April 3, at 8:30 immediately after Evening Mass. The entire program has been planned around a "Spring Garden" theme with features to please all members of the group.

Colored slides of suburban home plantings and flowering trees will be presented and a professional landscape architect will be on hand to answer the members' individual garden and landscape questions. An original sketch written and acted by several talented members will point up some of the humorous aspects of our Spring gardening activities.

A display of our members' favorite house plants and flower arrangements is being planned and prizes will be awarded to the most attractive entries. After the social portion of the evening, time will be provided for an exchange or sale of house and garden plants.

Any couples in St. Mary's Parish who haven't yet joined the Mr. and Mrs. Club are cordially invited to attend the April meeting and get acquainted with this very congenial group.

The committee planning this interesting program consists of Jim and Mary Bradley, Chairmen; Louise and Dana Kelly, Agnes and Henry Rooney, Marcella and John Smith, Betty and Pat Cosgrove, Frances and John Lynch, Rose and Mel Sarno, Alice and Bill Sullivan.

SIR, HAVE YOU A DUMB WIFE!

Then pay strict attention to what I say, for it may preserve your senses and maintain the peace of your home. For it is probably better to let her remain dumb than to make her speak and listen to the din for the rest of your natural life.

Such is the advice advanced by Anatole France, satirical but tremendously witty French writer in his farcical presentation of an old theme, "The Man Who Married A Dumb Wife," to be offered by the Unitarian Players on April 26 and 27.

This comedy, for any day of any year, cleverly utilizes the ever-present problems of the high cost of living, ladies' fashions, the loquacity of the female and the bombast of the male, and other devices to carry the action forward at a brisk and chuckle-loaded pace.

The capable direction of Rev. Robert Storer will be supported by the imaginative and colorful set design of Mr. George W. Hayden, Jr., who has created other brilliant settings for the productions of the Unitarian Players. Costume design and execution will be supervised by Mr. Storer and Mrs. Olcott Hooper.

Among those lending their talents to the presentation will be William Spaulding, Frank Thayer, Stanley Osgood, Bradford Darling, and Robert Sibley (to be remembered with pleasure for some time to come will be Mr. Thayer's portrayal of a rogue-convict capable of handling any situation in the Players' presentation of "My Three Angels" a year or two ago).

To balance the dominant males of the play will be the Gallic piquancy of the maid who is constantly appearing in the midst of the confusion, as played by Valia Downes.

Edward Reade, Bettina Harrison, Donald Gross, Virginia Morang, Nancy Schwanke, Martha Cabot, Tony Rothfus, and Sam Erksine will be others taking part in the action of the play.

Those assisting in the various phases of the production work are Martha Hutchings, Marian Black, Irwin Renz, Suzanne Reed, Mary Glasshoff, Betty Ann Pritchard, Olive Anderson, Dick Barnard, Bob and Sally Eddy, Jean Mead, Phoebe and Bob Low, Mary Louise Lunt, John Harrison, Paulett Taggart, and Steven Morang.

As mentioned, performances will be given on April 26 and 27, with the curtain going up at 8:30 p. m. Remember these dates, for an evening when you'll laugh, perhaps think of your neighbor, and laugh some more. Maybe your neighbor will be there, thinking of you and chuckling. Possibly the satire on the foibles of everyday life will make you laugh at yourself. In any case, the laughter is guaranteed, so don't miss this presentation.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Percy Hill, WInchester 6-1585-M, or by contacting any member of the Unitarian Players. Better do this soon.

Misses Ann V. Peter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Peter, 50 Hillcrest parkway; and Marcia L. Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Harris, 121 Church street, are students at Centenary College for Women, Hackettstown, N. J., who commence their spring vacation today.

WRECKAGE OF CARS AFTER COLLISION AT HIGHLAND AVENUE AND MAIN STREET

CRASH HOSPITALIZED FIVE

A two car crash at the juncture of Highland avenue and Main street Thursday night sent five persons to the Winchester Hospital in the police ambulance. In the Pontiac sedan were the driver, Mary L. Moore of Medford and Clare Mornane of Medford and in the Mercury were Rudolph E. Galleguillas of Woburn, who was driving, and Louis Melendez of Woburn and Raymos Edfrain of Burlington.

Miss Moore told police that she was driving south on Highland avenue. Having stopped at the intersection with Main street, she then entered Main street and was struck on the left front of her car by the Mercury driven by Galleguillas. He claimed he was going north on Main street at a moderate rate of speed when he suddenly saw the other car in front of him.

All five persons were released from the hospital after being treated, and both cars were towed to Haggerty's Garage.

GREER COMPANY ENTERTAINS

J. W. Greer Company, manufacturers of continuous production machinery, on Monday evening entertained 100 members of the Woburn Chamber of Commerce at its modern Wilmington, Mass., plant.

Samples of products produced with Greer equipment were given out, and the guests enjoyed movies showing Greer machines in operation. Following dinner in the company cafeteria, the visitors were conducted on a tour of the plant, which comprises 110,000 square feet of production, engineering and office space. President Don S. Greer of Winchester then told of the background and history of the 40-year-old company founded by his father.

MATH DISCUSSED BY JUNIOR HIGH ASSOCIATES

The Junior High Associates offered its second informative panel meeting, a discussion of the school's mathematics program, in the school auditorium last Tuesday afternoon. Because of the innovation of a special 7th grade math class the meeting was of particular interest.

Before introducing the panel members, Mrs. Robert Williams summarized the ideal aims of education in today's constantly changing world. Where subject matter is so soon outdated, the tools of learning, the ability to understand and reason, and the desire to continue learning are more essential than the accumulation of facts.

The math program in our schools, as outlined by the panel members, Mr Handy and Mr. Bolster, and by Mr. Dickman, fulfills these aims to a remarkable degree. Pupils are taught not only how to multiply, divide, etc., but are given an understanding of the numbers system.

The why as well as the how is explained. From multiplication to fractions and decimals, to percentages and measurements, the reasons for each process become tools the student can use in any variety of problems. While this method is slow, the groundwork is well laid for individual thinking and advanced study.

Mr. Butters, of the High School math faculty, then discussed the special math program offered for the first time in the 7th grade this year—part of a national movement in this field. Students in the group have been selected on the basis of several tests given all students. Placement tests are given to all pupils twice a year. The special group is not static, but is open to any student who qualifies on these tests.

The course is not accelerated, but thorough and detailed, with emphasis on an understanding of the principles of mathematics and on original thought. By teaching concentration and accurate reading of problems, the course aims to stimulate the ability of the exceptional pupil who might otherwise just coast along.

It is hoped that next year a comparable course will be offered in English.

WHICH MAN PASSED THE N.P.* TEST?

*Ninety-Percent

The poised, smartly-dressed man at the left of course. You can tell at a glance . . . and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. People judge you by what they see (sometimes that's all they have to go on) and ninety percent of what they see of you is what you wear. The fresh finish of drycleaned clothes is more than an extra touch . . . like a flower in the buttonhole. It's an integral part of good grooming. The state of your clothes tells volumes about the kind of person you are. In fact, your clothes never stop talking about you.

You buy your clothes to make a good impression. As you wear them, have them drycleaned often. A smart man takes care to keep that impression fresh.

CAMPCRAFT SKILLS ATTRACT GIRL SCOUTS

The four Winchester Junior High Girl Scout Troops were active participants in the first Campcraft week-end ever held at Cedar Hill, Girl Scout State Camp in Waltham, on March 22, 23 and 24.

Designed to introduce girls to various activities in this field as well as present opportunities for advanced training, 32 Winchester girls joined almost 100 others from 8 towns ranging from Rockport to Newton on Friday afternoon at the Hill.

Planned activities started Friday night at a combined "campfire" held in the Great Hall. Group singing interspersed the showing of color slides from last year's Girl Scout National Roundup in Michigan. These pictures depicted the various skills that would have to be known to qualify for the next Roundup in 1959. Many of these girls will be in the age group that will be selected for that honor.

Saturday morning, Fire Safety in the outdoors was the subject for all, followed by instruction and practice in pitching tents for all types of weather. The afternoon schedule was conducted in various areas with small groups. Each girl selected two of the 8 subjects offered. Sessions were held on Knives and Saws, Axes and Hatchets, Lashing for beginners, Advanced Lashing, Sanitation, Food Storage out-of-doors, and Lanterns and Emergency Fuel. Practical work as well as instruction kept the girls busily engaged in the various courses.

Saturday evening's combined gathering completed the girls' preparation for a deep sleep, with a rousing square dance in the Great Hall.

Sunday morning was set aside for Church Services, camp cleanup and the girls' own evaluation of the week-end activities. The perfect weather had provided the optimum opportunity for Outdoor Campcraft Skills practice, and the girls' remarks reflected their enjoyment of the program.

The traditional "Scouts' Own" ceremony concluded the intensive agenda at 2 p. m. and camp broke up with many a reluctant heart.

Winchester girls making the trip included (Troops 10 and 38) Marilyn Beckley, Nola Carucci, Penny Dalziel, Joan Denton, Ann Dyson, Marie Enright, Mary Jo Hanley, Judith Hessian, Joanna Hill, Ann Hurley, Susan Kimball and Peggy Padelford. From Troop 5 and 32 were Mardy Beal, Susan Bennett, Betty Lou Brown, Judy Carr, Jacqueline Cartier, Ann Clifford, Martha Collins, Claudia Gordon, Laurel Ingraham, Loanne McClennan, Mary McCormack, Ruth McKerring, Ellen McNally, Joan McNally, Diane Meracantante, Alta Merritt, Gayle Palace, Cindy Randlett, Martha Ross and Susan Williams.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

The Mother-Daughter Banquet, an annual affair at the First Baptist Church, will be held Friday evening, April 5, at 6:30 p. m. in the Social Hall. Mrs. Forrest Baltzer and Miss Daisy Smith are co-chairmen of the dinner, and hostesses will include: Mrs. Stanley Cameron, Mrs. Joseph Dunn, Mrs. Eleanor Davis, Mrs. Ernest Dade, Mrs. Stanley Kinsley, Mrs. Richard Palme, Mrs. Sargis Matson, Mrs. Herbert Thompson, Mrs. Richard Sheppard, Mrs. Ralph Swanson, and Mrs. Walter Bosselmann.

Mr. Harvey Davies, outstanding musician and well known local organist, will entertain with his intriguing subject "Don't Let the Music Fool You." This is one of the very special League programs of the entire year for all women of the church, their daughters and their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence K. Hawkins of this town are enjoying a two weeks cruise to Almirante, Panama, as the only passengers aboard the S.S. Aragon.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

BOARD MEETING

The April meeting of the Board of Directors will be held on the 4th, at the Girl Scout Cabin at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Thomas Hill will preside.

Camp Committee

The camp committee with Mrs. James Stewart, Chairman, will meet at the Girl Scout Cabin on Friday, April 5, at 9:30 a. m. Plans for the coming Day Camping season will be discussed. Camp Joy will operate for four weeks starting on June 24, and camp folders will be mailed to each registered Scout and Brownie at a later date. The committee is concerned with the recruitment of camp staff and adult unit leaders are needed. Anyone interested in working with children and the out-of-doors can call Mrs. Stewart or the Girl Scout Office for further details. Experience with the Girl Scout program is helpful but not vital.

Spring Cookie Sale

Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts will start after school today, to take orders for Girl Scout cookies and will continue until April 9. The cookies will be delivered to each troop cookie chairman on April 29, and no money should be collected until the girls deliver the cookies, during the week of April 29. The Winchester Council depends on this annual Cookie Sale to supplement the budget allowed them by the Winchester Community Fund, to carry out the Girl Scout program locally.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS MEETING FOR NEW MEMBERS

On April 3, at 8:00 p. m. all new and prospective members of the Winchester League of Women Voters will be welcomed at the home of Mrs. Robert Lowry, 158 Cambridge street. On hand to greet them will be Mrs. John Hogan, Membership Chairman of the League, and other board members. The purpose of the meeting will be to orient the new members into the purposes and workings of the League. Each board member will say a few words about her job in the League and Mrs. Hogan will tie the information all together with an overall explanation of how the League functions.

Old members, new members, and anyone considering membership in the League will be most welcome at this meeting.

NEW NATIONAL GUARD ENLISTMENT PROGRAMS

New training programs are now available to young men through enlistment in the Massachusetts National Guard, to fulfill their military obligation.

In a recent statement Major General William H Harrison, Jr., the Adjutant General of Massachusetts, stressed the special eleven-week active duty training program which permits men under 18½ years of age to take this training during their summer vacation period without interruption to their plans for higher education. Under this plan, available only to those enlisting between now and October 1, 1957, the young man takes eleven weeks' basic training and returns to his home town National Guard armory to complete his military obligation.

The second program, six months' active duty training, now available to young men between the ages of 17 and 26 years, requires that they begin such training within 120 days of enlistment.

The young man enlisting in the National Guard and starting the six-month training program before he reaches the age of 18½ years, is required to continue as an active member of the National Guard for a period of three years after completing his six months' active duty training. Men attending high school, who enlist for this program, are permitted to delay their basic training up to one year from date of enlistment, to permit completion of high school.

The men enlisting in the National Guard who enter the six-month training program after reaching the age of 18½ years, are required to continue training with their National Guard unit for a period of six years from date of enlistment.

General Harrison pointed out that the several plans for training, available to a young man by enlisting in the National Guard, assure every individual an opportunity to fulfill his military obligation with the least interruption of his personal plans and hopes for the future.

Local National Guard commanders have complete information regarding these new enlistment programs and all who are interested are invited to visit their local armories for advice and assistance regarding their military obligation.

ITEM SCHOOLBOY ROAD RACE APRIL 28

The Wakefield Daily Item's third annual schoolboy road race championship has been postponed to Sunday, April 28, this year because the original date, April 19, falls on Good Friday.

Starting time for the three-mile grind, which attracted a field of 62 last year, is 2:30 p. m. The race is limited to high school boys who have not reached the age of 19 on April 28, 1957.

Closing date for applications is Monday, April 22, to be mailed or left at the Daily Item office. Twenty five cents in coin, which will be refunded at the race's end, must accompany every application.

The start and finish of both the Junior and Senior races will take place on the Walton Field track, which is located behind Memorial High School. The course runs through the center of town and several side streets. The Junior two-mile event is restricted to Wakefield and Lynnfield boys under 15 years old and will start at 2 p. m.

Bobby O'Leary of Milton High captured last year's event, edging team mate Tom Hagan, who has entered this year's race, at the wire. Milton High also trotted away with the coveted team trophy, which is up for grabs again this year. Two Winchester runners, Harold Ekstrom and Kenneth Brown finished 6th and 7th in last year's race.

Ten awards (three trophies and seven medals) will be offered. Also, a team prize of five medals for the members of the winning contingent will be presented along with a three-legged trophy to be held by the winning school. It must be captured three times to be retired permanently.

WINTER SPORTS CAPTAINS NAMED

Winchester High School named two winter sports captains for next season at recent elections, choosing "Hank" Schumacher as captain of basketball for 1957-58, and Craig Davenport as next year's hockey leader.

Schumacher, a 6 ft. 4 in. center, improved greatly over the season just past, and gives promise of being outstanding another year, particularly if he can develop a bit more speed. Both in shooting and rebounding he has shown consistent improvement. He is the only regular letter man who will be available for next year, but with several second team stars available and an undefeated freshman team sending up several promising boys, next year's outlook is by no means drab.

Davenport was a steady performer on the second forward line of this year's hockey team, which was almost a senior club. Considerable rebuilding will be necessary to ice a team as good as this year's club, with men like Leo Callahan, Cussen, Zirkel, McElholm, Kelleher and Denton moving on.

RECEIVES AMHERST LETTER

Dana D. "Tom" Sawyer has received his varsity letter in hockey at Amherst College.

A sophomore at Amherst, Tom played defense for a team which compiled a record of six victories and eight defeats. He has played hockey for several years, and has an enviable record, including participation in Winchester High School's 1955 Massachusetts state championship campaign. Last year he was elected captain of the freshman sextet at Amherst.

Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dana D. Sawyer of 16 North Gateway, and is a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity at the College.

MASSACHUSETTS EASTER SEAL CHILD

Chosen to represent the hundreds of crippled children and adults throughout the state who are learning to be happy, independent persons through Easter Seal services is Gail Ann Arsenault, 4, 89 Cloran street, Springfield, who has been named the 1957 Massachusetts Easter Seal Child by the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped. Gail, who has been crippled since birth, has received treatment and training at the Springfield Easter Seal Center for more than two years. The $285,000 state-wide Easter Seal campaign continues traditionally through Easter Sunday.

TRAINING AT DIX

Two soldiers from Winchester, privates Wayne E. Cowles and Joseph G. Gange, Jr., recently began six months of active military training under the Reserve Forces Act program at Fort Dix, N. J.

The men are receiving eight weeks of basic combat training which will be followed by advanced individual and unit training. Men volunteering for the RFA program are permitted to finish their military obligation in local Army Reserve or National Guard units.

Cowles, a former Winchester hockey star, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne H. Cowles, 52 Jefferson road. He attended the University of New Hampshire.

Gange, whose parents live at 1 Edgehill road, attended Brown University, Providence, R. I. He is a member of Delta Phi fraternity.

CLASS OF 1932

Plans are going forward for the Twenty-fifth Reunion of the Winchester High School Class of 1932, the Star learned yesterday in an interview with co-chairmen Barbara Franklin Coss and Henry Fitts. On the night of Saturday, June 1, members of the class will gather from all points of the compass for a dinner and general get-together at the Hotel Continental in Cambridge. With only two months to go, members of the committee are busily making arrangements and gathering information regarding classmates and their spouses in preparation for the big event, and they urge any who have not sent in their personal histories to do so as soon as possible.

A few members of the class have not been located. Anyone who can supply the addresses of any of the following, please call Mrs. Coss at WInchester 6-0225-R, or write her at 5 Lloyd street.

SEMINAR FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEEMEN

Boston University School of Education, with the encouragement of the Massachusetts Association of School Committees and the Massachusetts Superintendents Association, is presenting a Seminar for School Committeemen to be held Tuesday evenings, from April 2 through May 7, on the University's Commonwealth avenue campus, commencing at 7:30 p. m.

Subjects covered include "What the School Committeeman Should Know About School Law," "School Committee Relationships to the Formulation and Execution of Policy," "The Role of the School Committee in the Instructional Program," "How Do You Know How Much to Pay School Employees?", "Economies and Practicalities in Long Range Planning for School Housing," and "School Committee Responsibility for the Leadership Function in Public Education."

Information concerning the Seminar may be secured by addressing Dr. Harold L. Gear, Boston University School of Education, 332 Bay State road, Boston 15. Advance registration may be made by mail. Registration may be made at the first meeting attended.

S. O. I. BOWLING

We are now at the head of the stretch with the finish line in our sights. With only two weeks to go and with top honors definitely decided the battle for second place continues. It's a seesaw battle between four teams as you will note below.

Team Standings:
All Stars	39 - 9
High and Low	27-21
Blue Eyes	27-21
Lindy Hop	26-22
Rock and Roll	23-25
Hot Shots	22-26
Jitterbugs	20-28
Bee Bops	8-40
Hi Single:
Choppers Gangi	147
Hi Triple:
Dick Fiore	356
Top Ten Bowlers
Tony Saraco	104.9
Richard Bucci	102.4
Dick Fiore	101.2
Joe Berardi	98.8
Bob Fiore	97.7
Choppers Gangi	97.5
Babe Tofuri	95.9
Chic Vespucci	94.7
Tony Chefalo	94.5
Max LaCarubba	94.5

We only had three bowlers that crawled up over the 300 circle this week. As of many times in the past Tony Saraco leads the pack with 348; Mingy Frongillo, 308; Richard Bucci, 303. It seems that Tony Saraco is getting untold gobs of publicity but they are justly due for this phenomenal character has set records never attained by any individual bowler according to all the records in our files. One of his highlights of this season's bowling of which 26 weeks has been consumed, he has hit the 300 circle 21 times and of this 21 times the last 14 weeks in succession. He also led his team in high pinfalls this week with 1497. This team consists of Mighty Mouse himself, Tony Chefalo, Joe Ciarcia, Eddie Forgeoni and Tony Bardarsino. As I mentioned last week we have numerous bowlers who bowl over 100 and this week was no exception. Although we only had three 300 bowlers we had 31 who bowled over 100. "Good bowling," I'd say. We are happy to announce a near perfect attendance this evening.

We don't like to publicize or wilfully embarass any individual bowler but of the 38 bowlers this week who do you think had the lowest score. This individual has rapidly disintegrated as his waist line expanded. None other than that former great football star of W.H.S. now known as the Japanese General Sammy Bellino posted a score of 237. The greatest improvement of any one bowler who has had a master for a teacher is Tony Bardarsino.

Another night comes to a close and the award this week went to one of our good bowlers Bob Fiore.

See you next week.

TO PROVE TO YOU WHAT THE EXPERTS ALREADY KNOW ABOUT AMERICA'S NUMBER ① ROAD CAR!

Drive the Champ!

First the automotive writers said, "Keep your eye on Pontiac . . . this one's a sleeper"! Then the California Highway Patrol chose Pontiac after three days of grueling competitive tests of six of America's top performers. Next, in the top stock car event of the year, NASCAR's 160-mile Daytona Grand National*, Pontiac outperformed everything on the beach including super-charged and fuel injection cars!

NOW IT'S YOUR TURN—Slip into that roomy driver's seat. Gently nudge the accelerator and feel Pontiac's barrel-chested 347 cu. in. Strato-Streak V-8 go into action. Put its instant response and Precision-Touch Control to a traffic test. Choose your own rough stretch and feel it disappear under Pontiac's Level-Line Ride. Then head for the open road and give that deep-breathing power plant a chance to show its mettle in the fresh open air. Man—you've got a champ on your hands for sure! And to make it even more fun—there's a chance to win a free Pontiac! Just follow the instructions at the right—you may be a winning driver!

HERE'S ALL YOU DO!

1. Go to your nearest authorized Pontiac dealer during April and test drive the 1957 Pontiac.

TECHNICIANS STILL NEEDED

The use of new highly technical push-button equipment by the U. S. Air Force has not decreased the need for qualified technicians, according to the local recruiter for that branch of service, Sergeant Al Raftopoulos.

Guided missiles systems, rocket propulsion, radio and radar equipment, and new advances in the armament field have all contributed to the general belief that the role of the airman has decreased in importance in recent years. The sergeant said that the complexity of modern equipment utilized by today's combat-ready Air Force has increased the need for highly trained specialists.

Emphasis in the Air Force is on education, with technical schooling, on-the-job training, self-study courses and college programs in greater use than ever before.

Civilian industry realizes the value of hiring veterans who have received Air Force training, says the sergeant, adding that a glance at employment advertisements will bear out that fact. Top-paying jobs in practically every technical field are open to men who are Air Force trained in electronics, aircraft maintenance and hundreds of other skills taught in that service.

Young men interested in getting in on the ground floor of an exciting career in aviation are invited to stop into the local Air Force office located at 49 High street, Medford, Mass.

FRIENDS CARD PARTY GREAT SUCCESS

The Annual Telephone Card Party, sponsored by the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, as their spring project, was an even greater success this year than last. There were more parties held and the great enthusiasm around town and in surrounding communities was most heartwarming to the hard-working committee. Appreciation is sincerely extended to Lemmens Gift Shop for their great cooperation with our prize committee and to Mr. Forester of Forester's Flower Shop for his kind assistance in obtaining the plants which were used as booby prizes at each party.

Winner of the prize for highest score of the afternoon bridge parties, was Mrs. Henry Curtis, while Mrs. Austin Broadhurst and Mrs. Robert Kittredge received the gifts for the first grand slam bid and made. A prize was also given for the first holder of 150 honors which Mrs. Alfred Pywell won. Canasta high scorers for the afternoon parties were Mrs. Herbert Clark and Mrs. Wilson Power who received prizes for both the highest scorer and for holding four red threes.

Evening parties were held for the first time this year and proved to be a very popular innovation. Prize winners for the bridge parties were: highest score, Dr. Harold J. Wheeler; first slam bid and made, Mrs. William Gustin and Dr. Harold J. Wheeler; first holder of 150 honors, Mrs. George Gowdy. Canasta games held in the evening had as their winners, Mrs. William Beggs and Mrs. George Littei.

In addition to those already reported in previous articles, the following Mesdames were hostesses at either afternoon or evening parties: Frederick Cardin, George Heath, Richard Hakanson, W. Raymond Chase, John Foley, Salmon Putnam, Bernard Cavanaugh, Edward Little, Harry Easton, Everett Goss, and Henry J. Curtis and H. Kimball Archibald who entertained jointly. Many thanks to all of you friends of the "Friends" who either entertained or participated in this spring project and made it such an overwhelming success.

We have a new line of gift wrappings and ribbons. Winchester Star. Star Building.

INFANT SAVIOUR GUILD

The next major project on the agenda of the April ninth meeting of the Winchester Chapter is a Birthday Party. Girls from nine to ninety love to observe their natal day. With this happy thought in mind, Mrs. Joseph W. McGaragle, general chairman of this next delightful affair, is planing a birthday celebration for each individual Guild member.

Many secret suprises are in store for you and we will reveal a few of the details in next week's "Star."

Chairman Mrs. McGaragle has appointed the following hostesses to assist with appropriate preparations.

January—Mrs. J. D. Cox and Mrs. F. L. McNulty.
February—Mrs. Joseph Burgatti and Mrs. Leo C. Thibeault.
March—Mrs. John W. Lane, Jr., and Mrs. Henry Valcour.
April—Mrs H. L. Crocker and Mrs. Coren Hintlian.
May—Mrs. William Conti and Mrs. Edward Hennessey.
June—Mrs. W. R. Hamel and Mrs. James C. Marchant.
July—Mrs. W. G. Laird and Mrs. S. Scalesse.
August—Mrs. John McDonald and Mrs. R. Sharkey.
September—Mrs. L. J. Herzog and Mrs. Chester Powers.
October—Mrs. Paul Brown and Mrs. Emelio D'Errico.
November—Marguerite Dineen and Mrs. W. D. Sullivan.
December—Mrs. W. S. Lippman and Mrs. G. F. Winterson.

LUTHERAN LENTEN CHORAL SERVICE

The Associated Lutheran Young People's Chorus will present a special Lenten Choral Service, Sunday, March 31, in Trinity Lutheran Church, Parker and Gore streets, Roxbury Crossing at 5:00 p. m. The choir is under the direction of Erdine Tredennick Oedel. Miss Helen Gordon will be at the console with Mrs. Mary Anderson of Winchester, harpist, as soloist. Rev. Milke, Pastor of Trinity Church, will officiate.

A social hour will follow the service. The public is cordially invited.

Sunset Road Beaten

Second Adjourned Session Economy Minded

One hundred eighty-seven of the 225 town meeting members struggled through 11 more of the 73 articles of this year's lengthy warrant at last Thursday evening's second adjourned session of the limited town meeting, completing Article 19.

Rep. Harrison Chadwick presided as moderator and in the absence of the clergyman who was to make the invocation, offered the opening prayer himself. He then told of several requests he had received to speed up the meetings and explained that a much larger town and more complex municipal structure make it difficult to avoid lengthened town meeting sessions without slighting the town's business.

He did suggest that the speaking limit of five minutes provided by the town's by-laws could save time and stated that he proposed to enforce this limit. He also suggested that if town meeting members would take the trouble to inform themselves on things to be decided in advance of town meeting so that many routine questions concerning articles to be discussed could be avoided, much time could be saved.

Mr. Chadwick strongly felt that democratic processes demand every one wishing to speak on any subject be heard, and said he would conduct meetings to this end.

Before actual consideration of the articles Mr. Broadhurst reported for the Finance Committee that as of then appropriations voted by the town meeting had raised the tax rate about $6.20 per thousand. The meeting indicated by its action during the long session that it was very aware of what this increase means taxwise.

Starting with Article eight the meeting appropriated $529 to pay bills incurred in previous years. Authorization was granted the Cemetery Commissioners to use a part of the Cemetery Fund for the embellishment of Wildwood Cemetery.

Coleman G. Foley, Jr., was re-elected director of Winchester's activity in connection with the Middlesex County Aid to Agriculture program and $50 was made available for his use. The Selectmen were authorized to fix the measurers of wood and bark at not more than eight.

Under Article 12 the Selectmen sought the appropriation of $32,000, of which $24,000 was to be transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Account and $8,000 to be raised by revenue to continue the construction of Johnson road west of Ridge street as a Chapter 90 project.

Despite Finance Committee and Planning Board support the Selectmen's proposal was rejected by the meeting, with opposition to the program being led by Mr. Ault, Mr. Lyman of the Planning Board (the Board was not in agreement on the project), Mr. Ayer and others. In general the arguments were that with the opening of the new Route 128, Johnson road is not so necessary as a direct route west, that its completion now would hasten a development of the west side hill district that might not be advantageous, that there is no knowing how the new route 3 will affect Johnson road and that there is no particular hurry in completing the road.

Mr. Lyman moved to defer for a year, and the meeting concurred, despite the warning of the Selectmen and Finance Committee that postponement might seriously prejudice the town's securing State and County funds for further Chapter 90 projects and that construction at a future date is likely to be more costly.

Under the Article dealing with street acceptances it was moved the layouts made by the Selectmen for Raymond place, Dana avenue, Cleveland road, Robinhood road, Sunset road and Robinhood road beginning at Wildwood street be accepted and that the sum of $48,050 be raised by revenue for the expenses involved.

Mr. Broadhurst of the Finance Committee moved to amend by striking Sunset road from the list of streets to be accepted and by reducing the appropriation to $33,200.

At this point Mrs. McDonald asked the meeting to postpone action on the article until 10:30 so that Mr. Tansey, a former Selectman, who had made a study of the Sunset road impasse could arrive at the meeting to speak upon the subject. This was voted, and the meeting moved to consideration of the Selectmen's proposal to construct three lengths of sidewalk on Highland avenue, from Sargent road to Pierrepont road, from Pierrepont road to Lawson road, and from Lawson road to Prospect street. The amount of $5,000 was requested to be transferred from the Excess and Deficiency Account for the sidewalks and the project was described as a safety measure for the more than 100 children of the district who have to use Highland avenue on their way to and from school.

The Finance Committee approved the expenditure, and so did Mr. Littleton of the School Committee, but the opposition was much more numerous and vociferous.

Mr. Fox was the principal speaker in opposition, stating he spoke not only for himself but for several neighbors, whose property would be damaged by the installation of the sidewalk and who would have great difficulty in getting their cars into and out of their garages, due to the increased slope of their driveways resulting from the installation.

Mr. Fox felt that the installation of traffic lights at some key intersection with pedestrian control would be cheaper and more effective than the sidewalks. Others heard in opposition, or who questioned the Selectmen's plans included Mr. Ambrose, Mrs. Whitman, Mr. Freeman, Mr. Lybeck and Mr. Symmes.

The latter got a laugh when he stated that he had to pay for the installation of a sidewalk at his house at the corner of Marshall road and Main street, and that after it was installed it was no good in the winter time because it was never plowed.

The Selectmen, in support of their proposal, stated that they had been asked to construct the sidewalk by mothers of Mystic School children who felt it was the solution to the safety problem in the Highland avenue area.

No mother was heard in support of the plan, and upon the motion of Mr. Morton the article was indefinitely postponed.

The same action was taken on the Selectmen's proposal to provide additional parking facilities on the easterly side of the railroad tracks from Waterfield road southerly between the tracks and the river.

Mr. Saltmarsh explained that some 70 new parking spaces could be provided for the $9800 asked under the article and that the Board, always interested in providing additional parking, felt it prudent to provide this new space before the MDC authorities stop all parking on the Parkway between the Unitarian Church and Mystic avenue.

Mr. Burleigh felt it wise to defer the article until sufficient money is on hand from the town's parking meters to pay for the additional parking space. The Finance Committee favored indefinite postponement and the meeting went along, postponing Article 16 and also 17, under which it was proposed to build a bridge across the Aberjona opposite Mystic avenue to take care of traffic going southerly from the parking space between the river and railroad tracks.

One article did go through as planned, the meeting voting to discontinue officially the Bacon street temporary way, used during the construction of the railroad overpass to get traffic from the easterly side of the tracks to the westerly side by way of the Ginn Estate. It is significant that no money was involved in the article. Had even $5 been involved the outcome might have been in doubt with the temper of the meeting what it was.

The $500 asked by the Selectmen to accept the conveyance of an area and to construct a turn around at the end of Bellevue road was lost, Mr. Lyman of the Planning Board stating that this action might prejudice proper future development of the road and prevent the assessment of betterments on certain of the lots that might be part of a future layout.

During the usual ten minute recess Mr. Tansey was seen to arrive at the hall, and it was decided at this point to return to the street acceptance article. There was a noticeable increase in interest as consideration of the article began.

Succeeding debate centered around the Finance Committee's motion to amend the original street acceptance motion by striking out Sunset road and the appropriation of $14,850 for its layout.

The Selectmen explained that they had felt the controversy over the acceptance of Sunset road warranted putting the question to the voters. The Board recommended unfavorable action on the acceptance of the street.

Mr. Bund opened the opposition to acceptance, seeking and securing 15 minutes for his remarks over a stout "no" from some rugged individualist at the rear of the hall.

Mr. Bund traced the history of a neighborhood feud involving residents of the Sunset road neighborhood and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene B. Rotondi, dating from the time Mr. Rotondi had built racing dog kennels on land he owned in Woburn adjacent to land he owned in Winchester over the objection of many of the residents of the district.

Continuing, Mr. Bund told of Mr. Rotondi's using private property in a residential neighborhood for business purposes in the transportation of racing dogs from their kennels to Forest street and for trucking earth products from his land to the same street.

The speaker told of certain injunctions residents of the district had secured to prevent Mr. Rotondi's activities, and he expressed the fear, which he said was general among those opposing the acceptance of Sunset road, that if that street were to be accepted Mr. Rotondi would use it for the transportation of dogs from his Woburn property and for the use of trucks engaged in heavy industry.

Mr. Rotondi spoke for the acceptance of the street. He admitted kenneling the dogs on his land in Woburn and contended that the money he made from housing the dogs was necessary to defray the expenses of his family.

He told the meeting he now has no dogs kenneled on his land, the erstwhile kennels having been converted into a dwelling in which two families are living.

He told the meeting he seeks the acceptance of Sunset road because of a large tract of land he owns in that area which he wants to develop according to a layout already approved by the Town Planning Board.

He said that houses had been constructed in the area but that others who sought plots there were deterred by lack of means to get in and out of the property. He mentioned his son, a Korean veteran; and his daughter, as well as the "son of a Selectman" as among those wanting to build homes in the area and made a plea for consideration of "liberty, fraternity and equality," the principals on which this country was founded.

Mr. Tansey told the meeting he had devoted considerable time to the problem of Sunset road and after conferences with both sides of the controversy there he was ready to admit the problem is not susceptible to solution. Neither side, he said, trusts the other, and though the speaker felt something should be done to end an impasse that is working a real hardship to Mr. Rotondi, he frankly admitted he did not know what action can be taken.

Mr. Speers felt that the Winchester land can not be used for either housing dogs or for heavy industry, and that even if Sunset road is accepted and the layout made, access to it can not be made from Mr. Rotondi's Woburn property, so that there need be no fear of this contingency.

Mr. Dow, a resident of the affected area who came to this country not too long ago, disliked the looks of Mr. Rotondi's gravel pit and asked the meeting not to accept Sunset road.

Others from the affected area felt the same way, the concensus seeming to be that in view of the effect of past court injunctions, they can not trust the owner of the property not to use it to transport dogs and for heavy industry.

At this point Mr. Rotondi had the Moderator read a letter from the City Clerk of Woburn, stating that neither this year nor last had Mr. Rotondi applied for a license to kennel dogs on his Woburn property. Another letter signed by Mr. and Mrs. Rotondi agreed not to use the land for heavy industry.

Mr. Wadsworth felt the letters are no guarantee and that the street should not be accepted. Mrs. McDonald deplored the fact that Mr. Rotondi can not develop his property and also the feeling of mutual distrust existing between Mr. Rotondi and his neighbors.

She felt it would be a good thing if some disinterested party could get the two sides together for a conference and propose some solution to the problem, suggesting the Town Counsel as such a one.

Mr. Clark felt that the wisdom of Solomon would be necessary to resolve the disagreement, apparently believing it well beyond his powers. He did state that in his opinion Sunset road is sure to be accepted some time because of its value to other accepted streets of the neighborhood, and characterized the continuance of the present situation as "silly."

At this point insistent calls of "question" resulted in a vote being taken on the Finance Committee's amendment to strike Sunset road from the list of streets to be accepted. The voice vote was very close, causing Mr. Chadwick to ask for the first polled vote of the meeting thus far.

A good many must have changed their minds quickly, for the polled vote showed the amendment carried 102 to 52, or nearly 2-1.

The wearied town meeting members still had business to transact in connection with the street acceptances as the result of a letter from Giustino Baldacci, read by Mr. Farnsworth, asking that Raymond place be stricken from the streets to be accepted because of the few property owners on the street and the fact that he would have to pay betterments of something like $1700 for the 100 foot strip he owns.

Mr. DiLoreto, representing the Columbus Club, located on Raymond place, asked that the street be accepted and put in shape to obviate the constant damage and inconvenience to club property and members due to present conditions.

In reply to a question by Mr. Cullen, Mr. DiLoreto said that the club will reimburse to a certain extent those other abuttors on Raymond place but will not help Mr. Baldacci because of his opposition to the plan to improve the street.

Mr. Cusack felt Mr. Baldacci's betterment would be a burden to one of his age who is retired but reminded the meeting that in the event of undue hardship because of the assessment of betterments, the Selectmen have the right to make a satisfactory adjustment of the matter.

With his remarks the meeting denied Mr. Baldacci's request and upon the ringing motion of Mr. Lane, adjourned at 11:40, until Monday, March 25.

GUILD FASHION SHOW

Mrs. J. Leo Sullivan is chairman of the annual charity bridge and fashion show sponsored by the Boston Chapter of the Guild of the Infant Saviour. The affair will take place on Saturday, March 30, at one thirty p. m. in the Imperial Ballroom, Hotel Statler, Boston. The fashion parade will be by Jordan Marsh Company.

The following members of the Executive Board are assisting with the plans for the coming event: Mmes. Michael H. Hintlian, Frank J. Burns, J. Edward Downes, Albert T. McDougall. Also, Mmes. Virgil Ghirardini, and Peter A. Murphy.

Invitations have been extended to members and their guests of the Winchester Chapter and a large representative group are planning to attend the bridge and fashion display.

WHAT WILL IT COST

Several factors determine the price of prescribed medicine. Is the prescription difficult to compound—or simple? Are ingredients inexpensive—or costly? Therefore, there can be no mythical "average price" that would be fair to all customers. That is why we price each prescription individually, basing the price on the cost of the ingredients and the time required to compound them.
